MOTION TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Senator Tenney moved that the following report of the Joint Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities in California be printed in the Journal.

Motion carried.

REPORT OF THE JOINT FACT-FINDING COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES IN CALIFORNIA

INTRODUCTION

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, and Members of the Legislature:

Your Joint Fact-Finding Committee Investigating Un-American Activities in California herewith submits its report on investigations conducted throughout the State during 1943 and 1944:

AUTHORIZATION

The Joint Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities in California was created pursuant to Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 59, filed with the Secretary of State May 12, 1943. This committee was instructed to "investigate, ascertain, collate and appraise all facts causing or constituting interference with the National Defense Program in California or rendering the people of the State, as a part of the Nation, less fit physically, mentally, morally, economically or socially," and to "investigate the activity of groups and organizations whose membership include persons who are members of the Communist Party, the Fascist Organizations, the German Nazi Bund, or any other organization known or suspected to be dominated or controlled by a foreign power, which activities affect the conduct of this State for National defense, the functioning of any State agency, unemployment relief and other forms of public assistance, educational institutions of this State supported in whole or in part by State funds, or any political program." Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 59 authorized the committee to act during the 1943 Session of the Legislature, and until the convening of the Fifty-sixth Legislature in 1945 and "to meet either during sessions of this Legislature (1943) or during any recess hereof in any and all places in this State, in public or executive session," and "to file reports with the Legislature during the Fifty-fifth Session thereof or any special extraordinary session thereof, and to file its final report with the Fifty-sixth Legislature."

Pursuant to the provisions of the resolution, the Committee on Rules of the Senate appointed Senator Hugh M. Burns of Fresno County and Senator Jack B. Tenney of Los Angeles County, and the Speaker of the Assembly appointed Assemblymen Nelson S. Dilworth of Hemet, Dr. Jesse Randolph Kellems of Bel-Air, and Randal F. Dickey of Alameda, as members of the committee. In compliance with the provisions of the resolution the members of the committee, at its organizational meeting, elected Senator Jack B. Tenney as chairman.

ACTIVITIES OF THE COMMITTEE

The accumulated testimony of witnesses since the Joint Fact-Finding Committee was first organized in 1941 now consists of 5,387 typewritten pages, contained in 24 transcript volumes. Exhibits, introduced in connection with the testimony of witnesses, are voluminous. Many pamphlets, circulars, newspapers and magazines have been added to committee records.

Mr. R. E. Combs of Visalia was unanimously selected by the committee members to continue as chief investigator. Additional investigators were hired from time to time. Thomas L. Cavett did special work for the committee and Mr. W. Bruce Pine of Los Angeles continued his voluntary services in special phases of the committee's investigations. The American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Anti-Defamation League and many patriotic and fraternal organizations rendered the committee, its members and its investigators, invaluable services. Many individuals, who desire to be unnamed, and many patriotic organizations, cooperated and worked with the committee, its members and investigators.

The members of the committee, following the policy laid down by the committee in 1941, were continually mindful of the sensationalism of all alleged subversive activities and endeavored in every way to conduct public hearings with dignity and restraint.

The committee, as heretofore, cooperated closely with the intelligence units of the armed forces, with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and with State and Federal agencies.

The press of the State of California continued to be an important adjunct to the work of the committee and, for the greater part, reported the committee's public hearings and investigations with accuracy.

CURRENT ISMS VERSUS AMERICAN DEMOCRACY

The committee, after two years additional study and investigation, reiterates its findings on Communism, Fascism and Nazism as stated on pages 9 and 10 of the committee's report of April 9, 1943. The committee finds that these isms are inimical to the most basic principles of Constitutional Democracy as they are known and understood in the United States.

The committee finds that Communism has grown and continues to grow in California. The change of the name of the Communist Party of California and of the United States to the Communist Political Association of California and the United States has not changed or altered the philosophy, the ultimate objectives or the techniques of the Communists.

Racial antagonisms, particularly against the Jews, have shown an uptrend during the past two years. As pointed out in the 1943 report, race-antagonisms and race-hatreds are part of the Nazi pattern and an important factor in Communist agitation.

PROTESTS AND DENIALS

The 1943 report of the committee contained an affidavit of Rena M. Vale. Miss Vale was formerly a member of the Communist Party and her affidavit is a narration of her experiences as a Communist Party member. On pages 141 and 142 of the committee's 1943 report Miss Vale names John Sargent as a member of the Communist Party. On pages 143 and 144 of the same report, Miss Vale refers to a Dr. Samuel Marcus whom she designates as a "Communist Party 'psychiatrist'." Mr. John Sargent and Dr. Samuel Marcus filed affidavits with the committee, categorically denying each and every allegation made by Miss Vale in her affidavit. Both gentlemen specifically deny connection, affiliation or sympathy with the Communist Party, its activities or its objectives.

The committee is happy to have the opportunity in this report to record the vigorous and emphatic denials of both Mr. John Sargent and Dr. Samuel Marcus. The sworn affidavits of both gentlemen have been made part of the official records of the committee and are attached to the original affidavit of Miss Rena M. Vale.

PART I

HANS WILHELM ROHL

On December 20, 1940, a contract was signed at Washington, D. C. It provided for the construction of secret military installations in the vicinity of Pearl Harbor, air fields, underground ammunition dumps, buildings, military barracks, gun emplacements, hangars, and an elaborate aircraft warning system designed to detect the approach of hostile aircraft. One of the parties to this most important document was the United States of America. The other party was a concern called "Hawaiian Constructors." A substantial interest in this firm was owned by a German alien, Hans Wilhelm Rohl.

This man was a resident of Los Angeles, and although he had been in the United States for 28 years, did not apply for admission to citizenship until after he had accumulated a fortune. Three dates are of great significance in the development of this amazing and complex story: the date the alien arrived in this country, October, 1913; the date of the contract above mentioned, December 20, 1940; and the date of the alien's admission to American citizenship, September 15, 1941.

After almost a year of investigation the committee held a hearing on February 27, 1943, at Los Angeles, at which time the facts of the case were presented for the first time.

Hans Wilhelm Rohl was born in Lubeck, Germany, on September 26, 1886. For a time he worked for mining and construction concerns in South America. In October of 1913 he came to the United States from Valparaiso, Chile. Shortly thereafter he was employed by the Nevada Consolidated Copper Mining Company as a foreman in Ely, Nevada. He later came to Sacramento, California, and was employed in that vicinity for about nine years by various construction companies.

In November of 1924 he obtained a temporary passport from the German Consul in San Francisco and sailed on the Deutschland for Germany. He spent some time at his old home in Lubeck and was in Hamburg for several weeks. After visiting London and several other places, he returned to the United States aboard the Steamship France early in 1925. He married Floye Adams Hubert in August, 1925, and took up his residence in Los Angeles.

Rohl was engaged in the construction business for himself since 1922. There apparently was much speculation concerning his financial backing. It is reported that he stated on one occasion that his uncle was an important official in the Hamburg-American Steamship Company, and he intimated to yachting acquaintances that he had received financial backing from him. By 1932 his net worth was reputed at a half million dollars. Since 1927 his firm has handled construction contracts averaging approximately $600,000 a year.

In the spring of 1932, Thomas E. Connolly of San Francisco and Hans Wilhelm Rohl organized "The Rohl-Connolly Company," holding equal interests. Virtually all of the business of this concern consisted of construction projects for the United States Army. Mr. Connolly spent most of his time in San Francisco while Rohl remained in Los Angeles, the principal place of business of the company. In addition to contracts for the Rohl-Connolly Company, Rohl continued to operate and do business under the fictitious firm-name of the "H. W. Rohl Company."

ROHL'S CITIZENSHIP STATUS

About two years following his return from Germany, Rohl acquired the yacht Pandora. This boat was destroyed by fire in 1933. Rohl replaced it with a larger boat, the Ramona. In 1937 he purchased the Vega at an auction in New York; a 125-foot, diesel-powered vessel, carrying a crew of 16 men.

Rohl was aboard the Ramona when the boat arrived at San Pedro from Acaculpo, Mexico, in 1933. Immigration officials made the usual inspection, which resulted in the deportation of one member of the crew. Although there is no doubt of Rohl's presence on the boat, his name is missing from the manifest. This instance of Rohl's reluctance to reveal his alien status was, of itself, not considered particularly significant, but when similar cases were discovered, a persistent and sometimes stubborn pattern of concealment was disclosed.

During 1932 Rohl was engaged in building a road for the Mexican Government from Monterey to Mexico City. During this period he made numerous trips into Mexico and back into the United States, via Laredo, Texas, but the immigration records at Laredo contain no notation that Rohl ever left the country at that point.

On at least two occasions Rohl was compelled to make statements as to his citizenship status. On January 21, 1938, the Vega dropped anchor in Honolulu after having sailed through the Panama Canal. Immigration officers were aware that Rohl was aboard and questioned him concerning the place of his birth. In this connection Rohl testified in Los Angeles on February 27, 1943 (Com. Tr., Vol. XV, p. 3753), as follows:

> Q. Mr. Combs: And you arrived in Honolulu on the twenty-first day of January, 1938, didn't you?
> A. Mr. Rohl: Yes.
> Q. At this time, for your information, the immigration manifest shows you to have been born in Iola, Kansas, on September 26, 1886. How did the immigration officials get that information?
> A. I don't know.
> Q. Have you seen that manifest?
> A. No.
> Q. Did anybody ever tell you that that information appeared in it?
> A. No—yes, yes.
> Q. The immigration inspector——
> A. Here, after I had applied for my citizenship.
> Q. They told you that on that occasion you had been manifested as having been born in Iola, Kansas?
> A. That is right. They called it to my attention.
> Q. As a matter of fact, that was the birthplace of your wife?
> A. Yes.

Q. But she wasn't born there on September 26, 1886, was she?
A. No.
Q. You were born in 1886, were you not?
A. Yes.
Q. All right. When you went to Honolulu did you go through the Panama Canal?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And at Balboa you were examined by an immigration inspector?
A. I don't think so.

During the years when the Federal Government required taxpayers to make a declaration concerning citizenship status, Rohl was again faced with a situation that compelled him to give direct answers. During this period he falsely stated in his income tax returns, under oath, that he was a citizen of the United States. He persistently concealed his status as a German alien. He not only failed to reveal his true status when circumstances permitted, but as far as the records show, he boldly stated that he was an American citizen when no alternative, except disclosure, was open to him.

ILLEGAL OWNERSHIP OF YACHTS AND STOCK

At the committee hearing held in Los Angeles considerable conflict was noticed between the testimony of Hans Wilhelm Rohl and his wife, Mrs. Floye Rohl. When testifying concerning the ownership of stock in the Rohl-Connolly Company, Mr. Rohl testified as follows (Vol. XV, p. 3737):

Q. By Mr. Combs: How much stock in the Rohl-Connolly Company do you own now, Mr. Rohl?
A. 50 per cent.
Q. And have you always owned 50 per cent?
A. Yes, sir.

Mrs. Floye Rohl testified as follows (Vol. XV, pp. 3817-3818):

Q. By Mr. Combs: Did you, yourself, Mrs. Rohl, invest any of your own assets or capital in the Rohl-Connolly Company?
A. Well, no, I didn't invest any, but I have a share of the company that Mr. Rohl—it is community property, yes.
Q. You mean you have an undivided half interest?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Of whatever part he has?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. But none of the actual stock is in your name?
A. Oh, yes, there is stock in my name.
Q. How many shares?
A. Well, half of Mr. Rohl's—25 per cent I would say. Mr. Rohl owns 50 per cent—I mean Mr. Connolly owns 50 per cent and there is 50 per cent that Mr. Rohl and I own.
Q. I see. What you mean, in other words, Mr. Connolly owns 50 per cent of the stock?
A. Yes.

Q. And Mr. Rohl owns 50 per cent and under the community property law you would own an undivided half of what Mr. Rohl owns?

A. No, Mr. Rohl doesn't own 50 per cent. Mr. Rohl owns 25 per cent and I own 25 per cent.

Q. I see. 25 per cent actually stands in your name?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you pay anything for that 25 per cent of the stock?

A. No, I didn't pay anything for it, not for mine.

Q. Was that 25 per cent transferred to you by Mr. Rohl?

A. Yes.

The question of fire insurance on the yacht, Pandora, elicited confusion and disagreement between Mr. and Mrs. Rohl. Mr. Rohl testified as follows (Vol. XV, p. 3743):

Q. By Mr. Combs: When did you acquire the Pandora?

A. (No answer.)

Q. Do you recall about how long ago?

A. 1927.

Q. Did you ever sail it to Honolulu?

A. Yes.

Q. It was anchored where?

A. Anchored? Where do you mean, here?

A. Yes.

A. At the California Yacht Club anchorage.

Q. And the boat burned, did it not?

A. Yes.

Q. Was it insured?

A. Yes.

Q. And the insurance was payable to you, was it?

A. Yes.

Mrs. Rohl, questioned on the same subject, testified as follows (Vol. XV, pp. 3819-3820):

Q. By Mr. Combs: Well, the Pandora was insured, was it not?

A. Yes, that is right.

Q. And the insurance was payable to your husband?

A. No, it was payable to me.

Q. So, the insurance company delivered you a check, did they?

A. Yes.

Q. For the amount?

A. Yes, they did.

Q. And did you use that money for the purpose of purchasing the Ramona?

A. I used that, yes, and other moneys, of course.

The question of the ownership of the yachts, Ramona and Vega, provided another source of disagreement between Mr. and Mrs. Rohl. Mrs. Rohl alleged that she paid all of the expenses in connection with the maintenance and operation of the Ramona and the Vega and she stated that she gave orders to the captain concerning the operation of each vessel. Rohl, however, had previously testified that he employed the captain; that the captain hired the members of the crew, and that Rohl, himself, paid all expenses for the maintenance and operation of the yachts. Evidence before the committee shows that Rohl always directed the movements of the vessels in question and paid all expenses for their maintenance and operation.

Rohl remembered having sailed on the Vega from Jacksonville, Florida, to Honolulu during the early part of 1937. The yacht was reported by immigration inspectors in the vicinity of the Panama Canal, where each member of the crew was interrogated concerning his citizenship status. Rohl had no recollection whatever of the yacht ever being inspected there. Both Rohl and his wife remembered that the vessel was boarded by immigration inspectors in Honolulu. Rohl's alleged place of birth does not appear on the immigration manifest on this occasion but, as before stated, it was falsely given as Iola, Kansas, the birthplace of his wife.

Similar disagreements between the testimony of Rohl and his wife appear in the transcript in connection with the arrival of the Vega in Los Angeles Harbor on its return cruise from Honolulu. Rohl admitted that he was acquainted with one E. J. Crouse, and testified that Crouse had hailed the Vega from his own boat, the Marlin, and that he came aboard the Vega, when it anchored inside the breakwater. Rohl further testified that there was no immigration inspection of the Vega at San Pedro. The testimony of Mrs. Rohl, on the contrary, was to the effect that she told Mr. Crouse that he could not come aboard the Vega, because the vessel had not yet cleared immigration inspection at San Pedro. She was able to distinctly recall that members of the crew and passengers aboard the Vega were interrogated by immigration inspectors at San Pedro, just as they had been questioned before the vessel sailed through the Panama Canal and upon its arrival in Honolulu. Rohl's name does not appear on the manifest upon the occasion of the Vega's arrival in San Pedro and there is no indication in the official records that he was on board. It is significant to note that Rohl, the alien, the owner of the Vega, was, in some manner, able to avoid embarrassment with immigration inspectors. As a result of the inspection at San Pedro, one alien aboard the Vega was deported.

THEODORE WYMAN, JR.

In July of 1935 a Captain Theodore Wyman, Jr., was transferred from Kansas City to Los Angeles. Rohl became acquainted with Captain Wyman some time in August of 1935. The Rohl-Connolly Company had opened rock quarries on Catalina Island and, on at least two occasions, Wyman sailed to Catalina on Rohl's yacht, the Ramona. The Rohl-Connolly Company was using the rock from the quarries to cap the San Pedro Breakwater, which was then nearing completion. Captain Wyman and Rohl became extraordinarily intimate companions within a matter of weeks after their first meeting.

Upon his return to California from Germany in 1925 Rohl became a lavish spender and was a frequent visitor to popular night clubs in and around Los Angeles. His arrival at certain clubs became a significant and spectacular event. His entrance was the cue for all proceedings to stop while a special musical number was rendered by the orchestra and singers in his honor.

Rohl staged a number of bacchanalian parties for Captain Wyman in his luxurious suite in a downtown Los Angeles hotel from time to time.

The affidavits of hotel employees on file with the committee indicate that Rohl, on these occasions, was most lavish in the entertainment of the captain. The two men became constant companions and they were frequently seen together in the popular night spots in Hollywood and Los Angeles. Wyman affiliated with a number of Los Angeles organizations, particularly the Los Angeles Athletic Club, the Los Angeles Country Club, the California Club, the University Club, the Bel-Air Bay Club, the Hollywood Athletic Club and Hollywood Country Club. He purchased a $16,000 home in an exclusive residential district. By 1939, the captain had become Major Theodore Wyman, Jr.

According to the affidavit of Juanita Blackwell, a domestic servant in Rohl's employ, he first started speaking of Wyman in 1936, when the Rohls were living in the Talmadge Apartments. Wyman soon became a frequent visitor at the Rohl residence, and was often driven there by a soldier in an Army car. He telephoned Rohl at regular intervals. Mrs. Blackwell stated that Rohl talked to Wyman in Honolulu over the long-distance telephone on a number of occasions and that she heard Rohl speak to him of "hangars, runways, and landing fields."

Wyman had the reputation of being a heavy drinker and on nearly all occasions when he and Rohl were observed together, he appeared to be intoxicated. The following text of the affidavit of a naval officer is typical of much of the testimony concerning Wyman:

> "I first met Colonel Theodore Wyman, Jr., about 1938; I have seen him on H. W. Rohl's yacht, the 'Vega,' four or five times, and on each and every occasion Wyman was so drunk that he was utterly obnoxious and incapable of transacting any business; when I was first introduced to him, Colonel Wyman criticized my appearance and was very insulting to me; he would pour whiskey on the floor and drop his burning cigarettes on the carpet.
> "Mrs. Floye Rohl once stated to me that she didn't like Wyman, but that H. W. Rohl, her husband, had to tolerate him for business reasons."

WERNER PLACK, NAZI AGENT

Testimony was adduced at the Los Angeles hearing concerning Rohl's friendship with one Werner Plack, a Nazi who was formerly attached to the German Vice Consulate in Los Angeles when that office was headed by the ubiquitous Dr. Gyssling. When the German diplomatic offices were ordered closed by the United States Government Plack immediately left for Berlin by way of Japan. Arriving in the capital city of Hitler's Third Reich, he immediately was given an important position in the foreign office.

The relation between Werner Plack and Rohl is of considerable importance. Rohl's testimony concerning Plack is as follows (Vol. XV, pp. 3791-3792):

> Q. By Mr. Combs: Did you ever know a man by the name of Werner Plack?
> A. Who?
> Q. Werner Plack.
> A. Not to my knowledge.
> Q. You never knew Werner Plack?
> A. No.

Q. Don't you remember going into the Swing Club with Werner Plack during the summer of 1938?

A. No, I don't.

Q. You have no recollection of Werner Plack at all?

A. No, I don't.

Q. Do you know where the Swing Club is or was?

A. I know where it was.

Q. 1710 North Las Palmas Avenue, Hollywood.

A. 1710 North Las Palmas, Hollywood? That was down here?

Q. Yes.

A. Down near 833 Spring, wasn't it?

Q. Well, you know it was a club that opened, usually, after 2 o'clock in the morning. Do you remember that?

A. (No answer.)

Q. A night club.

A. (No answer.)

Q. You remember the Swing Club, don't you?

A. Yes, I remember the Swing Club. Wasn't that at 833 Spring, or some place?

Q. I don't know.

A. I don't know myself.

Q. When were you last there?

A. I don't know that.

Q. Well, were you ever there?

A. I suppose I was.

While in California, Werner Plack attempted to conceal his nationality. A witness who was socially acquainted with Rohl testified (Vol. XV, pp. 3889-3890) on this point as follows:

Q. By Mr. Combs: Were you ever acquainted with an individual by the name of Werner Plack?

A. Yes.

Q. When did you first meet him?

A. '35 or '36.

Q. And how long did your acquaintanceship with him continue?

A. During that year—the first year I met him.

Q. What was his nationality, if you know?

A. He claimed to be a Holland Dutchman, but, of course, we found out later that that was not true.

Q. And what was his nationality?

A. It was German.

Mr. Combs: That is all.

The following sworn affidavit of William E. Kent is self-explanatory:

"State of California }
County of Los Angeles } ss.

WILLIAM E. KENT, first being duly sworn, deposes and says:

I reside at 1206 N. Flores Street, Los Angeles, California; I was naturalized on July 12, 1940; I am a member of West Hollywood Post 405, American Legion; I am now in the insurance business for myself; I first met Werner Plack in 1938, in Los Angeles; some time during the latter part of 1940 I became suspicious of Plack and telephoned the German Consulate in Los Angeles to see whether he was there. I spoke German, in fact with a Russian accent, asked for Plack and inquired if he was employed by the German Consulate and he told me definitely that he was. I am absolutely certain I was speaking to Plack because I knew him well, and recognized his voice. I then merely made a casual inquiry concerning his health, gave him a fictitious Russian name and hung up the telephone.

Witness: BRUCE PINE.

Witness: JOHN H. WEINER.

Bruce Pine testified as follows (Vol. XV, pp. 3920-3923):

Q. By Mr. Combs: Were you here during the entire time that Mr. Hans Wilhelm Rohl testified?

A. I was.

Q. Had you ever met that man before?

A. Yes, on several occasions.

Q. When did you first make his acquaintance?—About how long ago?

A. I would say roughly, about 1933 or '34.

Q. And since the time that your acquaintance with him originated, have you met him on various occasions since?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you hear him testify specifically that he had never known a man by the name of Werner Plack?

A. I did.

Q. Did you ever know Werner Plack?

A. Yes, I knew Werner fairly well.

Q. When did your acquaintance with him commence?

A. I should say about the year 1935.

Q. What was his nationality, if you know?

A. He was German.

Q. Do you know whether or not Mr. Rohl and Mr. Plack were acquainted?

A. I know definitely they were acquainted.

Q. Did you see them together on several occasions?

A. I saw them together on one occasion, which naturally stands out in my mind, and the other occasions—so many years have gone by and I had no reason to mark the occasion, that I hesitate to testify definitely. But on one occasion I specifically saw them together because something occurred which made me remember it.

Q. Was that the occasion concerning which I questioned Mr. Rohl in your presence on Saturday?

A. That was the occasion.

Q. That was when Mr. Rohl and Mr. Plack came into the place commonly known as the Swing Club together?

A. Yes. It had been known as the Swing Club and then the name was changed to "1710 Club" which was the name of the same place.

Q. It was the same, identical place?

A. Yes, same identical place and the same identical building.

Q. About when was that? I mean when you saw them together there?

A. Well, I believe it was in the summer of either 1938 or 1939. The reason I recall that it must have been during the summer was because I had been to a baseball game earlier in the evening.

Q. Did Mr. Plack and Mr. Rohl come to that place together?

A. They came together with one other gentleman whom I did not recognize. He was a tall, distinguished looking, white haired man.

Q. What particular incident occurred at that time and place which called your attention to the fact that Mr. Rohl and Mr. Plack were together? Of course, you knew them both, did you not?

A. Yes, I knew them both. I might say I knew Plack at that time better than Rohl because I have never known Rohl intimately, although I met him many times and talked with him.

Q. What incident occurred which called your particular attention to the fact that they were together at that time and place?

A. Well, they ran a little floor show at the Swing Club and the floor show was going on when all of a sudden the orchestra leader stopped the music. He stopped the music and he stopped the floor show. The music changed, and all the girls in the floor show, including the band, sang, "Here comes Bill, here comes Bill, here comes Bill Rohl now," so that was why it was so vividly marked in my recollection, and with him were Werner Plack and the one other man who I never remember having seen before or since.

The sworn affidavit of Juanita Blackwell, a former domestic in the Rohl household heretofore mentioned reveals that Werner Plack telephoned Rohl on several occasions. Plack would state his name without hesitation and the servant was therefore able to testify as to his identity.

The testimony of Mr. Harry W. Flannery, radio commentator and author of the book "Assignment to Berlin," follows (Vol. XV, pp. 3924-3930):

Q. By Mr. Combs: Mr. Flannery, how long have you resided in southern California?

A. A little short of a year.

Q. Prior to that time where was your residence?

A. Prior to that time my residence was in New York.

Q. And how long did you reside in New York immediately prior to coming to southern California?

A. From October, 1941, until I came here, which was in March of last year.

Q. And from where did you come when you established your last residence in New York?

A. From Berlin, Germany.

Q. And how long a time did you spend in Berlin, Germany?

A. Approximately a year.

Q. How did you happen to go there?

A. I was sent to Berlin as correspondent for the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Q. And was it your business to make broadcasts from Berlin?

A. Right.

Q. Which you did, of course?

A. Right.

Q. During the entire period you were there?

A. Yes.

Q. While there did you know a man by the name of Werner Plack?

A. I did.

Q. When did your acquaintance with him originate?

A. Early in 1941.

Q. That was when you first went to Berlin?

A. I had been there several months at that time. I arrived in 1940.

Q. How did you happen to make his acquaintance?

A. I made his acquaintance through Charlie Lanius of N. B. C.

Lanius had met Plack, who had just come to Berlin and was at the time connected with the radio department for the German Foreign Office.

Lanius brought Plack up to my room and I met him up there, and we talked afterwards. I met Plack a number of times principally because of his connections with radio for the foreign office. He was a censor and he also arranged programs. He arranged the Wodehouse release.

Q. Spell that, please.

A. P. G. Wodehouse, an English author who was released from an internment camp and then principally because of publicity he broadcast for the Germans. Plack arranged that.

Q. Plack arranged that?

A. Yes, he got the idea it would be a good stunt to release Wodehouse and make a little publicity out of it, because Wodehouse would be more listened to than some of the Germans who were on the air, and they might, thereby be able to get over their story better.

He also planned, so far as I know, to put on Luckner, the Sea Devil—Count Felix von Luckner, who is well known in this country and who has been well liked, also the Crown Prince.

Q. The Crown Prince of Germany?

A. Yes; one of the Eckeners and a number of others of that same kind, figuring that those people would get audiences in the United States and German propaganda would be more listened to.

Q. Do you know whether or not Werner Plack had any connection with Fritz Weidemann at any time?

A. Not from personal knowledge, although I understand he was connected with Fritz Weidemann before he left California.

He principally sold wines here. He came out here to go into the movies but found out that he wasn't able to get into the movies and instead made connections by selling wine, German wines, principally.

Q. Do you know whether or not Werner Plack had any connection with Dr. Gyssling, the German consul, while in the United States?

A. I know nothing of that.

Q. Now, will you please describe in detail, Mr. Flannery, just what duties Plack had to perform in connection with his position with the German Foreign Office while you were in Berlin?

A. Well, his principal duties were to arrange broadcasts to go to the United States.

Q. Yes.

A. He was not the head of that department. The head of that department was a fellow by the name of Lilyenfeldt. His first name escapes me—George von Lilyenfeldt. At times when Lilyenfeldt was away Plack had complete charge of the department for the foreign office.

For several months, three or four months after the Russian campaign had begun, Lilyenfeldt, who had been a resident of the Baltic States, was sent up there to do some work, and during that period Plack was completely in charge of the radio department.

Among his duties was to act as a censor for the foreign office for radio broadcasts to the United States.

I might mention that at least one-third of the times that he came out to do the censoring he was drunk and on a few occasions he was so tight he could not read my copy, and one night he asked me to read it to him, which was very foolish. I could have read him anything and he would have O. K.'d it, except he thought something should be changed in it, so he suggested, 'Let us change this thing up here,' and he started scratching out stuff. I had to stop him because I could not read anything after he would get through with that sort of thing.

In addition to acting as censor he was one of the contact men for us and would arrange for us to go on various trips. For instance, when Matsuoko came there he arranged the trip for me. We met Matsuoko and went down to Potsdam and he would always arrange those things, whereby we would be able to make other trips and make other contacts and so forth.

The Foreign Office Propaganda Ministry had men for that particular purpose. Their job also was trying to make us fellows feel better and thereby hoping we might be sold more on Nazi Germany.

They had men selected for that purpose to try to sell the correspondents.

Q. Was Plack one of those men?

A. Plack was one of those men. Of course Plack liked it very well because it gave him a big expense account.

Q. He was rather convivially inclined?

A. Oh, yes, he would like a job of that kind.

Q. As a matter of fact, you mentioned Plack in your book, "Assignment to Berlin," did you not?

A. That is right.

Q. How is the book doing?

A. Very well, thank you.

Q. A very interesting book.

A. Thank you.

Q. When did you come back from Germany?

A. I arrived back here October 14. I left Berlin September 29, 1941.

Q. Do you know at all how long it was after Werner Plack arrived in Germany that he obtained this position in the German Foreign Office?

A. As far as I know, it was immediately.

Q. Immediately upon his arriving?

A. I know of no lapse in between. Of course, there may have been, but I know of none.

Q. Do you know when he arrived there, about?

A. No. I estimate it was—that is pretty difficult for me to place, because I don't seem to be able to connect it with anything except the fact I mentioned Lanius—that Lanius did not arrive until early in 1941 and that I met him with Lanius, so I know it was early in 1941, but I can not place it more definitely than that. I can't set it as to what part of January or whenever it was.

Chairman Tenney: It was early in 1941?

The Witness: Early in 1941, yes.

Q. By Mr. Combs: Mr. Flannery, in your conversations with Werner Plack from time to time, did he ever boastfully mention any of his propaganda activities in the United States—any of his pro-German activities in the United States?

A. Yes, in a certain respect. He is a peculiar fellow. He had an article from one of the magazines over here. I think it was one of the movie magazines. I am not sure of that. I remember he had it. He had all kinds of American magazines, particularly Vogue, which he liked to show to the ladies, in which there was an article about German people who had operated in the United States, and accused them of espionage, and merely among the names down at the end was Werner Plack, which he seemed to be very proud of. He took it around and showed it to everybody. It did not in any way speak very respectfully of Mr. Plack but he did not seem to be bothered by that fact.

SECRET MILITARY INSTALLATIONS IN THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

In 1939 Major Wyman was sent to the Hawaiian Islands to take charge of the construction of certain secret installations near Pearl Harbor for the Army. These installations included gun emplacements, air fields, underground ammunition reserve storehouses, aircraft warning systems, hangars and buildings. The contract for these installations was given to Rohl's concern. Wyman talked from the islands to Rohl in Los Angeles over the long distance telephone on several occasions after the contract was signed, but before Rohl became an American citizen.

The preliminary negotiations for the contract were conducted by Rohl. Major Wyman had met with Rohl and Connolly in San Francisco prior to Wyman's departure for Hawaii and had conferred about the contracts prior to the final negotiations which were concluded in Washington, D. C., in December of 1940. The basic contract was consummated December 20, 1940, by Rohl's attorney, a Mr. Frank Martin, Jr., Thomas E. Connolly, Rohl's business associate, and a Mr. Paul Grafe, who acted on behalf of the W. E. Callahan Construction Company of Los Angeles. Rohl remained in Los Angeles during the Washington negotiations but he was by no means out of touch with the proceedings, as the records of the Southern California Telephone Company reveal that he called Grafe on the telephone December 6th and that he called Martin, his attorney, December 14th, and Connolly December 18th. Several long distance telephone conversations took place between Wyman and Rohl during the early summer of 1941. It should be emphasized here that, throughout the negotiations for this most important contract, Hans Wilhelm Rohl was an alien and a subject of Hitler's Third Reich.

The Federal law prohibits an alien access to plans and specifications or other information concerning secret Army or Navy installations of the character called for by the contract in question. Rohl did not receive United States citizenship until September 15, 1941. The negotiations above-mentioned took place in the latter part of 1940. The records of the Southern California Telephone Company disclose that telephone conversations took place between Major Wyman in Honolulu and Hans Wilhelm Rohl in Los Angeles on January 4th, 9th and 17th and on February 5th, March 19th and May 22, 1941, after the basic contract had been signed.

Nearly eight months before Rohl became a citizen of the United States Major Wyman requested him to come to Honolulu to take part in the work. Wyman's request was as follows:

> "Reference is made to secret contract # 414-ENG-602, with the Hawaiian Constructors for work in the Hawaiian Islands. As you are actively interested in this venture I desire you to proceed to Honolulu at your earliest convenience to consult with the district engineers, relative to ways and means to accomplish the purpose of this contract."

Rohl was questioned closely at the February, 1943, hearing concerning his familiarity with Federal statutes making it an offense for an alien to have access to information in secret military installation contracts. Rohl's testimony on this subject is as follows (Vol. XV, pp. 3807-3809):

> Q. (By Mr. Combs) When you first obtained the contracts for the construction of military installations, did you tell Major Wyman that you were an alien?
> A. I did on the Hawaiian Constructors.
> Q. But you didn't on any other projects?
> A. We don't have it—there are no restrictions—I mean on a Government contract you are not questioned as to whether you are a citizen or not, but on this particular contract, Contract 602, being a secret contract, of course, I told him—I had to tell him.
> Q. Are you familiar with the provisions of the law regarding such contracts?
> A. Secret contracts?
> Q. Well, secret, confidential, or restricted contracts.
> A. Yes.
> Q. I will read the law to you and see whether or not this is your understanding of it.
> > "No aliens employed by a contractor in the performance of secret, confidential, or restricted government contracts shall be permitted to have access to the plans or specifications, or the work under such contracts, or to participate in the contract trials, unless the written consent of the head of the Government Department concerned has been first obtained.
> > "Any alien who obtains employment on secret, confidential, or restricted government contracts by wilful misrepresentation of his alien status, or who makes such wilful misrepresentation while seeking such employment, shall be penalized by a fine of $10,000 or five years in the Federal Penitentiary.

"For the purpose of this section the term "person" shall be construed to include an individual, partnership, association, corporation or other business enterprise."

Is that your understanding of the law?

A. Absolutely. Now, as a matter of fact, before we took this contract the War Department was told, and I didn't see the contract or the plans or specifications purposely until after I was a citizen.

PROGRESS OF THE WORK IN HONOLULU

Within a few days after being granted United States citizenship Rohl left for Honolulu to join Wyman. Evidence before the committee reveals that the entire project soon became enmeshed in a bewildering tangle of countermanded and contradictory orders resulting in an ever-mounting waste of time and material.

Mr. Ray Anderson, an electrician for the Hawaiian Constructors, testified before the committee, March 1, 1943, as follows (Vol. XV, pp. 3904-3919):

Q. Mr. Combs: Now, while you were over there, Mr. Anderson, did you ever have any occasion to see Major Wyman in an intoxicated condition?

A. Mr. Anderson: Yes.

Q. When was that?

A. During February and March and five days before Colonel Wyman left his job he lay in the hotel drunk all the time.

Q. For how long a time?

A. Five days.

Q. Do you know that of your own personal knowledge?

A. Yes, I can prove it.

Q. While you were working over there, Mr. Anderson, were there any Japanese employed by the Hawaiian Constructors in executive capacities?

A. There were Japanese in the office, Japanese superintendents—that is, superintendents over—not of an area, but superintendents over different constructors, such as carpenters and electricians, and gangs like that; the Merchant Electrical Contractors and Supply Company which Vera—

Q. Who is the head of that?

A. Vera. They employed 36 electricians. They came into our gang. When I left Honolulu, two days before I sailed, I was at their stockroom and five of our men were in this Japanese gang. They worked out of Area 10.

Q. Was a portion of the work actually supervised by Japanese?

A. Yes. The Japanese were permitted to go into every part of the island except Pearl Harbor and Diamond Head tunnels and General Emmons tunnels, where the headquarters were.

Now, I went on to Hickam Field after I was there, I think, two weeks, with a Hawaiian Constructors' badge on me. I spent three hours in there. I went all over the hangars and everywhere and I came back up to G2 and talked to the captain there about it, asking why in the world that they permitted people with those badges to walk into a place like Hickam Field with the setup they had there, and he said he didn't know.

Q. When was that?

A. That was in the early part of March of last year.

Chairman Tenney: 1942?

The Witness: Yes.

Chairman Tenney: Let me ask a question, Mr. Combs. Is it your statement, Mr. Anderson, that these Japanese had considerable to do with the supervision of the work on the island?

The Witness: They were working in the office and in places where they have the plans of the United States Engineers. They had them in the offices with them. They were in every position there except certain places. They could not go into Diamond Head Tunnel or General Emmons Tunnel or into Pearl Harbor. You had to have special passes that were good only for that particular setup in those places. They could not go there but everywhere else that I know of on the island, including Hickam Field they could go. Last August the Japanese were working in there.

Chairman Tenney: Were those in the category of secret installations?

The Witness: Well, I should say that they would be because they had the Aircobras and the Boeings and all the big airplanes scattered throughout those fields.

The men had a row at Bellows Field and refused to work for one day, or a part of a day, until certain Japanese were removed from there. That was some time last April.

Chairman Tenney: 1942?

The Witness: Yes, sir.

Chairman Tenney: It is your testimony that the Japanese had considerable to do with the supervision of the work?

The Witness: They tell you there that the Japanese are 90 per cent more loyal than we are ourselves.

Chairman Tenney: That is what they tell you in Hawaii?

The Witness: They tell you that in Hawaii. They tell you that they don't like us there. There is no fooling about that.

Chairman Tenney: The Japanese you mean?

The Witness: No, the white people that live with the Japanese. There is a peculiar financial setup in the Hawaiian Islands in which the sugar interests dictate the financial set-up there. The poor man was never able to get any money there. The only place he can get money or credit is from the Japanese banks and stores and consequently he is friendly to the Japanese.

It was my firm opinion from the time I got there that they didn't particularly care whether we had the Islands or whether the Japanese had them.

Chairman Tenney: It was immaterial?

The Witness: Yes.

Chairman Tenney: Were these Japanese that you have referred to employees of the Hawaiian Constructors?

The Witness: Yes. You see, a civilian there, except a few engineers when we went there belonged to the Constructors—they were working under the U. S. E. D. I will tell you it is a super WPA set-up.

Q. By Mr. Combs: You mean the United States Engineer Corps?

A. U. S. E. D. Just like you had with the WPA in the States. That is what they called it.

Q. What did that stand for?

A. I never did know—U. S. Engineer Department, I guess.

Q. Mr. Rohl testified, Mr. Anderson, that he was personally directing the work on the Island of Oahu and under him worked these individuals whom you have mentioned as superintendents, on the various projects. Was that the fact when you were there?

A. Mr. Woolley was considered the head.

Q. Yes.

A. He was the chairman of the executive committee which consisted of Mr. Woolley, Rohl and Benson. Now, whether Rohl—I have always believed that Ralph Woolley was the front man.

Q. A front man?

A. Yes. Ralph Woolley was the man who would do the right thing if he could. He talked very little. You could get very little out of Ralph Woolley.

Q. Who did you believe he was fronting for?

A. For the outfit that came from here. There is some connection between this gang in the States and that outfit and they wanted men from there so if there is any question raised, there is a possibility that we would get out of it.

Q. In what business was Mr. Dillingham engaged?

A. They were part of the Constructors and pulled out I think in May or June.

Q. Of 1942?

A. 1942, yes. For some reason Dillingham came out and the assistant superintendent in Area 10, I don't remember his name at the present time. He was taken from there and sent to Johnson Island with certain men that he took with him.

Q. Did the Hawaiian Constructors also do work on Johnson Island?

A. I don't know whether they did or not. They did work at Christmas and Canton. General Tinker ran them out of Christmas Island.

Q. For what reason?

A. Weren't getting any work done.

Q. After the battle of Midway did the Hawaiian Constructors do any work on Midway?

A. There were some men went over there. There was a fellow by the name of Miller here in Glendale who went there on the air conditioning. He was a Hawaiian Constructors man. He was over there 10 days. He came back in the same convoy. I don't know anything about him personally, but they had five or six men out there—shipped them somewhere where we didn't even know. Miller told men then that he had to go to Midway and what had taken place in Midway.

Now, there is another feature behind this whole thing of which I can only give you indirect evidence. If I can find the man today I will get him.

Last year, in March or April there were 180 men shipped to New Caledonia by the Hawaiian Constructors. They didn't even know where they were going. When they arrived there in New Caledonia they found out it was a French Possession and refused to land. They said, "Anywhere in American territory but not in foreign territory," so they came back. They brought them back to camp. They were shipped to sea in an open barge with an ocean-going tug pulling them for five and a half days to Suva. I saw the letter signed by the Governor of Suva to the effect that if those men crossed certain lines they were to be shot down. That was Governor Wild.

Q. When was that trip to Suva made?

A. Some time, I think, in March. I met the man in April.

Q. March, 1942?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was the nature of the work that that party was to do?

A. They went out there—they were building an airfield and submarine base.

Q. Building an airfield and submarine base?

A. Yes.

Q. And that was the Hawaiian Constructors?

A. Yes.

Q. On the Island of Suva?

A. No, on the Island of Canton.

Q. Canton Island?

A. Yes. They pulled them out from there to Suva.

Q. Are you acquainted with Paul Grafe?

A. Is this the gentleman here?

Q. No, no, I am just asking you.

A. No, I don't remember, but this gentleman's face is familiar to me.

Q. Did Mr. Rohl make frequent trips away from the Island of Oahu while you were there?

A. Yes.

Q. Will you explain what you observed in that regard?

A. Well, I will tell you. When Rohl left his car—he always parked his car on the lot—Rohl parked right behind Alexandria Hall when he used to go there to eat and, of course, we could always tell when he wasn't in Honolulu.

Q. You could tell what?

A. That he was gone.

Q. Rohl was gone?

A. Yes, because it was impossible to follow him. There was a rumpus raised in San Francisco when some of the men came back in regard to their pay and the claim was filed with the Compensation Commissioner here for $8,000 and Rohl was—he flew back here. We never saw Rohl that time for three or four weeks. He disappeared completely and finally he showed up again.

Q. Now, you are speaking about the parking space which was allocated to Mr. Rohl. Where was that parking space?

A. Exactly behind the back door of Alexandria Hall, the headquarters.

Q. Was there any marking or designation on it?

A. Yes.

Q. To show to whom each individual space was allocated?

A. Rohl, Middleton, Woolley and Benson each had a spot there.

Q. Were their names painted on the asphalt?

A. No; there was a fence rail—a one-by-three plank painted white there with their names on each one of them.

Q. In black paint?

A. Black paint.

Q. Were you familiar with the automobile commonly used by Mr. Rohl when he was on the Island?

A. Yes, he used a black car then.

Q. Of course you were able to observe at times, the car was occupying the space which was allocated to him?

A. Yes.

Chairman Tenney: Mr. Anderson, have you any further light you can throw on this matter that you think might be of interest?

The Witness: I would like to go into something about the plans. We never did, and to my knowledge to the day I left there, we never had a plan for the headquarters job that we did.

They left a hole in the tunnel six by seven foot that never was closed up.

Mr. Combs: What tunnel?

The Witness: Headquarters of the United States Army, Hawaiian Department, and things of that kind. We couldn't get material, we couldn't get anything. You couldn't get anybody to do anything.

We believed that sabotage, in the sense that they were holding up the work and blaming the men, was going on.

Q. By Mr. Combs: Who was holding up the work?

A. Whoever had charge of it.

Q. Of the Hawaiian constructors?

A. Evidently, because they were our bosses.

Q. You say this tunnel was located—the United States Army Headquarters tunnel was located where?

A. In that tunnel.

Q. Where was the tunnel on the island?

A. Right in front of Red Hill.

Q. That is what I want.

A. There is a big magazine there.

Q. And Red Hill overlooks Pearl Harbor?

A. Yes, and there is a hill in front of Red Hill towards Hickam Field. This hill lays between Hickam Field and Red Hill. There were eight tunnels there and they had lateral tunnels and they had been preparing that for a year. The soldiers had driven a vehicular tunnel through the west end of it, from one end to the other of it.

We went in there and we fixed it up so it was gas-proof and installed all kinds of equipment, including air-conditioning and stuff like that. We did it without plans and without any help from anyone whatever.

Q. Who was in charge—who, individually, was in charge of that installation?

A. The superintendent was Charles Winstead.

Q. Did he work under the immediate direction of Mr. Rohl?

A. He was working under him—he was working under—I will think of his name in a minute—Frank Olmstead, or something like that. He was the Army superintendent.

Q. Under whom did Mr. Olmstead work?

A. Under headquarters at Alexandria Hall.

Q. And Alexandria Hall was where Mr. Rohl's car was parked?

A. Yes, that is where the Hawaiian Constructors headquarters were. They had all their equipment there except the personnel department, which was in a school—a grammar school.

Q. Mr. Anderson, how do you know Colonel Wyman was intoxicated for five days?

A. Well, I saw him up there three or four times and everyone that is in there—the place was run for that purpose, practically. Japanese girls hanging out there every night for that crowd and the ones that stay in the main part of the hotel—you see the hotel is split up into several large bungalows or dormitories outside, and then the hotel proper was occupied by some Army officers and Colonel Wyman.

Q. Including Colonel Wyman?

A. Yes.

Q. What was Colonel Wyman's general reputation among the employees of the Hawaiian Constructors for sobriety?

A. Colonel Wyman was a man who liked liquor exceptionally well. He may never get drunk, but he likes it.

Q. What do you mean, 'he may never get drunk'?

A. A lot of them can carry a lot of liquor and you don't think they are drunk.

Q. But you testified that he was drunk for five days.

A. Yes, he was.

Q. Have you seen people in an intoxicated condition before?

A. Oh, yes.

Q. And that would be your opinion of his condition during those five days?

A. Absolutely.

Mr. Combs: I think that is all unless you have something else to add that you think might be helpful to the committee.

The Witness: Well, some of the stuff wouldn't have anything on this matter, but I wish this thing could be brought to the attention of Washington.

Q. We wish so too.

A. Things are rotten out there. There is no kidding about it. I am an American 61 years old, and I went to Honolulu with the idea of helping out and I tell you honestly once I finished that job there it done no good. I tore stuff apart there five and six times and put it together. There was never any reason for it. Charlie Winstead, who I was speaking about, treated me fine but still down in a man's heart he is not an American in any sense or form because he believes the Japanese is the right fellow and I know he is not.

There isn't a question on earth but everything has been blocked up there, either from Washington or some other position, and it is about time that somebody did something about it. Emmons is absolutely helpless now. I hear a lot of things in that tunnel because I work in those offices with them while business was going on, and we hear a lot of things that we can't talk about any place unless it goes into the place where something will be done about it.

I made three reports to G2 because I would walk right into them and talk to them. They knew of the things that happened, but there was never anything done about it.

Chairman Tenney: Was there any discussion with reference to the loyalty of these men to the United States?

The Witness: I will tell you candidly as far as our men were concerned, Senator, I don't think there was any of them—the majority of the men that went over there were men over 40 years old and the only reason they were there was because they could not take a gun. I have been quite a bit here in Southern California and worked on these defense jobs and I couldn't understand why the young men didn't want to go to war, but that gang of men that went there really wanted to go and do some good, and most of them were so disgusted after six weeks they didn't know what to do, and it was our idea that the thing was done with the purpose of making us disgusted, and they could put it down that we wouldn't work.

Now, I have been in defense work ever since December of last year with the idea of trying to help out. I am an electrician and a good one. I had a contractor's license in this State and I know what I am doing, and when you turn around and find things like that it hurts down deep because you know that certain men, either for money or for some other reason, are destroying the morale of the workers.

Chairman Tenney: What I mean, Mr. Anderson, was there reflection or opinion expressed in reference to the loyalty of the men that were in charge of all this work?

The Witness: The men out there thought Wyman and the whole gang of them ought to be shot. That is the truth.

Chairman Tenney: You know that of your own knowledge?

The Witness: Yes, I do.

Chairman Tenney: And upon what did they base that particular opinion?

The Witness: The accusations of them. We couldn't get paid. We couldn't get our overtime. We couldn't get nothing at all. We would get, "This is a new setup. This is this and that is that," and other things. One man told me out of his own mouth that we were at sea four days before they knew we were coming and they didn't know how many were coming until we actually landed.

Chairman Tenney: I am referring more specifically to the progress of the work and the way it was carried on.

The Witness: The work has dragged. They will be another year. They have moved hills and moved them back again, and they have filled holes and dug them out again; and I will swear that that runway, from what I can hear of it, at Bellows Field, has been done a dozen times.

Chairman Tenney: Do you think that has been done intentionally?

The Witness: I do. I honestly believe it is intentional. After the Battle of Midway it was a great thing while it happened, and those planes came in and out of there for three days. We needed those fields but they weren't ready.

The work which the Hawaiian Constructors were to perform under the basic contract was on a cost, plus a fixed fee basis. This meant that Hawaiian Constructors would be paid for the actual cost of labor and materials and, in addition, a fixed fee. As work started on the various installations, supplementary contracts appeared to be necessary, each calling for new installations and additional fixed fees. Committee investigators were told that this contract was probably the first in the history of the United States War Department in which the Government acted as a disbursing agency, making payments to the contractors on the basis of the contractor's books and records. Under the terms and provisions of the contract and its supplemental agreements, based on the records and accounts of the Hawaiian Constructors, the Army issued checks as requested.

Many workmen who had been employed by the Hawaiian Constructors on the installations in question were interviewed by committee investigators upon their return to California. All of these workers told a consistent story of waste and inefficiency.

As an illustration of the confusion attendant upon the construction program, a superintendent in charge of cutting a tunnel through solid rock, stated that he had received an order from Wyman's office instructing him to neither remove the dirt and rock-debris from the tunnel nor to leave the same in the tunnel. On another occasion the superintendent received an order specifying a 30 degree turn to the left in the tunnel, and after the excavation for the turn had been properly made through solid rock according to the specification and the order, another order was issued requiring that the excavation for the left turn be filled up and another turn made 30 degrees to the right. Committee investigators were told of an administration building of reinforced concrete being constructed on a flat area. When the concrete for the floor, the walls and part of the ceiling had been poured and set, an order came from Colonel Wyman's office ordering the entire structure moved four inches. According to statements of the men who actually worked on the job, underground hangers and machine shops for Flying Fortresses lagged sadly behind schedule. This, according to the men, was, in a large part, due to the fact that when a portion of the construction neared completion, orders would be issued calling for many trivial and unnecessary changes.

The contract called for an elaborate system of aircraft warning devices. This had not been completed according to schedule when the Japanese struck Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941. Commenting on this phase of the work, the House Military Affairs Committee charged mismanagement of the construction work in Hawaii, and stated that much of the element of surprise of the Japanese sneak attack could have been averted if the aircraft warning system had been completed on schedule.

Although there were other contracting companies in the islands which, prior to the Japanese attack, had been doing work for the Army, their contracts were canceled and Hawaiian Constructors granted the exclusive contracts to perform the task of repair and reconstruction. This not only applied to the Hawaiian Islands, but to the entire Pacific area.

The following affidavit of H. J. King is characteristic of similar affidavits, statements and testimony of other men who had been employed in the islands by Hawaiian Constructors:

H. J. KING who resides at 904 South Oakland St., Pasadena, first being duly sworn, deposes and says:

I was on active service in the Army Engineers from December, 1917, to September, 1919, with the rank of Major, when I resigned in 1929. I studied engineering at Northwestern University, where my son is now a professor.

About January 15th, 1942, I had completed a project at San Luis Obispo and learned that a tunnel man was needed at the Hawaiian Islands and was eventually employed by Paul Grafe for Hawaiian Constructors Company and arrived in Honolulu on February 16, 1942, and lived in the President Hotel, until January 25th, 1943.

I met Hans W. Rohl a day or two after I arrived. He was drunk when we met, and although I saw him many times thereafter, I never did see him when he was fully sober; and he was never in full possession of his faculties during the time I saw him.

The work being done during the period when Col. Theodore Wyman, Jr. was in charge was quite muddled. This was due to a variety of causes, some being the fact that there was a natural state of confusion following the attack on Pearl Harbor, and a constantly changing tactical situation throughout the Pacific Theatre. Among the business people who came in contact with Wyman, there was a general impression that he was extremely arbitrary.

After Col. Wyman left, the situation began to improve; more equipment began to arrive and our program was much more definite.

I was there when Rohl's yacht, the Vega, arrived in February, 1942, and I used to see it tied to the dock from time to time. The United States Engineers Department took over the Vega upon her arrival, but so far as I know they never used the boat, because she just remained tied up and was never sailed at all.

When I arrived, I laid around about 30 days before Rohl got sufficiently sober to put me to work. On about March 15th, 1942, I commenced work as area superintendent for Area 14, which included the Ewa Area. After a little time, two weeks had elapsed, I was appointed General Superintendent for Hawaiian Constructors, April 3, 1943, and thenceforth until I left, I had complete supervision over all field work.

Generally speaking, the work that had been accomplished under the supervision of Col. Wyman prior to December 7th, 1941, was pretty lousy; and when the people of the Hawaiian Islands who were familiar with this work—officers and civilians alike—learned that Col. Wyman had been awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service in the performance of duty of great responsibility as district engineer, Honolulu (T.H.) Engineer District, from October 14, 1941 to March 15, 1942, it was a source of considerable amusement.

NATURALIZATION

Rohl applied for United States citizenship in 1941 and the application was filed in Los Angeles. Agents of the Immigration and Naturalization Service proceeded to examine Rohl's background and to look into his past activities. The result of this investigation revealed that Rohl's name was peculiarly missing from the manifests of the Romona and Vega on the occasions already referred to. It was learned, on word from United States immigration officials stationed at Laredo, Texas, that it would have been impossible for anyone to have entered the United States and Mexico at that point without being closely questioned concerning citizenship status. Federal agents learned that Rohl had been employed in mining and construction projects in South America but that his certificate of entry at New York stated that he was a merchant on his way to see a Mr. W. P. Walker in San Francisco. It was learned that he had claimed American citizenship when he applied for a radio telephone for the yacht Vega and that this statement constituted a violation of Section 30, Paragraph 1A of the Communications Act of 1934. It was learned that Rohl's name did not appear on the manifest of the Vega when the yacht returned from Honolulu in 1938, although Rohl was on board. The Rohl-Connolly Company paid a $25,000 fine to the Federal Government September 4, 1941, because more than 25 per cent of the stock in the company was held by the alien Rohl in violation of Federal law.

When the immigration investigators had completed their work they recommended that Rohl's application for citizenship be denied and that he be prosecuted for violation of the Federal law. The report and recommendation of the investigators was made to the Chief of the Naturalization Bureau. In spite of the report and recommendation no objection was raised by the Department of Justice in the memorandum handed the Federal District Judge in the naturalization proceedings. Rohl was granted citizenship September 15, 1941, in the Federal District Court in Los Angeles by Judge J. F. T. O'Connor.

It should be stated here that no implication of any kind is raised against Judge J. F. T. O'Connor. The chairman of the committee and its investigators have carefully examined the records of Judge O'Connor's court for September 15, 1941, and find no irregularities whatsoever in connection with the granting of citizenship to Rohl. The file of the Immigration and Naturalization Service and the recommendation of the Federal agents were not before Judge O'Connor at the time naturalization was granted. The memorandum before the judge at the time of Rohl's hearing stated that "No objection will be made to the granting of this petition," and concluded with the statement that the petitioner, as president of the Rohl-Connolly Contracting Company had "been awarded a secret contract in connection with a defense construction project in Honolulu" and that "his participation in this project is being held up until he has been naturalized." With this memorandum before him, and no legal objection having been raised in the hearing, the judge could do nothing less than grant Rohl naturalization. The memorandum had been prepared by the Department of Justice and handed to the court, and fully justified the decision of the judge in granting Rohl citizenship. If the Government of the United States was satisfied to award a German alien an important "secret contract in connection with a defense construction project," certainly a judge of the United States District Court could not refuse to grant citizenship under the circumstances. To do anything else would, in addition to a reversal by the circuit court, have subjected the judge to serious criticism, particularly in view of the disaster that occurred at Pearl Harbor two and one-half months later.

The committee has learned that the procedure in the Rohl naturalization incident was the routine generally followed. Comment has been made that the Rohl proceeding was a "special" proceeding, but the record reveals that about 27 applicants were heard by Judge O'Connor on that day. There were no circumstances before the court that would have tended to put Judge O'Connor on inquiry and the committee finds that he acted with full integrity and patriotism.

Although Judge O'Connor was not aware of the fact, an attempt had been made to give the Rohl application preferential treatment. A letter, written on the stationery of the United States Department of Justice, is evidence of the insistence of someone that Rohl's application for citizenship be made "a special case." This letter was dated February 4, 1941 and marked "Special." It was directed to the District Director, Immigration and Naturalization Service, Los Angeles, California, and signed "Lemuel B. Schofield, Special Assistant to the Attorney General, by: P. B. Shoemaker, Deputy Commissioner." It reads as follows:

> "It is understood that one (Hans or John) Wilhelm Rohl made application for the certificate of arrival in your office on the third instant.
> "The services of this alien will be used in connection with the defense program. Please make it a special case. It is meant by this that the application for certificate of arrival should be made special, the filing of a petition also, and the hearing, if it can be immediately disposed of, after the 30 days after its filing.
> "Report in connection in this case when it has been finally disposed of will be appreciated."

When asked on the witness stand why he had not made an application for admission to citizenship at an earlier date, Rohl merely shrugged his shoulders and stated: "Negligence—busy traveling—never gave it a thought." (Vol. XV, p. 3807.)

CONGRESSIONAL INVESTIGATION

During November of 1942 the Chairman of the Committee, Senator Jack B. Tenney, conferred with United States Attorney General Francis Biddle in Washington, D. C. The Attorney General was immediately interested in the Rohl case and asked the chairman of the committee to prepare an outline of the findings of the committee, together with such other information as might be available, and to send it to him marked

"Personal." This was done immediately upon Senator Tenney's return to Los Angeles.

In February of 1943 the committee learned that Rohl had been awarded a contract on the Alcan Project in Alaska. Some time later Rohl received a new contract on the Canol Project in Canada.

During the summer of 1943, Fulton Lewis, Jr., National radio commentator, became interested in the Canol and Alcan projects. Mr. Lewis made an independent investigation of these projects and made a number of radio broadcasts concerning alleged waste and inefficiency in connnection therewith. Through Bruce Pine, investigator for the committee, Mr. Lewis became interested in the Rohl-Wyman combination and in the preliminary work of the committee in investigating their activities in connection with the Honolulu installations. As a result, Mr. Lewis telephoned the chairman of the committee and, being assured of cooperation, came immediately to Los Angeles.

After going thoroughly into the transcripts of testimony, consulting with Pine and R. E. Combs, counsel and chief investigator for the committee, Mr. Lewis began a series of daily broadcasts from Los Angeles in which he unfolded for National consumption the salient facts in the Rohl case as uncovered by the committee. As a result of these broadcasts, the Military Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives dispatched John Weiner, one of its investigators, to Los Angeles. The chairman of the committee assigned R. E. Combs and Bruce Pine to work with Mr. Weiner. By the time the joint work of these investigators was finished it was learned that the aggregate value of installations on which Rohl and Wyman had been associated for the Army, had reached the staggering total of more than $250,000,000.

The House Military Affairs Committee made a thorough-going investigation and published its findings and recommendations June 14, 1944.

After testifying before the California Committee February 23, 1943, Rohl disposed of his interest in the Rohl-Connolly Company to Thomas E. Connolly.

The Army-Pearl Harbor Board of Inquiry, headed by Lieutenant General Grunert, met at the Presidio in San Francisco in September of 1944. The Chief Investigator of the Committee, R. E. Combs, testified before this board on September 4, 1944.

CONCLUSION

The foregoing is a brief outline of the findings of the committee in the Rohl case. The fact that an alien, a subject of Hitler's Third Reich, was awarded such an important contract is nothing short of amazing. The fact that Rohl, the alien, was merely a large stockholder in the organization that was to construct the installations, presents little mitigation. The findings of the committee hereinabove reported clearly reveal that Rohl, through his intimacy with Wyman, was a moving force in negotiation of the contracts. There is no doubt in the minds of the members of the committee as to the alien Rohl's accessibility to the plans and specifications covered by the basic contract of December 20, 1940.

Hans Wilhelm Rohl is still a citizen of the United States. Although the facts of the case are known to officialdom the Committee is unaware of any action on the part of the Department of Justice, the Immigration and Naturalization Service, the Court or any other agency of government to cancel Rohl's citizenship.

The question has been frequently asked whether or not the Japanese Government had any detailed information of the plans and specifications of the installations which were built under the contracts of December 20, 1940. If the Japanese Government had such information it would reasonably follow that its agents had access to the work called for in the 1940 contract. In this connection it should be stated that on March 16, 1941, a known Nazi agent by the name of Von Der Osten arrived in New York City from Japan. He was killed in a taxi-cab accident. Among his possessions, special agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation found plans and specifications of the Pearl Harbor defense installations at Hickam Field, built under the provisions of the contract of December 20, 1940. On these plans and specifications was written a notation to the effect that the information contained therein would be of interest "to our yellow friends."

PART II

MANKIND UNITED OR "CHRIST'S CHURCH OF THE GOLDEN RULE"

The results of the committee's 1941-1942 investigations of Mankind United are set forth in the committee's 1943 Report under that title. Arthur L. Bell was the creator and guiding genius of the entire organization. In fact he was the organization. He dwelt in a twilight realm of mysticism and was known only as "The Voice" to his credulous followers. A charlatan of unusual magnetism, he is adept in the cultivation of credulity. He organized a network of "Bureaus" throughout the State and channeled a golden stream into his headquarters in San Francisco. He mixed a brew of occultism and economics, metaphysics and science, religion and voodooism, stirred it well in his wizard's cauldron and found ready buyers for the bottled product. Needless to say it has been a paying business for Bell.

It is estimated that about 14,000 persons in California had become interested in Mankind United by the beginning of December, 1941.

The heterogeneous compound brewed by Bell produced activities and statements that were decidedly unAmerican and subversive. After several months of investigation by committee representatives, the committee held a hearing in San Francisco in 1941. The publicity attendant upon this hearing brought to committee members many people who, having become completely disillusioned with "The Voice" and the movement, were willing to tell the committee what they knew of the organization, its "Bureaus" and managers.

It appears incredible to the committee that approximately 14,000 individuals living in California under an enlightened educational system could be so gullible as to believe the fantastic claims disseminated by "The Voice." Many of the disillusioned were chagrined and embarrassed when admitting that they had been credulous enough to swallow the entire fantasy. Many of these erstwhile followers of Mankind United still believe that some of the alleged miracles might be true; that perhaps there was, in fact, a race of strange little individuals with large metallic heads living in the center of the earth controlling floods and earthquakes. The modern miracles produced by science were once believed impossible and fantastic. Who could say, with certainty, that the scientists and research experts of Mankind United had not developed devices for preventing bombs and ammunition from exploding, for paralyzing internal combustion engines so that airplanes would drop from the sky, and for melting steel by a mysterious ray at a distance of 30 miles? Who really knew that these things were impossible?

It is difficult to believe that Bell was actually able to convince many of his followers, particularly his bureau managers, that he possessed the miraculous power of suddenly and instantaneously transporting himself from San Francisco to a distant foreign land. The Committee Transcript of Testimony clearly indicates that Bell's followers believed that he did possess such miraculous power. They regarded him with reverential awe.

Most of the members were either elderly persons, or individuals who had suffered severe economic reverses. The committee was impressed with the sincerity of many of the people who belonged to the movement. The committee was equally impressed with the huge sums of money that poured into the organization's treasury, which, so far as the committee ever ascertained, was synonymous with "The Voice."

The committee made its evidence, exhibits and sworn testimony in the Mankind United investigation available to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. As a result Bell and a number of his bureau managers were arrested, charged with conspiracy to commit sedition, tried in the United States District Court in Los Angeles, found guilty and sentenced to serve terms in the Federal penitentiary. The case is on appeal and, at this writing, has not yet been decided.

CHRIST'S CHURCH OF THE GOLDEN RULE

The committee believed that the supernatural exploits of Arthur Bell had been brought to an end. The trials had scarcely been terminated and appeals perfected, however, before reports of new activities on the part of Bell were reported to the committee.

A new religious organization was being launched and, through committee investigators, it was learned that its presiding genius was none other than "The Voice," Arthur L. Bell. The initial investigation was undertaken by Senator Hugh M. Burns of Fresno and the Committee's Counsel and Chief Investigator, R. E. Combs. It was soon learned that Bell had employed an attorney in the City of Fresno, Harrison M. Dunham, who had drawn up articles of incorporation for the new organization which was to be known as Christ's Church of the Golden Rule. Harrison M. Dunham, when questioned by the committee, stated that he maintained his offices in the Mattei Building in Fresno and that his father-in-law, R. G. Carroll, a Los Angeles real estate broker, had introduced him to a man by the name of "Jackson," who, in fact, was Arthur L. Bell. Dunham prepared a draft of the articles for Bell's approval and several weeks were consumed in making changes at Bell's direction. Dunham prevailed upon three of his acquaintances to act as incorporators, but admitted that, as far as he could learn, only Bell was interested in the organization. He presented his bill for legal services to Christ's Church of the Golden Rule and Bell eventually paid him in cash.

REAL PROPERTY PURCHASES

The committee learned that Bell was traveling up and down the State purchasing, or contracting for the purchase of, office buildings, hotels, agricultural property, athletic clubs, laundries, lumber mills, miscellaneous businesses and projects. The property was being bought in the name of Ruby V. Chapman. Several real estate transactions were handled in Los Angeles through R. G. Carroll, attorney Harrison M. Dunham's father-in-law.

The committee held its first hearing on the subject in Los Angeles March 20, 1944. R. G. Carroll testified that he had met Arthur L. Bell about the middle of July, 1943, on an occasion when Bell had contacted him regarding a piece of property which Carroll had advertised for sale. Bell represented himself to be a "J. J. Jackson." Carroll testified that Bell told him he was interested in purchasing several properties in order to give a great many people economic security. Carroll ventured the opinion that he believed the cause to be a worthy one. He had no knowledge of Mankind United and did not know "J. J. Jackson" had had anything to do with that organization. After several conferences with "Jackson" Carroll sold him a 30-room house situated at 3131 South Figueroa Street in Los Angeles on a 123 by 308 foot lot. "Jackson" agreed to pay $12,500 in cash for the real estate, $5,000 for the furniture and to put up a $2,500 deposit. He instructed Carroll that the deed was to be made to Ruby V. Chapman. Carroll later was introduced to a woman who represented herself to be Ruby V. Chapman, and was told that she represented a religious organization.

On or about August 14, 1943, Bell, still posing as "J. J. Jackson," negotiated with Carroll for the purchase of the Wavecrest Beach Club in Santa Monica for $40,000. He agreed to pay $8,000 cash and the balance at the rate of $356 a month, including 5 per cent interest. The deed, like the first one, was to be in the name of Ruby V. Chapman. Early in September of 1943, Carroll entered into negotiations with "Jackson" for the purchase of certain bank property located at 163 Marine Street in Ocean Park. The price was $25,000, $5,000 of which was to be paid in cash and the balance at the rate of $255 per month. The deed to this property was to be made in the name of Ruby V. Chapman.

On October 8, 1943, Carroll entered into negotiations with "Jackson" for the purchase of property located at 331-337 South Hill Street in the City of Los Angeles. This property consisted of a store-building containing six storage rooms and offices on the second floor. The sale price was $35,000, of which 20 per cent was to be paid in cash and the balance at the rate of $350 a month. This property, like the others, was to be deeded to Ruby V. Chapman. A sale of six beach lots at $45,000 followed, "Jackson" agreeing to pay $10,000 in cash and $400 per month, all, of course, in the name of Ruby V. Chapman. On December 9, 1943, "Jackson" agreed to buy a vacant lot on Hill Street, just north of Third, in Los Angeles, for $16,000 cash. On December 12, 1943, Carroll agreed to sell "Jackson" business and income property situated at 3101 Marine Street in Ocean Park for $13,500, 20 per cent in cash and the balance at the rate of $100 per month. On December 20, 1943, "Jackson" agreed to buy property situated at 258 South Los Angeles Street in the City of Los Angeles for $15,000, $1,500 of which was to be paid in cash and the balance at the rate of $350 a month. This property, as in the other transactions, was to be in the name of Ruby V. Chapman.

Carroll testified that he was not aware that "Ruby V. Chapman" was Mrs. Arthur L. Bell, and that throughout all of the transactions he believed he was dealing with a man by the name of "J. J. Jackson." He stated that he accidentally discovered "Jackson's" true identity through the newspapers. He said that the mysterious "Mr. Jackson" had intimated on one occasion that his name might not be "Jackson." All of the negotiations had been on a strict business basis and "Jackson" appeared to be a good judge of real estate values. The agreements were fulfilled according to contract and Carroll stated that he received commissions of about $16,425. Carroll appeared to be under the impression that Mrs. Ruby V. Chapman was acting in the capacity of trustee for some church or eleemosynary organization, although the deeds were to be made to her as an individual, and not as trustee.

It was thus established that Bell, in possession of vast sums of money secured from some mysterious source, had been traveling up and down the State of California under the name of "Jackson," buying property of various kinds in the name of his wife as an individual. It is obvious that the property, when paid for, would be owned by "Ruby V. Chapman" who is Mrs. Ruby Bell, Arthur's wife.

The committee held a hearing at Fresno and subpenaed Harrison M. Dunham. Arthur L. Bell and his wife, Ruby, were examined at the San Francisco hearing.

TESTIMONY OF MRS. BELL

Mrs. Bell was a very unwilling witness and in spite of nervousness was adroit in evading embarrassing questions. She admitted that her married name was Bell and insisted that she had a right to use her former name, Ruby V. Chapman. She gave her occupation as housewife and stated that she was a Christian Science practitioner. She married Bell in 1934 and has resided, since that time, at the Cathedral Apartments, located at 1201 California Street in the City of San Francisco. She admitted that she had read the book "Mankind United," several times and that she had attended several meetings of the organization. She declared she did not know who wrote the book and had no further information concerning the organization. Her testimony concerning the acquisition of properties throughout the State of California was, in part, as follows (Com. Tr., Vol. XXII, pp. 26-30):

Q. By Mr. Combs: . . . Did he ever use the name of Lobner?

A. I don't know.

Q. Brown?

A. The only name I know is Jackson, and he used that in securing these properties, these church properties; that's how I happened to know it——

Q. (Interrupting) Yes.

A. (Continuing) ——particularly the hotel properties in Southern California, the holdings that are now in my name, he used the name of Jackson.

Q. Did he buy them for you?

A. What do you mean, buy them for me?

Q. Did he get these properties under the name of Jackson?

A. I have no properties. Nobody bought any properties for me.

Q. You have no properties?

A. I have no properties; I simply lent my name to hold these properties, and acted as trustee only until the arrangements were made and they could be turned over to Christ's Church of the Golden Rule, who are the actual owners. I'm not, and my husband is not.

Q. I would prefer to run this in my own way in sequence.

A. I'm sure I would rather tell it like an intelligent woman—I'm telling the truth.

Q. Unfortunately, we have to develop this thing for the records, that's——

A. (Interrupting) That's right. Only one captain to a ship, isn't that true?

Q. That's right. We'll go into all those matters in detail if you will bear with me, and then if you want to make a statement for the record, you may make as much of a statement as you would like.

Did you and Mr. Bell ever own a Lincoln automobile?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you still own it?

A. I don't know.

Q. When did you have such a car, to your knowledge?

A. We had it when the Government agents came in and stole our things.

Q. That was about 1939?

A. That was in the fall of 1939.

Q. Thank you. And do you know in whose name that car was registered?

A. No, I don't.

Q. You don't know whether it was registered in the name of Robert Bell?

A. I don't know. Those are things my husband can tell you. He knows.

Q. Did you have a Cord automobile?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you have that in 1939?

A. Yes.

Q. And was that registered in the name of Ralph Brown, or do you know?

A. I don't know.

Q. Now, Mrs. Bell, how long have you been a Christian Science practitioner?

A. I have been a Christian Science practitioner for many, many years; since——

Q. (Interrupting) Well, prior to your marriage to Mr Bell?

A. (Continuing)—since 1920.

Q. Thank you. And your legal residence, I think you said a while ago, was 1201 California Street?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you spend considerable time in Southern California?

A. We have spent some time there since this litigation against my husband.

Q. The sedition trial?

A. Yes, we have to be there, and we also kept our apartment; we have to be in both places.

Q. Where do you stay when you are in Southern California?

A. We stay at the Arcady.

Q. Hotel?

A. No, it is an apartment.

Q. Have you ever been to Ontario, California?

A. Yes.

Q. When were you last there?

A. I think it was sometime last year. That is one of the three properties I have seen.

Q. One of the three properties you have seen?

A. Yes, one of the three properties.

Q. What properties?

A. The properties held in my name prior to the transfer to the church I just spoke to you about.

Q. When you say one of the three properties, what properties are you referring to?

A. I'll wait until you ask me a question. I'm sorry. I am used to dealing with things intelligently; I am not used to being asked questions this way.

Q. If you don't remember just say so.

A. After all, I'm not under indictment, I'm not under a dark cloud.

Q. Now, Mrs. Bell, did you ever hear of a hotel called the Stratford at Rampart and 8th Streets in Los Angeles?

A. Yes, I have heard of it.

Q. Have you ever stayed in the hotel?

A. No, I never have.

Q. Is that one of the properties which was held by you?

A. Yes.

Q. And now, you started to tell me about a piece of property when—

A. (Interrupting) You asked about Ontario.

Q. Yes. Will you describe in your own way for the record what piece of property you had reference to?

A. It was a hotel—what was the name of the place?

Q. Casa Blanca Hotel in Ontario.

A. Yes, that's it. All these holdings that have been purchased for the church and purchased in my name, I lent my name for that purpose. May I ——

Q. (Interrupting) Well——

A. (Continuing)—may I say that now?

Q. Go ahead and let's get it in the records.

A. That is one of them, and I went down there one time with my husband and the real estate man, and we were there several hours and I saw that property, and I have seen two or three of the others——

Q. (Interrupting) Yes.

A. (Continuing)—and that's all. I have driven by the Stratford Hotel, and I had seen a building on Third and Spring, I think it is. I haven't been in the inside, but I have seen it as I passed by because, as I say, all I have done is lent my name for the purpose of holding; I have no proprietary, no personal interest, no interest of of any kind in them; and, therefore, I wasn't interested in looking at them or knowing anything about them. I'm sorry if what I'm saying is at the wrong time, because I really don't want to seem out of order.

Q. You are doing very fine, Mrs. Bell. You haven't any objection if I ask you specifically about each one of those transactions?

A. Of course I haven't.

Q. And you will endeavor to answer the questions?

A. Of course, I'll try my very best."

It developed that Mrs. Bell apparently knew little or nothing concerning the financial details of the real estate purchases made by her husband as "J. J. Jackson." Although she was obligated to pay several million dollars for various properties, she insisted that she acted merely as a trustee for Christ's Church of the Golden Rule.

Bell had testified under oath before the committee in San Francisco in December of 1941 that on one occasion he had lost consciousness in San Francisco and when he again became conscious he was aboard an ocean liner en route to the Orient with 16 pieces of luggage. Mrs. Bell's testimony, on this subject, is interesting (Com. Tr., Vol. XXII, pp. 49-50):

Q. By Mr. Combs: . . . Did your husband go to the Orient in 1939?

A. I don't know.

Q. Where were you in 1939?

A. I was in San Francisco the latter part of 1939.

Q. Was he here with you?

A. Yes.

Q. During the entire year?

A. My husband is away from me so much that I can't possibly say the dates.

Q. Would you know?

A. I wouldn't know, because I wouldn't guess.

Q. Would you know if he was in China or Japan in 1939?

A. I wouldn't know anything about it; I wouldn't dare to guess about my husband ——

Q. (Interrupting) No.

A. (Continuing) —— he has suffered too much for his own wife to start in guessing about things.

Q. I'm just asking of your own knowledge, do you know whether or not he went to the Orient in 1939?

A. No, I do not.

Q. Is it possible he may have gone without your knowledge?

A. I don't know.

Q. You don't know whether he could have gone without your knowing it?

A. I don't know.

Q. Do you know whether or not he moved 16 pieces of luggage out of 1201 California Street in 1939—would you know that?

A. No.

Q. You wouldn't know whether he had moved 16 pieces of luggage out or not?

A. No, I don't.

Q. Where does he keep his luggage in the apartment?

A. I don't know."

Bell testified that he was the only person on the Pacific Coast responsible for Mankind United and the recently created religious organization, Christ's Church of the Golden Rule. He declared that vast sums of money were constantly being made available to him by persons who were interested in both movements. He admitted carrying large sums of money on his person. He declared that one of the chief objectives of Mankind United was to establish, as one of its branches, a church structure. This was now being accomplished with the creation of Christ's Church of the Golden Rule. The movement of Mankind United was based, for the greater part, on the book by the same name. He had personally corrected the manuscript and the printer's proof. He had sold the finished product among his followers throughout the State for prices ranging from $1.50 to $100 per copy. The copyright on the book was in his name. He had testified in December of 1941 that he had received the sum of $115,000 for the 1939 edition of "Mankind United." The book has now gone through many editions. Bell stated that he was the only person connected with the organization who had the authority to appoint or remove a bureau manager. He admitted having made all of the arrangements for the drafting of the articles of incorporation for Christ's Church of the Golden Rule and that he had personally conducted the negotiations for the purchase of various pieces of real estate throughout California. He declared that Mankind United and Christ's Church of the Golden Rule were religious cooperative movements.

Under the close questioning of Mrs. Bell by Assemblyman Randal F. Dickey of Alameda, it was clearly demonstrated that she had not acted as trustee for any religious organization or for any person, but that all the transactions made by her husband would result in her outright ownership of the properties under the name of Ruby V. Chapman.

Her testimony, in this regard, in part, is as follows (Com. Tr., Vol. XXII, pp. 57-59):

Q. . . . Did you buy each and all of these pieces of property concerning which I have questioned you for the church?

A. Yes.

Q. You did?

A. Yes, as trustee.

Q. At whose suggestion?

A. My husband's.

Q. In each instance?

A. In each instance.

Q. And who arranged for the purchase of each and every piece of the property?

A. My husband.

Q. In each and every instance?

A. Yes.

Q. Who decided whether or not you should pay cash for a piece of property or whether or not you should make a down payment and pay the rest of the purchase price by the month?

A. My husband took care of all the financial—

Q. (Interrupting) financial details?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever make any payment on any of these pieces of property by check?

A. I don't know how the payments were made; I know nothing about the financial arrangements.

Q. Whose money was used to make the payments on the properties?

A. I don't know anything about that; I have told you the truth.

Q. You don't know whether your money was used or not?

A. My money wasn't used.

Q. Was not used?

A. My name was used; my name was lent.

Q. Your name only?

A. My name only.

Q. You didn't invest any of your own private funds in these —

A. (Interrupting) No. I have given lots of money, as I have told you before, to my husband, and he has assured me it has been used for Mankind United activities. I have no reason to doubt him. I know what he tells me is true. But this other was as trustee; that's the only part of it I know; I don't know any more about the rest of it than you do.

Q. No, I understand.

A. I haven't a particle of interest in any of them, monetary or personal in any of them, any interest whatever, any more than you have."

"THE VOICE" AS A BIBLE STUDENT

Assemblyman Nelson S. Dilworth, now senator from Riverside County, was interested in the Biblical knowledge, or lack of it, of Bell, as the founder of a new Christian religious cult. Bell's answers to questions propounded by Assemblyman Dilworth in this connection elicited amusement on the part of spectators attending the hearing and established Bell's superficial knowledge of the New Testament. Assemblyman Dilworth's examination of Bell follows, in part. (Com. Tr., Vol. XXII, pp. 174-175):

Q. (By Assemblyman Dilworth): Mr. Bell, there are many and varied kinds of organizations that claim to be founded on Christ's teachings, and I would like to ask you — I think you have stated that Mankind United is based upon the teachings of Christ, particularly his economic teachings?

A. That is true.

Q. And also on his spiritual teachings?

A. That is true also.

In reference to Christ's Church of the Golden Rule, newly organized by Bell, Assemblyman Dilworth continued his examination:

Q. Who is the spiritual leader of this church? Would it be yourself?

A. It depends on what you mean by spiritual leader, sir. We believe that the ideals which constitute the cornerstone of this church must act as the leadership, not persons. People are here today, gone tomorrow; building up today and somebody tearing them down tomorrow gives no stability to any leadership. We take as our leadership the ideals we are founding the church on.

Q. You have a published creed?

A. If you will read the charter, you will see we have expressed what we believe to be the major purposes of that church in the charter.

Q. That is substantially the creed of the church in the charter?

A. You might consider it so; it would come very close to it.

Q. You take those objectives; you believe, from the Bible?

A. We do, from Christ Jesus' Sermon on the Mountain.

Q. Primarily from the New Testament rather than the Old Testament?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you read the Bible, Mr. Bell?

A. As regularly as I can, working 20 to 22 hours a day. I enjoy the Bible, as to me it is the greatest source of inspiration I have in my life, outside of the writings of Mrs. Eddy, which I believe describe the intent—describe the major intent of Christ Jesus—between the two I read as much as I can.

Q. Do you give some time to the study of the Bible?

A. As much time as it is possible, sir. However, I believe it is not so much a question of hours of study as it is of hours of effort to bring back the hour of Christ Jesus' ministry. I have devoted many years of my life to act out by development the purposes of that ministry.

Q. For instance, Mr. Bell, when did you last read the Bible?

A. Within the last 48 hours, sir.

Q. I take it from your testimony that your church is also a business organization, that it will also engage in business for the benefit of the members, will it not?

A. We think that Christ Jesus' teachings were basically economic. They must be lived, not just preached, and the church will engage in trying to fulfill the ideal of brotherhood in every way.

* * * * *

Q. When did he set forth the golden rule, near the end of his ministry?

A. Yes, sir.

After having secured an admission from Bell that Christ's Church of the Golden Rule was based directly upon the teachings of Christ as set forth in the New Testament, Assemblyman Dilworth proceeded to probe Bell's knowledge on the subject. (Com. Tr., Vol. XXII, pp. 177-180):

Q. (By Assemblyman Dilworth): How many books are there in the Bible?

A. I think I have been more concerned over the truths than I have the number of chapters or books ——

Q. (Interrupting) How many are ——

A. (Continuing) — in other words, I never had the opportunity that most children have of attending Sunday School long enough to learn, and I have never taken time to memorize the books of the Bible in sequence, or to count the number of books. In fact, the general theological idea of religious instruction has never appealed very much to my thought. The truths, the basic truths of those teachings have seemed so important it has kept me very busy trying to find some way to apply them in human relationship instead of talking about them from pulpits in sermons. I felt there has been enough talk, and I have never taken the time to memorize any great part of the Bible or count its books or learn them in their order.

Q. How many authors in the New Testament? Are you familiar with Matthew, John and Paul?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, how many do you recall?

A. Well, I have read the writings — oh, I should say the basic beliefs of many of Christ Jesus' disciples, all of the New Testament.

Q. Well, how many?

A. Matthew, John, Luke, Paul.

Q. How many authors are there in the New Testament?

A. Senator, I have had no time to try to learn by memory any of the general church teachings. I have been only concerned over the import of the truths expounded by the prophets, by Christ Jesus. It kept me very busy trying to do something about that in what little way that I might.

Q. What does the word Bible mean?

A. I do not know.

* * * * *

Q. Did Jesus pay tribute to the Roman government?

A. He at one time took some money out of a fish's mouth and expressed the thought that he should 'render unto Ceasar the things that are Ceasar's.'

Q. On only that one occasion?

A. I do not know how often he did so.

Q. On what accusation was Christ put to death?

A. That he was engaged in uttering — in making seditious utterances and conspiring to overthrow the government. Very much the same accusation as is used against us at this time.

Q. How was Christ put to death?

A. He was crucified, sir.

Q. How long was he on the cross?

A. I do not know how long it took, sir.

Q. How long did he remain in the tomb?

A. Three days.

Q. On what sea did Christ still the tempest?

A. I believe it was — well, I don't know whether it was the Red Sea or the Sea of Galilee, sir; I don't recall.

Q. Who, if you know, was Christ's sister?

A. I do not recall any.

Q. Well, what relation was Martha to Christ?

A. I do not recall the relationship; I know that she was very dear to Him.

Q. Do you recall if Christ had sisters or brothers?

A. I do not recall, sir.

* * * * *

Q. Did Christ teach in the Sanhedrin?

A. I do not know to what extent he might have conducted his ministry in the Sanhedrin.

Q. Well, from the record that we have of his daily life in the New Testament, is it your opinion that he observed the commandment to keep the Sabbath day holy?

A. I think he observed the commandment to keep every day holy, and I can not conceive of him considering one day holier than the other.

MANKIND UNITED ENTERPRISES

Further examination of Bell disclosed that at the time of his marriage to Mrs. Ruby V. Chapman he was out of funds and that all of the money since accumulated by him had been either furnished by Mrs. Bell as loans or had been secured from persons affiliated with Mankind United or his followers.

Committee investigators visited many of the hotels, farms and other properties purchased by Bell in the name of Ruby V. Chapman and learned that all such properties were being operated by persons who were affiliated with Mankind United. A typical example is the Casa Blanca Hotel, located in the City of Ontario. Bell paid for this property in cash and immediately put one of his representatives in charge of the enterprise. The hotel was soon staffed with Mankind United affiliates. It was learned that the work was to be done by these enthusiasts without compensation and before being accepted for such "employment" they had been persuaded to transfer their money and properties to the movement. At the Casa Blanca Hotel in Ontario committee investigators found a staff of chamber maids, cooks, waitresses, elevator-operators, janitors, gardeners, bell-boys, dish-washers and miscellaneous "employees" carrying on the operation of the hotel for their board and room. The hotel apparently was doing a good business. Other hotel and business properties purchased by Bell were being operated on the same basis. As a result, Bell found himself in difficulties with labor unions.

The material needs of the working members of the alleged "cooperative" or "collective" enterprises are decided by whoever happens to be in charge of the particular enterprise. Such matters as dental work, medical attention, recreational needs, transportation for the purpose of visiting relatives at distant points in the State, are considered, and when found worthy and necessary, the member applicant is furnished with money supplied from a common general fund. When the decision is adverse the moneyless member must go without.

BELL'S ATTITUDE TOWARD THE WAR

Bell's attitude toward the war is strongly indicated in an affidavit secured by R. E. Combs, as follows:

"State of California }
"County of San Bernardino } ss

"Samuel N. Ebb, of 200 E. 4th Street, City of Ontario, in said County and State, first being duly sworn, deposes and says:

"I met a man introduced to me as Mr. J. J. Jackson. He was introduced to me by a real estate broker, Mr. Coppage of 1046 or 1036 Wilshire, on July 8th, 1943. Jackson wanted to buy the Casa Blanca Hotel, which I sold him for $33,000 cash, but title was taken in the name of Ruby V. Chapman, whom I met twice.

"During the negotiations, Jackson's actions aroused my suspicions, and I told him I didn't believe his name was really Jackson, because he looked like a Frenchman or an Italian. Among other things, he said he wanted to buy ten or fifteen thousand feet of screen wire to partition the hotel roof, but he later forgot ever having said anything about it. He then admitted that his name was Robert Fontaine, and wanted me to swear that I would never divulge the fact that his name was really Fontaine and not Jackson. He showed me a Masonic ring and said he was a Mason.

"He told me that about 90% of the funds donated to the Red Cross and the USO weren't used for the purposes intended, but were spent by the officials in charge of these organizations, the promoters. He said it was just a racket.

"On October 24th, 1943, Walter Nigey was brought to town by Jackson to run the hotel. A great number of boxes were trucked into town and stored in the hotel. This Nigey has earned a local reputation as a drunk. I saw him drunk on one occasion.

"I had patriotic posters sent to me by the Office of War Information in my hotel, and as soon as Bell acquired the hotel, he tore all the posters down, including one urging people to buy war bonds and stamps, which was displayed in the lobby.

"Nigey told my wife that the war was just a racket being run by President Roosevelt and Winston Churchill for their own selfish reasons; they were just racketeers.

"I asked Bell if Ruby Chapman wasn't his wife, because the week before they were both out and acted more like husband and wife than business associates. He asked me why she should be his wife, and asked me if she might not be his sister. He never admitted she was his wife and inferred that she was not.

"Bell never even checked the inventory on the hotel, and so far as I know, he only saw my room and the lobby. I told him I wanted $35,000 but he said he would have to take the matter up with his Board of Directors, and we ultimately closed the deal for $33,000 cash. I never saw a check. Bell usually handled the money in $100 bills, ten clipped together in a bunch.

"Bell would never give me an address or telephone number so I couldn't contact him.

"He told me that Christ's Church of the Golden Rule was very similar to the Christian Science Church, but that there was no connection between the two institutions. His statements were generally wild, unreasonable, were contradictory and naturally aroused my suspicions.

"I am absolutely positive that the man who told me his name was Jackson, then Fontaine, was actually Arthur L. Bell, whose picture I have just seen in the newspapers.

"He was constantly quoting the Bible, but when I asked him specific questions, I discovered that he didn't know anything about it at all. Then he told me he was a political economist, but his conversation indicated that he was one of the most conceited, vain and stubborn men I ever had any contact with, and that he knew virtually nothing about either the Bible or political economy.

"Bell once told me that his project was really an experiment, and that if they ever took a licking it would be in connection with lands in Imperial Valley. I mentioned this subject the following week, but he didn't even remember our conversation.

(Signed)"SAMUEL EBB,

"Subscribed and sworn to before me this 21st day of March, 1944.
R. E. COMBS, Counsel and Chief Investigator for the California Joint Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities, pursuant to Assembly
Concurrent Resolution, No. 59."

A Mr. R. G. Austin of San Fernando requested the assistance of the committee in locating his wife. She had been interested in Mankind United since 1939 and had at one time been assigned to making maps of various critical areas in Southern California. Part of her assignment was determining the time it took to drive from one designated point on the map to another. Austin was never able to secure a satisfactory explanation from his wife concerning her map-making activity. When Bell and his associates were convicted of conspiracy to commit sedition, Austin found that his wife was more enthusiastic over the organization than ever and spent much of her time soliciting funds for the purpose of defraying legal expenses incurred in connection with the trial. In December of 1943 a truck was backed up to the Austin residence and bureau managers of Mankind United loaded Mrs. Austin's personal property on the truck and drove away. Austin had not seen his wife since. He believed that she had been persuaded to leave him, that she had given her worldly possessions to the organization and was being used in the operation of one of the enterprises recently acquired by Bell.

PART III

JAPANESE PROBLEMS IN CALIFORNIA

Since submitting its report to the Legislature in 1943 the committee has continued its investigation of Japanese subversive activities as far as such activities were evident in the various relocation centers in California. On March 5, 1942, Lieutenant General John L. DeWitt issued an order for the evacuation of all persons of Japanese descent from the area of the Western Defense Command. Temporary Reception Centers were quickly erected under the supervision of Army engineers and, shortly thereafter, construction was commenced on the two relocation centers for California, Manzanar and Tulelake. On March 21, 1942, the first contingent of evacuees, 61 men and 21 women, arrived at Manzanar. By midsummer of that year there were nearly 10,000 evacuees at Manzanar and 14,000 at Tulelake.

CALIFORNIA RELOCATION CENTERS

Manzanar is located near Independence in Inyo County. Tulelake is located in Modoc County near the Oregon State line. The physical appearance of the two relocation centers presents much the same aspect. Each is sprawled over a flat, barren plain, partly surrounded by mountains. The summer winds constantly blow clouds of fine dust across these plains and during the winter months there is much rain and snow.

The barracks are long, narrow, board and batten structures with black tar-paper roofs. Wooden partitions divide these barracks into small compartments, each of which is theoretically occupied by an evacuee family. The mess halls are replicas of the barracks without the partitions.

Each center maintains an agricultural project. A program of vocational training and adult education is provided in both camps. The State law for compulsory education of children of school age is enforced. Internal security and fire-fighting departments are organized and maintained. Each center has cooperative stores where evacuees may purchase a wide variety of general merchandise, none of which carries ration-point requirements.

Each administrative project and department is headed by a Caucasian supervisor. Virtually all of the work is done by the evacuees, on a voluntary basis. They are compensated for their labors at a monthly rate which has a maximum of $19. The rate is considered entirely inadequate by the evacuees and, as a consequence, the work done is accomplished more by sheer weight of numbers than by individual endeavor. Labor strikes occur sporadically and there is a constant stream of labor complaints. Attempts at beautification of the camps have been made by the evacuees and a lovely landscaped Japanese garden was noted near a mess hall at Manzanar.

The agricultural project at Manzanar presented many difficulties. The first crew started work on April 15, 1942, grubbing out the rocks and sage-brush, and preparing the soil for planting. During the latter part of May of that year the crops were planted. When the first green shoots appeared they were promptly nibbled back level to the earth by rabbits, until the vegetable garden resembled, from a distance, an extensive and closely-clipped lawn. This annoyance was solved by the use of dogs that were trained to chase the rabbits away. Several hundred acres are now under cultivation. The crops raised at Manzanar during the past season had a market value estimated at $43,000. Surplus crops are shipped to other centers.

There are about 4,000 acres under cultivation at Tulelake. The season in Modoc County is comparatively short because of early frost and snow, but during the spring and summer months the crops are easily and abundantly produced. The total commercial value of the current crop is estimated at $1,500,000. The surplus, like the surplus at Manzanar, is shipped to other centers. Hogs and chickens are also raised at Tulelake on an extensive scale.

Each center has a detachment of military police. Until a short time ago these men were charged with the duty of quelling serious disturbances, keeping the evacuees within the confines of the center, and, generally, in maintaining order. They are not permitted, however, within the boundaries of the centers. This force of military police is supplemented by the Department of Internal Security, or center police force, which is headed by a Caucasian with prior police experience, and a staff of evacuee enforcement officers. The center directors have exclusive jurisdiction over infractions of center rules and regulations and may impose reasonable and legal penalties for violations. Violators of State and Federal laws are turned over to the proper authorities.

National food rationing released a flood of rumors concerning the food served the Japanese in the relocation centers. It was frequently charged that the evacuees were receiving food of an exceptionally high quality and of high ration-point value. Investigation of these charges by representatives of the committee disclosed that the basic menus of all relocation centers were prepared by the Quartermaster's Corps of the United States Army and that each center was allowed a maximum expenditure of 45 cents per day for each evacuee. The average expenditure for the two centers in California runs around 37 cents per day per evacuee.

The committee representatives selected mess halls at random in each center and ate several meals with the evacuees. They found the food well cooked, nourishing and plentiful. The following sample menus are typical of the meals served at Manzanar and Tulelake:

MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY
Breakfast	Breakfast	Breakfast
Stewed dried fruit, Farina—hot milk, French toast, syrup, Cocoa, milk.	One-half grapefruit, Rolled oats—milk, Hot cakes—syrup, Cocoa—coffee—milk.	Stewed dried fruit, Dry cereal—milk, French toast—syrup, Coffee—tea—milk.
Lunch	Lunch	Lunch
Baked macaroni and cheese, Steamed rice, Tsukemono, Boiled fresh vegetables, Head lettuce salad, One orange, Bread, Tea.	Boiled beef, Spanish Steamed rice, Tsukemono, Head lettuce salad, One fresh apple, Tea.	Boston baked beans, Boiled fresh vegetables, Steamed rice, Tsukemono, Head lettuce salad, One orange, Bread, Tea.
Dinner	Dinner	Dinner
Fresh fried fish, Stewed corn, Steamed rice, Pickled fresh beets, Butterscotch dessert.	Beef Sukiyaki, Steamed rice, Tsukemono, Potato salad, Spice cake, Tea.	Fried fresh fish, Steamed rice, Tsukemono, Cole slaw salad, Fruit jello, Tea.

It will be noted that the relocation center diet consists mainly of rice, vegetables, fish, bread, oleomargarine (no butter), with such occasional Japanese dishes as Tsukemono (pickled vegetables) and Sukiyaki (a sort of Japanese chop suey).

Choice of food is a source of constant evacuee complaint and grievance. The American-born Japanese are accustomed to American food while most of the alien Japanese are accustomed to native dishes. It is manifestly impossible to please both groups, although, as will be seen from the sample menus, certain native dishes are prepared and served. The evacuees are permitted to buy additional food at the cooperative stores, but, as has been mentioned heretofore, they are not permitted to purchase anything which requires ration points.

Until about January 1, 1943, the administration of the centers was very lax. The evacuees were permitted to wander unattended practically at will, all over the adjacent countryside. This practice was bitterly resented by residents in the vicinity of the centers and this resentment toward the administration still exists to some extent. The laxity of early administration manifested itself in what appeared to be a pampering of the evacuees and an apathy toward their subversive activities. An example of this lax attitude was seen in the practice of permitting evacuees at Tulelake to use Government cars as free taxis within the area of the Center, and in the use of Government trucks to take groups of evacuees on picnics outside the Center. No attempt was made to separate the obviously subversive and disloyal from the obviously loyal. After January 1, 1943, the situation changed considerably and the Centers in California were administered with a firmer hand.

Optional courses in Americanism are offered as part of the adult educational program but they might as well be discontinued for they are very poorly attended. There are no compulsory Americanism courses. It was learned that the evacuees are not particularly encouraged to speak English. Many who spoke good English when they first arrived at the centers now speak it poorly, because, since arriving, they have spoken mostly in their native tongue.

For a time, all out-going and in-coming mail was censored by the military police. This practice was discontinued, and in 1943 it was possible for express packages, letters and parcel-post packages to be sent into the relocation centers without inspection. Telephone conversations between the evacuees and persons outside the Centers were not censored at all. Manzanar appeared to be the lone exception in telephone censorship.

SHINTO-KODO-BUSHIDO

The Japanese terms, Issei, Nisei and Kebei, are defined and explained in the Committee's 1943 Report at page 322. Briefly re-stated, the Issei are alien Japanese, virtually all of whom are loyal to Japan and Hirohito. Fanatical in their belief in the Shinto-Kodo-Bushido dogmas, they keep pretty much to themselves in the relocation centers. The Nisei are second-generation, American-born sons and daughters of Japanese alien parents, and, therefore, citizens of the United States. The greater part of the Nisei have attended the public schools on the west coast, and the majority of them attended Japanese language schools. The Kebei are Nisei (second-generation, American born Japanese) who have been sent to Japan, allegedly for educational purposes. During their stay in Japan the Kebei were indoctrinated with the Shinto-Kodo-Bushido virus and, as a general rule, feel a deep loyalty to everything Japanese. The ideology of Kodoism, like the doctrine of race-superiority of the German Nazis, dominates the minds of the present generation of alien Japanese and the Kebeis. Until Pearl Harbor the Issei, holding the purse strings, exerted considerable influence over the Nisei and Kebei and kept them pretty much in "Kodo" ("the way of the Emperor").

Shintoism is Japan's most ancient religious faith. In its primitive form it exalted the deities of nature and fertility and emphasized the sacredness of the family. Animistic in character, Shintoism created a multitude of local gods and taught that they were embedded in the mountains, trees and stones. Worship of the Emperor, the sacredness of the family, and the exaltation of the military were closely identified with the ceremonies of Shintoism from its inception. The ancient rice culture of the people was closely interwoven in ancient Shintoism. Obedience to authority and devotion to the Emperor are sternly emphasized. The Shinto creed has been merged with the State since the "restoration" of the Emperor in 1868, and is now particularly characterized by its aggressive nationalism, its authoritarianism, and its militaristic faith.

It is taught and believed that the Japanese islands were begotten of the gods, that the Emperor of Japan is a direct descendant of the Goddess of the Sun. It is believed that the present Japanese race, as the descendants of a single tribe of Yamato, are destined to inhabit these God-begotten islands forever. The rest of the world is to feel the benevolence of this divine Yamato race. Because the islands were literally begotten of the gods, the land is "holy," and will endure forever. A Japanese soldier who dies for the Emperor and his "holy" country, immediately becomes one with the gods, regardless of how badly he may have lived. The outside world can only be redeemed through Japanese intervention. The great Shinto virtues for the Japanese people are blind and undying loyalty and unquestioning obedience. All people, other than the Japanese, are considered corrupt and inferior.

Shintoism has become the State religion of Japan. Doctor Shunzo Sakamaki, assistant professor of history at the University of Hawaii, pointed out that the Japanese Imperial Government had issued an edict declaring that all Shinto priests in the United States and Hawaii, and all Japanese language school teachers were, from January of 1941, to be considered as officials of the Japanese Government. "Basically," said Doctor Sakamaki, "the reason is that the Japanese Government has seen in Shinto a political tool of the greatest potency for keeping the fires of nationalism burning at white heat and making the doctrine of political absolutism in Japan virtually inviolable."

General Araki, the leader of the Manchurian conquest, gave life and emphasis to Japanese Imperialism by popularizing Kodo, "the way of the Emperor," in the program of "Asia for Asiatics" and the "Greater East Asia Co-Prosperity Sphere". Thus, Kodo, as an extension of Shintoism, provides the justification of Japanese world conquest. "The way of the Emperor", since the first Emperor, Jimmu Tenno, who descended directly from the Goddess of the Sun, is the plan to carry out the "divine destiny" of the Japanese people in extending their "culture" to all of the people of the earth. This "benevolence" is first to be extended to the colored peoples of Asia by freeing them from the domination of the white races.

Bushido is the unwritten code of conduct of the Samurai. Bushido demands loyalty to superiors only, simplicity of living and military valor. Complete allegiance to superiors is demanded, while deceit and dishonor is to be honorably practiced against all others. Treachery and brutality against one's enemies, and self-sacrifice, blind loyalty and unquestioning obedience to one's superiors are the cardinal characteristics of the code of Bushido.

PROBLEM OF RELOCATION DURING THE WAR

It is generally believed that the Japanese are a stoical and phlegmatic people. Expert opinion, on the contrary, holds that they are a highly emotional and temperamental people. It is interesting to note in this connection that the clinical records of the two relocation centers indicate that the most common evacuee ailment is peptic ulcers, caused by worry and fear. The loyal, or potentially loyal, Nisei, read accounts in the daily newspapers of the action of many and sundry organizations passing resolutions to the effect that no persons of Japanese descent, citizen or alien, will ever be tolerated again in California. Leaflets and pamphlets find their way into the centers and are read by the American-born Japanese. Many are firmly convinced that they will not be welcome or wanted in California and, for this reason, have been, and are, refusing to apply for relocation because of the fear of physical injury to themselves and their families no matter where they may go. The recent order of Dillon Myer for the closing of all relocation centers by December 31, 1945, was received with alarm by most Japanese evacuees. The committee has learned from authentic sources that delegations of Japanese have called on the center directors, requesting that some action be taken for the continuation and maintenance of the centers for the duration of the war with Japan. Japanese evacuee spokesmen base their request on several grounds. First, they fear physical injury if they are returned to their former communities while the war with Japan is in progress. Secondly, nearly all leases on evacuee property are for "the duration of the war with Japan," and, thirdly, the housing problem for some 60,000 to 80,000 Japanese in their former communities is fraught with insurmountable difficulty and hardship.

SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES

The Japanese very rarely entered into the life of the American community in which they resided. "Little Tokyos" invariably mushroomed into existence wherever a substantial Japanese population existed. More than 240 Japanese language schools were established and maintained in California alone.

The committee is convinced that it was not merely coincidental that the Japanese population settled along the West Coast near airfields, oil refineries, vital war plants and gun emplacements. The desirability of the land alone does not account for this deployment as, in many cases, more fertile and desirable farm land was available.

The Yokohama Specie Bank is sponsored by the Japanese Imperial Government. Before the war huge transfers of money through the Yokohama Specie Bank from the United States to Japan was a frequent occurrence. These "deposits" aggregated in excess of twenty millions of dollars. Testimony and evidence before the committee indicates that Japanese residents in California contributed many thousands of dollars to the Japanese war effort before Pearl Harbor.

Togo Tanaka testified quite openly and frankly concerning Nisei activities. (Com. Tr., Vol. X, pp. 2843-2889). His testimony, in part, is as follows (Com. Tr., Vol. X, pp. 2856-2858):

> Q. By Mr. Combs: . . . Mr. Tanaka, as a matter of fact, the Japanese Consulate sponsored the dissemination of a great mass of material regarding the Japanese attitude—the Sino-Japanese war?
> A. I don't believe so much the consulate but agencies set up by the consulate on the coast here.
> Q. The Nisei were active at that time in aiding in the dissemination of that material, were they not?
> A. Yes, they were—I should say, we were.
> Q. Then, later on there were groups, were there not, Japanese organizations, for example, agricultural organizations and others through which funds were collected for the Japanese war effort generally?

A. I believe you were the one who gave me the first detailed information. While I have a note on Los Angeles I wanted to be able to more or less confirm it.

Q. Does your information confirm that?

A. Yes, it does.

Q. And that extended over a period of how long?

A. Well, I would say since the outbreak of the war in China—that would be in '37.

Q. And it continued how long?

A. Well, straight through, I believe, the early or the middle of 1940 when it seems the tension between the United States and Japan grew to the point where people began, I think, to realize rather dimly possibly war was in the offing—by the way, that was the time, too, when many of us began to realize some of our activities were misdirected. By the way, I may also point out while we seem to be emphasizing the subversive, and I can appreciate the purpose to investigate un-American activities——

Q. That is correct.

A.——on the other hand, we ought not to forget and to get a balanced picture, we ought to inject some of the very good American activities this publication and the organization has been engaging in.

Q. I am going to ask you in detail about that, Mr. Tanaka.

A. Fine.

Q. So that was true that funds were collected by Japanese organizations for the Japanese war efforts?

A. Yes, I believe they were.

Q. And those funds were transmitted through the Japanese diplomatic agencies in this country?

A. I am not, frankly, familiar with the exact means by which it was transmitted. I understand some was sent directly to Japan by the organizations and some by individuals but I presume most of the funds must have been sent through the diplomatic agents.

Q. Was there any reluctance on the part of the Nisei to admit the existence of subversive activities by any Japanese group in California?

A. Well, as a group I would say yes; but individually, of course, we always have our exceptions but collectively—I am merely repeating what persons who are not Nisei say from the standpoint of their own observation that they think the Nisei themselves—on that question I may not be qualified to answer as to the reluctance shown by the Nisei—but judged by some third party, we have a good number of persons who I think have been close to the situation and they said we have been too reluctant to admit some of the subversive activities that probably have been present in which Nisei have engaged. We have tried to gloss some of the things and point out the good American things we were doing without trying to correct or even acknowledge some of the things being done which were subversive and, frankly, I didn't believe some of the things we were doing would be judged as subversive simply because we couldn't predict the developments, the turn of events."

The committee offers no particular brief for the Nisei as a class. Evidence before the committee clearly reveals that many of the Nisei were engaged in subversive activities against the Government of the United States for many months prior to the attack on Pearl Harbor. The committee is equally aware that an American-born person of Japanese parentage is not necessarily subversive per se. The problem is essentially one of segregation and it presents many subtle difficulties.

When General De Witt's order for Japanese evacuation was announced many Nisei, who had established businesses and homes, were compelled to dispose of their property in a very short period of time, as best they could. They were to be housed in relocation centers in remote parts of the country for an indefinite period. Deep emotional reaction to the disruption of normal life was only natural and to be expected. Some of the Nisei became embittered and resentful while others remained realistic and resigned to a situation which they understood as necessary and unavoidable. The Issei and Kebei were openly defiant and recalcitrant. Most of them have now adopted an attitude of solemn brooding. The committee believes that if the War Relocation Authority had segregated these groups in the beginning much trouble and difficulty might have been avoided. Late in 1943 the War Relocation Authority, finally recognizing the problem, announced that it would segregate the loyal from the disloyal Japanese. This was ultimately accomplished by removing the disloyal Japanese to the Relocation Center at Tulelake. The War Relocation Authority test of loyalty and disloyalty in the segregation program is not available and has not been explained.

DEFIANCE AT TULELAKE

Questionnaires were prepared and distributed to the evacuees in all the relocation centers by the War Relocation Authority in the early spring of 1943. Question No. 28 inquired whether or not the evacuee was willing to renounce his allegiance to the Emperor of Japan. An epidemic of rioting immediately broke out at the Tulelake Center and continued for nearly six weeks. So few of the evacuees answered Question 28 in the affirmative that the War Relocation Authority reworded that particular inquiry, labeled it No. 28-A, and tried again. The question this time did not concern itself with allegiance to the Emperor of Japan, but merely inquired whether or not the evacuee would be willing to uphold the laws of the United States. Assemblyman Dickey, in charge of the Tulelake investigation, reported that he had been informed that although there were 6,000 to 7,000 evacuees who were American citizens by accident of birth and whose physical qualifications made them eligible for service in the armed forces of the United States, only two volunteered. It is rather significant to note that the Bushido code permits deceit and treachery as honorable conduct under such circumstances, and that disloyal and subversive Japanese would, therefore, unhesitatingly answer either or both questions in the affirmative.

The attitude of defiance on the part of the disloyal Japanese at Tulelake can only be explained on the basis of some real or imagined advantage for Japanese war strategy. Mr. Silverman, staff writer for the San Francisco Chronicle, was at the Tulelake Center investigating the disturbances which attended the signing of the questionnaires, and in the May 27, 1943, issue of that newspaper he reported, in part, as follows:

"* * * Before the end of the trouble bands of hoodlums roamed up and down the camp's streets, breaking into homes and attacking the occupants. The Japanese * * * who were in cooperation with the administration were nearly killed, and two Christian Priests were badly beaten. A Jap flag mysteriously appeared and, as mysteriously, disappeared. The army moved in, followed by the F. B. I. There were mass arrests, and one hundred men were thrown into near-by jails and deserted C. C. C. Camps. When the prisoners were carried off they were surrounded by howling Japanese who yelled, 'Banzai!'

" 'You can't imagine how close we came to machine-gunning the whole bunch of them,' one official said. 'The only thing that stopped us, I guess, were the effects such a shooting would have had on the Japs holding our boys in Manila and China * * * and the fact that, in all these Tulelake riots, a lot of Japs got hurt fighting for us.'

"Leaders of the disturbance, most of whom were believed to be Kebeis, were identified and sent to an Arizona concentration camp for incorrigibles. Others were given prison terms for violation of the State riot law, while still others were paroled or pardoned. Camp Director Harvey Coverley stated that the arrests put an end to the disturbances."

THE MANZANAR DISTURBANCE

The central figure of the December, 1942, disturbance at the Relocation Center at Manzanar was Fred Masaru Tayama. Tayama testified before the committee in Los Angeles on Japanese activities, March 24, 1942. (Com. Trans. Volume X, pp. 2961-2965.) He was born in Honolulu. He attended the A. R. Muir Institute of Technology in Chicago. He formerly was the chairman of the Southern California District Council of the Japanese-American Citizens League. Shortly after December 7, 1941, Tayama called a meeting of certain American-born Japanese leaders and organized an anti-Axis Committee. An intelligence unit was created in order to assist governmental investigative authorities in their work. This prompt and laudible action on the part of Fred Tayama made many dangerous enemies for him among the disloyal and subversive Japanese.

Fred Tayama's demeanor on the witness stand when testifying before the committee in Los Angeles, was above-board, open and frank. (Digest of Tayama's Los Angeles testimony appears on pages 344 to 346 in the committee's 1943 Report.) At that time he proudly exhibited a document from the Japanese consul given to him at his insistence, proving his complete expatriation from Japan. He testified that although he was born in Honolulu, he was considered a citizen of Japan in 1923 and subject to Japanese military duty. He was advised to apply to the Japanese Consul General for extension or exemption of military service. He is one of the few American-born Japanese known to the committee who took the necessary steps for the cancellation of the Japanese side of his dual citizenship.

The New World supplement for Sunday, December 13, 1942, in the San Francisco Chronicle printed the following story:

"Last week, nine-month old Manzanar produced its first political incident. Using descriptive, excitable adjectives and worded carefully so as not to over-emphasize isolated trouble, the War Relocation Authority described the occurrence: 'Saturday night six men entered the residence of Fred Tayama, (President of the Japanese-American League), and beat him so severely that he was taken to the hospital. Immediately three evacuees were taken into custody, and one of them was transferred to the jail at nearby Independence. The next morning crowds gathered in the Center streets, and selected a committee which met with Camp Director Ralph P. Merritt at the main gate and asked for the return of the jailed men. Merritt agreed that the evacuees would be brought back to Manzanar if the committee would agree that there would be no more meetings or gatherings, that order would be maintained until the proper hearing could be held, and if the group would deliver to the authorities the men who had beaten Tayama.

"The crowd dispersed about mid-afternoon, the jailed men were returned to the center police headquarters. But that night two large groups assembled—one at the hospital, demanding that Tayama be turned over to them, and another at the Internal Security Headquarters . . .

"When Merritt refused to release his prisoners . . . he became alarmed when some members threatened to kill Tayama . . . The director called the military police to restore order. But the milling Japanese refused to go home and began to advance on the prison guard, who, when the tear gas was blown away by a high wind, threatened to open fire. The crowd kept coming—the M. P's. fired, killing one man, critically wounding another and injuring nine others.

"Both the War Department and the War Relocation Authority are of the opinion that this disturbance was caused by a relatively small group of evacuees, and that the great majority of evacuees at Manzanar and other Relocation Centers are loyal to the United States, and completely in favor of the orderly process of government."

The excitement ended as abruptly as it started. War Relocation Deputy National Director, E. R. Fryer, arrived from Washington and laid down the law. Segregation of known Axis sympathizers and unruly elements followed immediately. Center Director Ralph P. Merritt, a veteran of the first World War, who had just taken over as Camp Director a few days before the disturbances commenced, announced "Peace and quiet prevail."

The evacuee-edited Manzanar Free Press in its anniversary issue of March 20, 1943, comments on the "incident" in the following language:

"This basic calm that Manzanar residents had been enjoying was disrupted unfortunately by the 'riot' of December 6th, which was aggravated by the newspaper accounts that stressed only the sensational aspects of the event. The emotional outburst was an inevitable outcome of the internal strife caused largely by the concentrated nature of the population. The fact that other centers have had strife and difficulties reflects on the basic difficulty of any group to maintain a normal life under crowded conditions. Since the date of the Manzanar trouble coincided with Pearl Harbor, 1941, the public press had ample opportunity to misinterpret the essential facts. The sheer coincidence of the date, is, perhaps, the most unfortunate aspect of the whole thing."

The committee is convinced that the disturbance falling on the anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor was the result of something far more serious than "sheer coincidence". The crowded condition of the evacuees in Manzanar on December 6, 7 and 8, 1942, was not the lone factor responsible for the demonstration of defiance. As for the newspapers stressing only the sensational aspects of the event, the committee submits that it would be indeed difficult to imagine anything more sensational than a three-day demonstration of rioting Japanese evacuees accompanied by tear gas and military police shooting into the mob in order to restore order. The committee believes that the disloyal Japs in Manzanar conspired to take vengeance on Tayama for his pro-American attitude, and, at the same time, intimidate other potentially loyal Nisei and the administrative staff at the Center with a demonstration on the anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

TULELAKE DISTURBANCES

By October, 1943, the War Relocation Authority had apparently completed its task of segregating the loyal from the disloyal evacuees. The disloyal evacuees were sent to Tulelake Center and the allegedly loyal evacuees at Tulelake were distributed among the other relocation centers throughout the United States. It is estimated that there were around 16,000 disloyal Japanese at the Tulelake Relocation Center as of January 1, 1945.

Committee members and representatives made five separate trips to the Tulelake Center. The atmosphere at the Camp was tense, the Japanese were sullen and antagonistic and it was apparent to everyone that some sort of trouble was in the making.

Japanese spokesmen called upon Camp Director Raymond Best and announced that the Japanese would no longer pick vegetables for Caucasians or for the loyal Japanese. They stated that they were aware that crop surpluses were distributed to other Relocation Centers, and that, henceforth, the only vegetables which would be picked by the evacuees at Tulelake would be for their own consumption. Mr. Best, in order to comply with the War Relocation Authority's order and to fill the obligation of the United States Government, sent members of the Caucasian staff of the Relocation Center into the fields to help with the crops and purchased additional supplies when needed.

Japanese spokesmen then demanded that they be allowed to use coal for bonfires while harvesting, and when Relocation officials acceded to this demand, tons of coal were consumed in this manner while the Nation faced an acute coal shortage.

The head of the fire department at Tulelake, formerly a battalion chief of the Los Angeles Fire Department, was next bombarded with a series of outrageous demands. The first was for a certain type of rubber glove. These were obtained. A pool table for the members of the fire department was next in order and when this demand was refused the members went on what might be considered a sit-down strike, completely disrupting the fire-fighting department. They refused to use blankets or pillows that had been touched by loyal Japanese, and demanded new bed clothes which were secured. An epidemic of false fire alarms ensued. Nearly every piece of fire-fighting apparatus taken from the fire house broke down because of some mechanical defect. Fire hydrants were found to be rammed full of broken glass, bits of cloth and other debris, so that they failed to function. It was later discovered that $50,000 worth of automatic fire alarm apparatus had been ripped out of the building which housed it, and as far as the committee has been able to ascertain, it has never been found.

On the afternoon of November 1, 1943, a delegation of spokesmen for the subversive Japanese, called upon Director Best in the administration building and presented a series of demands which he was utterly unable to grant. Shortly thereafter all the Caucasians working in the Relocation Center, about 200 persons, were herded into the administration building where they were imprisoned for about four hours, while a mob of howling Japanese, armed with daggers, swords and clubs, milled around outside the building, shouting obscenities at the Caucasian women and loudly proclaiming their disloyalty to the United States. Colonel Verne Austin and his troops had arrived by this time and were posted just outside the barbed-wire fence. The Japanese had mysteriously obtained a loud-speaking apparatus and a microphone. They had previously used a short-wave receiving set, made from parts which were sent into Tulelake without being inspected by Relocation authorities. While the conference with Director Best was in progress and the Caucasian staff was imprisoned inside the building, the milling mob on the outside were addressed in Japanese over the public address system and informed on the progress of the conference. When two Caucasians attempted to leave the building they were beaten and forced inside again.

It later developed that the knives and swords with which the rioters had armed themselves had been made from steel truck springs, deliberately broken when trucks were driven over rough stretches of road. When the springs had been replaced by new ones the old springs were taken to the blacksmith shop operated by Japanese-Americans and made into swords and knives.

When the conference with the director was concluded, a Shinto priest stepped to the microphone and said something in Japanese. Immediately the mob suddenly faced the east, removed their hats, bowed three times and went back to their barracks.

The following day, November 2d, was quiet and peaceful. On November 3d there were several minor disturbances. At a little after 10 o'clock on the evening of November 4th, rioting again broke out.

Boxes had been filled with pieces of mattress and bits of dry grass soaked with stove oil and placed under most of the wooden buildings in the center. The caps had been removed from the gasoline tanks on all of the automobiles and trucks, and the vehicles had been placed at right angles to the center gates, thus creating an effective blockade to entrances and exits. Colonel Austin's troops, with light tanks, armored cars, and fixed bayonets, moved in through the barricaded entrances and within a matter of minutes the area was cleared of the rioting Japanese. The leaders of the demonstration were taken into custody and order was restored.

A few days later spokesmen for the rioting Japanese called upon Colonel Austin. They again declared that they would only harvest crops for their own consumption. Colonel Austin told them, in substance, to either pick the crops in accordance with the War Relocation Authority policy or continue their strike. The crops were promptly harvested and there was no more trouble.

A study of the November rioting at Tulelake revealed a number of important factors not easily discerned by a cursory examination of the facts. It is apparent, when the facts are analyzed, that if the Japanese had actually planned to burn down the buildings, kill or injure the Caucasian administrative personnel that they had ample opportunity to do so under cover of darkness. It must be remembered that Colonel Austin and his troops were just outside the camp and were able to watch every move of the Japanese. In spite of this fact, of which they were well aware, they staged the first demonstration at 1 p.m. on November 1st. They went so far as to install a public-address system so that every word broadcast was well within earshot of the military authorities. The following day the Japanese were obviously apprehensive that something would be done to penalize them for imprisoning the administrative staff for four hours in their own buildings. Colonel Austin and his troops remained outside the enclosure and life appeared to go on as usual within the Center. On November 3d they launched another series of minor disturbances. It is significant to note that the disturbances of November 1st and November 3d occurred in broad daylight in full view of Colonel Austin and his troops. The riot of November 4th was launched at about 10 o'clock in the evening. The Japanese had taken elaborate precautions to make it perfectly clear to anyone that it was their intention to burn the wooden buildings in the Center. Boxes of inflammable material had been prepared and placed under the buildings, the caps had been removed from gasoline tanks of all civilian-owned automobiles, as well as from the cars and trucks in the Center's motor pool, and vehicles had been carefully placed to block the entrances and exits of the Center. When the actual rioting started, Colonel Austin and his men moved in promptly. The demonstration abruptly ceased.

Committee investigators are convinced that the Japanese at Tulelake were quite familiar with the legal phases of the situation in which they found themselves, and that the demonstrations of November, 1943, were deliberately designed to provoke these legal questions and at the same time create propaganda material against the United States for the use of the Imperial Japanese government. The Japanese performance during the four-hour period, heretofore described, had all of the aspects of a well-planned dramatic production. While clubs were waved in the air, knives and swords brandished, addresses made over a public-address system, and the entire Caucasian personnel kept imprisoned in the administration building, no serious damage was done. Although the boxes of inflammables were carefully placed under the wooden barracks, nobody lit a match to start the conflagration. It might logically have been expected that the Army would have immediately moved in and taken control, thus placing the United States Government in the anomalous position of making prisoners of war out of its own citizens. The committee believes that these disturbances at Tulelake were carefully staged for this purpose.

The members of the committee, as well as many informed persons in the State and Nation, while recommending segregation of the loyal Japanese from the disloyal, looked upon the War Relocation Authority's decision to establish a center for disloyal Japanese in California as ill-advised.

One of the committee's investigators reported on this subject August 6, 1943:

> "That this State was teeming with Japanese activities for years prior to Pearl Harbor is an established fact. That the Army is convinced that no person of Japanese descent should be permitted in the State, at least for the duration of the war, is manifest from the evacuation order itself. It is conceded by everyone familiar with the facts that there are several thousand fanatically subversive evacuees both at Manzanar and Tulelake Centers. California has tremendous industrial facilities turning out the materials of war on a gigantic scale. The aircraft factories of California have turned out nearly 40 per cent of all the Nation's planes. Throughout the State are shipyards, chemical plants, mills, military and naval installations, embarkation ports and air bases. It was not so long ago that anti-aircraft batteries were firing at enemy planes in Southern California, that an enemy submarine hurled its shells into oil installations off the coast near Santa Barbara, and that ships were being sunk almost within sight of the coast off Santa Cruz and Monterey. If there is any State in the Union that should be entirely free of subversive Japanese, that State is California. Yet, with eight other centers in the United States, the Relocation Authority has recently announced that it intends to gather together all of the subversive evacuees and place them in Tulelake Center, Modoc County, California.
> "According to a statement which appeared in the Pacific Citizen, issue of July 17, 1943, 6,300 evacuees have asked for repatriation to Japan and 7,500 others gave negative or qualified answers to the Relocation Authority's loyalty questionnaire. Thus, there are certainly at least 13,800 evacuees who would readily be classified as disloyal. It should appear obvious that of all the places in the Country where these evacuees could be placed, the War Relocation Authority has picked the most dangerous."

Despite a flood of protests and resolutions of organizations such as the American Legion and the Native Sons of the Golden West, civic organizations and Legislative committees, the War Relocation Authority proceeded with its program to make Tulelake a center for subversive Japanese evacuees exclusively. A result of this decision and action was the three-day riot which occured in November of 1943. The committee is pleased to note the recent decision of the Government in moving these subversive evacuees from Tulelake to various Japanese prison camp centers.

THE RELOCATION CENTER AT POSTON

Committee representatives undertook to investigate reliable reports of Japanese evacuees coming into California across the Arizona border at Parker, Arizona, despite the order of General De Witt barring all persons of Japanese descent from most of the California area for the duration of the war. The only exception to this rule was by permission of the Army.

The War Relocation Center at Poston is near Parker, Arizona. The committee learned that parties of evacuees were in the habit of driving Government trucks and were observed on picnic parties at points from 14 to 22 miles from the center. It was not unusual for parties of evacuees, driving Government trucks from Poston, to visit cocktail lounges. Large slabs of laminated rock covered with century-old Indian hieroglyphics, were pried loose with crowbars and hammers in the Arizona desert and transported to Poston for Japanese fish ponds. Parties of Japanese evacuees journeyed by Government truck to the town of Parker on shopping tours. Government trucks from Poston, driven by evacuees, came to Parker daily to pick up hundreds of railway-express packages at the platform of the Santa Fe railway station. The packages were taken back to the center and distributed to the addressees without inspection by the center authorities.

Committee investigators met the trains that stop at the Santa Fe station at Parker and on several occasions took photographs of Japanese who were visiting friends in the Relocation Center. Japanese evacuees boarded the train at Parker and rode into California, either to points within the State or for destinations out of the State via some California junction point. The railroad followed a route on the California side through a large area of desert country where American tank forces were holding dress rehearsals for battle.

The committee had been informed, prior to this investigation, that Japanese evacuees had been coming into California by walking across the sand-bars at a low point in the Colorado River. The citizenry of Parker, Arizona, and witnesses on the California side of the river laughed when this report was repeated to them. The committee learned that the Japanese merely drove across the bridge from the Arizona side to the California side and made no attempt whatever to conceal their movements. They were never accompanied by civilian employees of the Relocation Center or by Caucasian guards.

COMMUNIST POLICY ON THE JAPANESE

American Communists are guided in every detail by the policy of the Soviet Union. Moscow is the modern mecca of these Marxist dialecticians and Stalin is the prophet. Soviet Russia embodies, in the minds of all Communists, the first concrete accomplishment of revolutionary Marxism. Their ever-present objectives, still somewhat remote in the future, is the destruction of all capitalistic society and institutions and the creation of world Communism. The ultimate objective is to be reached only through the application of Marxian dialetic to the "day-by-day struggle." The masters of "scientific" socialism, in the opinion of all Communists, are concentrated in Moscow. Hence the blind obedience and unquestioning loyalty to Soviet directives and Soviet policy.

The 1943 Report of the Committee called the Legislature's attention to the policy of American Communists during the Hitler-Stalin Pact, which ended abruptly with the invasion of Russia by Germany in June of 1941. Up to the day of the invasion the American Communists were attacking President Roosevelt as a "war monger" and terming the European conflict as a "British imperialist war." They organized and dominated the so-called American Peace Mobilization, called for an embargo on war material to belligerent countries, advocated an isolationist program for the United States and instituted a series of strikes in defense factories throughout the nation.

The continuous aerial bombing of London and Great Britain had no effect on the isolationist program of the American Communist. But when Hitler's hordes poured into the "holy land" of "Scientific Socialism" Communists everywhere were moved to vigorous action. President Roosevelt was a "war-monger" no longer, the American Peace Mobilization and the isolationist program were forgotten. The epidemic of Communist-inspired strikes in defense plants and war industries abruptly ceased and the "British imperialist war" over-night became a "People's war." They now clamored for the lifting of the embargo so that war materials could be made available to the Soviet Union. Without considering the cost in lives and material, the time or the state of preparedness, the Communists set up cries for an immediate "Second front."

It was still nearly six months from December 7, 1941, when American Communist policy changed for the protection of the Socialist fatherland. The Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor brought the United States sharply into line with Communist Party policy, although Russia continued at peace with Hirohito. Japan and Russia have remained at peace throughout the intervening months.

The attitude adopted by the American variety of Communist toward the Japanese in general and the Japanese evacuees in the Relocation Centers in particular, is partially explained by the fact that Japan and Russia have remained at peace. The policy or "line" directives, since early in 1942 projected from the Communist Party viewpoint would read as follows:

> "All Communists are ordered to minimize the Japanese danger. All large military efforts in the United States must be directed to Europe. Our immediate task is the defeat of Hitler and the protection of the Soviet Union. Smear anyone who advocates major activities against Japan at the present time. Our historic course with Japan will be determined at the conclusion of the war with Germany. Meanwhile our traditional role as the champions of racial equality must be maintained."

This directive is clearly indicated in the columns of the Communist press, "The People's Daily World." Communist writers have constantly ridiculed the attempt of official legislative committees in their objective studies of the Japanese problem. Typical articles clearly indicating the current Communist policy on the Japanese question have appeared with significant frequency in Communist Party publications since the United States was treacherously attacked by Japan.

The "People's Daily World" for November 11, 1944, reported the Tulelake Relocation Center disturbances, under the date line of November 3, 1943, as follows:

> "EXAMPLE OF FIFTH COLUMN TECHNIQUE
> "FALSE RUMORS
> "Tulelake, California, Nov. 3—Widespread reports of rioting at the Japanese Relocation Center at Tulelake have been inspired by German agents and have played directly into the hands of Nazi and Japanese propagandists.

"So declared the authorities of the War Relocation Authority, who branded as 'subversive lies', rumors that 5,000 Japanese had laid siege to the Tulelake Administration building and had to be dispersed by troops using tear gas.

"W. R. A. officials disclosed that in regard to one false report of trouble at the Center 'four telephone calls were received by us from widely scattered areas within five minutes after the incident was supposed to have occurred.'

" 'There is no doubt that subversive individuals, or groups, are planting these stories,' the authorities stated."

It is of passing interest, and certainly a matter of deep significance, that the "People's Daily World," failed to carry stories of the November 4, 1943, rioting at Tulelake. Magazines and newspapers all over the United States carried accounts of this demonstration. Committee members and attaches have been unable to find a single word in "The People's Daily World" on this event. The readers of the Communist publication were apparently to be left in the dark as to the true situation and were to believe that metropolitan newspaper accounts of the use of United States troops in quelling the riots were the "subversive lies" of "Nazi agents."

Current Communist Party policy on the Japanese question is indicated in an editorial by Communist John Pittman in "The People's Daily World" for Wednesday, July 21, 1943. "According to our coverage of the (Governor's) conference," the editorial states, "Governor Warren's sole contribution to the solution of the problems of the Nation and the world, now in the most critical period of history, was a claim that the release of the Japanese-Americans from the relocation centers in the west, had created a danger in the country . . . it bears the indelible stamp of an incorrigibly provincial mind, surveying the universe from the top of an ant hill, and at that, through the wrong end of a telescope. Its pettiness is exceeded only by its falsities, for in actual fact the release of loyal Japanese-Americans from Relocation Camps for integration in industry and the armed services has been a boon rather than a danger, to the war effort. More to the point, it smells of the 'Pacific first' dung-hill, explicitly minimizing the menace of Hitler, all too few of whose saboteurs amongst us have been tried."

The Communist Party had made converts among the Japanese population in California before Pearl Harbor. Soviet policy in the Far East and the ultimate objective of world Communism will dictate the "scientific" policy for Communist treatment of the Japanese, both in the United States and abroad. The committee states unequivocally and without fear of contradiction by future events, that the American Communists will vociferously echo Soviet policy, both as to the Japanese war and post-war diplomacy. Meanwhile American Communists remain neatly balanced on Soviet neutrality, awaiting the Stalinistic determinism of Moscow's dialecticians and "the correct course to be pursued" as finally established by Kremlin metaphysicians. They will then leap into the fray on the side of the fence indicated by Marshal Stalin's pipe.

AMERICAN PRO-JAPANESE ORGANIZATIONS

The Committee has recognized a number of organizations composed entirely of American Caucasians manifesting great solicitude and concern for Japanese evacuees and frankly created in their behalf. Many of these organizations are quasi religious and pacific in character and concern themselves with conscientious objectors as well as with the Japanese. They declare that they are primarily concerned with the civil liberties of the Nisei, taking the attitude that the Federal Government is either unable or unwilling to protect them in these guarantees. Through spokesmen and literature these organizations have been, and are, diffusing a sticky-sweet atmosphere over the problem. Their spokesmen blandly state, and they announce by leaflet and pamphlet, that there is no evidence of the Japanese engaging in subversive activities before December 7, 1941. The evidence to the contrary is overwhelming. No less an authority than Saburo Kido, National President of the Japanese-American Citizens League, declared in the July 17, 1943, issue of the Pacific Citizen that "Japanese-Americans would be the first to deny that all of their members are 100 per cent loyal."

Togo Tanaka testified before the committee in Los Angeles early in 1942 (Com. Tr., Vol. X, pp. 2843-2889). His testimony is digested in the Committee's 1943 Report at page 332 to 336 inclusive. Tanaka is American born. He attended the Los Feliz Elementary School and the Thomas Starr King High school, Hollywood High School and the University of Southern California, where he majored in political science and from where he was graduated in 1936. Shortly thereafter he became the editor of the English section Japanese newspaper, "Rafu Shimpo," a Los Angeles publication with an extensive circulation throughout the entire Pacific Coast area. The paper was printed in the Japanese language for the greater part and, from time to time, the management published a Japanese directory. In 1941 the "Rafu Shimpo" issued a directory containing more than 500 pages setting forth material collected in the United States under the direction of the "Rafu Shimpo" staff. This material was sent to Japan where it was compiled and where the directory was printed. The names and addresses of thousands of Japanese, Issei, Nisei and Kebei, are contained in the volume. When Tanaka testified, the committee learned that several significant pages had been removed from the directory. The witness admitted that the publication was about 90 per cent subversive. The witness believed that most of the Japanese organizations in California were under the domination of the Issei.

The committee has been interested in charges made by certain pro-Japanese groups that West Coast opposition to the return of the Japanese emanates from Caucasian agricultural interests and that the opposition is founded on selfishness. As far as the committee and its investigators have been able to ascertain there is little or no factual basis to this charge. The latest official figures available (1940) indicate that although few industries are as highly competitive, Japanese competition was not a dominant factor in the produce and farming industry. In 1940, the three Western Pacific Coast States, California, Oregon and Washington, had a Japanese population of 112,353 or about 85 per cent of the National total. Only 45 per cent of that number were engaged in agriculture. In 1940 the California Bureau of Agricultural Economics estimated that there were only four crops in the State of which the Japanese produced in excess of 50 per cent of the total, namely, snap beans, cauliflower, celery and garlic. The Japanese operated about 6000 farms in the three West Coast States. This amounted to a little over 2 per cent of the total number of farms operated. In California, Oregon and Washington 97 per cent of the farms were operated by nationalities other than Japanese.

Much of Japanese farming was done by unpaid family workers. Available statistics indicate that most of these unpaid agricultural laborers were women and girls. The committee is informed that although Japanese women were only 1.5 per cent of all employed women in the Pacific Coast States, they represented 48 per cent of all unpaid family workers on West Coast farms. More than one out of five Japanese engaged in agriculture was an unpaid family worker.

The committee is also aware of the existence of certain organizations created for propaganda and activity against all Japanese, regardless of loyalty or disloyalty, or whether American or foreign-born. These organizations, through their spokesmen and literature, are as vociferous in their condemnation of all Japanese as the pro-Japanese organizations are in their behalf. They resort to vilification and appeal to war prejudices in a tirade of abuse against all persons of Japanese descent, branding all and sundry as "faithless, untrustworthy, irresponsible, inhuman, ungodly, soulless and disloyal!"

Somewhere between the hysteria of the vigorous anti-Jap groups and the naive pacificist-conscientious-objector pro-Jap group is the balance-bar of equity and justice for the American-born Japanese. About halfway between the extreme pro and con charges of both groups is the true story of the Japanese evacuation and the relocation centers in California. When the full story is told it will be filled with drama, with comedy and tragedy, with suffering and self-sacrifice, with villainy and heroism, with deep shadows and bright sunlight—a story bewildering in its complexity of delicate problems.

THE JAPANESE-AMERICAN CITIZENS' LEAGUE

The Japanese-American Citizens League held its first annual conference in three years at Salt Lake City early in December of 1944. The conference had the endorsement of the War Relocation Authority. Dillon Meyer was scheduled to speak, but did not appear. Official representatives of the Pacific Coast Committee on American Principles and Fair Play, Friends of the American Way, the Methodist Church and similar groups attended. The Caucasian delegates proposed a five-point program which was unanimously adopted. The program is as follows:

1. To restore to Japanese all rights lost as a result of evacuation.
2. To restore all losses sustained as a result of evacuation.
3. Intensify campaign at Tulelake to get Japanese to sign a slip of paper changing their status on loyalty. (This is called "Giving the Japanese another chance.")
4. A campaign to influence Congress to amend immigration laws so that citizenship may be granted to Japanese aliens in the United States.
5. Campaign to open immigration to Japanese after the war. (Repeal of the Oriental Exclusion Act.)

This program, of course, contemplates the lifting of all restrictions on the Japanese. This has practically been accomplished, as far as American-born Japanese are concerned, by the War Department on the revocation of its order excluding all Japanese from the Western Defense Area, and the Supreme Court's recent decision on the subject. The program to restore all losses sustained by the Japanese as a result of evacuation probably contemplates hundreds of civil suits against the government for losses incurred by the sale of personal effects, household goods, real property, and the recovery of wages, salaries and profits due to loss of earning power for three years. The plan to bring suit against the government for the recovery of wages, salaries and profits is said to have been discussed by the American Civil Liberties Union.

The Imperial Japanese Government, until Pearl Harbor, never relaxed its tenacious hold and influence over the lives of all Japanese in the United States, whether alien or American-born. Supplementing the psychological control exerted by fanatical ideologies, a direct hold and domination over all Japanese on the West Coast was established and maintained by an intricate web of interlocking associations. Some of these associations were business and industrial, while others were social. Virtually every Japanese was a member of several associations. They were generally linked, directly or indirectly, to the Japanese Consulate. No Japanese, whether American or foreign-born, dared disobey edicts of his association without jeopardizing his business and social existence.

The committee has heretofore pointed out that the Issei thoroughly control the thinking and the action of the Japanese population born in the United States. There have been some claims since the evacuation of the Japanese that this domination of the Nisei (American-born Japanese) by the Issei (foreign-born) has been broken and that the American-born Japanese are now free of the domination and guidance of parents born and indoctrinated with Japanism. The facts appear to contradict this claim.

It was announced that the delegates from the Heart Mountain (Wyoming) Relocation Center to the conference at Salt Lake City was an all-Issei delegation. There are many thousands of Japanese evacuees at Heart Mountain with a very large percentage of American-born Japanese. If the Issei domination no longer exists, why was it that a delegation of Issei (foreign-born) should be selected to attend a conference that purported to plan the future of the Japanese in the United States?

CONCLUSION

The committee is informed that as a result of its investigation unescorted Japanese are no longer permitted to enter this State from Arizona at will. Letters and packages addressed to alien Japanese or those evacuees suspected of disloyalty are now opened and inspected before being delivered to the addressees.

The committee does not contend, and never has contended, that all Japanese evacuees are disloyal to the United States. As a result of intensive investigation the committee finds that the great majority of Issei (foreign-born Japanese) are loyal to Japan. The committee believes that the Issei, for the greater part, if given the opportunity, would do everything in their power to further the war aims of Japan. The committee finds that the Kebei (American-born Japanese who have spent several years in Japan for purported educational purposes) are definitely in the "suspect" class as far as loyalty to the United States is concerned. The committee finds that the Nisei (American-born Japanese) were, to a great extent, engaged in pro-Japanese activities before Pearl Harbor. Many of these American-born Japanese are disloyal to the United States, while many of them have illustrated by their conduct since Pearl Harbor their loyalty to the land of their birth. Many of the Nisei have enlisted in the armed forces of the United States and have distinguished themselves as United States soldiers on the field of battle.

The committee believes that every American citizen of Japanese descent who has demonstrated his or her loyalty to the United States during these trying times should be extended every opportunity of developing their Americanism and taking their respective places in communities of their choosing with all the rights guaranteed to all American citizens.

The committee believes that the evaluation of the loyalty of any particular Japanese, Issei, Nisei or Kebei, should include a consideration of their conduct and activities both before and after Pearl Harbor. Allowances for the influence and domination of the Issei over the Nisei prior to December 7, 1941, should be made in such evaluation.

The committee is in possession of authentic reports of outstanding acts of heroism on the part of American born Japanese in the armed forces of the United States, both in Europe and in the Pacific war against the Japanese. These men, and such Japanese as Tokie Slocum, who was made a citizen of the United States by a special act of Congress for his service in France with Sergeant York, should be honored as patriotic American citizens.

The committee believes that the only issue involved, is the issue of loyalty to the United States. It is not a question of race. It is only a question of Americanism.

Loyal American born Japanese evacuees look upon their detention in the Relocation Centers as a necessary sacrifice for the land of their birth. They, better than any Caucasian, know that there are many among them who could not and should not be at large during the war. The War Relocation Authority is in the best position to pass judgment on the loyalty of this class of evacuee.

The committee is in possession of authentic information that the loyal Japanese evacuees prefer to wait for the end of the war before attempting to return to their former communities. In view of the recent Supreme Court decision and the attitude of United States Army officials, the committee believes that the Relocation Centers should be maintained for those evacuees who voluntarily elect to remain in them until the end of the war.

The Japanese people are fanatical in their faith that they are destined to conquer the world. They traditionally measure time in terms of generations and centuries, and reverses and defeats in the span of a single generation are merely incidents in the sweep of time, to be expected and endured. They are a "holy" race and their land is "holy," literally begotten of the gods. Their cause is "holy" because it is divinely inspired. Ultimate victory will be theirs because the gods have divinely ordained it. Unless Japan is utterly crushed and broken in this war and her power to make war forever destroyed, defeat will be regarded as a temporary set-back and the Japanese people will begin again to build methodically for another attempt at the destiny they believe their gods have planned for them.

PART IV

COMMUNISM

The committee has not been much concerned with the identity of Communists. It has been primarily concerned with the question, What is Communism? From the beginning, the committee has been interested in learning whether so-called "scientific socialism" is "scientific" or merely an intellectual hoax used by conspiratorial revolutionists. The committee has concerned itself with the type of people attracted to revolutionary socialism and has attempted to learn why they are so attracted.

The committee finds that very few "Communists" know anything about Communism. Only Lenin's "professional revolutionaries" and disciplined functionaries are thoroughly indoctrinated with the mysticism and metaphysics of Marxian dialectic and the materialistic interpretation of history. They are the oracles and crystal-ball gazers and they issue the orders. Marx visualized his typical "proletariat" as a penniless and propertyless fellow. This definition of the "proletariat," when applied to the United States, would exclude everyone except the penniless and propertyless day laborer. The committee believes that the great working class of California is less Communistic, as a whole, than the so-called intellectual class.

The committee finds that Marxism is "scientific" only in the occult or metaphysical sense. Shorn of philosophical Germanics, "scientific socialism" is merely ambitious mediocrity exalted in complex ponderosities. Nearly every Communist functionary appearing before the committee exhibited definite signs of neurotic inferiority, manifested by mechanisms of open defiance, animosity or tolerant condescension.

RED-BAITING AND RED-BAITERS

The Committee Report for 1943 commented on "red-baiting" and "red-baiters" (pages 16-18). The committee, after two years of additional study and investigation, finds that these terms are still potent missiles in the Communist arsenal of vilification. In the 1943 Report, the committee observed:

> "Our American history is full of occasions of biting and derisive name-calling, but throughout its crowded pages there have always appeared men of courage who feared neither the names nor the caller-of-names. Only a few men during the past several years have had the courage to stand up under the paralyzing accusation of being a 'red-baiter'."

As a prelude to this section on Communism the committee is proud to present a statement by one of America's foremost "Red-Baiters"—one of those courageous men of history we referred to in 1943—one who, it must be admitted, knows what he is talking about. The statement follows:

"The Fascists and Nazis were not the only menace to our internal security. To their forces must be added the American Communists with their godless, truthless, philosophy of life. They are against the America our forefathers fought and died for; they are against the established freedoms of America. They pose behind a dozen fronts; they have endeavored to infiltrate practically every strata of life.

"When they preach unity, let us not forget that when we were struggling to prepare for defense, they preached pacifism and fought our efforts to aid our allies and to build our common defenses. For true Americans there can be no unity with the enemy within and no compromise with those who would destroy all that we fight for. There is a distinction between respecting our ally Russia, and respecting those within our country who would destroy all that we believe in. No one wishes to detract any from the glorious war history being written by the Russian people in protecting their soil. They are a great fighting nation and have done a masterful job at war.

"But when it comes to governmental systems, we prefer our own American way, and we do not want the Communists in this country attempting to undermine our democracy or any of our institutions. I have said it before, and I repeat it now—America cannot exist half Democratic and half Communist or Fascist. The Fascist-minded tyrant is no different from the native-born Communistic corruptionist. We are proud of our American form of government. If we want to improve on it, we will do it in our own way, in our time, and with our own blueprint.

"Over the years, the American Communists have developed a propaganda machine and a nefarious and elaborate school system of their own. Their officials in secret and public meetings urge that the propaganda phase of their work must be accelerated. Brazenly, they have urged the development of courses, lectures, and assemblies as media to espouse the ideologies of Marxism and to establish Marxism as a school of thought in the United States. And even in the chameleon cloak with which they have now enshrouded themselves, the American Communists still proclaim their loyalty to Marxism, the antithesis of American democracy. The Communist Trojan Horse has now become the Trojan Snake in American life."

This statement might well have been made by Martin Dies or the chairman of this committee. It was made, however, by a man who has spent a good part of his life investigating subversive elements in the United States—J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation—in an address at the Annual Commencement Exercises of Holy Cross College, Worcester, Mass., June 29, 1944.

COMMUNIST PHILOSOPHY, SOURCES AND BACKGROUND

The abysmal ignorance of Communist "fellow-travelers" and "innocents" concerning the alleged philosophy or "science" of revolutionary socialism is appalling. The Communists strongly rely on this ignorance. They realize that the average person will not take the trouble to examine Communist sources. What is more important, the Communists know that, should the average person do so, he would become lost in a maze of metaphysics. Communism must be understood if it is to be successfully combated. To instinctively dislike its godless materialism is not enough. Its terminology, its falsity, its errors, its brutality, its "unscientific science," its deceits and dishonesty must be known and understood. Once Communism is known for what it actually is, it will go down to crushing defeat like its offsprings, Fascism and Nazism.

The following compilation on Communist philosophy, sources and background is included in this report with the hope that the members of the Legislature will be encouraged to pursue the subject further.

KARL MARX

Karl Marx was a neurotic, suffering from an intense sense of inferiority. He was born at Treves, Germany, May 5, 1818. When he was about six years old, his father, Hirschel Marx, and his family abandoned the Jewish faith and became Protestants. Marx was raised a Christian. He suffered physical pain most of his life. At times he was literally covered with boils and carbuncles and seldom was free from digestive disorders, stomach, liver and bowel troubles. He had no profession, regular occupation or dependable means of livelihood. He pretended to be a master of the methods and techniques of Capitalism, yet was never able to earn his own living. Violent, arrogant and quarrelsome, he posed as the champion of the brotherhood of man, yet remained virtually friendless all of his life.

Michael Bakunin's appraisal of Marx's character might well fit most Communist leaders today. Bakunin wrote:

> "Marx loved his own person much more than he loved his friends and apostles, and no friendship could hold water against the slightest wound to his vanity. * * * Marx will never forgive a slight to his person. You must worship him, make an idol of him, if he is to tolerate you. He likes to surround himself with pygmies, with lackeys and flatterers. All the same, there are some remarkable men among his intimates.
> "In general, however, one may say that in the circle of Marx's intimates there is very little brotherly practice, and a great deal of machination and diplomacy. There is a sort of tacit struggle, and a compromise between the self-loves of the various persons concerned; and where vanity is at work, there is no longer place for brotherly feeling. Everyone is on his guard, is afraid of being sacrificed, of being annihilated. Marx's circle is a sort of mutual admiration society. Marx is the chief distributor of honors, but is also the invariably perfidious and malicious, the never frank and open, inciter to the persecution of those whom he suspects, or who have had the misfortune of failing to show all the veneration he expects.

"As soon as he has ordered a persecution, there is no limit to the baseness and infamy of the method. * * *"

Marx's father was a lawyer and Marx was sent to the University of Bonn to study law. Here he became deeply interested in the philosophy of the German philosopher Hegel. He abandoned the study of law and devoted himself to mastering the Hegelian system. He received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in 1841 but was denied a position at the university. He turned to journalism and became the editor of the Rheinische Zeitung and devoted himself to the study of Socialist literature.

Friedrich Engels was born in Barmen, Germany, on November 28, 1820. Although Marx had met Engels when he was the editor of the Rheinische Zeitung their association did not really begin until September of 1844. Engels practically supported Marx and his family from that time until Marx's death, March 14, 1883.

Marx was expelled from France in 1845 and went to Brussels, from whence he was subsequently compelled to flee. He found a refuge in England and lived there until his death.

LIBERALISM

Liberalism emerged in Western Europe in the fifteenth century. Erasmus and other writers of the Renaissance indicated the liberal attitude in "humanism," a conception of human evolution based upon individual struggle. As feudalism went down under the impact of the industrial revolution, economic individualism forged to the front. Unrestricted freedom of action was advanced as the doctrine that would best serve the interest of society. It claimed certain inalienable and "natural" rights beyond political authority. The right of free speech, religious worship, inquiry, group association, and economic enterprise were considered the most essential of these inalienable and "natural" rights. Liberalism is characterized by an attitude of tolerance and reason.

Adam Smith in his Wealth of Nations expressed the formula embodied in the economics of liberalism in the basic right of free enterprise. The terms "liberalism" and "liberals" are much misused by modern left-wing speakers, writers and Communists. Liberalism may properly be said to be the doctrine of modern Capitalism.

In the political field liberalism seeks to check governmental encroachment on the freedom of the individual. Out of this principle came our Constitution and Bill of Rights, the extension of suffrage and the growth of representative government. This principle gave birth to the concept that sovereignty resided in the people as a whole.

DEMOCRACY

The Declaration of Independence may be said to state the essence of Democracy: "We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; that, to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed . . . "

The essence of Democracy is respect for the individual. It seeks to guarantee to every individual his "unalienable rights." Its limitations of freedom are marked only by the rights of others. Equality before the law and equality in opportunity are basic democratic principles. Checks and balances are fundamental in the government of a democracy, and a republican form of government is the most conducive to political democracy. The separation of the branches of government, regular elections, secret ballots, the recall, initiative and referendum and a constitution characterize political democracy.

CAPITALISM

Capitalism is a form of economy. The right to private ownership of property, freedom to engage in enterprise, freedom of contract, competition, profit-making, credit and exchange and the wage system characterize capitalism. The employers, the workers, the consumers, and the government are four groups continually interested and involved in the economic process of capitalism. The government may act to define and regulate the relationship of each group but may not participate in competition with private enterprise.

In a Democracy, as has been noted, individual liberty and freedom is only limited by the rights and privileges of others. Monopoly necessarily is met by governmental regulation for the public welfare. Better working conditions, reduced hours and increased wages, workmen's compensation and social insurance are a few of the gains for labor produced by an enlightened capitalism.

Thomas Jefferson stated that "The natural progress of things is for liberty to yield and government to gain ground."

The extreme is either State capitalism or State socialism. Under German Nazism, Italian Fascism and Russian Communism, the government has encroached upon the private ownership of property and enterprise, and controls the freedom of employer, employee, and consumer.

Governmental intervention in the economic field is at the expense of personal freedom.

THE UTOPIANS

The Greeks had a word for "nowhere" and that word is "Utopia." Sir Thomas More selected this Greek word for the name of his South Pacific Island paradise. His book, "Utopia," appeared in 1516. Plato wrote his "Republic" about 2,400 years ago and outlined a government that embodied the first element of Utopian thinking. Sir Thomas More's "Utopia" elaborated on the thought. He eliminated the extremes of wealth and poverty and turned the energies of his society into cooperation. More believed that man's acquisitiveness was a source of human misery. Consequently there was no private ownership of land or resources in Utopia. Competitive waste was eliminated and the work day consisted of but six hours. Medical care and education were supplied to the population without cost. Equality of the sexes and religious tolerance were established in More's Utopia. The officials were democratically elected and their powers limited.

The Commonwealth of Oceana was written by James Harrington in 1656. Harrington's conception of government is characterized by features now familiar in all Democratic States. The central themes are a government "of laws and not of men" and the universal distribution of property among the population.

The despotism of the feudal system collapsed before the onslaught of Capitalism. The industrial revolution brought about a political revolution which was closely followed by a technical revolution. Industrial inventions commencing in 1764 with the invention of the spinning jenny increased with accelerating tempo into the Twentieth Century. Capitalism marched forward accompanied by earth-shaking achievements. Crime, disease, ignorance, and widespread poverty was the plight of the working-class of Europe, as Capitalism pounded relentlessly forward. The Utopians of the Nineteenth Century spoke and worked in behalf of the working-class and, while accepting the fact of Capitalism and its new industrialization, spoke out against competition and exploitation.

In his New Christianity Saint-Simon called for a society based on the principle of human brotherhood. He appealed to the mind and conscience of his day and, impressed with the productive powers of the new industry proposed that it be socialized for the betterment of humanity.

Charles Fourier, an experienced business man himself, advocated sharing surplus profits with employees. He looked upon soldiers, philosophers, stock brokers and middlemen as "parasitic" and "unproductive."

Robert Owen was a textile manufacturer in England and an advocate of Utopian socialism. He attempted to put his theories into practice in his own industry in New Lanark. He fought to reduce the working day to 12 hours, for universal suffrage and for the establishment of public elementary schools.

Marx ignored the idealism, the justice and humanity of Saint-Simon, Charles Fourier and Robert Owen. He took Utopian socialism, gave it metaphysical wings and forged it into a revolutionary fighting force. Marx's evaluation of the philosophies of Saint-Simon, Fourier and Owen were summed up by him in Deutsch Franzosische Jahrbucher, as follows: "A radical revolution, the general emancipation of mankind, is not a utopian dream for Germany; what is utopian is the idea of a partial, an exclusively political revolution, which would leave the pillars of the house standing. Upon what does a partial, an exclusively political revolution rest? Upon this, that a part of civil society emancipates itself, and attains to general dominion; upon this, that a particular class, from a position peculiar to itself, should undertake to effect the general emancipation of society. That class can free the whole of society, but only on the proviso that the whole of society is in the position of that class."

MARXISM

Marxism may be stated as a political theory, an economic theory and a revolutionary theory and program.

As a political theory, Marxism contends that the political state is the compelling and ruling instrument of the dominant class of which it is composed.

As an economic theory, Marxism expounds the capitalist mode of production, the exploitation of the workers by employers with the inevitable breakdown of industry.

As a revolution theory and program, Marxism establishes the tactics of the "class-struggle" preliminary to the violent overthrow of the capitalist state and the establishment of Communism.

Stemming from the main elements of Marxism is evolutionary socialism and revolutionary socialism (Communism). The Communists pride themselves upon following Marxian principles in every detail, although Leon Trotsky challenged the Soviet Communists in this claim. Lenin contributed to the doctrines and theories of Marx and Engels by adding an "imperialist" stage to capitalism. His greatest contribution was an elaboration of "legal" and "illegal" tactics and revolutionary technique.

The evolutionary "or gradualistic" socialists have deleted the need for revolutionary action from their particular brand of Marxism. They believe, in brief, that, without effort on the part of the proletariat, capitalism will collapse and Communism must necessarily replace it.

Marx reasoned that class antagonism can only be ended by the abolition of classes—by the establishment of a society in which there are no employers, but workers only. Surplus value is to be eliminated. He called for a rigid and ruthless dictatorship of the proletariat after the capitalist state has been destroyed. This dictatorship is to last until a socialist economy is firmly established; until all vestiges of bourgeois society have been liquidated. When the dictatorship of the proletariat has served its purpose, Marx contends that the state will "wither away" leaving but a few administrative agencies. Then the completely classless society, Communism, will emerge. Industrial development, economic development, cultural background, the extent of economic breakdown, plus the extent and acceptance of Marxian principles by the population and the type of revolutionary leadership will, according to Marx, determine the time and circumstance in each nation for the revolution. Marxism calls for class loyalty over racial and national loyalty and allegiance. Socialism can not come, Marx declared, until it shall encompass the workers of all the world.

Marx contended that people can not be really happy until the illusory happiness of religion is abolished. "The demand that the people should shake itself free of illusions as to its own condition," says Marx in Deutsch Franzosische Jahrbucher, "is the demand that it should abandon a condition which means illusion."

"The social principles of Christianity have now had 1800 years for their development," Marx wrote, "and do not need any further development at the hands of Prussian consistorial councillors. The social principles of Christianity find justifications for the slavery of classical days, extol medieval serfdom, and are ready in case of need to defend the oppression of the proletariat—somewhat shamefacedly perhaps. The social principles of Christianity preach the need for a dominant and an oppressed class, expressing the pious hope that the former will deal kindly with the latter. The social principles of Christianity declare that all infamies will be spiritually compensated in heaven, the assertion being made a justification for the continuance of these infamies on earth. According to the social principles of Christianity, all the misdeeds wrought by the oppressors on the oppressed, are either a just punishment for original sin and other sins, or else are trials which the Lord in his wisdom sends to afflict the redeemed. The social principles of Christianity preach cowardice, self-contempt, abasement, subjection, humility, in a word, all the qualities of the mob; whereas, for the proletariat, which does not wish to allow itself to be treated as a mob, courage, self-esteem, pride, and independence, are far more necessary than bread. The social principles of Christianity are obsequious, but the proletariat is revolutionary."

The following quotations are from Lenin's Religion:

"Atheism is an integral part of Marxism. Consequently, a class-conscious Marxist party must carry on propaganda in favor of atheism."

"The winning over of the proletariat is accomplished, principally by dealing with their every-day economic and political interests; consequently, the propaganda in favor of atheism must grow out of, and be carefully related to, the defense of these interests."

"The Communist Party of the Soviet Union is guided by the conviction that only the conscious and deliberate planning of all the social and economic activities of the masses will cause religious prejudices to die out. The party strives for the complete dissolution of the ties between the exploiting classes and the organization of religious propaganda, facilitates the real emancipation of the working class from religious prejudices and organizes the widest possible scientific, educational and anti-religious propaganda."

"One of the most important tasks of the cultural revolution effecting the wide masses is the task of systematically and unswervingly combating religion—the opium of the people . . . . At the same time, the proletarian state, while granting liberty of worship and abolishing the privileged position of the formerly dominant religion, carries on an anti-religious propaganda with all the means at its command and reconstructs the whole of its educational work on the basis of scientific materialism."

"Marx said 'Religion is the opium of the people'—and this postulate is the cornerstone of the whole philosophy of Marxism with regard to religion. Marxism always regarded all modern religions and churches, and every kind of religious organization as instruments of that bourgeois reaction whose aim is to defend exploitation by stupefying the working class."

"The party of the proletariat demands that the state shall declare religion a private matter, but it does not for a moment regard the question of the fight against the opium of the people—the fight against religious superstition, etc.—as a private matter."

"A Marxist must place the success of the strike movement above all else, must definitely oppose the division of the workers in this struggle into atheists and Christians, must fight resolutely against such a division."

"In such circumstances the preaching of atheism is superfluous and harmful—not from the narrow-minded consideration of not frightening the backward elements, or losing votes at election, etc., but from the point of view of the actual progress of the class-struggle, which, in the conditions of modern capitalist society, will convert Christian workers to Social-Democracy and to atheism a hundred times more effectively than any bald atheist sermons. To preach atheism at such a time, and in such circumstances, would only be playing into the hands of the church and the priests, who would desire nothing more than to have the workers participating in the strike movement divided in accordance with their religious beliefs."

Marx's attempt to escape from ponderous Germanic metaphysics gave rise to a mystical determinism which is called "Dialectic Materialism." In his attempt to destroy Christianity, Judaism and dogmatic religious doctrines, he created a new religion, Communism, more dogmatic than any he sought to destroy. He became its central saint and prophet and is now enshrined with his co-saints, Engels and Lenin. A place is being reserved for Stalin. Trotsky has become symbolic of the Evil One—the "devil" of Communist theology.

Max Eastman summed it up in his book Marxism: Is it Science, in the following words: "Marxism was a step from utopian socialism to a socialist religion—a scheme for convincing the believer that the universe itself is producing a better society, and that he has only to fall in properly with the general movement of this universe."

COMMUNIST ETHICS

Emelian Yaroslavsky, President of the Russian Union of Militant Atheists, is quoted as stating "Whatever helps the proletarian revolution is ethical."

In Problems of Leninism, Stalin quotes Lenin as follows:

"The scientific concept, dictatorship (of the proletariat), means nothing more nor less than power which directly rests on violence, which is not limited by any laws or restricted by any absolute rule . . . Dictatorship means—note this once and for all, Messrs. Cadets—unlimited power, resting on violence and not on law."

Stalin's "ethics" in the diplomatic field is indicated in The Real Soviet Russia where he is quoted as follows:

"Words must have no relation to actions—otherwise what kind of diplomacy is it? Words are one thing, actions another. Good words are a mask for concealment of bad deeds. Sincere diplomacy is no more possible than dry water or wooden iron."

Lenin in Religion states:

"We say that our morality is wholly subordinated to the interest of the class-struggle of the proletariat. We deduce our morality from the facts and needs of the class-struggle of the proletariat . . . we say that a morality taken from outside of human society does not exist for us; it is a fraud. For us morality is subordinated to the interest of the proletarian class-struggle . . ."

MARXIAN DIALECTIC

"A ship manned by fools," wrote Marx in 1844, "might drive before the wind for a good long time; but it would drive onward to its fate for the very reason that the fools did not believe that such a fate was in store for them. The fate is the impending revolution."

Marx has thus determined the course of history. It is reasonable to ask for the basis of his prophecy; to inquire whether or not he is star-gazing. We are told that his conclusions are "scientific", the result of Marxian Dialectic!

The word "dialectic" first meant conversation to the Greeks. It became a parlor game in time and the rules of the game were called "dialectic." Heraclitus was one of its advocates. Going back to the method of dialectical thought, Hegel replaced the principle of the old logic "Everything is identical with itself, nothing contradicts itself," by the new principle "Nothing is identical with itself and everything contradicts itself." This philosophy views everything in a state of flux, movement; everything is transient, becoming and disappearing, moving always from a lower to a higher level. All movement is change, a passing from what has existed to a new existence.

Hegel, in his Encyclopaedia, states that true dialectic is the inner and progressive transition of one explanation into another, each of them containing its own negation. It is peculiarly characterized by doing away with itself. In his Logic he describes the process as being brought about by the play of internal opposition. Beginning with abstract and simple concepts there is a forward movement passing into subsequent concepts, which continually become richer and enlarged, until the whole mass of its earlier content resurges so that the absolute idea, the climax of the process, is an enriched condensation. He has more to say about it in his Science of Logic. It is a complex, metaphysical formula. If you do not understand it, do not worry about it. Even the Marxists do not understand it. It is not scientific and there is no evidence that true science ever used the dialectic method in its inquiries. The propositions propounded by the dialectic methods are fantastic and prove nothing. Marx and Engels merely added the "class-struggle," the "bourgeoisie" and the "proletariat" and determined the result by wishful-thinking.

The Hegelian dialectical process contemplates a thesis (an affirmative proposition), an antithesis (a proposition in opposition) and the snythesis (the combining and reconciling of separate elements in the thesis and the antithesis). Thus, each historical movement (the thesis) gives rise to the contrary or opposing force (the antithesis) which, as it develops, overcomes the former. As a result of the struggle a new historical movement or trend (the synthesis) is created. The new historical movement or tendency is always on a higher plane and remnants of the old trend or movement are always absorbed in the new. The process is conceived as an evolutionary movement created by the struggle of opposites, preceding always forward and upward. Every Communist metaphysician has deluded himself into believing that he thinks dialectically. He is under the illusion that his thinking is dual; that each concept includes its opposite. There is no such thing as "dialectic thinking."

Marx took over the Hegelian concept of the dialectic process, but rejected Hegel's "wishful-thinking" conclusion that history was the evolution of the genius of each state which must necessarily make

Prussia dominant in Europe. Marx substituted his own "wishful-thinking" and concluded that history consisted only of the "class struggle" out of which would come the destruction of all existing states, the dictatorship of the proletariat and world-wide Communism. "(Marx) abandoned the economic man," says Max Eastman in Marxism: Is It Science, "because he had an economic god—the self-active dialectic development of the forces of production—who was far more reliable for ideological purposes than anything so specific and dubious as a formula for human nature. The Marxian ideology consists of fitting the abstractions of the classical political economy, as amended but not transcended by Marx, into Hegel's philosophy of the universe as a dialectic evolution of abstractions—this also amended, but not transcended by Marx—and thus arriving at a mystical conviction of the 'iron necessity' of the revolution that he desired. . . . Like all religions, Dialectic Materialism rests fundamentally not on investigation and rational calculation, but on the will to believe. As Gisors says in Andre Malraux's novel: 'Marxism is not a doctrine, it is a will . . . you must be Marxists not in order to be right, but in order to conquer without betraying yourselves.' Trotsky has said a more extreme thing: 'The will to revolutionary activity is a condition indispensable (even) to understanding the Marxian dialectic.'"

The Communist believes that intelligent action results only when there is harmonious cooperation with the historical course of events. He must look into his crystal-ball—Marx's dialectic materialism—to ascertain the material forces at work. Theory and action are declared to be inseparable in the Marxian system. The task of the Communist, aided by dialectic, is to analyze trends in history, ascertain their direction, and then shape the strategy of revolution accordingly. Thus, until Soviet Russia is attacked by Nazi Germany, the war is a "British imperialist war" and President Roosevelt is a "war-monger." Russia is invaded and the war becomes a "people's war". The Teheran Conference changes the American "party" into a "political association." Marxian tactics are to be kept flexible at all times and the sole test of every contemplated move is whether the action, under the circumstances and at the time in question, creates a proletarian "class-consciousness" and furthers the revolution. (See heading "Schneiderman on Marxism").

The obvious weakness in the Marxian dialectic process is, that after establishing the flux and movement of history, the struggle between the thesis and the antithesis,—the eternal conflict moving always from a lower to a higher plane, that Marx brings his "immutable law" to a dead stop with the establishment of the dictatorship of the proletariat. Max Eastman sums it up brilliantly in his book, Marxism: Is it Science:

> "The Hegelian philosophy, which professed to portray an eternally fluid and evolving universe, nevertheless managed to bring that universe to a stationary goal in the knowledge of this very Hegel's philosophy, and the tempered blessings of the limited monarchy so generously and so long promised by his gracious sovereign, Frederich William the Third. And Marx's equally fluid although material universe, boasting an equally perfect and eternal evolution, comes to a dead stop when the dictatorship of the proletariat over the bourgeoisie has been resolved by the formation of 'an association which excludes classes and their antagonisms.' Is it a mere coincidence that Marx's economic and inward knowledge of the laws of history can not extend a little forward toward another contradiction, or that it does not fall a little short, or lose a trifle of its iron certainty, before that perfect point is reached? Is it not quite obvious that it is not Marx's knowledge, but his purpose, that is being expressed." (Italics ours.)

MATERIALISTIC INTERPRETATION OF HISTORY

The chief Marxian postulate in the materialistic interpretation of history is laid down by Marx himself. "Not criticism, but revolution," says he, "is the motive force of history."

It is to be noted that the entire Marxian system is permeated with an indiscriminate interchange of "limiting conditions" and "determining causes," stamping the entire process as illogical and unscientific. The following quotation from Marx's German Ideology clearly illustrates this point. In one breath he asserts that the mode of production "conditions the social, political and spiritual life process," and then declares "It is not the consciousness of men which determines their existence, but on the contrary their social existence determines their consciousness." He sums it up as follows:

> "Finally we obtain the following results from the fully developed conception of history. 1. In the development of the forces of production a stage is reached at which productive forces and means of intercourse are evolved which, under the extant conditions, only do harm; which are no longer forces of production, but forces of destruction (machinery and money). In association with this we find that a class is evolved which has to bear all the burdens of society without enjoying its advantages, which is forced out of society into the most contrast of all other classes; a class which forms the majority of all the members of society, and one from which the consciousness of the necessity for a thoroughgoing revolution, the communist consciousness, proceeds—a consciousness which, of course, can only arise in the other classes thanks to the comprehension of the position of this particular class. 2. The conditions within which determinate forces of production can be applied, are the conditions of the dominion of a specific class of society, of a class whose social power (arising out of ownership) secures practical-idealist expression in the extant form of State, with the consequence that every revolutionary struggle is directed against a class which has up to that time been dominant. 3. In all revolutions that have hitherto taken place, this kind of activity has remained inviolate, so that there has never been anything more than a changed distribution of this activity, with a new distribution of labour to other persons; whereas the communist revolution is directed against the kind of activity which has hitherto been exercised, and does away with labour, and makes an end of class rule when it does away with classes, the reason being that this revolution is brought about by the class which no longer counts in society as a class, is not recognized as a class, but is the expression of the dissolution of all classes, nationalities, etc., within extant society. 4. For the widespread generation of this communist consciousness, and for the carrying out of the communist revolution, an extensive change in human beings is needed, which can only occur in the course of a practical movement, in the course of a revolution; so that the revolution is not only necessary because the ruling class cannot be overthrown in any other way, but is also necessary because only in a revolution can the uprising class free itself from the old yoke and become capable of founding a new society." For us, communism is not a condition of affairs which 'ought' to be established, not an 'ideal' towards which reality has to direct itself. When we speak of communism, we mean the actual movement which makes an end of the present condition of affairs. The determinants of this movement arise out of the extant presupposition."

Hegel conceived human beings as puppets. Feuerbach cut the strings that jerked them hither and yon, put sails on their boats but forgot the rudders. Marx, taking the Feuerbachian materialism of nature, believed he added the rudders, thus making human beings independent actors on the stage of history. God is disenthroned and man is no longer subject to a higher will. He divides human beings into two classes, the bourgeosie and the proletariat and views all history as a bitter struggle between these two groups. He charts the destination of the proletarian class in accordance with his own wish-determinism and states that their ultimate aim is the establishment of a socialist society. The route to be followed, according to Marx, is marked by violence and revolution. His "materialistic interpretation of history" is deemed a "new dialectic" and is considered "scientific" by Communists. It is not scientific. It is wishful-thinking and metaphysical. To assert that the "contradiction" in capitalism must inevitably be "resolved" by an expropriation of the capitalists, the creation of the dictatorship of the proletariat and the collective ownership of the means of production, without the consideration of obvious concrete factors, is dogmatic.

Marx asserts that the consciousness of human beings have nothing to do with the determination of their existence. It is the social existence of human beings, he declared, that determines their consciousness. Hegel had offered the pious metaphysical assertion that "Spirit is the only moving principle in history." Marx paraphrased Hegel by the impious but equally metaphysical assertion that "The forces of production are the only moving principle in history."

The material productive forces of society, contends Marx, eventually conflict with the existing productive relations. The social revolution then begins. The existing social structure does not disappear until material conditions of existence necessary for the new forces of production are fully developed and matured.

The entire social structure, we are told, is conditioned by its economic fate. The laws are written by the ruling class to safeguard existing property relationships. "In every epoch," Marx says, "the ruling ideas have been the ideas of the ruling class." He contends that the State always reflects the will of the dominant economic group, and that foreign policy is always guided by industrial needs. Morality, according to Marx, is only the expression of materialistic factors.

Max Eastman, commenting on this phase of Marxism, completely explodes its alleged "science." He states:

> "There is only one way to escape from these bonds. That is to take the revolutionary motive back out of history, where Marx and Engels surreptitiously projected it, and locate it in the human breast where it belongs. It was Marx, and not history, that was determined to produce a social revolution (italics ours), and his investigation of history was an attempt to find out the method by which it could be done. When that simple truth—as obvious to a child as it is inaccessible to a Marxist—has once been acknowledged, the whole discussion loses its mystifying character at once."

It is important to note that, although Marx calls for armed insurrection, he nevertheless advocates collaboration with "bourgeois" elements for the purpose of achieving immediate gains. The "united front" and the "popular front" and Communist support of reform measures stem from this principle.

An understanding of Marx's materialistic interpretation of history and his method of dialectic is essential, if one is to understand the deceptive "sharp turn" of Communist Party policy. Briefly stated, as a practical process, it is a continuous analyzation of current events in order to ascertain and predict the direction of trends. The entire strategy of Communist Party revolt is then planned in accordance with the trends and the laws of movement, socially and economically, of people, nations and events. Flexibility is the key to Marxian tactics. The Hitler-Stalin Pact, "the British Imperialist War," "the People's War," the Teheran Conference, etc., are all events and trends analyzed through the spectacles of Marxian dialectic. The alleged disaffiliation of the Communist Party of the United States from the Third Communist International (Comintern); the alleged "dissolution" of the Third Communist International itself; the abandonment of the Communist political party; the creation of the new "Communist Political Association"; the dissolution of the Young Communist League and the formation of American Youth for Democracy,—are all recent illustrations of the result of Communist materialistic interpretation of history and Marxian dialectic.

THE CLASS STRUGGLE

In Misere de la Philosophie, Marx stated: "Just as a necessary condition for the liberation of the third estate, of the bourgeois estate, was the abolition of all estates and of all orders, to the necessary condition for the liberation of the working class is the abolition of all classes." The "class struggle," he believed, would result in the abolition of all classes, the triumph of the proletariat, the ultimate "withering away" of the state, and the emergence of a new socialistic, classless society.

The bourgeois revolutions of the Nineteenth Century were looked upon by Marx as the prelude of the proletarian revolution. These revolutions, Marx believed, must eventually lead to the annihilation of the bourgeois system of society and he advocated Communist assistance in these struggles. Bourgeois wars and bourgeois internal conflict accelerated the tempo of annihilation. Every bourgeois victory created new political weapons for the proletariat. Bourgeois wars weakened existing governments, whether the bourgeois were defeated or victorious. The termination of each conflict placed the proletariat in a stronger political position, regardless of its outcome. "The relationship of the Revolutionary Labour Party," Marx said, "to the petty-bourgeois Democracy is as follows: It joins forces with petty-bourgeois Democracy against the fraction whose overthrow it aims at effecting; but it opposes both the one and the other in matters it wishes to establish on its own account." (Italics ours.)

It will be seen from the foregoing that Communists everywhere ally themselves with those they seek to destroy, for the sole purpose of hastening their destruction. Marx expresses this ruthlessly in the following language: "From the first moment of victory, those whom we shall have to regard with suspicion will not be members of the conquered reactionary party, but those who belong to the party with which we have been allied, those who will try to exploit our joint victory on their own account alone." (Italics ours.)

Marshal Stalin is considered the world's most outstanding Marxist today.

"A new revolution," Marx wrote, "is only possible as the sequel to a new crisis. But the one is as certain as the other."

The class struggle, according to the Marxists, is confined to the economic field for a time but soon spreads to the political field. New relationships are believed to develop gradually creating demands for a transfer of control of government. The dominant ruling class in each state never abdicates its political dominance to the challenging group. The "class struggle" is, therefore, intensified. The subservient class, now emerging from the conflict, is ultimately forced to seize political power by force and violence. It does so, and erects a new state in conformity with changed economy and, thus, creates new property relationships. "The history of all hitherto existing society," Marx asserts, "is the history of (such) class struggles."

THE COMMUNIST MANIFESTO

The following extracts are quotations from the Communist Manifesto by Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels. The Communist Manifesto is considered the proletarian "Bible" and is now, and always will be so long as a Communist Party fraction exists, the blueprint for the Communist revolution and the dictatorship of the proletariat. Communist Party theologians praise the Communist Manifesto, holding it as important and as "contemporary" as though written in 1945 instead of nearly a hundred years ago.

> "The history of all human society, past and present, has been the history of class struggles."
> * * * * * * *
> "Modern bourgeois society, rising out of the ruins of feudal society, did not make an end of class antagonisms. It merely set up new classes in place of the old; new conditions of oppression; new embodiments of struggle."

> "Our own age, the bourgeois age, is distinguished by this—that it has simplified class antagonisms. More and more, society is splitting into two great hostile camps, into two great and directly contraposed classes: bourgeoisie and proletariat."

"Each step in the development of the bourgeoisie was accompanied by a corresponding political advance * * * The modern State authority is nothing more than a committee for the administration of the consolidated affairs of the bourgeois class as a whole."

* * * * * * *

"The weapons with which the bougeoisie overthrew feudalism are now being turned against the bourgeoisie itself."

* * * * * * *

"But the bourgeoisie has not only forged the weapons that will slay it; it has also engendered the men who will use these weapons—the modern workers, the proletarians."

* * * * * * *

"Those who have hitherto belonged to the lower middle class—small manufacturers, small traders, minor recipients of unearned income, handicraftsmen, and peasants—slip down, one and all, into the proletariat. They suffer this fate, partly because their petty capital is insufficient for the needs of large-scale industry and perishes in competition with the superior means of the great capitalists; and partly because their specialized skill is rendered valueless owing to the invention of new methods of production. Thus the proletariat is recruited from all classes of the population."

* * * * * * *

"All classes that have hitherto won to power, have tried to safeguard their newly acquired position by subjecting society-at-large to the conditions by which they themselves gained their possessions. But the only way in which proletarians can get control of the productive forces of society is by making an end of their own previous method of acquisition, and therewith of all the extant methods of acquisition. Proletarians have nothing of their own to safeguard; it is their business to destroy all pre-existent private proprietary securities and private proprietary safeguards."

* * * * * * *

"All earlier movements have been movements of minorities or movements in the interests of minorities. The proletarian movement is an independent movement of the overwhelming majority in the interest of that majority. The proletariat, the lowest stratum of extant society, can not raise itself, can not stand erect upon its feet, without disrupting the whole superstructure comprising the strata which makes up that society."

* * * * * * *

"The Communists everywhere support every revolutionary movement against extant social and political conditions."

* * * * * * *

"In all these movements, the Communists bring the property question to the fore, regarding it as fundamental, no matter what phase of development it may happen to be in."

* * * * * * *

"Communists scorn to hide their views and aims. They openly declare that their purposes can only be achieved by the forcible overthrow of the whole extant social order. Let the ruling classes tremble at the prospect of a Communist revolution. Proletarians have nothing to lose but their chains. They have a world to win.

"Proletarians of all lands, unite!"

THE FIRST, SECOND AND THIRD INTERNATIONALS

The First International was organized in 1865 and collapsed after the Congress held at Geneva, September 8, 1873. The date of its official demise is said to be 1876. For a time the headquarters of the First International were located in New York City.

Karl Marx organized and was the moving spirit of the First International during its short life. He worked with a subcommittee on a draft of rules and regulations, and a statement of principles for the organization in September and October of 1864. He had no scruples in deceiving both the subcommittee and the organization itself. Writing on the matter to Engels he stated: "Under the pretext that all factual matters were contained in this address, and that we need not say the same things thrice over, I modified the introduction, cut out the declaration of principles, and finally reduced the four and twenty propositions to ten." His contempt for bourgeois virtue is contained in this same report to Engels: "Only one thing," he wrote, "I had to pledge myself to insert in the preambles of the rules two phrases about 'duty' and 'right'; also, about truth, morality and justice—but they are all so placed that they cannot do any harm."

The French Commune was proclaimed on March 18, 1871. It established new principles of strategy for European Communists which Marx introduced into his system. The struggle of the proletariat against the bourgeois was to be extended to the political field while being accentuated in the economic and industrial fields. The "class struggle" in bourgeois Democratic or quasi Democratic states were to be injected into the platform of bourgeois politics and carried into parliament (legislatures). Electoral campaigns were to be inaugurated by Communists. Marx now advocated the tactics of a law-abiding policy in conformity with the methods and trends of the bourgeois state.

This change or extension of tactics was inaugurated in the session of the General Council of the International Workingmen's Association (First International) held in London September 17 to 25, 1871. The preamble to the provisional rules had stated "That the economical emancipation of the working classes is therefore the great end to which political movement ought to be subordinate as a means." The London Conference, under domination of Marx, adopted the following resolution:

> "Considering that, against this collective power of the propertied classes, the working class cannot act as a class except by constituting itself into a distinct political party, distinct from and opposed to all old parties formed by the propertied classes; that this constitution of the working class into a political party is indispensable in order to ensure the triumph of the social revolution and its ultimate end, the abolition of classes; that the combination of forces which the working class has already effected by its economical struggles ought at the same time to serve as a lever for its struggles against the political power of the landlords and capitalists—this conference recalls to the members of the International that, in the militant state of the working class, its economical movement and its political action are indissolubly united." (Italics ours.)

The Second International was created in 1889. This International represents a conservative, reformist socialist movement of affiliated bodies organized after 1872. The Socialist Party of the United States is affiliated with this International.

The Third International (Communist International-Comintern) was created in 1919 in Moscow, Russia. In accord with Marxian dialectic and the materialistic interpretation of history the Third International (Comintern) went through the motions of dissolution in May of 1943. Any student of Marxism recognizes a Leninistic "sharp turn" in the expedient application of Marxian dialectic to world events and for the furtherance of Soviet foreign policy.

COMMUNIST REVOLUTION BY FORCE AND VIOLENCE

Marx contends that history proves that no class ever surrendered its power and property without violent resistance. This is the substance of the Communist revolutionary doctrine. No class has ever consented to its own destruction and the proletariat is warned by Marx and his disciples that they must not be deluded by the vain hope that capitalism is any exception. Concessions are not enough. There is no compromise! Temporary gains for the proletariat are not sufficient. Reforms are to be recognized as efforts on the part of Capitalism to entrench and preserve itself. The dictatorship of the proletariat and the destruction of all states is the ultimate Communist goal. The fight cannot be won until the bourgeois state has been completely and ruthlessly crushed. When the final test comes, the state will use every force at its command for its self-preservation—its wealth, the Army and the Navy, its gigantic organs of propaganda. The proletariat, therefore, must prepare itself for a violent, bloody revolution; a revolution that will completely destroy the bourgeois state.

"LENINISM" OR "BOLSHEVISM"

"Leninism" and "Bolshevism" are terms used to describe the application of Marxism to the Russian experience.

Nikolai Lenin was a practical, conspiratorial revolutionist. Marxism was the "opiate" at hand and he used it liberally. Yet, he undoubtedly believed himself to be a real Marxist. He praised George V. Plekhanov's writings as "the best in the whole international literature of Marxism." Plekhanov criticizes Lenin's Marxism in the following language: "The disputed question consists in this: Does there exist an economic necessity which calls forth in the proletariat a demand for socialism, makes it instinctively socialistic, and impels it—even if left to its own resources—on the road to social revolution, notwithstanding the stubborn and continual effort of the bourgeoisie to subject it to its own ideological influence? Lenin denies this, in face of the clearly expressed opinions of all the theorists of scientific socialism. And in that consists his (Lenin) enormous mistake, his theoretical fall into sin."

Socialism divided itself into two groups, the "Bolsheviks" and the "Mensheviks"—the "majority" and the "minority." The Mensheviks believe that Communism is inevitable, whether or not man exerts himself to bring it about. Lenin's "Bolsheviks" conspired and planned for the event.

The most distinctive feature of Lenin's tactics (which explains the recent tortuous twists and turns of the Communist Party "line") was his policy of "sharp turns." Changing events call for changed slogans; new trends call for new policy. Changing an "imperialist war" to a "people's war" in 24 hours becomes understandable when Lenin's policy of "sharp turns" is understood. Since 1919 the directives for "sharp turns" have been made in Moscow's Kremlin. Soviet foreign policy has always been the starting point for each "turn." The fact that Lenin's policy of "sharp turns" is contradictory to Marx's philosophy of historic determinism matters little to Communist revolutionary conspirators. Lenin described it forcefully as follows:

> "The dictatorship of the proletariat is a relentless struggle, bloody and bloodless, violent and peaceful, military and industrial, pedagogical and administrative, against the forces and traditions of the old society. The force of habit of millions and tens of millions is a formidable force. Without a party of iron, tempered in struggle, without a party possessing the confidence of all that is honest in the class in question, without a party able to detect the moods of the mass and influence it, it is impossible to wage such a struggle with success. . . .
> "Not one important political or organizational question is decided by any state institution in our republic without the governing instruction of the central committee of the party."

The socialist state established by Lenin in Russia in the October revolution completely discredited Marxian dialectic. If Marx is right, the political structure established by Lenin in Russia must be the reflection of economic conditions existing at the time of the October revolution. It is obvious that this was not the case. Max Eastman sums it up succinctly: "Never did a reflection put forth such gigantic efforts to produce its likeness in the object reflected." (Italics ours.)

Instead of the "withering away" of the state, predicted by Marx, the Russian revolution gave birth to a super-state of commissars and bureaucrats. The "dictatorship of the proletariat" became state capitalism under Stalin. Leon Trotsky, who worked shoulder to shoulder with Lenin in establishing the socialist state of Russia, sums up the result as follows:

> "The realities of Soviet life today can indeed be hardly reconciled even with the shreds of old theory. Workers are bound to the factories; peasants are bound to the collective farms. Passports have been introduced. The freedom of movement has been completely restricted. It is a capital crime to come late to work . . . The frontiers are guarded by an impenetrable wall of border-patrols and police dogs on a scale heretofore unknown anywhere. To all intents and purposes, no one can leave and no one may enter. Foreigners who had previously managed to get into the country are being systematically exterminated. The gist of the Soviet constitution, the 'most democratic in the world,' amounts to this, that every citizen is required at an appointed time to cast his ballot for the one and only candidate hand-picked by Stalin or his agents. The press, the radio, all the organs of propaganda, agitation and national education are completely in the hands of the ruling clique. During the last five years no less than half a million members, according to official figures, have been expelled from the party. How many have been shot, thrown into jails and concentration camps, or exiled to Siberia, we do not definitely know. But undoubtedly hundreds of thousands of party members have shared the fate of millions of nonparty people. It would be extremely difficult to instill in the minds of these millions, their families, relatives and friends, the idea that the Stalinist state is withering away. It is strangling others, but gives no sign of withering. It has instead arrived at a pitch of wild intensity unprecedented in the history of mankind."

Another important feature of Leninism is the concept of the "professional revolutionary." The official history of the Russian Communist Party states: "If you inquire, from the standpoint of the personal staff of leaders, what our party lives by at the present time, and even our states, it will become clear that to a significant degree even now after 20 years the party, so to speak, nourishes itself upon that group of professional revolutionists, the foundations of which were laid at the beginning of the century."

The professional revolutionists in the United States are the Communist Party functionaries, those amazing individuals who continually pop up as "executive secretaries" of this or that "front" organization; those peculiar "labor leaders" who, with no knowledge or experience in the trade or craft they purport to represent, move from one union to another. The Jeff Kibres and the Oscar Fusses are in this category.

DEVELOPMENT OF COMMUNISM IN THE UNITED STATES

Communism is essentially international. "Proletarians of all lands, unite!" is the order of the Communist Manifesto. Marx, Engels, Lenin and Stalin prepared the blue-prints for the world revolution. Following the strategy of these conspirators, Communists everywhere engaged in deception, and switched their position from time to time with bland unconcern. Communist ethics are summoned up in the statement: Dishonesty is justified if such conduct furthers the revolutionary cause of the proletariat.

As has been pointed out before, the terms "Third Communist International" and the "Comintern" are synonymous. The Comintern was established in Russia in 1919 under the leadership of Lenin, Trotsky and other Bolsheviks. It is a controlling central organization to which Communist Parties throughout the world affiliate. It is actually a high board of strategy for universal revolution. The Communist Parties throughout the world, affiliated with the Comintern, are subordinate and subservient to it, and are pledged to abide by the decisions of the executive board in Moscow and to abjectly submit to its disciplinary power. In the section of this report on the formation and activity of the C. I. O. Political Action Committee, it will be seen that this condition existed from 1919 to 1940, when the Communist Party of the United States announced that it had severed all connections with the Comintern. It was another Leninistic "sharp turn" and no one familiar with Marxian dialectic was deceived by the announcement.

When the news of the Communist revolution of 1917 in Russia reached the United States, certain leaders of the American Socialist Party were filled with admiration, awe and reverence for the Bolshevik strategists. The more radical wing of the American Socialist Party believed that the Russian Bolsheviks had demonstrated "scientific" socialism and that a new impetus had been given to world revolution. The leaders of Bolshevism became the leaders of world revolution.

Marxism indicates three necessary steps on the road to Communism. First and foremost of these is the penetration of the laboring masses in capitalist countries, indoctrination and the creation of "class consciousness" in the minds of the workers. The second step is the seizing of power by the laboring masses and the establishment of the dictatorship of the proletariat. This is merely to say that the working masses, trained and disciplined by Communist leaders, overthrow by force and violence the capitalist form of government and establish a soviet of workers. The third and final step is the transition from state socialism to the classless estate—Communism.

As has been seen by the foregoing, Marxism conceives capital and labor in continuous conflict. This struggle, says Marx, must continue so long as the profit system exists. The profit system will continue so long as the capitalists dominate government. It can only be abolished by the forceful destruction of all capitalist states. The American Socialist sought the reformation of the government of the United States and looked forward to the establishment of a Socialist form of government. Efforts in this direction had been limited to educational campaigns designed to popularize the American Socialist Party as a political organization. The Bolshevik revolution in Russia drove a wedge sharply through the middle of the American Socialist group. One faction called for the organization of a Communist Party in the United States and clamored for violent revolutionary activity patterned on the strategies that had been so successfully used in Russia. The other faction, adhering to evolutionary socialism, preferred to travel along its established conservative line as a political movement.

John Reed, a journalist, was in Russia prior to the October revolution. He returned to the United States an ardent Communist, full of contagious enthusiasm for the Russian experiment. He spoke at meetings sponsored by the left-wing radical element of the American Socialist Party. Many leaders of the left-wing group became desirous of emulating the Bolshevik revolution in the United States and were convinced that the revolutionary technique of the Bolsheviks could be successfully employed in overthrowing American capital and the government that protected it. This meant a clean break with the Second International. It contemplated a program of penetration into the trade union movement of the United States for revolutionary indoctrination. Delegates were finally selected and sent to an International Conference at Moscow. The organization was perfected in Chicago in 1919, offices of the Party were opened, and John Reed, the first American Communist, launched a propaganda campaign through the columns of "The New York Communist."

Early in 1919 C. A. K. Martens arrived in New York representing the new Soviet government of Russia. Martens immediately set out to assist in the organization of the American Communist Party. He provided substantial financial support with money channeled into the United States from the Soviet Union.

It soon became apparent that the Russian element in the Socialist Party in the United States was capitalizing on the prestige established by their countrymen in Soviet Russia. The Communist Party that emerged from the conference in Chicago came to feeble life in the midst of petty bickering and bitter factional disputes among its leaders. The struggle was watched by Communist agents from Russia's Kremlin, and the radical element amply supplied with Russian funds. Leaders of the nearly defunct International Workers of the World (I.W.W.) were rallied to the cause and a National conference was called for June 21, 1919 in New York City.

The reverence manifested by the radicals in the American Socialist Party for the professional revolutionaries of Russia is amazing. Communism had been a religion from the beginning and now it was to have a deity and a constellation of saints. A halo was placed around the head of Lenin and he became an infallible oracle. C. A. K. Martens was quick to realize the potential power dormant in the reverential awe for things Bolshevik by American radicals, for furthering the policies of the new Soviet Government. This factor is important. From 1919 henceforth American Communists were dominated, watched, and controlled from the Kremlin in Moscow. This domination and control has never been relaxed and the American Communist is dominated and controlled by Moscow at the present time to a greater extent than ever before, although the technique is more subtle.

Socialists of Russian and Slavic descent were most enthusiastic in clamoring for the immediate formation of an American Communist Party, functioning as a section of the Communist Party of Russia. Most of the Americans in the Socialist organization, however, preferred to run the show independent of the Soviet Union. One group urged that the American Communist Party be led by Americans in the same manner that the Russian Communist Party was led by Russians. Another faction insisted that the American Communists should simply affiliate with, and be subservient to, the Russian organization. As a result of these conflicts, the conservative element in the Socialist Party were shunted into the discard.

Meanwhile a conflict for control of the American Communist Party grew in intensity between the two radical factions. Ultimately, delegates from both factions went to Moscow. The outcome was the formation of an American Communist Party as a section of the Communist International—a section of the Communist International functioning in the United States.

The organization was first known as the Communist Labor Party, but the word "labor" was eventually dropped and the party continued as the Communist Party, a section of the Communist International.

The organization has had a stormy history in the United States. Factional strife constantly developed and party bickerings were frequent. Soviet agents, watching quietly in the background, came forth at the proper time, and, with the voice of authority, summarily put a stop to internal dissension.

COMMUNIST BEGINNINGS IN THE UNITED STATES

William Z. Foster, a charter member of the Communist Party of the United States, was charged with the task of directing the penetration and indoctrination of the trade union movement in the United States. The Trade Union Educational League was the organization created by Foster for this purpose. The funds for the activities of this front were furnished in part by the Communist Party members in the United States, and from Moscow's "Red International of Trade Unions," (Profintern). As a matter of fact most of the money was furnished by the Russian organization. The International Labor Defense was organized as a section of the International Class-War Prisoners Aid Society (MOTR). A representative from the Soviet Union was sent to America with the necessary funds for the organization of the International Labor Defense. These organizations were the first in a series of Soviet Branch offices established in the United States by Russian emissaries with Russian funds. The International Labor Defense provides legal assistance to members of the Communist movement who find themselves involved with the law. The Trade Union Educational League (propagandizing for industrial unionization) served its initial purpose. The same strategy of trade union penetration by Communist Party functionaries has continued and has achieved considerable success. The most recent triumph of this Communist technique is the Political Action Committee of the C. I. O.

The members of the American Communist Party were sent to Moscow where they attended a school maintained for the purpose of instructing international revolutionists in the Bolshevik technique.

By 1923 the members of the American Communist Party considered themselves under the iron discipline that was frequently exercised by the Executive Committee of the Comintern. The Moscow Board of Directors had the power and the right to expel an entire Communist Party, or any section thereof, or individual Communists, with or without cause. It assumed the right to contermand any activity, decision or resolution, of any Communist Party affiliated with the Third Communist International. It was regarded by Communists everywhere as the source of all authority. Lenin, while he lived, and Stalin, after Lenin's death, was the infallible last word in Communist affairs. Russia became the "Red Fatherland," the only country to which Communists everywhere owed their allegiance.

The youth movements of Soviet Russia were duplicated in the United States by the American Communist Party. The youth movement in Russia is called the Comsomols. Soviet children of primary school age are organized into a group known as the Young Octobrists. The Young Communist League in the United States parallels the Comsomols and the Young Pioneers of the United States are patterned after the Young Octobrists. These youth organizations are Communist training schools for the youth of America.

IRON CONTROL

Many individuals are attracted to Communism by the conspiratorial character of the movement. The Communist Party of Russia, before the revolution of 1917, was a creature of mystery, of intrigue and plotting. The Russian organization was held together during those turbulent times by dictatorial directives. The two absolute rulers were Lenin and Trotsky. The members of the party were trained to accept discipline blindly and to follow every directive without hesitation. The same iron control was experienced by the first Communists in the United States. This control has become stronger as the party has grown. A Communist believes that he is a member of a secret, conspiratorial organization and that he is playing a vital role in weakening and undermining the Government of the United States. The American Communist is convinced that the American revolution can only be achieved by blindly and fanatically pursuing the intricate technique of Marx, Lenin and Stalin. The American Communist's mind is literally saturated with foreign ideologies, German ponderosities and Oriental intrigue. He must attend beginners classes, study Marxism, dialectic and materialistic interpretation of history; he must spend many hours in Communist activities; he must attend fraction, branch and unit meetings. He must join a union of some kind. He participates in open forums. He is assigned to tasks designed for revolutionary training, such as peddling Communist Party publications in wealthy residential districts; and in driving Communist Party resolutions through meetings of his trade union. He is directed to join many organizations and is instructed in the technique of dominating and controlling their actions. His entire mental outlook upon life and events is altered and changed. Conservative friends and acquaintances soon avoid the Communist convert and he finds himself associating exclusively with Communists and fellow-travelers. A break with the Communist Party is not a small matter and entails an emotional upheaval that is not pleasant to contemplate.

COMMUNIST DISCIPLINE

The Communist Party proceeded along its troublesome path, gathering more and more members. Disciplinary control was intensified. The Communist parties throughout the world maintain what they call control commissions. A Communist who waivers in his activities or thought is immediately under the scrutiny of the control commission. Every Communist is under the continuous observation of his "Comrades" and the most trivial anti-Communist action or word is reported. Communist Party members fear the control commission more than they fear the police. The most potent threat that can be made against a member who violates party discipline is the threat of expulsion from the organization. Disillusioned Communists who muster sufficient courage to bluntly withdraw from the organization are hounded from one job to another and harassed in every possible manner. Prospective employers are told that they are hiring ex-Communists, persons who are emotionally unstable, unreliable, and can not be believed under oath. Anonymous letters are dispatched to employers and every sort of artifice is practiced to embarrass and harass the ex-member. By whispering "smear" campaigns the Communist Party charges that the ex-Party member is suffering from some sort of mental disability. An ex-Communist who criticizes the party or who reveals its secrets is immediately branded as a psychopathic case, a pervert, a chronic liar, a criminal, a stool-pigeon, a red-baiter, a witch-hunter—a miserable wretch suffering from practically every ailment known to humanity, including vitamin deficiency. It is remarkable that a person, by merely severing his affiliation with the Communist Party, is immediately afflicted with the same variety of ailments and vices.

DEMOCRATIC CENTRALISM

Theoretically, the Communist organization enjoys what it terms "Democratic Centralism." The doctrine is rather intricate and, while the term indicates Democracy in procedure, its "Centralism" is its contradiction. Hand-picked delegates from the lowest stratum of Communist organizations compose the membership of the next stratum. Hand-picked delegates from this group compose the membership of the next highest, and so on to Stalin. The group at the top is the governing body of the whole and all decisions are made at this central point, the apex of the pyramid. The orders and directives pass downward through each stratum of the party. Although completely totalitarian in character it is considered "democratic" because the delegates to each higher group are theoretically selected by the membership of their respective units. It is authoritarian and autocratic in operation.

SUPPORT OF SOVIET FOREIGN POLICY

The interests of the Soviet Union, during the Hitler-Stalin Non-Aggression Pact, were served by their representatives and affiliates in the United States by the launching of a campaign to keep America out of the "imperialist war." The Communist Party called for an embargo on the shipment of materials of war to belligerent countries. They opposed conscription and fought military training. They called President Roosevelt a "war-monger," created and directed the American Peace Mobilization, joined with isolationists and German Bundsters. They held frequent peace demonstrations and shouted that "The Yanks are not coming!" Simultaneously an epidemic of strikes was launched by Communist-controlled union organizations in key defense plants throughout the United States.

When Germany invaded Russia on June 22, 1941, a typical Leninistic "sharp turn" was executed by the Communist Party in the United States. Immediately the American Peace Mobilization was dissolved. The epidemic of strikes ended abruptly. The "imperialist war" became a "people's war" and the Communist slogan of the day was "All aid to the Soviet Union, Great Britain and the Allies." They were no longer interested in placing an embargo on the shipment of materials of war to belligerent nations and became particularly anxious that such materials be shipped to the Soviet Union. They no longer opposed military training or conscription. President Roosevelt ceased to be a "war-monger" and the Communist Party wanted all the "Yanks" they could get. A howl went up from American Communists for the immediate opening of a "second front."

LEGAL AND ILLEGAL ORGANIZATIONS

The Communist Party originally divided the United States into 20 Communist districts. Each had its governing structure. California, Arizona and Nevada was designated as District Thirteen. Headquarters for this district was located in San Francisco and for many years was maintained at 121 Haight Street in that city. Each State had its subordinate structure and was in turn divided into county organizations, which were broken down into a labyrinth of sections, branches, units, cells, fractions, commissions and committees.

In recent years this system of dividing the country into districts has been abandoned and each State has maintained its Communist organization with a general secretary in charge, each county having its own chairman, secretary and treasurer. During the last few years in which the movement functioned as a political party it followed the laws applicable to political organizations. In California the Communist Party held its conventions at about the same time and in the same manner as the Democratic and Republican Parties. Their candidates for State elective offices appeared on the ballot at general elections. In the larger cities candidates were nominated for municipal offices. At all times a secret or underground Communist organization was maintained, not only for the purpose of creating the peculiar attraction found in a secret, conspiratorial revolutionary organization, but also for the practical purpose of always having an organizational structure under iron discipline ready in the event that the open organization above-ground should be broken up or demoralized by legal action.

REPORT OF CALIFORNIA PEACE OFFICERS ASSOCIATION

In October of 1940 the Peace Officers Association of the State of California held its twentieth annual convention in Fresno. Delegates to this convention represented the law enforcement agencies of the State of California. They had long been concerned with the activities of the Communist Party and had given serious study to its aims, objects and techniques. On page 6 of the report appears the following statement:

> "Contrary to its ridiculous claims the Communist Party is not intrinsically a political party. It utilizes the political angle as a means of procuring legal protection while it engages in constant efforts to win over the American people to Communism as opposed to American Democracy. And while on this subject, it should be pointed out that Communists claim in a righteous manner that they want to preserve American Democracy. That statement is all right as far as it goes, but it does not go far enough; it should go further to include this phrase: 'We want to preserve American Democracy until we have at last gained control of the government, and no longer need the Democratic form of government to provide protection for our undermining activities'."

On pages 12 and 13 of the report, the following statement is made:

> "The stream-lined Communist Party which we see in operation today is scarcely recognizable on the surface as the hard-bitten, fighting, sneering and threatening organization it was some years ago. In those days the party made no bones of saying right out loud that it advocated the overthrow of this government by force and violence. The Communists believed that the overthrow could be accomplished only through a bloody revolution, as the 'capitalist class' would not relinquish its wealth and possessions without a struggle.

"That old-time party was an open challenge in the teeth of its enemies by refusing to recognize National Holidays, by refusing to permit the American flag to be displayed at its meetings and by flaunting its theories of promiscuity in the faces of decent citizens.

"By these defiant tactics more enemies were made for the party than converts, so the next obvious move was made; the entire face of the party, as well as its tactics, were changed. It was 'Americanized' to the furthest extent possible, considering the material the Communists had to work with.

"First, the party began denying that it advocated force and violence; next it threw off its sickly revolutionary cloak and donned a robe embroidered only with the word 'political party.'

"Next came the adoption of the practice of always displaying the American Flag at Communist and subsidiary meetings. It was now seen at the head of parades, in all party centers, etc.

"The Communists who had been sneering, 'We don't celebrate capitalist holidays' or 'We don't observe bourgeois traditions,' now began closing shop on National Holidays and began flying the Stars and Stripes from their windows, in fake deference to our National traditions and institutions.

"Next came the positively startling and amazing proclamation that Communists love the American traditions and institutions and want to preserve them and also want to preserve democracy.

"While not of importance, it is amazing to note that these pronouncements by the party stimulated its natural enemy—the Trotsky group—to some of its highest achievements in sarcasm and irony; the Trotskyites, exposing this knavery and deceit, with masterful strokes of the pen and with caustic words, caricatured Earl Browder wrapped in the American Flag and fraternizing with the capitalist class.

The California Peace Officers Association's report on the embarrassment experienced by the Communists in its "line" switching is described as follows:

"But there remained the advocacy of indiscriminate carnality for the party to live down. This was more or less of a problem, for the membership had both the Communist Manifesto and the program of the Communist International, no less, for its authority on this subject; and the said program set forth that the myth of the 'Sanctity' of the 'Home' was a pack of nonsense, and something that the bourgeoisie had cooked up; that children should not be burdened upon parents, but should be wards of the State; further, it gave the general impression that human beings should have no limitations or inhibitions imposed upon their personal desires.

"So here was a pretty kettle of fish: Here was the Communist Party trying to discard its more barbarous and loose libertinism for the attempted appearance of respectability. But within the party's ranks there existed a situation where white women openly consorted with Negro men; white, black, Japanese, Mexican and Filipino members had set up their own little personal alliances with the full approbation of the party. 'Communist marriages,' not blessed by benefit of clergy, founded upon this color-and-race combination basis abounded and were not to be easily dissolved by a sweeping mandate of the party, so the party had no alternative other than to permit them to continue—while the party leaders held their breath and hoped in the names of Marx, Engels, and Lenin that the public would not learn of them!

"Meanwhile the party had gone through some extremely unpleasant experiences because of its encouragement of interracial affairs; jilted Negroes, who had been discarded by jaded 'Comrades' in more cases than one took revenge through vindictive retaliation in the form of physical violence. These embarrassing situations were kept as quiet as possible, with a significant forebearance from any form of punishment for the aggressor, setting a precedent in the annals of Communist Party history. It is interesting to note that there are no present allusions to the odoriferous section of the Communist theory which endorses salacity and which decries restraint of any personal lust.

"Even the Communist press came in for a wash-day renovation. The 'Daily Worker', long admitted as the official organ of the Communist Party, went through the suds of deception and came out as white as snow with the announcement that three American women (whose ancestry dates way back to there) had purchased the paper and would continue its publication in the interests of 'giving the truth' to the working class. It was to be a purely respectable and humanitarian venture, of course! (In the absence of a better known punctuation mark which would indicate sarcasm and irony, we must be content with the exclamation point.)

"In California a similar action was taken. The 'Western Worker' which had previously been the official organ of the Communist Party of the West Coast, also went through the wash and returned to the newsstand as the 'People's World,' completely freed from the tell-tale red of the Communist soil.

"But—looking behind the scenes we still find the 100 per cent Communist staffs on both of these publications; and we still hear the old familiar instructions to Party members to 'raise $50,000 for the People's World at once and to work hard to build up the sustaining fund for the 'Daily Worker'."

THE COMMUNIST PRESS

William Schneiderman, former Secretary of the Communist Party of California, and presently the Secretary of the Communist Political Association of California, was examined in San Francisco in reference to many matters, among which was the "People's Daily World." His testimony in this connection, is as follows (Com. Tr., Vol. XXIV, pp. 313-319):

Q. By Mr. Combs: Now, Mr. Schneiderman, here's another question that may seem somewhat naive—I spoke to you about it before you were sworn to testify—in response to a great many questions that have been asked by the Committee during the four years of its existence regarding the status of the People's Daily World, as to whether it was or was not an organ of the Communist Party, the answer has been universally that it was not. We have run across some excerpts from the Communist Party publications, official publications, that would indicate it is. I'm going to read the excerpts to you and ask you whether or not you are familiar with them, and by way of foundation I'll ask you if you are familiar with the old Western Worker?

A. Yes.

Q. That was unquestionably the official organ of the Communist Party of this State, was it not?

A. Yes, it was.

Q. And it went out of business in 1938, did it not?

A. Yes, the end of '37.

Q. And it was succeeded by the People's Daily World, was it not?

A. May I explain that?

Q. Yes.

A. Originally it was our intention to publish the Western Worker as a daily newspaper. When we began to go over the budget of how much it would be to run a daily newspaper it became obvious to us that we ourselves couldn't support and finance a Communist daily newspaper, so we gave up the idea and agreed to support the launching of an independent progressive newspaper, in which the Communists participated in its launching, so that the People's Daily World never had the same status as the Western Worker, which was the official organ of the party.

Q. Did you ever hear of the California Guide, which was published by the California Communist Party in 1938?

A. I believe so, yes.

Q. I'm reading from the California Guide of 1938 (reading): "We open the New Year in California with a daily people's voice—a voice which will be heard in every corner of our State, championing the rights of all the oppressed and exploited—our own People's World." Are you familiar with that excerpt?

A. It sounds familiar.

Mr. Combs: The next excerpt is from the Communist Bulletin—I don't have the exact title of this here, I copied it verbatim and I don't have the exact title. The excerpt is as follows (reading):

"In the first instance in 1938, three steps were necessary in bringing about a big circulation of the People's Daily World. The first step was to establish a circulation drive committee for the several forces"—I don't understand it, it seems ungrammatical—(continuing to read):

"2. To organize a plan around which this unit and branches could mobilize their work"—the person who wrote this is not as glib as you are, Mr. Schneiderman—(continuing to read):

"3. To make the '42 drive successful by seeing to it that every section, unit and branch shall make up a small committee to direct the work." Did you ever hear of anything like that?

A. I can't place that. We have never made a secret of the fact we are interested in building the People's World circulation, since other people in other political parties wouldn't.

Q. The Party Organizer was issued by the Communist Party of the United States—you knew that, didn't you?

A. Yes.

Q. From page 10 of the March, 1938, issue is the following (reading): "We have repeatedly emphasized the necessity of utilizing our press for the recruiting of new members. We now stress the need for making use of our press for the education of those who join. We have not only the Daily Worker and the Sunday Worker, but the Mid-West Daily Record and the West Coast People's Daily World. We must strive to make our new members readers of our daily press. That is not all. We should see that these new comrades receive at least a minimum of necessary party literature and strive to popularize The Communist and the Party Organizer among them."

That was the March issue. In the April issue of the Party Organizer on page 24 was the following (reading): "The Party press is indispensable in recruiting. Give or sell copies of the Daily Worker, and Sunday Worker, the Midwest, the Daily Record, the western People's World to your contacts, your friends and fellow workers. Follow up the list of readers of our Party press."

That is from an article "How to Recruit" as told by the delegates to the National Party Builders Congress. The next excerpt is from the Party Organizer for April, 1938, page 38 (reading):

"Another trade unionist among the same group became so enthusiastic about finding the Party that he immediately asked us to bring some one down to his neighborhood to talk about the Party. We had three sessions with some people and recruited two more. Another important new member is a Negro woman who formerly did important work in the Democratic Party. I worked with this woman, helped her build a woman's group, and explained how we helped build organizations. She became very enthusiastic about this and promised to arrange classes where we will speak to progressive Negroes in Los Angeles about the Party.

"I want to speak about one of our other comrades' experiences. There is a Chinese laundry in her neighborhood and all of our comrades had been collecting clothes and money for the Chinese people. The comrade immediately made it her business to take something there every week, and she took our press with her, the People's World." The next is from the Party Organizer for April, 1938, page 5 (reading):

"We have broken into the trade unions with our People's World, which I now handle instead of the Daily Worker. I have special customers for the Sunday Worker. It has been much harder to sell the Daily Worker in A. F. of L. unions than in C. I. O. unions, but I still sell the Daily Worker there too. I asked the workers if they know about the Communist Party and about Communism. They say, 'No!' I say: 'Read that paper, read something for your own interest.' That is how I get them to read the People's World and I have steady customers for the paper in the A. F. of L."

Would those expressions in the Party Organizer tend to make it appear to the layman that the People's World was an official organ of the Communist Party?

A. I think that bears out the statement I made that we had originally intended to publish a daily newspaper of our own. Just the term "our press" doesn't mean it is an official organ of the Communist Party. As a matter of fact, we call it our press, it is the only newspaper that gives a fair and objective view of Communism without red-baiting and without distortion such as we usually expect from the daily newspapers.

Q. Who is the owner?

A. It's owned by a corporation, the Pacific Publishing Foundation.

Q. That corporation was formed when?

A. I think two or three years ago.

Q. Before that it was a co-partnership?

A. Before that, yes.

Q. Isn't it owned by a co-partnership, which is doing business under the name and style of the Pacific Publishing Company?

A. I don't know. It is a ——

Q. (Interrupting) You are sure it is a corporation?

A. Yes.

Q. How do you know that?

A. The masthead says owned by West Publishing, Inc.

Mr. Combs: I thought it used to be known by the name of the World Publishing Company.

Chairman Tenney: Do you know any of the stockholders in the foundation.

A. Yes, some of them.

Q. Are you a stockholder?

A. No.

Mr. Combs: Q. Mr. Schneiderman, the People's World just went into a new building, did it not, not long ago?

A. Yes.

Q. Moved to a new building?

A. Yes.

Q. When was that about, how long ago?

A. A few months ago.

Q. Where is that located?

A. I don't recall the address. On Folsom Street.

Q. Do you write for the paper from time to time?

A. No, although they have published extracts from my speeches or articles from other publications.

Q. Do you have anything to do with the policy?

A. Only so far as I know the editors, and we, naturally, exchange views on questions.

Q. What I mean, we're not trying to insinuate anything, but what I'm trying to get is an expression whether you do or do not—do you have anything to do with the formation of the editorial policy from time to time?

A. I'm not connected with the editorial board, no.

Q. Not officially—what I'm trying to get is this: Harrison George is the editor?

A. Yes.

Q. You have known him for a long time?

A. Yes.
Q. Does he ask your advice about the editorial policy of the paper from time to time?
A. Sometimes, yes.
Q. Does he follow it?
A. Not always.
Chairman Tenney: Was Mr. George a member of the Party?
A. Yes.
Q. He is a member of the Communist Political Association?
A. Yes, I believe so.

The "People's Daily World" of the West Coast and the "Daily Worker" of New York constitute but a small part of the printed material constantly distributed by the Communists in the United States. Each of the "front" organizations, under innocent names, publish their own organs. "The Communist" is a monthly publication carrying articles by prominent Communists in America. In line with the current policy of the Communists, the monthly publication, "The Communist," will appear in a new format in January, 1945, under title "Public Affairs."

Most authoritative and most revered of Communist writers and modern Marxian theoreticians is Lenin. Stalin is considered just as authoritative and is second only to Lenin. Communist Party propaganda pamphlets, containing the philosophy of Marx, Lenin and Stalin, can be purchased in any of the many book stores sponsored by the Communists in California. The Progressive Book Shop in Los Angeles and the Twentieth Century Book Shop in San Francisco are two of the prominent distribution centers for Communist propaganda in California. In the most remote corners of California Communist literature can be obtained from a Communist Party member assigned to that task by his superiors.

HAND-BOOK FOR REVOLUTION

In 1939 a Soviet Commission announced the publication of a work which was to be the textbook for Communist Parties throughout the world. This work includes in condensation the writings of Lenin and Stalin and embodies the philosophy of Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels. It traces the history of the abortive Russian revolution of 1905 and the successful revolution of October, 1917. It describes in minute detail the step by step strategy used by the Bolsheviks in their struggle for power in Russia. It describes Communist infiltration into the Army and Navy of Russia; its struggle to control transportation and communication facilities. The book was printed in many languages and distributed in every country where a Communist Party was organized. Its publication was hailed in the Communist Party press of the United States as a work to be used as a guide for revolutionary action. It was immediately adopted for Communist beginner's classes and study groups throughout the United States.

COMMUNIST POSTWAR STRATEGY

The book carefully admonishes Communists everywhere to be prepared to take full advantage of internal conflicts. They are told that in the event of a world war they must be alert to entrench themselves solidly in order to be prepared to take advantage of post-war economic confusion. On page 68 of "The Communist" for November, 1935, appears the following statement:

> "The Soviet Union will be forced, in case of war, to ally herself with Capitalist power. If the Soviet government, even now, is forced to adapt its diplomatic methods to those of Capitalist allies; if the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, even now, disapproves of the Communist Parties of the countries allied to the Soviet Union in order to please Capitalist allies and asks them to submit to the demands of their Capitalist war ministers—if this is happening now, there will certainly, in the event of war, be a still greater danger that the war policy of the Soviet Union may be influenced by the pressure of her Capitalist allies, and that therefore her revolutionary working-class character may be obscured or diluted. In view of this danger, international Socialism must insist that the Soviet government conduct the war as a revolutionary war, a war of propaganda with a view to bringing about the working-class revolution in Germany, and to facilitate in the other countries the use of war for the overthrow of the Capitalist regime. . . . Socialism must not forget that the aims of the Capitalist governments allied on the side of the Soviet Union are entirely different from its own. It must therefore maintain, with regard to these governments, its complete independence. It must not accept political responsibility for their conduct of the war. It must not enter into a 'civil peace' with them." (Italics ours.)

The Communist plan for the control of the countries of Europe, after the anticipated world war, is set forth in "The Communist" for November, 1935, at page 1065:

> "The capitalist governments will go to war with the intention of destroying Germany's power forever. . . . Our aim can only be to bring about the working-class revolution in Germany, and, as soon as the revolution is victorious, immediately to make peace with the new working-class Germany . . . and to bring about the union of all the European nations and the federations of Socialist workers and peasants States. . . .
> "The capitalist governments will at first try to defeat Germany in alliance with the Soviet Union. Every victory of the Soviet Union will add to her reputation in Europe and Asia, and thereby endanger the Capitalist system. Soon the countries allied to the Soviet Union will be more afraid of the victories of their ally than of the victories of the common enemy. Having first tried to defeat Germany they will, on the very day after the common victory, turn on the Soviet Union in order to save the Capitalist system. Against this, our aim must be first to defeat Fascism by a common effort, and then to organize in common with the Soviet Union and the victorious German revolution the Socialist economy of Europe.
> "Therefore the Socialist parties of the democratic countries allied to the Soviet Union, from the first day of the war, must make the masses understand the difference between their own aims and those of the Capitalist classes." (Italics ours.)

In "Foundations of Leninism", at page 54, Stalin declares:

> "Today, both in England and America, 'essential for every real people's revolution', is the break-up, the shattering of the 'ready made' big machinery. In other words, the war of violent revolution, the war of destruction and the machinery of the bourgeois States, as a condition precedent for such revolution, is an inevitable law of the revolutionary movement of the imperialist countries. . . . Lenin is right in saying: 'The proletarian revolution is impossible without the violent destruction of the bourgeois big machine, and its replacement by a new one'."

The Communists of California were quick to capitalize on the distress of the unemployed during the depression. When the migration of agricultural workers from the so-called dust bowl region began to seriously aggravate the unemployed situation in California, the Communists immediately launched a campaign designed to control the State Relief Administration of the State. Party members were successful in securing appointments and jobs in this agency, at the same time clamoring vociferously for greater appropriations from the State Legislature. They sought to increase the personnel of the staff of the Relief Administration and to extend qualifications for relief, thus necessitating the need for greater appropriations. Communist employees of the State Relief Administration affiliated with the "State, County and Municipal Workers of America" (SCMWA), a Communist-inspired and dominated organization. Applicants for relief soon learned that their appeals to the Relief Administration were postponed and disregarded until they became affiliated with "The Worker's Alliance", a Communist organization headed by Alexander Noral, a registered member of the Communist Party. An Assembly Investigating Committee was created, and after a series of public hearings and reports to the Legislature, the Communist members were dismissed from their positions in the State Relief Administration. As a result, the Communists plan to use an economic crisis for recruiting hundreds of thousands of unemployed people into the Party was thwarted.

The policy of the world-wide Communist movement in taking advantage of major conflicts, such as the present war, for the purpose of getting control of one country after another, is being revealed in the daily press as this report is written. Within the past few days a commission of the United States Government has been ordered out of Bulgaria by the Soviet Union. British troops are being compelled to fight in Greece against a group of Greek Communists who are endeavoring to forcibly overthrow the tottering vestige of government and seize permanent control for themselves. Italy had barely surrendered when emissaries from the Soviet Union appeared and started to conduct huge mass meetings for the purpose of seizing control of the government. In France, Maurice Thorez, the Communist leader who fled to the Soviet Union in exile when the war started in 1939, has returned and is now organizing the Communists in that country. The Soviet Union has organized a group of Germans into a "Free Germany Committee" for the purpose of Bolshevizing postwar Germany.

For a great many years the countries of India and China have been fertile fields for Communist agitation. The situation in these countries is similar to the situation that existed in Russia prior to the revolution of 1917. In both India and China the governments are weak. The Communists of both countries are working for the destruction of the respective governments under Moscow directives and are making headway.

William Schneiderman, Secretary of the Communist Political Association of California, was examined by the committee October 27, 1944, in San Francisco, concerning the International aspects of Communism. As the basis for this examination he was asked about the textbook compiled by the Soviet Commission, published in 1939, and distributed in every country in which a Communist Party was functioning. Schneiderman stated that the volume was printed in 27 languages. He denied that the book was being extensively used at the present time. He admitted that there were Communist Parties functioning in the United States, Mexico, South America, China, India, Canada, Germany, Italy and France. He stated that all of these Parties were founded on the same philosophy, that their members studied the same textbooks, followed the socialism of Karl Marx, and, generally, conformed to the Communist Party "line" as it developed and changed from time to time.

SCHNEIDERMAN ON MARXISM

Examined on the subject of Marxian dialectic, William Schneiderman testified as follows (Com. Tr. Vol. XXIV, pp. 285-288):

Q. By Mr. Combs: Isn't it a fact that the essence of the Communist ideology is found in chapter four of the textbook that I have just mentioned, the chapter being entitled historical and dialectical materialism?

A. That gives a basis for the philosophy of Marxism. Not necessarily all of the Marxian ideology.

Q. What is meant from a Communist standpoint or a Marxist standpoint by dialectical materialism?

A. It's a scientific method of thought which describes the laws of motion of society, and that's about the limit that I could give you verbally. If you want a more precise definition, I'll be glad to write it and have it included in the record.

Q. No, it was a preliminary question. My next question: Do they teach embryonic students historical and dialectic materialism?

A. I have never taught the subject, so I couldn't say. It's a rather complicated subject.

Q. Yes, I know.

A. It's a subject for more advanced students. We don't in public activities discuss philosophy, naturally. A small minority of the people are interested in the philosophy.

Q. But the Communist ideology was essentially predicated on philosophy?

A. Yes, materialistic philosophy.

Q. And still is?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, Mr. Schneiderman, you recall when the Comintern or the Third International was dissolved, do you not?

A. Yes.

Q. Was there any change in the essential attitude of the Communist Party after the dissolution of the Comintern, so far as its basic ideas and objects were concerned?

A. No.

Q. It remained the same afterwards as it did before?

A. That's right.

Q. Has there been any change in the basic objectives and purposes and ideology of the Communist movement in the United States after the formation of the Communist Political Association?

A. Yes, there has. As a matter of fact, even before the formation of the Political Association.

Q. How long before?

A. I would date it about January of this year.

Q. January 1st?

A. The month of January.

Q. And what event brought about that change?

A. The event which caused us to revise our estimates of what is likely to happen was the Teheran Conference that took place between the American, British and Soviet Governments.

Q. Now, Mr. Schneiderman——

A. (Interrupting) Just another sentence or two—we came to the conclusion that this marked a basic and fundamental change in the whole world situation by bringing about a world coalition, and instead of fighting each other we saw a long and indefinite period of peace and stable relations in all countries as a result of the victory in this war, and we came to a conclusion as a result of this coalition and cooperation on an international scale that resulted from the conference at Teheran that American capitalism had a very bright future of prosperity, strength and stability, for the first time it found a world market which could take care of all the goods this country could possibly produce.

Q. You have given an excellent example of the process of dialectic materialism?

A. I suppose you could call it that.

Q. In other words, the attitude of the party in this country changed because of the fact they view these events through the lenses of Marxism or dialectical materialism, isn't that true?

A. That's right.

Q. Did the same change of attitude occur when the Germans invaded the Soviet Union in June, 1941?

A. What do you mean, the same change of attitude?

Q. Was it again the application of dialectical materialism that resulted in that change of attitude?

A. No. I believe that many people who are not Marxists developed a change of attitude on the world situation.

Q. Unquestionably we could——

A. (Interrupting) We found the change of the history that was marked by Munich, that is, appeasement—appeasement of Hitler, and that this had changed into an entirely different war because of the attack by the Germans on the Soviet Union, and it was recognized by the American Government, and they changed their views and pronouncements very considerably after June, 1941.

Q. Getting back to the basic question, wouldn't you say that was a change of attitude of the Communist working of dialectic materialism again?

A. I suppose so.

Thus, no less an authority than William Schneiderman, former secretary of the Communist Party of California, and presently secretary of the Communist Political Association of California, tells us in Marxian language that the Communist Political Association is just the same as the Communist Party that preceded it. Its change of name and change of policy is in strict conformance with Marxian dialectic and a result of the Marxian materialistic interpretation of history plus a Leninistic "sharp turn." The painted leopard is a leopard still.

The Teheran Conference where Stalin, Churchill and Roosevelt met to discuss the problems of their respective nations regarding the common war effort, was proclaimed by Communists throughout the world as a breath-taking and profound event. There was nothing exciting to the Communists in the meetings which had previously taken place between Churchill and Roosevelt and between Churchill and Stalin. But when Marshal Stalin, Secretary of the Third Communist International, the infallible head of the Communist religion, leaves Moscow and travels to Teheran for the purpose of conferring with Churchill and Roosevelt, the event becomes earth-shaking and Marxists everywhere view it through the spectacles of dialectical materialism.

American Communists again removed their proletarian overalls, donned dinner-jackets and attempted to assume an air of respectability. They had made the change before and they did it again with the same bland indifference that characterized their leap from "The British Imperialist War" to "The People's war."

At its New York Convention the "Party" went through the motions of committing political suicide. The Communist Party of the United States was dissolved. In the same breath and in the same convention the Communist Political Association of the United States was born. Shortly thereafter the Young Communist League met in convention, apparently committed hari-kari and in the same meeting brought forth a new organization, "American Youth for Democracy." The same thing happened in Canada. All of these "quick changes" took place, according to Communist reasoning, because Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin had met and discussed international affairs at Teheran.

The sixth period of Communist strategy in the United States may have ended with the Teheran Conference and the frantic name-changing in official Communist Party organizations. The committee is entirely too close to the picture at this writing to definitely state whether the sixth period closed with this event or whether it was a logical development of the same period. Whether it was merely a continuance of the sixth period or the ushering in of the seventh, the committee states unequivocally that a new period in Communist strategy in the United States will begin when the war is concluded. The Communists of America have carefully laid the ground work and are prepared for the events that are to come. They expect social upheaval and economic disruption to follow in the wake of war. They believe that there will be a bitter and discontented people throughout this broad country of ours; widespread unemployment, rising prices and staggering public debts. Hundreds of thousands of war veterans will be attempting to adjust themselves to civil life. The groundwork for race riots is already laid. There will be confusion and chaos. Hundreds of thousands of workers will be discharged from closing wartime factories, swelling the army of the unemployed. They believe they will be in a position to foment dissension. The Communists of the United States and of the world have a program. Although, as has been shown in this Report, there is nothing "scientific" about Marxism, it is, nevertheless, a blueprint for revolution.

An informed public is the only obstacle in the path of the dictatorship of the proletariat; the only power that can stop the march of Red Fascism.

The Communist fight against legislative committees investigating subversive activities is understandable. They know that the dark corners of their alleged philosophies can not stand sunlight; that their machinations and intrigues can not withstand exposure. They know that once the people learn that their "scientific socialism" is "phoney" and that their "dictatorship of the proletariat" is slavery and Red Fascism, they will be compelled to go out of business. The F. B. I. can only arrest them when they break the law. They have the International Labor Defense for these occasions and "defense committees" which collect money and create causes celebre—and it's good propaganda for the revolution. The people do not understand.

The Communist fight against legislative committees investigating subversive activities, we repeat, is quite understandable.

COMMUNIST STRATEGY IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE

Communist strategy for the conquest of North and South America has lost none of its cunning since the beginning of its sixth period marked by Hitler's invasion of Russia. The committee finds that plans for the destruction of the institutions and democracy of the United States, as well as for the destruction of Mexican, Central and South American republics, are being carefully laid and worked out with vicious exactitude, even while Communist spokesmen call for "unity" and "world peace." The committee finds that the Communist objective for the violent and forceful overthrow of the Government of the United States, and of the Governments of Mexico, Central and South America, is being carried forward now and that Communist strategists believe their efforts will be crowned with success within a decade.

The June 24, 1944, issue of the Mexican pictorial publication, Manana, contained the speech of a Chilean Senator, Elias Laferte, before the ninth Congress of the Communist Party of Mexico. The May 22, 1944, issue of the New York Times states that Chilean Senator, Elias Laferte (which is the correct spelling) is President of the Communist Party of Chile, and that he attended the 1944 National Convention of the Communist Party of the United States of America held in New York City, in May, 1944, at which time the name of the organization was changed to the Communist Political Association.

The "Corporation Carp," mentioned in the translation of Laferte's speech, is apparently the Carp Export and Import Company, headed by Sam Carp, whose brother-in-law is Molotov, the Soviet Premier. (See the Dies Committee Report for extensive details on Carp.) The "Lombardo," mentioned frequently, is Vincento Lombardo Toledano, head of the Confederation of Latin-American Workers.

The translation of the editorial note preceding Elias Laferte's speech is as follows:

> "On the 18th of last May, somewhere in Mexico City, the most important leaders of National Communism, in company with other foreign comrades — Sokolov — among them — met mysteriously to bring to a close, by secret session, the Ninth Congress of the Communist Party of Mexico, which had been openly begun in the Palace of Fine Arts. The culminating speech was to be delivered by one of the most important Red Leaders of America, Lafferte, Chilean Deputy, invited to dictate assignments to the Mexican companions. Days earlier, another prominent Marxist figure — Sokolov — had explained how the sovietization of Mexico had been thoroughly studied and planned from Moscow ("Excelsior" Friday, June 16, first page). Lafferte went farther: He singled out Catholicism as the most formidable enemy of Communism in its struggle to get control of power in America, and in a sensational passage of his speech, he pointed out the methods which Communism must employ on this continent, to disparage first, and to destroy later, the religious forces which stand in the pathway of Moscow's Bolshevizing of America. One of the most important continental Communist leaders of European stock, Lafferte, explained what had been until now the political assumption for Marxism in America; what tactics must be used; what procedure must be followed to obtain in a brief time the control of a continent which—he explains—is found at the present time under the yoke of two imperialisms: the Catholic and the Anglo Saxon. After an intensive reporter effort Manana has secured the authentic documentation of the historic gathering of the 18th of May and presents in these following pages the opinions poured out by Lafferte, according to the stenographic version of the above mentioned closing session.
> "America—Mexico particularly—is on the point of receiving the blow!"

The article as it appears in Manana is titled "A Sensational Document, The Plan For The Sovietization of America." The English translation of the entire article follows:

> "C. Blas Manrique: Due to the absence of Comrade Livinson the lecture is postponed. Comrade Lafferte has the floor and will dictate his lecture as the final act of our Congress. It is requested that the comrades who have not yet received their stipend for expenses, will report to the offices of Licenciado (Attorney) Livinson in the Workers' University from 6 to 8 at night, bearing their corresponding receipts and expense accounts. It is requested of the comrades that before leaving the hall, they will come by and get their supplies of propaganda and final instructions for their respective zones. The comrades of the Federal District, Jalisco and Nuevo Leon, have been designated to accompany Comrades Lafferte, Duran and Davies Ben to the airport tomorrow when they will leave on urgent business for the United States. The delegates only, will accompany the Presidium on a courtesy visit to the high functionaries of Mexico—which was solicited and granted by them—the Generals Maximino Avila Camacho, Lazaro Cardenas, Antonio Villalobos; then all comrades must attend the banquet at Pena Montanese in honor of Comrade Lafferte. On the 19th and 20th, the secretary of the Party will receive and dispatch the Zone Chiefs dealing with local affairs. Comrade Lafferte now has the floor.

ADDRESS OF COMMUNIST LAFERTE

"C. Lafferte: In a few words, in order not to tire the Assembly's attention I shall refer to the general situation of the American Continent, of England, and of Russia, for what it is doing to our World Communist Party. To clarify concepts it is necessary to point out that the U. S. S. R., the government of Marshal Stalin continues faithful to the legitimate orientations which you have just listened to. She continues being faithful a hundred per cent, and it is not convenient among ourselves to attach any importance to the tactics of the fight which from time to time is promulgated from Moscow and other places controlled by Marxism, with the purpose of appeasing the distrust and suspicion of the capitalist system. In these moments in which the war effort of the United Nations must be harmonious in order to end the might of the Axis, the opportunities for the infiltration of Communism throughout the world are superb, not only the proletarian field, but also in the intellectual and cultural field, in the military field, in the field of finance and international commerce. In regard to the proletarian field, our base consists of the Union of Soviet Syndicates which maintains relations with some countries such as the Workers' Congress of England, the labor organizations of India, Australia, New Zealand, Africa, the C. I. O. of the United States, the Railroad Brotherhood of that country, and the C. T. A. L. in Latin America. Within these organizations the Communist units have a sufficient control to permit us to have hopes of triumph. If it is true that the English labor leader is not adapted to ideological orientation in our cause, we have in Hillman and in Lombardo two prominent authorities on this continent. In order to succeed in Latin America we have contingents in the General Federation of Labor organized in Argentina through councils and national federations of industry. We all know what the present situation in Argentina is, and for that reason it is clear to say nothing. But their Marxist chiefs have succeeded in escaping from the persecution of the government, and only a few of the most prominent have been taken prisoner as have been a few of the workers' leaders. Nevertheless the crisis which will be provoked by the Argentine expropriations by the Anglo Saxon governments will favor Communist infiltration. It is to be studied in the case of Argentine how hatred of the Anglo Saxons can be taken as an advantage in favor of our cause when they see they must fall under the domination of the Anglo-American arms. Other countries which have fallen under the influence of the present nationalistic

Argentine government are Paraguay, Peru, Bolivia, and in part the Government of Chile, my own country. Nevertheless all this wooden frame will crumble when the Argentina Government falls. The revolution which is being germinated under our direction and aid in those countries will be aided by the United States, England, and Brazil. The directive elements of the federation of workers in Paraguay are at present in exile because of the persecution dealt them by the new government, but there as in Bolivia we have succeeded in having the Anglo Saxon diplomacy not recognize the new government, placing it in the same position as Argentina. In Chile the Communist Party and the Federation of Labor work in open cooperation, and we take part in the government. Economic necessity has forced the Rios Government to recognize Argentina. Nevertheless, we have great hope that the very government of Rios will aid the communistic revolutions which will take place in those countries utilizing the above mentioned conditions. The case of Venezuela and Colombia, countries perfectly controlled by Anglo-American Imperialism, are difficult because there we do not, as yet, have the situation very well controlled. It has been necessary to insist that the present President of Colombia not renounce his office because new elections could be fatal for the liberal regime which permits the existence of the Communist Party. The Colombian Federation of Labor is organized by Communist councils and we have the control of the organization. Not so in Venezuela where the laws which have lately been promulgated are contrary to us; but are unable to make an open fight against the present government of Venezuela by virtue of the fact that it would signify our complete defeat in that country. In Ecuador we have organized the National Committee of Ecuadorian Labor which is in the phase of agitation and union propaganda. Also in Peru, there only exists a National Committee of Unification of Workers, formed by our units, but which has found a very strong resistance from government and the other social classes.

Communist International Intrigue

"The revolutions set for El Salvador have placed the plutocratic government on the alert, and I have information that the persecutions against our clubs have intensified. Notwithstanding, in the United States I shall utilize this information to get the Department of State, in Washington, to intervene in favor of our units, designating them as democratic revolutions struggling for democracy and in favor of the United Nations. The same gestures were successfully obtained here in Mexico, and we have been assured that Mexico will intervene in favor of revolutionists seized in Nicaragua, Puerto Rico, Dominican Republic, Peru, Ecuador, and Venezuela.

"In respect to Costa Rica the government will be organized by elements in sympathy with our ideology in union with President Picado P.; and the strengthening of our cause has been favored by the establishment of relations with the USSR. I consider it convenient to indicate that the activities of the units in all these republics of the South are being favored by the diplomatic activities of the Minister of Foreign Relations of the Government of Moscow, supported by the Department of State in Washington, and the Secretary of Foreign Relations in Mexico, because at the time of establishing diplomatic relations, the cultural missions, the commercial and financial missions which now have their main office in the embassy of Oumansky and in the financial offices of Corporation Carp and Agency Amtorg of Washington: and those which possibly may be installed in Canada favor the Communist infiltration in Latin America. As fighting tactics, there has been installed a branch of both agencies in Canada, in order to place in competition the American industrialists and business men against the industrialists and business men of the Federation of the British Nations. All the English business interests of Latin America will try to sell in the U. S. S. R. through the offices of Carp Corporation and Amtorg Agency of Canada. All North American interests will do the same in the respective offices in Washington. On the other hand, the financial, industrial, business Russian experts will travel throughout the American continent accompanied by Canadian, English and American financiers, business men and industrialists. Thus our work will be facilitated for controlling the countries of this continent.

Communist Infiltration

"With reference to the cultural tasks, the infiltration of units in the student masses of all countries will permit a sweep toward the Russian culture, supported by the diplomatic offices. The intellectuals, who by monetary necessity will accept collaboration with the Government offices of the USSR on this continent and with the newspaper agencies of our propaganda parties in all countries, also will give a cultural character to Communist infiltration. We have societies of friends of the USSR in Brazil, Colombia, Uruguay, Chile, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Mexico, the United States and Canada. The intellectual groups which are working in favor of the liberation of France, Germany, Poland, Spain, etc., also will become agents of our Cause as are those which are already organized.

Military and Religious Opposition to Communism

"Let it not be believed that the success which we have attained in the proletarian, cultural, and financial fields is placing triumph within our grasp. The military and religious organizations, the same as the capitalistic interests, are our strongest enemies. In Argentina and in Brazil, the military and the Catholics are strongly united in power. There, only the cultural and financial missions are working tranquilly in our favor. In Chile the military question is serious enough, although the religious is very weak. In Colombia, the reverse is true, the religious question is very strong and the military is almost in our favor. But, while in Brazil, Argentina, and Chile, the capitalist interests do not pay much attention to social struggles, in Colombia and in Venezuela where there are elements prepared for the struggle against our cause, we find interests alert to anything which signifies the infiltration of our ideology and they will fight us to the bloody finish. Of that we have proof by the way in which our comrade Lombardo has been treated in his visits to those countries. The press became enraged against him.

Nevertheless, at least as far as Colombia is concerned the Government is on our side. In the United States, Mexico, Cuba, Costa Rica the government sympathizes with our cause, and we can say that the military problem does not exist for us; but there does exist and in a form quite strong, the religious problem and the capitalist interest, especially the Anglo-American investments which have already permitted at their cost our triumphs. The capitalistic interests which are most against us are the petroleum interests of all continents, for they guard jealously against Communist infiltration. But we are opposing our enemies, in the first place the Democrats and the Republicans, since our tactics have always been to accuse the capitalists of being imperialists, whether they are or not; afterwards, we oppose the Socialist Democrat political parties and the labor unions. In many cases we have utilized the governments themselves, showing them the danger which can exist for the nation in which foreign enterprises, especially Anglo Saxon can take advantage of national wealth. These tactics have served us to place in a disadvantageous position throughout the American continent capitalistic Anglo-American investments. Now we have proceeded in the very government of Argentina in such a manner that some elements disguised as nationalist have succeeded in expropriating the Anglo-American interests. (laughter). It is true that many elements will consider that we have given arms to a totalitarian and Fascist enemy such as the present Argentina government; but it must be remembered that one of our fighting principles consists in attaining for the Latin American countries full economic and political economy, and in liquidating the semifeudal vestiges which characterize those Latin countries through the existence of Anglo-American interests which have always looked upon them as colonies. At the same time it is fitting to insist that we are obliged to provoke situations which can favor the expropriation of all enterprises which currently belong to the bosses, especially in a time of international crisis of those bosses whose nationality can be a future danger for our fighting program. It is for this reason, although it may seem an aberration, that the disappearance of English and North American capitalists from Latin America means a triumph for our cause, and in this way, we shall fulfill one of the postulates of the World Communist Party, which postulate is becoming synthetized also in one of the principles of the Campaign Program of the Federation of Workers in Latin America, when it says in its declaration No. III that: The Manual Laborers and the Intellectual Workers of Latin America declare that the principal task of the working class of Latin America consists in attaining full economic and political economy for the Latin American nations and in liquidating the semifeudal vestiges which characterize their countries, with the purpose of raising the economic, social, and moral conditions in which the great masses of the people are found. This declaration of principles which is fixed in the Postulates of our World Communist Party in the campaign program of the workers of Latin America must be explained in two parts: first, that on trying to point out that the principal task of the working class is to attain full economic and political autonomy, this means that the working class must liquidate the economic oppression which exists in each nationality; at this moment, those economic pressures on the Latin American countries are represented by Wall Street and by the City of London, for French and Spanish capital since it is not invested in the principal national wealth never will be a danger for the Communist movement nor for the workers' social movement; however, our attack must be, even though we are in favor of the United Nations' struggle against Hitler and Japan, our attack and our watchword in regard to Latin America must be to liquidate Anglo-American capitalism and to obtain full economic autonomy and with it full political autonomy. Later, when the State shall have expropriated for itself all those natural resources and all enterprises of the Anglo-American countries we shall take control of the State by means of political movements. In the second place, when our declaration of principles refers to liquidating the semi-feudal vestiges which characterize the Latin American countries, we are referring especially to the spiritual and political power of the Catholic Church, Apostolic and Roman. The more than 400 years of spiritual control of the people can not mean for us an easy overthrow of the Catholic Church which has always been characterized as an enemy of our Cause. Campaign tactics make it necessary for us to appear as sympathizers of Religion and even in the U.S.S.R. the Soviet Government has been itself obliged to ease up on religion.

Catholics Not Deceived by Communists

"But it is not possible that either we or the Catholics are deceived. It is very dangerous to make declarations of this nature in countries where the political and spiritual power of the Church is above the government, but in the case of Mexico, where the government is our ally, and where there have been bloody struggles with the Church, with the Church left in defeat, it is necessary to convert this country basically to the Communist and ideological socialist struggle against the Church.

The United States and Catholicism to Be Attacked

"In the course of my constant travels through Latin America, studying in detail the general problems and the problems of each nation which are obstructing us from reaching the triumph of our Communist cause, I have been fully convinced that these two are our worst enemies: (1) American capitalism which has dreams of imperialism and colonizing in South America; English capitalism which feels itself strongly supported by the war machinery of the imperialistic and totalitarian Federation of British Nations; and (2) the Catholic Church which has its strong control both spiritual and political over the majorities in each country, especially in the lower classes where we will have to displace the Catholic Church with the purpose of making proselytes to our cause.

"These two factors are our international and inter-American problems which we must attack. Already I have spoken of how capitalism must be displaced; also our illustrious comrade Sokolov has already explained our campaign tactics, making a brilliant comparison between the historic struggles of our Bolshevik Communist Party in Czarist Russia and our present and future struggle on this American continent in order to bring to an end socially the capitalist ideology, and to bring to a finish politically the governments which protect that capitalist ideology. It is necessary now to refer to the problem of the Catholic Church because it is not a problem of one single Latin-American nation but rather a problem of all this Continent, especially in the key countries, which are Mexico, Brazil, Argentina, Venezuela, and Colombia.

"We have explained that in Argentina the coalition of the military, or the capitalist, and Catholics are our principal enemy; we have explained that in Brazil the coalition equally tripartite of the Catholics, the military, and the capitalists are obstructing our path, in spite of the initial intentions of some of our elements and units which have infiltrated themselves into the intellectual and student class, just as there are some also among the workers and natives especially among the latter, who are perpetuating the brilliant memories of the famous acts of Carlos Prestes in his revolutionary march toward the high States. In Venezuela and in Colombia only the capitalists and the Catholics are confronting us, and the same is happening in Mexico. But here we have the resurgence of the Catholic spiritual power being sufficient to organize two parties which although they are not to be feared because of the insignificance of the personality of their leaders, they can present us future problems by which I consider that this chosen group of units and leaders of the Communist Party here gathered will review their knowledge of the weakness and defects of the spiritual power of the Catholic Church, and I hope that also you may be able to say you are increasing your knowledge of the same. In all my travels through the Continent I have been sharing my knowledge in lectures similar to the present, either in gatherings, or in watchword circles, with all our campaigners of each city, of each village, or each ranch large or small, of each Indian community, of each union, of each factory, of every city or rural school, of every university; let this knowledge be repeated in articles, bulletins, books, motion picture plots, plots of the legitimate stage, etc., all of you protecting yourselves by having it deal with advanced studies in science or civilization, of the future order, and for the good of learning and culture, as a struggle against ignorance, and as a struggle against fanaticism, for the good of the people.

Campaign Against the Catholic Church

"These watchwords I have divided in three parts, as follows: Roman Catholicism is essentially immoral; Roman Catholicism is idolatrous; and the Catholic Priesthood is an agent of immorality. It is urgent as campaign tactics that we infiltrate in the mind of the children, in the mind of the natives, in the mind of the workers, in the mind of the students, the worst accusations against the Catholic Church, in order that they draw away from her and enroll in our ranks as fervent sympathizers of the cause of the future of the world, which we ourselves must present as the cause of Communism protecting the cause of humanity. We must say that the system of iniquities, held, taught, and practiced by the Catholics, has no equal. It is audacious, aggressive, intolerant, and cruel, blind obstinate and blasphemous; nevertheless, it is also insidious, adaptable, and at times conciliatory; it is pompous, servile, royal, and a cheat. There is no other religion or philosophy which is launched on a task so tremendous of corruption, or universal degradation, no less.

"In the study of the Roman evil, one thing we must always keep in mind, the iron authority of the Pope, the theologians, and the saints. In Romanism the individual must give account to his masters, authorized in spite of the consequences, and the base of the Catholic system of morals rests on the iniquitous teachings and the immoral example of the saints, converting to that religion by a virulent code of laws, a priesthood that is wicked and a power bloodthirsty and cruel.

"We must say, shout, and insist that with a celibate priesthood, the Catholic leader never will be able to live a normal religious life, nor even a normal human life, and that it is impossible for him to set an example of good living. We must say and shout, we must insist that the plan of Romanism in the life of each country is to hold supremacy over the civil government in order to enslave all the inhabitants, and that in order to acquire that control over the civil government, it has to use fraud, deceit, and injustice; we must insist that the Catholic notion of universal dominion requires that its leaders adulate and protect these politicians who are ready to sell their soul, their honor for money and power; that the Romanists have taken on themselves the task of fighting free men in a manner most impious; that they can not alter that policy; the pretension that the salvation of the soul by which they deceive the inexpert, depends on ceremonies, and not on the faith of humanity gives rise to the discredit of morality in favor of the ritual; that the confession degrades the confessor and the penitent; that the channel of worldliness which passes continually through the mind and the heart of the Catholic priest, almost necessarily carries him to his corruption, insofar as his instructions relax the moral level of the devoted; that the necessity imposed by the confessional on the priest, of labeling and classifying sins according to superficial appearances brings him to all sorts of difficulties and contradictions. If the priest would allow that all powerful God, which they say exists (invention for fools), to take sole charge of his most delicate work, free from the bad practice of the spiritual quacks, a great number of difficulties would be spared and several million sick souls which the Catholics have sunk in darkness would have the opportunity to be cured. That the shame of having to confess ones sins to a corrupt man frequently results in a real sadness and humiliation plunging a free soul into inferiority complex, converting his life into an eternal suffering. That this is a shame especially in respect to women. That the theologians have elaborated a system of specious reasoning which is not only ridiculous and vile, but terribly corrupting. That the first frightful effect which the system produces is the corruption of the priests themselves. That the fact that they hide, evade, deny, and are infuriated when this said system of specious reasoning is exposed is clear evidence that they are already corrupted. That the system of specious reasoning is argued out because it is founded on the so-called notes of saintliness. That Catholicism must prevail or fall with its pretensions of saintliness and because its vaunted saintliness is only the blackest of evils. That the very fact that the Catholics give themselves free rein in their confusion on the revelations of the intrinsic evils of their doctrines constitutes a death clink for the impious Christian Catholic Church of Rome. That the ultimate plan of Romanism is not moral character or salvation from the power and exercise of sin, but salvation from a hell and an imaginary Catholic purgatory.

"We must add that it is not certain that Catholic theologians authorize universal evil; for example, they do not teach that every good Catholic has the privilege of stealing everything that he can lay hand on, that they have certain rules for robbery, and that everything must be practiced in accordance with these rules. Moreover, they do not hold that faithful Catholics can or must lie all the time; it must be for a worthy motive. That Catholic theologians will frown on a rash prevarication if it has no motive. But that these limitations serve double purpose: to establish the authority of the holy fathers as specialists in the art and science of lying and stealing, and at the same time they give a place to a vestige of conscience which even the Catholic spiritual guides cannot exterminate absolutely.

"We ought to say that if anyone doubts the practical effects of the Catholic system of immorality, he has only to observe the fanaticism, the pride, the obstinacy, the savage obduracy of the devout Catholics when confronted by genuine iniquities taught them by their leaders with ostentation of authority and with perfect clarity. It seems that the typical Catholic has some kink in the brain. This is his argument: Catholicism cannot contain any error; therefore, it has no error. Besides, if a thing is erroneous, it is not catholic, because Catholicism cannot teach error.

"The refined hypocrisy of the Popes and Bishops of Catholicism date from epochs quite remote. More than 200 said in substance the following: 'Another of the papal skills is that after having founded their own cause on so many falsehoods and having sustained them with so many lying allegations in order to make the people believe that we cultured and free men are liars and that nothing we say can be believed, they accuse us of slandering the priests and of bearing false witness to Catholics and for that reason no man must read our books and converse with us nor believe us well-intentioned. They forbid us free men from quoting their own Catholic writers, by teaching ignorant people to say that we are slandering them. Although we quote the book, the page, and the line and tell them that those books are printed in Rome and not in the French University or in the Sorbonne, and that they were written by Catholic writers, they do not believe us because the ignorant have been instructed from the pulpits to take us for liars and incapable of doing good. If we quote any one of the priests, they say we change or corrupt what they have said or that they do not say such a thing. If we show them the books published by their own doctors and licensed by their superiors and printed by the papists, they force the ignorant not to believe us, accusing us of falsification.'

"This situation which seems unreal, I have found in my journey throughout Latin America. I have had conversation with cultural elements which seem not to be contaminated by religious fanaticism, and in all seriousness they have wanted to oppose my ideas with these futile arguments. I have come across workers and farmers, women, comrades, and even professors, in whom one should expect a certain degree of culture. These were in Valparaiso, Buenos Aires, Quito, Antofogasta, and after listening to my lectures and after reporting them to the priests in the confessionals, instructed by the priests, they would approach me in all seriousness, and in blind faith ask me for the salvation of my soul, requesting that I stop slandering the poor old priests, that I cease corrupting their wholesome predictions, that I leave off counterfeiting their texts, stop attacking the Catholic Church and that with resigned repentance I go to ask pardon from the parish curate or district priest. What must be done with cases like these? Ignorance and credulity thus united on purpose are a brass wall opposed to our efforts. With what hope will we be able to speak to those who do not wish to hear us? Against that wall there are no other arms except tenacity and patience. Avoid brusk attitudes, persevere in faith, and work as if the obstinacies of those minds submerged in a fanatical lethargy did not strike us. Already I have said that it is no easy task to bring to an end a labor like the Catholic which has lasted 400 years in the soul and the mind of the people. Fortunately, utilizing books, schools and all propaganda facilities, infiltrating ourselves tenaciously in the fields, the unions, seeking out the Indian even to his refuge in the forest or on top of the mountains, entering the mind of the ignorant worker by means of bulletins, of books, of leaders' speeches, taking advantage of their economic struggles, we must little by little go killing in them the heritage of fanaticism which they received from their parents, from their grandparents and their great grandparents. Under the pretext of culture, of learning, of civilization, of philosophy, and of the modern sciences, we must launch attacks against religion.

"Fortunately for some time now there has been a change favorable to our plans. That is to say, one half of the Catholics of the world are more or less heretics. We must thank God for that. (Laughter).

"In addition to those Catholics more or less susceptible to our arguments, we have already a great number of free thinkers, of atheists who are very susceptible of falling in the ranks of our subordinates as Communists because now they have no religious defense.

"Our people ought to know that the extensive evil which is found among Catholics is not the incidental result of abuse of a good religion, but is a logical and necessary product of a religion whose heart is rotten. Some of the possible consequences of the Catholic moral theology would be tragic if they were not amusing. We take for example, the doctrine of venial sin in stealing. The Catholics give the rule that stealing, except what would be necessary to sustain the family one day, is a venial sin for one who falls thus a victim, and he goes to purgatory. (Laughter.) To steal more would be a mortal sin, for which the delinquent one would go to hell, and never would get out of there.

"Let us suppose that a good Catholic on a dark night steals and kills the goat of his neighbor in the belief that the animal is of ordinary breed; that the owner of the goat on the same night kills instantaneously the thief without giving him a chance to confess or to receive that extreme unction of which the innocents boast so much. (Laughter.) And let it be said that the goat was one of the finest Angoras, and that it had a value greater than that necessary to sustain for a day the family from which it was stolen. The poor but faithful Catholic would be eternally lost, but without his knowing it, and without having been able to repent before his priest. How would the village priests answer this problem? Surely they would be unable to decipher it. This has happened on many occasions. I set these simple examples before you because they are the best arms to cast doubt, among the Indians, the workers, and the ignorant. I suggest that you use simple examples like these, to sow doubt, because they are the ones that give the best results.

Communist Conquest of the World

"It is conspicuous that the governments of Catholic countries almost always are enemies of priests, because they know that they are perfectly imbued with the theories of the Jesuits. Their idea (the Jesuits) is that the Church is good although the priests are bad. The governors and the presidents of Mexico and other Latin American countries generally consider the Catholic priests as one of the greatest obstacles to the progress of education and morality. In Spain the same thing almost is true, in spite of the fact that Franco is considered one of the pillars of the Church; but the Jesuits consider him an enemy. In all South America there is sustained also the same ancient struggle of free men, of the laymen against the priests. The group of ignorant and degraded priests has much to do with the weakness and illiteracy of the American Indians and since the United States threw off the Spanish yoke, that country has demonstrated the superiority of democracy and socialism over those countries dominated by a conservative Catholicism and Jesuits. But, to conclude, I wish to point out a very special case which may come to our aid. The laws of the republics of this continent permit the freedom of worship. In this form it is convenient for our authorities to permit the entry into our countries of bodies of other religion, as the Mormons, the Angelicans, Protestants, Buddhists, Jews, Mohammedans. These sects are allowed to have their temples open and free. They will help us to sow confusion in the minds of the Indians and workers. They will help us to lose respect for religion. In this manner, little by little, we shall infiltrate our theories of positivism and individual and collective economy in order that the new generations will consider that all these religions are no more than garbage, and must be cleared away as soon as possible in order to permit a better life. It is suitable then, comrades, that we keep in mind these orientations in order that when you return to your zones, you may give instructions to your units on the form of combatting the power of the Catholic Church, assisting the rest; and that you may prepare yourselves for the crusade which must carry us to triumph. The road of salvation of Mexico only has one sure road. Let us prepare ourselves for Mexico and Latin America to be ready to play a dominant role in the future Communist conquest of the world. From this Nation let there go out the conquistadores (conquerors) to other countries less prepared. Let Mexico convert herself into a centrifugal force for all this continent; let Mexico be the country of freedom for the proletariat and the American Soviet. Let us launch from here the first shout of freedom, and on hearing this battle cry, this daring voice of our people, all the other peoples of America may run immediately, raising very high the red and black banner of social revindication. Our work is to aid, to aid more and more all those in the Americas who fight for our Cause, to integrate all their forces to the contribution of the struggle; to organize a great political movement of unity, which consolidated with the struggle of the people and the Communist Patriots, faithful to the Fatherland of the World Proletariat, faithful to the U. S. S. R., will impel us and draw us to that glorious happy day which is about to arrive; the radiant day of liberation for all the World which will arrive with the overthrow of capitalism. Comrades, cheerio! (Applause and shouts.)''

WRITERS' CONGRESS AT U. C. L. A.

In late August of 1943, under the auspices of the University of California at Los Angeles and the Hollywood Writers' Mobilization, a letter signed by Marc Connelly and Ralph Freud as co-chairmen of the Congress Committee, announced a Writers' Congress to be held at Royce Hall, University of California, on the Los Angeles campus, October 1, 2 and 3, 1943. The fee for the entire Congress, including public meetings, general meetings, lectures, panels and seminars, was set at $5, payable in advance.

A superficial investigation of the project soon disclosed its Communist inspiration and guidance. Every precaution had been taken in an attempt to disguise the purpose of the Congress and the Communists had gone further than usual in ''window dressing'' its committees. Many of the names included in the Congress and advisory committees were ''innocents,'' clearly unaware of the Communist origin and purpose of the Congress. NonCommunist news commentators and radio personalities, blissfully ignorant of the nature and character of the proposed Congress, were snagged under one pretense or another into permitting their names to be used in advertising the Congress. The chairman of the Joint Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities checked with one such individual who expressed amazement when he was told that his name was included on the printed letterhead as a member of the advisory committee.

The letter is as follows:

''DEAR WRITER: The Writers Congress on the Los Angeles Campus of the University of California will conduct a search for greater usefulness and will seek to establish firmer international understanding of democratic objectives by professional writers in all media.

The Congress is being organized by joint committees of the University of California and the Hollywood Writers Mobilization. The latter was formed immediately after Pearl Harbor to channel the war efforts of the eight writers' guilds of the West Coast. It cooperates constantly with our armed services, the Red Cross, the O. W. I. and other governmental agencies, as well as many non-political, civilian organizations requiring professional writing for motion pictures, the radio, newspapers and magazines, camp shows, etc.

Writers must understand recent enormous changes in techniques as well as basic social and political concepts if they are to communicate the virtues of these changes and expose their faults. The Congress offers its facilities for such an understanding.

The speakers and leaders of discussions in the panels and seminars will be outstanding writers from all the United Nations. Many will represent governmental and semi-governmental agencies. Others of international distinction will speak only for themselves.

The Invitations Committee hopes you will be able to participate. We have therefore enclosed an application card for your convenience. If you will be kind enough to fill this out and return it to the Congress Committee officers, your name will be registered. Further details of the Congress Agenda are being forwarded to you.

Sincerely,

(Signed) MARC CONNELLY
RALPH FREUD
Co-chairmen, Congress Committee"

The following names were printed on the letterhead as members of the Congress Committee:

Marc Connelly,
Francis Edwards Faragoh,
Gustave Arlt,
Bill Blowitz,
Richard Collins,
Franklin Fearing,
Paul Franklin
Sheridan Gibney,
Talbot Jennings,
Howard Koch,
John Howard Lawson,
Melvin Levy,
Alfred E. Longueil,
Milton Merlin,
Joseph Mischel,
Sam Moore,
Arch Oboler,
William Oliver,
H. R. Reynolds,
Allen Rivkin,
Robert Rossen,
Zachary Schwartz,
Ralph Freud,
Sidney Buchman,
Fox Case,
William Dozier,
John B. Hughes,
Joris Ivens,
Stephen Longstreet,
Kenneth MacGowan,
Mary C. McCall, Jr.,
William Morris, Jr.
Dudley Nichols,
Carl Sandburg,
Dore Schary,
Arthur Schwartz,
Robert G. Sproul,
Rex Stout,
Lamar Trotti,
Walter Wanger,
Walter White,
Pauline Lauber Finn,
Jane Mead.

The guilds participating in the Hollywood Writers Mobilization, under the chairmanship of Robert Rossen, were listed as follows:

Screen Writers Guild,	Screen Cartoonists Guild,
Radio Writers Guild,	American Newspaper Guild,
Screen Publicists Guild,	Independent Publicists,
Screen Readers Guild,	Song Writers Protective Assn.

Although the "window" for the Writers' Congress "front" was carefully dressed, a number of the persons acting as "committeemen" were known. Francis Edward Faragoh is a prominent member of the left-wing group of Hollywood and promotes the cause of the Soviet Union and meets with Soviet visitors in Los Angeles. Richard Collins was registered as a Communist in Los Angeles in 1936 from 2106 North Las Palmas Avenue. The "People's Daily World" for August 30, 1941, announced that Collins was one of the sponsors for a state-wide conference on civil rights to be held in San Francisco September 27, 1941, protesting the "Tenney Committee and the Tenney bill outlawing the Communist Party." Paul Franklin was the executive secretary of the National Radio Writers' Guild in New York in January of 1942. Howard Koch was reported by the "People's Daily World" (June 26, 1943) as the author of the screen version of Davies' book "Mission to Moscow." He presented his views on the authenticity of the film at a League of American Writers (Communist front organization) symposium on Sunday, June 27, 1943, in Hollywood. William Oliver was the dramatic editor of the "Los Angeles Herald" in 1940. He was said to be a member of Unit 140 of the Professional Section of the Communist Party when Rena Vale was a member of that Unit. He was also a member of the Communist fraction of the Newspaper Guild. (See pages 153 and 154 of the report of the Joint Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities in California for 1943.) Allen Rivkin is a Hollywood left-wing writer. He was a member of the Anti-Nazi League. His name has been used from time to time for "window-dressing" Communist front organizations and activities.

Sidney Buchman is a screen writer and a member of the Screen Writers' Guild. He was announced as a signer for the Third American Writers' Congress in "Direction" magazine for May-June, 1939. Joris Ivens is reported to have made documentary films in Spain and China which were distributed and exhibited through Communist Party channels in California and the United States. Dudley Nichols was the President of the Writers' Guild in Hollywood in 1938. His name was carried on the letterhead of the Hollywood Anti-Nazi League for the Defense of American Democracy (Communist front organization) as a sponsor in May of 1939. He is a Hollywood screen writer. On January 21, 1940, he was a sponsor for the Conference for Democratic Action in Fresno. He has permitted his name to be used for various Communist front organizations and activities from time to time and has taken part in many Communist dominated programs. In 1941 he was a sponsor of the Citizens Committee for Harry Bridges. In May of 1941, he signed a call for the Fourth American Writers' Congress.

The committee and Communist Party members consider John Howard Lawson one of the most important Marxist strategists in Southern California. Rena M. Vale (former Communist Party member), stated that she knew Lawson as a member of the Communist Party fraction of the Screen Writers' Guild in Hollywood. Miss Vale stated that he had given advice on the Communist Party program in the writing of the play, "Sun Rises in the West." He wrote the screen play "Blockade" which advanced the Communist Party line. John Leech, former secretary of the Communist Party for Los Angeles County, testified before the Los Angeles County Grand Jury (94369; 8-15-40) that Lawson had been sent from New York to Hollywood by the Central Committee of the Communist Party in company with V. J. Jerome (Isaac Romaine), a member of the Communist Party National Committee. Lawson had immediately become active in Hollywood Study Clubs and in the Communist fraction of studio unions, particularly in the Screen Writers' Guild. Leech stated that Lawson had met Communist Party members at the home of Communists Davida and Fred Franchi. In May of 1937 Lawson was reported as Secretary of the American office for Technical Aid to Spanish Democracy. He became a dominant figure in Communist Party drama groups and attended Communist Party fraction meetings in New York and Hollywood. He was one of the sponsors of the Citizens Committee for the Defense of Harry Bridges and a frequent speaker for the League of American Writers. He signed the call for the Fourth American Writers' Congress. He was an instructor in the American League Writers' School and became Vice President of the League of American Writers' Congress. In the fall elections of 1942 he appeared in a paid advertisement in the Los Angeles Times as an endorser of La Rue McCormick, Communist candidate for election to the State Senate. He answered attacks on the film "Mission to Moscow" before the League of American Writers.

HISTORY OF COMMUNIST PARTY WRITERS' CONGRESSES

The Revolutionary Writers' Federation was the American Section of Moscow's Communist "International Union of Revolutionary Writers" (of the International Bureau of Revolutionary Literature). The Workers' Cultural Federation was an outgrowth of this organization, in reality, an amalgamation of Communist revolutionary cultural groups composed of at least 130 societies. The Revolutionary Writers' Federation included the John Reed Club writers' group, Proletpen, Hungarian Proletarian Writers', Worker Correspondence Association, Japanese Cultural Federation, Finnish Cultural Federation, Lithuanian Literary Dramatic Club, Jack London Club, Pen and Hammer Club and Student Review. The Workers' Cultural Federation adopted the slogan "Toward an American Revolution." On November 15, 1930, the Second Conference of the International Union of Revolutionary Writers was held in Kharkov, Russia. The American delegates were instructed to form a National organization of revolutionary writers and artists upon their return to the United States. (Daily Worker, December 6, 1930.) Among the American delegates at this conference were Fred Ellis, Michael Gold, William Gropper, Joshua Kunitz, A. B. Magil and Harry Allan Potamkin.

Pursuant to the directives of the Kharkov Conference, a meeting was held in New York City on June 14, 1931, out of which emerged the Workers' Cultural Federation. An honorary Presidium was elected, among whom were Maxim Gorki and N. Krupskaya (Lenin's widow), U.S.S.R.; Ludwig Renn of Germany; Henri Barbusse of France; Tomas of Hungary; Lo Hsun of China and Theodore Dreiser, John Dos Passos, Upton Sinclair and William Z. Foster of the United States. William Gropper, Alexander Trachtenberg (Communist Workers' Library publisher), R. B. Glassford, Michael Gold, K. Marmor, J. Shafer, A. B. Magil, Harry Allen Potamkin and T. H. Li, a Chinese Communist, (held at that time for deportation), were elected to an active Presidium. Headquarters for the organization was established at 63 West 15th Street, New York City. The John Reed Club and "New Masses" magazine were at the same address and it was designated by the "New Masses" as "The first American Revolutionary Center."

A cablegram from Moscow was read at the June 14, 1931, conference which said, in part:

> "International Union Revolutionary Writers Welcomes Launching of Federation Workers' Cultural Organizations America Stop . . . Before Federation Stands Task of Creating Proletarian Culture in Womb of Capitalist System Stop Launching Federation Is Most Significant Event in History American Revolutionary Culture," etc.

Whitaker Chambers, Charles Yale Harrison, Melvin P. Levy, Harry Alan Potamkin and K. Wallace were among the American writers serving on the 1932 staff of the International Union of Revolutionary Writers.

In August of 1932, "Literary Service," edited by Keene Wallis of the John Reed Club, made its appearance as a monthly publication of the International Union of Revolutionary Writers. Indicative of the type of "cultural literature" is the following poem by the Communist Negro poet, Langston Hughes:

Goodbye Christ

"Listen, Christ,
You did alright in your day, I reckon—
But that day's gone now.
They ghosted you up a swell story too,
Called it Bible—
But its dead now.
The popes and the preachers've
Made too much money from it.
They've sold you to too many.

"Kings, generals, robbers and killers—
Even to the Czar and the Cossacks,
Even to Rockefeller's church,
Even to The Saturday Evening Post.

You ain't no good no more.
They've pawned you
Till you've done wore out.
"Goodbye,
Christ Jesus Lord God Jehova,
Beat it on away from here now.
Make way for a new guy with no religion at all—
A real guy named
Marx, Communist Lenin, Peasant Stalin, Worker Me—

"I said, Me!

"Go ahead on now,
You're getting in the way of things, Lord.
And please take Saint Ghandi with you when you go,
And Saint Pope Pius,
And Saint Aimie McPherson,
And big black Saint Becton
Of the Consecrated Dime.
And step on the gas, Christ!
Move!
Don't be so slow about movin'!
The world is mine from now on—
And nobody's gonna sell Me
To a king, or a general,
Or a millionaire."

American writers serving on the 1933 staff of the International Union of Revolutionary Writers, included Upton Sinclair, Michael Gold, A. Magil, John Dos Passos, Emjo Basshe, Walter Carmon, Theodore Dreiser, Fred Ellis, Ed Falkowski, Joseph Freeman, Josephine Herbst, Langston Hughes, Joseph Kalar, Joshua Kunitz, Louis Lozowick, Norman MacLeod, Myra Page, Horace Gregory, Agnes Smedley, Mary Heaton Vorse, Jack Conroy, John Hermann and Herman Spector.

The John Reed Clubs were named in honor of the so-called "first American Communist," John Reed. These clubs were affiliates of the International Union of the Revolutionary Theatre and a section of the Communist International Union of Revolutionary Writers. The New York John Reed Club, formerly at 430 6th Avenue, organized the Workers' Cultural Federation with which all John Reed branches were affiliated.

THE FIRST AMERICAN WRITERS' CONGRESS AND THE BIRTH OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WRITERS

The call for the first American Writers' Congress suggested the formation of the League of American Writers and boldly stated that the organization to be formed would be "affiliated with the International Union of Revolutionary Writers." It declared that the Congress "Will provide technical discussion of the literary applications of Marxist philosophy and of the relations between critic and creator."

The objective of the Congress was further stated in the proceedings: "We believe such a Congress should create the League of American Writers, affiliated with the International Union of Revolutionary Writers. In European countries the International Union of Revolutionary Writers is in the vanguard of literature and political action."

The "call" was signed by the following:

Nelson Algren,
Arnold B. Armstrong,
Nathan Asch,
Maxwell Bodenheim,
Thomas Boyd,
Earl Browder,
Bob Brown,
Fielding Burke,
Kenneth Burke,
Robert Coates,

It will be noted that John Howard Lawson and Melvin Levy were listed as signing the call for the First Writers' Congress in New York City. Both men have been active in subsequent Writers' Congresses and appear as members of the committee for the Writers' Congress which was held on the Los Angeles Campus of the University of California, October 1, 2 and 3, 1943.

The committee is in possession of a photostatic copy of the proceedings of the First American Writers' Congress. The most naive spectator and quarter-witted participant of this first Writers' Congress could not have been deceived as to its Communist revolutionary character.

A report by Moissaye J. Olgin, author of "Why Communism?" (one of the most inflammatory and revolutionary pieces of modern Communist literature in existence), was read to the Congress. The report was on the First All-Union Congress of Soviet Writers, and glorified Karl Radek and Nikolai Bukharin, old Bolsheviks who were "liquidated" by Stalin's purge in 1937-38.

Joseph Freeman, under the heading "The Tradition of American Revolutionary Literature," stated:

> "These ideas were prevalent in left-wing literary circles in this country in the early twenties. During the boom period, many intellectuals who had allied themselves with the workers under the impact of the war and the October Revolution, were absorbed into the then prosperous middle classes. A small group of left-wing writers, influenced by the Communist movement as their predecessors had been influenced by the socialist and syndicalist movements, agitated for a revolutionary art and literature in America. Conditions imposed upon them a task which was primarily propagandistic, educational, organizational. They wrote, lectured and organized with a view to circulating basic Marxian ideas in literature. They founded the New Masses, the Theatre Union, the New Theatre, Partisan Review, the John Reed Clubs, the Film and Foto League; they taught literature in the Workers' School and wrote about it in the Daily Worker, partly to acquaint the workers with contemporary literature, partly to acquaint writers with the viewpoint of the workers and its significance for culture in general and literature in particular. They developed young poets, critics, journalists and novelists who subsequently did creative work of distinction. They published and encouraged revolutionary writers not only in New York, but also in the Middle West, the Coast, the South, among them talented Negro writers like Langston Hughes and Eugene Gordon. In doing so, they were not—as their enemies said—importing a Russian idea imposed upon them by the Kremlin. They were developing in their own country an international idea as old as the proletarian party—an idea that had its own specific American traditions."

John Howard Lawson and Waldo Frank were dominant figures in the Congress. Clarance Hathaway was, at the time of the Congress, editor of the Communist Party New York publication, the Daily Worker. Hathaway was enthusiastic about the Congress and expressed himself in the following language:

> "I greet this Congress of writers in the name of the entire staff of the Daily Worker. From the outset of the preparations of your Congress the Daily Worker has given the closest attention to preliminaries required to bring together the cream of American writers. We have run all of the advanced material on the Congress, and many articles dealing with it, and the action it must take to advance the struggle against war and Fascism. The Daily Worker did so, because, as the organ of the Communist Party of the United States, it was conscious that we must not only win the overwhelming mass of the American workers and farmers for the revolutionary position, but that the writer, the intellectual generally, and the middle class, must be made active allies of the working class in its struggle against Capitalism."

Congratulatory telegrams and cablegrams were received from leading Communists. Karl Radek sent the following cablegram from Russia:

"We, the Congress of Soviet Writers, extend our brotherly hand to all of the writers who are on the road toward us, no matter how far they still are from us, and if only we see in them a will and a wish to help the working class in its struggle to help the Soviet Union. We say to them: the best aid you can render us will be that you place yourselves shoulder to shoulder with the working class of your country, with its revolutionary minority."

Waldo Frank was so enthusiastic that he imagined the "revolution" right around the corner. Speaking on the "Values of the Revolutionary Writer," he declares:

"My premise and the premise of the majority of writers here assembled is that Communism must come, and must be fought for. If a writer doubts this, I doubt he is an artist; and I doubt he is a Marxist. If we believe that Communism is the organic next step of the world to be released by freeing the world's forces of wealth, we must believe in the art of revealing man's depths which bear this destiny. We will embody in our work the substance of life; the blood, the bone, the eye, the conscious embrace of necessity whose child is freedom—knowing that insofar as we create this truth, we are moving, and moving those who hear us, toward the Revolution."

Edwin Seaver discussed the "Proletarian Novel," and in attempting to distinguish between his subject and its bourgeois prototype, he broke down and came to cases. "What are we here for?" he cried. "What do we believe in? The fight against war and fascism? True enough. But this is largely a negative statement. Are we not here because we believe in forming a new and Communist ideology within the shell of the old and decaying capitalist society, because we seek the way out of capitalist anarchy toward that socialist order which is now in the process of construction in the Soviet Union, because in essence we subscribe to the Marxian revolutionary analysis of historical change?"

As might well be expected, Earl Browder, Secretary of the Communist Party of the United States, was one of the speakers. He said, in part:

"Writers who are coming into this cultural stream are traditionally not interested in political life and problems. In their vast majority they are skeptical of all political parties, if not contemptuous. They find, however, in the new life in which they participate, there is a political party which plays an increasingly influential role, the Communist Party. They find it necessary to define their attitude toward this Party which actively participates in their chosen world. They see that this Party is a force in fine literature, as well as in strikes, in unemployment struggles, in battling for Negro rights, even in a reactionary Congress where it rallied through mass pressure 52 votes for the Workers' Insurance Bill without having a single Communist congressmen—as yet. Yes, the Communist Party is a force, in every phase of life of the masses, even that of poets, dramatists, novelists and critics.'

"We are all of us bound together, forced to work out our common problems collectively, by the menace of a common enemy which threatens to destroy everything that we hold dear. The fight against reaction, against fascism in the inner life of nations and against imperalist war internationally, is our common bond . . . We are not alone. We have brothers in every land. We have a mighty stronghold in this battle, in the land where socialism is being built, where a new culture is blossoming—the Soviet Union. This fortress against reaction is at this time our greatest protection against the wave of reaction sweeping the world. We must protect it as it protects us. . . .

"It is with these thoughts that the Communist Party greets this historic Congress of American Writers. We are all soldiers, each in our own place, in a common cause. Let our efforts be united in fraternal solidarity."

Langston Hughes, already referred to, called for immediate violent revolution in verse. His contribution is as follows:

Revolution

"Great mob that knows no fear
Come here!
And raise your hand
Against this man
Of iron and steel and gold
Who's bought and sold
You
Each one
For the last thousand years.

"Come here,
Great mob that knows no fear,
And tear him from limb to limb,
Slit his golden throat
Ear to ear,
And end his time forever
Now—
This year—
Great mob that knows no fear."

Eugene Clay, in "The Negro in Recent American Literature," states that Richard Wright's poem "I Have Seen Black Hands" is one of the finest poems that has appeared in the "New Masses". It is partly as follows:

"I am black and I have seen black hands
Raised in fists of revolt, side by side with the white fists of white workers,
And some day—and it is only this which sustains me—
Some day there shall be millions and millions of them,
On some red day in a burst of fists on a new horizon!"

Moishe Nadir, following the Communist line of the day, placed President Roosevelt and Hitler side by side as hirelings of the "war-mongers." "The proletarian writer of today," he declared, "must above all unceasingly call attention to the fact that the old war-mongers of the Stinnes, Morgan, Deterding, DuPont and Krupp stamp, as well as their hirelings, Wotan, Hitler, Father Coughlin, Brother Roosevelt, are once more plotting to rid themselves of the 'over-production' of laboring men, by dumping them into the hell fires of the coming imperialist war, a most 'convenient' way, no doubt, of liquidating the contradictions inherent in capitalist economy." Comrade Nadir insisted that they all love America. "Above all," he said fervently and in italics, "We love America as one of the most beautiful flowers in the bouquet of the world Soviets of tomorrow."

John Howard Lawson kept the proceedings moving toward the predetermined objective. He reminded the assembled writers "that detailed technical analysis is the most urgent need of Marxist criticism." He was aware that the revolution was not quite as close as Waldo Frank believed, and that Communist Party strategists had much yet to accomplish. The organization of the League of American Writers was the principle objective of the First American Writers' Congress. When this momentous event had taken place Lawson reminded the delegates of the work ahead. "This is a very solemn moment," he said. "Exciting and stimulating and important as the proceedings of this Congress have been, we now enter on a much more serious task—the actual carrying out of the permanent development and growth of the Congress. I think that if there is one thing more than anything else that has been impressibly demonstrated at these meetings, it is the depth and breadth and magnitude of the tasks of the working class, of the Revolutionary movement."

When the applause of the final session died down, James Farrell arose and suggested the singing of the International. The concluding sentence of the photostatic copy of the report of the proceedings in the possession of the committee states that: "This was done."

The League of American Writers was born. Before the final session of the First Writers' Congress came to a close, Jack Conroy announced to the delegates that the nominating committee had named for its head,

Waldo Frank. The nomination was unanimously approved. The executive committee elected is as follows:

Kenneth Burke,
Malcolm Cowley,
Joseph Freeman,
Henry Hart,
Granville Hicks,
Alfred Kreymborg,
Albert Maltz,
Edwin Seaver,
Alexander Trachtenberg,
Harold Clurman,
Waldo Frank,
Michael Gold,
Josephine Herbst,
Matthew Josephson,
John Howard Lawson,
Isidar Schneider,
Genevieve Taggard,

National Council was then elected composed of the following:

Nelson Algren,
Maxwell Bodenheim,
Michael Blankfort,
Van Wyck Brooks,
Sterling Brown,
Alan Calmer,
Harry Carlisle,
Merle Colby,
Edward Dahlberg,
James T. Farrell,
Angel Flores,
Robert Herrick,
Orrick Johns,
Tillie Lerner,
Robert Morss Lovett,
Lewis Mumford,
Clifford Odets,
Joseph Opatoshu,
Rebecca Pitts,
George Sklar,
Lincoln Steffens,
Richard Wright,
Fielding Burke,
Robert Cantwell,
Eugene Clay,
Jack Conroy,
Leonard Ehrlich,
Kenneth Fearing,
Horace Gregory,
Sidney Howard,
Joshua Kunitz,
Meridel Le Sueur,
Grace Lumpkin,
Moishe Nadir,
M. J. Olgin,
Paul Peters,
William Rollins, Jr.,
Agnes Smedley,
James Waterman Wise.

The first American Writers' Congress became a thing of the past as the last note of the "International" faded away, a memorable milestone in the Red history of the United States. The League of American Writers carried on the work of the Congress, calling new Congresses as often as Communist Party strategy demanded. The second American Writers' Congress was held in 1937. The same Communist influences and domination were present at its sessions.

The Third Congress was held in New York City June 2, 3, 4, 1939. The call was signed by the following:

Benjamin Appel,
Newton Arvin,
Helen Merrell Lynd,
Kenneth Fearing,
Arthur D. Ficke,
Millen Brand,
Joseph Freeman,
Mauritz Hallgren,
Dorothy Parker,
Van Wyck Brooks,
Genevieve Taggard,
Dubose Heyward,
Erskine Caldwell,
Katherine G. Chapin,
Alfred Kreymborg,
John Wexley,
Muriel Rukeyser,
Vida D. Scudder,
Edwin Seaver,
John Howard Lawson,
Donald Ogden Stewart,
Viola Brothers Shore,
Guy Endore,
Henry Pratt Fairchild,
Albert Bein,
Bruce Minton,
Ruth McKenney,
Marjorie Fischer,
Harvey O'Connor,
S. J. Perelman,
Leland Stowe,
Frederick Prokosch,
Lorine Pruette,
Samuel Putnam,
W. L. River,
Jess Kimbrough,
Humphrey Cobb,
Lester Cohen,
Ella Winter,
Richard Wright,
Stanley Young,
Leane Zugsmith,
Meyer Levin,
Nora Benjamin,
Francis Faragoh,
Tess Slessinger,
Philip Stevenson,
Carey McWilliams,
Irving Stone,
Dorothy Brewster,
Henry Hart,
Sidney Buchman,
Frank Tuttle,
Jean Starr Untermeyer,
Ralph Roeder,
Arthur Kober,
Malcolm Cowley,
George Dillon,

James Thurber,
Lillian Hellman,
Kenneth Burke,
Eugene Holmes,
Louis Untermeyer,
Carl Van Doren,
Harold J. Rome,
Joshua Kunitz,
David Lamson,
Jesse Lasky, Jr.,
Irwin Shaw.

Waldo Frank was myteriously absent from the Third American Writers' Congress. Eugene Lyons, in his book The Red Decade, clears up the mystery. "As a footnote to the story," says Mr. Lyons, "I offer in exhibit Mr. Waldo Frank. When Mr. Frank exchanged his private mysticism for the fashionable mysticism of the Muscovite aberration, he was hailed as a hero in the Communist press. He was made chairman of one of the principal planets in Stalin's solar system, the League of American Writers. All went well until the Soviet bloodletting touched Mr. Frank's conscience. He wrote a letter to the New Republic suggesting an international labor and socialist inquiry into the whole matter. Immediately his services to the cause were forgotten and his name was mud. He had committed the deadly sin of doubting. When the next American Writers' Congress foregathered, he was mysteriously missing. Let the innocent literati who continued to claim that the League and its Congresses were independent, explain the technique by which Waldo Frank was eliminated after his slip, and his place taken by one of Hollywood's best, Donald Ogden Stewart."

The first Pacific Congress of "American Writers," a direct attempt of the Communist League of American Writers to extend the original plan to West Coast left-wing writers, was held in San Francisco October 23, 24, 25, 1936. Using the same technique as that so successfully used in the First American Writers' Congress, the Pacific Coast Congress gave birth to the Pacific Coast branch of the League of American Writers. This branch was headed by Carey McWilliams and Clara Weatherwax. Haakon Chevalier was reported as one of the most active members of the Committee in San Francisco.

The Hitler-Stalin Pact, the rape of Poland and the Soviet invasion of Finland created a furious retreat of literary "innocents," parlor-pinks and cocktail revolutionaries who had permitted their names to be used for the Calls of the Writers Congresses. As a result the Fourth Congress, held in New York early in June of 1941, was a dismal affair, attended only by such stalwarts as Donald Ogden Stewart, Dashiell Hammett, John Howard Lawson and Dudley Nichols. Orson Welles and a number of obscure writers were recruited for this Congress by Communist scouts after much barrel-scraping. The dubious "Oscar" of leadership of the League of American Writers passed from Donald Ogden Stewart to Dashiell Hammett.

Alexander Trachtenberg has been a Communist functionary since the Communist Party was organized in the United States in 1919. John Howard Lawson is considered something more than a mere "functionary" of the Communist Party. He is held in reverential awe by ordinary Communist Party members. Alexander Trachtenberg, head of the Workers' Library Publishers, Inc., is regarded as the leader of the agit- prop (agitational propaganda) division of the American Communist Party.

COMMUNIST RIGHT-ABOUT FACE

The sixth period of Communist strategy in the United States was launched in a cloud of confusion June 22, 1941. American Communist strategists were in a dither attempting to adjust their Marxian spectacles for a peep into the crystal ball of world events for a "scientific" and "materialistic" interpretation of history. They were pathetically bewildered until directives arrived from the oracle in Moscow's Kremlin. The Leninistic "sharp turn" was not only "sharp" and breath-taking; it was practically a hair-pin turn. Many of the Comrades bringing up the rear were nearly stomped to death as the "vanguard of the proletariat" executed the death-defying maneuver. It took a little time to reform the ragged ranks of the confused proletariat and to restore order and discipline. New names, costumes and credentials had to be prepared. It ordinarily takes time to change from the role of a wild-eyed revolutionist, mobilizing inferiority-complexed literary men for red hack-writing, to an American patriot mobilizing the literati for its war efforts against a common enemy. John Howard Lawson, Alexander Trachtenberg and the hierarchy of Communist strategists were equal to the task. Once the program was formulated, new names supplied and credentials cleverly manufactured, "innocents," fellow-travelers and trembling opportunists were easily found. It would be done with Hollywood trappings, at a State institution of higher learning and to the strains of the Star Spangled Banner instead of the International. Stalinistic "power-plays", Leninistic "sharp-turns", Marxist dialectic and the materialistic interpretation of history would be subtly explained and reconciled under the benevolent noses of naive "progressive" professors while the "capitalistic" press paid tribute and homage to the Hollywood setting for the launching of the new Communist "line."

John Howard Lawson was not quite so skillful with the Joint Fact-Finding Committee as he is reputed to be with Communist devotees. He testified that he had come from New York City and that he had resided in Southern California for approximately 15 years. He admitted attending the First Writers' Congress in New York in 1935, that he had spoken at some of its sessions, contributed articles and that he had been acquainted with Alexander Trachtenberg for many years. When asked whether or not he had ever heard of the Second Conference of the International Union of Revolutionary Writers at Kharkov, Russia, he replied: "I have heard it mentioned in relation to certain charges made by this committee in regard to the Writers' Congress in 1943." The answer might have been cleverly evasive if the photostatic copies of the proceedings of the First Writers' Congress in possession of the committee did not reveal that the League of American Writers, to be created by the Congress, was to be "affiliated with the International Union of Revolutionary Writers." Lawson had signed the call. He stated that he had probably met Clarence Hathaway but that he could not place him at the time of testifying. This "evasiveness" might have been successfully practiced on the members of the committee if it had not been in possession of documentary evidence that Lawson was a staff writer on the New York Daily Worker, East Coast Communist publication, at the time that Clarence Hathaway edited the publication. His memory conveniently failed him at times.

> " * * * Do you recall that the congress," Mr. Combs asked, "the one we were talking about, closed with the singing of the International—or did it?"
> "I have no idea," Mr. Lawson replied. "I presume it did, but I don't know."
> "Why do you presume it did?"
> "Because I also saw some charges that were made by this committee previously in which the statement was made, and I assumed you had some basis for the statement. It is very likely true."

The official proceedings of the Congress (p. 12) concludes with the following: "When the applause died down James Farrell arose and suggested that the Congress conclude its final session by singing the International. This was done."

Lawson admitted knowing James Farrell for approximately 12 years.

Lawson admitted that he was familiar with the League of American Writers and that it had been created by the First American Writers'

Congress. He stated that he was a member of the National Executive Committee and that at the time of testifying (1944) he was serving in the capacity of national vice-president, which office he had held for six or seven years.

Carl Winter was chairman of the Communist Party of Los Angeles County until the party changed its name to the Communist Political Association of California. When the change was effected Winter held a comparable office in the "Association" and Max Silver became secretary. Lawson admitted being acquainted with both Winter and Silver. He had been a guest, together with Max Silver and others, at Carl Winter's birthday party. Lawson had no desire to stress his association with these official functionaries of the Communist Party. (Com. Tr., Vol. XXIII, pp. 150-151):

> Q. By Combs: Did you ever meet with Silver and Mr. Winter on any other occasions?
> A. Not that I recall, no.
> Q. It is possible you may have met with them and forgotten?
> A. I may have met them in certain social gatherings, but I don't remember it.
> Q. Around at people's houses from time to time you may have met them?
> A. It's possible. It was so casual I have forgotten it.
> Q. You have known each of them for approximately the same period of time, have you?
> A. Yes.

HOLLYWOOD WRITERS' MOBILIZATION

As heretofore reported by the committee, the Japanse attack at Pearl Harbor December 7, 1941, supplied the impetus for Communist strategy made necessary by Germany's attack on Soviet Russia in June of that year. For the first time a Communist slogan meant something to American ears. "Unity" in the war effort for victory made sense and the Communist Party launched the slogan fully cognizant that it gave them a supreme advantage in revised strategy. Under this convenient guise of "unity" Communist Party functionaries went to work on the creation of a series of new "front" groups. The Hollywood Writers' Mobilization, allegedly composed of the guilds connected with the motion picture industry, was one of the first to emerge. John Howard Lawson appeared to be the dominating figure in the creation of the "Mobilization," assisted by Robert Rossen and Marc Connelly. The alleged purpose of the organization, under the guise of assisting the war effort, was to provide scripts, speeches, skits, plays and similar material for bond drives and similar activities. Its true purpose, of course, was the creation of a clearing house for Communist propaganda.

Strategy for "Window Dressing" Congress

By 1943 the Hollywood Writers' Mobilization had attracted a considerable membership. It is not to be assumed that the members of Communist front organizations are all Communists or that the majority of them are remotely interested in Communism or sympathetic to it. Quite the reverse is true, as the committee pointed out in its 1943 Report. The bait used by Communists in snagging innocents into "front" organizations is considerably varied. The so-called "intellectual" appears to be easy prey for Communist functionaries. All of the planning is done in closed Communist meetings. Steering committees are created and fellow-travelers are contacted. Innocents are then snagged for "window-dressing" and committees are then selected for the job in hand. The usual procedure was followed in the creation of the Hollywood Writers' Mobilization and the Writers' Congress. John Howard Lawson and Marc Connelly contacted the University of California in Westwood and successfully solicited the assistance of Professor Ralph Freud of the Dramatic Department. Reinforced by Freud the three men called upon the chairman of the English Department with the proposal that the University join with the Hollywood Writers' Mobilization in sponsoring the American Writers' Congress at the University. As a result of these maneuvers a University Committee was appointed to work with the committee of the Hollywood Writers' Mobilization for the preparation of the Congress. Lawson, Connelly and Freud apparently did most of the work (as was to be expected) and it appears that the several professors of the University Committee had little to do with the plans.

Marc Connelly testified before the committee October 13, 1944 (Com. Tr. Vol. XXIII, pp. 112-120) that Lawson had been active in organizing the Hollywood Writers' Mobilization. He stated that the Mobilization was composed of the Screen Writers' Guild, the Radio Writers' Guild, the Screen Publicists' Guild, the Screen Cartoonists' Guild, American Newspaper Guild, Independent Publicists' Association and the Song Writers' Protective Association.

Questioned on the activities of the Hollywood Writers' Mobilization in connection with the war effort, Connelly testified (Com. Tr., Vol. XXIII, pp. 118-119):

> A. By Connelly: The war effort—oh, it has been supplying the Office of War Information, the Army and Navy, with material, U.S.O. with material, the Red Cross. It supplies material for actors on the bond raising tours, it supplies spot announcements on radio for any drive that happens to be on at the moment, paper saving and so forth. It supplies articles following the directives of the war agency that certain accents must be made for conservation of this or the aid of this, if there is a Russian relief or a French relief or an Italian relief clothing drive, or anything that we are asked to assist in, our membership is at their disposal and volunteers its service for that purpose.
> Q. By Mr. Combs: As a matter of fact, judging from the list of guilds and unions which comprise the Hollywood Writers' Mobilization, that work, that activity would cover music, radio scripts and skits and plays, and all sorts of creative material of that type, even cartoons, would it not?
>
> A. Yes.
> Q. And is there a present program being carried out by the mobilization to write moving picture scenario scripts for use by the Office of War Information?
> A. So far as I know, yes.
> Q. Are those pictures which will be made from those scripts to be exhibited in the United States or overseas?
> A. I believe both.

Rena M. Vale, a writer by profession and formerly a member of the Communist Party of Los Angeles County, was engaged, in collaboration with others, in preparing the script for the production "The Sun Rises in the West" at the time she was a member of the Communist Party. The chief task of the Communists, engaged in this work, was to weave Communist Party propaganda and policy into the lines and action of the production. Miss Vale's affidavit is set forth in its entirety in the Committee's 1943 Report. At page 148 of the report, Miss Vale states:

> "That in the throes of playwriting, John Howard Lawson, and a Professor Lewis, met with our fraction to assist in the problems of converting Communist propaganda into play form; that these so-called experts in the dramatic field offered no concrete suggestions in so far as I could see; they merely ranted about our responsibilities as Communist Party members."

Lawson's subtlety and evasiveness and convenient lapses of memory are typically illustrated in his answers to questions concerning the episode mentioned by Miss Vale. (Com. Tr., Vol. XXIII, p. 153):

> Q. By Mr. Combs: Do you recall a production called, "Sun Rises in the West"?
> A. I recall hearing mention of it, yes.
> Q. It was produced about 1937 or '38—late in '37 or early in '38?
> A. I couldn't answer that.
> Q. Did you ever read the play?
> A. No.
> Q. Did you ever advise on it?
> A. No, not that I recall.
> Q. Are you positive you never did?
> A. No, I am not positive.
> Q. It isn't your testimony——
> A. (Interrupting) I don't know, because I have advised people on many, many plays and productions. I know I never saw that or read the manuscript, so I doubt if I could have advised with any detail.
> Q. Did you advise about the method of staging the production without reading it, could somebody have told you about it?
> A. I don't know.
> Q. By whom was the production produced?
> A. It was a production of the Federal Theatre. I don't know by whom it was produced.
> Q. By the Federal Theatre. That was a part of the WPA program, wasn't it?
> A. Yes.

Lawson was able to recall that he had been connected with the Committee for Technical Aid to Spanish Democracy. He admitted having been a sponsor for the Citizens' Committee for the Defense of Harry Bridges. He was able to remember signing the Call for the Fourth American Writers' Congress in 1941 and having been an instructor in the League of American Writers School. He admitted supporting and sponsoring the candidacy of La Rue McCormick, an admitted and registered member of the Communist Party, for election to the California State Senate in 1942.

He became vague and evasive when questioned concerning his connection with the New York Daily Worker, the official publication for the Communist Party of the United States. (Com. Tr., Vol. XXIII, pp. 156-158):

> Q. By Mr. Combs: Did you ever hear of the Daily Worker in New York?
> A. Yes.
> Q. Would you assume that is the official publication of the Communist Party of the United States prior to the change—of its change to the Communist Political Association?
> A. I can't testify to that. As far as that goes, you are asking me a great many questions which are purely assumptions and in regard to which I have no personal knowledge.
> Q. Have you ever read the publication?
> A. Yes, frequently.
> Q. Have you ever read the Masthead?
> A. No.
> Q. Would it refresh your memory at all if I were to tell you, which is a fact, on the Masthead appears the hammer and sickle and words in effect, "The official Communist publication of the United States"?
> A. I would like to say at this point in your questioning you are telling me. If you want to ask me questions, I'm very delighted to answer any questions, but the presentation of assumptions and opinions, assumptions regarding people whom I know nothing about or publications about which I know very little——
> Q. (Interrupting) You wrote for the Daily Worker?
> A. That's correct.
> Q. I show you a photostat dated December 21st, 1935, and call your attention to page 2 and ask you if that is about the time you were a contributing writer for the New York Daily Worker?
> A. I have no way of knowing this photostat is accurate, but I presume that I was at that time.
> Mr. Combs: I wish to read some names into the record from the photostat, reading from page 1 (reading):
> > Editors C. A. Hathaway, Joseph North, James Olgin, Edwin Seaver, Sender Garlin, A. B. Magil, Michael Quinn, Earl Browder, Erskine Caldwell, Malcolm Cowley, James Farrell, (who is the one who suggested the singing of the International at the closing of the first congress), William Z. Foster, former vice president of the Communist Party of the United States, Waldo Frank, who presided at the first Writers' Congress, Corliss Lamott, John Howard Lawson, Clifford Odets, M. J. Olgin, whose name was read into the record as the reporter of the Kharkov conference, George Sklar and Anna Louise Strong, Jack Stachel, Meridel Le Sueur, whose name has been read into the record, Lincoln Steffens, Ella Winter, Clara Weatherwax.

Lawson admitted having been a subscriber to the West Coast Communist publication, the People's Daily World, since it started publication. He was familiar with American Youth for Democracy, the new name for the Young Communist League, and admitted having been a sponsor of the organization. He admitted being a member of the American League for Peace and Democracy. He was familiar with the Labor Defender, published by the International Labor Defense and admitted that he had contributed articles to the publication on occasion.

The Attorney General of the United States, Francis Biddle, made an investigation of the Writers' Congress and the League of American Writers and issued a confidential written report on these organizations in 1942. It subsequently was made public and the Committee reproduces it in full:

"The League of American Writers, founded under Communist auspices in 1935, for some years attracted to its fold many of the most prominent American writers, Communists and non-Communists. In 1939 the League began openly to follow the Communist Party line as dictated by the foreign policy of the Soviet Union, and at that time most of the non-Communists disaffiliated themselves from it and declared their opposition to its policy.

"The League of American Writers was founded at a congress of American revolutionary writers held in New York City April 26-27, 1935. The call for the congress was signed by members of the John Reed Club, including such well-known Communists as Earl Browder, Isidor Schneider, John L. Spivak, and Michael Gold. The congress greeted Gold as the best loved American revolutionary writer and Gold in turn told the gathering that, 'Our writers must learn that the working class which has created a great civilization in the Soviet Union is capable of creating a similar civilization in this country.' The leading speakers at the congress were all prominently identified with the Communist movement in the United States and featured such men as M. J. Olgin, editor of the Communist Yiddish Daily, Morning Freiheit, Alexander Trachtenberg, head of the Party's publishing house, International Publishers, Inc., and Clarence Hathaway, editor of the Daily Worker whose masthead then proclaimed it the official organ of the Communist Party, U. S. A. section of the Communist International. The league was created, among other things, to enlist writers in a national cultural organization for peace and democracy and against fascism and reaction, to support progressive trade-union organizations and the people's front in all countries, and to cooperate with the progressive forces.

"Soon after the league was established, the Seventh World Congress of the Communist International in Moscow decided upon the Trojan horse policy for Communist parties everywhere. By this policy Communists sought to infiltrate existing organizations without revealing their identity. Accordingly, it became necessary to conceal the Communist influence in the League of American Writers. The revolutionary slogans and resolutions were discarded. In the years from 1936 to 1939 the league made an effort to secure as members the leaders of liberal thought among American writers. Although its Communist control was deliberately obscured, it sponsored a policy which accorded with the Communist Party line in those years, including condemnation of the Franco revolution in Spain and an interpretation of that revolution as presenting an issue of Communism vs. Fascism. In its congresses held in these years the league condemned fascism and praised the 'Soviet peace policy.' It sought to make its program attractive by sponsoring the Federal Arts Project and attacking those who were opposed to any of the social legislation then being enacted in the United States.

"At the time of the Russo-German pact in August, 1939, the League of American Writers began once more to follow the Communist Party line openly and without much attempt at dissimulation. It was in this period that most of the prominent non-Communist writers resigned from the league. Thomas Mann stated that the league 'thinks too much about politics and not enough about literature.' In 1940 and up until June 22, 1941, the league devoted its efforts principally to keeping the United States out of the 'imperialist war.' Its activities were featured in the Daily Worker, and it in turn complimented the Daily Worker for the recognition it was giving to the league's anti-war program. Many leading Communists were openly active in the league at this time.

"On June 6, 1941, the league held its Fourth Annual Writers' Congress in New York City. It condemned the 'imperialist war,' which it called a war for world markets. Speakers charged that the President was attempting to lead the country into war, and condemned the administration for its action in sending troops to quell the North American Aviation Co. strike and for its prosecution of Harry Bridges.

"The American Peace Mobilization and its picketing of the White House was endorsed. Less than a month later the league issued a call to all writers and writers' organizations for 'all immediate and necessary steps in support of Great Britain and the Soviet Union.'

"Not only did the league follow the Communist Party line in regard to foreign affairs, but its program since 1940 has shown a close parallel to the leading domestic issues supported by the party, including a campaign in behalf of Negro rights, opposition to what is called political persecution in the United States, and praise of the Soviet Union and its leaders.

"The League of American Writers maintains an annual writers' school in New York City, featuring courses in labor journalism and pamphlet writing taught by Communists. Once each week it sponsors a 'work in progress' reading by some author. The Daily Worker, in its regular reports of these readings, indicates that the majority of invited readers are known Communists or fellow travelers.

"The overt activities of the League of American Writers in the last two years leave little doubt of its Communist control. The resignations of many writers who had affiliated themselves with it in the era of the Trojan horse and their statements at the time of disassociating themselves from it largely remove all possible speculations as to the facts."

PEOPLE'S EDUCATIONAL CENTER

J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, addressing the annual commencement exercises at Holy Cross College, Worcester, Massachusetts, June 29, 1944, stated:

> "Over the years, the American Communists have developed a propaganda machine and a nefarious and elaborate school system of their own. Their officials in secret and public meetings urge that the propaganda phase of their work must be accelerated. Brazenly, they have urged the development of courses, lectures, and assemblies as media to espouse the ideologies of Marxism and to establish Marxism as a school of thought in the United States. . . ."

For the first time, Earl Browder has assumed absolute and direct control of the "Workers' Schools" of the United States. It is reported that in New York City, V. J. Jerome and Elizabeth Lawson are the key people in the Communists' "elaborate school system." V. J. Jerome (alias Isaac Romaine) has been the secret educational director of the Communist Party for many years. He was formerly the editor of The Communist. Jerome is considered one of the outstanding dialecticians in the United States and is considered by many members as the "brains" of the Communist Party. He was one of the instructors in the New York Workers' School. It is estimated that the Communist Party schools will graduate about 5,000 students a year.

The People's Educational Center, new Communist Party propaganda school, was launched in Los Angeles the latter part of 1943. There is good reason to believe that this Communist front is an offshoot of the Writers' Congress held on the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles. The Workers' School is to be absorbed by this new educational "front."

A letter under date of October 20, 1943 was addressed to many individuals, associations and labor organizations. The letter is as follows:

> "The People's Educational Center would like your organization to have a hand in its program, a voice in its policies. To this end we cordially invite you to investigate the aims and purposes of the Center, to become familiar with our tentative courses in education and our means of carrying the program to completion.
> "The provisional committee of the People's Educational Center is drawn from many phases of Los Angeles life—men and women from business, the university, civic affairs, labor, the professions, women's affairs. It was organized to give Los Angeles a new type of adult education, education in a changing world, to meet fast changing conditions where, as the Red Queen said to Alice in Wonderland 'You have to run awful fast if you want to stay in one place.'
> "The Center is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization. Already lined up for its teaching staff are leaders in the field of university education, scientists and professional men and women. The varied courses in its curricula will be taught by men and women who know their subject by actual experience.
> "We will be most pleased to send you complete information on request. We would like to meet with representatives of your organization—to get their views on our program, to learn from their experiences how to make this center a more living force for the future good of Los Angeles and the Nation. We would like your help in bringing to the people generally the most satisfying of all experiences in human affairs—the happiness that comes with learning something new and keeping abreast of the times."

Under the title "Provisional Committee for the People's Educational Center," appear the following names:

John Allard,
Fay E. Allen,
R. S. Avery,
Charlotta A. Bass,
George Bradley,
Philip M. Connelly,
O. W. E. Cook,
Frank C. Davis,
Rev. Martin S. Eidsath,
Harry Holjer,
John Howard Lawson,
Louis Levy,
Arnold Manoff,
Dean E. McHenry,
Russell L. McKnight,
Carey McWilliams,
M. William Pomerance,
Ruth S. Ryan,
Eva Shafran,
Albee Slade,
C. L. Vanderbie,
Ralph D. Winstead,
William Wolff.

The address on the letterhead is "812 Broadway Arcade Bldg., 542 South Broadway, Los Angeles, 13, California."

The Communist character of the organization is clearly revealed by the personnel of the Provisional Committee. Philip M. Connelly is said to have joined the Communist Party in June or July, 1938, and was attached to Unit 140, Professional Section, of the Newspaper Guild. During the Hitler-Stalin Pact he appeared in support of various peace rallies. His devotion to the Communist Party publication, The People's Daily World, is indicated by the announcement that he had donated a day's pay to the paper. He has been active in many Communist front organizations and has assiduously followed the Communist Party line for many years.

Frank C. Davis is assistant professor at the University of California, at Los Angeles. In 1939, 1940 and 1941, he sent telegrams to District Attorney Matthew Brady, in San Francisco, in defense of Sam Darcy, Communist. He is reported to have formerly been a professor at the University of Washington.

The Communist record of John Howard Lawson is set forth in considerable detail in this report under the title "Writers' Congress at the University of California."

Carey McWilliams is a member of nearly every Communist front organization in the State of California. His record is treated at some length in various parts of this report.

Mrs. Ruth S. Ryan is a Los Angeles teacher. She was registered as a Communist in Los Angeles County June 15, 1940 at 4306 La Clede Avenue, Los Angeles. In August of 1940 she sponsored Celeste Strack for the Communist Party nomination to the office of Congress for the Thirteenth Congressional District. She sponsored Louis Baron for the Communist Party nomination to the office of Congress for the Thirteenth Congressional District in August of 1938. She also sponsored Pettis

Perry for the Communist Party nomination to the office of the State Board of Equalization for the Fourth District in August of 1938. In 1942 she appeared as a member of the Los Angeles Consumers Council, Communist front. (See page 104, Committee's Report for 1943).

Eva Shafran merits particular notice in this report. For some time she was the active organizer of the Communist Party in Los Angeles County. She was registered as a Communist in Los Angeles County in June of 1940. She wrote for the Western Worker, West Coast Communist predecessor to the Communist publication, The People's Daily World. In October, 1936, she wrote an article for the Western Worker entitled "The Socialist Party and Trotskyites." In December of 1936 she wrote an article for the Western Worker entitled "Unity of Negro and White Urgent in Maritime Strike." Eva Shafran is known among Communists as an outstanding Marxist. For many years she has taught advanced classes on Marxism-Leninism in the Communist Workers' School in Los Angeles. According to the testimony of John Leech, former Secretary of the Communist Party in Los Angeles County (before the Los Angeles Grand Jury, 94369-8-15-40) Eva Shafran was transferred to Los Angeles by the Communist Party from the New York Workers' School in 1935 or early in 1936. She was immediately assigned to the California State Committee of the Communist Party and has devoted herself to the task of raising the political level of Communists in Los Angeles. Her name is variably spelled "Shafran," "Shaffron" and "Shiffman."

Albee Slade is an organizer and publicity man for the Congress for Industrial Organization. He has been editor and commentator on a radio program "Our Daily Bread" (C. I. O. newspaper of the air).

Carl Winter, former secretary of the Communist Party of Los Angeles County, is advertised as a lecturer at the People's Educational Center.

The committee finds that the People's Educational Center is inspired and controlled by the Communists; that it is, in fact, a Communist organization for the dissemination of Marxism—part of the "elaborate school system" of Communism mentioned by J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

WEST COAST COMMUNIST PRESS

The People's Daily World, in its July 9, 1943, issue announced:

> " . . . now, in this crucial summer of 1943, as we prepare for the greatest military offensives to smash the Axis enemy, as we fight to hold the home front against the fifth column, as we look ahead to the 1944 elections—we feel that the People's Daily World will be more needed than ever. . . . The People's World must be improved, its circulation extended, its finances bolstered. . . . "

A "call" was subsequently issued by the People's Daily World for a "Pro-War Press Conference on Behalf of the People's Daily World" for Wednesday, August 4, 1943, at 8 p.m., at the First Unitarian Church, located at the corner of 8th Street and Vermont Avenue in the City of Los Angeles.

The letter for the call was signed by Ed Robbin, editor of the People's Daily World in Los Angeles and Judith Schmidt, the Los Angeles manager for the Communist newspaper. The letterhead contains the following names as "endorsers" of the "call":

Joseph W. Aidlin,
Fay Allen,
Charlotta Bass,
Gray Bemis,
Revels Cayton,
Parley Parker Christensen,
Grover Johnson,
Pete King,
John Howard Lawson,
Joe Marty,
La Rue McCormick,
Lester McMillan,
Dorothy Connelly,
Frank Corona,
James Daugherty,
Ernest Dawson,
Theodore Dreiser,
Kenneth Eckert,
Pearl Fagelson,
Leo Gallagher,
Ed Gilbert,
Augustus Hawkins,
Martin Hourihan,
Carey McWilliams,
Richard Otto,
Pettis Perry,
William Rosenthal,
Rev. Clayton Russell,
Chaim Shapiro,
Vincent Sherman,
Max Silver,
Herb Sorrell,
Al Waxman,
Cone Young.

Joseph W. Aidlin is a member of the Communist front organization for attorneys, the National Lawyers' Guild.

John Leech, former Secretary of the Communist Party of Los Angeles County, testified before the Grand Jury of Los Angeles County (Grand Jury testimony, 94369-8-1540) that Aidlin was a member of the Communist Party and that Leech, as secretary of the party, knew him as a member. Leech testified that Aidlin had worked for Leo Gallagher on International Labor Defense cases.

Mrs. Fay Allen was formerly a member of the Los Angeles Board of Education. She followed the Communist Party line consistently. She was a member of the California League for Democratic Action and a member of various Communist "front" organizations. On August 30, 1941, the People's Daily World lists Mrs. Allen as a sponsor for a state-wide conference to be held in San Francisco, September 27, 1941, for the purpose of protesting the "Tenney Committee and the Tenney Bill outlawing the Communist Party."

Charlotta Bass has been mentioned many times in the pages of the committee's report. She is the editor and owner of the Los Angeles Negro newspaper, The California Eagle. On August 30, 1941, the People's Daily World, lists Mrs. Bass as a sponsor for a state-wide conference protesting the "Tenney Committee and the Tenney Bill outlawing the Communist Party." On October 3, 1942, the People's Daily World announced that Mrs. Bass would be the principal speaker for a "Win-the-War-Rally" at the Los Angeles Breakfast Club under the auspices of the International Workers Order, a Communist Party organization. This particular meeting was attended by the Soviet Consul, Clarence Muse, Carey McWilliams and Ellis E. Patterson. On November 2, 1942, Mrs. Bass appeared in a paid political advertisement in the Los Angeles Times endorsing La Rue McCormick, Communist candidate for State Senator from Los Angeles County. She recently was appointed to the National executive committee of the International Labor Defense.

Gray Bemis is an officer in the International Workers Order, a Communist organization. On November 2, 1942, Bemis endorsed La Rue McCormick, Communist candidate for State Senator for Los Angeles County in a paid political advertisement in the Los Angeles Times.

Revels Cayton was a registered Communist in San Francisco in 1940. He was one of the many Communists and Communist fellow-travelers who endorsed the San Francisco conference protesting the "Tenney Bill outlawing the Communist Party and the Tenney Committee." He served as secretary for the Bay Region District Council of the Maritime Federation of the Pacific in 1941. He was a pallbearer at the funeral of James McNamara, confessed dynamiter. In May of 1941, he was reported as the Vice President of the San Francisco C. I. O. Council.

Parley Parker Christensen is a Los Angeles City Councilman. He was endorsed by the Communist Party and the People's Daily World for the Los Angeles City Council from the Ninth District in May of 1939. He voted against the charter amendment barring from city service persons advocating the overthrow of the Government in February of 1941. He supported the Los Angeles City Board of Public Works' action in issuing a permit to the American Peace Mobilization (Communist front organization collaborating with Hitler and Stalin during the Stalin-Hitler pact).

In supporting the rally for the Communist publication, the People's Daily World, Christensen is quoted as stating:

> "We have great need in this community for an independent paper devoted to labor and the underprivileged generally. The People's Daily World has met that need splendidly, things that need to be said—truths that the people need to know—are found in the columns of the People's Daily World. Hope your conference on August 4 is successful. It deserves the support of every patriotic American. More power to you."

James Daugherty is a National representative for the C. I. O. Utility Workers Organizing Committee. He has protested the "Tenney Committee" and the bill outlawing the Communist Party. He opposed California's Subversive Registration Act of 1941. He ran a paid advertisement in the Labor Day edition of the People's Daily World, August 30, 1941. He represented the C. I. O. Utility Workers on a committee for the People's Daily World Fund Drive. He was a representative for the C. I. O. "Night For People's Daily World Fund Drive," September 27, 1941.

Ernest Dawson is a book dealer in the City of Los Angeles. He has continually permitted his name to be used in Communist Party programs and "front" organizations. He was a member of the State Sponsoring Committee for the Schneiderman-Darcy Defense Committee, with headquarters at 127 South Broadway, Room 318, Los Angeles, in May of 1940. In 1939, 1940 and 1941 he sent communications to San Francisco's District Attorney, Matthew Brady, in defense of Sam Darcy. He signed a preliminary petition for the Committee for Citizenship Rights for William Schneiderman in 1941 and endorsed the Committee for Citizenship Rights of William Schneiderman in January of 1942.

Theodore Dreiser is a novelist. He contributed articles to The Clipper (formerly Black and White), Communist publication, in 1940. He continually lends his name to Communist front organizations and programs. He spoke at the first Tom Mooney Defense Committee meeting held under the auspices of the Communist Party in San Francisco. He appeared with Dorothy Parker and Donald Ogden Stewart as a guest of honor at the State, County and Municipal Workers of America (S. C. M. W. A.) Defense Committee reception, January 19, 1941, in San Francisco. On January 26, 1941, Dreiser appeared as the signer of a petition protesting "Un-American Actions Against Communists" and the outlawing of the Communist Party. (New Leader, January 26, 1941). People's Daily World for January 27, 1941, reports Dreiser as the principal speaker at a meeting in San Francisco. At this meeting he is reported as stating that Soviet workers are far better off than American workers. On March 5, 1941, Dreiser signed a petition addressed to the President of the United States and Congress, defending the Communist Party.

On July 7, 1941, Dreiser was listed as the National Vice Chairman of the American Peace Mobilization, Communist front organization in support of the Hitler-Stalin Pact. On April 18, 1941, the People's Daily World reported that Dreiser denounced the Dies Committee and J. B. Matthews for stating that the American Peace Mobilization was a "Communist front group." He signed the call for the Fourth American Writers' Congress in an advertisement appearing on the back of The Clipper for May, 1941. He was elected an honorary President of the League of American Writers, Communist organization. He was a member of the Sponsoring Committee for the Schneiderman-Darcy Defense Committee, August 14, 1941. He eulogized Leo Gallagher, an admitted and registered member of the Communist Party, at a testimonial dinner at the Wilshire Bowl, June 4, 1941.

Pearl Fagelson is a member of the County Council of the International Workers Order, a Communist organization. She was a member of the Los Angeles Consumers Council as of March 27, 1942, a Communist front organization. She sent postal cards to San Francisco's District Attorney, Matthew Brady, defending Sam Darcy, a Communist, in 1939, 1940 and 1941.

Leo Gallagher is an admitted and registered member of the Communist Party. His Communist record is long and need not be repeated here.

The Communist record and activities of John Howard Lawson are set forth at considerable length in this report under the title "Writers' Congress."

Mrs. La Rue McCormick is an admitted and registered member of the Communist Party.

The Communist activities and record of Carey McWilliams are set forth in detail in this report. The People's Daily World for July 21, 1943, reports McWilliams as saying:

> "In my opinion the People's Daily World is doing a very good job. You don't have to go any further back than the recent 'zoot suit' riots to see this. The Hearst papers incited violence and prejudice; the People's World urged unity and exposed the fifth column influences behind the rioting.

"People's World circulation may be small compared with the L. A. Examiner or The Times, but its viewpoint and integrity have gained for it widespread respect and consideration.

"I am glad to endorse your August 4 conference in the First Unitarian Church, and you have my best wishes for the success of your financial drive."

Pettis Perry is an admitted and registered member of the Communist Party and for many years has been one of the party's functionaries in Los Angeles County.

The Reverend Clayton Russell is a Los Angeles minister. On November 2, 1942, he appeared as an endorser for Mrs. La Rue McCormick, Communist Party candidate for State Senator from Los Angeles County, in a paid political advertisement.

Max Silver is a Los Angeles Communist functionary.

Herbert Sorrell is an officer in the Studio Painters' Union, A. F. of L. He has persistently followed the Communist Party line. He subscribed to the Communist Party publication, the People's Daily World. Leaflets distributed in July of 1940 listed Sorrell as an officer in the American Peace Crusade, Communist organization. He also appeared as an endorser for Mrs. La Rue McCormick, Communist Party candidate for State Senator, in a paid political advertisement in the Los Angeles Times, November 2, 1942.

Al Waxman is the editor and publisher of the Eastside Journal, a "throw-away" newspaper in east side Los Angeles. He also endorsed Communist La Rue McCormack for State Senator in a paid political advertisement. (See section "Zoot-Suit," this report.)

Two or three weeks prior to August 4, 1943, the date set for the Communist Party Press Conference, Senator Jack B. Tenney, Chairman of the Joint Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities, telephoned the Rev. Ernest Caldecott, Minister of the First Unitarian Church of Los Angeles, protesting the meeting of the Communist group in the church. Rev. Caldecott assured Senator Tenney that he would look into the matter. Some time later Senator Tenney talked to George Wyant, Business Manager of the church. Mr. Wyant assured Senator Tenney that he also would make an investigation of the matter.

The meeting was held at the time and place, as advertised.

Ed Robin, and Paul Cline, former Secretary of the Communist Party of Los Angeles County, dominated the platform at the meeting. None of the people who had endorsed the "call" attended. There were about 200 people present.

Ed Robin called for recommendations and suggestions for the improvement of the People's Daily World. He read many letters and telegrams among which were communications from Theodore Dreiser, Herbert Sorrell and Assemblyman Lester McMillan of the Sixty-first Assembly District, Los Angeles County. The Communist publication, the People's Daily World, carried Assemblyman McMillan's letter in its August 5, 1943, issue. The letter, in part, reads as follows:

"Jack Tenney's attack on your prowar conference is not at all surprising to me. But honestly, I think it will do you more good than harm.

"This Red-baiting stuff is wearing awful thin and if he is really shocked because . . . I have endorsed the conference then he ought to get wise to himself. He is due to get a lot more shocks as progress and liberal unity move ahead.

"Maybe what Tenney is really irked about is that the conference call attacks the Hearst newspapers and supports President Roosevelt. Tenney loves Hearst and hates Roosevelt.

"Yes, I have endorsed this conference because I think The People's World is doing a fine job of supporting the war.

"Please accept my best wishes for the success of your conference."

Judy Schmidt was introduced as the chairman of the sponsor drive for the Communist paper. She stated that $10,000 had already been received and that she was hopeful that the quota of $60,000 would be made in the alloted time. She stated that a trade union subcommittee was assisting in increasing the sale of the paper and that the Committee to Spread Communism was also assisting the drive.

A Negress representing the Committee to Extend Communism Among Colored People was appointed to the campaign committee.

Paul Cline, former Secretary of the Communist Party of Los Angeles County, was introduced as the principal speaker. A veteran Communist functionary, he now has charge of the San Francisco office of the People's Daily World. He opened his address with a lashing attack on William Randolph Hearst and Colonel McCormick, newspaper publishers. He criticized the Los Angeles metropolitan newspapers and eulogized the People's Daily World. He declared that the Communist paper was the only "all out to win the war" publication on the West Coast.

THE LOS ANGELES UNITARIAN CHURCH AS A COMMUNIST MEETING PLACE

A pamphlet entitled "Workers' School" had been circulated on the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles during the Writers' Congress. This pamphlet advertised courses offered by the school.

The committee learned that certain Communist Party classes were being held in the Unitarian Church at Eighth and Vermont in the City of Los Angeles and one such class was scheduled to open August 6, 1943. Having learned that protests to the Rev. Ernest Caldecott, Minister of the church, were futile, the following letter was written to John R. Quinn, Tax Assessor for the County of Los Angeles, under date of September 4, 1943:

"MY DEAR MR. QUINN:

"I am desirous of calling your attention to a matter that has undoubtedly escaped your attention and one in which I am sure you, as well as the taxpayers of the City and County of Los Angeles, will be vitally interested.

"For some time past, the Joint Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities in California, through its investigators, has been concerned with what definitely appears to be a flagrant violation of the taxation laws of California in reference to the First Unitarian Church, located at 2936 West 8th Street in the City of Los Angeles.

"I particularly want to call your attention to Article XIII, Section 1½ of the Constitution of California, which was adopted by the people November 6, 1900, and which reads as follows:

> 'All buildings, and so much of the real property on which they are situated as may be required for the convenient use and occupation of said buildings, when the same are used solely and exclusively for religious worship, shall be free from taxation; provided, that no building so used which may be rented for religious purposes and rent received by the owner therefor, shall be exempt from taxation.'

"I further call your attention to Article 2, Section 256 of the Revenue and Taxation Code of California, which reads as follows:

> 'The affidavit for church exemption shall show that: (a) The building is used solely for religious worship, (b) The described portion of the real property claimed as exempt is required for the convenient use of the building, (c) It is not rented for religious purposes and rent received by the owner.'

"The Reverend Ernest Caldecott is the pastor of this church. The record reveals that the church or some portion of the premises have been used from time to time for Communist front organization meetings and is presently being used by the Los Angeles Workers School. The current announcement of courses in the above mentioned school for the summer term of 1943, July 19 to September 6, reveals on page 7, that the course on 'Problems of American Democracy' beginning August 6, conducted by John Howard Lawson, Carey McWilliams and Albert Maltz, is being held in the Unitarian Church, located at 2936 West 8th Street (East of Vermont) and that the tuition for the whole course is $2 and that single admissions are 50 cents.

"The character of the Los Angeles Workers School is revealed in its pamphlet, 'Announcement of Courses, Summer Term 1943—July 10-Sept. 6' on page 10, under the heading 'Fundamentals of Marxism.' This course is described as follows:

> 'This course is an authoritative exposition of the fundamental principles of scientific Socialism. It teaches the main theories of Marx, Engels, and as further developed by Lenin, Stalin and by America's foremost Marxists, Earl Browder, William Z. Foster and other American Communists. The course deals with the fundamental teaching of Marxian economics, politics and social development. It will give the student a fundamental grasp of the economics of Capitalism and the problems of a war economy for victory; the economics of Socialism; the origin and role of the State, Democracy, Fascism; the Marxist teaching of war in general and the present war in particular; tactics of the working class and problems in National Unity; the Communist Party.

'(This course is recommended as an introductory course and should be taken by everyone who intends to make a thorough study of Marxism.)'

"Pettis Perry, active Communist functionary and former secretary of the Communist Party for Los Angeles County, spoke at this church February 13, 1943, as did the present secretary of the Communist Party for Los Angeles County, Carl Winter.

"On August 4, 1943, the Communist Party publication, the 'People's Daily World,' held a rally and fund-raising drive at this church. The call was issued by Ed Robbin, who is a registered Communist. Pettis Perry, La Rue McCormack, Paul Cline and many other notorious Communists and fellow-travelers sponsored the call for the People's Daily World at the Unitarian Church on this occasion. Our reports on the meeting indicate some 200 in attendance. Although the writer protested to the Reverend of the church, Ernest Caldecott, concerning the meeting, it was held on schedule nevertheless. The purpose of this meeting was definitely commercial, devising ways and means of financing the Communist publication, the People's Daily World.

"We have no quarrel with Reverend Ernest Caldecott or the First Unitarian Church, their religious or political beliefs. We are primarily concerned with subversive organizations. We have no quarrel with the Soviet Government, our ally in the present conflict. Our concern is with the seditious, traitorous and sabotaging group of American Communists in California who worked incessantly for 22 months during the Hitler-Stalin pact to sabotage our defense and war effort and who are still determined to destroy our form of government, our democracy and our Constitution, once this conflict in Europe is concluded.

"It certainly appears that the use of church premises for the purposes above enumerated violate both the spirit and intent of the constitutional provision, exempting church property, above quoted, and the section of the Revenue and Taxation Code of California above mentioned.

"The books and records of the First Unitarian Church should reveal that this type of thing has been going on for a period of years. Our committee stands ready and willing to cooperate with your office at all times and we are in a position to furnish you with details and proof of similar meetings held at this church.

"Trusting that you will make an immediate investigation into this matter to the end that the laws of California be enforced on the subject and that subversive and seditious groups be denied sanctuary within the confines of a religious edifice, I am,

Very sincerely yours,

(Senator) JACK B. TENNEY."

THE C. I. O. POLITICAL ACTION COMMITTEE

Karl Marx realized that the revolution in Europe was postponed when news of the discovery of gold in California came to his attention. He wrote:

> "There can be no talk of a real revolution in such a time as this, when general prosperity prevails, when the productive forces of bourgeois society are flourishing as luxuriantly as is possible within the framework of bourgeois conditions. Such a revolution can only take place in periods when these two factors, the modern forces of production and the bourgeois forms of production, are in antagonism each to the other."

Marx turned his attention to political action. Without losing sight of the ultimate objective for the violent destruction of all existing States, he inclined toward the elaboration of political tactics in conformity with established bourgeois methods and trends. The principles of modern Communist strategy were crystalizing in Marx's mind and ultimately found expression in the first Communist International (International Workingmen's Association). The franchise demonstration in London against Disraeli convinced Marx that his political technique was workable. Reporting to Engels about the franchise demonstration, Marx said: "It is really amazing compared with anything seen in England since 1844, and wholly the work of the International. * * * This shows how different it is when one works behind the scene and disappears from the public eye, as compared with the democratic manner of assuming important airs in public and doing nothing at all."

The basic principle behind Marxian political technique is subtle collaboration with the class it seeks to destroy. It is the ingratiating dishonesty of the assassin who accepts the hospitality of his victim until he can safely stab him in the back and take all of his possessions. Marx, in an address issued to the Communist League in March of 1850, put it this way: "The relationship of the revolutionary labour party in a petty-bourgeois Democracy is as follows: It joins forces with the petty-bourgeois Democracy against the fraction whose overthrow it aims at affecting; but it opposes both the one and the other in matters it wishes to establish on its own account."

COMMUNIST POLITICAL PARTY A FAILURE

The Communist Party, as a political entity, was created. The establishment of the Third Communist International (Comintern) gave impetus to the formation of Communist Parties in various countries throughout the world, all affiliated with and dominated by the Comintern in Moscow, Russia. Marx declared in Misere de la Philosophie that economic production with its attendant social stratification, creates the basis of political history of each epoch. He contends that the whole course of history down to our time has been a history of class struggle. He called for the annihilation of the bourgeois system of society, and, at the same time, called on Communists everywhere to assist in the bourgeois revolution. The principle behind this strategy was not for the purpose of putting political power in the hands of the bourgeoisie but to put new political weapons into the hands of the Communists. As a political party, apparently acting within the law, the Communists would occupy a favorable position in the political field.

Practical experience has proved to Communist strategists that Marx was not altogether correct in his strategy of the Communist political party. Only in Russia, where the Bolsheviks ruled with an iron hand, was Communism respectable. Throughout the countries of the world the Communist Party has been held in contempt, its ideology, leaders and adherents discredited. The utilization of "front" organizations, with Communist control and domination carefully concealed, has been far more effective. A small, compact and disciplined group of Communists, working behind the scenes of a "front" organization, are able to direct the thinking and the activity of thousands of people and to ruthlessly discard and liquidate the "innocents" when Communist objectives have been achieved.

POLITICAL "FRONT" TECHNIQUE

The Communist Party never attained, under its own banner and in its name, influence or prestige in the United States. Through its "front" organizations, however, it has made considerable progress, particularly during the past decade. Its greatest successes have taken place since Pearl Harbor.

The successful realization of "front" organizational activity was reached by the Communists in its creation of the C. I. O. Political Action Committee in July of 1943. Sidney Hillman, head of the Political Action Committee, recently announced that the organization would be made permanent.

The legislative committee investigated the activities of the C. I. O. Political Action Committee in California from its inception. R. E. Combs, counsel and chief investigator for the committee, submitted a detailed report on July 8, 1944, which report was read in its entirety into committee records in San Francisco October 27, 1944. The report is as follows:

> "The National Executive Board of the Congress of Industrial Organizations created the Political Action Committee on July seventh, 1943. The board is composed of 49 members. At least 18 of them have records of collaboration with the Communist program in the United States, and this minority actually controls the board. These 18 members are: Louis Alan Berne, President of the International Federation of Architects, Engineers, Chemists and Technicians of America; Donald Henderson, President of the United Cannery, Agricultural, Packing and Allied Workers of America; Joseph P. Selly, President of the American Communications Association; Julius Emspak, Secretary-Treasurer of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America; Grant W. Oakes, President of the United Farm Equipment and Metal Workers of America; Eleanor Nelson, Secretary-Treasurer of the United Federal Workers of America; Joseph F. Jurich, President of the International Fishermen and Allied Workers of America; Ben Gold, president of the International Fur and Leather Workers of America; Morris Muster, President of the United Furniture Workers of America; Harry Renton Bridges, President of the International Longshore- men's and Warehousemen's Union; Ferdinand C. Smith, Secretary of the National Maritime Union of America; Lewis Merrill, President of the United Office and Profesional Workers of America; Abraham Flaxer, President of the State, County and Municipal Workers of America; Michael J. Quill, President of the United Transport Workers of America; Joseph Curran, President of the National Maritime Union of America; Reid Robinson, President of the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers of America; E. F. Burke, Secretary of the Marine Cooks and Stewards Association of the Pacific Coast, and Frank R. McGrath, President of the United Shoe Workers of America.

"For a detailed report concerning the Communist affiliations and activities of each of these 18 individuals see the publication of the Congressional Committee on Un-American Activities (Dies Committee) concerning its investigation of the Political Action Committee, June, 1944.

"Phillip Murray appointed Mr. Sidney Hillman as head of the newly-created committee, with R. J. Thomas, Sherman Dalrymple, Albert J. Fitzgerald and David J. McDonald as his assistants. The United States was then divided into 14 regions, with a director and subordinates in charge of each. California and Arizona comprise Area Thirteen, and the California State Headquarters was located in San Francisco, although the great majority of the State's population and the bulwark of its union strength is in Los Angeles County. It is of some coincidental interest to note that the Communist Party also divided the Nation into Communist Districts, and that California and Arizona were in District Thirteen, with headquarters located at 121 Haight Street, San Francisco.

"In charge of the affairs of the Political Action Committee in California is Mrs. Claudia Williams, alias Claudia Hoffman, alias Claudia Parker. Her Communist record, as shown by the files of the State Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities is long and varied, commencing with her affiliation with the Young Communist League and extending through years of activity in the Communist Party, mostly in Northern California. Sworn statements from a number of witnesses are available to show that Mrs. Williams has been a Communist for at least eight years.

"In each of the 14 regions established by the Political Action Committee the work is largely carried on through the C. I. O. County Councils. In Los Angeles County, for example, the county council is composed of the following members: Walter Pollard, Oscar Fuss, Aaron Shapiro, Lyle Proctor, Jeff Kibre, James Thimmes, Jerry Conway, Jerome K. Posner, James T. Patterson, Francis Forsburgh, Court Meyers, Philip M. Connelly, Griselda Kuhlman, George Harvey, William Bluhm and John G. Grady. The records of the Communist collaboration and affiliations of eight of these individuals are available from the files of the State committee.

"Mr. Hillman has stated that his committee intends to collect and spend at least $2,000,000 in the 1944 State and National election campaigns. The defeat of Congressman Starnes of Alabama and Costello of California, each a prominent and active member of the Dies Committee, and the political retirement of Martin Dies, is an important indication of what Mr. Hillman's committee intends to accomplish.

John L. Lewis and Sidney Hillman

"Much contradictory material has been written concerning Mr. Hillman's attitude toward Communism. It is known that in 1922 he visited in the Soviet Union and conferred with Lenin; that he donated the sum of $3,000 to the Communist-controlled Jewish newspaper 'Freheit,' in the name of his wife, Bessie Abramowitz; that he served as a director and trustee of the Garland Fund with William Z. Foster, National Chairman of the Communist Party. It is also known that Mr. Hillman professed to be anti-Communist when the party was seeking to penetrate and control his Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union.

"The attitude of the party toward Mr. Hillman is strangely reminiscent of its attitude toward John L. Lewis, the forgotten founding father of the C. I. O. From 1935 until 1941 the Communist press was lavish in its praises of Lewis as the saviour of the toiling masses of America. Thus in its monthly magazine, "The Communist," March, 1940, p. 201, we find the following statement:

> "'. . . In short, the coalition position formulated by President Lewis has in it the elements for transition for the American working class to a higher stage of political activity.'

"And as part of the same article on page 203 is found this sarcastic comment regarding Mr. Hillman, because he was then for Roosevelt and the Communists were not:

> "'. . . Consider, for example, one of the recent expressions of President Hillman of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, publishing a statement on the A.C.W.A. political policy in the February issue of 'Advance,' that is after Roosevelt's Congress message and war budget, President Hillman manages to muster sufficient courage (or is it something else?) to tell the workers that:
> > "'"'. . . there is no man in public life in whom we can so fully and safely confide, and for the balance of the journey."'
> "'Confide, mind you. Giving yourselves away. Entrusting your fate passively and unconditionally to one of the most militant spokesmen of Wall Street imperialism. And for 'the balance of the journey.'

"So far as this particular issue of "The Communist" was concerned, Lewis was still useful to the party and Hillman was not. This was while the Non-Aggression Pact still existed between Germany and the Soviet Union, and was prior to the invasion of Russia on June 22, 1941. The war, so far as the Communists were concerned, was still an imperialistic affair, Roosevelt was a warmonger, conscription was all wrong, and it was during this same period that the party launched its potent front organization, The American Peace Mobilization, together with an epidemic of strikes that swept across the Nation like a scourge. Hence this double-barrelled blast against Messrs. Roosevelt and Hillman.

"In The Communist for May, 1940, there was another chance to slip in a plug for Lewis, so his wisdom and oratorical ability were mentioned on page 388 as follows:

> " 'These practical objectives arise from the most intimate and burning needs of the masses of the people. They are the immediate needs of the American working class and its allies—the toiling farmers, the youth, the Negro people and the aged. They are the needs of the great gathering coalition for which John L. Lewis spoke so eloquently to the miners of northern West Virginia on April 1.'

"By 1941, however, Mr. Lewis had been squeezed dry of his usefulness to the Communists, so they characteristically began to pepper him with acid adjectives. In the October, 1943, issue of The Communist, page 899, this blast was fired:

> " 'The A. F. of L. Council's failure to accept John L. Lewis' application for the re-affiliation of the United Mine Workers, however, was a service to labor, and it came as a blow in the face to that defeatist, Lewis, insolent and autocratic, who hoped to use the A. F. of L. Council as an instrument against the war and to split the workers away from President Roosevelt.'

"This was after the invasion of Russia, so the war had now become a 'people's war,' instead of imperialistic, the American Peace Mobilization had unobtrusively slipped into the realm of things best forgotten, and Roosevelt was no longer a warmonger.

"In the same magazine for January, 1944, page 64, the Party was still taking pot shots at Mr. Lewis, as follows:

> " '. . . Guided by this consistence (italics ours) the Communists have been able to exert a positive influence on such vital issues as . . . the no-strike pledge made by labor and the struggle to defeat and isolate the defeatist and insurrectionist elements led by John L. Lewis inside labor's ranks.' "

"Mr. Benjamin Stolberg, once having been a member of the National Committee of the Communist Party, was able to shrewdly predict the liquidation of Mr. Lewis when he stated in his article, 'Communist Wreckers in American Labor,' which appeared in the September 2, 1939, issue of the 'Saturday Evening Post,' page 5, that:

> " 'Mr. Lewis is the Samson of American Labor; and the Communist Party is his current Delilah.'

"Having gone through the unpleasant experience of being implacably forced out of control of the gigantic labor organization which he created, Lewis spoke with some degree of authority when he stated, in effect, that both Philip Murray and Sidney Hillman were now in the unenviable position of either collaborating with the Communist program or being removed from the scene of American labor without further ado.

"In the case of Mr. Hillman the party used the Lewis technique in reverse. They hated and excoriated him when his sentiments ran counter to the Party line attitude toward Mr. Roosevelt and the war, and when he was resisting their efforts to take over his Clothing Workers union, but when he apparently saw the handwriting on the wall and capitulated, he, too, was hailed as the saviour of the toiling masses of America.

Communist Inspiration and Domination

"Few persons who are at all informed on the subject are so naive as to believe that the conception of a Political Action Committee originated with the C. I. O. They are well aware, on the contrary, that it was originated for the C. I. O. by the Communist Party of America. This assertion is, of course, the theme of this report, and fortunately the Communist press heralded the event and prepared the way for it through several years of propagandizing. Bearing in mind that Mr. Hillman's committee was not born until July 7, 1943, its period of gestation must have been relatively short so far as the C. I. O. and Mr. Hillman were concerned, because Mr. Lewis was the darling of the party until 1941, and Mr. Hillman was being called bad names because he was for Roosevelt, "the warmonger," until after the Germans invaded Russia on June 22, 1941.

"But as far back as 1940 the Communists had been busily preparing the ground for just such a committee. They had been quick to see the tremendous advantage in organizing by industries rather than by individual unions, and were not overlooking the unparalleled opportunity to regiment labor for their own purposes through the medium of the C. I. O. When John L. Lewis started the movement he was so successful that he literally ran out of organizers, and turned perforce to those past masters at the art—the Communists. Immediately they entrenched themselves like reinforced concrete in great key unions through which they hoped to control the industrial strength of the Nation. Thus Federal workers, State, county and municipal employees, agricultural workers, the unemployed, draftsmen, engineers, technicians, maritime workers, employees in the vast fields of transportation and communication, and workers in that tremendously important medium for propaganda—the moving picture industry—all were insidiously penetrated by the Communists until they attained virtual control of these powerful union organizations.

"This did not mean that the rank and file members of these unions were at all Communistically inclined, but it did mean that at the top, in control, were groups of party members who pulled the strings, hatched the political strategy, determined strike policies and completely dominated the situation. And so it went with the National organization of the C. I. O. until 18 of the 49 members of the National Executive Board were either party members or fellow travelers by the time the Political Action Committee was voted into being on July 7, 1943. Affairs of the board are determined by vote of those members representing the largest union memberships and so a minority group was and is able to dictate the National policies of the C. I. O. Mr. Stolberg described the situation as follows in his Saturday Evening Post article, heretofore mentioned:

" 'The party's chief method of confusion is to divide its followers into two groups: Those who admit to membership in the party and those active fellow travellers who make it a point not to hold membership cards. In the C. I. O. virtually all the Communists are such fellow travellers.'

" 'The moment the C. I. O. began, the Communists placed organizers, speakers, their whole apparatus, both official and "innocent" at Lewis' disposal. Lewis accepted. The C. I. O. needed leadership. And he was certain he could control the Communist stooges. "Who gets the bird," he asked, "the hunter or the dog?" '

" 'Several hundred fellow travellers penetrated the early C. I. O. Acting as a disciplined and unscrupulous minority they were soon in dominant positions in a number of unions. More than 100 of them got into the organization campaign of Little Steel alone. Many of these were "volunteers," that is, supported by the party or some innocent front. After the failure of the premature strike in Little Steel, a great many of them were weeded out by Phil Murray, head of the steel union. And they were largely kept out of the textile drive by Sidney Hillman, who as head of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers had had his troubles with them. But by the time this sporadic house cleaning had begun, they were pretty well entrenched throughout the C. I. O., and were in complete control of the national headquarters.'

Communist Long-Range Objectives

"In order to fully appreciate the purpose of the Communist Party in creating and working through the C. I. O. Political Action Committee, it is necessary to know something of the long-range objectives of the party. The whole basic theory of Communism is this: That in every capitalistic country there is an inevitable conflict between two great classes, capital on the one hand, and labor on the other. Communist texts refer to these classes as the 'burgeosie' and the 'proletariat,' respectively. Capital controls all of the means whereby material goods are produced; labor produces them. As mechanical devices for industry are perfected and as production is increased, the power of the capitalistic minority will be increased at the expense of the laboring minority until vast economic empires are owned by a few individuals. It is, reason the Communists, inevitable that this conflict and natural antagonism exist, and that with such a concentration of wealth in the hands of a few 'economic royalists' the working classes will be exploited, deprived of their civil liberties and kept in a sort of involuntary bondage. Communists are taught that the working masses in every capitalistic nation will eventually revolt against this form of economic servitude, and that the Communist Party in each of those countries—trained, disciplined and organized according to the precepts of Communist ideology, shall lead the toiling masses in their struggle to overthrow the capitalists. There is only one way to eliminate the conflict between capital and labor, maintain the Communists, and that is to liquidate capital. The step by step technique whereby this goal is to be achieved was formulated during the prelude to the Russian revolution and stands as a pattern to be followed by the Communists everywhere.

"It should not be necessary to point out here that Communism is, and always has been, international. That fact can almost be established through current newspaper and magazine articles, but Mr. Jack Moore, while Secretary of the Communist Party for Los Angeles County, removed all doubt when he testified before the State Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities on July 28, 1941, as follows:

"Q. By Mr. Combs: What disciplinary power does the Executive Committee of the Comintern (Communist International) exercise over the component groups in other countries?

"A. They are affiliated directly to the Comintern. They have, I believe, the power to send delegates to a National Convention and lay down a position of policy and propose that this be followed.

"Q. As a matter of fact, the Executive Committee of the Comintern can immediately, without cause, outlaw an entire party in a country, can it not?

"A. Well ——

"Q. For any reason or no reason; and, I might add further, that there is a clause that sets that forth specifically in the Communist International and the Constitution to which you just referred.

"A. They possibly have that power. I am not acquainted with the clause you are referring to.

"Q. I will read it to you, Mr. Moore. Reading from Article III, Section 12 of the 1928 Constitution of the Communist International:

"'The leading body of the Communist International in the period between Congresses is the Executive Committee, which gives instructions to all sections of the Communist International and controls their activity.

"'... The Executive Committee of the Communist International has the right to expel from the Communist International, entire Sections, Groups and individual members who violate the program and constitution of the Communist International or the decisions of the World Congress or of the Executive Committee of the Communist International.'"

"And on pages 102-103 of the transcript of Mr. Moore's testimony, he explains the relationship of the American Communist Party to the Communist International after 1940:

"'At the present time there is no direct relationship, or organizational relationship, because of the passage of an Act, I think properly called the Voorhies Act, which provided for the prosecution of international labor organizations,—I don't know all the details of this act.

"'. . . On November 16-17, 1940, a Special Convention was called at that time to amend the Party Constitution, which, up to that time, had a clause stating that the Communist Party of the United States was a Section of the Communist International, and at that time all organizational relationship was severed,—at the time of the Convention.'

"Last year it was announced that the Communist International had voluntarily disbanded. Then the Communist Party of the United States changed its name to the Communist Political Association. Then the Young Communist League changed its name to American Youth for Democracy. Few people were deluded by this camouflage job. The spots were changed, but underneath the leopard remained the same.

"According to this testimony by an expert, the Communist Party in the United States was completely controlled by the International in Russia, at least until 1940. At that time the sole reason for deleting the statement of that fact from the constitution of the American Party was the passage of a Federal act which provided a penalty unless such foreign affiliation either be discontinued or all members of the Party be registered with the United States Department of State. Subsequent events have demonstrated that Mr. Moore selected his words with meticulous care when he testified that after 1940 there was no longer any 'direct' relationship or 'organizational' relationship between the Comintern and the American Party, and that this apparent severance of connection was in name only.

"For nearly a quarter of a century the Communist Party in this country has consistently followed the exact pattern for revolution laid down by Lenin in achieving the revolution of 1917. That technique is set forth in textbooks and pamphlets which, fortunately, are available for reference on this point. In 1939 a commission in the Soviet Union prepared a textbook which was printed in 24 languages. Twelve million copies of the first edition were shipped to every country in the world where a Communist Party existed, and within five months after the first batch arrived more than 80,000 copies were sold in the United States. Of this highly important work, Earl Browder said:

> " 'This is no ordinary book to be skimmed through and then laid aside on a bookshelf. It is a scientific textbook to be studied and mastered, not a collection of dogmas to be memorized, not for mechanical quotation of extracts, but to understand the essence of the theory of Marxism-Leninism so that it can be applied to the most varied and difficult problems and situations, so that this theory can be enriched with the new experiences of the revolutionary working class movement also of our own country.' (Advertisement in "The Communist," September, 1939.)

"This text, studied assiduously by Communists everywhere, describes in elaborate detail the strategy employed by Lenin and Stalin in engineering the revolution of 1917. Over and over again it emphasizes that the Party in any capitalist country must commence its revolutionary work by a long process of penetrating and ultimately gaining control of the working masses. Over and over again the Communist press in this country has stated that the American Communists constitute the vanguard of the working class, and constantly have the Communists worked since the Party started here in 1919 to regiment and indoctrinate the trade union movement so it would wield a potent influence at the polls —naturally in accord with the Party line. Once this stage of influence was gained, the Communists would be in a position to replace those sound and able legislators who refused to carry the Party line with individuals who would be more tractable. This textbook, in describing how labor was regimented as a prelude to the 1917 revolution, states:

> " 'The Bolshevik Party during this period set an example in all forms and manifestations of the class struggle of the proletariat. It built up illegal organizations. It issued illegal pamphlets. It carried on secret revolutionary work among the leadership of the various legally existing organizations of the working class. The Party strove to win over the trade unions and gain influence in people's houses, evening universities, clubs and sick benefit societies.
> " '. . . The Revolutionary movement of the workers steadily developed, spreading to town after town, region after region. In the beginning of 1914, the workers' strikes, far from subsiding, acquired a new momentum, they became more and more stubborn and embraced ever larger numbers of workers.' (History of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union).

"This attempt at revolution was interrupted by the first World War, but thereafter, as the book points out, efforts to penetrate and regiment the workers were resumed with telling effect. This, then proved to be the first all-important step along the path of revolution.

"In 1926 Joseph Stalin wrote:

> " 'Confidence of the working class in the Party is not attained at one stroke, and not through the medium of force directed at the working class, but by the Party's prolonged work among the masses, by a correct Party policy, by the ability of the Party to convince the masses through their own experience of the correctness of its policy, and by the ability of the Party to gain the support of the working class to follow its lead.' (Problems of Leninism, by Joseph Stalin, pp. 44-51).

"In America Earl Browder followed this basic precept by instructing his Party as follows:

> " 'Trade unions are the primary organizations of the working class. It is in the unions that the workers learn the first lessons of organization and of struggle, without which there can be no development of revolutionary consciousness. Consequently, Communists have always emphasized that one of their central tasks is to work within the trade unions. We can not win the majority of the working class for our program unless we base all of our large-scale, united working front upon united activities within the unions.

" 'The Trade Unions are schools in which the workers learn the elementary lessons of the class struggle, and through them they grow into more conscious and more effective fighters against capitalism.' (What Is Communism? by Earl Browder, pp. 109-110).

Rehearsals for Revolution

"The extent to which these principles have been carefully followed in the United States can be seen in the technique used in the San Joaquin Valley cotton strike of 1933, and the San Francisco general strike of 1934. Much material is available concerning these two dress rehearsals for revolution, the best of which is a booklet by William F. Dunne, entitled, 'The Great San Francisco General Strike,' Workers Library Publishers, New York, 1934, wherein the role played by the Communist Party in that strike is frankly discussed, and which contains a critical resolution by the national committee of the party which reads, in part, as follows:

" 'The outstanding shortcomings in the whole development of the strike on the West Coast was the inability to develop the strikes of the marine workers in other ports (Atlantic and Gulf) and to coordinate the strikes that did take place (Gulf) with that of the West Coast. This was to a certain extent due to the underestimation of the marine strike on the West Coast by the Party as a whole, and especially the marine districts.

" 'The comrades responsible for the leadership of the Party in San Francisco expressed their main weakness in a slowness and even hesitancy in taking up the exposure of Ryan and Company, in the weakness in answering the red-baiting campaign of the capitalists and the A. F. of L. bureaucrats, in the insufficient bringing forward of the Party and building it among the strikers. These weaknesses reflect a tendency which believes that the development of unity of action on the part of the workers is possible by weakening the fight against the A. F. of L. bureaucrats, who, in every phase and stage of the strike, were actively engaged in strike-breaking. A further weakness was the inability to coordinate the strike in the various ports on the Pacific Coast, where the two Party districts worked on the whole without adequate contacts.'

"Thus it can be seen, out of the mouths of the Communists themselves, how their pattern for gaining control of the trade union movement was formulated in Russia, reiterated by Stalin, written into the Party's social textbook and tested and subjected to critical analysis in the strike described above. That was the pattern which was being followed while the Communists were penetrating the C. I. O. until they were able to eliminate Mr. Lewis from his position of control and dictate the policies themselves. The idea of consolidating the masses into one formidable political body found expression in their press while the Party was still lambasting its current idol, Mr. Hillman, as the foe of labor. 'The Communist' for February, 1940, stated on pages 104-108:

> " 'Because it incorporates most of the essential needs and demands of the masses at the present time, the legislative program of the Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO) represents in fact a practical basis on which to build the fighting unity of the working people of the United States.
> " '. . . They will gain such an understanding through the experiences of the struggle, deepened and illuminated by the political work of the revolutionary vanguard of the working class—the Communist Party.'

"And in the March, 1944, issue of the same publication the following statement appeared on page 218:

> " 'In every city, State and Congressional district in the country all the forces of organized labor and other win-the-war elements should come together and set up joint committees. These should take up the urgent task of politically registering the millions of uprooted war workers and also develop other active political work in support of the war. Preparations must be made for labor to cast a solid win-the-war vote in 1944.'

"In many of the Communist-dominated unions this 'encouragement' and 'stimulation' consisted in withholding the union cards from the individual members until they first registered to vote—thereby depriving the members of the right to work as a penalty for failing to do something which should be none of the union's business.

"During the many years that a slow but steady penetration was being made in the ranks of organized labor, the party has always been alert to take immediate advantage of any internal conflict, such as a depression, to recruit additional members into its fold. In 1939 thousands of migratory agricultural workers poured into the State from the dust bowl area, driven from their farms and homes by an economic condition with which they were unable to cope. At that time California was operating a State Relief Administration, and these migrants were housed, fed and clothed through this agency. Here was a magnificent opportunity for mass propagandizing, and consequently the Communists herded the applicants for relief into a union for the unemployed—the Workers Alliance. The president of this typical front organization was Alexander Noral, a registered Communist. The State Relief Administration was literally permeated with Communists who operated through the medium of another union, the State, County and Municipal Workers of America, of which Abraham Flaxer, a member of the C. I. O. National Executive Board, is president. After a residence of one year the migrants became eligible to vote, and were told by the Communist organizers that they must register to vote for more liberal legislators to obtain higher appropriations for relief to bring more migrants into the State. This vicious circle had reached an alarming peak when the entire situation was fumigated by an Assembly Investigating Committee and the subversive condition disclosed. The ranks of both unions were rapidly decimated, which provoked the following angry statement from President Flaxer:

> " 'In California the Yorty Committee succeeded in destroying a union of 3,500 members in the State Relief Administration.'

"Under existing conditions there is another, far greater artificial population which has been brought into this State by the need for war workers by the hundreds of thousands. The Douglas Aircraft plants in Los Angeles County alone employ some 80,000 persons. Virtually all of these workers are required to join a union before they are permitted to work. In those unions which are Communist-dominated the same old technique has been used with success—the same technique that was formulated by Lenin, reiterated by Stalin, taught by the Third International, hammered home by the Communist press, set forth in the Party's official textbook and subjected to field experiment, with appropriate critical analysis, in the San Francisco general strike, to-wit: Penetration and regimentation of the trade union masses.

"The rank and file membership in the average union is too busy to study the complex ideology of Communism. They are loyal, patriotic citizens and far from Communistically inclined; but they are powerless because their union, both nationally and locally, is Communist-dominated at the top.

Communist Control of Legislatures

"There is a constant barrage of propaganda leveled at those legislators who presume to vote contrary to the Party line. They are called enemies of organized labor, tools of big business, Wall Street stooges and traitors to their constituents. Any legislative investigating committee which has the temerity to investigate Communist activities is immediately branded as Fascist, Fifth Column, a tool of Hitler and thoroughly unpatriotic. The most shop-worn accusation now is to charge that whenever anyone investigates the American variety of Communism, he is being 'anti-Soviet,' and is therefore dividing the people against their war ally, and obstructing the war effort! It is needless to point out that there isn't supposed to be any connection between the Russian and American Communists any more. By the same specious reasoning, if a group of American citizens of English descent sought to overthrow our form of government and to substitute therefor the British governmental system with a royal family, anyone who sought to expose and prevent the plan would be anti-British and a menace to the war effort.

"And so the Communists have carried on for nearly twenty-five years, and during that time they have made tremendous progress. The facts speak for themselves. It is not hysteria, nor witch-hunting, nor red-baiting to simply cite the record for what it shows. And if the Communist Party is successful, through the Political Action Committee, in replacing sound, courageous legislators with those who will be subservient to the Party line—and we have a few already—then we must be prepared for the sort of legislation the Party has been advocating these many years: Repeal of the Criminal Syndicalism laws, abolition of all committees to investigate subversive activities, abolition of the FBI, etc.

"Steadfastly adhering to the concept that it must first penetrate and regiment labor as the initial step in its revolutionary program, American Communists seized on the structure of the CIO through which to operate in this field. Once they obtained control of the structure of that great organization they promptly unhorsed Mr. Lewis and set up the CIO Political Action Committee, which is Communist-dominated from top to bottom. In California the State-wide activities of that Committee are controlled by Communists whose records are known to every official investigating agency in the field.

"Too many members of State and National legislative bodies view statements—although documented—regarding Communist activities as the product of hysteria. It is precisely this sort of indifference and apathy to a profoundly serious condition that makes the progress of the Communists comparatively easy. Only when labor, and industry as well, can be brought to view the situation in its true light; only when resistance to such insidious subversive influence comes from motives that are patriotic rather than financial or political can this problem be dealt with adequately.

"Meanwhile, the C.I.O. Political Action Committee constitutes a menacing subversive force in the Nation and in this State."

Destruction of Legislative Investigating Committees

The Communist organizations throughout California, Communist fellow-travelers and naive "progressive" and "liberal" innocents, have combined, under Communist inspiration and domination, in a campaign of vilification and "smear" against this Legislative Committee. The C. I. O. Political Action Committee, with the same inspiration and domination, is determined to destroy all agencies that investigate subversive activities. The defeat of Congressman John Costello of Los Angeles and other members of the Dies Committee is an illustration of their strength and success in this direction. A special legislative supplement to the Communist publication in California, "The People's Daily World," has just launched a campaign for the discontinuance of this Legislative Committee. On page 5 of the supplement under the heading printed in red, "The Tenney Committee Should be Blacked Out," is the following:

"Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 2 would extend the life of the Tenney Committee, and appropriate $10,000.00 for its expenses. This Committee which has functioned like the discredited 'Dies Committee' on Un-American activities in the House of Representatives, has failed to indict activity of a Fascist-inspired character, and has instead devoted its time and the taxpayer's money to red-baiting and smear campaigns against progressive and pro-labor individuals and groups.

"It should be sent to well merited oblivion by the defeat of this Resolution, which has been referred to the Senate Committee on Rules."

Every Communist front organization will be utilized to pressure the California Legislature during the 1945 Regular Session for the discontinuance of the committee investigating subversive activities.

"ZOOT-SUIT" RIOTS IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Pages 200 to 217, inclusive, of the Committee's 1943 Report dealt with the Sinarquista movement in Southern California. At the time the committee submitted its report to the Legislature there was but little information available on this organization. Subsequent investigation of the Sinarquistas and its leaders has substantiated, for the greater part, most of the material set forth in the Committee's 1943 Report.

The Pachuco, or so-called "zoot-suit," fad among Negro and Mexican youth in Los Angeles' east side was a golden opportunity for Communist racial agitation. The riots that occurred in June of 1943, together with the activities of certain Communist front organizations and the vociferous charges of the Communist press, forcefully brought the situation to the attention of the Committee. An intensive investigation of the Sinarquista movement, its leaders, its aims and objectives, the Pachucos, or "zoot-suiters," Communist interest and agitation, and the relation of one to the other of these apparently heterogeneous groups, was immediately launched.

Gangs of Mexican and Negro boys, garbed in the fantastic costumes now generally known as "zoot-suits," had been roaming the streets of the east side of the City of Los Angeles since early in 1941. Many of these boys were armed with clubs, knives, brass knuckles and links of chains. Every properly attired "zoot-suiter" wore heavy-soled oxfords. In extreme cases the soles of these "zoot-suit" oxfords were in excess of an inch thick and when properly used in a gang fight became formidable weapons. United States sailors and soldiers were assaulted on the streets and in cocktail bars by groups of "zoot-suiters" and violent disturbances were reported from time to time. Early in June of 1943, the long-smouldering antagonism flared into violence.

PACHUCO CRIMES

C. B. Horrall, Chief of the Police Department of the City of Los Angeles, testified that it was the policy of his department to make an arrest whenever a violation of the law occurred. Carrying concealed weapons is a violation of the law and many Mexican boys were arrested for this offense. Chief Horrall stated that the first Pachuco, or "zoot-suit," disturbances began early in 1941. He stated that the boys were divided into a number of gangs who clashed from time to time. He had heard of the Citizens' Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth and its activities and had been informed that some of the people connected with the organization were members of the Communist Party. It was the Chief's opinion that the organization was a Communist Party "front." He believed that the Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth, and similar organizations, inflamed racial prejudices, and in the Pachuco, or "zoot-suit," problem, had contributed to the conflagration by constantly stirring and fomenting antagonisms through hysterical activities. He categorically denied charges made by Al Waxman in the "Eastside Journal," Charlotta Bass in the "California Eagle" and the Communist publication, "The Peoples' Daily World" that the police had been brutal in handling participants in the riots. He testified that no specific case of brutality on the part of the police had come to his attention, but, on the contrary, that during the disturbances, 10 or 15 police officers had received serious injury. Chief Horrall's testimony, in part, follows (Com. Tr., Vol. XIX, pp. 4443-4445):

By Senator Tenney: Q. Do you believe these disturbances were principally due to racial prejudice and discrimination?

A. I have to go back a ways in answering that question to give—at least, for me to express my opinion, because the thing goes back a ways, that's what I meant to say, Mr. Tenney.

Q. First, you might answer that yes or no, if you can. The question again is: Do you believe racial prejudice and discrimination was the basic cause for this disturbance?

A. I do not.

Q. Now, go ahead and modify in any way you want.

A. These disturbances, of course, started with the Latin-American gang situation, which was among themselves, up until approximately a year ago; that is, there were fights between different gangs, different members of the gangs, and were confined almost entirely to themselves. However, about a year ago we had a little difficulty down at San Pedro, wherein they got mixed up with the sailors down there. That was the first I knew of where they got outside of their own gangs. When we had another disturbance here about three or four months ago in Venice, where there was reported that an attempt was made to break up a USO dance down there, and then this latest, which, according to the reports I have, started in the north end up here around the 1700 block on North Main Street as, apparently, the result of some of the sailors making advances to some Mexican girls or talking to them. I don't know whether it went any farther than that, and it started the difficulties, and then there was retaliation back and forth between this particular group up there and the sailors until it reached the place where it got some publicity in the papers, and that was what caused the gangs to congregate downtown that night and brought the crowd all out. However, some people have chosen to call it riots; I don't think it should be classified as that. And the feeling in general among them was one of fun and sport rather than malice. Quite a few of the boys had their clothes torn off, but the crowds weren't particularly hard to handle; they were large, but we had no difficulty in breaking them up; they would go a couple of blocks away and form there. There were no attacks made on policemen.

Another point I would like to make: While there were a great many service men in those crowds and quite a few civilians, and many of those crowds were led from place to place by civilians, not service men, and in some instances those individuals were reported to be of Latin-American extraction.

Q. Now, were arrests made, chief, strictly for protection of those people?

A. There were quite a few which were taken in for their own protection.

Q. Does that account in any sense for the amount of people that were arrested?

A. In those cases no one was booked, but for their own protection they were taken into the station and kept there until such time as they could safely be allowed on the street.

Q. Did you find any Axis or fifth column—what you might term Axis or fifth column—influence?

A. Nothing that I could prove. Repeatedly I heard claims that there were subversive influences connected with this, but I have no proof of that.

Q. Of course, in the opinion of the committee, the subversive influences could be from either the Communist side or the Axis.

A. I have heard both.

Q. The Communist committees have claimed Axis fifth column influence, and we have investigated as to the Sinarquista end. You have no independent knowledge of fifth column activity?

A. No, only the report the Sinarquistas did have some influence in it. We were never able to find out whether they did or not."

Captain Contreras, of the sheriff's office, testified (Committee transcript, Volume XIX, pp. 4563-4565):

They have a situation out in East Los Angeles, of course, they have a large Mexican population, and there is about 30 to 40 thousand Mexicans live there, and they have about 300 so-called hoodlums out there in gangs, various gangs.

Q. Did you through your office or with the assistance of the sheriff's department in general make any survey of the so-called zoot-suit problem?

A. We have.

Q. Do you have the data available?

A. I have some of it, sir. There was on the night of June 18th, 10 or 15 arrests made of boys ranging from 17 to 19 years old. Each one of these were charged with failure to disperse, inciting a riot at the time of arrest, and the following weapons were found in their possession: Two steel bars, one large truck wrench, three tire irons, 3 iron wrenches, one hammer, one auto crank, 4 pieces of two by four lumber, one gallon milk bottle, one large Seven-Up bottle. The arresting officers said when the gangs were being surrounded they started throwing their weapons. Subject Moreno was identified by the officer as being one of the gang who had a half gallon milk bottle with the bottom broken off, and was leading the gang. We had from time to time 10 to 15 arrests in that part of the County, and the cases are still pending, most of them.

The committee requested Captain J. F. Reed, Administrative Assistant to the Chief of Police of the City of Los Angeles, to present police officers who had been involved in the "zoot-suit" riots. On the afternoon of June 23, 1943, Captain Reed appeared before the committee with the police officers, as requested, and made the following general statement for the record (Comm. Tript, Vol. XIX, pp. 4450-4453):

By Chairman Tenney: Q. Captain, I spoke to you over the phone, and I think it was the other day with reference to the officers that had been involved in some of these disturbances. Were you able to bring the names of any of the officers today?

A. Yes, sir, I have 15 officers who have been injured in such type of activity, and they are all here today. I have a list of those and the different times whereby they were injured during the riots in places of that type.

Q. Are the officers here?

A. Yes, the majority of them were subpenaed for 3 o'clock. I have the background of the first gang outbreak that we had.

Q. We would like to have that very much. Go right ahead.

A. The first outbreak that we had in Los Angeles which was of major importance was on 8-16-41, at 11 o'clock. I have the two officers who handled the original investigation, but I will endeavor to give you a short synopsis of what happened. A dance was being held over on Boundary Street; that's over in the Rose Hill section of Huntington Drive; whereby many of the Mexican boys of this pachuco type and girls attended a dance. A rival gang came over and tried to bust the dance up and take some of the girls away. They weren't very successful. They proceeded to arm themselves —across the street was a picket fence, and they tore all the pickets off the fence, and they armed themselves and started to fight. They were finally turned away, and they proceeded to go down the street and get into an automobile and lay in wait for the group to break up. As the group broke up later that night a car with two or three youngsters, I don't exactly know how many were in that car, but as they came down the street this car was in hiding and pulled out alongside, directly hit and turned it over, killing two of the occupants. That was the first gang outbreak of any importance.

Q. When was that?

A. 8-16-41. Officer Joe Willis was the radio car officer who answered the call, and Officer J. E. Hampton, who made the investigation, are here, and they can go into those facts more thoroughly than I can. Then, as conditions grew worse throughout the Mexican area, they attacked only those of Latin-American extraction. Wherever there was a party or a dance or home gathering, these groups would travel around in caravans of cars, and pull up in front of the house and demand everything they had to eat in the house or drink, they took over, and if anybody objected they were beaten up. We received complaints about that from the Mexicans. A man by the name of Torrez of East Los Angeles came into the police department with Joe D. Rivera and complained about conditions. He didn't feel his family was safe or anybody, and he asked the police department take action against these hoodlums. Of course, we were all the time making arrests of various groups, and I have several reports of interest showing the type of crimes they were committing. They attacked a young girl 14 years of age. There were five or six different boys that attacked this girl, and it was necessary for the officer to club them off the child before they could get them in custody. In many cases they grab a young couple, tie the escort up, rape the girl and then urinate on them. Just recently there was an attack made with five boys, in Pachuco suits, they raped a 56 year old negro woman, and all raped her, and one of the boys was 14 years old, approximately 14 years old, and while he raped her the others held her at the point of a knife. Then they offered her a drink of wine, which she refused, and then they drank the wine and then urinated in the bottle and forced her to drink out of this bottle. That is some of the types of things that have been going on.

After the Sleepy Lagoon thing they gradually started to attack other people. They got out of the Latin-American group and went into other nationalities; then along came the service men, the sailors; they came into the area and they were attacked. If they were on the street talking to girls or things like that, for no reason at all 15 or 16 boys would jump on one service man. We have had numerous complaints about that. They would go into the Negro section, and there were many arrests made on many of these cases. Four zoot-suiters held up a station operator, who was shot, and they did go out of Los Angeles County into San Bernardino, Riverside, Ventura and so forth. We have information from San Bernardino and Riverside of crimes being committed, which seem to be the same type as these gangs. Wilmington seems to have the same type of gang. They seem to be very close to the induction center of the Army, they are very closely situated to the induction center in Wilmington, and in Ventura, which has also had considerable difficulty. Coming back to the present so-called riot in the downtown area, the night of June 7th, about 5,000 people were involved at one time, and there were civilians, soldiers and everybody who heard about it over the radio came down, and it made it extremely difficult to handle. We had no difficulty or trouble in breaking them up, they didn't resist the officers at all; but if a group of service men were broken up they formed in another place, but always leading each group there was always a civilian, either a Mexican or Negro or white; and as we eliminated the leaders from the service groups, by 11 o'clock at night we had eliminated most of the leaders, all the civilians, and we had the thing under control whereby there were no more assaults."

Captain Reed went on to explain that during a period from June 1 to June 10, 1943, 187 juveniles were arrested in connection with the "zoot-suit" riots. Most of these arrests occurred on June 7th. Forty-eight of these defendants were charged as incorrigibles, beyond the control of their parents under Section 700 of the Welfare and Institutions Code; eight were charged with assault with a deadly weapon; nine with battery; 56 for violation of Penal Code Section 407, unlawful assembly; three with carrying concealed weapons, 25 for violation of the Municipal Code, Section 505, loitering, and 38 for violation of the curfew law. Two hundred juveniles, in addition, were brought to the police station and after being questioned, released and sent home to their parents. Between January 1, 1942, and June 10, 1943, Captain Reed listed, in addition to the foregoing, a total of 134 crimes charged to suspects wearing "zoot-suits." These crimes included 21 burglaries, one attempted burglary, one grand theft, 18 petty thefts, three petty thefts for motor vehicles, 63 robberies, six attempted robberies, nineteen thefts from persons, and two worthless checks. Between October 1, 1942, and June 14, 1943, 316 persons wearing "zoot-suits" were arrested and charged with various crimes. Eighteen of these defendants were White or Caucasian, 133 were Negroes and 165 were Mexicans.

Captain Reed's description of one of the disturbances is typical (Com. Tran., Vol. XIX, pp. 4461-4462):

> Captain Reed: A. I have one other of the 77th district. This report I am going to read from is Captain Richard Simon's report, the 77th division, Los Angeles Police Department. This excerpt says (reading):
> "On the night of June 9th, 1943, about 200 service men, all armed with wooden clubs, boards, iron bars, and other weapons appeared in Watts in 52 commandeered cars. As our force was insufficient to effect a mass arrest without the necessity for a pitched battle, these men were in effect shepherded by the available officers and prevented from injuring persons or property. The doors of two houses were forced, but no one injured. A wearer of a zoot-suit was taken from his seat in a theatre, but officers released him at once and removed the service men from the theatre. The keys were taken from many of the cars and the service men held on 102nd Street until help arrived. At the same time the theatre entry was made, a gang of approximately 100 Negro and Mexican boys threw rocks at officers and auxiliary policemen at 103rd and Graham Streets. This group was dispersed. Had the service men been aware of this gang, a violent riot would surely have resulted. This gang later drove about the Watts area and the Graham district to the north in a large truck disturbing the peace. I know of no personal injury received by anyone during the evening. More rocks were thrown through windows of P. E. trains. Resume of police action:
> "1. About 100 service men turned over to military police and shore patrol.
> "2. Thirteen adults arrested for disturbing the peace (above gang).
> "3. Twenty-five juveniles arrested for unlawful assembly (above gang).
> "4. About 55 juveniles on the street taken to Watts Station, questioned by juvenile officers and released.
> "5. Curiosity seekers dispersed."
> It gives you kind of an idea about this situation. You can readily see service men were picked up and turned over to the proper authorities, as well as the Mexican boys, Negro boys and Whites.

C. L. Christopher, member of the Los Angeles City Police Department for nearly 20 years, testified June 23, 1943. His testimony, in part, follows (Com. Tran., Vol. XIX, pp. 4474-4476):

> Mr. Combs: Q. Where were you on 7-26-42 approximately at 7.15?
> A. I was in the vicinity of Pomray and Marks.
> Q. How did you happen to be there at that time?
> A. We were called. I work in a two-man radio car, and we drove by and attempted to disperse a large group of Mexicans who were holding a crap game on the sidewalk of the public streets.

Q. About how many persons were present at the time you got there?

A. Approximately 40 to 50.

Q. Now, tell us please concisely what happened which resulted in injuries to you at that time and place.

A. Officer Hawks, Officer Hutman, Officer Karat and myself responded to the call, and when we got there we observed—we drove up in a plain colored car and observed what was going on, and we jumped into the crowd and grabbed the ones in the act of gambling, attempted to place them in the car, and as we did a riot started.

Q. Did you see them gambling?

A. We did. During the melee there was one woman and her husband, he was in the United States Army uniform or a Marine, and they started yelling and saying they were not going and egging the Mexicans on and calling us loud profane names and agitating the crowd, and as fast as we put the defendants in the car for creating the disturbance, someone would go around to the other side of the car and jerk the car door open and take the people out, and they were pushing us around and tearing our clothes off of us and separating us from our defendants and the radio car. During the melee one of the Mexicans had a knife or a piece of glass, and he was swinging it back and forth and it slit my finger across here (indicating). We were successful in taking three defendants away with us, and they went before the Grand Jury and they were bound over by the Grand Jury, and the attorneys representing them rather than go to trial compromised with the District Attorney, and Mr. Shoemaker, who was in charge of that detail, entered a plea before Judge Scott. Judge Scott gave them the maximum amount of penalty and suspended the sentence to five days, and placed the ones we had up on two years probation.

Q. Were any other officers with you at that time also injured?

A. Not to the extent of having to receive medical attention. We were all more or less soaked with water. Some of the Mexicans ran up and grabbed the water and threw it all over us.

Q. During the occurrence of that incident could you discern a general attitude of defiance and contempt for the things you were trying to do on the part of the crowd?

A. We have had that in every arrest during the last year or year and a half among the Mexicans.

Q. A feeling of defiance?

A. I have worked among the Mexican people out of my time probably 10 or 11 years.

Q. Prior to that time up to a year and a half ago did they view the police department with more respect than they have since?

A. We got assistance. I worked the beat which was then called Mexican from Sunset to College, and from Alameda to Figueroa Street, and at that time we got a world of cooperation from the Mexicans. It used to be if a police officer was involved, instead of having them against us, they were against their own race of people and would help.

Q. So this attitude of defiance and contempt and lack of cooperation, viciousness which has been exhibited, has all arisen during the last year and a half?

A. That's right.

* * * * *

Q. Were you injured on any other occasion?

A. I was.

Q. When was the next occasion?

A. 10-17-42 at 3.30 a.m.

Q. At what locality?

A. In front of 2321 East First Street.

Q. How did you happen to be there at that time?

A. Officer Karat and I was down in the south part and we heard a riot call at that address. When we arrived the officers had been there and taken care of the difficulty; that is the Carioca Restaurant, which is a very respectable place, in the Hollenbeck district, catering to married people and elderly people. So we stopped and were talking to the lady, and asked her what the trouble was and she informed us that there was a band of zoot-suits, and because she wouldn't serve beer and let them have the free run of the place, they had practically wrecked it and the officers had arrested five or six, but there were probably ten or fifteen that had gotten away. While we were talking we observed an automobile backing approximately 35 or 40 miles an hour, first on one side of the street and then the other, and then come to a stop in behind our car, and Officer Karat stepped back to ask the driver of the automobile what the matter was, and he started cussing Officer Karat and reached down to pick up an iron he had on the floor, a piece of spring steel. I jumped out of the car and ran back to assist. I thought from my first observation that he was full of marihuana. We got him out of the car, and it took four of us to handcuff him. A large crowd gathered, and I think we could have had an awfully nice mess. In trying to put the handcuffs on he bit my thumb on the right hand and two of my fingers on the left hand, necessitating medical attention and shots of tetanus.

Q. Had he been smoking marihuana?

A. He had not. . . .

Carl R. Ericson, an officer in the Los Angeles Police Department, testified that he was attacked at about 5.45 p.m. on January 15, 1943, between Fifth and Sixth Streets on Pacific and San Pedro. His testimony, in part, follows (Com. Tr., Vol. XIX, pp. 4485-4486):

A. I was patroling the beat, and I made my hourly ring, and my attention was drawn to a crowd of people half way between Fifth and Sixth Streets. I thought someone had been injured, so I started towards them. I entered through the crowd, and Alfonso Sandoval yelled, 'It's a cop.'

Q. Were you in uniform?

A. In full uniform. He started towards me and grabbed me, and another assailant started towards me, and two more—there were about 10 or 12 actually in physical combat. In the middle of the fight Sandoval grabbed my badge and started striking me. I held him at arm's distance and didn't strike him at all. I held him away, and while I was holding him Roy Huhta, an ex-pug, swung and struck me on the right cheek.

Q. With his fist?

A. With his fist. I released Sandoval, and another Mexican Pachuco that was coming in on the left and grabbed Huhta and slugged Huhta, and Huhta went down. That is the first blow I struck.

Q. Did you use your night stick?

A. I didn't have any night stick or any sap—I had been on the motorcycle.

Q. Did you have a gun?

A. I had a gun, yes.

Q. Did you use it?

A. Not with the amount of people—there was 50 or 75 people at the beginning of the fight.

Q. How were you injured?

A. I had some teeth knocked out in the lower jaw.

Q. Did it require dental or medical care?

A. It required the dentist's attention.

Q. How many Pachucos would you estimate were present on that occasion?

A. There was about—mingled in the crowd, there was about 30—20 to 30 actual Pachucos.

Q. What was the attitude of the crowd towards you, cooperative or hostile?

A. The crowd was neutral.

Q. How about the Pachucos, what was their attitude?

A. Antagonistic. . . .

John J. Halloran, also an officer with the Los Angeles Police Department, told the committee of receiving a radio call to investigate a "gang attack" on a service station at 800 North Mission Road in Los Angeles. (Com. Tr., Vol. XIX, pp. 4489-4494.) He testified that, in the company of two other officers, he drove to the locality indicated in the radio call and upon arriving found a man badly beaten, covered with blood, cut about the face and stabbed in the back. The victim's nose had almost been severed from his face. Securing a description of the assailants and their car the officers cruised about the neighborhood and eventually picked up their trail. A woman directed them to a house where fifteen or twenty of them had taken refuge. Officer Halloran's testimony continues (Com. Tr., Vol. XIX, pp. 4492-4493):

> A. . . . the lights were turned off in the house, but we heard a commotion inside and we started to enter, at which time the people in the house—there were about 15 or 20—I think probably about 20 in the house. When they saw us coming some of them tried to make their escape, and three of them rushed at me from the front door, and I don't know who shot, but I heard a shot about that time coming from the direction of the house, and I pulled my gun and ordered these three to halt, which they didn't do and I shot two of them and effected the arrest of those, and the other two officers and myself arrested 12 altogether in the house.

Q. The two you shot were in the act of running away, were they?
A. At the time I shot them.
Q. And you ordered them to halt?
A. Yes.
Q. Which they refused to do?
A. Yes.
Q. The first shot you heard wasn't fired by you or any of the officers with you?
A. No, it wasn't.
Q. What happened to the two prisoners that you shot?
A. They recovered.
Q. They both recovered?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And you say you effected the arrest of 12 altogether?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. What was their attitude toward you and the other officers when you were effecting their arrests?
A. They were very belligerent, they put up some resistance. The other two officers were both struck by these defendants during the arrests, but we finally got them quieted and put them in the cars and took them to the station.
Q. Did you have to use any other means of force to subdue them?
A. I didn't myself, but I believe Officer Stevens and Officer Eutis both did.
Q. Used their saps?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Were they Pachucos?
A. Yes.
Q. And arrested in Pachuco suits?
A. Yes.

Officer Vance Brasher of the Los Angeles Police Department testified as follows (Com. Tr., Vol. XIX, pp. 4494-4498):

Mr. Combs: Q. You were here when Captain Reed related the circumstances affecting you in connection with the Pachuco disturbance, were you not?
A. Yes.
Q. On what date did that difficulty occur?
A. November 26th, 1942.
Q. At what time?
A. Approximately 9.30 in the morning.
Q. Were you in plain clothes or uniform?
A. Plain clothes.
Q. Do you habitually work in plain clothes?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Where did the disturbance take place?
A. 276 Clover Street.
Q. What part of the city is that?
A. The east side of town.
Q. How did you happen to go there?
A. The detective bureau had advised us that a Mexican—there was three of them—the previous night had knocked a woman down over in Hollywood and snatched her purse, and in doing so one of the Pachucos had dropped an identification card, and they informed us the fellow lived at 276 Clover Street, so we went over to establish the address.

Q. When you say we, who do you mean?

A. My partner, Tom Buckley and I.

Q. You were in a patrol car?

A. We staked out from 10.30 of the 25th until the time it occurred, approximately 9.30 of the 26th. At the time we had information he was in the house. My partner went around to the back, and I went to the front, so in case he ran out of the back my partner would get him, and I entered the front door. He was lying inside, and as I pulled the screen door he stuck a gun in my face and fired.

Q. Where did he shoot you?

A. The jaw, here (indicating).

Q. And you are indicating the scar?

A. And it came out down the back of my neck (indicating).

Q. What happened, did you go down?

A. Momentarily. As I came to, my partner came running in, and Vallez, he jumped over me and run down the street. I pulled my gun and shot six times at him.

Q. Did you hit him?

A. I started to reload, but in the meantime my partner came running in and chased him and cornered him down between two houses, and he had to shoot him at that point before he took him. We took him to the receiving hospital, he didn't die.

Q. He didn't die?

A. No, he didn't.

Q. What happened to him, was he prosecuted?

A. He was prosecuted.

Q. Was he convicted?

A. He was convicted.

Q. Where is he now?

A. I guess it would be San Quentin. He was also wanted for two robberies, grand theft, auto and merchandise.

Q. Was he a Pachuco?

A. That's right.

Q. Dressed in a zoot-suit?

A. That's right.

Q. How old was he?

A. 19 years old.

Q. Were you involved in any other difficulty with Pachucos?

A. Yes, in the case where a police officer was killed. It started over a Pachuco, a drunken Pachuco.

Q. Will you relate the circumstances—when did that occur?

A. That happened on the 31st of December.

Q. Of last year?

A. That's right, of '42.

Q. What time of the day?

A. Approximately 11.30—that was New Year's Eve.

Q. Where did it occur?

A. 1763 North Main Street.

Q. What happened?

A. At that time my partner and I were patroling, and we noticed a crowd out in front of a cafe.

Q. What was your partner's name?

A. Tom Buckley.

Q. The same person?

A. The same person. We noticed a woman and three men arguing. We thought it was just a Mexican brawl, drunks, so we hollered at them to "bust it up and go home." We traveled about a quarter of a block and heard five shots. We immediately turned around, and we saw two fellows running from the scene. Well, we stopped the car and apprehended them, and when we went back to the scene we found the officer lying in front of the cafe, he had been shot.

Q. The officer had been shot?

A. That's right. After investigation, one defendant, Mr. Brasdeaz, a homicide, in the city hall admitted shooting the police officer.

Q. He confessed?

A. That's right. He was convicted and received a manslaughter verdict.

Q. What was the officer's name?

A. Diro.

Q. Were these persons with whom you had controversies at that time and place Pachucos?

A. Two of them were, yes.

Q. Dressed in zoot-suits?

A. Yes.

Officer Meredith John Layman told the committee that he and his partner, Officer Trout, had received a radio call in Venice during the period of the "zoot-suit" disturbances. Arriving in the vicinity of the pier in Venice the officers were approached by a Mexican who asked whether or not they were policemen. Upon replying in the affirmative the Mexicans told the officers that there was a fight in progress on the end of the pier. It was after nightfall and at this time the entire coast area was blacked out. Stepping to the end of the pier the officers were suddenly assaulted by five or six young Mexicans, all, except one, of whom were wearing "zoot-suits". The exception was wearing a soldier's uniform. One was armed with a pair of brass knuckles while two others wielded black-jacks. Officer Layman suffered an injury over the left eye which required two stitches and his teeth were driven through his lips. His testimony, in part, follows (Com. Tr., Vol. XIX, pp, 4500-4502):

Chairman Tenney: Q. Did they use any weapons?

A. Two blackjacks and a pair of knuckles.

Q. A pair of knuckles?

A. Yes, I was knocked down to my knees twice—I got back up.

Q. You say they were in zoot-suits?

A. Yes, the tight-legged trousers and the coat didn't quite reach to the knees.

Q. They had the full Pachuco pants on?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you effect their arrest?

A. No, sir.

Q. What happened?

A. As I understood later from my partner, he had to draw his gun, as they backed him up against the rail of the pier, and he said they were going to push him over, so he drew his gun, and I was using all the force I could to make an arrest.

Q. Were you knocked groggy?

A. Things appeared clear at that time, but later when I thought about it it wasn't so clear.

Q. Where were you struck with the brass knuckles?

A. Right here (indicating).

Q. Where that scar is discernible?

A. Yes.

Q. Where else?

A. Right here on my lip (indicating).

Q. Any place else?

A. The two that had the saps hit me across the spine repeatedly, and I still suffer from that.

Q. By a sap, you mean a piece of loaded lead?

A. Yes.

Q. And you were struck across the spine with that?

A. Yes.

Q. You still suffer from the effects of those blows?

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Is there any other occasion you sustained any injury in a similar incident?

A. About two weeks before while in uniform at Navy and Ocean, which is a short boulevard, a short block, I was struck in the jaw, but I did not need any medical attention—there was a riot there.

Q. Were you struck on the jaw with a weapon?

A. Only a fist.

Q. And that involved people of Mexican descent, young people who were dressed in the typical Pachuco costume?

A. Yes, sir. I believe there were 13 arrests that night.

Q. What were the arrests made for—rioting?

A. Yes, sir; unlawful assembly, I believe.

COMMUNIST AGITATION

The Communist press, Communist spokesmen, loud-mouthed Communist sympathizers and fellow-travelers charged the Sinarquistas with the responsibility for the riots, alleging that the Sinarquistas were controlled and directed by "subversive Fascist Fifth-Columnists." The committee invited a number of the most vehement of these accusers to present facts and data substantiating their charges. By concerted action all of those invited to appear before the committee declined to accept the invitation. The committee thereupon issued subpenas for each of them. The transcript of testimony, as digested in the 1943 Report of the Committee, clearly indicates that the individuals questioned had no proof of their charges and that the campaign had been one of racial antagonism and agitation.

The Communist Party press, pursuing the party line on racial agitation, continually fed the fires of racial antagonism by charging that Mexican youth in the United States was being subjected to police brutality, race-discrimination, segregation and humiliation. Communist inspired and dominated organizations were created for the alleged defense of the Mexican minority. Meetings were organized in Mexican districts in Los Angeles where trained rabble-rousers orated of police brutality against minority groups, of the unfair treatment of the Mexican and Negro population and of racial discrimination and segregation.

In the October 3, 1942, issue of the Communist Party west coast publication, "People's Daily World," it was charged that the Sinarquistas were sewing " . . . their seeds . . . in fertile soil among the young girls and boys brought up on the east side of Los Angeles." The issue of October 5, 1942, blamed the "zoot-suit" phenomenon on the economic system. The October 8, 1942, issue of the "People's Daily World" charged that the Mexican youth were being subjected to Fascist pressure. The issue of October 14, 1942, stated that a "Fascist Fifth-Column" was working unseen among the Mexican youth of Southern California.

The "People's Daily World" for October 20, 1942, carried an article by Communist La Rue McCormick in which she declared that Nazi agents were operating in the Mexican communities of the City of Los Angeles, corrupting Mexican youth and inciting racial antagonism.

Two days later the "People's Daily World" announced that the Los Angeles C. I. O. Council and the Spanish-Speaking People's Congress were demanding that an investigation be made of the Sinarquista movement.

On October 24, 1942, the "People's Daily World" reported that Communist La Rue McCormick, on her own initiative, had organized a committee of 14 to defend the Mexican youth of Southern California, and to expose the fifth-column elements that were using the Mexican youth as dupes. Mrs. McCormick, representing the Spanish-Speaking People's Congress, was announced as the Secretary of the new organization.

On October 26, 1942, an article in the "People's Daily World" reported Philip M. Connelly of the C. I. O. as charging the metropolitan newspapers of Los Angeles of fomenting racial antagonism and agitation. Mr. Connelly was quoted as stating that "Crime waves are turned on and off by newspapers like water in a spigot, and when the city editor is short of news, he orders police reporters to round up attack cases and if the sheriff's office is not deliberately participating in the fraud it is being duped."

It should be obvious from the foregoing that the Communist Party had launched an intensive campaign through the medium of its press. Similar articles appeared in the "People's Daily World" on October 28, 1942, November 2, 1942, November 17, 1942, November 19, 1942, November 30, 1942, December 4, 1942, and December 10, 1942. In addition to this intensive press campaign, a flood of handbills, pamphlets and mimeographed material, both in English and in Spanish, inundated the City and County of Los Angeles.

Students of Communist Party technique were aware immediately of the objectives of the Communist Party editorial barrage. In accentuation, stimulation and furtherance of the "class struggle," the Mexicans of Southern California were to be impressed with their "minority status." They were to be indoctrinated with hatred for the police, for bourgeois law and order, and punishment for crime was to be "smeared" as racial discrimination, intimidation and police brutality. All bourgeois institutions in Southern California were to be held up as institutions of oppression, hostile to dark-skinned minorities, intent upon their impoverishment and destruction. Having created the conflagration, the Communist Party would then appear upon the scene as the rescuing firemen; the only stalwart and courageous champions of the oppressed and persecuted.

SLEEPY LAGOON MURDER CASE

The so-called "Sleepy Lagoon Murder Case" occurred in Los Angeles County on August 1, 1942. It was destined to be another cause celebre for the Communist Party.

Sleepy Lagoon, a reservoir on the Williams' Ranch, is situated about a mile and a quarter north-east of Atlantic Boulevard in the City of Los Angeles. It is a somewhat secluded spot, reached only by a dirt road, and is surrounded by shrubbery, trees and undergrowth.

It appears that a group of "zoot-suiters" were assaulted by a rival gang and, having gotten something the worst of the encounter, drove to the vicinity of Vernon and Long Beach Avenues for reinforcements. Here they gathered a number of friends, young men and women, and headed for the Sleepy Lagoon area where they expected to find the gang that had attacked them. They arrived about two o'clock in the morning.

A party had been in progress for some time in the home of a humble Mexican family situated about a half mile east of the Sleepy Lagoon reservoir. The host and the hostess were an old couple, about 70 and 60 years old, respectively. A small orchestra supplied music for dancing on a cement platform in the back yard. While some of the guests were dancing others stood at the edge of the platform watching the festivities.

Arriving at the reservoir the reinforced group of Mexican boys found the area deserted. They heard the music and saw the lights in the Mexican residence and, still seeking their former assailants, drove their cars to parking distance of the scene of festivities. In the fight that ensued two people were knocked unconscious, many were injured, one seriously stabbed and another died before he could be removed to a hospital.

Arrests followed immediately. Three of the boys were found guilty of first degree murder, nine were found guilty of second degree murder and five were found guilty of criminal assault.

The Communist Party had a new cause celebre. New front organizations were immediately created and fund-collecting committees for the defense of the Sleepy Lagoon defendants mushroomed in English and Spanish. Delegations called on Los Angeles County's sheriff and the district attorney, protesting mass arrests and discrimination against the Mexican population of Southern California. An intensified barrage of propaganda appeared in the columns of the "People's Daily World." A new flood of leaflets, pamphlets and mimeographed material was loosed on the unsuspecting citizenry of Southern California proclaiming the "Fascist" proclivities of the bourgeois press and city and county officials.

Clyde Shoemaker was a member of the district attorney's office in Los Angeles County when the Sleepy Lagoon Murder Case was brought to trial. Mr. Shoemaker testified June 23, 1943, and his testimony, in part, follows (Com. Tr., Vol. XIX, pp. 4536-4555):

By Mr. Combs: Q. Yes. Now, did you ever hear of the organization known as the Citizens Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth?

A. Yes, I heard of it during the prosecution of those 22 defendants. That trial began on the 13th of October, 1942, and the verdicts came in—66 verdicts came in about the 12th of January, 1943.

Q. Did you ever hear of the Citizens Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth prior to the Sleepy Lagoon case?

A. No.

Q. It is your opinion the committee was created as a result of that case?

A. I believe that's obvious.

Q. Yes. Have you formed any opinion as to whether or not the committee is Communist in character?

A. Well, in my opinion it is definitely so.

Q. And what are your reasons for that opinion?

A. I recall at the outset of the trial a number of defendants were represented by Mr. Dick Bird, one of the public defenders. The other lawyers were Ben Van Tress, Phillip Schultz and a George Jeveg, David Ravin—I don't recall any other lawyers now in the case.

Q. George Shibley?

A. Oh, no, not at the outset. We took a week to select the jury. On the voir dire examination there was not one objection made by defense counsel to any question asked, either by Mr. Barnes or myself, not one. We were very careful to caution the jury that the case involved no racial angle, that the criminal laws were meant for the protection of society against all persons, regardless of race, creed or color. The fact that these boys might be of Mexican ancestry, or any other ancestry, had nothing to do with it, and the race issue was not interjected in the case—we were very careful about it. But after the jury had been selected and after the trial had been under way about a week following that Mr. George Shibley came into the case for the first time and took over the defense of a number who had been represented by the public defender, and he supplanted the public defender eventually altogether. He also took over some of the defendants represented by David Ravin, and pretty soon he had all his clients, and Mr. Ravin and Mr. Dick Bird left the case. George Shibley then represented nine defendants, and from the very day he came into the case, within a half hour after, it was obvious he was interjecting the same Communistic hue and cry that Leo Gallagher had interjected where the C. I. O. longshoremen had been involved, and he was accusing—for instance, he accused me of misconduct before noon of the day he entered, and hardly a day went by that George Shibley didn't accuse everybody, even Judge Fricke, of misconduct, and the prosecutors, and not one of his charges were ever sustained by the court.

Q. The Committee for the Defense of the Mexican-American Youth also accused Judge Fricke of misconduct?

A. Oh, yes; and they were instrumental, I understand, in employing Shibley. He is generally reputed to have had some part at one time in the People's World as an associate editor for a time.

Chairman Tenney: He is very active in the National Lawyers Guild?

A. I am not certain about that, Mr. Tenney. And the case then became, you might say, from the time that Shibley entered it, a public forum for the venting of hate toward the sheriff's deputies, towards attempting to create a racial problem, racial discrimination, and the balance of that trial was made up of efforts, particularly on the part of Shibley, to make that trial a sounding board for the usual hue and cry of the typical socialistic revolutionaries that they appeared to be.

Q. Mr. Combs: I hand you a letter entitled, "Citizens Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth," and ask you if that type of letter was circulated during the prosecuting and after the termination of the trial? (Handing to witness.)

A. Mr. Combs, I haven't seen this before. I notice its date is February 16, 1943 ——

Q. (Interrupting) Yes.

A. (Continuing)—but during the trial and while the case was being argued in January, a pamphlet was circulated according to our office during the actual time the case was being argued. I have a copy of that here, which I hand you. (Handing to Mr. Combs.)

Q. This is entitled, "The Talk of the Town. Did 22 Mexican-American boys commit murder? Are 350,000 Mexican-Americans criminals? Can Fifth Column knife cut Los Angeles in half?" And bears the following: "Citizens' Committee for the Defense of American-Mexican Youth, 206 South Spring Street, Room 342." Do you have any more copies of this? (indicating)

A. That's the only copy I have.

Q. I think we have a copy of it. I hand you a photostat——

Chairman Tenney (Interrupting): You have said that this committee employed Shibley. On what do you base that statement?

A. Upon a speech that La Rue McCormick gave at the Communist Victory Center along in the latter part of January, just a few days before Mr. Dockweiler died.

Q. I think we have a copy of that speech.

A. I think I furnished Mr. Combs with a copy of it, and I have a copy here (indicating). We covered that with a shorthand reporter, and here is her transcript of it, on January 29th, 1943, at the Communist Victory Center, 1828 Sunset Boulevard, and in this speech her philosophy about their case is set forth, and in it she indicates they were dissatisfied with the cousel who took the cases, and they were instrumental in selecting counsel to take over the defense during the trial, and upon the basis of that I have assumed from what I have observed that Mr. Shibley was their representative. January 29, 1943, is about two weeks after the verdict was returned. Now, in this may I say that this speech of La Rue McCormick is 99 per cent viciously false. About the only thing that was true was the fact there was a trial and that there were certain defendants by number and that they were convicted, but practically everything else in that sheet is viciously false and inflammatory. When I say "sheet" I mean those sheets, the transcript of that speech (indicating).

Mr. Combs: I would like to offer that transcript, together with the accompanying certification, in evidence as Exhibit 1 in connection with the testimony of Mr. Shoemaker.

Chairman Tenney: So ordered. (Marked Shoemaker Exhibit No. 1.)

The Witness: May I say that reflects better than anything else the type of contentions made in the trial by Mr. Shibley. I might say, he could have written it from the tone of it, and it is the best indication I know of of the kind of contentions they made to the public and to deceive the public about that trial of anything I know.

Mr. Combs: For the purpose of identifying this document, the first sheet is an office memorandum to Joseph E. P. Dunn, Chief, Bureau of Investigation, in re: Mrs. La Rue McCormick, from Herbert Grossman; date, February 4, 1943. Signed by Herbert Grossman, Investigator.

The Witness: That's a true copy of the original.

Mr. Combs: There are 10 pages of transcript of Mrs. McCormick's speech, taken at Victory Center, 1828 Sunset Boulevard, Los Angeles, California, 8:45 P. M., January 29, 1943. Present: Herbert Grossman; reported by Aurora L. Springer.

Q. Now, Mr. Shoemaker, I hand you a photostat and ask you whether or not you have ever seen the original of which this purports to be a copy?

A. The original I believe had—let's answer your question yes. The original, I believe, had a mimeographed yellow sheet attached to it by an iron stamp.

Q. That's correct.

A. That was picked up, as I recall, on the floor of the courtroom during the trial of the case against the 22 defendants. It is a sample of the kind of petitions that were circulated around the courtroom and in the corridors to collect money from the Mexicans who frequented the trial; which money was turned over to Mr. Shibley.

Mr. Combs: That has been identified as Quevedo Exhibit No. 1.

The Witness: In that connection, I want to make the record very clear that I do not connect Mr. Van Tress or Mr. Philip Schultz, or any of the other lawyers, with the tactics of Shibley; I want that very clear in this record, that I am saying nothing at all to reflect upon them in that respect.

Chairman Tenney: Q. Was there any other lawyer for the defense that was of the same caliber and character as Shibley?

A. No, Shibley went alone. He failed to agree with co-counsel, and stood on his own feet and used his own tactics.

Mr. Combs: Q. I hand you a photostat, and ask you if it is a photostat of the yellow sheet you have just described, and I ask you if you have ever seen the original of which this purports to be a copy? (handing to witness)

A. That looks like it.

Mr. Combs: This is entitled "Unamonos para la victoria El Fascismo." It has already been translated, but hasn't been introduced, and I now offer it as Exhibit No. 2 in connection with Mr. Shoemaker's testimony.

Chairman Tenney: So ordered. (Marked Shoemaker Exhibit No. 2).

Mr. Combs: Q. Now, Mr. Shoemaker, did you ever hear of a person called Reverend Ernest Caldecott?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is he the minister of the First Unitarian Church?

A. That's correct. In the block on Eighth east of Vermont.

Q. Do you know whether or not this committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth endeavored to use his church for a meeting to raise funds in connection with the Sleepy Lagoon case?

A. Yes, I can tell you about that. I have here a pamphlet which was circulated after the defendants had been sentenced by Judge Fricke to prison, as I remember. Incidentally, 12 of the 22 defendants were convicted of murder and all sent to San Quentin, and five were convicted of assault and received the maximum jail sentences for that, five were acquitted of the 22, four of whom we suggested to the jury might be acquitted.

Now, after the trial was over and the judgment and sentences had been pronounced, one day my attention was called to this pamphlet which I hold in my hand (illustrating) by our deputy in charge of the Grand Jury. Mr. Ernest Oliver had heard such a pamphlet was being circulated and a meeting was to be held at the First Unitarian Church for the purpose of raising funds for this committee. I made a note of it, and in almost the same day or the next, Judge Fricke called me to his chambers and handed me this (indicating). It is entitled, "We have just begun to fight," which is another vicious piece of inflammatory literature—

Mr. Combs (Interrupting): I have a copy.

A. (Continuing)—it is 99 per cent false, just as her speech was.

Mr. Combs: I would like to read a very short excerpt from that pamphlet (reading):

"It is mandatory upon the citizenry of Los Angeles to prevent a few newspapers, a few score of police sadists, a pair of ambitious prosecutors and the Fifth Column to cancel out the fine harmony between peoples and nations so diligently being woven in the course of a democratic war.

"The Citizens' Committee for the Defense of American-Mexican Youth, composed of leading members of the community, has long been dedicated to this harmony, and to the elimination of these crippling injustices.

"First on this program is the continued defense of the 17 Mexican-American boys just condemned, a marshalling of every reasonable assistance to prepare for an appeal along the lines maintained by our own Attorney George E. Shibley.

"More recently, also the situation has worsened through the rabid activities of Fifth Columnists anxious to impede the war drive by splitting off a highly productive section of the population from the main body of unity.

"Small wonder, then, that these 12 men and women approached impanelment with a fixed notion that 'Mexican' was synonymous with criminality. And that they were very susceptible to evidence 'proving' one more instance of it." I would like to introduce this as the exhibit next in order for this witness.

Chairman Tenney: Exhibit No. 3. (Marked Shoemaker Exhibit No. 3).

Mr. Combs: I would also like to introduce the pamphlet entitled "The Talk of the Town" as this witness' next exhibit.

Chairman Tenney: No. 4, Shoemaker Exhibit No. 4.

The Witness: May I continue on with the matter concerning Dr. Caldecott?

Mr. Combs: Yes.

A. After Judge Fricke had called me into his chambers and shown me this pamphlet and delivered it to me I telephoned Dr. Caldecott, the Unitarian minister, whom I knew to be a fine gentleman, a conscientious public-spirited citizen, and asked him if such a meeting had been scheduled at his church, if he knew anything about it, and I believe he replied that the matter was not in his charge, but that he would find out; and he found out that it was scheduled a few days hence, and I said, "I wonder if you know what the meeting is about," and he frankly didn't know, and I asked if he would be interested in knowing, and he said that he would, and so he came to my office very promptly. I had on my desk the grand jury transcript of that case and the entire 6,500 pages of the trial record, and I told him when he came in there was the record, he could look at it then, or he could take a week to look at it if he wanted, but that this meeting that was about to be held at his church was for the purpose of printing the propaganda such as was in the pamphlet entitled "We have just begun to fight," and I said to him in substance, "We feel you ought to know what the nature of the meeting was, so you can decide whether or not you want to be a party to it in any way, shape or manner, because that is an attack upon the judge, upon the prosecutors, upon the jury and upon the fairness of the trial in a case which is now pending before the courts." And he was very courteous, he said he would like to investigate with his official board, and the next day he called me and said he wanted an appointment, and he came down and he brought with him the president of his board, a lawyer who is a member of the staff, employed I believe by the City of Los Angeles in the Bureau of Power and Light—Water and power, and with them came two members of this Citizens Committee for the Defense of American-Mexcian Youth. They didn't come exactly at the same time, the two members of this committee followed in a few minutes.

Q. Who were they?

A. Clore Worne and a young lawyer by the name of Robert Morris, whom I had never met, but who was introduced as one of the State barristers of Los Angeles.

Q. Wasn't he——

A. (Interrupting) He stated he had formerly been in the office of Robert Kenny, the Attorney General.

Q. Wasn't he also a representative of the National Lawyers Guild?

A. I don't know about that.

Q. What was his name?

A. Robert Morris. Shall I proceed?

Q. Yes, go right ahead.

A. They—when I say they I mean Mr. Caldecott and his representatives stated that they had arranged this meeting for the purpose of discussing the nature of the meeting to be held in the church, and I had asked John Barnes to come in, and he sat with us, so six of us were present at the conference. The nature of the discussion was merely this, that we in a few words told Mr. Caldecott in the presence of these two lawyers, Mr. Worne and Mr. Morris, that we felt that sheet which I have referred to was viciously false, without foundation, was inflammatory, and that it was harmful to the case that was pending, and that such a thing as that ought not to be circulated. Our only interest in this meeting was whether or not the minister knew the nature of it, we had no control over the meetings in his church, we didn't invite the conference, they invited themselves on their own accord. These two committee members, they launched into an attack then upon the trial. Mr. Worne led the attack, and we asked them if they were responsible for the preparation of, not only this pamphlet, but of the one which is already in evidence and marked and described as "The talk of the town." They admitted they were, they and a group of other people were responsible for the preparation of those pamphlets. They virtually said in response to our challenging questions it didn't make any difference whether those things were true or not, they were opposed to the prosecution of 22 individuals for the murder of one on general principles, and they virtually justified anything in those pamphlets on the ground their belief and philosophy would not permit them to approve the prosecution against those 22 defendants for the murder of Jose Diaz.

Q. Who is Jose Diaz, was he a Mexican?

A. Jose Diaz was born in the United States, and practically every one of the defendants were American citizens, born right here in Los Angeles, and everyone had the benefit of an education up to the 10th or 11th grade. So the result of it was that after some bitter discussion on the part of Mr. Worne and Mr. Morris, and it was quite bitter, we asked very few questions and took very little part in the discussion, Mr. Barnes and myself, the meeting adjourned; and the next day Mr. Caldecott informed me over the telephone he had concluded to have nothing to do with it, and the meeting was cancelled, and he put it on this ground: Their church was an open forum on civil rights and remedies at any and all times, but never did they intend their premises should be used for an attack upon the courts or an institution of Justice for the purpose of raising funds in carrying on some proceedings—something to that effect.

And I want you to call Mr. Caldecott right here, right now and ask him, and he will tell you he cancelled that meeting, not from any threats from our office, which were not made; he became convinced the meeting was subversive in character and something he wanted to have nothing to do with.

• • • • •

Mr. Combs: Q. Now, Mr. Shoemaker, summing up the impressions which you gained as a result of the events leading up to the Sleepy Lagoon case and which occurred during the trial of the case and which occurred immediately thereafter, tell the committee what your opinion is concerning the influence exerted by Communist organizations such as this Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth.

A. Well, from my familiarity with the nature of the assaults that had been made prior to the Sleepy Lagoon case, and I had been consulted both by the sheriff and the police in regard to a number of cases occurring earlier in 1942, and then my familiarity with the facts and circumstances surrounding the so-called Sleepy Lagoon case, I'm satisfied—in fact, I think there is no doubt about it—that there is no Axis influence in the case whatsoever, or any of the cases, never the slightest evidence of any efforts by any of the Axis powers or any of the agents of the Axis powers to incite any of these people to commit any of these depredations—we never found any evidence at all in that direction. On the other hand, we found that probably the group, the hoodlums that made up these gangs, an aggregate of some 300 out of the total Mexican colony of nearly 300,000, we found the better elements in the Mexican community, the respectable people, all the law-abiding Mexican citizens, heartily approved our prosecution.

If you want to go back and look at the leading Mexican newspaper—I think it is called La Opinion—I don't think you will find any criticism in that newspaper of that prosecution or of the police or the sheriff in regard to that case, or any similar case. You'll find that the better elements in the community, both Mexican, colored and white, all believe in law enforcement with respect to those matters, and upheld the law enforcement agencies. But this group of radicals, whatever you call them—now, when you call them Communists, I want to refer to them as our own breed of Communists, I don't blame Russia—and I don't want to confuse our Communists with those people, that is, they are only a breed, whether you call them Socialists or Socialist radicals or Socialist revolutionaries, they speak a language which in the courtroom always sounds the same. They attack the police officers, they attack the law enforcement, they put the policeman on trial, the law enforcement agencies—they put everybody on trial except the defendant, and their methods with respect to glorifying these defendants, their methods of attacking the police, of attacking the district attorney, ridiculing the court in open court, ridiculing the processes of the court in open court in the presence of these defendants, with the courtroom full of their friends.

Q. That occurred in this case?

A. Oh, yes, every day.

Q. And in the case which preceded it, the Webster case?

A. Yes. And I say in my opinion the activities of these trouble makers do more harm to law enforcement, do more harm to the matter of peace and security of the community than any other single influence, and I personally feel that this group of radicals who make, who support this sort of a movement and who back up these people and raise money, the same way as they did in the Sacco-Vanzetti case, are responsible for stirring up hatred and animosity in the community, are responsible for inciting and fomenting the very thing that happened in the recent outbreaks when the sailors and soldiers finally in desperation took over and we had our recent trouble. In that connection may I say that I believe that in spite of the valiant effort of the police department and the sheriff so many outbreaks had occurred against the men in the armed forces, and they were so disgusted with the tactics of these hoodlums who frequented the streets at night that they finally in desperation because of the extreme situation presented, virtually took the law into their own hands.

I heard a service man stand up in a meeting before a group of veterans some weeks before this outbreak occurred, and he was a man who if I mention his name you would know him, but I won't mention his name—he stood up in the open meeting, and he happened to—I was assistant district attorney at the time—he said he wanted to ask the assistant district attorney why men in the armed forces like myself when we get a week-end off in order to see our family and friends have to take an armed body guard with us in order to keep from being attacked by zoot-suiters, as he called them. That was the situation even before the outbreaks occurred. Incidentally, I left—I left on the 31st, and the outbreak occurred on the 1st day of June. Now, maybe that wasn't what caused them, it may have been a mere coincidence, but the situation really was there, there had been so much building up of the hoodlums by the people of the type of the Citizens Defense Committee, and this false circulation of inflammatory and defamatory material that it was the logical thing to expect they would break out. It was pretty well under control when we finished with that trial. Captain Reed of the police department and the men in the sheriff's department had done wonderful work in covering those assaults and in getting the thing under control until this sort of thing made it bad again.

NEW COMMUNIST "FRONT"

Organizations with new names and familiar personnel came into being overnight.

The "Citizens Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth" soon became the most prominent of the new agit-prop (agitation-propaganda) committees. Offices were opened and maintained in the Wilcox Building at Second and Broadway in the City of Los Angeles, where the influence and domination of Mrs. La Rue McCormick, a registered and admitted member of the Communist Party, guided the work and propaganda. Philip Connelly, then State President of the C. I. O.; Al Waxman, publisher of the "Eastside Journal"; Leo Gallagher, National Lawyers' Guild; Bert Corona, Warehousemen's Union; Jerome Posner, Amalgamated Clothing Workers' Union; Jessie Armenza, Laundry Workers' Union; Gregg Bemis, International Workers' Order; John Bright, Council of Pan-American Democracy; Josephine Fierro, Spanish People's Congress; Herbert Ganahl, National Lawyers' Guild; Dorothy Comingore, Screen Artists' Guild; Minnabell Cline, Screen Office Employees' Guild; Oscar Fuss, C. I. O. Legislative Director; Rose Harmon; Mrs. Will Rogers, Jr.; Guy Nunn, Minorities Group Division of the War Production Board; Carey McWilliams, State Director of the Department of Immigration and Housing; Roger Cardona, President of the Victory Youth Club; Stewart Neil, and Charlotta Bass, publisher of the "California Eagle", were some of the sponsors of this new Communist front organization.

The following extract from a mimeographed circular distributed in the Los Angeles area by the Citizens' Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth is typical:

> "The Sleepy Lagoon Murder trial, which resulted in the conviction of 17 Mexican-American boys, three for first-degree murder, nine for second-degree, and five for assault, can only be understood if it is viewed against the background of persecution and discrimination which has been practiced against our Mexican-American population, a part of which has been a press campaign of vilification and slander. In this light it becomes understandable that 12 boys were convicted of the murder of a man without proof that any one of them ever touched him or attempted in any way to do him any harm.
> "During June and July of 1942, the Los Angeles Press began to build a 'crime wave' among Mexican-American youth which was unsubstantiated by any official records. Stories of arrests were played up on the front pages; no mention was made of subsequent releases for lack of any charge. The 'zoot-suits' worn by great numbers of Mexican and Negro youth, was invested with a sinister connotation. . . . "

Captain George Contreras of the Sheriff's office of Los Angeles County, in charge of the Sheriff's Anti-Subversive Detail, testified, in part, as follows (Com. Tr., Vol. XLX, pp. 4559-4560):

> By Mr. Combs: Q. Are you familiar with a building across the street from the one in which you are located known as the Wilcox Building?
> A. Yes, sir.
>
> * * * * *
> Mr. Combs: Q. Have you ever had occasion to have the tenants of that building checked?
> A. From time to time, yes.
> Q. Do you have a list of the tenants of the building?
> A. Yes. Do you mind if I put my glasses on, I can't see.
> Q. Not at all.
> A. I have, sir.
> Q. Would you mind reading it into the record?
> A. (Reading): "Offices in the Wilcox Building, Second and Spring, Room 208, John E. Jeffrey, California Regional Representative, (Was State President of the State, County and Municipal Workers of America).
> "208. John St. Cyr, State, County and Municipal Workers of America.
> "242. Spanish Speaking People's Congress—Josephine Bright, Secretary.
> "325. The American Association of Social Workers.

"401. Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee.
"425. Rose Segure, Regional Representative.
"440. United Office & Professional Workers of America, Local No. 9.
"525. People's Daily World."
That is about all, Mr. Combs, in that building.

Captain Contreras testified that his office had made a thorough investigation of the Citizens' Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth and that the group was, in his opinion, a Communist front organization.

There is, of course, no doubt whatever of Mrs. La Rue McCormick's Communist affiliations. She has been a registered Communist for many years and has been an active functionary in party affairs for a long time. She was the spearhead in the Mexican agitational campaign and created the Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth. Her testimony, in this connection, follows (Com. Tr., Vol. XVIII, p. 4313):

By Mr. Combs: Q. Of course, you were sponsor, were you not, of the Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth?
A. Yes.
Q. Who actually organized that in its inception, any one individual, or was it a spontaneous proposition?
A. Well, I sent out the invitation to a number of people to come together to discuss the problems, and as a result of the meeting of these people the committee was formed.
Q. From whom did you get the idea?
A. I can't say I got the idea from anyone. I thought it was something that ought to be done.
Q. It originated with yourself?
A. Yes, I think so.

COMMUNIST "FRONT" SPONSORS

The first witness examined by the committee in this particular investigation was Philip M. Connelly, State President of the C. I. O. He admitted being connected with the Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth and affiliated, in one way or another, with organizations known to the members of the committee as Communist dominated or controlled. These organizations were: the Committee for American Unity, the Harry Bridges Defense Committee, the California Conference for Democratic Action, the American Peace Mobilization, the National Negro Congress and the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee.

Connelly testified (pp. 4131-4162, Vol. XVII) that he was acquainted with Carl Winter, Los Angeles County Secretary of the Communist Party, and that he had met him shortly after Winter had arrived in Los Angeles. He believed that his last meeting with Winter, prior to testifying, was in the Los Angeles office of the "People's Daily World," Communist Party publication. (See the 1943 Committee Report, page 154 for Connelly's Communist Party affiliation.)

At the time Connelly testified before the committee on the subject of the "zoot-suit" disturbances (June 21, 1943) the Los Angeles office of the "People's Daily World" was located in the Wilcox Building at 2nd and Spring Streets. Committee investigators found the offices of the Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth also housed in the Wilcox Building.

Mrs. Charlotta Bass, publisher of the "California Eagle," Los Angeles east-side newspaper, was one of the sponsors of the Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth. The columns of the "California Eagle," editorially and otherwise, echoed the sentiments and hewed to the "line" of the Communist Party organ, "The People's Daily World." Mrs. Bass testified (pp. 4113-4131, Vol. XVII) that she had been acquainted with Philip M. Connelly for two years; that she was acquainted with Carey McWilliams, Pettis Perry, President of the Communist Party of Los Angeles County, Mrs. La Rue McCormick and Al Waxman, publisher of the "Eastside Journal." Mrs. Bass stated that she had known Pettis Perry for about 20 years. The metamorphosis of the "California Eagle" from a respected American journal, championing the cause of the American Negro, to a Communist propaganda sheet has been going on for several years.

Al S. Waxman stated (pp. 4071-4113, Vol. XVII) that he had resided in Southern California for about 22 years and that he had been the owner and editor of the "Eastside Journal" for approximately eight and one-half years. He testified that the paper was in the category of a "throw-away" and was being delivered free of charge to about 17,000 persons, about 30 per cent of whom were of Mexican descent. He admitted addressing a group of Mexican boys on the corner of Brooklyn and Indiana Streets prior to the "zoot-suit" riots. He admitted printing articles in the columns of his paper declaring the Sinarquistas to be an Axis-dominated group and, at the same time, he admitted he knew nothing concerning the organization except what he had read in other publications. He admitted that an article appeared in his newspaper June 16, 1943, which stated in effect that the issue in the recent race-riots was a "Fifth-Column" force seeking to disrupt the war effort of the United States. When questioned closely on the facts of such a statement, he was unable to offer the committee any proof to substantiate the statements made in the article in question. He admitted that he was a subscriber to the "People's Daily World" and that he was aware that the Los Angeles offices of the publication were located in the Wilcox Building at 2nd and Spring Streets.

Like the "California Eagle," Waxman's "Eastside Journal" has, for some time, been echoing the sentiments and hewing to the Communist Party "line" as exemplified in the columns of the Communist Party west coast publication, "The People's Daily World." Waxman's sympathy with things Communistic is clearly established by his testimony. He admitted attending two meetings, at least, where Pettis Perry spoke as the chairman of the Communist Party of Los Angeles County. He attended the meeting at the Philharmonic Auditorium in Los Angeles January, 1943, and heard the speech of Earl Browder, General Secretary of the Communist Party of the United States. He admitted being acquainted with Carey McWilliams, John and Josephine Bright, Mrs. La Rue McCormick, Guy T. Nunn, Dorothy Comingore and Oscar Fuss. He stated that he had been acquainted with Philip M. Connelly for approximately 10 years. John and Josephine Bright maintained offices in the Wilcox Building, Los Angeles, where the Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth, the "People's Daily World," and other Communist and Communist front organizations were housed. John and Josephine Bright had been particularly active in a Communist front organization known as the Spanish-Speaking People's Congress. Waxman admitted having supported Mrs. La Rue McCormick for State Senate when she was the Communist Party's nominee for that office in the 1942 election.

It was Waxman's opinion that the metropolitan newspapers in the City of Los Angeles were responsible for the so-called "zoot-suit" riots. He contended that these metropolitan publications had carried headlines charging that Mexican boys were attacking members of the United States armed forces and that because of these headlines disturbances had ensued which were further inflamed and agitated by a succession of sensational headlines.

Waxman maintained that there had been cases of discrimination against the Mexican people before the riots began, stating that Mexican boys and young men were barred from a number of theaters when they sought admission in groups of more than two or three. He stated that Mexican young men were admitted to a limited number of dance halls in the city and barred from the rest. He alleged that the Negro people were being denied service in restaurants throughout the City of Los Angeles. He stated that the Jewish people were particularly being discriminated against and charged that there were no less than 50 cases of such discrimination in the City of Wilmington.

WAXMAN'S TESTIMONY

The editorial and newspaper activities of Waxman and Charlotta Bass have already been discussed. An inspection of their respective newspapers over a period of several months immediately prior to the first outbreak of rioting indicates that the two publications were following the "line" started by the Communist publication, "The People's Daily World." All three of these papers combined in an onslaught on the more conservative metropolitan newspapers in Southern California in charging that they (the metropolitan press) were responsible for the "zoot-suit" riots. It was, in fact, the "Eastside Journal," the "California Eagle" and the "People's Daily World" that carried an intensive campaign on the Pachuco or "zoot-suit" issue for months. Waxman testified (Com. Tr., Vol. XVII, pp. 4098-4101) as follows:

> A. My opinions were expressed in my newspaper probably long before the People's World picked up the thing, because we're here; it takes them several days to get the news and bring it back to us. I say again the daily newspapers in my opinion caused these riots by coming out first with the elaborate stories of Mexican boys attacking seamen and members of the armed forces, and then when the fights took place the stories were written and handled in such a manner that the seamen were led to believe that they had gained a victory; so the Mexican boys felt it was then time for reprisals, and then the Daily News carried stories that the Mexican boys were the victors, so the service men came back for reprisals, and day after day that journalistic method of selling newspapers on the streets was used, and then when the thing seemed to play itself out and die and there was nothing else to fight about the Daily News came out with the banner headline that the zoot-suit boys had declared war on the defense workers. Now, I suppose according to the conversation this afternoon I should have gone to the Federal Government and asked them to check on the results of the headlines. I took it up with the defense workers, and I found a number of defense workers who had read the Daily News who said they were going to quit the night shift and swing shift, and a number said they would continue to work, but carry weapons in their cars for protection.

By Senator Tenney: Q. This article (in the Eastside Journal) of June 10th, "Race Incitement to Violence—An Eyewitness Account"—do you think that would have any tendency to stir up riots among the Mexicans? (indicating).

A. I don't think so.

Q. You don't think (reading): "Four boys came out of a pool hall. They were wearing the zoot suits that have become the symbol of a fighting flag. Police ordered them into arrest cars. One refused.

"He asked: 'Why am I being arrested?'

"The officer answered with three swift blows of the night stick across the boy's head and he went down. As he sprawled he was kicked in the face. Police had difficulty loading his body into the vehicle because he is one-legged and wears a wooden limb."

You go on to say (continuing to read):

"At the same corner, a Mexican mother cried out: 'Don't take my boy. He did nothing. He's only 15 years old. Don't take him.'

"She was struck across the jaw with a night stick and nearly dropped the 2½-year-old baby that was clinging in her arms." Don't you think that that would excite anger on the part of the Mexicans?

A. They were doing nothing to stop riots in our city.

Q. I know, but don't you think that would incite anger on the part of the Mexicans?

A. Not if they read the whole article. You have taken only a sentence out of it. If you take a sentence out of the Bible you will have a riot, but if you read the whole Bible you wouldn't.

Q. Isn't that true with the metropolitan press?

A. Unfortunately, no. Most of those articles in my opinion were cloaked to an extent that they carried out what the headlines portrayed.

Q. That reasoning only applies to your article, not the metropolitan press?

A. I think mine was better written than the metropolitan press."

The police records of the City of Los Angeles and the records of the sheriff's office of Los Angeles County do not reveal the arrest of a Pachuco or a member of any of the so-called "zoot-suit" gangs who was the possessor of an artificial leg.

Waxman had charged that a Mexican youth had been clubbed by a deputy sheriff at a time and place named by Waxman. It was alleged that the officer's badge number was "88." Asked by Mr. Combs whether or not he had made an investigation of the charge, Captain Contreras testified as follows (Com. Tr., Vol. XIX, pp. 4563-4565):

A. Yes. Before I go into that, I would like to refresh my memory, too, and declare our office as far as cases concerned where we interviewed a zoot-suiter in the county jail and where he said he was beaten up by one of our officers——

Q. Mr. Combs (Interrupting): You and I interviewed the defendant, as I recall?

A. Yes, and I told you I would make an investigation of the situation.

Q. Yes. I think the person to whom we talked accused a member of the sheriff's department, a deputy sheriff, of brutality?

A. Yes.

Q. And gave the number of the badge as number 88?

A. 88, that's right.

Q. Did you make such an investigation?

A. I did.

Q. What did you find?

A. I proceeded out to Belvedere, known as the East Los Angeles Sub-Station, Captain Brewster is in charge, and we found out who the officer was, we found that the officer on the night of the arrest wasn't even out of the station, that he was on duty at the office at the time when the prisoner was brought in, and, therefore, could not have struck this individual at the automobile at the time of the arrest.

Q. And the accusation, therefore, was obviously false?

A. Yes, sir.

Waxman testified further (Com. Tr., Vol. XVII, pp. 4075-4077.):

Chairman Tenney: Q. In your edition of June 16th, in the column "On The Left" you referred to this situation (reading): "However, the issue in the recent riots was not the service men. Nor was it the zoot-suit boys; nor was it the Mexicans or the Negroes. It was a sinister fifth-column force that was forging ahead in its effort to disrupt the war effort of this country and to bring an end to unity." Is that correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. Will you elaborate and tell us on what you based it?

A. I have found from time to time on the east side some of our Mexican boys were getting money, more money than they could possibly be earning. Unfortunately, up to this moment I have not been able to determine exactly from whom they get the money, nor how much they get, but the general impression that I have been given by the boys is: "We get money and then whoever gives us the money stops in once in a while and says, 'Why go to work, why do this, why do that. We'll keep you supplied with money.'" And I have tried on several occasions to locate the source of the money. Unfortunately, up to this moment I have been unable to do it. If your committee is still functioning when I find out I will be very happy to turn it over to you.

Chairman Tenney: Q. To the committee—or is this a committee of which you are a member?

A. Oh, no. I refer to your Committee.

Q. Oh, I see. So it's your guess it is a fifth column?

A. Well, we like to say we believe until we can actually give you names and addresses.

Q. What you have said up to this point: That groups of these Mexican boys have unusual amounts of money?

A. That's right.

Q. And upon asking them the source of money they indicate it has been given to them, and that on occasions the party who gives the money states to them "Why work"?

A. That's correct.

Q. And on those grounds you build up the presumption it might be a "fifth column?"

A. That's right.

Q. It is, in your opinion, a logical conclusion?

A. I think it is, Mr. Tenney.

Q. Any other explanation could be presumed with equal logic. For instance, the boys might steal, and upon being questioned as to where they had gotten the money, might say it was given to them?

A. It happens during the nine years I have been on the east side I have gained the confidence of some of the boys. As you will note, when I called a meeting of the boys, they showed up.

Q. I would like this question answered. I would like to ask it very carefully: Have you at any time complained of the Mexicans to the police?

A. No.

Q. Are you quite certain of that?

A. Complained of the Mexicans to the police—you mean, the entire race of Mexicans?

Q. Of Mexican boys?

A. No. No, never complained of Mexicans to the police. We have carried articles and straight news in which we have listed the names of the participants after we had secured them from the police records.

Q. You didn't go to the police department about four years ago and demand some action be taken against Mexican groups?

A. Never.

The foregoing testimony of Waxman became significant when Captain J. F. Reed, of the Los Angeles police department, testified June 23, 1943. The committee was particularly interested in learning whether or not there was any truth in charges of police brutality made by Waxman's paper, "The Eastside Journal," Charlotta Bass' "California Eagle" and the Communist publication, "The People's Daily World." Captain Reed was the administrative assistant to the Chief of Police in the City of Los Angeles. His testimony, in part, is as follows (Com. Tr., Vol. XIX, pp. 4448-4450):

Senator Tenney: Q. Captain, are you acquainted with a man by the name of Al Waxman?

A. Yes, sir, very well.

Q. How long have you known him?

A. I would say approximately five years.

Q. During the time you have known him has he ever seen fit to call on you with reference to disturbances on the east side, particularly among the Mexican population?

A. Yes, sir, many times.

Q. Will you give the committee the particulars of those times?

A. I have newspaper clippings—I was assigned to the Hollenbeck as captain of that area, and Mr. Waxman was the editor of the Eastside Journal in that area. He made numerous complaints in reference to Mexican youths who were coming into the Jewish area and molesting those people, and asking and demanding that we give more police protection to that area.

Q. About when was that?

A. Back in 1934 or '35 or '36. Of just recent date I have talked to Mr. Waxman along the same lines, approximately five months ago I had a conversation over the telephone with him in reference to the Pachuco situation, at which he asked me at that time to take some definite action and more strenuous action than we were taking at that time in the Hollenbeck area.

Q. Against the Pachucos or in their defense?

A. Against all persons committting those type of crimes, and he particularly stressed those dressed in Pachuco suits in the "Column Left" he writes. Back when Chief James Davis was Chief of the Police Department, he complained of certain situations and of some rapers and purse snatchers, and so forth, who were operating in that area.

Assemblyman Dickey: May I ask a question?

Chairman Tenney: All right, Mr. Dickey.

Assemblyman Dickey: Q. Up until recently, all the complaints made by Mr. Waxman to your department were complaints against those boys of Latin-American extraction?

A. Not in all cases; in some cases he made complaints about other persons, but he has made complaints about Latin-American youths.

Q. Let me reframe that question and put it this way: His original complaint in that particular section was against the boys who were Latin-American, because they were infringing on the Jewish population in that district?

A. That's correct.

Q. And he requested of your department that more protection be given to the Jewish population in that particular area?

A. That's right.

Q. And it wasn't until recently that he spoke at all in defense of Latin-Americans?

A. Well, he has never spoken to me in defense of the Latin-American group.

Q. He has never spoken to you up until this time in the defense of the Latin-American group?

A. That's true.

Los Angeles Police Officer Clyde L. Schultz, who, after testifying concerning his participation in several of the Pachuco disturbances, had occasion to touch on the report of Al Waxman published in "The East- side Journal.'' Officer Schultz' testimony, in this connection, is as follows (Com. Tr., Vol. XIX, pp. 4507-4511):

A. * * * We were discussing the story that Al Waxman had in his paper.

Q. What paper are you referring to?

A. The Eastside Journal. He stated in that that he was going to talk to a group of Mexican youths at Brooklyn and Indiana at approximately 8.30, he had called a meeting to ask them to cut out that kind of stuff, and in his paper he stated there were 250 attending this meeting. Well, the most that we saw there at any time was 35, and he stated in his paper that there would be 250. While this meeting was going on a load of Pachucos drove up in a car and said there was a riot at 12th and Central and they were beating up their friends and families, the policemen were. They immediately got into the cars and went down to protect their families and homes. That meeting was held at 8.30, and the riot took place at 10 o'clock. He stated that four boys came out of a pool hall—excuse me while I think a minute. I want to get this straight.

Q. Take your time.

A. He stated four boys came out of a pool hall, and they were immediately grabbed by police officers, and that the reason, the only reason that they were being arrested they were told was because they were Pachucos, and that when this young fellow asked what he was being arrested for he was immediately knocked over the head and knocked unconscious into the gutter.

Q. He so testified?

A. I saw the whole thing. There is no pool room at that location; if I am right, where the four fellows came out of, there is a hamburger joint or a hot dog joint in there. Those four fellows were standing in the doorway, and they were ordered to disperse, I believe the officer's name is Green; he works the reserves, and this particular individual that was struck—he may have had an artificial limb, but if he did you couldn't tell it by his walk. He struck the officer in the eye a good stiff jab.

Q. What did he strike him with, his fist?

A. Yes.

Q. You saw that?

A. Yes, I did. I believe the officer got a black eye out of that deal. The rest of them started edging in——

Q. (Interrupting) Toward the officers?

A. (Continuing) Yes. As they did, two uniformed officers drew their saps, and this individual was struck over the head, and he wasn't struck a dozen times, as Al Waxman said; he was struck only once that I know of. That is the only blow I saw struck, and he was struck down and placed under arrest. Al Waxman also stated a woman with a baby in her arms was struck across the head with a night stick.

Chairman Tenney: He said the baby was two and one-half years old.

A. That is approximately the age of the baby. That woman came up and said, 'Why are you arresting my son?' The officer walked with her to the corner and he told her that it was no place for a woman at all, and he suggested she go home before she was injured, before someone would strike her down and injure her, but as far as his striking her across the face with a night stick, that wasn't true. You can imagine what would have happened to her if she had been struck across the face with a heavy night stick. Previous to that——

Mr. Combs: Q. (Interrupting) You were there and saw this thing occur, and the woman was not struck?

A. No, sir. Previous to the time of the riot Al Waxman run articles in his paper stating hoodlums run wild on east side, purses were snatched, automobiles stolen; what is the matter with police protection? He will come over to the police department and tell various policemen things the Mexican boys do, and then he will turn right around and tell the Mexican boys what the police do.

Q. Did you ever know of a committee known as the Citizens' Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth?

A. No, that's a new one.

Q. Mr. Waxman is a member of the committee.

A. It wouldn't surprise me.

Q. It is a fact, he so testified.

A. It wouldn't surprise me.

Q. Do you know whether or not Mr. Waxman is a member of the Communist Party?

A. I have my own ideas; I don't know for sure.

Q. What is your idea?

A. I think he is. I don't think he'd blow his nose unless he had a red hankerchief.

Q. What makes you think so?

A. From his actions, his attitude, the way he talks to people.

Q. Did you ever hear him talk to them?

A. Yes, I talked to Al Waxman out at the meeting at Indiana. He stated at the time they are not bad boys, the police don't understand—you fellows don't give them a chance, and I don't believe it was only a little over two weeks before when he called them in his paper zoot-suit hoodlums, purse snatchers, automobiles stolen, where is police protection.

Q. Does he point out to the Mexican youth in that area that they are discriminated against and subjected to racial prejudice and police brutality?

A. Well, I have had the Mexican boys tell me he has; I have never actually seen him or heard him do it myself, but I have had various ones of the boys over there tell me that he has said there have been things that have happened on that east side, that the police have used excess force and so forth.

Q. How long have you known Mr. Waxman?

A. Haven't known him at all, only in the last six or seven months, from being around over in that district.

Waxman, on the one hand, through the columns of his newspaper and by public meetings, was inciting the Mexicans of the east-side by telling them they were the victims of discrimination and, on the other hand, he was urging the police to take drastic action against them.

COMMUNIST INSPIRATION

Leo Gallagher was another sponsor of the Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth. His Communist record is too well known to be repeated here.

Oscar Fuss, another sponsor of the committee, has a consistent Communist record since his arrival in California as an organizer for the Communist-inspired and dominated Workers' Alliance.

Jerome Posner, of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' Union, was later elected State Chairman of the C. I. O. Political Action Committee.

John Bright, representing the Council of Pan-American Democracies, was a sponsor of the Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth. He has been active in Communist Party circles since 1934 or 1935, according to the files of the Committee. At one time he was a member of the Hollywood John Reed Club, a Communist journalistic organization named after the first American Communist. Bright was active in raising funds for the Spanish Loyalists and the Spanish refugees and was participating in Communist Party activities in the Republic of Mexico as late as the year 1940. John Leech, a former Communist Party organizer for Southern California, testified before the Los Angeles Grand Jury on August 15, 1940, that John Bright had escorted him and Stanley Lawrence to an under-ground Communist group in Westwood Village in 1935 or 1936. Bright is also a member of the National Executive Board of the Communist-inspired and dominated League of American Writers.

Josephine Bright is the wife of John Bright. She has been active in Communist front Spanish-speaking organizations, congresses, Mexican congresses, Mexican agricultural workers unions and Spanish minority groups for a number of years. In recent months she has been active in raising money for Spanish refugees in Mexico. In 1942 she endorsed the candidacy of Mrs. La Rue McCormick, a registered Communist, for the office of State Senator for the 38th Senatorial District.

Carey McWilliams has a long record of Communist "front" affiliations. He has written a number of books from the Communist Party ideological viewpoint, notable mostly for inaccuracies and misinformation. In testifying before a Senate Committee in Sacramento in 1941 he was compelled to admit that many of the assertions in his book "Factories in the Field" were without factual basis.

As a Communist "front" propagandist he specializes in agricultural labor agitation and racial problems.

He testified before the committee in Los Angeles June 22, 1943 (Com. Tr., Vol. XVIII, pp. 4329-4375). He stated emphatically that he had never been a member of the Communist Party and that the allegations concerning him contained in Miss Rena M. Vale's affidavit (Com. Report, 1943) were false. Without admitting their Communist inspiration and domination, McWilliams admitted having been affiliated with the National Lawyers' Guild, the Inter-Professional Association, the Western Writers' Congress, the California Council for Democratic Action, the School for Organizers, (sponsored by the United Cannery, Agricultural, Packing and Allied Workers of America at Chino), the Simon J. Lubin Society, the Committee for the Protection of Foreign-Born, the Schneiderman Defense Committee, the Committee for American Unity, the Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth, and the Sleepy Lagoon Defense Committee. He has been affiliated with so many similar organizations that he was unable to remember whether or not he had been a sponsor of the Southern California Conference for Civil Rights. He could not remember whether or not he had spoken at a meeting sponsored by the League Against War and Fascism and could not be sure whether or not he had ever affiliated with the League for Political Unity. He stated that he had been elected to the board of directors or the board of sponsors, of either the American Peace Crusade or the American Peace Mobilization. He claimed that he had not been present when the election took place and that his name had been used without his authority. He stated that he had written a letter repudiating the use of his name in connection with the organization as soon as he had become aware of the fact. He freely admitted being a subscriber to the Communist Party publication, "The People's Daily World." Needless to say, all of these organizations are Communist "fronts."

He believed that the "zoot-suit" phenomenon was a "second generation" problem, aggravated by bad housing conditions, overcrowding, lack of sanitation facilities, lack of recreational opportunities, and a low standard of living. He believed that discrimination against the Mexican people had contributed considerably to ill feeling. He believed that there had been some police brutality but that police inaction, rather than brutality, had permitted the situation to reach riot proportions. The local metropolitan press of Los Angeles, in his opinion, had contributed to the violence in exciting young Mexican boys to drastic action.

McWilliams' views on racial intermarriage are identical with Communist Party ideology. On this subject he testified as follows (Com. Tr., Vol. XVIII, pp. 4364-4366):

> Q. (By Chairman Tenney) I would like to ask you what you think of miscegenation?
> A. I think miscegenation statutes are a reflection of prejudice in the community.
> Q. You think they should be abolished?
> A. I do.
> Q. You think there should be free intermarriage?
> A. I don't think there should be a legal prohibition against intermarriage, and I'll tell you why: In the Southern States they have had miscegenation statutes for years, it hasn't stopped interracial sexual intercourse; on the contrary the effect of it has been to increase that very practice by reason of the fact that the white man who has sexual relations with a negro woman is not held accountable, he can't contract a valid marriage, and sociologists who have gone into this subject at great length and who are very distinguished have said the miscegenation statutes have had the opposite effect of what it was intended to produce.
> Q. Well, with the repeal of those statutes then, of course, marriage between various races would be permissible and legal, and would you advocate that?
> A. Mr. Tenney, it would be presumptious to advocate those marriages. I am not advocating anyone marry; I'm saying that these miscegenation statutes do not accomplish the purpose for which they were passed in the first instance. I think they should be repealed; I think they are symbolic of existing prejudice in the communities, and I feel this to the very degree, and I might say there is a considerable weight of opinion to sustain this judgment, to the very degree the negro race in the United States raises in the social statute in education and so forth, to that very extent you will have less interracial mixture than you have now, when they are, remember, at a disadvantage as a racial minority group in the United States.

Q. I don't think you have answered my question.

A. You can repeat it. I think I have.

Q. I say, do you favor intermarriage?

A. I say it is presumptious upon me to say that 'A' should marry 'B.'

Q. I understand. I am not talking about 'A' and 'B.' I am talking about the negroes and the whites.

A. I am not advocating. I think the prohibition should be removed.

Sponsors and committee personnel of the Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth were changed from time to time in typical Communist fashion. The Sleepy Lagoon Murder case, as a Communist cause celebre, was used by Communist Party steering committees to feed the racial agitation and antagonism created by the "zoot-suit" riots. Lagging interest is bolstered by the addition of new names to "sponsor" and "committee" lists, and Hollywood glamour is added by way of stimulation. Pursuant to this technique the names of Fay Allen, Harry Bridges, Revels Clayton, John Cohee, John Warren Day, Jaime Gonzales, Augustus F. Hawkins, Martin Hourihan, John Howard Lawson, Canada Lee, Professor F. O. Matthiessen, Michael Quill, Reverend Clayton D. Russell, R. Lal Singh, Albee Slade, Ferdinand C. Smith and Orson Welles were added to the list from time to time.

Orson Welles, a motion picture actor with a flair for politics and left-wing committee work, wrote the foreword to a pamphlet entitled "The Sleepy Lagoon Case," which was printed in English and Spanish and given a wide-spread distribution in the Los Angeles area.

The Communist record of Harry Bridges, as well as his activities on the west coast, are too well known to be repeated here. He was found to be a member of the Communist Party in his last deportation hearing. The committee is not aware of any instance in which he has failed to follow the Communist Party "line." It is interesting to note that prominent Californians are being pressured or otherwise persuaded to appeal to the President of the United States and United States Attorney General Francis Biddle on behalf of Harry Bridges. The Communists and their front organizations are openly clamoring for a dismissal of the deportation order against this alien, basing their appeal on the alleged ground that he has been an important factor in assisting the United States war effort and that his deportation would disrupt "unity." In this campaign for the alien Bridges, the Communists are using fellow-travelers, political opportunists and "innocents" as Charlie McCarthy-spokesmen in the creation of synthetic west coast public opinion on the subject. The Communist "strategists," during the Hitler-Stalin pact, looked upon the present world conflict as a "British Imperialist War." While Germany was overrunning Western Europe, the American Communists were busy with the "American Peace Mobilization" and Communist-inspired strikes in war industries in California and the United States. Harry Bridges' C. I. O. union was telling the world that "The Yanks Are Not Coming" and actively engaged in creating chaos and disunity in the United States defense preparations. It was not the treacherous attack of the Japanese on Pearl Harbor December 7, 1941, that changed the attitude of Harry Bridges, his west coast union or the Communists of the United States. It was Hitler's panzer divisions sweeping into Soviet Russia in June of 1941 that changed the "British imperialist war" into "The people's war". Had history taken a different direction in June of 1941 it is quite possible that west coast shipping, under the direction of Harry Bridges, might be in a deplorable condition. The Communist Party recognizes the short memory and the short-sightedness of the American people in general, and office-seeking officialdom, in particular.

Revels H. Cayton is a seaman by occupation and has a long record of affiliation with various Communist-controlled organizations. He was registered as a member of the Communist Party in San Francisco in 1940. In March of 1941 he signed an open letter to Governor Olson under the sponsorship of the Academic and Civil Rights Committee, protesting the outlawing of the Communist Party in the State of California. In September, 1941, he was a member of a panel on National and Racial Minorities on a program sponsored by the California Action Conference for Civil Rights, a Communist-inspired and dominated organization. In July, 1943, he signed a call for, and was a member of, a "Pro-war Press" conference at the First Unitarian Church located at Eighth and Vermont Streets, in the City of Los Angeles on behalf of the "People's Daily World." (See title, West Coast Communist Press.)

John Cohee is an officer of the Los Angeles Newspaper Guild, employed by the Los Angeles Daily News and does radio work as a news analyist. Rena Vale (pp. 154-155, Com.'s 1943 Report) stated that John Cohee of the Los Angeles Daily News was one of the members of the Los Angeles Newspaper Guild who was referred to by the Communists as a Communist sympathizer and in whom the Communist Party fractions in the guild placed its confidence. Cohee has been affiliated with the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee and the Communist-inspired and dominated League of American Writers.

John Howard Lawson, Hollywood screen writer, has a long record of Communist activity and Communist front affiliations. He testified before the committee October 13, 1944, in the committee's investigation of the Communist-inspired and directed Writers' Congress held at the University of California at Los Angeles in October of 1943. (See title Writers' Congress.)

Professor F. O. Matthiessen is reported as a member of the faculty of Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts. Little is known of his background. In December, 1941, he signed a preliminary petition sponsored by the Committee for Citizenship Rights, in behalf of William Schneiderman, head of the Communist Party of California, who was faced with cancellation of his United States citizenship.

Jerome Posner was connected with the Los Angeles joint board of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America. He has served on various committees welcoming visiting dignitaries from the Soviet Union. He has interested himself during the present war in the soldiers of the Red Army and at present is State Chairman of the C. I. O. Political Action Committee.

Michael Quill is President of the C. I. O. Transport Workers' Union of New York. In his capacity as the National President of the Transport Workers' Union of America he was one of the 49 members with Communistic background who, sitting with the National Executive Board of the C. I. O., voted the creation of the Political Action Committee. (The C. I. O. Political Action Committee and its activities in California is considered in another section of this report.)

R. Lal Singh is the editor of a Los Angeles publication, the "Indian News." Articles and writers stamp this publication as Communistic. Communist R. Balme Dutt, J. B. Haldame, English Communist, Harry Paulette, head of the English Communist Party and other Communist journalists appear as writers in the "Indian News." Singh was a sponsor and endorser for the "People's Daily World so-called "Pro-War Press Conference" heretofore referred to and has occasionally contributed articles to the "California Eagle," owned and edited by Charlotta Bass. In March, 1943, he spoke on "The Future of India" at the Embassy Auditorium in Los Angeles under the auspices of the Los Angeles "Workers School," Communist Party educational project, now absorbed by the Communist Party's "People's Educational Center."

THE SINARQUISTAS

Representatives of the committee visited the Los Angeles County Jail and questioned many of the Mexican young men and women who had been involved in the "zoot-suit" riots. Members of the sheriff's department and Los Angeles police officers were interviewed.

Committee investigators had secured photographs of Sinarquista meetings. These photographs clearly reveal the flag of the organization in full display on the platform.

Committee investigators and members of the Los Angeles Sheriff's office had considerable difficulty in locating officials of the Sinarquistas in the Los Angeles area. Pedro B. Villasenor eventually was served with a subpena and appeared before the committee June 21, 1943. He declared that he was a Mexican National. He had come to the United States when about seven years of age and had been familiar with the Sinarquistas movement since 1937. He stated that the movement was organized in Mexico, May 23, 1937 by Manuel Zermano, Salvador Abascal, and Jose Oliveras, all of whom were known personally to Villasenor. He stated that the movement was directed by a National Committee in Mexico. Mexico was divided into several regional Sinarquista areas, governed by subordinate regional committees. The regional areas were, in turn, divided into municipal areas, which were governed by subordinate committees. He had been secretary of the Los Angeles organization since its inception and, for a time, was in charge of the Southern California region. Martin Cabrera was the Southern California regional director at the time that Villasenor appeared before the Committee. The organization met in Los Angeles once each week, usually at Martin Cabrera's place of business. The general meetings for the entire membership were held on the first Sunday of each month at 830 S. Hicks Street, Los Angeles. It was stated that the general meetings were always open to the public.

Pedro Villasenor stated that the area formerly under his jurisdiction and now under the directorship of Martin Cabrera, extended south from the Kern County line to the Mexican border, including San Diego and Santa Barbara Counties, as well as the County of Los Angeles. The Northern California region was described as running northward from the northernmost boundary of Kern County and extending to, and including, the City and County of San Francisco. Villasenor stated that a Mr. Porfirio Rivira of Bakersfield headed the northern region at the time Villasenor was in charge of the southern region.

Manuel Buena Torrez of Mexico governed the organization in California. Villasenor explained that the heads of the regions in the United States were in communication with the Sinarquista Central Committee of Mexico and stated that the central committee had complete authority and jurisdiction over the movement everywhere. Villasenor admitted having read articles in the Communist publication, "People's Daily World," in which it was charged that the Sinarquistas was a "Fifth-Column Fascist" organization with a membership of 50,000 people in California alone and, opposed to the American war effort, all of which he denied. He stated that the organization in the Southern California region never numbered more than 400 persons and it was his belief that there were not more than 800 Sinarquista members in the State of California.

COMMUNISTS VERSUS SINARQUISTAS

In order to understand the subtlety of Communist strategy in its attack on the Sinarquista movement in California, it is necessary to understand current Communist directives in Mexico, Latin and South America. These directives and immediate objectives are boldly enunciated in a speech of Elias Laferte, President of the Communist Party of Chile, speaking before the Ninth Congress of the Communist Party of Mexico in Mexico City, May 18, 1944. (See section of this report under title "Communist Strategy in the Western Hemisphere.")

The reader should bear in mind that the committee, in this part of the report, is more concerned with the controversy between the Communists and the Sinarquistas than with the merit or demerit of the Sinarquista movement itself. Committee findings on the Sinarquista movement, as such, are hereafter set forth.

Pedro Villasenor was questioned closely concerning Communist attacks upon the Sinarquista movement. His testimony follows (volume XVII, pp. 4000-4009):

> By Mr. Combs:
> Q. Now, Mr. Villasenor, you speak of having been attacked by the Communists. Will you explain what you mean by that?
> A. Yes, since some of the fellow citizens from Mexico came to the United States there has been several attacks against us, saying we are fifth columnists and we are receiving money from Hitler, we are organizing the gangs, the zoot suiters on the east side, that we are concentrating to destroy the war effort of the American people and so forth—all those things against us, and I read all those attacks in some magazines—I don't recall the names—and especially the Daily World.

Q. The People's Daily World?

A. The People's Daily World last year, and other Mexican Communist papers that come, like the Popular that is printed in Mexico.

Chairman Tenney: That is a Communist paper?

A. Yes.

Mr. Combs: Q. Your organization was attacked in the Popular?

A. Yes.

Q. Does Lombardo Toledano write for the Popular?

A. Yes, I think he does.

Q. And another magazine that is published in Mexico by Lombardo Toledano is called Futeo?

A. Yes.

Q. That is a Communist publication?

A. That's a Communist publication.

Q. Published by Lombardo Toledano?

A. Yes.

Q. Have you ever seen attacks against the Sinarquistas in those publications?

A. Yes, and some American papers, like the Sunday Times from New York, and, of course, the statement made here by Mr. Diaz, made to the Times, I think last October of last year, the statement made against us.

Q. Mr. who?

A. Mr. Diaz (spelling), D-i-a-z.

Q. Do you know a man by the name of Eduardo Quevedo?

A. I know the man, yes.

Q. Do you know whether or not he has made any attacks on your organization?

A. No, I don't know.

Q. You don't know. Do you know whether or not he is a member of the Communist Party?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know whether he is active in doing things for the Mexican youth?

A. I read something about his activities.

Q. Have you seen the article in Time Magazine about his activities, that is, in today's issue?

A. No.

Q. You haven't seen that?

A. No.

Q. I hand you what purports to be the masthead of a newspaper, a photostat, and it is entitled 'Special to the Sunday Worker,' and ask you whether or not you have ever seen this article? (Handing to witness.)

A. No. I haven't read this article.

Q. I hand you—

Chairman Tenney (Interrupting): Identify that first.

Mr. Combs: Entitled "Mexico Sinarquista Vanguard of Hitler," first of two articles—"Hitler Fifth Column in Mexico," by Alfred Stelling of the Sunday Worker, dated Mexico City, September 22nd, 1942.

I hand you another photostat of the Daily Worker, New York, Friday, April 24th, 1942, and call your attention to an article headed, "Mexican Government call Sinarquistas Traitors," and ask you if you have seen that before? (Handing to witness.)

A. I might have read this article in some paper, but I don't recall the specific paper.

Q. What is the Sunday Worker, do you know?

A. No, I don't know.

Q. Do you know what the Daily Worker is?

A. No, I haven't read it.

Q. The Daily Worker, for your information, is the counterpart of the People's Daily World on the Atlantic Coast, the Communist newspaper published in New York.

A. I see.

Q. Is there a Sinarquista movement in any other country besides Mexico and the United States?

A. No such thing as the French Sinarquistas.

Q. Is there such a thing?

A. No, that is a good laugh to the Sinarquistas in Mexico.

Q. There was never such a movement?

A. No.

Q. Did you ever hear of a man by the name of Jacques Ladurie?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did you read any place where he was supposed to be the chief of the French movement?

A. Yes, I think so.

Q. And appointed to the Laval cabinet in 1942?

A. I think in some paper.

Q. What place?

A. La Opinion.

Q. Who publishes that paper?

A. Mr. Ignacio Lozano.

Q. I hand you a clipping from Pic, August, 1942, entitled, "American-Mexicans ask New Deal," by Josephine Fiero de Bright, and ask you if you ever have seen this article before.

A. No. I haven't read this article.

Q. Do you know who the author of it is?

A. I heard about Mrs. Josephine de Bright.

Q. What did you hear about her?

A. The first time I heard, there was an article printed in the Spanish magazine from the East, I think Chicago—around there—it was printed, and I read an article against us.

Q. Against you?

A. Against us. That is the first time I heard about it.

Q. What kind of a magazine was it?

A. I don't recall the name of it.

Q. You don't know whether it was a communistic publication or not?

A. No, I don't know.

Q. You only——

A. (Interrupting) I remember reading that article and it saying she was coming to California to destroy us.

Q. To destroy the Sinarquista movement?

A. Yes.

Q. Did she come to California?

A. She did.

Q. When did she arrive here?

A. I don't know.

Q. About how long ago?

A. I think that article I read was last year, sometime last year.

Q. Last year. And she is in Southern California now?

A. I don't know.

Q. You don't know that?

A. No.

Q. I'd like to read an excerpt from this article into the record.

Chairman Tenney: All right, go ahead.

Mr. Combs: This is from page 1, the specific date is August 4th, 1942 (reading): "How many of our native Latin Americans speak English, they can read only Spanish, and so never come in contact with many of the facts about the war and the war effort, that are every-day knowledge to their English-reading brothers. Not only does this keep them from proper information as to the part they can play in winning the war, but it makes them prey to certain diversionist and even Fascist groups in their own midst.

"One such group is the Sinarquista movement, a reputedly Fascist organization which has secured a foothold in Mexico itself, and which is attempting to spread its propaganda to the Spanish-speaking people of this nation. By using discrimination and language difference as a basis, it attempts to create among these people suspicion and distrust of both the United States and the Mexican Governments." I ask this be received as Exhibit No. 5 for this witness.

Chairman Tenney: So ordered. (Marked Villasenor Exhibit No. 5.)

Mr. Combs: Q. Has your organization ever attempted to do the things that are alleged you have done in this article?

A. No, sir.

Q. You are sure of that?

A. I am very sure of that.

Q. Has any other movement in Southern California endeavored to your knowledge to do the things that are alleged in this article?

A. Not that I know of.

Q. You are familiar with the activities of the Communist Party in connection with American youth?

A. The only thing I know is what I read about them.

Q. You have no first-hand knowledge?

A. No.

Q. Did you ever hear of a committee for the defense of Mexican-American youth?

A. I read about it.

Q. Do you know whether or not Mrs. Bright is a member of that committee?

A. I am not sure about that.

Q. There have been some statements made, Mr. Villasenor, that the Sinarquista movement has some connection with the Falangist movement in Spain. Is that true?

A. No, sir, no connection with no movement with no party or no organization whatever.

Q. What is the Falangist movement in Spain?

A. I don't know, sir.

Q. I see.

A. (Interrupting) I only heard something about it, I only heard about it, I don't know anything about it.

Q. I see. I now hand you a pamphlet entitled, "The New Hope of the Mexican People—Synarquism. A Complete Summary of Its Program and Principles." The date on the introduction is January 6, 1943. And I ask you if you have seen one of those before? (Handing to witness.)

A. Yes, I have got one in my pocket right now.

Q. That is the one you told me you were going to bring?

A. That's right.

Q. Does that contain a full description of the purposes of the organization and the motives of the Sinarquista?

A. That's true.

Q. You have read this yourself, have you (indicating)?

A. I read it myself.

Q. Who wrote this pamphlet?

A. I think Father Alcium Hoebel.

Q. And he lives at Mount Angel, Oregon, does he not?

A. Yes.

Q. Are you acquainted with him?

A. I know about him, but I don't know him.

Q. Does he have any official position that you know of?

A. No.

Q. Is he connected with the church in any way?

A. I think he is their priest.

Q. A Catholic priest?

A. A Catholic priest.

* * * * *

Mr. Combs: Q. Mr. Villasenor, what was the underlying reason for the organization of the Sinarquista movement in the first place; why was it formed?

A. In Mexico?

Q. Yes.

A. Well, as far as the reasons, we have to make a little history about that. You know Mexico has been the revolutionary country for almost a hundred years, always been disorder in Mexico. Every president elected there has to be a revolution—we all know that—and we never had any order, we never did have any democratic way of living in Mexico. Democracy in Mexico is excluded. We never knew what it was, just in the propoganda of the politicos. We never knew any justice done, especially to the poor classes of people. We had some bad governments, they always destroyed, especially in the religious way of living of the people. We knew we had three years of persecution of Mexico, and the people of Mexico were tired of that way of living, and Salvador Abascal, Manuel Zeremo and some of the others got together and they decide to start a new organization, different from the others that have been organized in Mexico. So much difference that even the name, even the tactics of working will be different entirely from the other organizations that have ever been established in Mexico; and they decide to create the Sinarquista movement there. They will organize and educate the people to unite the country in one ideal; that is, to bring order and peace and a common good for all the people in Mexico. They thought that the only way of organizing and establishing the real Christian democratic Mexico was to unite the people and to unite they had to fight in the civic field, we might say—I'm sorry about my English——

Q. (Interrupting) It is very good; it's all right.

A. (Continuing)—they knew they were going to have prosecution against them, many of them will be killed, there will be assassinations — there has been almost a hundred members of our organization has been assassinated, including three or four women that have been killed because of working for the movement. And they knew all that was going to come, and they decide to go and organize the whole country, the whole people, bring them together, not with hate or to destroy each other, but to establish love among the Mexican people, the doctrine of loving even the enemies. Of course, under the religion the sentiment of the people you know 99 per cent of the Mexican people is Catholic, and they saw all that, and how they had been persecuted and knocked around, and the country was full of disturbance and revolutions and disorder and anarchy, and they decide to come out and fight."

Mr. R. E. Combs, interrogating Mr. Villasenor, read several extracts from various publications attacking the Sinarquista group as a subversive organization. Among such extracts was a passage from the book, "Total Espionage" by Curt Riess (pp. 236-237) to the effect that "The German espionage system in Mexico used the Falange as its pay clerk, especially to finance the so-called Sinarquista movement." (Com. Tr., Vol. XVII, p. 4020.) Another excerpt was read to the witness (Com. Tr., Vol. XVII, p. 4021): "Question of name aside, the Sinarquists were a large murder gang, in West and Central Mexico, who wage guerrilla warfare against labor unions (which they denounced as Communistic) and against persons to whom President Cardenas had given land. They were organized after the fuhrer system, of course. For a time Manuel Zeremeno was fuhrer. He was succeeded by Salvador Abascal, a friend of Birto Foucher's, who had to flee to Berlin after his plot failed. Abascal gets plenty of money from somewhere, controls 10,000 armed men, and has the Sinarquists organized on a military basis with an intelligence service, hideouts and arms caches. The Sinarquists must be considered today the most dangerous Fascist movement in Latin America."

Villasenor's testimony continued (Com. Tr., Vol, XVII, pp. 4021-4023):

By Mr. Combs: Q. Have you ever seen that before, or anything similar?

A. No, I haven't read it.

Q. Is anything contained in the article true?

A. Absolutely nothing.

Q. It is absolutely false?

A. I was — I am just surprised all these people who lie about the movement over there.

Q. You know of your own knowledge —

A. (Interrupting) I know those facts are not true, for the Sinarquistas in Mexico have absolute orders not to carry any knife or gun or any weapon whatever in there. Whenever they are attacked by force, by any other group, they are always defenseless, they cannot protect themselves when attacked by force. That explains why almost 100 of the people have been killed, and none of those people have been even injured by the Sinarquistas in Mexico. Our people have been killed, but none of the other have been killed, you see.

* * * * *

Q. It is your opinion, Mr. Villasenor, that most of these attacks and most of this which you have termed propaganda against your movement, is inspired from Communist sources?

A. (Nods head affirmatively) — yes, sir.

Q. Your movement is very militantly and very aggressively anti-Communist?

A. Yes, sir; absolutely.

Q. One of the principal tenets of your organization——

A. (Interrupting) One of the principles because the Communists in Mexico have done very much harm to the country. They agitate the country, the people, and it is one of the principles of the Sinarquistas to be against the ideas of the Communists.

Martin Cabrera gave his occupation as a printer with his business located on East 12th Street in the City of Los Angeles. He stated that he was a Mexican National and had been in Southern California since 1933. He had been acquainted with Pedro Villasenor for about seven years and had met Salvador Abascal in Los Angeles in 1939 or 1940 when the Sinarquista Jefe was in Southern California in the interest of the movement. He stated that he had replaced Pedro Villasenor as the head of the Southern California group, and, since April, 1942, had conducted meetings of the various units. Cabrera's testimony, in part, follows: (Com. Tr., Vol. XVII, pp. 4045-4050.)

Mr. Combs: Q. Is your organization anti-Communist?

A. Definitely, yes.

Q. Very much, isn't it?

A. Very much, yes.

Q. And always has been?

A. Always has been.

Q. You have some knowledge, have you not, of the activities of the Communist Party among the young Mexican people in Southern California?

A. Well, the way I see, they have always been trying to befriend——

Q. (Interrupting) The Communists have always been trying to befriend——

A. (Continuing)—always tried to befriend the young people—in fact, during the recent riots all the Communist papers I have a copy of them, I brought just part, because it says something about us being behind the Mexican boy gangs.

Q. Go right ahead with your testimony.

A. Well, the only thing I can say they befriended the young people, always trying to show that they were their friends and that they will help them in every opportunity they have. I don't read very much of this paper except when I have time.

Q. Does your organization try to offset that?

A. Well, our organization is composed of men who work for a living. Anything that is put in there, well, it's donated. In fact, some of our members in order to discharge some of their duties have to leave their work and lose money, because they don't get anything for it. Sometimes they even have to pay for things that they have to get in the organization.

Q. Is it your feeling that the Communist Party played any part in the stirring up of the recent zoot suit controversy?

A. It is almost a rule whenever they try to put the blame on somebody else, it is a general rule, because they have something themselves.

Q. I see. And have they in this instance endeavored to do that?

A. They have always been trying to put the blame on the Sinarquista's shoulders.

Q. For this particular disturbance?

A. Yes, it says so in the bottom of the little article.

Q. You mean regarding the source of the fifth columnists?

A. The fifth columnists—it says there (indicating).

Q. This is from the People's Daily World, Saturday, May 29th, 1943, page 3, the title of the article is "Behind the Mexican boy gang. Minority needs equal chance in the war effort." The eighth point in the article reads (reading):

"The fifth column in the Mexican community, the Sinarquista movement must be exposed and isolated."

Below that is another title entitled, "A source of danger." In the same paper, "Sinarquista metropolitan press whitewashes it." (Reading):

"The fledgling Sinarquista fifth column recently held a convention here at Eppell Hall, 830 South Hicks Street, several hundred followers attended. The Sinarquista celebrated the first anniversary of the birth of the organization. Martin Cabrera, head of the regional committee, presided. Pedro Villasenor, Luis Uranga, Miguel Lequspi and Jesus Arroyo spoke. The Herald Express reporting the meeting said that 'The Sinarquista is an anti-Communist society.' The Times reported that it is a Mexican social and civic organization. Neither newspaper indicated that it is a Fascist organization, closely related to the Falange, whose headquarters are in Spain, and whose boss is in Berlin."

Q. How did you happen to get this copy?

A. One of our members happened to get hold of it, and he brought it to me so we can keep it in our records. We have other clippings of papers in which they always battle us, and naturally, we have to offset that somehow, the best way we can.

Q. Yes. How do you do that?

A. By verbal propaganda, telling our members how to act and what to do. Usually we recommend them to be quiet and not stir up any fights with the opposite side.

Q. You tell that to your young people?

A. Absolutely.

Q. Is it your idea the Communists are a good thing for the young Mexicans?

A. I don't think so.

Q. Why don't you think so?

A. The Communist Party has always been proven very violent, and any organization that stirs anything like that up, that can't be any good to any group of people alone.

Q. You say they are very violent—do you mean by that the Communist Party has agitated Mexican youth in this vicinity to cause trouble and to get into difficulty?

A. I have no proof of that, but the way it looks I think, yes.

Q. You think it has happened?

A. Yes.

Q. Why do you think the Communist Party would be interested in doing that sort of thing, Mr. Cabrera?

A. Well, simply because maybe that way they serve their purposes.

Q. You mean in getting members in their organization?

A. In getting members in their organization and getting them to believe they are their friends, and get them to their side.

Q. I see. Have you any knowledge of the fact that the Communists have pointed out to the young Mexicans that they have been discriminated against and subjected to prejudice?

A. No, I have no proof of that, but I have a definite attitude to that fact that is so.

Q. As a matter of fact, one of the main principles of your organization is combatting Communism, isn't that true?

A. Combatting Communism.

Q. Have you ever heard of a man by the name of Lombardo Toledano in Mexico?

A. Very much so.

Q. Who is he?

A. The head agitator in Mexico.

Q. In what party?

A. The Communist Party.

Q. How do you know that?

A. Because all the papers say a lot about him.

Q. About being a Communist?

A. He has always been a Communist.

Q. His first name is Lombardo?

A. Yes, I think it is, I think he is the representative of the party in Russia.

Q. He lives in Mexico?

A. He lives in Mexico.

Q. Does he write for any publication in Mexico?

A. I really don't know that.

Q. Did you ever see anything he has written in any publication?

A. In his own.

Q. You were about to say something.

A. In all papers; we used to get a paper here from Mexico, the Sinarquista, and they usually expose all his activities. every now and then our members go there, and it always says about him he's the principal agitator there.

Q. Do you know whether he had anything to do with the care of the Loyalist refugees from Communist Spain?

A. That I think was fostered by the Cardenas government. In fact, I think they brought into Mexico those people, and it is one of the sources of all this trouble.

Q. Did you ever hear of an organization known as the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee?

A. I never have, never heard anything about that."

Many witnesses were called and examined by the committee in connection with the Sinarquista movement. Villasenor, Cabrera, and the officers and members of Sinarquistas were cooperative. Membership lists were readily secured for committee investigators and representatives of the committee had no difficulty in attending the meetings of the organization. Committee investigators could find nothing conspiratorial in the manner in which the organization conducted its affairs and nothing was found in the principals and objectives of the organization indicating an attack upon the Government of the United States or the State of California. Representatives of the Catholic Church were interviewed by committee representatives and it was learned that, so far as the Church was concerned, the Sinarquista movement was not considered "subversive."

COMMUNIST AGITATION AMONG NEGRO CITIZENS

Le Roy R. Ingram, Secretary-Manager of the Eastside Chamber of Commerce in Los Angeles, testified (Com. Tr., Vol. XVIII, pp. 4258-4301) that the members of his race residing on the east side of the City of Los Angeles had been apprehensive for many months of possible racial disturbances. He believed that the same forces agitating the Mexican population were at work in the Negro sections of Los Angeles. He stated that the Communist Party had, for several years, carried on an agitational program among the Negro citizenry as it had among the Mexican youth of the city. He declared that the Communist Party was constantly attempting to place their members in the Eastside Chamber of Commerce, which is a conservative, anti-Communist organization of colored people. Mr. Ingram stated that his organization had presented an anti-discrimination bill to the State Legislature in 1943 and had been advised by Guy T. Nunn, an official with the Minority Division of the Manpower Commission, and who was, as heretofore noted, one of the sponsors of the Citizens' Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth, to contact an attorney in San Francisco by the name of Aubrey Grossman. Aubrey Grossman has a long record of Communist front affiliations and has long been identified with the defense of members of the Communist Party. Mr. Ingram testified that Mr. Nunn had suggested that Josephine Bright, another sponsor for the Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth, also be contacted.

Mr. Ingram testified that he had known Charlotta Bass, owner and publisher of the "California Eagle," for a number of years, and stated that, prior to the death of J. H. Bass, Charlotta Bass' husband, the newspaper was conservative in character. There was little change in the newspaper after the death of J. H. Bass, until about the end of 1941, when it suddenly became quite radical. Ingram stated that Mrs. Bass had interested herself in various Communist-front organizations and that her newspaper now carried the same type of material as appeared in the "People's Daily World." He was very positive in his belief that the "California Eagle" had played a vital role in stirring up Negro and Mexican minorities by constantly declaring that both the Negro and Mexican population were being discriminated against and subjected to unfair treatment and police brutality.

R. G. LaMar, Field Secretary of the Eastside Chamber of Commerce, testified that he had organized the chamber about six years before and that it had been the one organization in the colored district that had been active in attempting to offset the constant efforts of the Communist Party in dominating the Negro population of east side Los Angeles. It was his opinion that the National Negro Conference and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People had been infiltrated by Communist Party members to such an extent that these organizations were presently little more than Communist fronts.

Mr. Ingram and Mr. LaMar displayed an unusual knowledge of Communist technique.

FINDINGS

The members of the Committee believe that the investigation of the "zoot-suit" riots in Los Angeles resulted in exposing Communist technique in fomenting racial prejudices and antagonisms. Vicious agitation, subtle conspiratorial intrigue, adroit manipulation of human relationships, skillful play upon prejudices and antagonisms—that is the devilish pattern woven by revolutionary Marxists as revealed by the Committee's "zoot-suit" investigations. Disrespect for law and order, and for the economic system it protects, is interwoven carefully throughout. Rearing its ugly head in sneering triumph over the havoc it has wrought is the monster who prepared and spread the poison—now posing as the champion of those it victimized.

Reports of Communist activity among the Negro population of California, particularly in the Los Angeles area, indicate a similar program of racial agitation. Informed Negro citizens, such as Leroy Ingram and R. G. LaMar, are keenly aware of the situation and they are considerably alarmed over it. The Committee finds that the Communists will continue to foment racial strife and violence. They will, so far as possible, conceal their hand in the agitational process. They will take advantage of every event, exploit discrimination and antagonisms where they exist, invent them where they do not exist and magnify and balloon trifles into mountains. The "zoot-suit" riots will not be the last racial disturbances in California if the Communists are successful in their program. It is Marxian dialectic applied with Machiavellian subtleties.

The Committee finds that the Sinarquista organization is composed mostly of Mexican Nationals and that it is governed by a leader and a central committee in a foreign country, Mexico.

The Committee is convinced that the Sinarquistas had nothing to do whatever with the agitation and fomenting of the "zoot-suit" disturbances in Los Angeles. The evidence clearly indicates that the Communist Party selected this organization for the public spotlight as it went about its vicious work creating a Mexican "minority" in California.

The Committee is not in possession of any additional facts upon which it might modify its 1943 findings on the Sinarquista movement. While it has many of the aspects of authoritarianism and much of the trappings of modern totalitarian movements, it is definitely Mexican in character and concerned wholly with Mexico and Mexicans. Its leaders are undoubtedly aware of the program of the Communist Party in its attack on both the Government and the Catholic Church, as set forth in the speech of Senator Elias Laferte, and, because of the struggle between the Church and atheistic revolutionary Communism, the Sinarquistas are, at this time, the particular target of the Communists both in Mexico and in the United States.

The speech of Senator Elias Leferte clearly states the position and policy of the Communist Party in this hemisphere. The Sinarquistas are avowedly intensely religious and adherents of the Roman Catholic faith. Senator Laferte, as a Communist spokesman, set the destruction of Roman Catholicism among Mexicans and Latin-Americans as the first task for the Communists. The members of the Sinarquistas have been most aggressive in resisting the efforts of the Communist Party in the Republic of Mexico. These are a few of the reasons why the Communist Party in California attempted to lay the blame for the "zoot-suit" riots at the door of the Sinarquistas.

The Committee finds that the Communist publication, "The People's Daily World", the "California Eagle" and Al Waxman's "Eastside Journal" played an important part in the agitation of the Mexican Pachucos, both in preparing for the riots and in keeping the issue alive when the violence had ceased. The similarity of the campaign in these publications is not explained as being merely coincidental.

The Committee finds that the Committee for the Defense of Mexican-American Youth is a Communist-inspired and dominated organization.

The Committee finds that there was no police brutality in the handling of the "zoot-suit" disturbances. It finds, to the contrary, that members of the Los Angeles police force and sheriff's office were, in the performance of their duty, seriously injured, killed, ambushed and beaten.

CONCLUSION

As the hooked cross of Nazi Germany is pounded into the dust by the forward march of allied armies, the shadow of the hammer and sickle of Russian Communism falls across a devastated, war-torn Europe. Tito dominates Yugoslavia. Ercoli is back in Italy. Thorez has returned to France. The Communists of Greece, Holland and Belgium are organizing. A Moscow-dominated "Free Germany Committee" awaits Stalin's orders. A "Free Polish Committee", Communist-inspired and dominated, is taking over Poland. Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania are being reannexed to the Soviet Union. Every anti-Communist is being liquidated by the Communists as a "Fascist." Stalin will not permit an "anti-Communist" or unfriendly government to exist in postwar Europe. The shadow creeps across India, inner Mongolia and into struggling China.

Can we depend on international pacts? A 10-year non-aggression pact between the U. S. S. R. and Poland was signed on July 25, 1932, and extended for 10 years May 5, 1935. Soviet troops invaded Poland September 17, 1939. Non-aggression pacts were solemnly signed between the U. S. S. R., Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania. All of these pacts were violated by an invasion of these countries by Soviet troops while the pacts were in full force and effect. Soviet troops invaded Latvia June 17, 1940. The Estonian border was crossed by Soviet troops June 17, 1940. Lithuania was invaded by Soviet troops June 15, 1940. A non-aggression pact with Finland was extended for 10 years April 7, 1934. Soviet troops invaded Finland November 29, 1939.

It should be remembered that the Soviet Union, together with Estonia, Latvia, Poland, Iran, Roumania and Finland defined "aggression" as including an invasion by armed forces or an attack by any type of armed forces with or without a declaration of war. Pacts with Estonia, Latvia, Poland, Iran and Roumania under this definition of "aggression" were signed July 3, 1933. Similar documents were signed between the Soviet Union and Lithuania on July 5, 1933, and with Finland July 23, 1933. Soviet troops invaded Roumania June 28, 1940.

The address of Senator Elias Laferte before the Ninth Congress of the Communist Party of Mexico boldly announces the Communist plan for domination of the Western Hemisphere. The attack on religion and Democratic institutions is to continue with increased vigor. The Communist plan for the conquest of the Americas is a clear challenge. Senator Laferte speaks clearly and positively of Communist objectives and the establishment of American Soviets. The closing words of Communist Laferte are important:

> "In this manner, little by little, we shall infiltrate our theories of positivism and individual and collective economy in order that the new generations will consider that all these religions are no more than garbage, that must be cleared away as soon as possible in order to permit a better life. It is suitable then, comrades, that we keep in mind these orientations in order that when you return to your zones, you may give instructions to your units on the form of combatting the power of the Catholic Church, assisting the rest; and that you may prepare yourselves for the crusade which must carry us to triumph. The road of salvation of Mexico only has one sure road. Let us prepare ourselves for Mexico and Latin America to be ready to play a dominant role in the future Communist conquest of the world. From this nation let there go out the conquerors to other countries less prepared. Let Mexico convert herself into a centrifugal force for all the continent; let Mexico be the country of freedom with the proletariat and the American Soviet. Let us launch from here the first shout of freedom, and on hearing this battle cry, the stirring voice of our people, all the other peoples of America may run immediately, raising very high the red and black banner of social revindication. Our work is to aid, to aid more and more all those in the Americas who fight for our Cause, to integrate all their forces to the contribution of the struggle; to organize a great political movement of unity, which consolidated with the struggle of the people and the Communist Patriots, faithful to the Fatherland of the World Proletariat, faithful to the U. S. S. R., will impel us to draw us to the glorious, happy day which is about to arrive; the radiant day of liberation for all the world which will arrive with the overthrow of capitalism."

The "sharp turns" and flexibility of Communist strategy demands eternal vigilance on the part of those who wish to preserve our Democratic form of government. The coming seventh period of Communist strategy will be a critical period for the United States. The violent and forceful overthrow of the Government will be decreed when Communist generals believe that the body politic has been sufficiently penetrated and weakened.

Part of the Communist "softening up" process is its campaign of vilification against State Legislatures and the Congress of the United States. The C. I. O. Political Action Committee has replaced the Communist Party as a political power. It is well organized and Communists are in key spots throughout the organization. Earl Browder and the hierarchy of Communist Party "brains" are directing this thoroughly regimented political organization. It should be needless to state that this direction is not for the welfare of the United States, but for its destruction.

The close of the war will bring new Communist onslaughts on State Legislatures and on the Congress of the United States. Every effort will be made to elect Marxists or Communist fellow-travelers to Legislative offices in the elections to come. Proposals will be continually introduced in the Legislature designed to destroy the economic and social structure of the State and Nation.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation and other National and State agencies are powerless to curb the activities and machinations of the Communist Party. These agencies are only effective after a crime has been actually committed. They are powerless to stop the continuous sabotage and destruction of the under-structure of our form of government. Violence will not come until the complete structure of our economics, our social order and our Government are undermined and weakened. It will then be too late.

Subversive elements hide behind the Bill of Rights like a kidnapper hides behind his victim when surrounded by an armed posse. Legislation directed at subversive individuals and organizations invariably injure innocent by-standers. The flexibility of Marxian strategy is such that its devotees are enabled to side-step legislation aimed at their practices. The Voorhis Act of 1940, calling for the registration of all individuals owing allegiance to a foreign country or ism was easily evaded by the Communist Party of the United States in "disaffiliating" with the Third Communist International. They evade laws aimed at their activities with the agility of a flea eluding capture in a blanket.

Exposure and publicity are the two things that subversives can not endure. They "wither away," like Marx's imaginary last state, in an informed community. The public must be educated concerning Communist ideology and Legislative bodies and public officials must make it a patriotic duty to study and understand the falsity, the brutality and the ultimate aims of Communism.

The committee recommends that the Joint Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities in California be continued. The subversive character of the individuals and organizations crying for the discontinuance of the committee is the best evidence of the necessity for its continuation.

Respectfully submitted.

PRINTING OF REPORT IN JOURNAL

Pursuant to the motion of Senator Collier, made on April 12, 1945, the following report of the Senate Interim Committee, Investigating Motor Vehicles, was ordered printed in the Journal of this date.

REPORT OF SENATE INTERIM COMMITTEE INVESTIGATING MOTOR VEHICLES

Appointed Under Senate Resolution No. 150—Fifty-fifth Session

MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE

SENATOR JERROLD L. SEAWELL, Chairman

SENATOR THOMAS KEATING, Vice Chairman — SENATOR THOMAS MCCORMACK

SENATOR RANDOLPH COLLIER — SENATOR HARRY L. PARKMAN

In accordance with provisions of Senate Resolution No. 150, we submit herewith the Report of the Special Senate Committee Investigating Motor Vehicles. The membership of the committee consists of the following: Senators Jerrold L. Seawell, Thomas Keating, Thomas McCormack, Randolph Collier, and Harry L. Parkman.

The committee met and was organized at the State Capitol January 31, 1944. The committee elected Senator Seawell as chairman and Senator Keating as vice chairman. The chairman was instructed to employ a secretary for the committee work and also to make arrangements with the Legislative Auditor for the employment of a special investigator or auditor to carry on the necessary investigation.

After reviewing the responsibilities of the committee and the work to be done, the committee concluded that an extensive analysis of the organization and functioning of every phase of the Department of Motor Vehicles was necessary in order to make the proper recommendations concerning it.

The committee concluded to request from the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, the services of the Legislative Auditor, Mr. Rolland A Vandegrift, to assist them in directing the research and study of the Department of Motor Vehicles. This assistance was secured and Mr. Vandegrift has exercised over-all direction of the research work and has assisted the committee in its hearings and analysis of material secured.

It was concluded to employ auditors and accountants experienced in State Government operations. Mr. Vandegrift was requested to secure a staff and to present a program of work to the committee.

Mr. Laban S. Frost, who has had long experience in governmental accounting, was employed by the Department of Finance for some seven years, and with in all approximately 10 years of prior State service and is fully familiar with the operation of State Government was employed to head up the research work. Other assistants and investigators have been employed from time to time. Alysse Osmonson was employed as secretary of the committee.

There was some delay in starting the actual study of the department because of the difficulty in securing a person who was experienced in State matters to carry on the investigation.

Prior to securing a competent staff, the Legislative Auditor prepared an outline to be followed in making a study and investigation and this was reviewed by the Chairman of the committee and revised and subsequently approved by the whole committee.

The first step in making the survey was to ask the Department of Motor Vehicles to prepare a statement showing the organization of the department, the functions of the several divisions and bureaus, the work performed, including collection of motor vehicle licenses, issuing of registration and drivers' licenses and law enforcement, and showing the growth of this activity from the time the department was first set up to the latest available information.

In accordance with this request, a brochure was prepared by the Department of Motor Vehicles for the information of the committee members, entitled, "A Guidebook of Functional Activities."

After a preliminary survey of the operation of the department by the research and investigating staff, the committee held its second meeting and reviewed the progress report of the staff. From this report, it appeared that there were matters of internal organization and accounting procedure with particular relation to the pay roll that needed immediate attention. The staff was instructed to concentrate on these two matters. This was further substantiated by the calling and examining of witnesses as follows:

Gordon H. Garland, Director, Department of Motor Vehicles; Phillip Davis, Deputy Director; Charles Larrabee, Acting Departmental Accounting Officer; E. Raymond Cato, Chief, California Highway Patrol; Frank B. Ench, Acting Registrar, Division of Registration; Victor W. Killick, Statistician, Department of Motor Vehicles; Paul Mason, Chief, Division of Drivers' Licenses; Clarence Malm, Principal Accountant, Department of Finance.

While this was being done, other matters affecting the entire functioning of the department were brought to light and were subsequently followed up.

The testimony developed information concerning the procedure in handling the pay rolls of the department. This particular matter had previously been brought to the attention of the Senate by Senator Breed, evolving from numerous complaints from employees of the department that there was a delay of from two to nine weeks or more in getting their pay checks after they performed services for the department. The information showed that the department had in operation two punch card systems of different makes, paying rent for both sets of machines and both capable of turning out a pay roll.

At the time the systems experts of the Department of Finance assigned to assist the Motor Vehicle Department were engaged in installing a new accounting system, including a new pay roll procedure requiring the use of mechanical tabulating equipment. Upon recommendation of these experts, tabulating machines had been rented under contract for the work and the necessary operators hired.

It was surprising to the committee to learn that another, more extensive set of tabulating equipment of a different make had been installed in the Bureau of Statistics for years, but no attempt had been made to ascertain whether it was practicable to use it for the pay roll production before the second set of equipment had been rented. Furthermore, as these two sets of tabulating equipment were not interchangeable and required different types of printed forms and operators specially trained in their use who cannot be interchangeably employed, immediate doubt developed on the advisability of having these two sets of dissimilar equipment if one set could produce all of the necessary work.

The committee discussed this matter with the Director of the Department of Motor Vehicles, who promptly determined, after actual tests had been made, that the tabulating equipment in the Bureau of Statistics could satisfactorily produce the pay roll with the addition of one or two minor attachments, which were promptly installed at small cost.

Thereafter, the director canceled the contract for the renting of the second set of machines, effecting a saving to the department of approximately $1,100 monthly. One additional person was employed, but no additional machines were required to the Bureau of Statistics equipment, whereas, the services of four persons which had previously been employed to work the second set of tabulating equipment were discontinued.

The committee feels that its inquiry was largely responsible for this economy and improved efficiency.

After these two particular matters had been thoroughly covered by the staff, the committee again met in executive session on July 19, 1944. Mr. Frost reviewed for committee the survey made up to date of the Department of Motor Vehicles.

The recommendations made by Mr. Frost concerning the reorganization of the Division of Accounting and Bureau "E," or equipment bureau of the California Highway Patrol, after being fully discussed by the committee, were adopted. The committee moved that the chairman have these recommendations put into written form and that they be transmitted to Gordon H. Garland, Director, Department of Motor Vehicles. The letter follows herewith:

> "At a meeting of the Committee on Motor Vehicles on July 19, 1944, I was directed by the committee members to write a letter to you conveying recommendations which our audit staff made to the committee.
> "In reviewing the organization chart of the Department of Motor Vehicles which follows page 25 in the brochure prepared for the information of the members of the Senate Committee Investigating Motor Vehicles, the committee went on record at that meeting in favor of the creation of a Division of Administration and in connection therewith makes the following recommendations:
> "1. That the Chief of the Division of Administration approve all changes in office procedure, make a study of all reports now prepared by the various divisions and eliminate those which might not serve any useful purpose. Approve in the future all new reports which any division might propose to have prepared and approve all changes in existing reports.

"The purpose of this recommendation is to have as much uniformity as possible in procedure in all divisions and branch offices of the department. Our survey disclosed that some reports from branch offices are not uniform and we know of no reason why there should not be more uniformity in the reports.

"2. That the traveling auditor be placed under the direction of the Chief of the Division of Administration. The reason for this recommendation is that in order for the traveling auditor to render the maximum amount of service, he should be able to survey work in all divisions in the branch offices and other work as directed by the Chief of the Division of Administration. This would also make it possible for him to check all procedures at the headquarters offices in Sacramento.

"3. It is our understanding that the deputy director at this time is performing the duties of the Chief of the Division of Administration, but inasmuch as the work program of the Division of Administration is quite broad in scope, especially if you require the Division to approve all of the changes in office procedure and other matters pertaining to the proper operation of the various offices, the duties of the two positions might become too many for one individual to handle and you may find it necessary to establish a position as Chief of the Division of Administration.

"It might be advisable that you assign your present deputy director as Chief of the Division of Administration or perhaps employ some other individual in said capacity. Should you desire to place some other individual in this position, we would suggest that you obtain, if possible, someone from private industry who has had broad experience in managing an office of comparable size, who has a thorough understanding of accounting and business administration. The salary to be according to the individual's ability.

"4. That Bureau "E" of the California Highway Patrol be placed under the supervision of the Chief of the Division of Administration; that all automobiles owned by the Department be operated through this division; that all accounting work necessary to the keeping of proper records as to cost and maintenance of automobiles be kept in the bureau; the paper work procedure to be outlined and directed by the departmental accounting officer and approved by the Chief of the Division of Administration.

"Our auditors' survey disclosed considerable duplication of records between those kept in the accounting division in the main office and those kept by Bureau "E" at the garage. We also found that the car costs which are kept in the main office are always behind; that the report which is prepared twice a year is as a rule six months late in being published. By having all the records pertaining to the cost of operating automobiles consolidated in one office under the supervision of a clerk or supervising account clerk, whichever the title may be, but at least some person with ability to properly supervise a staff of approximately six or eight employees. It is our belief that adequate reports could be supplied to the director regarding the cost of operating cars with not more than a thirty day lag.

"5. That an examination for controller or departmental accounting officer be given as soon as possible. Our survey disclosed that for the period July 1, 1943, to May 31, 1944, the Department of Finance billed your department $6184.54 for Mr. Larrabee's services. It is our understanding that the Department of Finance pays your acting departmental accounting officer a salary of $420 per month plus the State's portion of the retirement contribution which is 3.75 per cent, according to the Department of Finance's invoice, or $15.75, making a total of $435.75 per month.

"6. We have not completed our survey of the accounting department in the main building other than as it affects the keeping of automobile costs, but we would like to make a recommendation as to the physical lay-out of the office. Our auditors' survey disclosed that the assistant departmental accounting officer has a private office. We would suggest that in order to be able to give closer supervision to the accounting division employees, the assistant departmental accounting officer move his desk into the main room with the other accounting division employees and, by rearranging the desks of the other employees in the division, the set up can be such that a more efficient operation of the division will result.

"The bookkeeping machine and the addressograph machine which when properly operated make considerable noise, should be placed in the room now occupied by the assistant departmental accounting officer. This will take the noise of these machines away from the main accounting unit and will tend to create more efficiency.

"The auditors are now working on the possibility of better control of supplies and a somewhat streamlined procedure for the handling of accounts payable. A report on these and other accounting procedures will be made at the next meeting of the committee.

"The committee's auditors will be glad to confer with you regarding the above recommendations."

The committee is pleased to report that the director, after reviewing this matter and having the approval of the Governor to reorganize the department in conformity with the Political Code, immediately proceeded to put these recommendations in effect insofar as Bureau "E" (equipment of the California Highway Patrol) was transferred to the division of administration of the department, and the traveling auditor was transferred from the division of accounting to the division of administration effective December 1, 1944.

The recommendation was made that the chief accounting officer, a member of the staff of the Department of Finance and serving on a contractual basis for the Department of Motor Vehicles, should either be transferred definitely to the Department of Motor Vehicles or his contract be terminated and an accounting officer secured with responsibility only to the Department of Motor Vehicles. In compliance with this recommendation, the director of the Department of Motor Vehicles did not renew his contract.

The committee held numerous subsequent meetings, both open and executive; the total meetings being eleven in number. The committee called witnesses when necessary and investigated the over all organization, operation, and effectiveness of the department. Whenever it was thought that the Legislative Auditor could make some contribution, he was requested to attend these meetings and to examine and question the witnesses. The testimony secured was in general for the purpose of substantiating, clarifying or enlarging information and recommendations provided by the research and investigating staff.

In this way, a complete examination was made both of the records and the actual operations of the department. There was also secured, the views and opinions of the officers and employees of the department on all of these matters, including suggested and proposed reorganization of the department.

Some evidences of mismanagement and irregularities were brought out which required legislation.

It was the general conclusion of the committee that effective and efficient operation of the department had not been secured and can not be secured under the statutes setting up the Motor Vehicle Department. In particular, it was developed and demonstrated that while the administrative branch of government was responsible for the appointment of the Director of the Department of Motor Vehicles and its subsequent operation, that the statute was such that the two principal divisions of the department, enforcement, known as the California Highway Patrol and the Division of Registration, are independent entities set up by the statute and except to a very limited degree, are independent and free from administrative control of the director of the department. This limited control applies to offices, personnel, equipment and organization management. Irregularities and inefficiencies and nonfunctioning organization in these divisions could and can not be corrected by the director of the department, although the failures and deficiencies resulting from such conditions are blamed on the director of the department and subsequently rest on the Chief Executive as the appointing power.

Under such conditions, the operation of an efficient director or the removal of an inefficient one would in no wise correct abuses or irregularities in these two divisions.

After considering this matter at great length, and reviewing information presented by the staff, the chairman specifically brought before the committee the problem of improving the structure by changing the law. The committee agreed that this was necessary and requested the Legislative Auditor to have bills drafted by the Legislative Counsel which would accomplish this purpose, giving control of the department to the director. Such bills have been drawn and have been introduced by the committee into the Senate as Senate Bill No. 1024 and Senate Bill No. 1025, herewith presented.

It is the sincere recommendation of the committee that one of these bills be enacted into law and that the department be reorganized as soon as possible in accordance with these provisions and that the further reorganization of the department be made the responsibility of the Director.

The committee believes that the director should make the required corrections in general organization and see that the weaknesses and inefficiencies within the divisions are corrected.

The committee wishes to make it clear that it is not responsible for any reorganizations that have taken place within the department, or within any of the divisions of the department other than those that were included in the letter sent to the director in relation to accounting and Bureau "E."

The committee was continued by this session of the Senate by Senate Resolution No. 32. This was for the purpose of finishing investigations already under way, and undertaking some additional investigation and to cooperate with the head of the department concerning its findings on many matters which are too detailed to be presented in this report.

This report of the committee is designedly brief, for the reason that the committee concluded that the primary step in improving the Department of Motor Vehicles is solving the matter of responsibility of management and the logical establishment of fundamental organization. Our files are filled with a vast amount of information that we believe should be used subsequently in placing the department on a proper management basis. This material is available, but we believe it would serve no useful purpose to reproduce it in a formal report until the fundamental changes we have recommended are made in the Motor Vehicle law.

It is the conclusion of the committee that with this reorganization and the placing of full responsibility on the director, that the department which is essentially a credit to the State of California, can be further improved, its inefficiencies corrected and practices which open it up to serious criticism can be eliminated so that the department as a whole, and the California Highway Patrol in particular, will be the outstanding organization of its kind in the United States, and its personnel who are on the whole conscientious and sincere workers, can rightfully be as proud of their organization as they would like to be.

The committee wishes to express its appreciation to the Legislative Auditor and the Legislative Budget Committee for their cooperation in this study, and they wish to express their thanks and appreciation to all of the witnesses who appeared before the committee and to numerous other persons both in and out of the State service who have cooperated with them.

The foregoing report of the Senate Committee Investigating Motor Vehicles is approved by all members of the committee.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, April 12, 1945

Honorable George J. Hatfield, Senate Chamber
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

Amendments to Senate Bills Nos. 3, 9, 279, and 281. No. 4214

DEAR SENATOR HATFIELD: We are transmitting herewith amendments to Senate Bills No. 3, 9, 279 and 281, making the effectiveness of these bills contingent upon the enactment of Senate Bill No. 625 in addition to the other bills, the enactment of which they are already contingent upon.

It is our opinion that these amendments are germane and are constitutional.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel

Senator Hatfield moved that the following communication from the State Department of Finance to Senator Rich, be printed in the Journal.

Motion carried.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE
SACRAMENTO, April 16, 1945

Honorable William P. Rich, Member of the Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR SENATOR RICH: In compliance with your request, we submit the following information concerning the effect of certain legislative proposals upon the State surplus.

According to the Department of Finance estimates, the General Fund surplus on June 30, 1945, will amount to $108,940,205. Under the Budget submitted by Governor Warren, General Fund revenues at the current reduced tax rates will exceed expenditures by $35,845,941 during the 1945-1947 Biennium, making a surplus of $144,786,146 on June 30, 1947. The Governor made the following recommendations with respect to the utilization of this latter amount:

Additional transfer to the Postwar Employment Reserve for State building needs	$40,000,000
Set aside as reserve for unemployment relief	50,000,000
Transfer to Bond Sinking Fund to meet debt charges, 1949-1965	11,651,490
Reserve for Disaster Damage to State Buildings	3,000,000
Reserve for later expenditure in the acquisition of beaches	15,000,000
Total Earmarkings and Transfers	$119,651,490

After the recommended earmarkings and transfers there would remain an unencumbered surplus of $25,134,656 on June 30, 1947. The State, however, would have $169,059,594 in the Postwar Employment Reserve; $19,393,897 in the Bond Sinking Fund of 1943 to meet interest and redemption charges on certain general obligation bonds through the maturity in 1965; $25,000,000 in the War Catastrophe Reserve; $50,000,000 set aside to meet unemployment relief needs; and $3,000,000 to meet fire or earthquake damage to State facilities.

If the $100,000,000 appropriation to cities and counties were authorized in addition to the transfers and earmarkings recommended by Governor Warren, the anticipated General Fund surplus of $25,134,656 on June 30, 1947, would become a deficit of $75,865,344.

Reduction in the retail sales tax rate to 2 per cent on July 1, 1945, would decrease the State's revenue approximately $40,000,000 during the 1945-1947 Biennium. If both the $100,000,000 appropriation for cities and counties and the additional sales tax reduction were authorized and no compensating adjustments were made in the Governor's program for utilization of the surplus, the General Fund deficit on June 30, 1947, would be roughly $115,000,000.

These computations have been made without an allowance for possible reductions in the Budget or for special appropriations which may be authorized by the present Legislature. Special appropriation bills involving General Fund expenditures estimated at $298,500,000 during the 1945-1947 Biennium are now before the Legislature. It is readily apparent that if any substantial part of this total is approved, the State either will be forced to abandon its plan of preparing now to meet postwar financial difficulties, or will experience a return to the deficits of a few years ago.

Very truly yours

FRED W. LINKS, Chief, Division of Budgets and Accounts

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Senators Mayo, Deuel, Slater, Weybret, Judah, Kuchel, and Crittenden:

Senate Resolution No. 96

WHEREAS, The Stockton Record on April 8, 1945, celebrated its fiftieth anniversary as a daily newspaper in continuous publication, during all of which time it has been under the personal direction of its publisher, Irving Martin; and

WHEREAS, During these many years the Stockton Record has built for itself an enviable record of service to its community, to San Joaquin County, to the State of California, and in numerous instances, to the Nation, all in the best traditions of the newspaper profession; and

WHEREAS, The Stockton Record and its publisher, Irving Martin, have throughout these many years been leaders in civic affairs of the community and State, fearless and independent in espousal of all public improvements and endeavors for the benefit of the people and the public service of this outstanding newspaper has been matched by the personal service of its publisher, Irving Martin, who has served with distinction under three Governors of the State of California in positions of public trust and responsibility; and

WHEREAS, The Stockton Record has been built into one of the leading newspapers of the entire Nation and has achieved a mechanical perfection comparable with the best newspapers of the United States, while ethically maintaining and fighting for the high traditions of honesty, fairness and unrelenting determination in pursuance of those matters of public policy in accord with the convictions of its publisher, all of which has been an inspiration and a credit to the newspaper profession of the United States; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, By the Senate of the State of California, that the Stockton Record and its publisher, Irving Martin, be congratulated upon the occasion of its fiftieth anniversary and the hope expressed that this fine daily newspaper and its honored publisher may look forward to many more years of usefulness in their chosen field, and to the continued and increased esteem in which each is universally held by all who know them.

Resolution read, and on motion of Senator Deuel adopted.

RECESS

At 1.48 p.m., on motion of Senator Seawell, the Senate recessed for the purpose of allowing Lieutenant Charles E. Brady of the Air Transport Command, 1503 A.A.F.B.U. Pacific Division, Hamilton Field, California, to address the members of the Senate on the subject of "Air Evacuation".

REASSEMBLED

At 2.02 p.m., the Senate reconvened.

Hon. Frederick F. Houser, President of the Senate, presiding.

Secretary J. A. Beek at the desk.

MOTION TO PRINT ADDRESS

Senator Jespersen moved that the following address delivered to the Senate by Lieutenant Charles E. Brady of the Air Transport Command, Hamilton Field, California, be printed in the Journal.

Motion carried.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

No one recognizes the value of time more than I. In my job, as in yours here, we are constantly working against time. Thus my remarks will be brief, and I hope, timely and interesting.

I wish to speak on the subject of "Air Evacuation," and shall attempt to show the part which California plays in this great work. Air Evacuation is something new in lifesaving which has been directly brought about by the war. It is acclaimed by flight surgeons as one of the five greatest steps in medicine in this war. As pilot of the Air Transport Command's huge four engined planes which daily shuttle back over the Pacific, I speak with first hand knowledge of the work being done in flying supplies out, and returning the wounded back to our hospitals here in the States.

The inevitable result of any armed conflict is casualties. Men are being wounded and killed every second. When a man is wounded his immediate usefulness is at an end. He must be taken to a hospital or dressing station and given quick treatment. Military authorities have long recognized the strategy of quickly evacuating their wounded and maintaining their units at a constant fighting strength. With our supply lines stretching clear around the globe this presented a knotty problem in logistics. Offensive action relies upon a constant stream of supplies moving forward to the front lines. This can be considerably hampered by strings of ambulances moving to the rear against the main traffic. Thus the need for some other means of evacuation became apparent. Air evacuation became a military necessity during the building of the Alcan Highway to Alaska in early 1942. Almost simultaneously, the need for evacuation by air developed in other parts of the world.

The first mass air evacuation in military planes occurred in Burma and Java in March, 1942. In Burma 1,900 sick and wounded soldiers were removed from Myitkyina to Dinjan in a 10-day period.

Another early large-scale evacuation, a strategic necessity, was from New Guinea, in the fall of 1942, when the 5th Air Force transported patients from Buna over the Owen Stanley Mounains to Port Moresby and Australia. Evacuation by plane was not only a tactical, but a medical necessity in such offensives as those on Tarawa, Saipan, and Guam, where fighting room was crowded and medical facilities limited. The choice in many cases was air evacuation or death.

The risk in transporting patients by air is practically non-existent. The Army proudly backs up this statement by statistics.

Of the first 50,000 patients transported by plane following D-day in Normandy, only three died in flight.

In 1943, the 11 air forces overseas, the nine Air Transport Command's wings overseas, and the Army Air Force in the United States flew a total of 173,000 patients. The death toll in flight was 11—or 6 for every 100,000 flown. Only one patient evacuated to the United States died before reaching the aerial port.

In the first five months of evacuation from Guadalcanal, during which 7,000 patients were flown out, only three died before reaching a base hospital.

Between the third and twenty-eighth of February of this year, our unit at Hamilton Field (near San Rafael) evacuated 1,654 patients from Leyte and Iwo Jima and returned them to hospitals here in California.

I flew one of those planes during that period. Perhaps you would be interested in a brief description of that fight.

We took off from Hamilton Field on the fourth of February with a cargo of airplane engines, medical supplies, mail, and passengers. Our take-off weight was 34 tons, our destination Saipan. After 12 hours, seven minutes flying time we landed at Hickam Field. Here we were relieved by a stand-by crew who took the plane on to Kwajalein, and they, in turn, were relieved by another crew who took the plane on to Saipan. After sufficient rest at Hickam Field we picked up another plane coming through and took it to Kwajalein. In this manner the planes maintain a through schedule while the crews lay over at stopping points along the route. Within three days we arrive at Saipan. Our ship is unloaded of its cargo and passengers. The crew gets a 12-hour rest and we are ready for the return trip. The same plane which hauled cargo out can now be converted into a litter ship or "Purple Heart," as we call it. In 30 minutes litters are strung up the sides of the cabin four feet high and will accommodate 28 patients comfortably. Most of the planes are equipped with a small galley where hot soups and sandwiches can be prepared while in flight. Here we receive an addition to our crew of a flight nurse and medical assistant. As a result of their training, flight nurses are expected to be prepared for duty under extreme circumstances. One nurse, now on duty in this Country, was forced to parachute to safety in China several months ago. Another nurse, of my acquaintance, has survived two plane crashes and is still at her job.

As to the crew, it requires six of us to man the C-54 Douglas 4-engined transport plane: Pilot, copilot, navigator, radio operator, aerial engineer, and flight clerk. Every man in the crew is specially trained and we work together like a team. We can be compared to a business enterprise with the pilot in charge as president. The pilot, because of his skill and responsibility represents a $60,000 investment to the Government—the rest of the crew proportionately. The plane he flies may cost the Government up to $400,000, and the cargo and passengers may, in comparative terms, run the total investment well into a million dollars. Thus, it is paramount that the plane reaches its destination safely.

Without exception, all the wounded boys I have flown back, were cheerful, cooperative, and optimistic of their future. We take aboard 28 marines from Iwo Jima at Saipan. In all, we suffered 20,000 casualties on that small island. One Marine killed for every four yards taken. Most of those boys are back in the States now. It's not uncommon for a man to be wounded, let us say, on Iwo Jima, and three days later be playing golf here in the United States at one of our large hospitals.

The one thing our boys want to see most coming home is the Golden Gate Bridge. To them, it has become a symbol the same as the Statue of Liberty. It represents what they fought and bled for and to see their faces when it first comes into view is a soul-stirring experience.

To the men fighting in the Pacific, California is the last place they see when they leave and the first when they return. The treatment they receive here when they are brought back will condition their thinking for some time to come. They all will have to make an adjustment back to civilian life. At the present time the Air Corps has seven large rehabilitation hospitals which bridge the gap between Army life and the civilian. Here the men are taught to use limbs which have been encased in casts, they learn to use artificial limbs, they are taught to rationalize their fears and neuroses and are given self-reliance and an opportunity to once again become a productive member of society. Our casualty list now exceeds 800,000 and the war isn't over yet. When these men are released from the hospitals there is still much to be done which will not only be their own responsibility, but likewise that of the State and Federal Government. These men will need education, jobs, advice, and legal aid. The postwar period will find this country with the largest number of war veterans it has ever known. Let us, therefore, be mindful of that fact and plan accordingly. It is the desire of those of us in service that you regard favorably all veteran's legislation and any laws which will affect our future. We who return from the battlefronts will turn to such men as you for guidance and help in our Government. Many of us have ideas of our own which we have gathered from other countries around the world. We have learned much in our travels, in our contacts with other peoples and other countries. We have a greater appreciation of our neighbors' problems, his standard of living, and his philosophy of life, because we've been there and lived with him. Our knowledge will be of value and many of us will want to exercise it by taking an active part in government—and we shall represent a large body of opinion. We are formulating our own ideas of Democracy. We believe in it. Every bullet we are firing on Okinawa is another chink in our armor of Democracy. Those boys out there are here today with you in spirit. They know that their government at home is working for them. It's a matter of faith and our faith was never stronger than now. Those of us who return, will return older and wiser and more tolerant. We will respect the rights and opinions of others. We will be broadminded and open-eyed. We will be mindful of our country's part in the world's affairs. We will recognize our opportunity as America's "Time for Greatness," and see that she leads the world down the broad, straight highway of peace.

CONSIDERATION OF DAILY FILE (RESUMED)

Motion carried.

WITHDRAWAL FROM COMMITTEE OF SENATE BILL NO. 604

Senator Powers moved that Senate Bill No. 604 be withdrawn from Committee on Business and Professions, for purpose of amendment, and re-referred to committee.

Motion carried.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 604

Senate Bill No. 604—An act to amend Section 5241 of, and to add Sections 5267.1 and 5312.1 to, the Business and Professions Code, relating to outdoor advertising.

Bill read second time.

Motion to Amend

Senator Powers moved the adoption of the following amendments:

Amendment No. 1

In line 1 of the title of the printed bill, strike out "Section 5241", and insert "Sections 5241 and 5312".

Amendment No. 2

On page 1, line 23, of the printed bill, after the word "structure", insert "which has been placed or erected and".

PRINTER'S NOTE.—There being no 7-point strikeout type available, the material which should appear in strikeout type in the following amendment is indicated by being enclosed within brackets.

Amendment No. 3

On page 2 of the printed bill, following line 8, insert

"In case an application for a permit is filed for a sign or structure which has been maintained without a permit as required under this act, there shall be paid in addition to the current year's fees and penalties, if any, a penalty of one dollar twenty-five cents ($1.25) in the case of a sign and two dollars ($2) in the case of a structure for each prior year or portion of a prior year of such unlawful maintenance.

Section 5312 of said code is amended to read:

5312. The director may revoke any license or permit for the failure to comply with the provisions of this chapter and may remove and destroy any advertising display placed or maintained in violation of this chapter after 10 days' written notice posted on such structure or sign and a copy forwarded by mail to the dispay owner at his last known address, except that as to displays for which permits have been allowed to become delinquent, 10 days' written notice mailed to the last known address of the owner of the display named upon the application for such permit shall suffice, posting of the display shall not be required.

In the event of issuance of a permit for a display cited for violation of any provision of this chapter, the original application for permit shall be filed with the permit fee required by Section 5325 and in addition a penalty of one dollar ($1) shall also be paid before the permit is issued. [The same penalty shall obtain with respect to renewal of permits in the event of renewal subsequent to service of delinquency notice.]

Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter the director or any authorized employee may summarily and without notice remove and destroy any advertising display placed in violation of this chapter which is temporary in nature because of the materials of which it is constructed or because of the nature of the copy thereon.

For the purpose of removing or destroying any advertising display placed in violation of the provisions of this chapter, the director or his authorized agent may enter upon private property without incurring any liability therefor."

Amendments read and adopted.

Bill ordered printed, and re-referred to Committee on Business and Professions.

Amendment No. 1

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out lines 26 to 28, inclusive; and on page 2 strike out lines 1 to 9, inclusive, and insert

"(2) Any farmer resident of this State who occasionally transports property from the place of production to a warehouse, regular market, place of storage, or place of shipment the farm products of neighboring farmers in exchange for like services or for a cash consideration or farm products for compensation. "Occasionally" as used in this section shall be construed to mean occasionally or for a total annual compensation from all sources for providing such transportation for hire of not more than six hundred dollars ($600), and provided that such transportation shall constitute the sole transportation of persons or property for hire or compensation. Any person excluded from the definition of "operator" under subdivision (a) of Section 9603 shall keep available an account of each time he has transported property or laborers and the compensation received therefor. If during any month of a calendar year the sum of gross receipts of any farmer derived from transportation operations defined in this section shall exceed six hundred dollars ($600) for the calendar year, the farmer shall not be entitled to the exemption herein provided but shall be an operator as defined in Section 9603 (a) of this part. The "account" of transportation performed and compensation received therefor, as herein provided, may be any simple method of record keeping and in cases where record keeping practices are such that reports upon truck operations are reported at the end of the operating season, such end-of-the-season reports shall be deemed adequate for the purposes of this section."

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO 14, April 18, 1945

The Honorable Members of the Senate
Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN: Since the Budget Bill was presented to you, the newly appointed Adjutant General, Brigadier General Victor R. Hansen, has been studying the needs of the Adjutant General's department. As a result of the study, and as a result of additional requests by the Western Defense Command, there have been brought to light certain conditions that necessitate additional budgetary provision for the ensuing biennium.

To meet these conditions during the next biennial period, there should be added to the amount recommended in the Governor's Budget for the support of the Adjutant General's Office the sum of $213,428.

The reasons for the above increases are as follows:

Headquarters Staff

Colonel (Inspector General). Since the original Budget was submitted an Inspector General has been placed on active duty for the purpose of determining the cause for the present unsatisfactory condition of property records, State-owned motor equipment, armories, and other State or Federal property assigned for the use of the State military forces. Information furnished by the Inspector General leads to the conclusion that this condition is the result of insufficient officer personnel to properly supervise the matters handled by the different departments of the Adjutant General's Office. It is believed the continued use of an Inspector General will in part prevent inefficiency in operations and loss of funds and property pertaining to the State Guard.

An intermediate stenographer-clerk is requested for the Inspector General.

A Recruiting Officer (Lieutenant Colonel) is wanted in lieu of the Assistant Plans and Training Officer (Major) for the purpose of recruiting members for the State Guard.

One intermediate account clerk is requested for the finance section to handle work in connection with allowances to organizations. It has been found that the present force is insufficient to handle the necessary auditing and checking to maintain this work in a satisfactory manner. Also $1,000 additional temporary help is requested to clear a temporary back-log arising from position turnover.

In the property section a Major is requested to serve as Property Officer. A First Lieutenant and a Warrant Officer are requested to take complete physical inventories of all property charged to armory custodians and unit commanders, checking of nomenclatures; auditing physical inventories against book inventories; identifying property which is not properly identified; and determining the origin of property which is not on the acquisition records. One senior account clerk and one intermediate account clerk are being requested to handle the current accounting on the State equipment which is now on hand. One intermediate typist-clerk is to assist the present clerical staff on Federal property, whose duties are such that they are unable at present to keep up with the present volume of work in this section.

Two Captains are requested for the motor transportation section to see that all motorized equipment such as Federal cargo trucks, command cars, motorcycles, armored cars, and all State-owned motor equipment such as sedans and trucks are properly distributed and ready for use. They are also to act as convoy officers and instructors in schools for drivers.

The above positions, with an additional allowance to cover traveling expense of new positions, will require an increase of $80,662 in the Budget.

High School Cadets

Two additional positions are requested. Captain and First Lieutenant for this function.

During the past year and a half in the administration of the California High School Cadet Corps, the Headquarters at Sacramento has been unable to properly administer the Cadet Corps throughout the State because of the lack of sufficient personnel. The Cadet Corps now has 101 active schools requiring constant supervision and inspection from the Adjutant General's Office. During the past year and a half there has been one outside field man to cover the entire State at considerable expense and time lost in travel.

It is recommended that the Budget be increased for the addition of two officers to supervise and inspect the various units throughout the State. It is recommended that one be stationed out of the Armory in Los Angeles so as to save days of travel from the south to the Headquarters in Sacramento and inasmuch as 60 per cent of the schools are in the south, it will be more economical and advantageous to have one of our field representatives stationed in that part of the State. In addition, a field representative is needed for the northern part of the State from Fresno North to the Oregon border. This officer would work out of the Headquarters at Sacramento, and inasmuch as the Cadet Corps is continually growing, it is imperative, in order to make the best use of the funds allocated, that a more efficient administrative office be inaugurated in the Capital.

It is recommended that an increase in operational expense be allowed which, with the addition of the two officers recommended above, will enable the California High School Cadet Program to act much more efficiently in its activities throughout the State.

State Guard Field Duty

One additional Colonel is being added at the request of the Western Defense Command for an overall tactical officer. Two Master Sergeants and two First Sergeants are requested in lieu of two Captains, one First Lieutenant and one Second Lieutenant positions. The net increase required for these positions is $4270.

Additional operating expenses are requested because the Federal Government has recently assigned to the State Guard 100 pieces of motorized equipment which require adequate storage and maintenance according to United States Army specifications. Unless these requirements are met the Federal equipment could be recalled, and it would be difficult in the future to secure, from the Federal Government, equipment which would be vitally needed in event of an emergency requiring the use of State Guard troops. Certain operating expenses are being increased as present expenditure records indicate the proposed estimates as submitted as being inadequate.

To finance these activities I hereby request, pursuant to the provisions of Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution that Budget Bill Item 181 be amended to read as follows:

> "Item 181—For support of the Adjutant General, and the California State Guard, including rental of armories, and maintenance of high school cadets ---------- $2,437,700.00"

There is appended hereto a supplemental budget showing in detail the additional amounts involved in this request.

Respectfully submitted.

Motion to Amend

Senator Tenney moved the adoption of the following amendment:

Amendment No. 1

On page 3 of the printed bill, strike out lines 22 to 28, inclusive, and insert "Because of the effects of the war on the attendance of pupils in many school districts of the State the governing boards of such districts have dismissed many permanent employees thereof, and, so long as such conditions continue, will be required to dismiss many additional permanent employees. The statutory provisions governing the relative priorities of such employees, both as to the sequence in which they shall suffer dismissal and the order in which they may be reinstated, and governing their rights when reinstated, are ambiguous and of uncertain meaning and application, resulting in confusion and inefficiency in the administration of the public schools. This bill is designed to resolve such ambiguities and it is necessary that same become effective prior to the close of the present school year."

Amendment read and adopted.

Bill ordered printed, and to third reading.

Senator Tenney moved the adoption of the following amendment:

Amendment No. 1

On page 1, in line 1 of the title, strike out "15655", and insert "13655".

Amendment read and adopted.

Bill ordered printed, and to third reading.

Assembly Bill No. 1224—An act to add Sections 13004.1 and 13004.2 to the Education Code, relating to order of employment of certificated employees, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

Bill read third time.

Motion to Amend

Senator Tenney moved the adoption of the following amendment:

Amendment No. 1

On page 2 of the printed bill, strike out lines 6 to 12 inclusive, and insert "Because of the effects of the war on the attendance of pupils in many school districts of the State, the governing boards of such districts have dismissed many permanent employees thereof and, so long as such conditions continue, will be required to dismiss many additional permanent employees. The statutory provisions governing the relative priorities of such employees are ambiguous and of uncertain meaning and application, resulting in confusion and inefficiency in the administration of the public schools. This bill is designed to resolve such ambiguities and uncertainties and it is necessary that it take effect prior to the close of the present school year."

Amendment read and adopted.

Bill ordered printed, and to third reading.

MOTION TO TAKE BILL FROM THE INACTIVE FILE

Senator DeLap moved that Senate Bill No. 302 be taken from the inactive file for the purpose of amendment, and placed on the second reading file.

Motion carried.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 302

Senate Bill No. 302—An act to amend Section 600 of the Probate Code, relating to the filing of the inventory and appraisement.

Motion to Amend

Senator DeLap moved the adoption of the following amendment:

Amendment No. 1

On page 1 of the printed bill, as amended, strike out lines 10 to 14 inclusive and insert "assessor. If the decedent was a resident of a California city at the time of his death, an additional copy of the inventory shall be transmitted by the executor or administrator to the Assessor of the City of which the decedent was a resident, within ten days after the filing of the inventory with the clerk of the court. The inventory must include the".

Amendment read and adopted.

Bill ordered printed, and to second reading file.

WITHDRAWAL FROM COMMITTEE OF SENATE BILL NO. 838

Senator Brown moved that Senate Bill No. 838 be withdrawn from Committee on Local Government for purpose of amendment, and re-referred to committee.

Motion carried.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 838

Senate Bill No. 838—An act relating to property owned by any local governmental agency in its proprietary capacity or otherwise available for private use and situate without the boundaries of such agency, requiring all charges in respect to the sale or other disposition or the leasing, licensing or other use of such property to be just and reasonable, and providing for the administration and enforcement of the provisions of the act.

Bill read second time.

Motion to Amend

Senator Brown moved the adoption of the following amendments:

Amendment No. 1

In the title of the printed bill, strike out lines 1 to 7, inclusive, and insert

"An act relating to real property of a city, county, or city and county, situate without the territorial boundaries of the owner, prescribing regulations concerning the handling and disposition of such property, whether by sale, lease, license or otherwise, and providing for the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act."

Amendment No. 2

On page 1, line 2, of said bill, strike out "public district", and insert "city and county, whether governed under general laws or under a charter framed for its own government."

Amendment No. 3

On page 1 of said bill, strike out lines 3 to 6, inclusive, and insert

"(b) "Real property" as used herein is coextensive with lands, tenements and hereditaments and includes land or any interest or estate in land and any servitude upon land.

(c) "Real property of a local agency" or "real property belonging to a local agency," or similar expression or designation, refers only to that real property thereof which is situate within another local agency, and then only if the owner agency owns in excess of fifty per cent (50%) of all the land situate in such other local agency, excluding from the computation all land owned by the United States or by the State of California.

SEC. 2. No local agency shall make, demand or receive any charge in excess of a reasonable charge for the sale or other disposition or for the leasing, licensing or other use of any of its real property.

SEC. 3. In making a sale or lease of any of its real property, a local agency must first give preference to the person or persons, if any, who have occupied or used that property or any portion of it for not less than two years within the next preceding three years, and an opportunity, within a reasonable period of time from and after written notice to him or them, to buy or lease it at a reasonable price or rental.

SEC. 4. The reasonableness of any such charge shall be ascertained and determined as of conditions which obtained on the first day of January, 1944, in respect to the particular parcel or real property involved, or other similar property in the vicinity.

SEC. 5. Any interested person (whether an individual, a private or a public corporation, or a local agency) may apply to the State Board of Control for the ascertainment and determination of the reasonableness of any such charge.

SEC. 6. The amount of any such charge which the State Board of Control finds and determines is in excess of a reasonable charge, the State Controller shall deduct from the allocation he otherwise would make under the Vehicle License Fee Law to the local agency receiving such charge, and transfer that amount to the unappropriated moneys in the State General Fund. He shall make such deduction at the time of the first allocation which occurs after the filing with him of a certified copy of the board's finding and determination of the existence of such excess and of the amount thereof. If, in any case, the amount of the deduction exceeds the amount of the allocation, the unused portion of the deduction shall be carried over and applied to the next succeeding allocation or allocations until exhausted. For the purposes of this section, the State Board of Control is authorized and directed upon its own initiative at any time and from time to time to ascertain and determine the reasonableness of any such charge, the existence of any such excess and the amount of the excess, and its findings and determination are conclusive.

SEC. 7. Any such proceeding before the Board of Control, whether initiated by the board or by an interested person, shall be conducted in accordance with rules of procedure which the board is hereby authorized to prescribe therefor. The board's determination shall be in writing and based upon written findings of fact made by it after a full and fair hearing held upon notice to all interested parties. Such findings of fact and determination by the board are admissible in evidence in any judicial action or proceeding in which the same issue is involved. They are therein prima facie evidence of the facts found and of the reasonableness or unreasonableness of the charge and of the amount of the excess, if any, over a reasonable charge, except that they are final and conclusive for all of the purposes of Section 6 hereof."

Amendment No. 4

On page 1 of said bill, strike out lines 7 to 22, inclusive; on page 2, strike out lines 1 to 4, inclusive; and on page 2, in line 5, strike out "SEC. 4." and insert "SEC. 8."

Amendment No. 5

On page 2, in line 17, of said bill, after the period insert

"These conditions are accentuated by the recent and current inflationary tendencies in respect to real property sales prices and rental rates, particularly in those areas in which a distant local agency owns and controls the greater part of the lands that are not owned by the State or the United States."

Amendment No. 6

On page 2, in line 18, of said bill, strike out "5", and insert "9".

Amendments read and adopted.

Bill ordered printed, and re-referred to Committee on Local Government.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read, and on motion of Senator Salsman, ordered printed in the Journal:

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, CALIFORNIA, April 17, 1945

Governor Earl Warren
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR GOVERNOR WARREN: There are many of us who are particularly concerned with the campaign being conducted by the League of California Cities, the County Supervisors' Association, and others, for the allocation of funds at this time for various types of public works projects. I have felt, with you, that all sorts of grants-in-aid or shared revenues are dangerous and lead to the type of "Christmas tree grabs" which you are facing at the present time. I have heard a great deal of discussion which is mostly against the manipulation going on in the Legislature on this matter.

I was particularly impressed with an article which appears in the March issue of the Washington Close-up, issued by the Citizens National Committee of Washington, D. C. It is discussing Federal grants-in-aid, but paragraph by paragraph with the change of the word "Federal" to "State" it would support your contentions in preserving the tax cuts which were made by the last Legislature and postponing the allocation of accumulated funds until they could be used after the war. This article sets up three classifications of spending: First, the normal type of civil and military functions for which there is constitutional sanction or general legislative practice; second, those activities of the executive branch which have greatly expanded during wartime and in which there may be some vague area between the State and local responsibility; and third, the classification which includes appropriations of a desirable nature as grants-in-aid or shared revenues such as the Motor Vehicle Fund, Liquor License Fund, or School Funds.

The article then goes on to raise ten questions which should be answered by those who are proposing that the State or Federal Government subsidize local areas out of other funds:

1. Is there positive proof of the need for the performance of the function for which the grant is to be made?
2. Is there satisfactory evidence that an attempt to perform the function has been made by the local governments and that the attempt has been unsuccessful?
3. Is there proof that the citizens of the local area agree with its inability to raise funds locally for these purposes?
4. Is aid requested from the State with full acceptance of positive answers to the three preceding questions and is the request of great enough need to justify jeopardizing the State funds?
5. Can aid be granted in such form that local incentive to satisfy its own needs will not be reduced or destroyed?
6. Will the granting of the requested aid establish a bad precedent?
7. Will the granting of the requested aid result in the injecting of improper or unwarranted State control into local government?
8. Will the granting of the requested aid result in substituting State for local judgment of the degree of need?
9. Can the requested aid be granted in such form that it will not establish inequalities between different areas?
10. Can the requested aid be so granted that opportunity for review of the need and revision of the grant may be provided at frequent intervals?

There is no presumption in the article that these ten direct questions (modified in my briefing), answered in the affirmative, fit the situation exactly. They are offered as a broad guide for consideration and in an effort to protect local autonomy and ability to carry on county and municipal government as needed in the various areas. Taxpaying citizens are looking for some method of defense to prevent such porkbarrel use of State funds.

It is to be regretted that more citizen agencies and associations have not organized a campaign behind your demand for a reasoned budgetary consideration, for a long term study and plan rather than a grab of funds which are available and tempting to the politically minded legislators. Many of us wish you well in your campaign, but know that you are fighting a losing battle where so much political prestige can come to those who are making the drive on the State treasury. With kindest personal regards, I am

Very sincerely yours

EDWIN A. COTTRELL

Analysis of the Estimates of Revenue of the 1945-47 Budget

(Pages A-6 to A-9, and Schedule 5, Pages A-14 to A-23)

Introduction

The Legislative Auditor has analyzed the estimates of revenue in the 1945-47 Budget and in general concurs in these estimates. We agree with the Budget Officers that it is exceedingly difficult at any time to forecast State revenues 30 months into the future. In this period of transition it is particularly difficult.

Revenues Depend on Economic Conditions—War Influences

Following the general assumption on which the Budget has been made, previously outlined, we feel that during the continuation of the war, revenues will be maintained on approximately the same level as they have existed for the 1943-44 Fiscal Year. That is, they will continue through the fiscal year ending June 30, 1945, and into the next biennium on about the same basis until the war conditions change. There will be some falling off in certain specific taxes for the 1944-45 Fiscal Year, and one particular item, "Return from Race Track Taxes," will show a material drop which will be continued probably into the 1945-46 Fiscal Year, or until the Federal ban on horse racing is removed.

Revenues Decline

If the war ends during the first year of the biennium, as has been estimated throughout the Budget, certain revenue receipts will probably show material decline, particularly during the reconversion period. There will undoubtedly be a decline in the sales tax receipts, personal income tax receipts, and the corporate income tax receipts with any material increase in unemployment. This will not show itself immediately for the reason that accumulated savings and other reserves will be called upon for some time to meet the expenditures of those who are unemployed.

Gasoline Taxes

The gasoline tax will be held down as long as there is strict rationing of gasoline and tires and a limited supply of new passenger cars and trucks for private use. We feel that there will be some lessening in these particular controls with the end of the war with Germany, so that while other taxes that depend on business volume and employment may fall off, the reverse will occur with the lessening of restrictions affecting motor vehicles and taxes from these sources will increase. It is significant that during the years of greatest unemployment and largest payments for relief, motor vehicle registration and gasoline taxes not only held up but increased. Automobiles and the use thereof and life insurance are the last things Californians give up in financial stringency so we can expect tax receipts from these sources to be maintained and even increased in the period of reconversion.

The recent increase in gasoline consumption and upswing in traffic flow in the State is also significant as affecting the tax yield. The condition is explained in the January, 1945, Report of the Director of Motor Vehicles to the Governor, on page 7, in the following words:

> "Final figures on gasoline consumption for the year 1944 indicate that during the year there was approximately an 11 per cent increase in the general flow of traffic throughout the State. According to reports from the field, this increase is continuing currently. Traffic counts taken at points on the State Highways System show that during January 1945, the number of vehicles counted were 8.8 per cent in excess of counts made at the same stations in January of 1944.
> A peculiar aspect of this increase in travel was a 13.3 per cent increase in passenger cars counted and a decrease of 3.2 per cent in freight vehicles counted. The number of freight vehicles represented, roughly, 21 per cent of all the traffic."
> (Italics ours.)

We recognize the fact that with the end of the war with Germany and the concentration on the war against Japan, there will be a shifting of certain military activities to the Pacific Coast. This may temporarily cause an upswing in all tax receipts for a short period of time but this should level off, and no particular adjustments of figures has been made for this situation.

Reconversion and Taxes

We do not agree with the Budget assumption that conversion from war production to the making of civilian goods in California will surpass the reconversion rate in the nation as a whole. This is for the reason that California, through conditions beyond our control, will be the center of intense war activity while other localities will have a lessening of such activity. Even after the war ends with Japan, we will have a condition of extraordinary activity in our ports—returning personnel and material, and in our shipyards in repairing and servicing ships engaged in this activity. In addition, our larger wartime industries have been connected with ship building and aircraft production. These industries cannot reconvert for they never engaged in any other activity. They must either reduce their activity to postwar aircraft and ship building, or use their excess plants and personnel in producing some commodity which they have never produced and have no organization to market. This condition will produce a greater degree of disturbance and unemployment than where actual reconversion is possible. This will cause, in California, a material reduction in purchasing and in tax receipts from persons and businesses so drastically affected by ending of war production.

The estimates in the Budget have been made taking some note of these conditions and have adjusted revenue receipts accordingly. We believe, however, that in some places the estimates have been a little overly optimistic and in other places they have estimated changes more rapidly than they will take place.

We feel that whenever the adjustments of the postwar period are accomplished, the State will return to economic conditions and tax receipts that will parallel closely those of 1940. We believe that individual "take-home" income will suffer a material reduction at that time. We are not ready to predict that this will be markedly manifest during the coming biennium.

Reconstruction and Reemployment Commission Estimates

Like the Fiscal Officers of the State, we have examined critically the report prepared by the Reconstruction and Reemployment Commission on "Postwar Civilian Income," and we believe that the present basic wage rates will be maintained for the next two years. We believe, however, that there will be increasing unemployment amongst the women who are now working, the less skilled, the more elderly workers, and the less efficient. We already find this trend manifesting itself from about the beginning of 1944 continuously to the present date. In fact, the situation is presented in California Labor Statistical Bulletin No. 246 for January, 1945, page 2, in the following words. "Including force-account construction workers and administrative, supervisory, sales, technical, and office personnel, it is estimated that 971,000 persons were employed in manufacturing plants in California in January 1945. This compares with 983,000 in December 1944 and 1,125,000 in January 1944." This is a drop in factory employment of 154,000 in one year

Federal Activities Affect California Tax Receipts

We also believe that the continuation of high Federal taxes will eventually have a measurable effect upon business and tax receipts to the State of California. We are also of the opinion that the withdrawal of the Federal Government from purchasing of many commodities in large amounts will have a material influence on California's specialty products. For example, a reduction in the purchase of canned fruits and vegetables will immediately produce surpluses in one canning season. The maximum production in such items as peaches for one season would immediately produce a surplus affecting this whole industry and a considerable area of the State. It is our thought that this condition will not develop until the war with Japan has closed. Also, there will probably be an accumulated backlog of commodities beginning with the ending of the war with Germany. Competition and reduced purchase of other more limited crops, such as olives, will probably be manifest earlier. While this will produce difficulties with individual groups, it will not be widespread enough to materially affect the total tax yield to the State.

Tax Receipts 1944-45, 1945-46, 1946-47

Our estimates of tax collections show approximately $9,000,000 less receipts for the General Fund and approximately $5,000,000 more for gasoline and motor transportation tax for the biennium 1945-47. There are other differences from the Budget estimate of minor amounts. Some of these estimates cannot be based on any actual measurements but can only be based on certain assumptions drawn from business trends and a personal evaluation of the incidence of certain taxes. For example, the inheritance tax receipts depend entirely on the number of sizeable and taxable estates that are passed by inheritance. We feel that the Budget estimates are a little high in relation to this tax. We feel that the gas tax estimates are certainly minimum and that the trends are favorable for an upturn of sizeable proportions in receipts from this tax.

Following is a tabulation giving estimated tax collections as shown in the Budget for the three Fiscal Years, 1944-45, 1945-46, and 1946-47, and estimates made by the Legislative Auditor for the same taxes for these fiscal years.

The total receipts for the taxes indicated for 1945, with only four months to run, are given in the Budget, as of the date that estimate was made, at $269,828,725. Our estimates, some of which were made subsequent to the Budget estimates, place the figure at $271,079,475. The Budget estimates for 1945-46 are placed at $234,385,800. Our estimate for this fiscal year places the figure at $237,818,300 or almost three and one-half million more. Budget estimates for 1946-47 are place at $230,453,300, while our estimate is $224,374,300 or approximately $6,000,000 less. Both of these estimates, as pointed out in the Budget, can be distinctly in error as economic changes occur either way which are not now contemplated.

Difference in Tax Receipts Not Material for Budget Purposes

For Budget purposes the difference in the two estimates, in so far as General Fund receipts are concerned, are relatively unimportant for the reason that there is no particular shortage of general funds. The same is relatively true as far as special funds are concerned, with one exception that if tax receipts available for the Department of Motor Vehicles are considerably greater than estimated, there will be no necessity of allocating funds to meet their Budget which will reduce allotments to counties for highway purposes. Also, if receipts for highway purposes are larger than estimated, the Postwar Highway Reserve recommended by the Governor can be larger by the excess receipts above what were estimated in the Budget. We have already recommended that the bill setting up these reserves be drawn so as to include all receipts above the amounts budgeted for expenditure.

We wish to point out that our differences in revenue estimates are not sufficiently large as to cause us to recommend to the Legislature any additional tax adjustments, either upward or downward, to meet the requirements of the Budget other than the reserve above mentioned.

Tax Reduction Continuance Possible Only If Budget Not Materially Increased

The continuance of the tax reduction enacted by the 1943 Legislature, which has saved the taxpayers of the State approximately $115,000,000 for the current biennium, is possible for the Biennium 1945-47 with an estimated saving of $105,000,000 if the Governor's Budget is not materially exceeded. It cannot be continued if the Budget is materially increased, and still retain sufficient reserves for an ample safety margin if economic conditions are more unfavorable than are anticipated.

Tax reduction is not possible if the expenditure program of the State for the 1945-47 greatly exceeds the Budget as presented by the Governor by any one or a combination of four possible events listed below:

1. If all of the recommendations for expenditures made by the Governor are enacted into law, this will consume all of the available unbudgeted and unallocated reserves, and in addition to the pay roll tax of 3 per cent recommended by the Governor to support his health plan, it will still leave a deficit for the biennium approaching $200,000,000, if we allow at the same time for setting up of the reserves recommended by the Governor. The Governor has recommended that $119,651,490 of the surplus be allocated as reserves as follows:

a. Transfer to postwar employment reserves	$ 40,000,000
b. To a new unemployment relief fund	50,000,000
c. For interest and redemption on certain general obligation bonds due between now and 1965	11,651,490
d. For a fire and earthquake reserve fund	3,000,000
e. For acquisition of beaches	15,000,000
Total of additional reserves	$119,651,490

2. If the Legislative appropriations that are already in bills before the Legislature for other items not recommended by the Governor are passed in major proportions, tax reduction is not possible and at the same time reserves recommended, and that appear desirable, are to be maintained.

3. A combination of the two above classes of appropriations will produce likewise an expenditure demand which cannot be met out of established reserves.

A fourth condition could likewise produce a deficit. This would be a distinct decline in economic conditions which does not appear to be likely.

We recommend that the tax reduction be continued, for we believe the Budget can be reduced materially without curtailing seriously any vital State services and, at the same time, still assist and encourage the war effort and maintain sufficient reserves. The degree to which the Legislature approves special appropriations will be the determining factor as to whether the continuance of tax reduction is possible or not. Our recommendation is made solely in considering the Budget and the Governor's recommendations for expenditures which, under our interpretation of the constitutional requirement for the Executive Budget, we feel should be considered as a part of the Budget. No consideration is given herein to other special appropriation measures.

Introduction

In previous sections of this report we have presented various phases analyzing the Governor's Budget for 1945-47. We have pointed out how far we believe it falls short of meeting the constitutional requirement for an Executive Budget. We have indicated by careful analysis of the Governor's Budget Message and his biennial message to the Legislature what the additional expenditures he has recommended will cost. We have pointed out how the actual expenditure program for the Biennium 1945-47 will exceed the Governor's Budget. We have analyzed the matter of the Governor's interpretation of uncontrollable expenditures and the differences we find from this interpretation, both as to constitutional requirement and continuing legislation. We have analyzed and explained the Governor's responsibility in relation to the Budget Document and the Budget Act or the Appropriation Bill. We have explained that the Legislature only enacts into law the Appropriation Bill, and the Budget has no effect or control other than what use the Governor and his Budget Staff choose to make. We have explained that the Appropriation Bill is the property of the Legislature and it can be made into any form the Legislature desires. We have explained how the controllable amount in the Budget, as viewed by the Legislature, is at least 50 per cent greater than can be considered controllable by the Governor. We have given specific recommendations for legislative action on all of the above matters, where either economy or efficiency could be produced, or where we felt that the Legislature should exercise greater financial control.

The following analysis of the Budget and the Budget Bill for 1945-47 is an analysis of these documents as presented to the Legislature by the Chief Executive. They cover the amounts as presented in these documents and it is not on the basis of our interpretation of what we feel they should contain. We are herein using the documents as presented to the Legislature and as they are before the several committees.

In making this analysis, we are following the items in the Budget Bills (Assembly Bill No. 500 and Senate Bill No. 294) which are identical bills. Since the Assembly Ways and Means Committee will be acting on the Assembly bill first, we are referring specifically to the sections in that bill, and not referring to the corresponding Senate Bill, so as to economize both time and space.

1. OVER-ALL ANALYSIS OF THE 1945-47 BUDGET

Budget Reaches All-Time High

The Budget totaling $683,710,643 is the highest in the history of the State. This represents an increase of $96,362,997, or an increase of 16.4 per cent over the actual and estimated expenditures for 1943-45 Biennium, but since the actual expenditures for 1943-45 will in our opinion be at least $15,000,000 less than the estimated and actual expenditures, the Budget really represents an increase of approximately $111,362,997 or 18.96 per cent increase over the actual expenditures for the current biennium.

We have previously pointed out that in this instance we are comparing the Budget for 1945-47 with the actual and estimated expenditures for the current biennium which not only include the additions to the original Budget made by the Regular Session of 1943, but also the additions made by the four special sessions. This is an increase of $219,763,638 or 47.3 per cent over the grand total of the original 1943-45 Budget as presented by the Governor. The Budget for 1945-47 exceeds the expenditures for the prewar Biennium 1939-41 excluding relief expenditures by $198,580,045 or 40.9 per cent.

The 1945-47 Budget calls for an expenditure for the biennium of an average of $81.01 for every man, woman and child in the State as compared with $74.15 for the 1943-45 Biennium for actual and estimated expenditures. When special appropriations are all in, this will be substantially larger.

The table on the following page summarizes the general upward trend in State expenditures for the biennial periods 1937-39 to 1945-47, inclusive. These have been reduced to a per capita figure and are particularly significant when we keep in mind that the 1945-47 is a Budget estimate while the figures for the prior bienniums are actual expenditures.

Preparation of the Budget

We have previously explained the procedure followed in making the Budget and the extent of participation of the Legislative Auditor. We believe that this cooperation aided in not only reducing the Budget but in a better distribution of expenditures. We wish to point out here, however, that many improvements can be made in budgetary procedure which will have the effect of not only improving the Budget and smoothing out irregularities but will also provide the Legislature with more complete information.

While this Budget for 1945-47 was prepared in the same manner as the previous one for 1943-45, this procedure leaves much to be desired in the evolutionary improvement in the budgeting of the State of California. We contend that California already has one of the best Budget laws, Budget documents and budgetary procedure. This, however, should be continuously improved. Following are suggestions for improvement:

(a) We believe that the actual sums appropriated by the Budget Act and subsequent special appropriations for the several departments and agencies of the State should be shown in the Budget Document so as to give actual comparisons and show savings and additions.

(b) Proposed expenditures for the Budget are based primarily upon the actual expenditures of the first fiscal year of the prior biennium and the actual and estimated of the second fiscal year. The actual and estimated expenditures of the second fiscal year are in general the annual budget allotments set up by the Department of Finance in their annual Budgets and generally they will be found to be in excess of the actual expenditures of the previous fiscal year. They do not show additions or savings that will undoubtedly be made during the actual expenditure program. The work load of the Department of Finance, Division of Budgets and Accounts, at this particular time reaches a peak and makes it impossible to refine these figures. As a result, the excesses in the actual and estimated figures for the second year of the current biennium are carried over into the Budget for the coming biennium. This has been continued in the 1945-47 Budget. We believe these estimates should be further refined and possible savings and other adjustments shown.

(c) As indicated in (b), proposed expenditures are based primarily on the expenditures and actual and estimated expenditures of prior fiscal years. Obviously under this arrangement past errors in expenditures are carried forward and generally perpetuated. The elimination of these errors is the exception rather than the rule. There is a continuous endeavor to eliminate them and, in some instances, this is accomplished for the budget of an entire function but it is not generally accomplished.

(d) Generally allowances for new personnel or new positions in the Budget for a given biennium are based primarily upon the number of positions existing in the immediate prior fiscal year at the time the Budget is being prepared. Seldom is there an analysis of the work-load or of just how many employees are really necessary. This is not always true. In some departments, such as Institutions, the work-load has been determined and has been used for many years in considering the Budget. However, under this general procedure a substantial number of positions have been created shortly before the Budget preparation period and for relatively short periods of service and these are frequently continued without careful review as to their necessity over the entire biennial period. This condition will probably continue until individual reviews are made of the personnel needs and the work-loads in the several activities of the State. In preparing the 1945-47 Budget there was no really adequate comparison of the number and types of proposed personnel with satisfactory evidence in hand. There was a strict endeavor to hold down positions where vacancies had existed but this did not carry over generally where employees were on military leave.

(c) In the Budget for 1945-47 a particular problem in relation to personnel is apparent. Because of the war conditions, many of the positions shown as existing in the present fiscal year of the current Biennium (1944-45) are vacant and many of these have been vacant for a considerable time. In many instances they will not be filled. The increase shown for personnel for the Budget 1945-47 is likewise a Budget for positions. In this there are two possibilities that are uncertain. First, all of the existing vacant positions may not be filled as long as the war manpower stringency exists, and in fact, should there be greater demand on manpower, there may even be more vacancies. Likewise, these vacancies may extend over a longer period than anticipated in the Budget, this anticipation being for not more than the first fiscal year of the biennium. The second uncertainty is respecting returning military personnel to positions they formerly occupied. The Budget is set up on the basis that these will gradually return and that all of the positions of this nature will be filled for the last fiscal year of the biennium. It now appears that the war will extend longer than was estimated when the Budget was prepared. It also appears that the Army fighting in Europe will not be returning in any large proportions at the end of the war in Germany but will go on East and engage in the conflict against the Japanese. This will mean that no large body of military personnel will be returning until the war with Japan is over. The only exception will be those State employees in the military service that are discharged. While this is increasing, it will not include any large proportion of the military leave positions. It is now apparent that there is over-budgeting for the filling of these positions. For these two reasons, therefore, there is provision for more personnel in the Budget than will be available or apparently will be required.

There is also in many places in the budget the establishment of positions to provide for those persons put on during the war period who replaced employees on military leave so that these may be retained and the military personnel given positions when they return.

The Budget Committee has definitely gone on record that no positions above present occupied positions shall be filled for the coming biennium unless each and every position can be justified. To carry this into effect, and to produce a savings on personnel that will accrue because of vacancies and that should accrue where personnel is not required, and based on the further assumption that the services now rendered by the State government in this period of war have been satisfactory on the whole to the people, we make the following definite recommendations:

1. That the Budget Document itself should in the future be made to show, in addition to the number of positions authorized, the number of actual vacancies for the total and for each class or position, and it should indicate each position that has been vacant more than 90 days.
2. It should likewise indicate those positions that have been created on a one time basis or for some special reason, such as positions created in the office of the Insurance Commissioner to make a one time survey of compensation insurance. Similar examples can be found in other departments.
3. We recommend for this Budget that the money required to continue positions authorized, but now vacant, through the coming Biennium 1945-47 be calculated for each department and agency, and likewise the amount of money required to provide new positions, including positions to be filled by personnel on military leave, and that this money be placed in a special fund. Provide that it cannot be spent by any department or agency of the State except for a position that has specifically been approved by the Department of Finance as necessary at the particular time when an employee can be secured to fill it. Moreover, that the specifications for this position shall not be changed so that the position is different than that which is required. Provide, however, that if new positions are authorized by the Department of Finance to completely replace other positions, that the money to pay them be allowed if in the opinion of the Department of Finance they are to perform substantially the work that was intended for a position set up in the Governor's Budget. It is, of course, expected that money for operations and equipment which will not be required for the reason that personnel was not employed, will likewise be saved by the operations of the Department of Finance.

(f) The preparation of the Budget has not been preceded by sufficient studies of particular programs and activities of the State with respect to their wisdom, efficiency and economy, and adequacy of organization. Some larger progress has been made in the last two years in this. We recommend that as an aid to effective preparation and administration of the Budget, there needs to be more continuous studies of the following:

1. The cost analysis of the several State functions, the operation of these functions and unit costs of services.
2. The adequacy of administrative organization and administrative procedure in different sections of the State service with a view of eliminating duplication and overlapping activities by different branches of the State service, as well as unnecessary and complicated procedure.
3. The use of materials and equipment, including automobiles, and cost analysis of travel expense for the different State agencies.

Such studies will build up a body of knowledge from which reasonably adequate yardsticks may be constructed, so as to measure the reasonableness of particular Budget requests. This will eliminate the present excessive reliance upon prior expenditures as a basis for budgetary action. Some States, notably New York, have already set up a good organization pattern for the initial phases of budgeting. Its budget agency includes a division of research and a management unit to aid the Budget experts. The research division makes continual studies of State operation with the object of improving methods and increasing efficiency.

Transition Budget From War to Peace

Just as the current Budget for 1943-45 is the first State Budget of World War II, a wartime Budget with many appropriations for war activity, the present Budget for 1945-47 is a transition Budget going from war to peace. However, since it is assumed that the war will last through the first fiscal year of the biennium, we have followed the principles set up by the Budget Committee that economies should still be carried on by every department of the State in order to continue to assist the war effort in every way. We feel that the activities of the several departments of the State should continue curtailment of spending throughout the war period, so as to assist in the war effort.

We have made recommendations in the following analysis in line with the Budget Committee's instructions to this effect.

No New Services Demanding Manpower

In the same spirit we have recommended against the establishment of any new services that will make a demand on manpower in general and that will in particular make a demand on such special services as nursing, medical and dental—where the armed services are in dire need of assistance.

Reduce Demand on Critical Material

We have also recommended against the additional use of critical materials, including paper, which will to a considerable extent interfere with the war effort. In reference to paper, we have recommended the cutting down of printing throughout the Budget, including a material reduction in the printing of free textbooks.

This is Item 79.5 in the Budget Bill and found on pages 784 and 785 of the Budget. It calls for a total appropriation for the biennium of $1,616,618 as compared with estimated actual expenditure for 1944-45 of $1,525,644. We recommend that this be arbitrarily cut to $800,000 which will be equivalent to eliminating the entire expenditure for the first year of the biennium, although we are placing in the Fiscal officers and the Director of Education the responsibility of determining whether this shall be entirely eliminated for the first year of the biennium or whether it shall be spread over the two fiscal years. This is a saving of $816,618.

In the analysis of the several agencies of the State we recommend further reduction in printing costs totaling $217,865 for the biennium.

We present herewith a schedule covering the expenditures for printing as presented in the Budget for 1945-47 for all of the agencies of the State. In the first column we show the actual expenditures for printing for 1943-44 with such exceptions as are explained in the footnotes. In the second column of figures we show the actual and estimated expenditures for printing for 1944-45. It will be noted that in almost every instance there is a very large increase for 1944-45 over 1943-44.

In some instances it is clear that these increases are not based upon an analysis of the need of the agencies for printing. Furthermore, we have made inquiry into the actual amount that remains available in a number of these agencies for printing and we find that they have no commitments which will consume even a major portion of this sum. This is particularly true when we recognize that this biennium closes June 30, 1945, and the printing plant will be fully engaged between now and that date with legislative printing and in cleaning up a contract with the Federal Government. It will not be in a position to do much of the printing of the departments. Furthermore, there has recently been instituted a reorganization of the State Printing Plant which if carried into effect as proposed should result in a saving on printing for all of the State departments of at least 10 per cent, and in many instances it should be higher. In addition to this we have also examined the printing and the mimeographing over the past several years of several of the departments and agencies of the State and we are fully convinced that a considerable portion of it should never have been produced in the first instance. Secondly, a great deal of it could have been produced more economically both in the use of paper, the style, and the size. Frequently an excessive number of copies have been issued.

For these reasons we have recommended that a considerable saving be accomplished in printing and should be obtained for the Fiscal Year 1944-45. We have estimated this saving in the fourth column at $79,655. It is possible to exceed this.

In the fifth column we have shown the proposed expenditures for 1945-46 and in the sixth column our recommendations of allowances for this year. In the seventh column we show our estimated saving. This totals $110,370.

In the eighth, ninth and tenth columns we have done the same thing for the Fiscal Year 1946-47. The saving shown in the tenth column amounts to $107,495. The total saving shown in the eleventh column for the biennium totals $217,865. This is a saving of only 13.81 per cent. This can be accomplished entirely through more efficient operation and management of the State Printing Plant, and each department can secure everything in printing that it asks for in the Governor's Budget. A larger saving should be accomplished.

The total of our recommended expenditure for 1945-47 for printing for the departments exclusive of school textbooks and exclusive of those departments where we could not segregate it, and where we recommend that the Department of Finance in budgeting make such segregation in the future, amounts to $1,360,370. This is a slight increase over the total of actual and our recommended expenditures for the 1943-45 biennium amounting to $4,750.

We wish to point out that the recommended saving in printing for the departments is much less in proportion than was the reduction in the Governor's Budget for printing for the Legislature as compared with prior expenditures for it is almost $100,000 below previous experience.

[1] Legislature	$98,855	$310,000 98,855	$73,925	$313,465 73,925
Actual and Estimated total for biennium		$403,855		$387,390

Although the actual and estimated expenditures for the above bienniums were in excess of the proposed expenditures for the 1945-1947 Biennium, we are recommending only the proposed amount—to wit: $300,000. This figure does not take into consideration any special session in 1945-46.

[2] State Controller

We find the largest increase in the following divisions:

Division:	Actual 1943-1944	Estimated 1944-1945	Proposed 1945-1946	Proposed 1946-1947
Accounting	$983	$7,500	$2,000	$8,500
Research and analysis	54	2,000	250	2,250
Inheritance and gift tax	2,970	3,200	5,800	4,000
Claims auditing and disbursement	7,980	10,000	10,000	10,000

Upon reviewing previous years, we find the following:

Actually spent—1939-1940	$15,845
Actually spent—1941-1942	25,705

We are recommending $22,500 for each of the next fiscal years.

[3] Franchise Tax Commissioner

Actual expenditure in 1939-1940 Fiscal Year was $22,200. For the 1941-1942 Fiscal Year it was $37,370. As the largest amount is in the Personnel Income Tax Division which will materially decline in the next two years, we recommend $45,000 for each of the next two years.

The expenditure for Personnel Income Tax Division as shown in 1943-1945 Budget is as follows:

Actual 1941-1942	Estimated 1942-1943	Proposed 1943-1944	Proposed 1944-1945
$34,714	$34,000	$38,500	$38,500

And in the 1945-1947 we find the following:

Actual 1943-1944	Estimated 1944-1945	Proposed 1945-1946	Proposed 1946-1947
$44,195	$38,500	$44,200	$38,500

[4] Industrial Relations

The increase caused mostly by the following:

Division:	Actual 1943-1944	Estimated 1944-1945	Proposed 1945-1946	Proposed 1946-1947
Industrial Accident and Prevention Bureau	$518	$2,000	$2,000	$2,000
Accident Statistics	131	500	1,950	1,950
Permanent Disability Rating Schedule	---	---	---	15,000
Industrial Welfare	548	---	3,405	---
Labor Statistics	3,060	5,000	5,000	5,000

It would appear that no increase over the 1944-1945 Estimated Expenditure of $17,000 (which is $3,000 over 1943-1944) should be necessary for 1945-1946. For 1946-1947 we recommend that the $15,000 for Permanent Disability Rating Schedule be cut to $10,000, thereby making the 1946-1947 recommended amount $27,000.

[5] Institutions

Increase caused by the following:

Division:	Actual 1943-1944	Estimated 1944-1945	Proposed 1945-1946	Proposed 1946-1947
Administration	$2,020	$2,000	$5,500	$5,500
Outpatient Mental Clinic (Includes printing and supplies)	New	New	600	3,000

It is our recommendation that Administration be cut to $3,500 for each year and that the Clinic be cut to $1,000 for 1946-1947. IF CLINIC IS NOT ESTABLISHED then funds are not to be used.

[6] Department of Motor Vehicles

The main increase is in the following divisions:

	Actual 1943-1944	Estimated 1944-1945	Proposed 1945-1946	Proposed 1946-1947
Registration	$51,600	$60,000	$75,000	$63,800
Drivers' Licenses	13,315	22,000	18,000	18,000

A review of previous annual expenditures does not show that any increase is necessary. We are, therefore, recommending for the next two years the same amount actually spent for 1943-1944 or $78,500 for each fiscal year.

[7] Professional and Vocational Standards

Principal increase in the following boards:

	Actual 1943-1944	Estimated 1944-1945	Proposed 1945-1946	Proposed 1946-1947
Contractor License	$2,688	$3,800	$6,300	$6,300
Nurse Examiners	1,483	1,700	4,700	1,700

Increases in each board due to printing new directory. The Contractors' Directory is sold for $10 per copy and nearly pays for itself—so why the increase. The Nurse Directory is claimed to be necessary for existing nurses for war work. We recommend the elimination of the increase in both instances.

[8] Public Health

The increase is general for all boards except for Emergency Maternity and Infant Care, which is as follows:

Actual 1943-1944	Estimated 1944-1945	Proposed 1945-1946	Proposed 1946-1947
$256	$3,000	$3,000	$3,000

We recommend for each of the next two years $20,000, which is the estimated expenditure for 1944-1945 and an increase of $2,120 over the actual expenditure of $25,850 for 1943-1944.

[9] Department of Insurance

The increase of $5,000 in 1945-1946 over 1944-1945 is believed to be for a manual. At the present time the department does not publish one. At the present time there is no standard manual or any they can recommend to applicants taking the examinations.

[10] Board of Equalization

Increase reflected in following Divisions:

	Actual 1943-1944	Estimated 1944-1945	Proposed 1945-1946	Proposed 1946-1947
Sales Tax	$25,770	$32,970	$34,390	$34,160
Research and Analysis	55	2,000	250	2,250
Valuation	1,205	2,700	2,400	2,400
Alcoholic Beverage Control (Tax Assessment)	810	1,200	1,800	1,800

As the 1941-1942 Fiscal Year actual expenditure was $57,460 (for the entire board) it appears as though the 1943-1944 estimate of $43,200 is low. We recommend $52,000 for 1945-1946 and $47,500 for 1946-1947.

We believe the proposed amount for Sales Tax Division, as shown above, is too high because of the certain decrease in returns during the next two years. Our reduction on the over all proposed amount is thereby reduced accordingly.

[11] Codification Board

If this agency is eliminated entirely, it will add another $20,000 to the proposed savings for the biennium.

[12] Fresno State College

As the 1943-1944 expenditure appears very low, we are recommending the full amount proposed for the next biennium.

[13] California Maritime Academy

We are recommending the proposed figures for 1945-1947 Biennium as it is doubtful if they will receive Federal aid.

[14] Department of Employment

These figures are not included in totals as this department is supported by Federal funds.

[15] Folsom Prison

They do not show any expenditure for printing. They do, however, show general office expense of $5,642, which compares to $2,038 appearing in like account for San Quentin Prison. It is presumed that printing is included in "general office" at Folsom. San Quentin shows printing separately.

[16] Division of Highways

They do not show any expenditure for printing. We are advised that this item is included in "general office" and no segregation kept on their books to show how much for printing. General office is reported as follows:

	Actual 1943-1944	Estimated 1944-1945	Proposed 1945-1946	Proposed 1946-1947
Central office	$39,275	$40,800	$42,000	$43,800
District offices	66,824	69,000	69,000	69,000
Contracts and right of way	1,190	1,200	1,200	1,200
	$107,289	$111,000	$112,200	$114,000

We recommend that the Department of Finance require more uniformity in keeping the records for the various accounts. Other divisions of Public Works keep and report a printing account. The Division of Highways does not report expenditure for automobile as such; this account is included with and reported under "equipment rental and depreciation."

State Has Not Curtailed Spending

The record clearly indicates that the State Government has not materially curtailed its spending to a wartime essential basis--in fact, the estimated total expenditures for 1943-45 are in round numbers $25,000,000 in excess of those for the prewar 1939-41 Biennium and over $59,000,000 in excess of the 1937-39 Biennium, when there was a huge unemployment relief expenditure.

Budget Increase Relatively More Than Stated

We have already stated that the Governor's Budget states that there will be an increase of $96,000,000 over 1943-45. This is an increase of 16.4 per cent. Despite the acute need for manpower by war industries and the induction of some 3,000 State employees into the armed services, there has been relatively little shrinkage in the number of State employees during the war. The peak employment by the State in 1941, just before Pearl Harbor, was 32,777. The total number employed by the State on December 31, 1944 was 26,990. The actual trends and the proposed additions in the Budget are shown by the following tables:

[1] 1945-47 Budget.

[2] Sources: 1945-47 Budget and a letter from the State Personnel Board of February 13, 1945. The calculations on which these figures are based exclude employment, statistics of the University of California, the Division of Highways, the Governor's Office, and the Lieutenant Governor's Office. These agencies were excluded to secure comparability between the employment statistics reported in the Budget and by the Personnel Board. The exclusion of these agencies substantially understates the expansion in personnel that would be permitted by the 1945-47 Budget as at least one agency, the University of California, has additional positions budgeted for the coming biennium.

This relatively minor decline in the number of State employees during the war for California contrasts very markedly with the decline of one-third in the number of State employees for Pennsylvania between 1939 and November, 1943.

It appears now that the demand for manpower for the war effort will continue over a longer period of time than has been assumed in the Budget. The failure of the California State Government to fully coordinate its spending and its personnel policies with the needs of the war effort as they have and now exist are illustrated definitely by the following:

> At the time of the presentation of the 1945-47 Budget to the Legislature, which document contained recommendations for the filling of 442 new positions including 40 for nurses for the State hospitals for the mentally ill, the press of the State reported that because of the acute shortage of nurses eleven general U. S. Army hospitals were arriving in the European war zone without a single nurse. One Army hospital with 3,000 wounded patients had only 74 nurses. This represented a ratio of 40 patients per nurse. This number was subsequently cut to 53 nurses for 3,000 patients.

Impact on Manpower

In our report to the Legislature which appeared in the Senate Journal of March 20, 1943, page 663 under the discussion of the impact of manpower of the State on the war effort, we made a statement which we again wish to call to your attention and to reiterate. It is as follows:

> "It should also be recorded here in the beginning of our report that the full impact of the demand for manpower has not been felt in State employment and that little or nothing has been done to actually cut down the number of employees in order to effectively assist in releasing manpower."

The actual and estimated number of State employees budgeted for all funds for the biennium ending June 30, 1943 was 26,944. The number provided for in the 1943-45 Budget was 26,102, a reduction of only 842.

The total amount for salaries and wages actual and estimated for the biennium of 1941-43 was $110,607,544. For the Budget 1943-45 it was placed at $115,769,115, an increase of $5,161,570. The actual and estimated turned out to be $109,658,975 or a slight decrease of $948,569 for the reason manpower could not be secured—not because there was not an effort to get it. The same figure for salaries and wages for the Biennium 1945-47 is placed in the budget at $130,608,616, an increase of $20,949,641,[1] an increase of 19.1 per cent over the actual and estimated for 1943-45. This is despite the fact that two organizations, the War Council and the Farm Production Council, received appropriations for the 1943-45 Biennium—as shown on pages 23 and 83 of the 1945-47 Budget, and are entirely omitted for 1945-47. This shows the War Council had an average of 43 employees and the Farm Production Council with an average of 141 employees, a total of 184, which are omitted entirely in the 1945-47 Budget.

The Budget for 1943-45 made a considerable allowance for vacant positions and it turns out that the estimate was about correct. In the Budget hearing for 1943-45 the Legislative Auditor repeatedly urged that greater reductions be made in the State's use of manpower so as to release more manpower for the war effort.

Salary Savings Made in 1943-45

We felt then that the salary saving item in the Budget Bill was not as high as it should be placed. As a result of our insistence, a special item was placed in the Appropriation Bill, Chapter 62, of the Statutes of 1943, setting up a Salary Restoration Fund—Item 229 in the Budget Act, in the amount of $2,500,000. According to the Budget for 1945-47, page 778, only $658,187.15 was allotted from this fund between July 1, 1943, and November 30, 1944, leaving on December 1, 1944, a balance of $1,841,812.85. Although there were seven months more of the biennium to go, it is believed at least a million and a half dollars will remain unspent in this fund at the close of the biennium.

Larger Salary Savings Possible 1945-47

We feel that the conditions which will exist in the Biennium 1945-47 are again so uncertain that the process used in the Appropriation Act of 1943 in this respect can be repeated. We recommend that an item be included for a Salary Restoration Fund in the amount of $3,000,000 to be deducted from all appropriations for salaries from the General Fund and to be set up on exactly the same terms as provided in the 1943 Appropriation Act. We believe that this fund can very readily be placed at $3,000,000 because of the increased pay scales that have been established during the current biennium. If this procedure is not followed, it is recommended that a more drastic policy be followed by the Legislature by increasing the salary savings throughout the Budget by the sum of three and a half million dollars and that this sum be eliminated from the Budget by this process on an allocation to be made by the Department of Finance.

[1] $4,394,021 is from special funds.

For the current Biennium 1943-45 the salary savings have already been accomplished for the First Fiscal Year 1943-44, and the net result is shown in the column of actual expenditures for salaries and wages. For the Second Fiscal Year, 1944-45, the item of salary savings has been entered and the total of these items in the Budget for this one year is $3,282,000. The total of the salary savings for the two fiscal years of the 1945-47 Biennium totals $2,559,000. This you will note for the two years is approximately only two-thirds of the salary savings for the one prior year. From these figures it will be seen that our recommendation to increase the salary savings for the biennium by the sum of three and a half million dollars is conservative and the three million dollars for Salary Restoration Fund is even more conservative.

We are moved to make this recommendation not only because of the continuance of the war as is estimated in the Budget, but also due to the fact that recent changes in the requirement for the production of more war material and the apparent decision of the military strategists to move our armed forces in Europe at the end of the war with Germany by the way of the East to engage in the war with Japan. In the meantime there will move from the United States by the way of the Pacific the most modern arms and equipment to re-equip this veteran force from the European theatre of war. This procedure will continue to drain the manpower for longer than was formerly anticipated but will probably result in ending the war with Japan quicker than otherwise would have been the case.

Salary Savings Direct Reduction in Appropriation

In our report of March two years ago we stated that "in light of recent developments and the probable impact of the war on manpower, it is believed that an additional salary savings of 5 per cent can conservatively be expected. Our appropriation for salaries should accordingly be reduced this additional 5 per cent and this sum added to the item for salary savings already indicated. If the appropriation can be reduced accordingly throughout the Budget, this would result in a reduction in General Fund expenditure of $3,013,000 and a reduction in special funds of $2,775,000." We believe that we can reiterate this statement with confidence that it will be demonstrated by the actual facts—but we recommend the increasing of the savings to $4,800,000 for the General Fund and $1,600,000 for the special funds.

The following schedule compares salaries for the two bienniums:

SALARIES AND WAGES BUDGET

Alternate Method of Controlling Both Salaries and Wages and Personnel

An examination of the Budget for 1945-47 shows an increase of personnel particularly for the second year, 1946-47, of the biennium. However, there is some material increase for the first year, 1945-46. It must be understood that in considering personnel both for the current biennium and the budgeted Biennium, 1945-47, we are actually considering positions. Many of them may be vacant and in fact in the Department of Institutions they have currently 502 vacant positions. In budgeting when these positions are continued, it is expected that they will be filled. When new positions are established there is also the expectation that they will be filled. In addition, we now have a complicated situation due to the possible return of State employees on military leave. They are entitled to their old positions, and will replace other employees who are occupying these positions. There is a disposition to keep present employees as well as the returning military leave personnel.

Since it appears that the war will continue for a longer period of time than was anticipated when the Budget was drawn up, there are a number of definite uncertainties as respects personnel. The following conditions probably will prevail: There will be more vacant positions than has been estimated; it will be impossible to secure competent personnel to fill new positions; persons on military leave may not return in the numbers anticipated; it may not be necessary to fill all of the positions anticipated if there is not a return to peacetime conditions in the second year of the biennium.

These many unknowns cause us to suggest another procedure both for the control of personnel and the control of salaries and wages so as to save that which is not spent under these conditions. We believe that this can be accomplished by amending the Appropriation Bill to accomplish the following purpose.

Purpose of Amendment

The purpose of this amendment is definitely to sequester or set aside in a special fund all of the money required to continue through the Biennium 1945-47 the following three classes of personnel designated below, and to provide that none of this sequestered money may be spent until each individual position is filled. Such positions shall not be filled except with the express approval of the Department of Finance, or some other qualifying agency, for each position, and the Department of Finance or other qualifying agency, when it approves the necessity of filling such position, shall report to the members of the Legislature and to the Legislative Auditor the reasons supporting the granting of the necessary funds for paying the salary of said position.

Should any of these positions so established again become vacant, the money previously allocated therefor shall be returned to the special fund established and the same procedure followed in again refilling such vacant position. The fund set up shall be similar to the Salary Restoration Fund provided in Item 229 of AB No. 1600, Chapter 62, Statutes of 1943.

There should also be an expression of the Legislature establishing legislative intent to the effect that the same procedure shall be followed in respect to all special funds where budgetary control is exercised by the Department of Finance. In fact, such instructions should be given so that there will be a uniform policy throughout the State service.

The classes of employees for which salaries and wages shall be deducted to make up the above mentioned special fund are as follows:

1. Those positions that are now vacant in the several departments and agencies of the State for the 1944-45 Fiscal Year and which positions are carried forward into the 1945-47 Budget.
2. All new positions which are established for the 1945-47 Biennium, and so designated in the Governor's Budget, and for which an appropriation is approved by the Legislature.
3. All positions that are to be filled by State employees now on military leave for which funds are appropriated and which positions are temporarily vacant or are being now created.

Suggested Amendment to the Budget Bill

The Budget Bill, Assembly Bill No. 500 or Senate Bill No. 294, can be amended to make the above suggestions effective. It will probably be wise to set up the entire Budget Bill designating the three categories of expenditures as mentioned in the Governor's Budget Message, and as previously provided in Assembly Bill No. 1800, Chapter 600, Statutes of 1941. These schedules are: (a) salaries and wages; (b) operating expense; (c) equipment.

Amendment to Assembly Bill No. 500 or Senate Bill No. 294

Assembly Bill No. 500 or Senate Bill No. 294 is to be amended by adding a new item, numbered 281, as follows:

> Item 281—For Salary Restoration Fund for the payment of salaries and wages to be allocated on the authorization of the Department of Finance (or some other agency)[1] to each State officer, department, board bureau and other State agency, including The Regents of the University of California, in augmentation of the respective appropriations for the support of each for the Ninety-seventh and

[1] We use Department of Finance, but some other allocating agency may be established.

Ninety-eighth Fiscal Years in an amount for each thereof not in excess of the amount shown in the schedule for each item of appropriation under subdivision "Salaries and Wages" and entitled "Salary Restoration Fund"—which total sum has been arrived at by calculating the cost of filling positions now vacant and the salary adjustment credited thereto for the Biennial Period 1945-47 and also the sum necessary for new positions and for the filling of all positions by persons now on military leave, as provided in that certain document entitled "State of California Budget for the Biennium July 1, 1945 to June 30, 1947, Ninety-seventh and Ninety-eighth Fiscal Years, submitted by Earl Warren, Governor, to the California Legislature, Fifty-sixth Session and as amended by the Budget Act of 1945 ----------$------"

To receive an allocation from the Salary Restoration Fund, an officer, department, board, bureau, commission or other State agency, including The Regents of the University of California, shall prove to the Department of Finance that it has personnel in number and class provided in such document sufficient to require the allocation authorized to be made by this item and it shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Department of Finance that it is necessary and desirable to fill said positions; and it shall substantiate by presentation of such information as the Department of Finance may require. The Department of Finance shall certify that this condition exists as respects any officer, department, board, bureau, commission or other State agency and the authorization of the Department of Finance allocating funds to any department from the Salary Restoration Fund shall be sufficient evidence for the Controller to transfer said funds.

Should such position or positions become vacant and remain so for a period of 90 days, the unused portion of said funds shall revert to the Salary Restoration Fund.

The Department of Finance shall submit to each member of the Legislature and to the Legislative Auditor not later than the fifteenth day of each month a report on all authorizations given pursuant to this section during the preceding month. The report shall contain such information regarding such authorization as shall be sufficient to apprise the members of the Legislature and the Legislative Auditor as to the reasons and necessities therefor.

It is suggested that the Legislature express its intent to apply the same control to special funds and to expenditures from continuing legislation—which are not, of course, in the Budget Bill. We suggest this should be done by resolution expressing in general the following:

WHEREAS, The Governor's Budget for the Biennium 1945-47 recognizes that this period will be one of transition from war to peace and it is, therefore, impossible to estimate the personnel that will be available for the several departments of the State or the number of State employees who may return from military leave; and

WHEREAS an amendment has been placed in the Budget Bill—Assembly Bill No. 500, as Item 281—setting up a Salary Restoration Fund, which applies to all appropriations for salaries and wages appropriated by this act; and

WHEREAS, This only represents a fraction of the entire Budget as presented by the Governor to the Legislature for the Biennium 1945-47 and, therefore, there is a large expenditure of the State for other purposes where personnel is employed where similar conditions will prevail; be it therefore

Resolved by the Assembly, That it is the legislative intent that such controls be applied by the Department of Finance to the expenditure of all such funds for salaries and wages for the Biennium 1945-47 and it is the expectation of the Legislature that identical budgetary controls be applied by the Department of Finance in the expenditure of all funds—General, special and fixed charges—for the employment of personnel in exactly the same terms as provided in said Item 281 of the Budget Bill for 1945-47.

Other Savings Resulting From Personnel Reduction

It is the intention of the Legislature that when salary savings are made effective that comparable savings which result when personnel is not employed should accrue in the other categories of the schedules as provided in the Budget Bill, i. e., operating expenses and equipment, wherever such appear in the Budget Bill and for each and every department and agency where appreciable savings have been made on the basis of personnel and in conformity with the provisions of Item 281.

A Transition Budget to Peace Eliminates War Agencies

The transition from war to peace should mean the elimination of as many wartime activities as is possible.

War Council

The Governor has not included in his Budget any item for the continuance of the War Council. We recommend that it be immediately abolished, effective as early in March as is possible and the then remainder of the money appropriated for this service should be reverted to the General Fund; the property and records to be turned over to the Department of Finance and this organization to be completely liquidated; if it is necessary to retain any of the services performed that they be specifically assigned with the necessary financial support to the regular departments of the State Government that can perform them.

This body replaced the State Council of Defense of 1941-43 and it was promised as an economy body but its actual costs exceed that of the body it replaced. The need that might have developed appears to have disappeared.

Farm Production Council

We recommend that the Farm Production Council be continued only through the farm labor season of the Year 1945 and that no new money be appropriated for it, but that it be allowed to expend so much as is necessary of the money already appropriated and budgeted for it, and that it be allowed to expend the receipts received from the sale of property and supplies, including the proceeds from the sale of the Ryde Camp.

We furthermore recommend that this camp be sold as soon as possible.

We recommend that strict budgetary control be exercised over the operation of this organization, as was provided in the Appropriation Bill passed by the Special Session of the 1943 Legislature. We recommend that when the 1945 farm labor season is closed that unless there are the most compelling reasons that labor problems cannot be solved by other means that this organization be liquidated and any surplus funds be reverted to the General Fund, the property and records to be turned over to the Department of Finance for the purpose of liquidation.

The council has two outstanding liabilities in connection with the use of the fair grounds at Tulare and Stockton of possibly $250,000 or more. These should be settled at once.

Evidence is accumulating that some relief in the labor situation is under way. The Department of Employment has had an increasing number of beneficiaries appearing on the weekly roll since January, 1944. The number has increased in the past month from 16,000 to 20,000. While this is not a significant number, it is indicative of the trend—which will be greatly accelerated with any slowing down in war industries. Employees in manufacturing have declined 184,000 since January, 1944.

State Guard

We recommend that the State Guard be held to its present established size, with an emphasis on quality and efficiency. This organization is a substitute for the National Guard during the war activity and should be maintained in the same relative status until the National Guard is re-established; or until, perhaps, the State Guard becomes fused with the National Guard. Further detailed recommendations concerning this will be given under the item of appropriation for the State Guard.

We have found in our investigation of this agency an inexcusable slackness in accounting for property. We recommend that this be corrected at once and report that General Hansen, Adjutant General, is making progress in doing this. Some more staff may be necessary to adequately account for all property. Legislative enactment to require proper records and accounting have been introduced into the Legislature.

We also recommend that the law be changed so as to require an audit by the State Department of Finance of all expenditures and that budgetary control of expenditures be set up by the Department of Finance for all funds and property controls for all property the same as is established for other State departments. This should include a full inventory and accounting not only for State property but for Federal property where there is any State responsibility.

The present shortage in property and the overpayment on Federal property which has been subsequently located should be settled equitably as soon as possible.

We also recommend that all surplus and unneeded property held by the State Guard be disposed of as soon as possible. The armories and warehouses where much of this is located should be inventoried, this surplus property disposed of, and remaining property put in order. In this connection, we further recommend that any surplus property which is surveyed by the Guard and found to be unserviceable or not required shall not be disposed of until approval is secured from the Department of Finance and wherever feasible the liquidation facilities of the Department of Finance shall be used for the disposal of such property.

A bill has been introduced into the Legislature by the Budget Committee to provide the above suggested remedies and with some minor amendments is acceptable both to the Adjutant General and the State Department of Finance.

Other Wartime Services

Wartime activities and services in the other State departments should be closed out as rapidly as possible and these purely wartime services should not be continued as peacetime activities unless specifically acted upon by the Legislature. This includes:

The Fire Disaster Pool in the Division of Forestry.

The wartime activities of the Division of Real Estate, functioning to control unfair practices due to housing shortages resulting from the war.

Many other wartime activities of the several departments concerned will be taken up when these Budget items are specifically studied.

We wish to emphasize here that in this transition the services established purely as wartime activity should end with the termination of hostilities. Specifically, the wartime salary bonus for State employees paid as a wartime salary bonus to meet the increased cost of living should disappear and the salary scale should be modified by the Personnel Board so as to be kept comparable with salaries paid for like positions in private enterprise and other governmental service, as the law requires.

No provision has been made in the Budget in relation to this item, the failure to do being contrary to the Budget assumptions that the war would end during the Biennium. This failure is due to the fact that a further assumption is made in the Budget that the present costs of living and the present scale of salaries in private enterprise will prevail throughout the biennium. We maintain that if the war ends and there is a closing down of wartime industries in California, that there will be a reversal in the labor market and it will—at least for a time—become an employers' market rather than an employees' market. If salaries go down materially in private enterprise there is an obligation on the State Personnel Board to make determination of the facts and reduce State salaries accordingly. This could produce a material salary saving which should be impounded and revert to the surpluses.

Wartime Prices for Commodities Maintained

The allowance for the prices on commodities for the several departments in the Budget have been continued at current prices. It appears probable that these prices will be maintained during the first year of the biennium. It is probable, however, that at some time during the biennium surplus war materials will be available to the State in relatively large quantities and undoubtedly at reduced prices. Some such materials have already been purchased at a material savings.

There may also be a current overproduction of many commodities the State buys, particularly in food commodities. If this should take place there should be material saving in the amounts budgeted on the basis of the continuation of current prices.

It is recommended that some provision be made in the Budget so that such savings, if they occur, can be captured and retained for the benefit of all taxpayers of the State.

Capital Outlay May Be Cheaper—Savings Possible

There is, with the exception of highways, an overly large sum set up in the Budget for capital outlay, including highways, the total being $58,612,598. It is admitted in the Budget that this figure is some 33⅓ per cent higher because of wartime prices. In other words, the same structures and buildings could be secured for approximately two-thirds of this sum based on prewar prices.

It is recommended that construction of the proposed buildings be postponed wherever it is at all feasible, not only to the second year of the biennium but certainly until after the war is ended and the effect thereof on labor and materials be ascertained. It may be possible for a large saving to be made through this procedure.

The capital outlay program requires some further analysis. The 1943-45 Budget of the Governor proposed only $803,255 in capital outlay from the General Fund. The actual and estimated expenditure from this fund for 1941-43 was $8,479,945 showing a Budget reduction for 1943-45, of $7,676,690. Actual expenditure for 1937-39 Biennium was $17,290,539 and for 1939-41, $7,125,955. The budgeted amount for 1941-43 for capital outlay from the General Fund was not out of line. That budgeted for 1943-45 was far below average and it made the Budget appear smaller.

The comments of the Budget Committee in their report, Senate Journal of March 20, 1943, page 668, were pertinent then and now. They said:

> "Anyone familiar with State institutions, colleges, schools and prisons recognizes that a suspension of capital outlay for any biennium does not eliminate the need for the expenditure but merely postpones it. Therefore, while there is a reduction in expenditures for capital outlay resulting in an actual smaller Budget for a particular biennium, it is not a reduction in expenditures in the same way as is a reduction in operating expenses. It is merely a postponement. The question certainly can be raised if a reduction in capital outlay in any sense represents a true economy in government if the objects of the capital outlay are in fact needed and desirable."

The results for 1943-45 were different from the Budget and in fact the actual estimated expenditures turned out to be much larger than the average normal capital outlay of the State, and the largest expenditure for many bienniums.

The Budget for 1943-45 called for $803,255 from the General Fund for capital outlay. The actual and estimated turned out to be $22,569,263*. This was added by special appropriations in the regular and special sessions.

A comparison of total capital outlay from all funds for the current 1943-45 and Budget Bienniums are as follows:

*Postwar Construction Fund considered as General Fund.

Capital Outlay for Postwar Construction and Postwar Employment Reserve

It is proposed to expend $8,252,678 for postwar construction during the Biennium 1943-45, see page 762 of Budget 1945-47. We do not believe that more than a small part of this can be spent this biennium. We are of the opinion it will be probably necessary to carry this over to 1945-47 for expenditure. We are in accord with this procedure for all of the items are set up by legislation, passed at the 1943 Special Session with the safeguards of the Property Acquisition Act.

The amounts spent in 1945-47 from the 1943 appropriation will make the Budget for this biennium larger.

Items 251, 252 and 253 of the Budget Bill of 1945-47, page 23 and page 763 of the Budget, propose to spend $900,000 for sites as listed below under the Property Acquisition Act.

Item 251. Site for Department of Corrections Young Offenders	$300,000
Item 252. Site for Corrections Insane, Criminals, etc.	300,000
Item 253. Site for Corrections Medium Custody Institutions	300,000
Total	$900,000

We recommend these items be allowed in the Appropriation Bill. The sites are necessary and ample safeguards are placed around the purchasing procedure.

The Legislative Auditor has spent many days studying the whole Postwar Building Program and has worked continuously with the Director of Finance, Mr. Dean, as a member of his working committee on this matter. The study and care in formulating this program is the most comprehensive and intelligent procedure ever brought to bear to plan for the building needs of the State.

Items 254 to 274 inclusive of the Budget Bill, pages 23 to 25, and pages 762-766 of this Budget, provide for the expenditure of $12,468,520 from the Postwar Employment Reserve.

These items are all considered as emergencies in the Budget. We have previously recommended that each item be reviewed by the Legislature to determine this, and if any are not so found to be emergency, they be postponed for the biennium. This is made for the reason that this construction probably will cost at least 33 to 40 per cent more now than it will when unemployment relief is necessary.

We also recommend that the items determined to be emergency be provided for by appropriations from the General Fund in that these expenditures are not determined to be necessary or helpful for unemployment relief.

Details for each of the above items, all expenditures proposed from Postwar Employment Reserve, and our recommendation for each is shown in the following schedule:

Item	Department	Budget Page	Purpose	Amount	Recommendation
254	Agriculture	762 and 764	Plant quarantine stations	$163,150	Delay to end of war with Japan or end of biennium.
255	Agriculture	762 and 764	Minor construction	40,000	General Fund — Soon as material is available.
256	Corrections	762 and 764	Major construction and improve-provements	1,080,500	$525,500—Kitchen, etc.—At once from General Fund. $555,000 — Segregation buildings, shops—Delay to end of war or to next biennium or build own labor.

259	Corrections	762 and 764	New intermediate prison	4,615,000	Postpone to end of war with Japan or end of biennium. Get site this biennium.
260	Corrections	762 and 764	Minor construction and repair—Allocated by Department of Finance	250,000	From General Fund—Now.
261	Corrections—Youth Authority	762 and 764	Minor construction — Youth Authority. Allocated by Department of Finance	100,000	From General Fund—Now.
262	Education—Deaf School	762 and 765	Two dormitories	468,000	$234,000 from General Fund, 1946-47—$234,000 postpone to end of war or end of biennium.
263	Education	762 and 765	Minor construction—Allocated by Department of Finance	250,000	General Fund—Now.
264	Institutions—Agnews	762 and 765	Ward bed—Annex replace wooden cottages—400 patients	585,000	Postpone to end of war or end of biennium.
265	Institutions—Camarillo	762 and 765	Two units attendants' quarters	299,000	Recommend from General Fund—Do as soon as possible—Care for 700 patients. Overhead costs be reduced.
266	Institutions—Napa	762 and 765	Two groups of ward buildings	1,371,670	New boilers—Allow from General Fund in sum of $45,000. $538,000 from General Fund for 1946-47 for one ward building. Hold remainder, $788,670, to end of war with Japan.

Item	Department	Budget Page	Purpose	Amount	Recommendation
267	Institutions—Norwalk	762 and 765	Ward bed—Infirmary—Men	$119,600	General Fund as soon as material available—75 men.
268	Institutions—Stockton	762 and 765	Three ward buildings—Women	1,021,600	Allow $200,000 from General Fund as soon as material available to complete sum for female ward for $500,000—$821,600 postpone to end of war or end of biennium.
269	Institutions—Pacific Colony	762 and 765	Two ward buildings	286,000	Ward building for 200 patients. Allow General Fund as soon as can be built.
270	Institutions	762 and 765	Minor repairs—Allocated by Department of Finance	500,000	Allow now, General Fund, allocated by Department of Finance.
271	Military and Veterans—Veterans Home	762 and 766	Mess hall, hospital wing, convalescent barracks	748,000	Allow from General Fund at once $150,000 to supplement 1941 appropriation mess hall and $364,000 for convalescent barracks—Hold $234,000 until end of war.
272	Military and Veterans—Veterans Home	762 and 766	Minor construction	100,000	Allow from General Fund allocated by Department of Finance.
273	Division of Forestry	762 and 766	18 barracks @ $12,000 each	216,000	Allow 10 @ $12,000—$120,000 from General Fund. Hold $96,000.
274	Division of Forestry	762 and 766	Minor construction	50,000	Allow from General Fund allocated by Department of Finance.

Total of Items 254 to 274	$12,468,520
Total recommended for immediate appropriation from General Fund	4,376,100
Total allocation recommended from Postwar Employment Reserve to be spent during biennium only if war ends with Japan and if material control ends	8,092,420

We recommend that the several items as listed in the preceding schedule in the sum of $4,376,100 be appropriated from the General Fund for the agencies as indicated, and they be placed in the items for the several agencies in their proper place in the regular order in the Budget Bill.

We are not here at this time passing on the correctness of the amounts for the objects desired. We believe that they are ample and include some 30 per cent allowance for present prices above prewar prices. If prices go down savings should be made.

The capital outlay actually available for expenditure during the Biennium 1945-47 with this reduction will exceed the State average for normal times. The carry-over from prior appropriations, going back to as far as 1937 and particularly the unexpended amounts from 1941-43 and 1943-45 bienniums, exceed $7,000,000 and the amounts included with the regular appropriation items for the agencies in the Budget Bill bring this up to close to twice the normal average expenditure for capital outlay.

We reserve for further consideration the capital outlay in the regular items for the agencies in the Appropriation Bill, and will make recommendation when analysis of these items is presented.

We also recommend that the several items as listed in the preceding schedule in the sum of $8,092,420 be appropriated from the Postwar Employment Reserve for the agencies as indicated and the money for these items be available during the biennium only if the war with Japan ends and control of necessary material ends. Otherwise provide that reconsideration and reappropriation is required to spend this money subsequent to January 30, 1947, when the next Regular Session of the Legislature can review the whole problem of expenditure from the Postwar Employment Reserve.

These recommendations if followed will have the effect of reducing the General Fund surplus by $4,376,100 and leave in the Postwar Employment Reserve $8,092,420 but with this sum specifically earmarked as having first priority for expenditure and available for use if the war with Japan does end prior to January 30, 1947.

Other Over-all Savings Possible From 1945-47 Budget

The possibilities of further over-all savings from the 1945-47 Budget can not be realized unless some additional comparisons and analyses are made which may appear to be repetitious. The value of presenting these, we believe, warrants running the risk of being repetitious.

The table below shows the gross totals by purposes and funds for 1945-47 compared with this current biennium of 1943-45:

1945-47 CALIFORNIA STATE BUDGET
Compared with 1943-45 Actual and Estimated Expenditures

State Expenditures from all Funds

Budget 1945-47	340,279,855	Budget 1945-47	76,606,061
Up	$41,303,502	Up	$6,593,346

State Expenditures from Reserve Funds
Spent 1943-45	$3,551,678
Budget 1945-47	20,882,883*
Up	$17,331,205*

*Includes $7,616,041 set up in Bond Sinking Fund of 1943.

The Budget for 1945-47 totals $683,710,643. Of this $482,746,116 is from the General Fund and $180,081,644 from special funds, and $20,882,883 from reserve funds. These reserve funds are really only earmarked amounts from the General Fund so that the General Fund expenditures in effect are much larger than the Budget gives and correctly so.

We have, just preceding this, recommended that some $4,000,000 less be expended from the Postwar Employment Reserve and that amount more be spent from the General Fund.

The $482,746,116 expenditure proposed from the General Fund is $39,489,888 increase over expenditures from this fund for 1943-45, and if our recommendation is followed it will be $43,865,988. This, while a very large increase, does not give the true picture. The full effect of proposed increased expenditure is not shown for the reason that several large items set up as expenditures for 1943-45 were one-time appropriations and need not be repeated, or they do not appear at all in the 1945-47 Budget.

ITEMS SHOWN AS EXPENDITURES IN BUDGET FOR 1943-1945

(They are all one time expenditures or will carry over unexpended)

Purpose	Amount	Remarks
Teachers' Retirement System	$25,762,298	Added to reserve above current costs. Not spent.
Local civilian defense	1,791,000	War assistance solely.
War Council	567,506	Omitted by Governor from 1945-47 Budget.
Farm Production Council	2,839,794	Omitted from 1945-47 Budget.
Rector Canyon Dam	1,370,269	Chapter 1208, Statutes of 1941. Not spent. Page 343 of Budget.
Highway Plans and Rights of Way	12,000,000	Postwar planning. One time expenditure.
Reclamation Board	1,069,332	Egbert Tract—flowage. Carry over obligation for 20 years, one time expenditure.
Legislative claims	323,129	Bills will be in for items probably as large as this.
Storm and flood damage	559,116	Special bill.
County highway plans	1,500,000	Postwar planning—one time expenditure.
Acquisition of sites, State buildings	4,000,000	This can not all be spent. 1945-47 Budget, page 763.
Debt Service	6,185,908	Reserve set up 1943 over current obligations.
Local agencies, plans and sites	4,375,000	Appropriated by Chapter 47, Statutes of 1944, Fourth Extra Session. Will not be spent by June 30, 1945.
Veterans' Education Institute	158,794	Omitted for 1945-47 from Governor's Budget. Balance not budgeted.
Total	$62,502,146

In comparing expenditure programs from the General Fund for the two bienniums, to make them comparable it is necessary to add the $62,502,146 (total of the items in the above schedule) to the $39,489,889 biennial Budget increase which shows a true difference of $101,992,035. This then shows that for comparable service there was an increase of $101,992,035 for 1945-47 over 1943-45, or almost 26 per cent for General Fund expenditures. Such an increase is far in excess of population and comes at a time when the Budget estimate shows a falling off in revenue.

How long can the State General Fund continue biennial increases in expenditures of 26 per cent?

The people, by approving No. 9 on the last general election ballot, caused a large part of this increase by constitutional requirement. Nevertheless, such a large percentage increase does give opportunity for material economies.

An examination of this table shows very few decreases for either current expense and/or subventions, and most of these are bookkeeping reductions or have some particular explanation. Of these five minus items in the third column of figures on the table an analysis shows the following:

Function	Decrease 1945-47 Below 1943-45	Remarks
Legislative	$ 27,699	Arbitrary sum, the amount budgeted is $100,000 less than average expenditure and will undoubtedly be over-spent by approximately this sum.
Executive	556,241	Elimination of War Council entirely from Budget for 1945-47 reduced this by $567,506 so really is an increase for normal functions.
Agriculture	1,082,794	Results from entire elimination of expenditure for the Farm Production Council of $2,839,794 so all other services up and more than this savings.
Credits for Overhead Services to Special Funds	391,436	This really an increase in charges of General Fund costs and not a deduction.
For Civilian Defense	1,794,988	The entire activity is left out of the appropriation bill and only balance in the appropriation carried forward.

Education Expenditures Can Be Reduced

Education expenditures appear in two places in the above schedule of expenditures from the General Fund.

1. Current Expense Higher Education and Department	$32,423,159
2. Subventions School Subventions	213,458,711
Total	$245,881,870

This is the largest single class of expenditures in the Budget and the largest increase in both categories in the Budget.

We have recommended that the subventions for schools be cut to the constitutional requirement. This will reduce this item by approximately $6,265,000.

We also recommend that a complete audit of all such subventions for schools be provided and required by an independent State agency, preferably the Department of Finance, or an independent State Auditor General, if one is established, of all school expenditures spent as subventions. With a biennial expenditure of $213,458,711 from the General Fund involved the biennium savings will be a very large figure. The late Assemblyman, Lee Bashore, estimated the possible savings would perhaps run to $8,000,000 a biennium or even more.

This audit should not be made by the Department of Education or any other school people as they are interested parties.

Textbooks

We have also recommended (reasons already stated) that the appropriation for free textbooks—Item 79.5 of the Appropriation Bill (page 784 of Budget)—be cut to $800,000, saving of $816,618, and thus aiding the war effort by cutting the use of vital war material and manpower.

Welfare

Expenditures for welfare is the next largest category. Reference to the above table will show it to be set at $120,874,249 for the 1945-47 Budget. This is divided as follows:

Aid to Needy Aged	$105,539,250
Blind	2,296,381
Children	10,305,596
Tuberculosis Subsidies	1,533,917
Social Welfare Administration	1,199,105
Total	$120,874,249

While all of the above items except the last are fixed by continuing legislation, they can all be controlled by the Legislature. They do not appear in the Budget Bill but they are in the Budget.

The item for subsidies to Tuberculosis Sanatoriums found on page 786 of the Budget in our opinion is over-estimated. Some institutions previously assisted are not now qualifying and expenditures are running below estimates. The expenditures in our opinion will run about as they have for 1943-45 or $1,259,408, or a reduction of $274,508 from the budgeted amount. This should show as a saving for the biennium.

Reductions Recommended

The expenditures for Education and Welfare total $366,756,117 or 76 per cent of the General Fund total.

Our recommended reductions here in labeled fixed charges are:

Subventions to schools	$6,265,000
Free Textbooks	816,616
Auditing Educational Allotment	5,000,000
Tuberculosis Subsidies	274,508
Total	$12,556,124

Other Expenditures From General Fund

Other recommendations on items in the Budget Bill will be considered in sequence subsequently.

The budgeted expenditures from the General Fund other than for education and welfare totals $115,989,997 or less than 25 per cent of the total. This is spread over hundreds of items. They will be covered in following the Budget Bill items and recommendations will be made for each one. An over-all view may help in seeing the difficulty of controlling these expenditures and why an over-all approach may yield larger returns than a detailed consideration in the limited time available to the Legislature.

Six departments or functions require $85,195,051 of this total of $115,989,997.

These divisions and the amounts for each are:

Budget Division	Amount	Remarks
Corrections	$13,029,200	Newly organized and showing large increased expenditures. Needs to be examined closely as unit costs have almost doubled since 1933-35.
Fiscal affairs	18,946,575	A new Budget name. Includes Department of Finance, Controller, Treasurer and others that control or handle funds.
Institutions	30,034,099	Also should be gone over carefully as unit costs are increased materially and requests are based on a survey by a Federal employee who has little regard for costs. Many new services included.
Natural resources	7,886,761	Largest increase is for forestry, which offers new protection, expansion of functions and enlargement of all-year crews.
Debt service	8,152,416	Biennial fixed charge and not controllable.
Subventions to local governments other than education, welfare and public health	7,146,000	These should be audited by the State and better controls set up.
Total	$85,195,051

Over-all Controls Recommended

Reference to the table on expenditures will show how the remaining $30,794,946 from the General Fund in the Budget for 1945-47 is distributed.

It is clear that if some over-all method of reducing the entire amount in the six larger divisions of expenditures and the numerous smaller ones is available, more can be accomplished than to make many small adjustments.

We believe that this can be done by the following procedure with as much or more equity than has been used in making the Budget.

Careful use of the Budget Document will show that the actual expenditures for the fiscal year 1943-44 are generally lower than the actual and estimated expenditures for the next fiscal year, or 1944-45. This follows from the fact that savings and adjustments have been made for the first year and the second are estimates.

Savings Made From Appropriations 1943-44 Should Be Equaled for 1944-45

Comparison with the actual amount budgeted for the first year of the current biennium will show that a savings was accomplished of approximately $17,000,000. When bills outstanding are paid, this will still leave twelve or thirteen million dollars or possibly a little more as a saving. Relatively, the same condition should prevail for the Fiscal Year 1944-45, which has four months yet to run. The total saving for the biennium under appropriations should be twenty-four to twenty-six million dollars. This leads to the conclusion that there should be a comparable savings possible for 1945-47, and this should be made throughout the Budget with the exception of some few departments and agencies. To be on the conservative side, we, therefore, recommend a reduction of $10,000,000 to be made by the Department of Finance arbitrarily from all the General Fund expenditures; this to be distributed in general on the basis of the ratio that $10,000,000 is to the total appropriation from the General Fund expenditures subject to this reduction. In other words, if it was considered that some department or office, such as the Treasurer's office, was budgeted so close as to not make possible this percentage reduction, the total amount appropriated for this office will be taken from the grand total in determining the ratio or percentage reduction.

This is to apply to both classes of expenditures; that is, those that do not appear in the appropriation bill and which are by constitutional provision and continuing legislation and those that are in the appropriation bill. These that are in the appropriation bill are to be reduced by the determined percentage.

This reduction is in addition to all others that are specifically recommended for individual appropriations, where services are entirely eliminated.

Further Reductions in the Budget

There are other over-all reductions that we recommend in the Budget that can be stated in general terms and which can apply to practically every department, which we recommend as follows:

Printing

1. We previously recommend earlier in this report a general cut in all allocations for printing with the exceptions noted in the attached schedule. These reductions as indicated are recommended for the reason that the printing costs throughout the Budget are in general increases over the estimated and actual expenditure for the Fiscal Year 1944-45. We specifically recommend that these increases in general be cut back to the actual and estimated for 1944-45. These cuts are shown in the preceding schedule.* They amount to a total of $217,865 for the biennium.

We believe that an actual reduction of printing is in order and that many items that are now printed can be reduced in size or frequently eliminated without hurting any service. This applies to mimeographing and other reproduction.

Specifically we recommend that the written or printed reports of the several departments for the Governor's Council be required once every six months in place of monthly. This will also save the time of from one to three persons in the several departments. The material comes out so frequently now as to be of less value than if it came out less often. A bill has been introduced to make this effective.

This recommendation for reduction in expenditures for printing is in keeping with the Ways and Means Committee action in refusing to increase the appropriation for their own printing. The same ratio of saving is recommended for the State as a whole.

Furthermore, we feel certain that the recent reorganization of the State Printing Plant will result in a material reduction in printing costs. If it does not, then, in our opinion, the Legislature should take over the control of this plant and set it up on the same basis as the United States Government Printing Office.

*Pages 17-23, inclusive.

Automobile Use and Abuse

2. We recommend an arbitrary cut of the total amount allowed for the operation of State automobiles in the flat amount of 10 per cent. This sum for each department to be held in a reserve by the Department of Finance and to be allocated back to the several departments concerned when they have exhausted the amount in the Budget allowed for this purpose, upon the certification and to the satisfaction of the Department of Finance, that no automibile of the department or agency has been used during the biennium for any other than State business.

This is for the purposes of endeavoring to eliminate the abuses in the use of State automobiles, which continue even in this time of restrictions on the use of State automobiles through gasoline rationing. Our investigation shows that the automobiles of the State operated by many departments are still used for private purposes — the largest abuses being to transport State employees to and from their work, thus providing transportation at State expense which is not available to the taxpayers of the State and which is contrary to the gasoline rationing provision.

There are other abuses that are more flagrant. There are departments that complain that they can not perform the services required because of the limited use of automobiles available due to gasoline rationing, where the cars of this department are almost daily being used to provide private transportation in the nature of taxicab service for the employees of the department. In some instances these cars are used to pick up several State employees, not only to bring them to work but to transport them from work, frequently stopping to allow shopping on the way home.

A large number of State automobiles are driven by State employees on Saturday and Sunday, when both their employment record and the vacation that they claim indicates that neither Saturday nor Sunday is a work day for this particular employee.

These abuses are not limited to those holding minor positions in the State Government. These abuses are unfair to the great body of the State employees who in no wise are guilty of this misuse of State equipment.

In addition to the above procedure we recommend that the allowances for the use of automobiles for the several agencies of the State be reduced according to the following schedule.

The total savings will be at least $144,132 and still there will be provided substantial increase in automobile allowances for 1945-47 over 1943-45. The details are given on the schedule below.

Upon review of previous Budgets we find the following:

For the fiscal year of 1943-1944 the Division of Registration Estimated in the Budget $4,500, whereas they actually spent $4,826. You will note by the above that this is the largest amount since 1943-1944. We are recommending that the amount for the biennium of 1945-1947 be reduced to $5,000 for each fiscal year or $10,000 for the biennium against $16,250 as appears in the 1945-1947 Budget.

For the same period (1943-1944) the Division of Enforcement Estimated $156,995 for automobile expense, whereas they actually spent $231,469. The largest expenditure, for automobile expense, since June 30, 1939, was $243,650 for the 1941-1942 Fiscal Year. This was also the period in which their personnel was the highest. From January, 1940, to June, 1942, the personnel increased from 721 to 1,052. As of December 31, 1944, it was 772.

Therefore we believe $500,000 for the 1945-1947 biennium or $250,000 for each Fiscal Year should be a fair allowance for automobile expenditure.

For motorcycle operations we would recommend as proposed which should give them a surplus to operate on.

Item Analysis of the Proposed Appropriations in the Budget Bill (Assembly Bill No. 500 and Senate Bill No. 294) for the 1945-1947 Biennium

Legislative (Items 1 to 15, inclusive, of the Appropriation Bill, Assembly Bill No. 500, and pages 1 to 3, inclusive, of the budget)

No Budget hearings were held as respects appropriations for the Legislature. The constitutional requirements for salaries are provided. Allowances for mileage and contingent expenses are based upon prior allowances, with no account being taken of the cost of special sessions. We present herewith a tabulation showing the actual legislative costs from January 3, 1943, to December 20, 1944:

The Budget proposes a total expenditure for the 1943-45 Biennium of $1,078,686, a reduction of $76,902 or of 7 per cent from the estimated amount to be spent for the current biennium and also new services. Legislative offices in the sum of $10,464 were added at the same time. This is in contrast to a total Budget increase of 16.4 per cent and an increase for almost every other function of State Government. The Legislature of California, like Congress, session after session enlarges the scope and appropriations for every other branch and function of government but does not enlarge its own service staff or appropriation to check on these enlarged activities to see if they function as required or if appropriations are faithfully made and reported.

The following table further summarizes estimated and proposed expenditures for the 1943-45 and 1945-47 biennial periods:

Expenditures Current Expenses	Actual & Estimated 1943-45	Estimated & Proposed 1945-47	Increase (+) or Decrease (—) from 1943-45
Senate	$285,974	$285,500	— $474
Assembly	471,504	472,000	+ 495
Joint expenses	390,387	303,000	—87,387
Legislative office:
Los Angeles	3,580	6,400	+ 2,820
San Francisco	4,142	6,040	+ 1,898
Alameda County		5,746	+ 5,746
Total Expenditures	$1,155,588*	$1,078,686	—$76,902

* Includes estimated expenditures for the 1945 Regular Session to June 1945. Also includes deficiencies in existing appropriations for the 1943-45 biennium aggregating $126,086.

The proposed decrease of some $87,000 for joint legislative expenses is represented by a cut of that amount for legislative printing, binding, etc., to a total of $300,000. It is certain that this sum will be insufficient to cover printing and binding expenses. It is significant that allowances for printing in all other agencies have been increased.

It appears that $100,000 more should be added to this appropriation to cover what will undoubtedly be required, making a total of $1,178,678, which will amount to an increase of about $23,000 or 2 per cent over the expenditures for the current biennium. The total Budget, based on the Governor's figures, shows an increase of 16.4 per cent.

Reasons for the addition of $100,000 are as follows:

1. The cost of printing and paper probably will remain high.
2. With the end of the war probably occurring during the biennium, it is probable that the Legislature will be convened into special sessions to deal with the many postwar problems that will arise.
3. There are likely to be as many, or more, interim legislative committees during the coming biennium as has been the case during the current biennial period, and their activities require the expenditure of money.
4. The size of the job to be done by the Legislature if it exercises its constitutional responsibility increases as the Budget increases.

We wish to emphasize that there is no particular merit in setting up a Budget which includes items that will be less than will be reasonably required, and it certainly should be consistent with comparable estimates made in other parts of the Budget. This is not true as respects legislative printing and other joint expense. The amount in the Appropriation Bill for this purpose is placed at $300,000, which is exactly the amount in the appropriation bills for the 1941 and 1943 Regular Sessions. However, all through the remaining parts of the Budget for almost every agency and translated into the Appropriation Bill, increases have been allowed for printing. This is particularly significant in Item 36, allowing the Secretary of State $95,000 for printing the constitutional amendments, which is $39,000 in excess of expenditures for that purpose during the current biennium. What will be required is equally as uncertain as what the Legislature will need.

Past under-budgeting for the Legislature has necessitated deficiency appropriations. On the basis of estimates in the Governor's Current Budget, deficiencies in existing appropriations for the 1943-45 appropriations for the Legislature total $126,086 to meet the estimated expenditure of $1,155,588. We recommended in March, 1943, that for the 1943-45 Biennium the sum of $200,000 be added to the appropriation for the Legislature. Actually, our estimate of the additional sum needed will be exceeded by about $82,186 due in part to the four special sessions. Our present estimate that an additional $100,000 at least will be required does not include any added services for the Legislature.

Items 13, 14, and 15 in the Budget Bill, for the support of legislative offices should be changed from "Senate Office" to "Legislative Office." These three items appear in the Budget for the first time. They provide for a permanent office to serve the entire Legislature in the three counties indicated. Offices have been opened in Los Angeles and San Francisco. The office is not yet opened in Alameda County. Apparently it was the intention of the Legislature in establishing these offices to make them available for all legislators.

Legislative Counsel Bureau

Item 16 of the Appropriation Bill, pages 4 and 5 of the Budget, is set up in the sum of $199,358, an increase of $37,769 or 23 per cent. Of this increase, $29,040 represents the budgeted salaries of three new positions for personnel expected to return from military leave and $6,780 amounts to the increased salary expense resulting from reclassification of seven positions to higher classes.

This bureau, due to the loss of experienced men to the armed services, has been forced to work an excessive amount of overtime, for which they have not been compensated. The increasing services required by interim committees likewise has added to its burden. If trained personnel now on military leave return to their positions undesirable overtime conditions will be corrected in a large part. It is believed that the bureau could not operate effectively on less money than is budgeted for the coming biennium, particularly since there will probably be extra legislative sessions.

Working Conditions of the Legislative Counsel

Again we wish to call attention to the fact that greater efficiency and a larger return for the money expended can be secured if the Legislative Counsel is given adequate quarters. The work performed requires close attention and concentration. In many instances it is highly technical and frequently it not only requires concentrated thought but also consultation with others. During the session almost continuous conferences between the members of the Legislature and the members of the Legislative Counsel Bureau staff occur in relation to legislation being prepared or amended. The desks of the staff members are so crowded together that it is practically impossible to hold such conferences without interfering with the work of other staff members. The chief of the bureau frequently must hold conferences with committees and groups and the representatives of the various departments of the State. He does not have adequate space to hold such conferences. It is evident that greater economy and efficiency will result if quarters are provided to meet this particular problem.

Waste of Legislative Counsel Time

We wish to again point out that a considerable amount of time of the Legislative Counsel Bureau is wasted through improper consideration and indiscriminate requests. For example, the carte blanche authorization given by some members of the Legislature to citizens interested in legislation to have any bills drawn which they wish is frequently an extravagant waste of time of the Legislative Counsel Bureau. Frequently inexperienced persons make requests that are poorly considered, indefinite and subsequently prove to be unacceptable to the legislator authorizing the request. Frequently the requests of legislators themselves are so indefinite as to place an undue burden on the imagination as well as the technical skill of the Legislative Counsel Bureau.

The numerous duplicate requests of the various members of the Legislature cause a large amount of duplicate and overlapping work and increase the burden and the costs of the bureau. The Legislature itself has the sole power of correcting this situation through its rules and procedure. There are some difficulties involved in providing procedure which will allow all of the latitude that is necessary for individual and untrammeled action on the part of the members and at the same time eliminate waste and unproductive work on the part of the staff of the bureau that, no matter what the burden, endeavors to provide every service.

California Code Commission

Item 17, page 3 of the Appropriation Bill, page 6 of the Budget. Appropriation $29,450. This proposed appropriation represents an increase of $11,445 over expenditure for the current biennium. The proposed increase is necessary to expedite this agency's important work of codifying the laws. We recommend this appropriation as a good investment for the State. Future economy in printing bills and expediting legislative business will result.

California Commission on Uniform State Laws

Item 18, page 3 of the Appropriation Bill, page 7 of the Budget. Appropriation $2,000. This proposed appropriation is practically the same as expenditures for the current biennium. No reduction is advisable unless the entire function is eliminated. State business, including adjustments in taxes resulting from the war activity and the possible return to a peacetime status, probably emphasizes the need for this service.

Supreme Court

Item 19, page 3 of the Appropriation Bill, pages 8 and 9 of the Budget. Appropriation $527,080.

This is an increase of $55,591 or 12 per cent over expenditures for the current biennium or less than the Budget average increase of 16.4 per cent. Of this increase, $24,520 arises from salaries of four proposed new positions and the promotion of second assistant reporter of decisions as provided for by Section 767 of the Political Code. There also is scheduled $38,760 for special salary adjustments.

This increase includes the following adjustments of salary rates:

	Current		Proposed
Law Clerk	$300 + 25	to	$400 + 25
Assistant Law Clerk	150 + 25	to	275 + 25
Stenographer	150 + 25	to	190 + 25

There is some difference of opinion among the members of the court as to the assistance and cost thereof each member requires. This we believe depends on the individual work habits and abilities of the several justices and we doubt if there ever will be a unanimous decision on the matter by the court. We believe there are sufficient funds in the proposed appropriation to supply the needs of both the majority view and the dissenting opinion and that the court can and should make its own internal arrangements so as to best provide for its needs.

Unlike practically all of the other State agencies, there is no credit set up for salary savings due to the war effort. It is believed that these will accrue and that salary savings can be and will be made by this court on a basis comparable with other departments. We believe the sum of $1,000 or more will remain unspent in this category at the end of the biennium. We feel the court has made its Budget request only after carefully considering its requirements for rendering adequate service.

In our report to the last regular session of the Legislature we recommended that the salaries of the employees of the Supreme Court be studied by the Personnel Board in relation to the salaries paid by other departments for like services and that the salary scale be established for those employees on a comparable and equitable basis, giving full recognition to the dignity of the court. We pointed out that no such study had ever been made by the Personnel Board. It is reported that the Department of Finance has just initiated arrangements with the Personnel Board for such a study. We heartily commend this action and look forward to the findings of the study.

Judicial Council

Item 20, page 3 of the Appropriation Bill, and pages 10 and 11 of the Budget. Appropriation $116,100. The cost for 1931-33 was $55,977, less than half of this Budget, and in 1941-43 it was $50,781—even lower.

The increase of $47,327 over expenditures for the current biennium is almost as much as the entire cost of 1941-43. Of this increase, $12,423 is for support, including upward salary adjustments of $4,200 for four positions, and $34,904 is for extra compensation and expenses of judges assigned by the Judicial Council to courts other than those in which they regularly sit. This total increase does not seem justified for the following reasons:

1. No salary savings are set up out of the salaries of a purely technical staff, in excess of $56,000. Also, the rates have not been established by the Personnel Board on a basis comparable to those of other State agencies. We recommend that a modest salary saving of $1,000 be set up here.
2. We also notice an operating expense item of $800 is included for automobile maintenance. We do not find reason for travel on a regular basis which justifies the full time assignment of a State automobile.

3. We believe that the item of $50,000 for extra compensation and expenses of judges assigned by the Judicial Council to courts other than those in which they regularly sit should be reduced to $40,000, which is still an increase of $24,904 over expenditures for the current biennium. We do feel that the constitutional requirement providing for the pay of the extra compensation for judges sitting in another court should be made. However, we do not believe that permanently incapacitated judges should continue to hold office and be paid—partly by the State—and other judges sent in to hear all of their cases and be paid travel expense and possibly extra compensation. If these incapacitated judges can not serve, they should be retired as the Retirement Act contemplated and provides.

We believe the Judicial Council, as part of its duty to improve the courts and judicial procedure, might well recommend to the Governor retirement of justices if such action would accomplish this general purpose and remedy any existing abuse. Copy of a letter from the Chairman of the Judicial Council, presenting the council views on this matter, is presented herewith:

March 2, 1945

Hon. Albert C. Wollenberg,
Chairman, Assembly Ways and Means Committee,
Sacramento, California.

MY DEAR MR. WOLLENBERG: Concerning our Budget request for funds to pay increased compensation and expenses of assigned judges during the 1945-1947 Biennium, I would like to call your attention to the following constitutional and statutory provisions:

Section 1a, Article VI of the Constitution;

(6) ***

"The chairman (of the Judicial Council) shall seek to expedite judicial business and to equalize the work of the judges, and shall provide for the assignment of any judge to another court of a like or higher jurisdiction to assist a court or judge whose calendar is congested, to act for a judge who is disqualified or unable to act, or to sit and hold court where a vacancy in the office of judge has occurred.

 "The several judges shall cooperate with the Council, shall sit and hold court as assigned, ***

 Any judge assigned to a court wherein a judge's compensation is greater than his own shall receive while sitting therein the compensation of a judge thereof. The extra compensation shall be paid in such manner as may be provided by law. Any judge assigned to a court in a county other than that in which he regularly sits shall be allowed his necessary expenses for travel, board and lodging incurred in the discharge of the assignment."

Chapter 486, Statutes of 1929 (Deering's General Laws, 1944, Act 3904, Sec. 1) provides for the manner of paying extra compensation and expenses of assigned judges, and the proportions to be paid by the State and county. Subdivision (f) thereof states: "The payment by the State toward such extra compensation and expenses shall be made from the moneys appropriated for the support of the Judicial Council."

Under the provisions of Chapter 486, Statutes of 1929, the State is chargeable with increased compensation and expenses of assigned judges as follows:

1. The State is chargeable with a portion of the expenses of a superior court judge assigned to another superior court when there is no increase in compensation, but it is not chargeable with any increased compensation under these assignments, as the State's contribution toward the salaries of all superior court judges is uniform. See subdivisions (a) and (d).
2. The State is chargeable with a portion of the increased compensation and expenses of a municipal court judge or justice of the peace assigned to a superior court. See subdivisions (c) and (d).

3. The State is chargeable with the entire increased compensation and expenses of judges sitting pro tempore in the supreme court and district courts of appeal. See Section 3.

Due to the depression, funds appropriated for support of the Judicial Council were so reduced for the Biennium 1933-1935 that it was not possible to pay the State's share of increased compensation and expenses of assigned judges, and subsequent appropriations have been equally inadequate. On account of limited appropriations, since July 1, 1933, it has been necessary to ask judges to accept assignments under waiver of the constitutional increase in compensation and expenses to which they were entitled. They have generously made this waiver, and a tremendous volume of work has been accomplished by them.

Since July 1, 1933, under the provisions of Chapter 926 of the Statutes of 1933, amended by Chapter 258 of the Statutes of 1943 (Deering's General Laws, 1944, Act 3904, Section 1a), the respective counties have borne the State's portion of the expenses of superior court judges assigned to outside superior courts.

During the period July 1, 1933, to June 30, 1943, superior court judges assigned to district courts of appeal wrote a total of 2,363 opinions, but our appropriations permitted payment for only a small fraction of their time devoted to this extra work; i.e., no increased compensation during the 1933-1935 and 1935-1937 periods, when 1,538 opinions were written, or during the year 1937-1938; approximately $0.43 on the dollar was paid for their work during the year 1938-1939; during 1939-1941 they were not paid any increased compensation; and during the biennium 1941-1943 they were only paid for their work during the year 1941-1942.

The superior court judges who assisted the district courts of appeal have waived the remainder of the increased compensation to which they were entitled, and, since July 1, 1933, the municipal court judges and justices of the peace assigned to superior courts have waived all of the State's share of their increased compensation and expense.

From our statistical data concerning the annual outside assistance given the respective superior courts by assigned judges, we estimate that the State's share of the expenses of superior court judges serving in superior courts other than their own would be $5,000 a year, and that the State's portion of the increased compensation and expenses of municipal court judges and justices of the peace assigned to superior courts would be $5,000 a year, or a total of $10,000 per year for superior court assistance.

We have estimated that at least $1,000 a year should be provided for compensation and expenses of justices who may be assigned to the Supreme Court, and $14,000 a year for district court of appeal assistance, making a total of $15,000 per year for these courts.

In connection with the suggestion by Mr. Vandegrift at the hearing before your committee to the effect that failure to make assignments to superior courts might bring about the retirement of disabled judges, I wish to call your attention to the constitutional provisions of Section 1a. Article VI, heretofore quoted, requiring the assignment of judges by the Chairman of the Judicial Council.

The involuntary retirement of a justice or judge is provided for in Act 5849a, Section 3, Deering's General Laws, 1944, and requires action by the Governor and consent of the members of the committee on qualifications.

I trust that the information given herein may clarify the situation.

Very truly yours,

(s) PHIL S. GIBSON, Chairman

cc: Mr. James F. Dean
Mr. Rolland A Vandegrift"

4. The fourth item of saving is in printing. The actual expenditures for 1941-43 were $138.77, and for 1943-45 $1,121, while the request for the coming biennium totals $2,000. We recommend that this be reduced to $1,100, or a reduction of $900 for the biennium, and that any additional requirement, if any, be secured from the Emergency Fund.

The total reductions for the Judicial Council, therefore, would amount to $12,700.

First District Court of Appeals

Item 21 of the Appropriation Bill, pages 12 and 13 of the Budget. Appropriation $257,940.

This is an increase of $11,681 over expenditures for the current biennium, and consists of salaries of two proposed new positions of law clerk and the upward special salary adjustments for two established positions. We believe a possible salary saving of $500 can be made but see no necessity of a Budget reduction.

Second District Court of Appeals

Item 22 of the Appropriation Bill, pages 14 and 15 of the Budget. Appropriation $357,780.

This is an increase of $12,463 due partly to one proposed new position for a Legal Research Secretary with a biennial salary of $7,800. We recommend a salary saving item of $600.

Third District Court of Appeals

Item 23 of the Appropriation Bill, pages 16 and 17 of the Budget. Appropriation $141,580.

This is an increase of $6,540 which occurs to cover minor increases for special salary adjustments, for operating expenses, and for equipment. There are 12 employees, which is next to the lowest number for any of the Appellate Courts. No suggested saving is advisable.

Fourth District Court of Appeals

Item 24 of the Appropriation Bill, page 18 of the Budget. Appropriation $169,760.

This is a decrease of $485, one of the few in the Budget. This is a traveling court. There is an item of $21,000 for travel which is approximately the same as the amount expended for the current biennium. There also is an item of $21,000 for the rental of quarters in the several towns in which the court sits. No credit for salary savings is suggested because of the small number of employees of this court.

Judges' Retirement Fund

Page 19 of the Budget. This is not found in the Appropriation Act for the reason that it is a fixed charge. The amount scheduled for the coming biennium, $108,578, is practically the same as that for the current period. More use of this provision for retirement of incapacitated judges will save the State in cost for judges to do the work of incapacitated justices.

State's Share of Salaries of Judges of Superior Courts

Item 25 of the Appropriation Bill, page 794 of the Budget. Appropriation $1,304,000.

This is a fixed charge prescribed by Section 736b of the Political Code. The State's share is fixed at $4,000 per judge per year. It can be controlled by the Legislature.

Executive

Items 26 to 29, inclusive, of the Budget Bill, pages A-10 and 20 to 25, inclusive, of the Budget.

Summary of Executive Function

Page A-10 of the Budget indicates that the proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium for the Executive function (covering the activities of the offices of the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, and the War Council are $556,241 or 65.7 per cent less than the expenditures for the current period 1943-45.

War Council

The table below shows that this reduction ensues entirely from the fact that there is no item in the Budget or in the Appropriation Bill for the War Council for the 1945-47 Biennium.

It is presumed from this that the Governor does not recommend that the War Council be continued in the 1945-47 Biennium. In this we heartily concur and go one step further and recommend that it be discontinued at once (March 1945); that all property it has be turned over to the Department of Finance for liquidation; that all necessary residual functions be given to appropriate existing agencies of the State; and that all remaining funds be reverted to the General Fund.

Expenditures of the War Council for the current biennium are estimated at $567,505.

The percentage decrease of 65.7 per cent shown on Schedule II-B, page A-10 of the Budget, for the Executive function gives an erroneous impression, as no normal function of this branch of the government was decreased but on the other hand, they were increased as shown on the following schedule:

Office	Expenditures: Actual and Estimated 1941-43	Actual and Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase (+) or Decrease (—) for 1945-1947 over 1943-45: Amount	Per cent
Governor	$213,682	$253,433	$261,285	$+7,852	+ 3.1
Lieutenant Governor	12,938	26,172	29,586	+3,414	+13.0
War Council	419,921	567,505	------	—567,505	—100.0
Total	$646,541	$847,110	$290,871	$—556,239	—65.7

The schedule below reveals that the estimated expenditures for the current Biennium (1943-1945) actually exceed the amounts proposed in the Budget of two years ago by substantial amounts.

Office	Expenditure proposed for 1943-45 by the 1943-45 Budget *	Actual and estimated expenditures for 1943-45 as reported in the 1945-47 Budget 	Excess of actual and estimated expenditures for 1943-45 over amounts indicated by the 1943-45 Budget: Amount	Per cent

Governor

Item 26 of the Budget Bill, page 20 of the Budget. Appropriation $234,285.

This is an increase of $7,851 or only 3.1 per cent as compared with 16.4 per cent increase for the Budget as a whole, one of the smallest increases by percentage in the budget. The same number of positions are provided for as in the current biennium.

It appears that operating expense can be reduced by $7,200, as follows, without curtailing the operations of the office and we believe that if conditions make this possible this saving or more will be made by this office.

Appropriation as requested recommended.

Item 27 of the Budget Bill and page 21 of the Budget provides $14,000 for the special Secret Service Fund for the biennium for the Governor's Office, which is the same amount as for the current period. By law this is exempt from accounting and audit and can be spent by the Governor in any way he sees fit.

Item 28 of the Budget Bill, and page 21 of the Budget, provides for the support of the Governor's residence in the amount of $12,000. This is the customary appropriation for this purpose.

In our report on the Budget for 1943-45, published in the Senate Journal of March 20, 1943, we pointed out that the request made in that Budget for the Governor's Office was insufficient if he expected to discontinue the practice of borrowing help, automobiles, and other services. Our estimates proved correct and more money was required to eliminate the borrowing of help.

The practice of borrowing cars continues as has been the established procedure since 1934. Three cars are in use by the office which were purchased by other departments. Our recommendation made then can be repeated. However, with this exception actual costs of the office now are reflected in the expenditures.

Lieutenant Governor

Item 29 of the Budget Bill and page 22 of the Budget. Appropriation $29,586.

This shows an increase of $3,413 or 13 per cent over expenditures for the current biennium, and $16,648 or 129 per cent over reported expenditures for the 1941-43 period.

A reduction of $10,524 in this appropriation distributed as follows would bring this office back to what it formerly had as a Budget and in borrowed services.

1. Elimination of the position of Intermediate Stenographer-Clerk	$ 4,200
2. Elimination of the position of Senior Legal Stenographer	5,160
3. Reduction of proposed allowance for travel expense from $3,164 to $2,000	1,164
Total	$10,524

These reductions would leave an allowance of $19,062 which is still $6,124 in excess of actual reported expenditures for the 1941-43 period and also covers all costs of borrowed services. The recommended reduced amount would provide the Lieutenant Governor with a Secretary and the operating expenses needed to carry out his activities currently required of him as presiding officer of the Senate, and for service on the boards and commissions now provided by law, and for such service as acting Governor when the Governor is out of the State or incapacitated.

An examination of the several statutes wherein the Lieutenant Governor serves as a member of a board or commission and the actual practice of each shows that his expenses in this connection are covered. In each instance the Lieutenant Governor as a member of such body is allowed his expenses and also, in the case of the State Lands Commission, such clerical and other service as he requires.

He is also allowed his mileage as presiding officer of the Senate whenever called upon to attend a regular or special session. There are no duties required that justify assigning a State automobile for the sole use of the Lieutenant Governor other than that this high office in a state of the size and importance of California does require public participation in many matters, not as a matter of assigned duties by law but as a consequence of the office. The present Governor has been absent from the State more and oftener than any other Governor, thus placing on the Lieutenant Governor a greater obligation in this respect. The Lieutenant Governor, although not required by any duties to do so has practically given up the practice of law and states he devotes his full time to the office. Here is a case where the Legislature must view an appropriation from the two aspects of

(1) What is required by law and practice of the office?

(2) What does the incumbent do as an assumption of the requirements of the office?

The amount of the appropriation will depend on this decision of which view should be supported by an appropriation.

We can repeat our statement of 1943 as continuing to be applicable to this office.

> "The secretary provided for the Lieutenant Governor and the other operating expenses should be sufficient for all the activities now required of the Lieutenant Governor as presiding officer of the Senate and service on the boards and commissions now provided by law. If the Lieutenant Governor is required to render additional services to the State and serve on additional boards or commissions, the additional expense of secretarial service, office and travel should be considered at that time. It does not appear to be necessary from the requirements of the office for the Lieutenant Governor to maintain several offices throughout the State in order to render to the public all the services required in connection with this office."

General Administration

Codification Board

Item 30, Budget Bill, page 26 of the Budget. Appropriation $55,961, an increase of $4,889.74.

This board is composed of the Legislative Counsel, the Director of Finance and the Secretary of State. It was established in 1941, sponsored by the State Bar Association for purpose of correcting an abuse or deficiency in administration by certain State boards whereby persons were injured by failure to know some regulation, rule, or order or change thereof and violated the same. It was provided that the above board would collect and publish such rules and supplements to the same and keep the public, and particularly the attorneys, informed of all such rules, amendments and changes thereof.

The board has in our opinion done a good, intelligent, and economical job but this does not strike at the root of the evil. This for the reason the several boards and commissions can change or amend rules at will, and they are effective before this board can collect and publish them.

For this reason it is recommended the Codification Board be abolished and all remaining unexpended and unobligated funds be reverted to the General Fund and Item 30 of the 1945 Budget Bill be stricken. Savings will be $55,961.

If the law is corrected (Assembly Bill No. 1002 is on the subject) to strike at the evil at the source such as requiring 30 days' notice before a change in all board rules, etc., becomes effective and the publication of same is required, then it is recommended that this service be rendered on a loose leaf or supplement basis on a cost charge basis, and it be made self-supporting. Saving to the General Fund will then be the same.

Board of Administration, State Employees' Retirement System

Item 31, Budget Bill, page 27 Budget. Appropriation $155,432. Increase $130.78.

The showing of such a small increase is misleading unless it is noted that one service, War Savings Bond Division, is abolished for the second year of the biennium (see page 28 Budget) with a reduction of $20,725.96. All this sum and $130 is added costs for other services. Most of the increase is due to the actuarial survey required during the biennium.

No large saving is possible, but should be a reduction for 1947-49 Biennium.

We only recommend the percentage saving in operations and salary recommended for the overall General Fund Budget of $10,000,000 or the personnel reserve savings.

For other pertinent comments see Budget Committee report of 1943 to the Legislature.

California Commission on Interstate Cooperation

Item 32, Budget Bill, page 29 of Budget. Appropriation $25,000, same as 1943. This is $1,224.25 above actual expenditures. Recommend only overall percentage cut to save relative share of $10,000,000 overall savings or general personnel savings as adopted.

State Personnel Board

Item 33, Budget Bill, pages 30-35 Budget. Appropriation $875,869, up $181,559 or 26.1 per cent, or approximately 10 per cent more than average of the Budget.

I. STATISTICAL FACTS

A. Summary	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Change Amount	Per cent
Board	$75,254	$79,189	$3,934	5.2
Administration	125,310	162,687	37,376	29.8

Classification and Pay	68,966	102,542	33,575	48.6
Testing and Recruiting Services	261,887	331,531	66,643	25.4
Cooperative Personnel	32,737	38,520	5,787	17.7
Total Expenditures	$725,213	$914,389	$189,176	26.1
Less: Reimbursement for special services to other State agencies and to units of local government	30,900	38,520	−7,620	−24.7
Net total Expenditures	$694,313	$875,869	−$181,556	−26.1

About one-third of the increased costs or $61,560 is caused by addition of 11 new positions in 1945-46 and 12 in 1946-47. Four war emergency positions are continued costing $11,885 for the biennium.

Salary adjustments and operating costs make up the balance.

If the State is to expand its personnel as proposed in the 1945-47 Budget by the additional personnel in other State departments then the Personnel Board will require additional help to service them. In addition, the increase in the number of new classes of employees established since 1943 requires more service. If the labor market changes to an employers' market from a stringency in workers the problem of selection will be increased and will require more help.

The personnel provided does not contemplate performing the added services necessary, if new departments and agencies as recommended by the Governor in his Biennial Message are established which will require the servicing of five or six hundred additional personnel.

In general the present Personnel Board should be commended for its improved functioning, its close attention to its problems and the general improvement in administration.

The board, in our opinion, still spends too much time in deciding minor matters which could be handled by the staff on the basis of general policy.

This board has a larger responsibility than is generally recognized affecting the performance of State personnel, the quality of governmental service and the cost thereof.

In our opinion the board has a duty to perform toward the employees, their empoyer, the State of California, and to the taxpayers who pay the bill. If the State errs by being over-liberal in classification of positions and pay scales, promotions, additional sick leave with pay, and in many other ways, the cost for State service goes up. If for lack of technical staff these functions can not be properly performed either the State or the employee suffers.

In our opinion the board must be diligent in maintaining salary scales equitable with those paid in private business and in other governmental service. This not only means increasing pay when competing private business raises pay but it also means that the board should be just as diligent, if not more so, in seeking out cases where pay is above the current labor market and reductions should be made accordingly. We have not found a single instance where this has been done. In our opinion the board should take the initiative for unless it does there is no one else who will perform this service for the taxpayers.

In the preceding schedule it is shown that the largest per cent increase is for classification and pay, or up 48.6 per cent. It is our opinion that this is justified and should assist in establishing equitable classes and pay scales.

The Personnel Board should take the lead in assisting and rewarding the efficient public servant and help to get rid of the incompetent. Under the present rules of procedure it is practically impossible to get rid of an incompetent person. Frequently a civil service employee is preparing charges against another civil service employee and in practically every instance the department administrator who brings charges is practically tried himself and if he loses the case is likely to have a difficult internal personnel problem. We suggest that a procedure be worked out whereby the problem of getting rid of an incompetent, dishonest or otherwise objectionable employee be made the duty of the board and that all that is required of the employer is to file a statement of fact supporting a recommendation for dismissal and from here on out the Personnel Board shall make its own investigation, its own findings and its order of dismissal.

Performance Reports

At the present moment automatic increases in pay are paid to all those who qualify on their performance reports and who are not now receiving the maximum of their range. An examination of the Budget document will show that money has been budgeted to take care of salary increases for the next two years for approximately 99 per cent of the State employees. It is manifestly impossible for 99 per cent of the State employees to attain such a record. The application of the biological curve to the attainment of State employees will also show that there is something drastically wrong with the performance reports. If the Personnel Board accomplished nothing else than revision and making effective the performance reports so the State could reward the competent and get rid of the incompetent it would be worth the entire Budget of this agency.

Sick Leave

The board has full power to control sick leave. The importance of this matter is realized when we consider that it costs the State of California $1,000,000 a year to give sick leave allowances that have been granted in the past. See following memorandum for the Personnel Board from their Executive Officer dated August 13, 1943.

"Memorandum for the State Personnel Board

Subject: Report on Sick Leave

As Director of Finance, Mr. R. A. Vandegrift had a study made early in 1932 of sick leaves approved by the commission. This study showed that a large number of employees were taking the maximum amount of sick leave each year. In order to reduce this abuse and induce employees to take sick leave only if and when it was needed, Mr. Vandegrift prevailed upon the Civil Service Commission to adopt a new rule (essentially the present rule) based on the principle of saving or accumulating unused sick leave against the day when some serious illness might cause an extended absence from duty. In the following excerpt from Mr. Vandegrift's recent letter (July 7, 1943) he explains the matter a little more fully:

"In 1932 when the rule was established allowing for the accumulation of sick leave on the basis of 10 days per year if not used to a maximum of 100 days, the principle involved was twofold. First, it was an attempt to eliminate the abuses of sick leave for it was found many employees took sick leave up to the full limit then two weeks was allowed on the theory that they had it coming to them, and if they did not use it they lost its value. The second theory was that this would establish a sort of reserve insurance fund available when any serious illness occurred. This was for the purpose of giving security so a sick employee would remain home until recovered and would not appear on the job sick and unable to work and frequently a menace to other employees.

COST

The following is a tabulation of the sick leave approved by our office during the year period June, 1942, through May, 1943:

June, 1942	$ 61,828 18
July	69,716 38
August	52,284 54
September	52,821 17
October	58,103 84

March	95,128 38
April	94,252 75
May	81,245 51
	$861,852 41

In addition to sick leave granted under the normal provisions of the rule, over a period of the past few years, there has been an increasing amount of additional sick leave with pay granted by the Personnel Board. A cursory review of the minutes for the period July 1, 1942, through June 30, 1943, revealed that the Board had approved the equivalent to somewhat over $11,000 in additional sick leave during the period."

The number of employees granted additional sick leave with pay over the accumulated sick leave continued to go up in 1943 and 1944. In the first year it reached 32 and in 1944 with fewer employees it was 34. The actual money cost was reduced. The factual data is shown on the following tabulation prepared at our request by the Personnel Board and dated Mar. 13, 1945:

STATE PERSONNEL BOARD REPORT ON ADDITIONAL SICK LEAVE WITH PAY GRANTED BY THE STATE PERSONNEL BOARD, 1943 AND 1944

Average number of days of sick leave accumulated before additional sick leave was granted	42¼ days	Average number of days of sick leave accumulated before additional sick leave was granted	37¼ days

The minimum sick leave allowed is 12 working days per year with full pay and an accumulation of 10 days per year up to 100 days. At almost every meeting during the past year and a half the Personnel Board has granted additional sick leave. Little attempt has been made to find out if such leave was justified. Our files contain many instances where we have felt that the board has been overly liberal in making these awards. If the abuse of sick leave could be eliminated both that which is reported and that which remains unreported, the Budget required to do this would be a good investment. There is a bill before the Senate authored by the Budget Committee, which will cure much of this abuse.

Medical Examinations

Our investigation likewise shows that many State employees are put to work without any medical examination being required, promotions are also made without requiring a physical examination. It has cost the State many hundreds of thousands of dollars unnecessarily because men were hired to perform work which they were not physically able to do or they were promoted to a position requiring greater exertion or hazard without a physical examination and at least one instance has come to our notice where the employee was already seriously physically handicapped. We believe this situation should be cleared up and we feel that the employment of a full-time physician by the Board will assist materially with this.

For the above reasons we feel that the appropriation for the Personnel Board should be approved but that there should be applied to it the overall percentage cut necessary to produce the $10,000,000 over all saving previously explained or the personnel saving in salaries and wages. We also feel that the ratio of salary saving applicable to produce a $3,000,000 total Salary Restoration Fund should be applied to this appropriation if the total salary restoration program is not made effective.

We recommend that the Personnel Board utilize some of its additional staff provided in this Budget to simplify the personnel paper work required of the several departments and that the process of hiring, paying, dismissal layoff and other procedures be simplified and the work reduced to a minimum.

We also recommend that the Personnel Board cooperate with the Department of Finance and the Controller's office and the several departments of the State concerned to expedite personnel and other records and the checking thereof so that the pay roll of the several department may be expedited and employees of the State may be paid on a fixed date each month and as soon after the service was performed as is possible.

General Observation

The Budget of the Reconstruction and Reemployment Commission must be considered differently than the Budgets for State agencies that have been long established and have a normal program. This commission has two particular functions. One is to carry on research, plan and assist in postwar reconstruction and reemployment. This we hope will be a one-time activity, and this should end, in its major proportions, with the war or soon thereafter. The other function is in the nature of an all-time activity in carrying on the work assumed from the State Planning Commission and administering the Planning Act.

The first activity, planning for reconstruction and reemployment, is the largest part of the commission's work. It has a tremendous importance, and if this commission can suggest ways and means to orderly solve the problems of postwar reconstruction and reemployment, the expenditure of the amount set up in the Budget for the coming biennium of $357,965 will be one of the best investments the State has made.

While the original bill which initiated the idea of a commission with the essential functions given to this commission appeared in the Legislature as Senate Bill No. 807, introduced and sponsored by the Legislative Budget Committee, we still feel that no one can judge with certainty as to the possible success of the Reconstruction and Reemployment Commission. The original form of the organization provided in Senate Bill No. 807 was materially changed, as were the methods and the membership of the commission. However, the general intent which is universally desired is the same. It appears to be far better to make the expenditure required and endeavor to secure the desired results—although we may fall far short of the goal—than not to perform the service and regret it. To date the results are not measurable.

This organization was started in 1943-44, but with only a skeleton staff. This went on for the first six months of the biennium. Some expansion was made in the second six months, but full and effective functioning was not begun until the third six months of the Biennium 1943-45. It is planned to carry on a somewhat expanded program for the first full year of the 1945-47 Biennium and the first six months of the second year, 1946-47. Staff and operations will be reduced during the last six months of the biennium.

An analysis of the operation of the commission by six months' periods is presented at the bottom of page 36 of the Budget. This will show the amounts to be spent for each six months of the three principal divisions of operation, that is, salaries and wages, operating expenses, and equipment.

The tapering off process will begin in December of 1946. Operations will be reduced to about 40 per cent of what is considered normal. The staff will be reduced from an average of 37 in 1945-46 to an average of 31 for 1946-47.

The Legislature will be in session beginning January, 1947, and it can then review the operations of this commission. We recommend that this be done, for the reason that it is practically impossible to budget this kind of an activity, operating in a period of war emergency, planning postwar adjustments.

The two special surveys—Mineral Resources Survey, $20,000, and Education Survey, $20,000—were special appropriations made by the Legislature during the special session of 1943. These surveys will be available to the Legislature during the session, and the reduction shown by this amount does not mean a reduction in the actual program of the Reconstruction and Reemployment Commission.

Examination of the salaries paid to employees of the Reconstruction and Reemployment Commission will show that they are relatively high as compared with other State agencies. This follows from the nature of the work being done, where judgment is a particular requirement. We recommend, however, that the Department of Finance, in setting up their annual budget for this organization, see that salaries are kept in line with the recommendation of the Personnel Board as established for like positions in the State service.

Items to be especially scrutinized:

1. Proposed increase in salary of Deputy Director from $7,500 in 1944-45 to $8,000 in 1945-47. Should be determined by the Personnel Board.

2. Salary for Chief of Technical Staff in budget shows $7,500. This is misleading because it is proposed under "special salary adjustment" that this amount shall be increased to $8,000 in the 1945-47 Biennium. This adjustment should depend on recommendations of Personnel Board.

3. Salary for Administrative Officer is listed in Budget at $3,540. Under the "special salary adjustment" item it is proposed that this salary shall be increased during 1945-46 by $400, making a total of $3,940, and another increase during 1946-47 of $400, giving an ultimate salary of $4,340 by the end of the biennium. This adjustment should be on findings of the Personnel Board.

4. Will particularly question need for two research writers with such a highpowered staff of research specialists.

5. Traveling Expense

   (a) Note administrative traveling expense in the 1945-47 Biennium totals $23,850 vs. $10,255 for the 1943-45 Biennium, an increase of $13,595, or 132 per cent.

   (b) Citizens advisory committee traveling expense jumps from $2,500 in the 1943-45 Biennium to $12,150 in the 1945-47 Biennium, or an increase of $9,650, or 386 per cent. We doubt if this is necessary.

6. Printing

   Printing for 1943-44 amounted to $884. Estimated for 1944-45 is $4,000, an increase of $3,116 for the year, or 352 per cent.

   Estimated for 1945-47 Biennium is $12,500 vs. $4,884 for 1943-45 Biennium, an increase of $7,616, or 156 per cent. The value of the material issued should be well determined by this time. We question if some of it should be printed for general distribution.

7. Miscellaneous

See Tables II and III following for other out-of-line expenditures including telephone and telegraph, automobiles, accounting services, general office equipment, etc.

The 122 per cent increase in operating expense is composed of the following items:

We recommend that the requested appropriation be approved subject to full budgetary control and such savings be made as are reasonable; moreover that the work of the commission be reviewed by the 1947 session of the Legislature and a determination be made then for expenditures for the last six months of the biennium.

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures
For the Secretary of State, 1945-1947 Biennium

Items 35-38, inclusive, of the Appropriation Bill, pages 38-43, inclusive, of the Budget; appropriations totaling $305,730. Increase $71,852, or 30.6 per cent.

I. Statistical Facts

Items for the Secretary of State in the Appropriation Bill are as follows:

Item 35—For support of Secretary of State,	$161,830
Item 36—For printing constitutional amendments,	95,000
Item 37—For printing roster of public officials,	3,000
Item 38—For support of Collection Agency Division—Special Fund,	45,900
Total in appropriation bill,	$305,730

In addition, there is a continuing appropriation item of $1,040 in the Secretary of State's contributions to the State Employees' Retirement Fund. This brings the total of proposed expenditures for the 1945-1947 Biennium up to $306,770. This represents an increase of $71,852, or 30.6 per cent over the estimated expenditures for the current biennium.

The distribution of this proposed increased expenditure is as follows:

	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase Amount	Per cent
Administration	$145,579	$157,030	$11,450	7.9
Reproduction of Spanish Archives and Original Laws	----	4,800	4,800
Printing Constitutional Amendments	55,885	95,000	39,115	69.9
Compilation and publication of Roster of Public Officials	4,500	3,000	-1,500	-33.3
Collection Agency Fund (this is a self-supporting agency)	28,307	45,900	17,592	62.1
Contributions to State Employees' Retirement Fund	644	1,040	395	61.3
Totals	$234,915	$306,770	$71,852	30.6

Of the total increase of $71,852 scheduled for 1945-1947 over 1943-1945, $20,243 or 28.2 per cent is for expended salary expense. Of this sum $19,860 is for five proposed new positions. These are listed below as follows:

No. of positions Fiscal Years			Proposed Salaries
1945-46	1946-47		1945-46	1946-47
1	1	Intermediate account clerk	$1,620	$1,740
1	1	Laborer (one-half salary)	990	990
1	1	Supervising Photocopyist (M.L.)	2,340	2,340
1	1	Assistant Superintendent of Collection Agencies	3,420	3,600
1	1	Junior Stenographer-Clerk	1,380	1,440
5	5	Totals—Year	$9,750	$10,110
	5	Totals—Biennial	$19,860

Of the total increase of $71,852 scheduled for 1945-1947 over 1943-1945, $13,600 or 30.0 per cent is for expended operating expenses. These operating expenses are listed below as follows:

	Estimated Expenditures 1943-45	Proposed Expenditures 1945-47	Increase Amount	Per cent
Office	$2,626	$4,400	$1,774	67.6

Pro rata, Personnel Board Services	124	160	36	29.0
Pro rata, janitorial service	3,785	----	-3,785
Totals	$45,260	$58,860	$13,600	30.0

* The Secretary of State's office will be reimbursed by $8,400 for charges to other agencies for photostat services.

Equipment expenses is scheduled to increase by $2,752, as follows:

	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase
Office	$348	$1,600	$1,252
Automobile	----	1,500	1,500
	$348	$3,100	$2,752

II. Recommendations

1. That the amount of money allocated for printing constitutional amendments be reduced from $95,000 to $60,000, approximately the cost for the current biennium, which would effect a saving of $35,000.

2. We recommend that the proposed reduction necessary to produce the proportionate share of the $10,000,000 General Fund saving be applied to the Budget of the Secretary of State. This will have the effect of making a reduction in the operating expenses somewhat less than a specific recommendation previously made as follows:

That operating expenditures be reduced by $3,602, with the reduction being distributed as follows:

	Amount for 1943-45	Amount proposed by Budget 1945-47	Reduction we propose Amount	Reduction we propose Per cent
Office expense	$2,626	$4,400	$440	10.
Printing expense	8,798	10,700	1,902	17.77
Traveling	5,609	8,600	860	10.
Automobile	2,653	4,000	400	10.
	$19,680	$27,700	$3,602	13.

3. We also recommend that the over-all reduction for automobiles as per our previous schedule be applied to the office of the Secretary of State.

4. We also recommend a reduction in an appropriation for printing based upon the over-all schedule previously presented.

5. Recommended reduction would be $35,000 plus the reduction in automobiles and in over-all expenses which would be produced by the formula.

Collection Agencies

We wish to call attention to the fact that Item 38, support of the collection agency division in the sum of $45,900, is from a special fund. There is an addition here of two new positions, making a total of five employees to license and check all the collection agencies of the State. We believe that this is not an over-sized staff for this purpose. We would apply the over-all reduction previously described to this agency with full knowledge that if they run short of funds a deficiency may be allowed to provide what is set up in this Budget.

We previously recommended in 1943 that this activity be transferred from the Secretary of State to the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards, which was then concurred in by the Secretary of State. At that time a bill to this effect was vetoed by the Governor. The collection agency now wishes to remain in the Secretary of State office and the Secretary of State is disposed to retain them, so we are not repeating our recommendation for transfer until we have had more opportunity to further study the question.

Per cent of total increase					100.0	75.7	18.77	5.46

The foregoing table shows that proposed expenditures for 1945-1947 for 17 of the 18 categories of General Fund activities are up significantly, with the amount of increase ranging from $2,052 or 3.9 per cent for predatory animal control to $114,579 or 23.5 per cent for Livestock Disease Control and $138,965 or 18.2 per cent for the Plant Quarantine Service.

Concerning the substantial increases proposed for the Plant Quarantine Service and the Livestock Disease Control activity, the Department of Agriculture reports that the increase for the first activity is due to increased traffic, especially in the maritime ports, while in the case of the Livestock Disease Control function, the increase is principally to provide for the contemplated return of a large number of meat packing plants from Federal to State inspection and the return of veterinarians from military service so that they may again proceed with this activity. We do not believe the veterinarians will be available and suggest a salary saving here in the special fund recommended for the entire State service.

Of the total increase of $566,028, $431,169 or 75.7 per cent is for salaries and wages; $106,818 or 18.7 per cent is for operating expenses; and $31,041 or 5.5 per cent is for equipment.

As the increase of $431,169 for salary expense amounts to three quarters of the proposed total increased expenditure it warrants further comment. This increase, as summarized by the department, is distributed as follows:

Decrease in salary savings	$105,551
Normal salary adjustments	69,307
Seasonal help	31,664
New positions (excluding military lease positions)	112,440
Military leave positions	64,740
Balance of salary and wages	47,468
Total increase	$431,169

The Department of Agriculture reports that the decrease in the estimated salary savings of $105,551 for 1945-47 over the amount for 1943-45 represents approximately half of the estimated savings from this source for the current biennium. We believe that the savings from this source will more nearly approximate 60 per cent or more of those for the current biennium.

We believe that the increase of $69,307 for normal salary adjustments is a reasonably accurate estimate of a cost that needs to be accepted under the current procedure specified by law.

The $177,180 budgeted for the proposed new positions (including military leave positions) would cover the salaries of 17 positions for the first fiscal year and a cumulative total of 38 positions for the second year of the biennium, plus several upward personnel reclassifications, and an item of $600 to cover allowances of $25 monthly to a few local agricultural commissioners for enforcing State agricultural laws.

Of the 17 new positions in the Budget for the first fiscal year, four cover former employees on military leave and provision for a Supervising Veterinary Meat Inspector to fill a vacancy occasioned by a retirement. There are also two administrative assistants positions, one of whom would assist the Director of the Department in Sacramento and the other to coordinate activities in the San Francisco office. There would also be a clerk for the accounting office, seven quarantine inspectors at maritime ports, one Supervisor of Weed Control to fill a vacancy, and one Egg Standardization Inspector.

In the second year of the biennium the 38 positions include the continuation of the 17 positions explained, and return of an additional 11 from military service. One additional clerk is provided for administration, four quarantine inspectors at border stations in anticipation of increasing travel; return of two supervising and one assistant meat inspectors in anticipation of the return to State jurisdiction of the meat inspection work now done by the Federal Government; provision for a citrus marketing economist in Southern California; and an additional weighing and measuring equipment inspector to assist the present staff of two inspectors reported as necessary to test large capacity scales located throughout the State, and which is reported as requiring equipment not maintained by the various counties.

The $106,818 increase in total operating expenses proposed for 1945-47 over 1943-45 estimated expenditures is distributed as follows:

Operating Expenses
Office	$1,126
Printing	1,054
Traveling	40,964
Telephone and Telegraph	685
Postage	3,587
Automobile	27,204
Freight, Cartage and Express	447
Light, Heat and Power	475
Rent	3,596
Janitor Service	–68
Field	14,977
Laboratory	383
Printing Bulletins	–39
Press Clippings	341
Reporting Vessels	410
Cooperative Agreements	5,253
Austrian Field Cress Elimination	–587
Indemnities	8,797
Reimbursement for Services to Special Fund and Trust Fund Activities	–1,794
Total Increased Operating Expenses	$106,818

Respecting the proposed increase of $106,818 for operating expenses, the Department of Agriculture comments as follows:

> "The principal increase occurs in traveling to provide for the contemplated return of military personnel, the new positions, and the tremendous increase in the cost of subsistance, and the fact that a larger portion of the travel will probably have to be made by common carrier. Automobile expense shows a considerable increase to provide for the additional 14 cars provided for, and extensive repairs and maintenance operation, because it is probable that it will be necessary to operate the automobiles 80 to 100,000 miles, and from current experience, unquestionably it will require that many cars be completely overhauled, the cost for which will be from $100 to $400. The above two items cover two-thirds of the increase in all operating expense items. The increase in field and cooperative agreements is occasioned principally in the activities of entomology for material in pest eradication and control, for poison and bait material, and agreements with counties covering labor in connection with control and suppression of field rodents."

If these positions are not filled, savings should be made in operating expense for travel, automobile, and other items as contemplated in the proposed over-all budget savings.

The $31,041 increase in expenditure for equipment proposed for 1945-47 over 1943-45 estimated expenditures is distributed as follows:

EQUIPMENT
Office	$14,325
Automobiles	6,152
Field	4,834
Laboratory	5,729
Total Increased Equipment Expenditures	$31,041

The department states that the increase in the purchase of equipment is principally for replacement items which have been unavailable for several years, and which it is reasonable to assume will be available.

Automobiles will not be required for personnel not secured and a reduction in purchases should be made accordingly.

II. Findings and Recommendations

A. Summary of Recommendations

In addition to the savings that will accrue through application to the Department of Agriculture of the general over-all saving of $10,000,000 and the schedule of salary savings mentioned previously in our materials respecting the Budget, we recommend that Item 39 of the Appropriation Bill be specifically reduced by $113,590 or 3.4 per cent to $3,186,410.

We arrived at this recommended reduction after careful study of the department's budget and the amount of reduction recommended is based on the following suggested individual reductions which are described in greater detail in recommendations B to D below:

(1) Reduction in amount proposed for new positions	$88,590
(2) Reduction in amount from General Fund for Bureau of Markets	15,000
(3) Reduction in operating expenses	10,000
	$113,590

B. Proposed New Positions

The Budget provides $177,180 for proposed new positions (including $64,740 for military leave positions). If the Legislature decides to allow all of the personnel expansion proposed by the Budget and described in Part I, above operating expenses will also increase, particularly for travel and automobile items. It is our opinion that the department can operate satisfactorily for the biennium without increasing the number of positions by the full amount proposed by the Budget. We believe that the department can operate successfully with half of the $177,180 proposed for new positions; and, therefore, recommend a saving of $88,590 in this sphere. The same amount remaining for salaries of additional positions will more than cover the $64,740 set up for military leave positions. Under this recommendation, the Department of Agriculture and Finance would determine the proposed new positions that are the most essential. We believe that much of this recommended reduction in the increase proposed by the Budget could be applied in the Bureau of Livestock Disease Control. The Budget proposes to add eight positions for the second year of the biennium for this bureau (see page 55 of the Budget), despite the fact that there are now 18 vacant positions. It is our opinion that this Bureau of Livestock Disease Control should not be expanded materially beyond its present strength in the face of the fact that we have reached an all time high in the number of livestock and that there will be a material downward readjustment in this respect after the end of the war.

C. Bureau of Markets

We recommend that this bureau be made more self-supporting through increasing fees for the service it extends to agricultural interests. We recommend a reduction of $15,000 in Item 39 from the General Fund to bring the amount for this bureau from the General Fund to the approximate level for the current biennium.

D. Operating Expenses

In view of our recommendations for significantly smaller increases for personnel expansion than proposed by the Budget, we recommend that the proposed allowances for operating expenses be reduced, as these tend to follow the trend of expenditures for personnel. We believe that the increase of $106,818 in operating expense proposed by the Budget could be cut by at least $10,000 and still allow for the upward cost raising factors mentioned above; and that the reduction of $10,000 could be absorbed throughout the operating expense items, with particularly significant cuts being instituted in the travel and automobile expense categories, of which the budgeted amounts total $68,000.

For Construction, Etc., Department of Agriculture

Item 40, Budget Bill, pages 63 and 64 of the Budget; appropriation, $14,160, decrease of $1,820 or 11.4 per cent in the estimated expenditure for 1943-45.

We recommend that this amount of $14,160 for capital improvement expenditures listed on page 63 of the Budget be approved without reduction as the proposed expenditure items seem to be in line.

						81.9%	12.8%	5.2%

The foregoing table shows that $317,754 or almost half of the proposed increase of $690,282 for 1945-1947 is for the meat inspection service. The Department of Agriculture reports that this proposed increased expenditure results from the contemplated return to State control of the meat inspection activities taken over by the Federal Government.

An additional 25 per cent of the total increase is in the Bureau of Market Enforcement which is based on the contemplated return of personnel from the military service, and the resumption of cost finding and the establishment of milk prices curtailed by the Federal Government under maximum price regulations.

Of the total increase of $690,282, $565,837 or 82 per cent is for salaries and wages; $88,418 is for increased operating expenses; and $36,027 is for expanded equipment expense.

Four-fifths of the proposed total increase is in the category of salaries and wages. This increase is distributed as follows:

		Per cent of total salaries and wages increase
Decrease in salary savings	$66,197	11.7
Normal salary adjustments	73,410	13.0
Seasonal help	267,136	47.2
New positions	67,460	11.9
Military leave positions	53,700	9.5
Balance	37,934	6.7
Total increase	$565,837	100.

Of the $67,460 for new positions indicated above, $26,400 is for the proposed new allowance of $25 monthly as compensation for the services of local agricultural commissioners in the enforcement of State agricultural laws they are not now specifically directed by law to enforce.

The $88,418 increase in operating expenses is distributed as follows:

Office	$3,904
Printing	—758
Traveling	34,352
Telephone and telegraph	—314
Postage	1,895
Automobile	12,970
Freight, cartage and express	383

Total, operating expenses	$88,418

The $36,027 increase in expenditures for equipment is distributed as follows:

Office	$382
Automobiles	24,385
Field	3,017
Laboratory	8,243
	$36,027

II. Findings and Recommendations

1. Summary of Recommendations

In addition to the savings that will accrue through application to the Agriculture Fund of the same procedure as recommended for the general over-all saving of $10,000,000 and also the schedule of salary savings, we recommend the following:

Reduction of Item 41 of the Appropriation Bill by $33,000 with this amount being divided among sectors of the Department of Agriculture Fund budget as follows:

(a) Reduction in salary expense for the Bureau of Market Enforcement (see recommendation 2 below)	$27,260
(b) Reduction of salary expense for other sectors of Agricultural Fund activities than the Bureau of Market Enforcement (see recommendation 3 below)	10,740
(c) Reduction in operating expenses of the Bureau of Market Enforcement (see recommendation 4 below)	10,000
(d) Gross reduction	$48,000
(e) Less: Addition of $15,000 to cover transfer of this sum from the General Fund to the Agriculture Fund (see recommendation 5 below)	15,000
(f) Total net recommended reduction in Item 41	$33,000

2. Recommendation Regarding Bureau of Market Enforcement: Salary Expenditures

The amount budgeted for this bureau for 1945-1947 is $901,932, which represents an increase of $173,330 or 23.7 per cent over estimated expenditures for 1943-1945. The Department of Agriculture reports that large parts of this increase would result from the contemplated return of a large personnel from the military service whose services will be needed, and the resumption of cost finding and the establishment of milk prices curtailed by the Federal Government at the present time under maximum price regulations. This bureau currently has 103 authorized personnel positions. It asks for eight additional positions for the first year of the biennium and a cumulative total of 13 for the second year. Of the eight new positions for the first year, three are for persons on leave for military service, while seven of the 13 positions for the second year fall within this category.

We are convinced that the present number of authorized positions, plus the proposed new positions for persons on military leave (which happen to be positions that are needed and should be refilled) will be sufficient for the activities of the Bureau of Market Enforcement even on the basis of resumed service in the field of agricultural cost finding and the fixing of milk prices.

We, therefore, recommend that Item 41 of the Appropriation Bill be reduced by $27,260, which covers the following positions:

No. of positions Fiscal Years 1945-46	1946-47		Proposed salary expenditure 1945-1946	1946-1947
2	2	Investigator	$4,680	$4,920
1	2	Auditor	2,580	5,400
2	2	Fluid Milk Investigator	4,720	4,960
5	6	Totals, Year	11,980	15,280
		Total, Biennium		$27,260

3. Recommendation Regarding New Positions for Other Activities Than Those of the Bureau of Market Enforcement

In addition to our recommendation that certain proposed new positions indicated above for the Bureau of Market Enforcement not be granted, we recommend that the following proposed new positions in other branches of the Agriculture Fund activities not be established; and that a deduction of $10,740 from Item 41 of the Appropriation Bill be made to cover the indicated recommended salary saving.

No. of positions Fiscal Years 1945-46	1946-47		Proposed expenditure 1945-46	1946-47
1	1	Junior chemist	$2,340	$2,460
1	1	District inspector of economic poisons and fertilizers	2,880	3,060
2	2	Totals, year	$5,220	$5,520
		Total, biennium		$10,740

4. Recommendation Regarding Operating Expenses of the Bureau of Market Enforcement

Budgeted allowances for operating expenses for the Bureau of Market Enforcement for 1945-1947 total $326,470, as compared with $282,685 for 1943-1945, an increase of $43,785. Of this increase, almost $10,000 is for the individual items of travel and automobile operating expense. We recommend a reduction of $10,000 in the allowance for operating expenses to be absorbed by the different operating expense items, particularly travel and automobile expense.

5. Recommendation Regarding Bureau of Markets

As a counterpart to a recommendation in connection with Item 39 above of the Appropriation Bill, we here recommend that revenues for the Department of Agriculture Fund be increased by approximately $15,000 through increased fees charged by the Bureau of Markets for agricultural marketing services rendered to particular parties and that Item 41 of the Appropriation Bill be increased by the same amount of $15,000. Acceptance of this recommendation would result in a substantial and desirable increase in the self-supporting characteristics of this bureau.

For Support of Poultry Improvement Commission

Item 42 Budget Bill, pages 88-92 inclusive of the Budget; appropriation $19,591 from the Poultry Testing Project Fund; increase of $3,970 or 25.5 per cent over the $15,620 estimated expenditure for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Item 43 Budget Bill, pages 88-92 inclusive of the Budget; appropriation of $9,924 from the Fair and Exposition Fund; decrease of $76 from the estimated expenditure for the 1943-45 Biennium.

We recommend approval of the above two items without reduction, as the expenditure will yield dividends to the poultry industry and to the State more than commensurate with their cost.

However, we also recommend the following:

1. That the Poultry Improvement Commission be abolished and its activities and staff be transferred to the Department of Agriculture. This recommendation, if carried out, would represent one step in the simplification and clarification of the State's administrative machinery; and it would be expected to more readily place the scientific and staff services of the Department of Agriculture at the service of the present staff of the Poultry Improvement Commission.
2. That this entire State-sponsored poultry improvement program be made self-supporting through imposition of the necessary very moderate imposts upon the poultry industry which benefits from this activity.

Item 44, For Construction, etc., Poultry Improvement Commission, payable from the Fair and Exposition Fund, appropriation $300.

This appropriation item would cover the expenditure for a septic tank. We recommend that it be approved without reduction.

Department of Corrections—Adult Prison Facilities
Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for the 1945-1947 Biennium

Items 45-57 inclusive; page 5 Budget Bill; pages 91 to 131 inclusive of the Budget. Appropriation requested—$8,127,613, an increase of $1,936,182 or 31.27 per cent over expenditures of $6,191,431 in the 1943-45 Biennium; and an increase of $2,255,439 or 38.4 per cent over the 1943-45 appropriation of $5,872,174.[1]

I. Introduction

A complete over-all comparative analysis between Budget figures for the 1945-47 Biennium and expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium can not be made. This is due to the fact that the Department of Corrections as presently organized, began functioning in May, 1944, as a result of legislation recommended by the Governor and enacted at the Third Extraordinary Session of the Fifty-fifth Legislature. Some of the activities formerly encompassed in the old Department of Penology have been removed from the new Department of Corrections, while in other instances new functions have been added. It is for this reason that we do not attempt in this analysis to completely compare the present budget request with expenditures and appropriations for preceding biennial periods. Suffice it to note that the overhead costs have gone up materially and they promise to go higher both in total and in unit costs, while the number of inmates is actually not as great as a few years past, when overhead costs were much lower.

[1] This figure includes only those items in the 1943-45 appropriation covering functions analagous to those now administered by the Department of Corrections. Excluded from the 1943-45 appropriation total are the appropriations for Division of Criminal Identification; Narcotic Enforcement and Detective License Bureau, all of which were formerly a part of the Department of Penology.

It is too early to measure results. They should be continuously observed by the Legislature and all claims of successes carefully reviewed for it will be difficult to show any large values in actual returns to society beyond what California was securing previous to the establishment of the present organization. Despite the adverse publicity, the California Department of Penology when measured by true tests rather than by sympathy or sentiment as to actual results secured already had demonstrated progressive thought and procedure in a large part of the field of penology.

The Legislature in its deliberations on the Department of Corrections budget must scrutinize the entire Budget in the light of a new and revamped governmental operation. Can as good a job be done for less money or a better job for the same cost is the only approach available.

Table I following gives an over-all comparison of actual and estimated expenditures by activity, for the 1943-45 Biennium, with proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium.

			$6,191,431	$8,127,613	+$1,936,182	+ 31.27

*Page 90 of the Budget giving detailed analysis of current expenses indicates that actual expenditures for transportation of prisoners in the year 1943-44 was $75,736.92. Using this as a base, the requested appropriation of $137,000 for the 1945-47 biennium is clearly under-budgeted. This is particularly true in view of the anticipated increase in prison population during the ensuing biennium.

The bulk of the proposed 1945-47 expenditures is attributable to salary and wage expense of $4,517,813—up $934,926 or a 26 per cent increase over the 1943-45 expenditure of $3,582,887; and operating expenditures amounting to $3,640,175 for the coming biennium—an increase of $416,686 or 13 per cent over 1943-45 operating expenses of $3,241,216.

Table II following summarizes the total proposed expenditures by object.

TABLE II—DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS—ADULT PRISON FACILITIES

Totals	$7,055,915	$8,393,956	$1,338,041	+19%

Increased expenditures for salary and wages as set forth in Table II above, is due in large measure to the fact that provision has been made in the Budget for the addition of 161 new positions for the Department of Corrections and Adult Prison Facilities. The cost of these new positions is $710,154 or over 79 per cent of the total amount of increase ($934,926) requested for salary and wages 1945-47 over the current biennium.

Table III below lists by facility the number of proposed new positions and their cost for the 1945-47 Biennium.

In order that the Legislature may adequately examine individual facilities in the light of their respective budget requests detailed analyses of the respective facilities follow:

Departmental Administration

Item 45, page 5 of the Budget Bill; and pages 91 to 93 inclusive of the Budget. Amount requested: $168,130.

The Budget indicates that the proposed expenditure of $168,130 for Departmental Administration is approximately $100,000 or 149 per cent in excess of estimated expenditures for the 1943-1945 Biennium. Included in this increase are salaries of 10 proposed new positions which aggregate approximately $54,000.

We believe in giving the administration sector of the Department of Corrections a fair trial in carrying out its responsibility for developing and implementing a correctional program.

We recommend that Item 45 in the amount of $168,130 be approved without reduction. This is for the reason that is it just now being established, and we have no experience upon which to render an opinion. We recommend that the expenditure and results secured be measured before the next appropriation is considered.

Transportation of Prisoners

Item 46, page 5 of the Budget Bill; and pages 91 and 92 of the Budget. Amount requested: $137,000.

This is the same amount as the estimated expenditure for the 1943-1945 Biennium. This amount is under-budgeted rather than over-budgeted. We recommend that no specific reduction be applied to this item.

Deportation of Prisoners

Item 47, page 5 of the Budget Bill; and page 91 of the Budget. Amount requested: $3,000.

This is the same amount as the estimated expenditure for the current biennium. We recommend that it be approved.

Return of Fugitive

Item 48, page 5 of the Budget Bill; and page 91 of the Budget. Amount requested: $100,000.

This is the same amount as the estimated expenditure for the current biennium. We recommend that it be approved.

Department of Corrections—Folsom State Prison Analysis of Proposed Expenditures 1945-47 Compared With 1943-45

Items 49 and 50, page 4 of the Budget Bill; and pages 96 to 103 inclusive in the Budget. Amount requested $2,235,245.

This is an increase of $477,662 or 27.17 per cent over 1943-45 expenditures of $1,757,583, and an increase of $655,253 or 41.47 per cent over the 1943-45 appropriation (Item 179 A.B. No. 1600) of $1,579,992. This last comparison is the more valid to use to judge the increased costs chargeable to prison reform.

Proposed expenditures and estimated revenues for the 1945-47 Biennium compared with the 1943-45 period are summarized in Table I following:

TABLE I—FOLSOM STATE PRISON

Revenues	2,262	1,140	— 1,122	— 49.60

[1] New cost of Department of Corrections began May, 1944, some $178,000 above 1943-45 Budget.
[2] Operations in the ensuing biennium are to be financed from a revolving fund. Therefore a true comparison of expenditures tends to become distorted.

Facts revealed by the foregoing table:

1. While proposed total expenditures are up 27.17 per cent, revenues are expected to decrease by 49.60 per cent. Part of this is due to fact camps will be on a revolving fund.
2. All classes of expenditures except the items for railroads, quarries and camps (to be discontinued in the ensuing biennium) show a marked increase with support and subsistence expenditures rising by almost 50 per cent.
3. No allowance has been made in the 1945-47 Budget for forestry camp contracts, war contracts, or harvest work.[1]
4. Inmate population is estimated to increase from an average of 1454 in the 1943-45 Biennium to an average of 1745 in the ensuing biennium, an increase of 291 or approximately 20 per cent. It will be noted in Table I above that expenditures for care and welfare and maintenance of plant increased by 22 per cent and 23 per cent respectively. Per inmate costs go up when normally they should show overhead savings with this small increase.

Proposed expenditures for 1945-47 as compared with estimated expenditures for 1943-45, by objects of expenditure, are as follows:

TABLE II—FOLSOM STATE PRISON

Expenditures: Object	Actual and Est. 1943-1945	Proposed 1945-1947	Increase or Decrease Amount	Per Cent
Salaries and wages	$1,011,211	$1,221,380	+$210,169	+ 21

Net totals	$1,784,961	$2,215,200	+$430,239	+ 24

[1] Operations in the ensuing biennium are to be financed from a revolving fund. Therefore a true comparison of expenditures tends to become distorted.

Of the budgeted increase of $210,169 for salary expense, $152,340 or 72 per cent of the increase is for 31 proposed new positions for the biennium, and $26,620 or 12 per cent of the increase is for normal salary adjustments. None of the proposed new positions are provided for because of military leave.

Operating expense shows an increase from $792,533 to $981,330 in the 1945-47 Biennium, a net interest of $188,797 or 24 per cent. A substantial portion is attributable to increased feeding costs from $305,871 in the 1943-45 biennium to $465,415 —an increase of $159,544 or 52 per cent. This is an increase in the average cost of feeding of $45 per year per prisoner. It brings the total average cost of feeding per prisoner to $11.12 per month, which does not appear to be excessive. The food control system installed recently in all of the institutions under the Department of Corrections should result, if properly operated, in producing adequate diet at the lowest possible cost when coupled with a proper production schedule and distribution of products amongst the several State institutions. Another item of significance is the increased cost for paroles and discharges which are scheduled to increase from $24,189 in the 1943-45 biennium to $51,800 in the 1945-47 Biennium, a net increase of $27,611 or 114 per cent.

Proposed new positions and the budgeted salary expense resulting are as follows:

Recommendations for Folsom State Prison

1. We recommend that the Budget for Folsom State Prison be reduced from the proposed figure of $2,235,245 to $2,024,200, a reduction of $211,045 or approximately 9 per cent. This still represents an increase of $266,617 or approximately 15 per cent over 1943-45 expenditures. Moreover, it allows a per inmate cost equal to that actually spent in 1943-44 of $581 per year.
2. Economies to effect this reduction can be made as follows:
   (a) Feeding costs in the ensuing biennium are estimated to increase from $305,871 to $465,415, an increase of $159,544 or 52 per cent. This cost is high and should be materially reduced by:
      1. Increased production of food and livestock products and maximum utilization of agricultural facilities, equipment, personnel, and inmate population. Local production for consumption shows a decrease of $37,000 or 20 per cent yet paid help for farming is increased 100 per cent.
      2. Introduction of strict economy methods in the purchase and use of food and supplies. Out-of-line feeding costs indicate waste and mismanagement in the purchase, preparation and consumption of food. We recommend curtailment in these expenditures and a complete overhauling of methods and procedures. Examination of recent menus show a better feeding of prisoners than some of the guards can afford.

   (b) Elimination of proposed new positions which are not absolutely essential. Included in this category would be the proposed new positions of:

No. Positions Requested
1	Supervising Nurse, Grade 2
3	Graduate nurses Instead of a total of four nurses, one nurse should be able to handle the prison demands, especially in the light of wartime demands for nurses for the armed forces.
1	Associate warden One such position was recently established.
1	Steward Already have a chief steward. This should be sufficient.
1	Social case worker This work can hardly be called essential, especially during time of war.
1	Painter-Foreman Inmates should be able to handle the necessary work under supervision of maintenance man.
1	Supervisor of Inmate Activities Supervisor of Education, Associate Warden, or other officers should be able to handle these duties.
2	Lieutenant (one of which is a reclassification of a guard) Five lieutenant positions are already established. This would seem to be an ample number.
1	Hog Ranch Operator
1	Poultryman Hardly can be justified with value of production going off 20 per cent. Inmates under supervision of head farmer should be able to handle these.

   (c) In addition, some of the new positions established in 1944 after the new setup might well be questioned. Six paid men with "con" help carried on maintenance and operation of the plan. There are 12 scheduled for 1945-47. Why an electrical foreman and three electricians? Is it not possible to do some occupational therapy and teach some convicts to do electrical work?

ANALYSIS OF PROPOSED EXPENDITURES
1945-47 COMPARED WITH 1943-45

Item 51, page 5, of the Budget Bill, and pages 104 to 110, inclusive of the Budget. Amount requested, $966,654.

This is an increase of $274,156 or 39.58 per cent over expenditures of $692,498 in the 1943-45 Biennium, and represents an increase of $172,277 or 21.68 per cent over the appropriation of $794,377 made for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Proposed expenditures and estimated revenue for the 1945-47 Biennium by broad classes of expenditures are summarized in Table I following:

TABLE I—CALIFORNIA INSTITUTION FOR MEN

*Not an accurate comparison because farming and processing operations in 1945-47 are to be financed from Working Revolving Fund.[1]

Significant facts revealed by foregoing table:

1. No allowance is made for farming and processing operations. In the 1945-47 Biennium this operation is to be financed from Working Revolving Fund and local production consumed will be purchased from Revolving Fund. Transfer of such operations to another fund distorts cost comparisons and makes accurate expenditure analyses difficult. Net total increased expenditures, therefore, will probably be larger than the percentage increase indicates.

2. In spite of the fact that no capital outlay is provided for in the 1945-47 Biennium total expenditures are estimated to increase by $274,156 or 39.58 per cent over 1943-45 when $55,518 was spent for capital outlay.

3. Support and subsistence shows a marked increase over the 1943-45 Biennium, $239,085 for 1945-47 vs. $144,732 in the 1943-45 Biennium, an increase of $99,353 or 65.19 per cent. This contrasts sharply with an estimated population increase of less than 4.32 per cent for the ensuing biennium.

Proposed expenditure for 1945-47 as compared with estimated expenditures for 1943-45, by objects of expenditures are as follows:

TABLE II—CALIFORNIA INSTITUTION FOR MEN

Net totals, support	$1,215,001	$1,457,784	—$242,783	+19.98%

Total proposed expenditure for support for the 1945-47 Biennium is $1,457,784, an increase of $242,788 or 19.98 per cent over the current biennium. Of this amount proposed expenditure for salaries and wages amounts to $683,674, an increase of $102,539 or 17.64 per cent over the 1943-45 expenditure of $581,135.

Of the proposed $683,674 expenditure for salaries and wages, including adjustments, $44,460 or 6.50 per cent of the total is allotted for 10 new positions. 1945-47 normal salary adjustments account for $22,304 or 3.26 per cent of the total salary expense, and uniform holiday expense accounts for $9,120 of the total salary expenditure.

Proposed expenditures for 1945-47 as compared with estimated expenditures for 1943-1945, by objects of expenditures are as follows:

California Institution for Men—Recommendations

1. We recommend that the appropriation for the institution be reduced from the proposed $966,654 to $804,545, a reduction of $162,109 or 16.7 per cent. This amount will still exceed 1943-45 expenditures by $112,047 or approximately 16 per cent and will provide for an inmate cost of $925 per year with pay. This is higher than Folsom, and higher than the Women's Prison where there are only 165 inmates for 1945-47, and where opportunities for production are much poorer. This will also provide ample leeway for necessary increased costs on a generous basis as is shown by the following schedule giving the method of arriving at this figure.

SUGGESTED BUDGET ALLOCATION FOR THE CALIFORNIA INSTITUTION FOR MEN—1945-1947

The Budget allowance of $804,545 from the General Fund for Item 51 in the Appropriation Bill in place of $966,654, or a reduction of $162,109, gives a generous allowance for this institution as will be demonstrated by the following schedule:

Actual Per Inmate Cost for 1943-44, Including Inmate pay		$851
Average Number of Inmates for 1945-46 and 1946-47		700
Total Cost per year with Pay		$595,700
Total Cost per Biennium with Pay for Inmates		$1,191,400
Less Abatement for Inmate Work Projects		491,130
Net Total Support on Per Inmate Basis		$700,270
Added Cost Allowed for the Biennium
10 New Positions	$44,460
Salary Adjustment	22,304
New Equipment	13,511
Net Food Produced Over Farm Costs	24,000
Total Additional Allowances for Biennium		$104,275
Total Over-All Appropriation for Biennium		$804,545

There is an urgent need for greater economy in this institution and this is clearly demonstrated by the net per inmate expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium and the proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium.

These costs and others are high and should be reduced.

2. Statement of Inmate load per employee listed on page 95 of the Budget shows that the ratio of inmates to guards for California Institution for Men Ninety-fifth Fiscal Year (1943-44) is 8.92 inmates to each guard, and for the Ninety-eighth Fiscal Year (1946-47), it is estimated to be 9.33 inmates to each guard.

It is recognized that these unit costs will remain high until the size of this institution is materially increased. It is recommended that steps be taken to enlarge the facilities and broaden the classification of persons accepted so as to increase the size from 800 to 1000 as rapidly as conditions will justify. It appears that certain suitable older boys committed to the Youth Authority might very well fit into the classification of those sent to Chino.

Since this institution operates as a minimum security institution, we recommend that the ratio of inmates to guards be materially increased—approaching the level of San Quentin, which is 14.30 inmates to each guard for the Ninety-fifth Fiscal Year (1943-44) and estimated 16.00 inmates to guards for the Ninety-eighth Fiscal Year (1946-47).

3. Statement of Inmate load per employee, page 95 of the Budget, shows:

California Institution for Men with a ratio of 5.44 inmates per employee for the Ninety-fifth Fiscal Year (1943-44) and 5.51 inmates per employee for the Ninety-eighth Fiscal Year. This is low and will be so until facilities are used to care for a larger number.

The foregoing statistics in this analysis clearly indicate the need for streamlined business practices and procedures and the full utilization of land, equipment, personnel and inmates to put this institution on a self-supporting basis.

We believe it can be made practically self-supporting without at all reducing the curative and developmental program.

California Institution for Women—Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for 1945-1947 Biennium

Items 52 and 53, page 5, Budget Bill; pages 111-115 of the Budget; $313,919, an increase of $58,448 or 22.88 per cent over expenditures of $255,471 for the 1943-45 Biennium; and an increase of $42,305 or 15.57 per cent over the appropriation (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of $271,614 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Proposed expenditures and estimated revenues for the 1945-47 biennium compared with 1943-45 are summarized in Table I following:

TABLE I—CALIFORNIA INSTITUTION FOR WOMEN

Expenditures	Actual and Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase or Decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent

Revenues	8,529	3,380	— 1,769	—20.74

Facts revealed by the foregoing table:

1. Proposed total expenditures are scheduled to increase from $255,470 in the 1943-45 Biennium to $313,919 in the 1945-47 Biennium, an increase of $58,449 or 22.87 per cent. Capital outlay items in the 1943-45 Biennium totaled $11,350, but during the ensuing biennium only $2,100 is proposed to be spent or a 81.49 per cent reduction.

2. While total proposed expenditures increase by 22.87 per cent, items for "support" increase from $244,120 in the 1943-45 Biennium to $311,819 in the 1945-47 Biennium, an increase of $67,699 or 27.73 per cent.

3. The increased cost for maintenance and operation of plant from $30,889 in the current biennium to $44,075 in the ensuing biennium, an increase of $13,186 or 42.68 per cent results principally from the addition of two new positions—Chief Institution Engineer Grade 1 and Carpenter-Painter, at a total net increased cost for the biennium of $9,720. Another item affecting the net increased expense is for maintenance of structures —$5,675 in the 1945-47 Biennium, an increase of $2,929 over the preceding biennium.

4. Proposed expenditures for 1945-47 as compared with estimated expenditures for 1943-45, by object of expenditures are as follows:

TABLE II—CALIFORNIA INSTITUTION FOR WOMEN

Object:	Actual and Estimated 1943-1945	Proposed 1945-1947	Increase or Decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per Cent

Net totals	$244,121	$311,819	+$67,698	+27.73

Of the budgeted increased salary expense of $47,695—$30,684 or 64.33 per cent is for six proposed new positions. Normal salary increases account for $5,750 or 12 per cent of the total salary increase.

Proposed new positions and salary expense resulting follows:

TABLE III—SCHEDULE OF PROPOSED NEW POSITIONS CALIFORNIA INSTITUTION FOR WOMEN

1945-47 Biennium

Number of Positions Fiscal Year 45-46	46-47	Classification	Salary Range	Total Amount 1945-46	1946-1947

1	1	Chief Supervisor	170-210	2,340	2,460
1	1	Chief Institution Engineer Grade 1	180-220	2,520	2,640
1	1	Carpenter-Painter	160-200	2,220	2,340
		Reclassification:		Increased cost
		Head Farmer, Grades 1 to 2		360	360
		Temporary Help
		Uniform Holidays		132	132
6	6			$14,952	$15,732
				$30,684

In connection with the proposed new positions, we wish to point out that the average inmate population for the 1943-45 Biennium was 144 and that the anticipated average population in the 1945-47 Biennium is 170, or a net increase of 26 inmates.

On the basis of the proposed increased expenditure for support, the per capita costs will increase as follows:

	Average inmate population	Per capita cost
1943-44	143	$815.29
1944-45	145	879.54
1945-46	165	914.83
1946-47	175	924.98

The per capita costs are lower than at the Institution for Men at Chino where there is more opportunity to be self supporting.

This per capita cost can not be reduced greatly as long as this institution remains small and is located at this site. Agricultural production never can be high with the short growing season. There should be every effort to coordinate production with need.

Study should be made of the possibility of increasing the population by caring for other types of offenders so as to reduce overhead and add to services that are desirable.

Recommendations—California Institution For Women

We recommend that the proposed budget be reduced by $11,620 from $313,919 to $302,299, a reduction of 3.7 per cent. This is still an increase of $46,829 or 18 per cent over expenditures for 1943-45.

The need for continued economy in the operation of this institution is amply indicated by the high per capita costs and the fact the ratio of inmates to employees for the Ninety-fifth Fiscal Year (1943-1944) is 3.25 inmates to each employee; and for the Ninety-eighth Fiscal Year (1946-1947) it is estimated the ratio will be 3.89.

Some economies which can be effected follow:

(a) Elimination of all but absolutely essential new positions. In this category we include:

Graduate Nurse

Two graduate nurses are already employed by this institution. This is ample inasmuch as the estimated average daily inmate population for the fiscal years in the 1945-47 Biennium at no time exceeds 75. The Army and Navy requires all available nurses.

It must be assumed that only a small percentage of these inmates are so ill as to require nursing care.

Business Manager

In an institution of this size the superintendent should be able to conduct the business affairs of the institution.

(b) Feeding costs should be reduced through increased agricultural production.

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for San Quentin Prison—1945-1947 Biennium

Items 54 and 55, page 5, Budget Bill, and pages 117 to 124 inclusive of the Budget. Appropriation requested $3,471,310, an increase of $738,234 or 27.01 per cent over estimated expenditure of $2,733,076 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

The increase of $738,234 in the proposed expenditure for 1945-47 over the estimated expenditure for 1943-45 is distributed as follows:

TABLE I

Expenditures support	Actual and Estimated 1943-1945	Proposed 1945-1947	Increase or Decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per Cent

[1] This activity during 1945-47 to be handled by a revolving fund.

Significant facts revealed by the foregoing table:

1. Care and Welfare costs are scheduled to increase from $1,228,691 in the 1943-45 Biennium to $1,637,950, up $409,259 or 33.30 per cent. This increase is largely attributable to the new positions proposed for this service.
2. In spite of the fact camp costs and abatements are not included in the budget figures for the ensuing biennium, total proposed expenditures (including capital expenditures) increase by $738,234 or 2 per cent.
3. Support and subsistence costs are up 22.41 per cent over the preceding biennium. The principal item of expense under "support and subsistence" is feeding. Actual and estimated expenditures for this item in the 1943-45 Biennium were $692,478 and proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium are $875,220, an increase of 26.38 per cent. Average inmate population, on the other hand, is scheduled to increase in the ensuing biennium by only 6 per cent.
4. Proposed administrative expense for the 1945-47 Biennium $230,200, an increase of $46,148 or 25 per cent over the 1943-45 expenditure of $184,052.

PROPOSED EXPENDITURES FOR 1945-47 AS COMPARED WITH ESTIMATED EXPENDITURES FOR 1943-45, BY OBJECT OF EXPENDITURE, ARE AS FOLLOWS

Expenditure object	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase or decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent
Salaries and wages	$1,392,789	$1,708,660	$315,871	+ 22.6
Operating expenses	1,710,678	1,804,890	+ 94,212	+ 5.5

Totals	$3,288,369	$3,574,900	+$286,531	8.7
Reimbursements for maintenance	—106,032	—111,000	+ 4,968	4.6
Service to manufacturing units	— 54,365	— 27,000	+ 27,365	— 50.3
Surplus products sales	— 5,043	— 6,200	+ 1,157	22.9
	$3,122,929	$3,430,700	+$307,771	+ 9.9

It will be noted that salary and wage costs are up by $315,871 or 22.67 per cent; operating expenses are up by $94,212 or 5½ per cent and equipment expenses are scheduled to advance by $38,766 or 171 per cent.

Of the increase of $315,871 for salary and wages, normal salary increases account for $29,340 or 9.23 per cent. Proposed new positions account for $258,060 or 81.7 per cent of the proposed increased salary expense. These new positions would bring the number of authorized positions to 342, an increase of 47 over the net number authorized for 1944-45, and of 70 over the number for 1943-44. Additional personnel positions requested include personnel for administration, support and subsistence and maintenance activities as well as for medical persons, comprising one physician, one pharmacist, one male nurse, three graduate nurses, one interne and two externes.

Recommendation for Reduction—San Quentin Prison

We recommend that the Budget for San Quentin Prison be reduced from $3,471,310 to $3,207,680, or a decrease of $263,630 or 7.6 per cent. This still will represent an increase of $474,604 or 17.6 per cent over the estimated expenditures 1943-45 Biennium, and will enable this facility to increase its activities which are essential to the functioning of its program.

We have arrived at this amount by application of the following procedure which we feel provides generously for this institution:

(a) Actual and estimated per capita cost, 1944-45	$461.00
(b) Predicted average population, 1945-47	3,435
(c) Total institutional cost, year		$1,583,535
(d) Total institutional cost, bien.		$3,167,070
(e) Capital outlay		40,610
(f) Total amount recommended for Items 54 and 55 of Appropriation Bill		$3,207,680

We feel that this estimate is liberal for the reason that the actual per capita expenditure, as reported on page 117 of the Budget, for 1943-44 amounted to $450 per capita in round numbers. Our procedure of calculating on the basis of the 1944-45 per capita cost of $461 gives an additional $11 per inmate for each year of the biennium. Since the average population for the 1945-47 Biennium is expected to increase by about 300 inmates over the number for 1943-44, there actually should be a reduction in the per capita costs.

The organization and management of this institution has been open to valid criticism for many years, and it is believed that tightening up processes in management can easily produce the suggested savings from the institution's budget request. We wish to point out that the total number of personnel positions increased from 272 in 1943-44 to 295 for 1944-45, despite only a moderate increase of 130 inmates between the reported average population for the former and the latter years. A number of these positions are now vacant. We do not feel that the institution can justify filling these vacant positions and adding an additional 47 employees over the number of authorized positions for 1944-45.

We do not believe that the net increase of approximately 200 inmates for the biennium over the average for the current biennium justifies the employment of additional medical service consisting of a physician, a pharmacist, three graduate nurses, one supervising male nurse, one interne and two externes. It must be noted that only a very small percentage of the inmates at San Quentin are actually ill and need close medical attention.

We question the necessity for increasing the feeding costs between 1943-44 and 1946-47 as indicated by the two following tables. Either the costs in 1943-44 are too low or those for 1945-46 are too high.

	Fiscal Years	Aver. No. of Inmates	Total	Net Feeding Costs Per Inmate* Yearly	Monthly
Actual	1943-44	3,132	$320,349	$102.28	$8.52
Estimated	1944-45	3,369	372,129	110.45	9.20
Proposed	1945-46	3,285	414,740	126.25	10.52
Proposed	1946-47	3,585	460,480	128.44	10.70

* Net feeding costs exclude the estimated value of products locally consumed.

	Fiscal Years	Aver. No. of Inmates	Total	*Gross Feeding Costs Per Inmate Yearly	Monthly
Actual	1943-44	3,132	$421,635	$134.62	$12.23
Estimated	1944-45	3,369	473,414	140.52	11.71
Proposed	1945-46	3,285	525,830	160.07	13.33
Proposed	1946-47	3,585	571,570	159.43	13.29

* Gross feeding costs include estimated allowance for local production of food consumed.

We are making no attempt to distribute the $263,630 savings we suggest, but believe that the administration can readily effect this saving and more and still give all the service that is required. In fact, we believe that a considerable amount of this saving would be accomplished through the failure to fill positions, and that a further saving would normally accrue with better management and control.

Department of Corrections—Adult Authority

For Support of Adult Authority

Item 56 Budget Bill, pages 125-130 inclusive of the Budget; appropriation, $688,575.

Chapter 2, Third Extraordinary Session of the Legislature of 1944, creating the Department of Corrections, provides for an Adult Authority to consist of three members, appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of the Senate, for four-year staggered terms.

The act further provides that the members must devote their entire time to the duties of the office, and that one member must be an attorney-at-law, one have had practical experience in handling adult prisoners, and one be a sociologist. The chairman may be designated by the Governor from time to time.

The new law gave the Adult Authority, which took office May 1, 1944, broad powers to control and supervise the treatment of the adult male felons in prison and on parole, and to determine the time and conditions of their return to society.

The specific duties and responsibilities of the Adult Authority are:

1. Supervising and controlling the Diagnostic Clinic.
2. Supervising and operating of the classification and treatment program within each institution.
3. Designating prisons in which inmates shall serve sentences.
4. Authorizing transfer of prisoners between prisons and to prison camps.
5. Determining the nature, type, and duration of punishment.
6. Awarding and forfeiture of good-time credits.
7. Restoring civil rights.
8. Fixing and refixing terms of imprisonment.
9. Granting, withholding or revoking paroles.
10. Directing the operation of the Bureau of Paroles, the supervising parole agency.
11. Advising the Governor on executive clemency matters.
12. Serving as member of the Board of Corrections.

The appropriation of $688,575 proposed by Item 56 of the Budget Bill represents an increase of $218,537 or 46.5 per cent over the roughly comparable expenditures of $470,037 reported by the Budget as spent for 1943-1945. For purposes of comparison of 1945-1947 with 1943-1945 the Budget includes in the total expenditure of $470,037 for 1943-1945 Biennium amounts totaling $76,573 that were expended by other agencies.

The increase of $218,537 in the budgeted expenditure is distributed as follows:

Expenditures *	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase Amount	Per cent
Support, Adult Authority
Administration	$52,582	$98,380	$45,797	87.1
Classification	11,315	23,650	12,335	109.0
Diagnostic Clinic	35,030	109,950	74,920	213.8
Bureau of Parole	340,893	456,595	115,701	33.9
Totals, Support, Adult Authority	$439,821	$688,575	$248,753	56.5
Support, Advisory Pardon Board	5,872		—5,872	----
Support, Board of Prison Terms and Parole	24,343		—24,343
Total Expenditures	$470,037	$688,575	$218,538	46.5

* For purposes of comparison there has been included in the detailed expenditures for the Adult Authority for the 1942-1945 biennium, the following amounts expended by other agencies:

Board of Prison Directors, Classification Committee	$10,428
Advisory Pardon Board	5,872
Board of Prison Terms and Paroles	24,343
San Quentin State Prison	27,900
Department of Corrections	8,030
	$76,573

For the 1945-47 Biennium proposed salary expense is up by 44 per cent, operating expenses by 26.3 per cent, and equipment expenditure by 153.9 per cent over the 1943-45 level.

The Budget proposes an increase in positions from 67 for the Fiscal Year 1943-1944 and from 72 for the current year 1944-1945 to 88 for the first year of the coming biennium and to 96 for the second year. The total salary expense for the 1945-1947 Biennium is $523,050, which is $159,885 in excess of the 1943-45 expenditure for this activity.

Proposed new positions listed in the Budget are as follows:

Number of Positions Fiscal Years 1945-46	1946-47 Cumulative Total
1	1	Senior Stenographer Clerk	$2,100	$2,280
	1	Intermediate Stenographer Clerk		1,620
3	3	Junior Clerical Interne	2,700	2,700
1	1	Junior Sociologist	2,880	3,060
1	1	Intermediate Stenographer Clerk	1,620	1,740
1	1	Intermediate Clerk	1,500	1,620
	1	Electroencephalographic Technician		1,980
1	1	Parole Officer, Grade Two	2,700	2,880
6	11	Parole Officer, Grade One	14,040	26,460
1	1	Research Assistant	1,980	2,100
3	4	Junior Stenographer Clerk	4,140	5,700
1	1	Intermediate File Clerk	1,500	1,620
		Psychiatrist (Part time extended to full time)	1,140	1,380
		Intermediate Stenographer Clerk (Increased from part time to full time)	1,050	1,050
19	27	Totals, year	$37,350	$56,190
	27	Total, biennium	$93,540

We recommend that appropriation Item 56 be reduced by $34,430 or by 5 per cent to $654,145.

We suggest the following as definite reductions that are possible:

Positions			Amount
1	Electroencephalographic Technician		$1,980
2	Parole Officers	1945–46) 1946–47)	4,345
3	Parole Officers	1946–47	7,350
1	Junior Clerical Interne	1945–47	1,800
Equipment
	Automobiles		9,000
	Travel reduction		1,000
	Electroencephalographic machine		4,880
	Specific reductions		$30,355

Other economies will occur through inability to fill positions which should make it possible to exceed the savings recommended.

This reduction will still permit a generous increase over expenditures for the current biennium which in turn should make possible the carrying out of the Legislature's recent decision to have effective work performed in the adult parole sphere. This reduction is large enough to encourage such desirable administrative economies as conservative use of office supplies, travel expense, automobiles, telephone and telegraph. That there is need for some such economy is indicated by the following budgeted amounts for 1945—for certain items for operating expense and for equipment expenditure:

Operating Expense Items	Amount budgeted for 1945-47	Increase over Expenditure for 1943-45
Traveling	$39,570	$8,464
Automobile	33,000	10,480
Telephone & Telegraph	10,300	1,148
Printing	5,800	3,972
Equipment
Office	5,200	678
Automobile	21,400	12,656
Other	7,865	7,565
Total, equipment	$34,465	$20,894

If the Legislature decides to accept the recommendation given in the following under the discussion of Item 57 of the Appropriation Bill to abolish the Board of Trustees of the California Institution for Women and to transfer its functions and technical staff to the Adult Authority, we recommend that $15,000 of the $43,780 be added to appropriation Item 56 to finance the parole work for the California Institution for Women. This will bring the amount for this item to $669,145.

Department of Corrections

Board of Trustees—California Institution for Women

Item 57, Budget Bill, page 131 of the Budget; appropriation, $43,780.

This board acts as a parole agency for the California Institution for Women at Tehachapi. It consists of five lay members who receive per diem and traveling expenses while sitting as a board. There are four personnel positions on its staff—two parole officers and two stenographers. Its office is in Los Angeles. The last progress report of the Department of Corrections indicates that the board intends to establish a second office in San Francisco. This will be an excessive expense for the parolees to be served.

The proposed appropriation of $43,780 represents an increase of $12,993 or 42.2 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $30,787 reported by the Budget as spent for 1943-1945. This figure for 1943-1945 includes $10,582 paid from the appropriation for support of the California Institution for Women.

The budgeted amount of $43,780 for this agency for 1945-47 is distributed by function and object as follows:

No. of Positions	Administration Salaries and Wages
	Board Members (5) per diem	$12,000
1	Senior Stenographer-Clerk	5,160
2	Women's Parole Officer	10,320
1	Intermediate Stenographer-Clerk	4,200
	Temporary help	270
	1945-1947 normal salary adjustments	300
4	Totals, salaries and wages	$32,250
	Operating Expenses
	Office	1,800
	Postage	480
	Traveling	6,500
	Telephone and telegraph	1,000
	Printing
	Automobile	1,500
	Totals, operating expenses	$11,280
	Equipment	250
	Grand total	$43,780

We recommend that the Board of Trustees—California Institution for Women be abolished and that its functions, responsibilities, and technical staff be transferred to the Adult Authority, which is part of the coordinated Department of Corrections. Reasons for this recommendation include the following:

1. The volume of work of the Board of Trustees in relation to its expense is necessarily small because it serves only one small institution, the California Institution for Women, which has an estimated inmate population of 145 during the current fiscal year and a predicted population of 175 for the 1946-47 year. On November 25, 1944 there were only 100 parolees under the supervision of the Board of Trustees. During the year 1944 the board took 253 actions as follows:

1. Set prison terms	82
2. Granted paroles	74
3. Denied paroles	18
4. Discharged from parole	38
5. Discharged from institution	10
6. Had board interviews	31
	253

It will always be a lay board and not equipped to do a technical job required in such management.

2. The Adult Authority, performing the comparable function for male inmates and parolees of prisons, will be set up to extend rather diagnostic, classification, and parole services. By virtue of the large number of institutions it serves, the inmates it diagnoses and classifies, and the parolees it supervises, the Adult Authority already is in a better position to do a more technical job than the board of trustees, with its necessarily limited facilities, can ever hope to be. Transfer of the work of the board of trustees to the Adult Authority would permit the use of the more extensive facilities of the Adult Authority in the classification and parole of women inmates. It is no reflection on the members of the board of trustees to state that the very logic of the situation would permit a better job to be done at relatively less expense if this work were transferred to the Adult Authority which will have the facilities to do the job required. Under this arrangement the actual work of immediate supervision of women parolees could continue to be done by the women parole officers who would be transferred from the staff of the board of trustees. These women parole officers could continue to interest women's organizations in making community resources available to women parolees with the view of inviting parolees to share cultural and recreational activities in the community in which they are living.

We estimate that the adoption of this recommendation would effect a saving of $28,780 for the 1945-47 Biennium. Comparable savings for ensuing bienniums would result.

Unless this is done no appreciable savings are available in this item and the State will be continuing a practice which yields less desirable results than can be secured by making use of expert facilities which should be second to none if we judge from the increased costs over 1941-43 expenditures.

Department of Corrections—Youth Authority
Analysis of Proposed Expenditure for the 1945-47 Biennium

Items 58-74 inclusive, pages 5 and 6, Budget Bill; pages 132 to 174 inclusive of the Budget. Appropriation requested $4,901,587, an increase of $1,374,505 or 38.35 per cent over expenditures of $3,584,282 in the 1943-45 Biennium. The peak load of youth to be handled for the biennium will be only 1,970 or a total cost for each inmate of $1,276 per year.

The Youth Authority was created by the 1943 Regular Session of the Legislature. Therefore 1943-1945 Biennium expenditures for administrative divisions, work camps for boys and schools other than the Fred C. Nelles School for Boys, the Preston School of Industry, and the Ventura School for Girls, are not comparable to the 1945-47 Biennium. The Fred C. Nelles School for Boys, the Preston School of Industry and the Ventura School for Girls have been in operation for years as a part of the Department of Institutions, so comparable figures are available and are valid.

Item 58, page 5 of the Budget Bill and page 131 to 137 inclusive of the Budget—Administrative Divisions: (Head Office).

Proposed expenditures of the administrative divisions for the 1945-47 Biennium compared with 1943-45 are summarized in Table I following:

TABLE I—YOUTH AUTHORITY
Analysis of Proposed Expenditures 1945-47 Compared with 1943-45

Expenditures: Support	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase or decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent
Authority	$4,889	$62,994	+ $58,105	+1188.48
Administration	125,005	182,605	+ 57,600	+ 46.07
Accounting	52,848	74,402	+ 21,554	+ 40.78
Delinquent prevention	73,132	126,945	+ 53,813	+ 73.58

Totals	$554,127	$994,230	+$440,103	+ 79.22

Proposed expenditures of administrative divisions for 1945-47 as compared with estimated expenditures for 1943-45, by object of expenditure are summarized in Table II following:

TABLE II—YOUTH AUTHORITY

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures, by Object, 1945-47 Compared with 1943-45

Expenditures by object	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase or decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent
Salaries and wages	$322,663	$608,033	+$285,370	+88.44
Operating expense	210,118	360,307	+ 150,189	+71.47
Equipment	21,346	25,890	+ 4,544	+21.29
Totals	$554,127	$994,230	+$440,103	+79.22

The Budget shows 94 positions in administrative divisions for the 1944-45 Fiscal Year with an estimate of 91 positions at the beginning of the 1945-47 Biennium. There are 16 proposed new positions other than Authority members for the 1945-46 Fiscal Year, with four more new positions to be added during the 1946-47 Fiscal Year, requiring an estimated expenditure of $65,750 during the biennium. Table III shows these proposed new positions:

TABLE III—YOUTH AUTHORITY

Proposed New Positions 1945-47 Biennium

Number positions Fiscal year 45-46	46-47		Estimated cost for biennium
1	1	Senior Stenographer Clerk	$4,320
	1	Intermediate Typist Clerk	1,500
4	5	*Intermediate Stenographer Clerk	11,660
1	1	Transportation Officer-Clerk	5,040
2	2	Intermediate Account Clerk	5,770
1	1	Junior Socio.-Economic Research Technician	5,140
1	1	Senior Account Clerk	4,500
1	1	Senior Clinical Psychologist	5,940
4	5	*Placement Officer, Grade 1	15,265
1	2	*Placement Officer, Grade 2	6,615
16	20		$65,750

* Positions to be filled at various dates during biennium.

Of the budgeted increased salary expense of $285,370, some $40,000 or 14 per cent is statutory salaries for two members of the Authority; $65,750 or 23.04 per cent is for 16 proposed new positions for 1945-46, plus four additional positions for 1946-47, making 20 new positions for the biennium (see Table II); $18,215 or 6.38 per cent is for normal salary increases for present positions and proposed new positions. If the proposed new administrative positions are allowed, the ratio will be approximately one administrative employee to every 18 inmates according to population estimates for the 1945-47 Biennium, which is too high.

Operating expense shows an increase of $150,189 or 71.47 per cent. As this agency was not in full operation during both years of the 1943-45 Biennium, it is difficult to determine what are excessive estimates. However, traveling and automobile expense shows the largest increase and are shown by fiscal years in Table IV.

TABLE IV—YOUTH AUTHORITY

	Traveling expense	Increase over 44-45 estimate	Automobile expense	Increase over 44-45 estimate
Expenditure 1943-44	$4,714		$3,655
Estimate 1944-45	30,675		11,900
Proposed 1945-46	43,350	41 per cent	18,525	56 per cent
Proposed 1946-47	47,375	54 per cent	18,750	58 per cent

The above figures show that traveling and automobile operating expense has been amply provided for. We believe some savings can be made in this.

Equipment expenditures show a proposed total expenditure of $25,890, an increase of $4,544 or 21.29 per cent. Of the $25,890 proposed expenditure for equipment, $9,711 is for office and $10,300 is for automobiles.

Recommendation:

That Section 1725 of the Welfare and Institutions Code be amended so the members of the Youth Authority receive the same compensation as provided in the original act, thereby saving $40,000 in salaries of two members during the 1945-47 Biennium.

Ratio of employees to inmates should be approximately 1 to 75, therefore only specialized employees and necessary clerical assistance should be added to the present staff until population catches up.

That only the following new positions be allowed:

	Estimated cost for biennium
1 Intermediate Account Clerk	$2,250
1 Junior Socio-Economic Research Technician	5,140
1 Intermediate Account Clerk (Continuation of temporary position authorized in 1944-45)	3,520
1 Senior Clinical Psychologist	5,940
3 Placement Officers employment to begin in 1945	14,595
2 Placement Officers employment to begin in 1946	7,300
1 Placement Officer employment to begin in 1947	780
1 Intermediate Stenographer-Clerk employment to begin in 1946	2,490
1 Intermediate Stenographer-Clerk employment to begin in 1947	540
12 positions	$42,555

That the following emergency war positions be eliminated as soon as possible after the war:

3 Field Representatives
1 Intermediate Stenographer-Clerk

That in order to reduce proposed expenditures to the proper amount, item No. 58, Assembly Bill No. 500, be approved for $821,245, a reduction of $172,985 represented by reductions in:

Salaries and wages	$63,195
Operating expense	101,000
Equipment	8,790
	$172,985

After the above reduction the Youth Authority will be able to carry on during the 1945-47 Biennium on a basis somewhat above the 1944-45 Fiscal Year budget amounts.

Item No. 59, page 5 of the Budget Bill, and page 138 of the Budget—Transportation of Persons—$117,500, an increase of $20,598 or 21.26 per cent.

Recommend item be approved as requested as funds can not be used except for transportation of persons committed to the Authority, including sheriffs' fees and transportation. Appropriation can not be diverted to any other purpose.

Item No. 60, page 5 of the Budget Bill, and page 138 of the Budget—Transportation of nonresidents—$50,000, an increase of $11,990 or 31.54 per cent.

Recommend item be approved as requested as funds can not be used except to transport nonresidents committed to the Authority. Funds can not be diverted to any other purpose.

Item No. 61, page 5 of the Budget Bill, and pages 141 to 147, inclusive, of the Budget—Work Camps for Boys. Proposed expenditure for Work Camps for Boys for the 1945-47 Biennium compared with 1943-45 and expenditures for each camp are summarized in Table V following:

Proposed expenditures for Work Camps for Boys for 1945-47 Biennium compared with 1943-45 expenditures, by object of expenditure, are summarized in Table VI following:

TABLE VI—YOUTH AUTHORITY

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for Work Camps by Object of Expenditure—1945-47 Compared With 1943-45

Expenditure by Object:	Actual and Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase or Decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent

The budgeted increased salary expense is $198,039. Some $49,238 of this or 24.86 per cent, as shown in Table VII, is for two proposed new positions during 1945-46 and 17 positions at a proposed new camp to be established in 1946-47, which will take the place of the Stockton Ordnance Depot Camp, which it is estimated will be closed when the war is over. Therefore the Budget does not show any expenditure for Stockton for the 1946-47 Fiscal Year. $142,061 or 71.73 per cent is the amount to be paid employees who were not employed during the full 24 months of the 1943-45 Biennium. Normal salary increases during 1945-47 account for $6,640 or 3.35 per cent of the salary increases.

2	19		$49,238

It must be noted that of a total proposed expenditure of $1,280,642 for support of the Work Camps for Boys an appropriation of only $63,267 or 5 per cent of the total proposed expenditure is asked in the Budget Bill. The work camps for boys have been almost self-supporting, revenues being derived from labor of the boys furnished on various projects. Therefore, the management of the Youth Authority is commended for the fine job they have been doing in caring for the boys at such a small cost to the taxpayers and at the same time making an excellent record in aiding the war effort and rehabilitating their charges.

Recommended that Item 61 be approved for $63,267, the amount requested.

Item 62, page 6 of the Budget Bill, and page 146 of the Budget—Work Camps for Boys—Construction improvements, repairs and equipment.

Proposed expenditure $51,500, of which $50,500 is for a proposed new camp to be constructed during the 1945-46 Fiscal Year to take the place of the Stockton Ordnance Camp for which no expenditures are proposed for the 1946-47 Fiscal Year, it being anticipated that the Stockton Camp will be closed soon after the war is over.

Recommend the appropriation be approved as requested.

Item 63, page 6 of the Budget Bill, and pages 148 and 149 of the Budget, support Fricot Ranch School for Boys.

Proposed expenditure of $220,055—an increase of $119,756 or 119.04 per cent. This increase is not a fair comparison as this is a new school and was not operated during the full 24 months of the 1943-45 Biennium. Based on estimated expenditures for 1944-45, the increase for the 1945-47 Biennium is approximately 25 per cent, represented by an estimated cost of feeding and clothing caused by an increase in population from 80 to 100 inmates.

Recommend the appropriation be approved as requested.

Item 64, page 6 of the Budget Bill, and page 149 of the Budget—purchase of real property in Calaveras County.

Proposed expenditure of $60,000 for the purchase of the Fricot Ranch property, the property on which the Fricot School for Boys supported by Item No. 63 is located. Ranch consists of approximately 1,050 acres —with buildings, water supply, hydro-electric plant and concrete swimming pool, and certain useable educational shop equipment.

Recommend the appropriation be approved as requested.

Item 65, page 6 of the Budget Bill, page 149 of the Budget. Construction improvement, repairs and equipment at Fricot Ranch School for Boys.

Proposed expenditure $28,800. This appropriation is required in order to make necessary improvements and expansion of facilities at the Fricot Ranch School for Boys.

Recommend the appropriation be approved as requested.

Item 66, page 6 of the Budget Bill and pages 151 and 156, inclusive, of the Budget—Support Fred C. Nelles School for Boys.

Proposed expenditure for support $784,047 for the 1945-47 Biennium, an increase of $100,416 or 14.69 per cent over estimated expenditures of $683,631 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

The per inmate costs shown on page 151 of the Budget are already high, $1,084.52 for 1943-44, yet it is proposed to increase this to $1,227.47 per inmate for 1945-46. With the high percentage of failures in the last 10 years at this school, it is questionable if these costs should be allowed to go up. It seems time to look for a cheaper way to care for delinquents and spend more on promising young people who are not delinquent but are submerged by lack of an opportunity equal to what is given by the State to the inmates of this institution.

Proposed expenditures by organization unit for 1945-47 compared with 1943-45 are summarized in Table VIII.

TABLE VIII—YOUTH AUTHORITY—FRED C. NELLES SCHOOL FOR BOYS
Analysis of Proposed Expenditures 1945-47 Compared With 1943-45

	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase or decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent

Total support	$683,631	$784,047	+$100,416	+14.69
Inmate cost per year	$1,073	$1,225	$+152

1. Administration shows a proposed expenditure increase of $8,605 or 10.03 per cent, which is accounted for by salary increases of $5,747 or 66.8 per cent, and one new position at an increased cost of $3,360 or 39 per cent during the 1945-47 Biennium.

2. Support and Subsistence shows proposed increase of $36,667 or 21.15 per cent. Approximately $12,000 or 32.72 per cent represents approximately $19 per year proposed increased cost in feeding and clothing each inmate. This increase of $19 does not appear excessive but when increased costs are broken down by fiscal years there is an estimated increase of approximately $45 per inmate between the 1943-44 Fiscal Year and 1944-45 Fiscal Year. The proposed expenditure during the 1945-47 Biennium for each inmate is about the same amount as estimated for the 1944-45 Fiscal Year. Salary increases account for $6,027 or 16.55 per cent and one proposed new position accounts for $3,060 or 8.34 per cent. Proposed increase in expenditures for equipment amounts to $19,552 or 53.32 per cent to be expended, mostly for feeding, housekeeping and laundry equipment.

3. Care and Welfare shows a proposed increase of $19,185 or 5.37 per cent, which is accounted for by salary increases of $16,972 or 88.4 per cent, and one new position at a cost of $3,840 or 20.07 per cent during the 1945-47 Biennium.

4. Maintenance and Operation of Plant shows a proposed increase of $21,949 or 25.82 per cent. Salary increases account for $4,669 or 21.27 per cent, one new position accounts for $4,440 or 20.22 per cent. Equipment accounts for the largest increase—$9,927 or 45.23 per cent—nearly all being for light, heat and power.

Proposed expenditures by object of expenditure are summarized in Table IX as follows:

Inmate cost per year	$1,073	$1,225	+ $152

Of the budgeted increased salary expense of $49,258, or 9.61 per cent, salary increases during the 1945-47 Biennium amount to $29,698 or 60.29 per cent and proposed new positions amount to $19,560 or 39.71 per cent, which are shown in Table X as follows:

TABLE X—YOUTH AUTHORITY—FRED C. NELLES SCHOOL FOR BOYS
Proposed New Positions

No. Positions Fiscal Year 45-46	46-47		Estimated Cost for Biennium
1	1	Intermediate Stenographer Clerk	$3,360
		Senior Clerk (reclassification)	360
1	1	Seamstress	3,000
1	1	Boys group supervisor	3,840
1	1	Stationery fireman	4,440
1	1	Instructor in animal husbandry	4,560
5	5	Total	$19,560

No increase in population is anticipated during the 1945-1947 Biennium, therefore it is questionable that an increase in employees is necessary. However, some reclassification of present positions may be necessary in order to balance the staff.

The increase of $14,621 or 5.91 per cent in operating expense has been commented on in reporting on each organization unit.

Of the $35,812 or 413.63 per cent increase in proposed expenditure for equipment the major expenditures have been commented on in reporting on each organization unit.

Recommendation:

That Item No. 66 of Assembly Bill No. 500 be reduced to $764,847, the reduction of $19,200 being the proposed expenditure for new positions. No new positions should be necessary, there being no increase in population anticipated, and per inmate costs are already high.

Item 67, page 6 of the Budget Bill and pages 156 and 157 of the Budget —Construction, Improvements, Repairs and Equipment at Fred C. Nelles School for Boys.

Proposed expenditure of $11,182 to be used as shown in Table XI:

TABLE XI—YOUTH AUTHORITY—FRED C. NELLES SCHOOL FOR BOYS

Proposed purchase of property and equipment:
Stock for animal husbandry project	$6,950
Power line to Greenleaf Cottage	1,450
Ice cream freezing and hardening unit	800
Improved lighting installation	600
Other	1,382
Total	$11,182

Recommend that Item No. 67 be approved for $11,182 as requested, with the proviso that no money for stock for animal husbandry be expended until the projects and amount therefor be recommended by the Director of Agriculture, Head of the Department of Agriculture of University of California, and Director of the Farm Production Council.

Item No. 68, page 6 of the Budget Bill and pages 158 to 163, inclusive, of the Budget—Support Preston School of Industry.

Proposed expenditure for support of $1,456,202 for the 1945-47 biennium, an increase of $208,590 or 16.72 per cent over estimated expenditure of $1,247,613 for 1943-45.

The per inmate cost at this institution shown on page 158 of the Budget is already high at $947.55 for 1943-44, when it is considered that there is a population of 692. In the Budget this is calculated to go to $1,060.48 for 1946-47.

With failures reaching as high as 50 per cent despite publicity of the fine results in selected cases, it is questionable in our opinion that costs should be increased, but rather a cheaper method of handling such delinquents with equal or better results should be sought. Society would profit more if normal young people have not the opportunity to develop their abilities because of economic limitations could be assisted by financial support equal to what is expended by the State on Preston commitments.

In our opinion the costs of recoveries through the Preston process is excessive because of the high per cent of failures. The whole institution needs overhauling including: (1) Type sent there; (2) Program of restoration; (3) Offerings of the school; (4) Discipline; (5) Management; (6) Costs for over-all treatment and care in ratio to those rehabilitated.

Proposed expenditures by organization unit for 1945-47 compared with 1943-45 are summarized in Table XII:

TABLE XII—YOUTH AUTHORITY—PRESTON SCHOOL OF INDUSTRY
Analysis of Proposed Expenditures 1945-47 Compared with 1943-45

1. Administration shows a proposed expenditure increase of $14,354 or 12.08 per cent, accounted for by: Salary increases of $4,839 or 33.71 per cent; one proposed new position at a proposed expenditure of $4,320 or 30.10 per cent for the biennium; operating expenses increased by $2,505 or 17.45 per cent, all items being increased some; proposed equipment expenditures increased by $2,690 or 18.74 per cent, the largest item being for general office.

2. Support and subsistence shows proposed increase of $56,498 or 18.86 per cent, accounted for by: Salary increases $7,616 or 13.48 per cent; one proposed new position $3,360 or 5.94 per cent; operating expenses, a net of $36,053 or 63.81 per cent, represent approximately $27 per year proposed increased cost in feeding and clothing each inmate. Increased costs broken down by fiscal years shows an increase of approximately $30 per inmate between the 1943-44 Fiscal Year and the 1944-45 Fiscal Year. The proposed expenditure for the 1945-47 Biennium is approximately the same as for the 1944-45 Fiscal Year, which is somewhat overbudgeted. Equipment increase of $9,467 or 16.75 per cent nearly all to be used for housekeeping equipment.

3. Care and welfare shows a proposed expenditure of $49,757 or 7.81 per cent, accounted for by salary increases of $24,160 or 48.55 per cent, five new positions amounting to $28,360 or 56.99 per cent. Proposed expenditures for operating expense and equipment being less than during the 1943-45 Biennium due to the expenditures for paroles and discharges being transferred to Youth Authority Administration.

Maintenance and operation of plant shows a proposed increase of $14,071 or 8.47 per cent. Salary increases account for $5,186 or 36.85 per cent. No new positions are requested. Operating expenses and equipment account for $8,886 or 63.16 per cent to be used mostly for maintenance of buildings.

5. Farming and processing shows a proposed increase of $3,461 or 3.58 per cent—a very reasonable increase. Salary increases account for $2,736 or 79.05 per cent; no new positions are requested. Much of the labor in this unit is done by inmates.

Table XIII following shows a comparison of the net cost of operating the farming and processing unit, with value of production consumed in the support and subsistence unit.

TABLE XIII—YOUTH AUTHORITY—PRESTON SCHOOL OF INDUSTRY
Comparison of Value of Products Consumed to Net Cost of Operating Farming and Processing Unit

1945-47	160,000	100,088	59,912

Proposed expenditures by object of expenditure are summarized in Table XIV as follows:

Of the budgeted increased salary expense of $80,576 or 8.85 per cent, salary increases during the 1945-47 Biennium amount to $44,616, or

55.37 per cent, and proposed new positions and overtime amount to $35,960 or 44.62 per cent, which are shown in Table XV as follows:

TABLE XV—YOUTH AUTHORITY PRESTON SCHOOL OF INDUSTRY
Proposed New Positions and Overtime

No. positions fiscal year 45-46	No. positions fiscal year 46-47		Estimated cost for biennium
1	1	Senior Account Clerk	$4,320

1	1	Physical Education Teacher	4,320
		Overtime	8,400
2	2	Boys Group Supervisor	7,680
7	7		$35,960

No proposed increase in population is anticipated during the 1945-47 biennium, therefore it is questionable that an increase in employees is necessary, however some reclassification of present positions may be necessary in order to balance the staff.

The proposed increase of $43,761 or 10.0 per cent in operating expense has been commented on in reporting on each organization unit.

The increase of $20,558 or 170.69 per cent in equipment looks large from a percentage of increase point of view, but when broken down by units and consideration given to the fact this type of expenditure has been limited during the war, the increase in dollars appears reasonable.

Recommendations:

That Item No. 68 of Assembly Bill No. 500 be reduced to $1,428,842, the reduction of $27,360 being proposed expenditure for new positions. No new positions should be necessary, there being no increase in population anticipated.

Medical services at this school are inadequate—the resident physician is unsuited for the work required, and this condition must be corrected. It is recommended that the present physician be replaced by a younger physician, competent to do a full all-around job required at this institution.

Item No. 69 of the Budget Bill, page 164 of the Budget—Construction, improvements, repairs and equipment, Preston School of Industry.

Proposed expenditure of $52,180 to be used as shown in Table XVI:

TABLE XVI -YOUTH AUTHORITY—PRESTON SCHOOL OF INDUSTRY
Proposed Purchase of Property and Equipment

Laundry equipment	$21,675
Ranch equipment	11,270
Printing shop and bindery equipment	12,810
Automobile shop equipment	4,400
Tailor shop equipment	2,025
Total	$52,180

It is proposed to expand the facilities shown in Table XVI in order to give better training to inmates, at the same time making some savings in laundry service rendered to the Fricot Ranch School for Boys.

Recommend Item No. 69 be approved for $52,180 as requested.

Item No. 70, page 6 of the Budget Bill and pages 165 to 167, inclusive, of the Budget—Los Guilucos School for Girls Support.

Proposed expenditure of $267,576—an increase of $95,215 or 55.24 per cent. This increase is not a fair comparison, as this is a new school and was not operated during the full 24 months of the 1943-45 Biennium. Based on estimated expenditures for the 1944-45 Fiscal Year, the increase for the 1945-47 Biennium is up approximately 18 per cent, represented by an estimated cost of feeding and clothing caused by an increase in population from 90 to 110 inmates. This will cut per inmate costs. More capacity should be secured, so as to further reduce per inmate costs below $1,230 for 1946-47.

Recommend the appropriation be approved at $267,576, the amount requested.

Item No. 71, page 6 of the Budget Bill and page 168 of the Budget—Purchase of Real Property in Sonoma County.

Proposed expenditure of $150,000 to purchase the former Pythian Home, consisting of approximately 320 acres, of which 125 acres are under cultivation. There are two 1,000,000-gallon water storage reservoirs supplied by gravity, three modern brick buildings, and other utility buildings.

Recommend the appropriation be approved at $150,000, the amount requested.

Item No. 72, page 6 of the Budget Bill and page 68 of the Budget—Construction, improvements, repairs, at Los Guilucos School for Girls.

Proposed expenditure of $88,310, the major items are shown in Table XVII.

TABLE XVII—YOUTH AUTHORITY—LOS GUILUCOS SCHOOL FOR GIRLS
Proposed Construction and Improvements

Laundry building and equipment	$38,000
Remodeling kitchen	7,350
Irrigation system	15,000
New well and pump	7,150
Repairing and relocating electrical center	1,000
Painting exterior of buildings	2,800
Repairs to farm buildings and fences	3,050
Repairs to administration and dormitories building	5,910
Repairs to existing water system	4,750
Improvements to grounds	1,600
Butane gas system	900
Other	800
Total	$88,310

Recommend Item No. 72 be approved at $88,310, the amount requested. This is a companion of Item No. 71, which appropriates funds to purchase the land and buildings upon which the above repairs will be made.

Item No. 73, page 6 of the Budget Bill and pages 169 to 173, inclusive, of the Budget—Ventura School for Girls—Support.

Proposed expenditure for support of $497,238, for the 1945-47 biennium, an increase of $78,416 or 18.72 per cent over estimated expenditures of $418,822 for 1943-45. Per inmate costs were $1,216 for 1943-44 but will increase to $1,282 for 1945-47.

Proposed expenditures by organization units for 1945-47 compared with 1943-45 are summarized in Table XVIII.

TABLE XVIII YOUTH AUTHORITY- VENTURA SCHOOL FOR GIRLS
Analysis of Proposed Expenditures 1945-47 Compared with 1943-45

Support:	Actual and Estimated 1943-1945	Proposed 1945-1947	Increase or Decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per Cent
Administration	$51,281	$63,605	+$12,324	+ 24.03
Inmate cost per year	142	159	+ 17
Support and subsistence	114,972	153,470	+ 38,498	+ 33.48
Inmate cost per year	319	384	+ 65
Care and welfare	193,218	217,488	+ 24,270	+ 12.57
Inmate cost per year	537	544	+ 7
Maintenance and operation of plant	43,004	51,395	+ 8,391	+ 19.51
Inmate cost per year	119	128	+ 9
Farming and processing	16,347	11,280	— 5,067	11.78
Inmate cost per year	45	28	— 17
Total support	$418,822	$497,238	+$78,416	+ 18.72
Inmate cost per year	$1,163	$1,243	+ $80

Administration shows a proposed expenditure increase of $12,324 or 24.03 per cent accounted for by:

Salary increases of	$5,960 or 48.36%
One proposed new position	4,080 or 33.10%
Operating expense	1,317 or 10.68%	representing normal increases for all classifications.
Equipment	968 or 7.85%	representing normal increases for all classifications.

Support and subsistence shows proposed increase of $38,498 or 33.48% accounted for by:

Salary increases	$2,673 or 6.94%
One proposed new position	1,940 or 5.04%

Operating expense a net of $20,510 or 53.27 per cent includes approximately $34 per year proposed increased cost in feeding and clothing each inmate. Increased costs broken down by fiscal years show an increase of approximately $38 per inmate between 1943-44 and 1944-45. The proposed expenditure for each fiscal year of the 1945-47 Biennium is approximately the same, and when the 1943-45 Biennium is compared with the 1945-47 Biennium the average increase cost is approximately $34 as shown above; but to compare the Fiscal Year 1944-45 with 1945-46 shows an increase of $13 per year for each inmate, also when the Fiscal Year 1943-44 is compared with 1945-47 the increase is approximately $47 per inmate per year.

Care and welfare shows a proposed increase of $24,270 or 12.57 per cent, accounted for by:

Salary increases	$3,936 or 16.22%
Three new positions	14,160 or 58.34%
Operating expenses	1,676 or 6.90%

This increase appears reasonable but when consideration is given to the transfer of expense for paroles to administration, the total increase is about $3,200; also consideration must be given to a new proposed expenditure for religious services of $2,400 for the biennium—which leaves a net increase of approximately $800 in old classifications.

Equipment expenditures increased $4,500 or 18.54 per cent—to be used in purchasing educational and recreational equipment during each fiscal year.

Maintenance and operation of plant shows a proposed increase of $8,391 or 19.51 per cent, accounted for by:

Salary increase	$1,390 or 16.57%
One new position	4,560 or 54.34%
Operating expense	1,530 or 18.23%

This increase includes small amounts for nearly all operating expense classifications.

Equipment	$912 or 10.86%

This increase is reasonable, the expenditure for 1943-45 being only $263.

Farming and processing shows a decrease of $5,067 or 11.78 per cent. This is unusual. Table XVIX, following, shows a comparison of the net cost of operating the farming and processing unit with value of production consumed in the support and subsistence unit.

TABLE XVIX—YOUTH AUTHORITY—VENTURA SCHOOL FOR GIRLS
Comparison of Value of Products Consumed to Net Cost of Operating Farming and Processing Unit

Biennium	Value of consumed products	Net cost of production	Estimated savings
1943-45	$18,367	$16,347	$2,020
1945-47	15,000	11,280	3,720

Proposed expenditures by object of expenditure are summarized in Table XX as follows:

TABLE XX—YOUTH AUTHORITY—VENTURA SCHOOL FOR GIRLS
Analysis of Proposed Expenditures, 1945-47, Compared with 1943-45

Expenditure by object	Actual and Estimated 1943-1945	Proposed 1945-1947	Increase or Decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent

Total Support	$418,822	$497,238	+$78,416	+ 18.72
Inmate cost per year	1,163	1,243	+ 80

Of the budgeted increased salary expense of $39,133 or 13.33 per cent, salary increases during the 1945-47 Biennium amount to $15,853 or 40.51 per cent, and proposed new positions amount to $23,280 or 59.48 per cent, which are shown in Table XXI as follows:

TABLE XXI—YOUTH AUTHORITY—VENTURA SCHOOL FOR GIRLS
Analysis of Proposed New Positions

Number of positions 45-46	46-47	Proposed new positions	Estimated increase for biennium
1	1	Institution Storekeeper, Grade 1	$4,080
1	1	Graduate nurse	4,080
2	2	Girl's group supervisor (1 uniform holidays)	7,680
--	--	Teacher (intermittent)	2,400
1	1	Institutions painter	4,560
--	--	Institution firefighter (2 part-time)	480
5	5	Total	$23,280

The increase in population is estimated to increase from 170 during 1943-44 to 200 during each year of the new biennium.

The proposed increase of $21,812 or 15.07 per cent in operating expense has been commented on in reporting on each organization unit.

The increase of $18,620 or 276.47 per cent in equipment looks large from a percentage of increase point of view, but when broken down by units and consideration given to the fact this type of expenditure has been limited during the war, the increase in dollars appears reasonable.

Recommendation

That Item 73 of Assembly Bill No. 500 be reduced to $478,038, the reduction of $19,200 being proposed increased expenditures for new positions other than for institution storekeeper. Reorganization and reclassification will be necessary to better carry the overhead load.

We also recommend the over-all savings, salary savings and the procedure for this as previously expressed.

Item 74, page 6 of the Budget Bill and page 174 of the Budget. Construction, Improvements, Repairs, and Equipment—Ventura School for Girls.

Proposed expenditure of $9,500 to be used as shown in Table XXII as follows:

TABLE XXII—PROPOSED CONSTRUCTION, IMPROVEMENTS AND REPAIRS—VENTURA SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

Improvements to roads	$2,000
Exterior and interior painting	4,000
Alterations to cottages	2,000
Shelter for farm machinery	1,000
Extending employees' dining room	500
	$9,500

The proposed expenditure is 43 per cent of the 1943-45 Biennium expenditure.

Recommend Item 74 be approved for $9,500 as requested.

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium

Item 75, page 6 of the Budget Bill and page 175 of the Budget. Amount requested $4,000, a decrease of $101 when compared with expenditure of $4,101 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Recommend appropriation be approved for $4,000, the amount requested.

It is doubtful if the board can perform its functions as provided by law with such a small budget.

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium

Item 76, page 6 of the Budget Bill and pages 176 to 185, inclusive, of the Budget. Amount requested $713,686. This represents an increase of $163,096 or 29.62 per cent over expenditures of $550,590 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium compared with estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium are shown by organization unit in Table I.

Table I shows 13 separate divisions in the Department of Education. Some of these divisions have only part-time employees which makes it necessary for employees to divide their time between two or more jobs. This complicates everything from administration down the line to the accounting procedure. A survey of this department should be made for the purpose of consolidating divisions and eliminating all part-time salary items. Such reorganization should result in a material saving in personnel operating expense and particularly in travel, and better administration should result. At the present time the setup and procedure followed or lack of it produces a condition which is a violation of all the principles of good management. There are not only too many small divisions with too many subordinates for the director to manage well, but principals are by-passed and subordinates given orders and instructions without their division chiefs being informed.

If reorganization is not made by the department, possibly a cut in appropriation will force it. A saving and improved operations are possible at the same time.

Proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium compared with estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium are shown by Object of Expenditure in Table II.

TABLE II

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION—ADMINISTRATIVE DIVISIONS

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures by Object 1945-47 Compared With 1943-45

Expenditure by Object	Actual and Estimated 1943-1945	Proposed 1945-1947	Increase or Decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per Cent

Net totals	$550,590	$713,686	+$163,096	+ 29.62

Salaries and wages show proposed expenditure of $557,460, an increase of $102,090 or 22.42 per cent over estimated expenditures of $455,370 for the 1943-45 Biennium. The increase of $102,090 is accounted for by salary increases and salaries to be paid new employees employed during 1943-45. $58,900 or 57.69 per cent, and salaries for proposed new positions $43,190 or 42.30 per cent. The proposed new positions are shown in Table III.

* Recommendation: Reduce item 76 by $43,190 for salaries above and corresponding amount in relation to operating expenses for this proposed personnel.

Until the Department of Education is reorganized no new positions should be necessary. Salary savings will pay for added staff.

Operating Expense shows proposed expenditures of $148,844, an increase of $40,021 or 36.78 per cent over estimated expenditures of $109,823 for the 1943-45 Biennium. This increase is shown by divisions in Table IV following:

TABLE IV

Totals	$108,823	$148,844	$40,021	+ 36.78

The major over-all increase in the proposed operating expense is in the proposed expenditure for traveling of $47,660 for all divisions, an increase of $16,345 or 52.19 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $31,315 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

However, $11,160 or 68.28 per cent of the $16,345 increase is in the Division of Readjustment Education, a new division that should be supported by Federal Funds. We recommend no increase be allowed. Other divisions in which proposed increased traveling expense is reflected in Table IV by an extra increase in percentage are: Administration—$1500 or 16.98 per cent, Secondary Education—$400 or 18.37 per cent. Schoolhouse Planning—$752 or 28.39 per cent.

New items that did not appear in the 1943-45 Biennium Budget are:

For Teacher Training and Certification:
Machine rental and supplies for teacher supply and demand study $4,000, or 65.11 per cent of the $6,143 increase.

For Health and Physical Education:
Printing special physical health program bulletin, $5,500 or 94.22 per cent of the $5,837 increase.

For Vocational Education:
Printing bulletins $3,000 or 69.58 per cent of the $4,311 increase.

Recommend items be reduced by $12,500 the sum of these new items. We believe these can all be deferred until after the war and considered by the next session of the Legislature.

Equipment shows proposed expenditures of $34,532, an increase of $25,299 or 274 per cent over estimated expenditures of $9,233 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

The above expenditures broken down to the three account classifications shown in the Budget are shown in Table V.

TABLE V

Equipment Expenditure by Account Classification

Amount Classification	Actual and Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase or Decrease 1945-47 over 43-45 Amount	Per cent
General Office	$6,071	$25,192	$19,121	314.95
Books	589	940	351	59.59
Automobile	2,573	8,400	5,827	226.47
Total	$9,233	$34,532	$25,299	274.

Proposed expenditures for general office are excessive and should not be allowed. Expenditures for this classification for the 1941-42 fiscal year were only $1,306 as shown in the Budget for 1943-45. A reduction of $17,400 is suggested.

Proposed expenditures for books are reasonable when compared with the 1941-42 Biennium, when this expenditure was $1,050.

The sum of $2,573 was paid for automobiles during the 1943-44 Fiscal Year, inasmuch as traveling by automobile should be curtailed because of the war, automobiles should last more than two years, therefore, the appropriation for new automobiles should be limited to barest needs and certainly a cut of $4,400 which is included in the above reduction is not excessive.

Recommendation

That Item 76, page 6 of the Budget Bill be reduced from $713,686 to $618,521 a reduction of $95,165 or 13.33 per cent and represented by the following:

Salaries and Wages:
All proposed new positions (Includes $11,160 for Readjustment Education)	$43,190
Operating Expense
Traveling reduced from $47,760 to $31,000, a saving of	16,660
New publications and printing bulletins—total amount	12,500
Equipment
General office reduced by	13,000
Automobiles—Reduced by	4,400
The California Historical Association should be abolished or set up so as to secure adequate returns	5,415
Total reduction	$95,165

A further saving should be made by the reorganized Department of Education with a substantial reduction in the number of divisions being made.

The present organization consists of too many small divisions each with a chief and private secretary, the Budget shows several divisions with only two, three, or four employees.

The Division of Readjustment Education, a division for the benefit of returning war veterans should be supported by Federal funds. This perhaps could be taken over by some Federal supported education agency now functioning, possibly the Division of Vocational Education.

A good reorganization of the Department of Education would provide the director with a work program so he would have the better supervision, at the same time make it possible to save an undeterminable amount of taxpayers money.

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium

Item 77, page 6 of the Budget Bill, and pages 186 to 188, inclusive, of the Budget. Amount requested $421,896. This represents an increase of $99,626 or 30.91 per cent over appropriation expenditures of $322,270 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

This appropriation item is only 37.12 per cent of the total proposed expenditure of $1,136,278 of State funds required to finance the Vocational Education program in cooperation with the Federal Government in promoting vocational education.

Total proposed expenditures and means of financing expenditures for vocational education are shown in Table I following:

The vocational educational program being operated in cooperation with the Federal program, the State must appropriate its share of funds in order to obtain Federal funds.

Recommend that Item 77 be approved for $421,896, the amount requested, with the proviso that the State funds can not be spent unless the Federal funds are available.

Department of Education—Vocational Rehabilitation

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium

Item 78, page 7, of the Budget Bill and pages 189 to 192 of the Budget. Amount requested $240,000, a supplemental appropriation.

This appropriation is necessary in order to supplement continuing appropriations provided by the Education Code Sections 5803-5804.

Recommend approval of Item 78 for $240,000 as requested with the following restrictions:

The unexpended balance of any money appropriated by Item 78 of this act which remains unmatched by money received from the Federal Government or any agency thereof at the end of the biennium shall revert to the General Fund.

Proposed expenditures for vocational rehabilitation for the 1945-47 Biennium compared with estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium are shown by Organization Unit in Table I and by Object of Expenditure in Table II.

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium

Item 79 page 7 of the Budget Bill and pages 193 to 195, inclusive, of the Budget. Amount requested $431,592. This represents an increase of $66,531 or 18.22 per cent over expenditures of $365,061 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium compared with estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium are shown by Organization Unit in Table I and by Object of Expenditure in Table II.

TABLE I

ANALYSIS OF PROPOSED EXPENDITURES—1945-47 COMPARED WITH 1943-1945

Expenditures for support of organization unit	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase or decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent

Total	$365,061	$431,592	$66,531	+18.22

Salaries and wages show a proposed increase of $50,145 or 17.81 per cent over estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium. This increase is accounted for by salary increases and salaries to be paid employees not employed during full 24 months of 1943-1945 Biennium—$11,686 or 23.3 per cent and by proposed new positions as shown in Table III in the amount of $38,460 or 76.70 per cent of the total increased salary expense.

TABLE III

PROPOSED NEW POSITIONS DURING 1945-1947 BIENNIUM

45-46	46-47		Estimated cost for biennium
1	1	Senior Catalog Librarian	$4,560
2	2	Junior Librarian	8,160
	1	Microphotographer	2,700
	1	Microphotographer's Assistant	1,620

2	2	Library Aid	6,240
1	1	Junior Typist Clerk	2,580
2	2	Junior Clerk	5,160
10	12	Total	$38,460

Operating expenses shows a proposed increase of $2,532 or 7.44 per cent over estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium, which is a reasonable increase.

Equipment shows proposed increase of $13,860 or 27.94 per cent over estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium. The major items accounting for this increase are:

Office equipment	$5,918	or 42.69 per cent
Microphotographic laboratory	5,654	or 40.80 per cent
Automobile	1,200	or 8.66 per cent
Crafts	300	or 2.16 per cent

Recommendation: That Item 79 of the Budget Bill be approved for $424,672, a reduction of $6,820. The reduction being represented by a sum equal to two of the lesser proposed new positions.

The increase allowed will make it possible in time to catch up with accumulated work and keep abreast of current demands.

Proposed new positions reduced by	$4,620
Proposed purchase of office equipment reduced by	1,000
Proposed purchase of automobile	1,200
Total all reductions	$6,820

An appropriation of $424,672 will give an increase of $59,611 or 16.33 per cent over estimated expenditures of $365,061 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Analysis of Proposed Expenditure for the 1945-47 Biennium

Item 79.5, page 7 of the Budget Bill and page 781 of the Budget. Amount requested $1,616,618. This represents an increase of $90,954, or 5.96 per cent over expenditures of $1,525,664 for the 1943-45 Biennium; and an increase of $58,000 or 3.95 per cent over the 1943-45 appropriation (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of $1,467,664.

Recommend that this item be cut to an even $800,000.

Department of Education—Chico State College

Analysis of Proposed Expenditure for the 1945-47 Biennium

Item 80, page 7 of the Budget Bill and pages 197 to 203 inclusive of the Budget. Amount requested $435,213. This represents an increase of $42,077, or 10.7 per cent over expenditure of $393,136 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

The cost of operating a State college is reflected by the number of students enrolled. The instruction unit which requires the largest expenditure is affected almost immediately by changes in enrollment, other units showing some lag before enrollment changes are reflected, with maintenance and operation of the plant and grounds showing little change.

Chico State College had an enrollment of 594 students during the 1941-42 fiscal year and operated at a cost per student of $401 per year, total expenditures for the year being $238,666. During the 1943-44 Fiscal Year two years later, the enrollment on account of the war had dropped to 228 students with operating costs going up to a cost per student of $886 per year, total expenditures for the year being $202,060. Thus, using the 1941-42 figures as a base, enrollment has dropped 366 students or 61.61 per cent and operating costs have increased $485 per student or 120.95 per cent.

Proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium compared with estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium are shown by organization unit in Table I and by object of expenditure in Table II.

Enrollment (average each fiscal year)	244	425	+ 181	+ 74.18
Unit cost for support	$836	$554	+ $282	— 33.78

Table I discloses proposed increase of $13,037 or 16.6 per cent in administration and $44,289 or 16.67 per cent in Instruction. These are the two units where increases or decreases in enrollment are reflected the most in cost of operation. Table II shows an increase from 488 students at an average student cost of $836 during the 1943-45 Biennium to a proposed enrollment of 850 students at a student cost of $554 during the 1945-47 Biennium. Maintenance and operation of plant shows proposed increase of $5,735 or 8.97 per cent. This increase is reasonable, the physical layout of the school being the least affected by fluctuation in student enrollment.

Table II shows an increase of $46,484 or 12.94 per cent in salaries and wages accounted for by $15,745 or 33.87 per cent for salary increases and $30,740 or 66.13 per cent for new positions to handle anticipated increase in enrollment.

Proposed new positions are shown in detail in Table III.

TABLE III
PROPOSED NEW POSITIONS, 1945-1947

45-46	46-47		Estimated cost for biennium
		Administration
		Intermediate Stenographer-Clerk (Reclassification of 1 Junior Stenographer-Clerk)	$230

	1	Stationary Fireman (part time)	1,332
	1	Janitress	1,500
1	11		$30,740

Proposed increase of $8,826 or 23.26 per cent in operating expense is accounted for principally by an increase of $7,668 or 86.87 per cent for the instruction unit and required by the anticipated increase in enrollment.

Proposed increase of $7,750 or 71.5 per cent in equipment is accounted for by $6,364 or 82.11 per cent for the Instruction Unit and is principally for increased teaching service and library.

Recommendation: That Item No. 80 of the Budget Bill be allowed as requested with restrictions such that the expenditure of funds appropriated by Item 80 shall not exceed $400,000 until enrollment has reached 490 students. After enrollment passes 490 students expenditure of funds appropriated by Item 80 may be increased at the rate of $120 per student until the total appropriation of $435,213 has been used.

In order that the complete expenditure program of the college may be before you, the summer school session for which no appropriation is requested, it being supported by student fees, is shown in Table IV.

TABLE IV

Unit cost for support	$71	$72	+ $1

Item 81, page 7 of the Budget Bill and page 201 of the Budget. amount requested for capital outlay, $16,200. This represents an increase of $11,200 or 224 per cent over expenditure of $5,000 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

This being a capital outlay expenditure, a comparison with prior years is not necessary as consideration should be given to each item of outlay. The largest item is for book racks, etc., for the library $9,375; painting classrooms and halls not previously painted including small improvements $2,995; linoleum, light fixtures and hardware $3,800.

Recommended that Item No. 81 be reduced to $6,825, which will allow for the painting. The reduction of $9,375 represents the proposed expenditure for book racks, etc., which are normally made of metal and no doubt will not be available until after the war.

Department of Education—Fresno State College

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for the 1945-1947 Biennium

Item 82, page 7 of the Budget Bill and pages 204 to 211 inclusive of the Budget. Amount requested $811,452. This represents an increase of $137,806 or 20.46 per cent over expenditures of $673,646 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

The cost of operating a State college is reflected by the number of students enrolled. The instruction unit, which requires the largest expenditure, is affected almost immediately by changes in enrollment, other units showing some lag before enrollment changes are reflected, with maintenance and operation of plant and grounds showing little change. Fresno State College had an enrollment of 1591 students during the 1941-42 Fiscal Year and operated at a cost per student of $267 per year, total expenditures for the year being $424,004. During the 1943-44 Fiscal Year, two years later, the enrollment on account of the war had dropped to 799 students with operating costs going up to a cost per student of $473 per year, total expenditures for the year being $368,659. Thus, using the 1941-42 figures as a base, enrollment has dropped 792 students or 49.78 per cent, with operating costs increasing $206 per student or 77.15 per cent. This increase is reasonable when decreased enrollment is considered.

Proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium compared with estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium are shown by organization unit in Table I and by object of expenditure in Table II.

Enrollment (average each fiscal year)	839	1,425	+ 586	+ 69.85
Unit cost	$443	$314	— $129	— 29.12

Table I discloses proposed increases of $20,342 or 24.53 per cent in administration, and $123,114 or 22.28 per cent in instruction. These are the two units where increases or decreases in enrollment are reflected the most in cost of operation.

Table II shows an increase from 1,678 students at an average student cost of $443 during the 1943-45 Biennium to a proposed enrollment of 2,850 students at a student cost of $314 during the 1945-47 Biennium.

Maintenance and operation of plant shows proposed increase of $10,851 or 10.14 per cent. This increase is reasonable, the physical layout of the school being the least affected by fluctuation in student enrollment.

Table II shows an increase of $115,790 or 17.21 per cent in salaries and wages, accounted for by $28,350 or 24.48 per cent for salary increases and $87,439 or 75.51 per cent for new positions to handle anticipated increase in enrollment.

Proposed new positions are shown in detail in Table III.

TABLE III

PROPOSED NEW POSITIONS, 1945-1947

Fiscal years 45-46	46-47		Estimated cost for biennium
		Administration
1	1	Comptroller	$6,180
1	1	Intermediate account clerk (ML)	4,200
	1	Graduate nurse (part time)	849
	1	Junior stenographer clerk (10 months)	1,150
		Instruction
1	17	Teacher	64,800

		Maintenance and Operation of Plant
	1	Janitor	1,500
1	1	Groundsman and flower gardener	3,360
5	24	Total	$87,439

Proposed increase of $16,223 or 26.95 per cent in operating expense is accounted for principally by an increase of $10,139 or 62.5 per cent and required by the anticipated increase in enrollment.

Proposed increase of $22,293 or 236.05 per cent in equipment is accounted for by $19,368 or 86.9 per cent for the instruction unit and is principally for increased equipment for teaching service and library.

Recommendation

That Item 82, page 7 of the Budget Bill, be allowed as requested with restrictions such that the expenditure of funds appropriated by Item 82 shall not exceed $680,000 until enrollment has reached 1,680 students. After enrollment passes 1,680 students, expenditure of funds appropriated by Item 82 may be increased at the rate of $120 per student until the total appropriation of $811,542 has been used.

In order that the complete expenditure program of the college may be before you, the summer school session for which no appropriation is requested, it being supported by student fees, is shown in Table IV.

Item 83, page 7 of the Budget Bill, and page 209 of the Budget. Amount requested for construction, replacement and repairs, $86,092. This represents an increase of $75,152 or 686.95 per cent over expenditures of $10,940 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

This being budgeted as a capital outlay expenditure, a comparison with prior years is not necessary as consideration should be given to each item of outlay. The following items make up this request.

Construction of two floors of book stacks in library stack room	$25,000
Complete water pumping plant at stadium	16,500
Tile drains and floors in lavatories of main building	6,000
Repairs to women's gymnasium	8,850
Fencing	2,100
Repairs to demonstration school	7,650
Painting interior and outside trim of various buildings	16,300
Sidewalks and curbs	1,282
New sprinkling system on part of campus	1,800
Miscellaneous alterations	610
Total	$86,092

Many of these capital outlay items are actually repairs and maintenance and no doubt should have been included in the Budget for maintenance and operation of plant. However, their being appropriated as a separate item gives the Legislature better appropriation control.

Recommendation: That Item 83 of the Budget Bill be reduced to $55,810, a reduction of 35.17 per cent, represented by deleting proposed expenditures for:

Construction of one floor of book stacks in library stack room	$12,500
Complete water pump plant at stadium	16,500
Sidewalks and curbs	1,282
Total	$30,282

Department of Education—Humboldt State College
Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for the 1945-1947 Biennium

Item 84, page 7 of the Budget Bill, and pages 212 to 218, inclusive, of the Budget. Amount requested, $286,510. This represents an increase of $18,886, or 7.06 per cent over expenditures of $267,624 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

The cost of operating a State College is reflected by the number of students enrolled. Instruction, which requires the largest expenditure, is affected almost immediately by changes in enrollment; other units showing some lag before enrollment changes are reflected, with maintenance and operation of plant and grounds showing little change.

Humboldt State College, the State's smallest college, had an enrollment of 384 students during the 1941-42 Fiscal Year and operated at a cost per student of $372, total expenditures for the year being $142,888. During the 1943-44 Fiscal Year, two years later, the enrollment on account of the war had dropped to 162 students with operating costs going up to a cost per student of $837 per year. Total expenditures for the year were $135,631. Thus, using the 1941-42 figures as a base, enrollment has dropped 222 students or 57.81 per cent with operating costs increasing $466 per student or 125.60 per cent. This increase is reasonable considering that this is the smallest of the State Colleges.

Proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium, compared with estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium, are shown by organization unit in Table I and by object of expenditure in Table II.

Table I discloses proposed increases of $2,528 or 5.7 per cent in Administration and $21,997 or 12 per cent in Instruction. These are the two units where increases or decreases in enrollment are reflected the most in cost of operation. Table II shows an increase from 300 students at an average student cost of $835 during the 1943-45 Biennium to a proposed enrollment of 850 students at a student cost of $461 during the 1945-47 Biennium. Maintenance and operation of plant shows proposed increase of $2,220 or 4.63 per cent, a very reasonable increase.

Table II shows an increase of $22,611 or 9.07 per cent in Salaries and Wages accounted for by $12,932 or 57.19 per cent for salary increases and $9,680 or 42.81 per cent for new positions to handle anticipated increased enrollment. Proposed new positions are shown in detail in Table III.

1	1	Teacher	$4,260
	1	Teacher (ML)	3,470
	1	Teacher (ML)	1,950
1	3	Total	$9,680

Proposed increase of $1,859 or 8.63 per cent in Operating Expenses, a reasonable request, is accounted for principally by an increase of $1,400 or 75.30 per cent in the Instruction Unit.

Proposed increase of $2,275 or 48.72 per cent in equipment is accounted for by proposed purchase of equipment for teaching service.

Recommendation: That Item 84, page 7 of the Budget Bill, be allowed for $286,510 the amount requested. The increase of $18,886 or 7.06 per cent over the estimated appropriation expenditures for 1943-45 of $267,624 is very reasonable.

In order that the complete expenditure program of the college may be before you, the summer school session for which no appropriation is requested, it being supported by student fees, is shown in Table IV.

Item 85, page 7 of the Budget Bill and page 216 of the Budget. Amount requested for construction, improvements, and repairs—$11,500. This represents a decrease of $51,850 or 81.84 per cent under expenditures of $63,350 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

This being budgeted as a capital outlay expenditure, a comparison with prior years is not necessary as consideration should be given to each item of outlay. The request includes the following:

Painting main buildings and gymnasium	$5,500
Repairs and replacements	4,600
Improvements	1,400
Total	$11,500

Recommend Item 85 be approved for $11,500, the amount requested.

Department of Education—San Diego State College

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium

Item 86, page 7 of the Budget Bill and pages 219-225, inclusive, of the Budget. Amount requested $877,262. This represents an increase of $221,564 or 33.79 per cent over expenditures of $655,698 for the 1943-45 Biennium. The Budget shows an over-all increase of 16.4 per cent.

The cost of operating a State college is reflected largely by the number of students enrolled. The instruction unit, which requires the largest expenditure, is affected almost immediately by changes in enrollment; other units showing some lag before enrollment changes are reflected, with maintenance and operation of plant and grounds showing little change.

San Diego State College had an enrollment of 1,401 students during the 1941-42 Fiscal Year and operated at a cost per student of $315 per year, total expenditures for the year being $441,295. During the 1943-44 Fiscal Year, two years later, the enrollment on account of the war had dropped to 769 students with unit operating costs going up to a cost per student of $460 per year, total expenditures for the year being $353,807. Using the 1941-42 figures as a base, enrollment has dropped 632 students or 45.11 per cent with operating costs increasing only $145 per student or 46.03 per cent. This is a very reasonable increase considering the decrease in student enrollment.

Proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium compared with estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium are shown by organization unit in Table I and by object of expenditure in Table II.

Enrollment (average each fiscal year)	902	1,600	698	+ 77.38
Unit cost for support	394	304	—90	— 22.84

Table I discloses proposed increase of $14,882 or 14.46 per cent in administration and $220,360 or 45.25 per cent in instruction. These are two units where increases or decreases in enrollment are reflected the most in cost of operation. Table II shows an increase from 1,804 students at an average student cost of $394 during the 1943-45 biennium to a proposed enrollment of 3,200 students at a student cost of $304 during the 1945-47 biennium. Maintenance and Operating of Plant shows a proposed increase of $26,772 or 22.05 per cent. This increase appears high when the percentage of increase is considered and comparison is made with smaller State colleges. However, an analysis reveals the San Diego State College is the only State college that made a reduction in operation costs in the Maintenance and Operation of Plant Unit. When allowance is made for the reduction of $7,374, the requested increase is reasonable.

Table II shows an increase of $200,336 or 31.36 per cent in Salaries and Wages accounted for by $26,880 or 13.41 per cent for salary increases and $173,456 or 86.59 per cent for proposed new positions to handle anticipated increased enrollment. Proposed new positions are shown in detail in Table III.

Proposed increase of $24,984 or 41.61 per cent in operating expense is accounted for by an increase of $13,389 or 53.60 per cent in instruction, and $9,336 or 37.37 per cent in maintenance and operation of plant.

Proposed increase of $36,694 or 298.08 per cent in Equipment is accounted for principally by $31,461 or 85.73 per cent for teaching service and library in the Instruction Unit.

Recommendation: That Item 86, page 7 of the Budget Bill be allowed for $877,262, the amount requested, with restrictions such that the expenditure of funds appropriated by Item 86 shall not exceed $670,000 until enrollment has reached 1820 students. After enrollment has reached 1820 students, expenditures of funds appropriated by Item 86 may be increased at the rate of $160 per student until the total appropriation of $877,262 has been used.

In order that the complete expenditure program of the College may be before you, the summer school session for which no appropriation is requested, it being supported by student fees, is shown in Table IV.

Item 87, page 7 of the Budget Bill and 223 of the Budget. Amount requested for construction, improvement and repairs, $20,500. This represents an increase of $8,500 or 70.83 per cent over expenditures of $12,000 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Of the above $8,000 is for repairs, the balance of $12,500 being for acoustical treatment for gymnasium—$6,000, tennis courts—$1,000, lawn sprinkler system—$1,500, seats for open air theatre—$1,500, lock system—$1,500.

Recommend Item 87 be approved for $20,500, the amount requested.

Department of Education—San Francisco State College

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium

Item 88, page 7 of the Budget Bill and pages 226-232, inclusive, of the Budget. Amount requested $810,251. This represents an increase of $199,513 or 32.67 per cent over expenditures of $610,738 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

The cost of operating a State College is reflected by the number of students enrolled. The instruction unit which requires the largest expenditure is affected almost immediately by changes in enrollment, other units showing some lag before enrollment changes are reflected, with maintenance and operation of plant and grounds showing little change.

San Francisco State College had an enrollment of 1,517 students during the 1941-42 Fiscal Year and operated at a cost per student of $284 per year, total expenditures for the year being $431,770. During the 1943-44 Fiscal Year, two years later, the enrollment on account of the war had dropped to 722 students with operating costs going up to a cost per student of $454 per year, total expenditures for the year being $328,328. Thus, using the 1941-42 figures as a base, enrollment has dropped 795 students or 52.4 per cent with operating costs increasing $170 per student or 59.85 per cent. This increase is justified considering the reduced student enrollment.

Proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium compared with estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium are shown by organization unit in Table I and by object of expenditure in Table II.

Table I discloses proposed increases of $11,135 or 11.74 per cent in Administration and $230,598 or 49.08 per cent in Instruction. These are the two units where increases or decreases in enrollment are reflected the most in cost of operation. Table II shows an increase from 1,460 students at an average student cost of $449 during the 1943-45 Biennium to a proposed enrollment of 3,095 students at a student cost of $292 during the 1945-47 Biennium. Maintenance and operation of plant shows proposed increase of $6,265 or 6.93 per cent. We question the enrollment estimate and believe it may not be obtained.

Table II shows an increase of $210,458 or 35.68 per cent in Salaries and Wages, accounted for by $27,968 or 13.28 per cent for salary increases and $182,490 or 86.71 per cent for proposed new positions to handle anticipated increased enrollment. Proposed new positions are shown in detail in Table III.

Proposed increase of $22,477 or 41 per cent in operating expense is accounted for principally by an increase of $17,848 or 79.4 per cent in the instruction unit, and $3,900 or 17.35 per cent in the administration unit.

Proposed increase of $15,103 or 146.46 per cent in equipment is accounted for by $12,871 or 85.22 per cent in the instruction unit and $1,257 or 8.32 per cent in the maintenance and operation of plant unit.

Recommendation: That Item 88, page 7 of the Budget Bill be allowed for $810,251, the amount requested, with restrictions such that the expenditure of funds appropriated by Item 88 shall not exceed $620,000 until enrollment has reached 1,460 students. After enrollment passes 1,460 students, expenditure of funds appropriated by Item 88 may be increased at the rate of $125 per student until the total appropriation of $810,251 has been used.

In order that the complete expenditure program of the college may be before you the Summer School Session for which no appropriation is requested, it being supported by student fees, is shown in Table IV.

Item 89, page 7 of the Budget Bill and page 230 of the Budget. Amount requested for construction, improvement and repairs, $8,000. This represents a decrease of $12,913 or 61.74 per cent under expenditures of $20,913 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

This item is for painting and repairs to various buildings and equipment.

Recommend Item 89 be approved for $8,000, the amount requested.

Department of Education—San Jose State College

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium

Item 90, page 7 of the Budget Bill and pages 233-240, inclusive, of the Budget. Amount requested, $1,173,204. This represents an increase of $257,762 or 28.15 per cent over expenditures of $915,442 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

The cost of operating this State college is reflected like others in the number of students enrolled. The instruction unit which requires the largest expenditure is affected almost immediately by changes in enrollment, other units showing some lag before enrollment changes are reflected, with maintenance and operation of plant and grounds showing little change.

San Jose State College had an enrollment of 2,263 students during the 1941-42 Fiscal Year and operated at a cost per student of $245 per year, total expenditures for the year being $554,806. During the 1943-44 Fiscal Year, two years later, the enrollment on account of the war had dropped to 997 students with operating costs going up to a cost per student of $484 per year, total expenditures for the year being $482,646. Using the 1941-42 figures as a base, enrollment has dropped 1266 students or 55.94 per cent with operating costs increasing $239 per student or 97.55 per cent. This increase is justified considering the reduced student enrollment.

Proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium compared with estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium are shown by organization unit in Table I and by object of expenditure in Table II.

Table I discloses increases of $18,965 or 11.74 per cent in Administration and $270,355 or 37.72 per cent in Instruction. These are the two units where increases or decreases in enrollment are reflected the most in cost of operation. Table II shows an increase from 2,258 students at an average student cost of $437 during the 1943-45 Biennium to an estimated enrollment of 4,030 students at a student cost of $321 during the 1945-47 Biennium. Maintenance and operation of plant shows a proposed increase of $18,789 or 12.12 per cent.

Table II shows an increase of $256,900 or 30.29 per cent in salaries and wages, accounted for by $74,410 or 28.96 per cent for salary increases and salaries of employees not employed during the full 24 months of the 1943-45 Biennium. Proposed new positions accounts for $182,490 or 71.03 per cent, and will be necessary to handle anticipated increased enrollment. Proposed new positions are shown in detail in Table III.

Proposed increase of $28,338 or 24.71 per cent in operating expense is accounted for principally by an increase of $19,535 or 68.93 per cent in instruction unit, and $6,344 or 22.38 per cent in the maintenance and operation of plant unit.

Proposed increase of $22,871 or 98.46 per cent in equipment is accounted for by $20,677 or 90.41 per cent for teaching service and library in the instruction unit.

Recommendation: That Item 90, page 7 of the Budget Bill be allowed for $1,173,204, the amount requested, with restrictions such that the expenditure of funds appropriated by Item 90 shall not exceed $950,000 until enrollment has reached 2,260 students, expenditures of funds appropriated by Item 90 may be increased at the rate of $125 per student until the total appropriation of $1,173,204 has been used.

In order that the complete expenditure program of the College may be before you, the Summer School Session for which no appropriation is requested, it being supported by student fees, is shown in Table IV.

Item 91, page 7 of the Budget Bill and page 238 of the Budget. Amount requested for construction, improvement and repairs, $73,911.

This represents a decrease of $281,925 or 79.23 per cent under expenditures of $355,836 for the 1943-45 Biennium which included a special appropriation of $300,000 for acquisition of land and buildings.

This appropriation being for construction, improvement and repairs, it is not necessary to make a comparison with prior years as each item should be considered separately. The items included in this appropriation are as follows:

Construction, improvements and equipment:
Electric service and transformers	$11,000
Campus outdoor lighting	13,200
Interior lighting in main building	6,000
Construction of:
Deep vacuum pump pit in boiler room	2,077
Tunnels for steam service	10,076
Fire walls in attics of main building, education, art, and home economics buildings	5,000
Installation of:
Bookshelves in library
Concrete floor covered with cork linoleum in reserve book room	4,334
Basket locker system in men's gymnasium	6,000
Tile on wall and ceiling in shower room in men's gymnasium	1,500
Steam flow meter, feed-water regulators and booster circulating pump	985
New hot water heater in home economics building	600
Lawn sprinkling system	8,936
Mastipave on cement floors in science building	3,128
Ventilating fans in basement of classrooms	500
Painting:
Science building
Main building
Alterations to lavatories in main building	575
Repairing window frames and sashes
Miscellaneous painting and repairs in all buildings
Totals, construction, improvement and equipment	$73,911

Expenditures for repairs and maintenance for the two preceding bienniums were below average however, so it is clear not all the above items are emergency. It is recommended that Item 91 be approved for $51,000, reducing the request by $22,911. This will allow enough to do emergency work. Outdoor lighting and lawn sprinkling can wait until the end of the war.

Department of Education—California School for the Blind

Items, 92, 93 and 94 of the Budget Bill, pages 246 to 250, inclusive, of the Budget. Total appropriation requested, $368,453. This is an increase of $45,217 or 13.98 per cent over 1943-45 expenditure of $323,-236 and an increase of $85,113 or 30.03 per cent over the 1943-45 appropriation of $283,340. Item 92 for support—$343,953 is an increase of $40,217 or 13.3 per cent above 1943-45.

The two largest items of expense in connection with operation of the California School for the Blind are: "Instruction and care" and "Support and subsistence." In the 1945-47 Biennium "Instruction and care" costs are scheduled to increase from a total of $146,770 in the 1943-45 Biennium to $164,163, an increase of $17,384 or 11.85 per cent. Blind students require a greater degree of care and more personalized supervision than is normally necessary thus tending toward high per capita costs. In view of larger enrollment and resulting increased intramural activities, we believe this 11 per cent increase to be in line.

The item for "Support and subsistence" is to increase from $79,976 in the 1943-45 Biennium to $95,335 in the 1945-47 Biennium, an increase of $15,379 or 19.22 per cent. Owing to the fact that the California School for the Blind purchases all of its food supplies on the open market some allowance should be made for increased expenditures due to larger enrollment. We believe, however, that the total increase requested can be reduced without causing undue hardship. This is particularly true in view of the tapering off of food prices which already has begun to develop. However, we do not recommend reducing the appropriation but allow the institution to save if moneys are not required.

Salaries and wages in the 1943-45 Biennium amounted to $235,397. It is proposed that the amount for salaries and wages in the 1945-47 Biennium shall be $266,598, an increase of $31,201 or 13.25 per cent. Of this budgeted salary increase $7,158 is for normal salary increases and the remainder for new positions necessary by population increase.

Proposed new positions account for $12,792 of the increase and the differential, $11,250 is salary increases and salaries to be paid to employees who did not work the full 24 months of the 1943-45 Biennium but who are expected to be working the full 24 months of the ensuing biennium.

Proposed expenditures and estimated revenue are summarized in Table I following:

Recommendations: Item 92—Although we believe that per student costs should be held down, we recommend that the request for appropriations for new positions be held in a salary saving fund as previously described.

Item 93—We recommend that Item 93 for $13,000 for readers for the blind be approved. This is the same sum appropriated for the current biennium.

Item 94—$11,500. We recommend that the amount requested for capital outlay be approved for the proposed sum of $11,500.

Department of Education—California School for the Deaf

Items 95, 96, 97 of the Budget Bill and pages 251-256, inclusive, of the Budget.

Item 95 for support. Amount requested, $691,870; this is an increase of $128,724 or 22.85 per cent over expenditure of $563,146 in the 1943-1945 Biennium and an increase of $123,395 or 21.70 per cent over the 1943-45 appropriation of $568,475.

Item 96, for expenses of deaf graduates attending Gaulledet College. Amount requested, $12,000, an increase of $6,342 or 112.08 per cent over expenditures of $5,658 for the 1943-45 Biennium and an increase of $3,900 or 48.15 per cent over the 1943-45 appropriation of $8,100 for this purpose.

Item 97, for construction and improvements. Amount requested, $9,000. This is an increase of $3,000 or 50 per cent over the 1943-1945 expenditure, and an increase of $7,000 or 350 per cent over the capital outlay appropriation of $2,000 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Estimated	1945-47	320	1,076.54	2.8
Estimated	1946-47	320	1,085.55	2.8

As in the case of the School for the Blind, the two major items of expense are for "Instruction and care" and "Support and subsistence." "Instruction and care" costs are scheduled to increase from $286,581 in the 1943-45 Biennium to $367,995 in the ensuing biennium, an increase of $81,414 or 28.40 per cent.

Salaries and wages are the largest contributing factor to the cost of this service, totaling $286,390 for the 1943-45 Biennium and $296,890 for the 1945-47 Biennium. Fourteen proposed new positions for "Instruction and care" would add an additional salary cost of $57,960 for the biennium making the total salary expense $354,850 for "Instruction and care." This is the largest factor in increasing the per student cost from $822.04 per year for 1943-44 up to $1,085 for 1946-47 for the same enrollment of 320. In 1943-44 there were 3.5 students per employees. For 1944-45 it will be 3.2 and for 1945-46 and 1946-47 it drops to 2.8 students for each employee.

In our opinion the State is not justified in such a low ratio of students per employee.

We believe that student costs should be held down to a lower figure and the ratio of students per employee held higher. We recommend that the requested appropriation for new positions be limited to one-half of the request, or to $32,240 making a reduction of $30,000.

Table II following shows the scheduled new positions.

		Advancement of junior teachers to senior teachers	720	1,200
			$30,000	$32,240
			$62,240

We also recommend the previously described salary saving plan be applied.

Support and subsistence is to increase from $156,327 in the current biennium to $188,540 in the 1945-47 Biennium, an increase of $32,123 or 20.54 per cent. In connection with "Support and subsistence," the largest item of expenditure is for feeding, which, in the 1943-45 Biennium amounted to $67,770 but which is estimated to increase in the 1945-47 Biennium to $79,000, an increase of $11,230 or 16.57 per cent.

The same situation prevails here as for the School for the Blind, namely, the fact that this institution purchases all of its food and supplies in the open market and can not effect a saving through local production. However, since the estimated enrollment in this school is not scheduled to increase in the ensuing biennium, and since food prices are already beginning to decline, the proposed $11,230 increase in feeding costs is high.

Table III following gives a breakdown of the principal item of expenditure for "Support and subsistence."

TABLE III

	Actual and estimated 1943-45		Increase or decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent

Table IV following shows proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium compared with actual and estimated expenditures for 1943-45 by major items of expense.

	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase or decrease Amount	Per cent
Expenditures
Salaries	$419,763	$519,545	$99,782	+ 23.77
Operating expenses	155,798	175,750	+19,952	+ 12.80
Equipment	3,037	11,575	8,538	+281.13

Recommendations: 1. We recommend that feeding costs be reduced from a proposed expenditure of $79,000 to $75,000 for the 1945-47 Biennium, a saving of $4,000. This will still amply allow for increased population or any slight rise in food costs which may develop.

2. We recommend the amount for new positions be reduced by $30,000 allowing an increase for new positions of $32,240.

3. Item 95 to be reduced $34,000 from $691,870 to $657,870 which still leaves an increase of $94,724 or $148 per student per year.

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for 1945-47 Biennium

Item 98, page 8 of the Budget Bill, pages 257 to 262, inclusive, of the Budget. Amount requested $266,608. This represents an increase of $113,556 or 74.19 per cent over appropriation expenditures of $153,052 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium compared with estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium are shown by organization unit in Table I and by object of expenditure in Table II.

Table III shows eight new positions in the instruction unit for the second year of the 1945-47 Biennium. These positions are needed in order to provide instructors to replace U. S. Navy men now acting as instructors and to operate the training ship and instruction thereon. The new positions in other units are necessary in order to employ persons to do maintenance work, which is now performed by students so that the students will have more time to study.

Proposed increase in operating expenses of $15,532 or 8.82 per cent a reasonable Budget request.

Proposed increase in equipment of $1,670 or 22.18 per cent the percentage amount is high but amount in dollars is reasonable.

The Maritime Academy is at this time working under a war program training cadets as fast as possible for the Navy and Maritime Service, therefore it is recommended that Item 98 page 8 of the Budget Bill be approved for $266,608 the amount requested.

However, it is believed that there is over budgeting for 1944-45 and carried over to 1945-47. We, therefore, recommend the over all savings be applied and also the salary savings. If the training ship is not operated and the base not brought up to full operations then some of the proposed new positions should not be filled.

Per student costs per year have increased from $733.17 for 1941-42 to estimated for 1946-47 at $1,611.25. However, the school did not operate its own base until the present site was secured and still occupies temporary quarters.

The per student costs will remain high unless enrollment is materially increased.

Item 99 page 8 of the Budget Bill and page 262 of the Budget amount requested $15,000.

This item is for the purchase of real property for the California Maritime Academy. The property is needed, therefore, it is recommended that item 99 be approved for $15,000 as requested.

Department of Education—California Polytechnic School
Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium

Item 100, page 8 of the Budget Bill and pages 263-271 inclusive of the Budget. Amount requested from the General Fund $570,324. This represents an increase of $251,278 or 78.76 per cent over appropriated expenditures of $319,046 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

The California Polytechnic School normally is supported by funds received from horse racing. Horse racing having been curtailed during the war, it has been necessary to appropriate General Fund money with the provision that it will not be used until such a time that horse racing funds are not sufficient to operate the school. Similar provisions were made in the 1943-45 Budget and none of the General Fund money has been used, funds received from horse racing being sufficient for the 1943-45 Biennium.

At the present time with the Federal ban on horse racing, the situation in forecasting ahead for the 1945-47 Biennium is such that it probably will be necessary to use some General Fund money. However, Item 100 is written in such a way that should horse racing funds become available in the second year of the 1945-47 Biennium the General Fund will be reimbursed.

It is recommended that this institution be supported by a regular appropriation from the General Fund for all purposes and that all revenues from horse racing go into the General Fund to be appropriated out by the Legislature as it determines.

It is also recommended that all receipts from the operation of this institution be considered henceforth as income and not as abatements for particular activities, and appropriations be made for the institution including appropriation from receipts. See bottom Table III—net cost to taxpayers for this agency.

During the 1945-47 Biennium the California Polytechnic School had two Federal training projects for which the school was reimbursed. There are also other projects for which the school is reimbursed. On the pages of the Budget referred to above these reimbursements have been deducted in showing the expenditures of the school. Below in Table I are shown the net expenditure figures by organization unit as shown in the Budget.

Administration Unit shows a total proposed increase in expenditures of $20,152 or 11.76 per cent. Salaries and wages shows a proposed increase of $13,743 or 9.0 per cent. An examination of proposed new positions shown in Table IV shows seven new positions at a proposed expenditure of $18,790 for the 1945-47 Biennium, an amount in excess of the total proposed increase in salary payments. The cause of this difference is this unit has nine war emergency positions in the Navy Training Program for which no funds are requested for the second year of the 1945-47 Biennium, proposed new permanent positions being requested to fill these war positions.

Maintenance and operation shows a proposed increase of $5,206 or 27.94 per cent accounted for by increases in nearly all classifications.

Equipment shows a proposed increase of $1,203 or 3,645.45 per cent, a very high percentage of increase, and is due to the small expenditure of $33 during the 1943-45 Biennium.

San Luis Obispo Unit shows a total proposed increase in expenditures of $40,198 or 7.87 per cent.

Salaries and wages show an increase of only $1,819 or .43 per cent. An examination of Table IV shows 14 new positions at a proposed expenditure of $62,097 for the 1945-47 Biennium, an amount in excess of the total proposed increase in salary payments. The large difference is caused by war positions, as during the 1943-44 Fiscal Year there were 24 instructors in war emergency positions. These positions have been reduced to 8 for the 1944-45 Fiscal Year, with an additional reduction to 6 positions during the first year of the 1945-47 Biennium. No war emergency positions are shown for the second year of the 1945-47 Biennium, proposed new permanent positions being requested to take the place of part of the war positions.

Maintenance and operation shows a proposed increase of $16,810 or 19.49 per cent, nearly all classifications showing substantial increases.

Equipment shows a proposed increase of $21,321 or 408.52 per cent, all classifications showing substantial increases.

The Voorhis Unit shows a total proposal increase in expenditures of $51,855 or 217.64 per cent. We are informed this unit has not operated as a school during the war but has been maintained more as a ranch. According to a booklet published by the California Polytechnic School, the Voorhis Unit consists of a 150-acre ranch located near San Dimas, Los Angeles County. There are approximately 28 acres of citrus orchard on the ranch which was in bad condition when the State acquired the property several years ago. There are buildings that can be used to house and train about 200 boys. The school being originally constructed as a school for boys should make a very suitable school for the Youth Authority. California Polytechnic never did have the enrollment up to a paying basis as not enough students were studying the subjects taught there. Based on the manner the Youth Authority has operated some of their camps, they could no doubt take the Voorhis School with its 150 acres of land and do a lot of good for its better class of boys and at the same time keep the cost to the taxpayers at a minimum.

Therefore, it is recommended that a survey be made by the Youth Authority to determine the feasibility of the transfer of the Voorhis School to the Youth Authority. If this is not possible, the property should be disposed of as the operation of it as a branch of the California Polytechnic School is not justified.

Budget Recommendations

That Item 100, page 8 of the Budget Bill, be reduced to $492,939, a savings of $77,385 represented by:

The total amount of proposed increase at the Voorhis Unit	$51,855
The Capital Outlay, page 271 of the Budget, should be eliminated for Voorhis Unit	8,300*
A cut in the appropriation for Administration and San Luis Obispo Units	25,530
Total savings	$77,385

The San Luis Obispo Unit having been on a War Educational Program, it is difficult to forecast at this time just what will be needed.

Drug and Oil Project

Item 101, page 8 of the Budget Bill and page 272 of the Budget. Amount requested $35,000. This represents an increase of $2,852 or 8.88 per cent over estimated expenditures of $32,148 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium compared with estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium are shown by object of expenditure in Table I.

TABLE I

EXPENDITURES BY OBJECT OF EXPENDITURE

Object of expenditure	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase or decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent
Salaries and wages	$20,238	$20,860	+ $622	3.08
Operating expense	11,641	13,940	+ 2,299	19.74
Equipment	269	200	— 69	—25.65
Total	$32,148	$35,000	$2,852	8.87

The total proposed increase is reasonable but this is a war project and by the end of the first fiscal year of the biennium (1945-46) no doubt will have completed its usefulness. Therefore, it is recommended that Item 101 of the Budget Bill be reduced by $17,575, the amount of the appropriation, for support of this project for the second fiscal year of the Biennium 1945-47.

Teachers Retirement

Item 102 Budget Bill, pages 273-275 of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund $167,100 for support of the Teacher's Retirement System. This is an increase of $100,782 from the General Fund over 1943-45 actual and estimated expenditures but this requires explanation.

It is only $50,233.26 over actual expenditures for $50,548.74 was paid out of Teachers Fund prior to July 1, 1944 when the Statute of 1944 (Fourth Extraordinary Session) Chapter 13 provided all cost be borne by the General Fund.

The added cost is largely for three new positions for each of the two years of 1945-47, $11,700 and some $30,000 to continue the two new positions added in 1944 and operating expense up $16,000 for 1945-47 or from $12,665 actually spent in 1943-44 to over $20,000 for each year following to $21,500 for 1946-47.

* Not taken into total as not in appropriation bill as it is from horse race money.

While work has been increased by the new Teachers Retirement Act of 1944, we feel that operating expenses are too high, particularly when one whole item—Departmental pro rata administration charges of $4,800 per biennium has been entirely eliminated for 1945-47 by becoming a General Fund charge.

We recommend a reduction of $11,500 from operating expense, so that Item 102 will be reduced to $155,600.

Item 102.5 Budget Bill, pages 274-275 of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund to the Teachers Permanent Fund for the Teachers Retirement System $7,315,000. This is the amount calculated by the actuary to be required to pay the State's share of the obligations of the Teachers Retirement Fund for retirement costs for the next biennium under the terms of the 1944 legislation.

If this is over what is required the overage will be a credit for reduction of the next biennium appropriation, if under it must be made up.

This is the first time this appropriation has appeared for a full biennium. It will now continue as a fixed charge. It shows the approximate increase we predicted when the law was enacted. It will continue to increase each year at an accelerated rate for many years.

This replaces the former full obligation of the State of 5 per cent of the inheritance tax collections.

This appropriation is all from the General Fund and the reserve of $30,000,000 set up for the Teachers Retirement Fund by 1944 Special Session remains intact for future appropriation.

It has grown by interest earnings to $30,550,000 and it is estimated it will reach $31,900,000 by June 30, 1947. If this fund can be kept intact for several bienniums the earnings will go far to cut down the pyramiding costs to the State of the retirement requirements.

No reductions can be recommended in this fixed charge unless the Legislature wishes to reduce the benefits, or secure more support from other sources.

Item 102.6 Budget Bill, pages 274-275 of the Budget. Appropriation $295,000 from the General Fund to the Retirement Annuity Fund for the operation of the Teachers Retirement System. This follows along the same procedure and requirements of law as the prior item and for the same reasons. For the same reasons we can not recommend any reduction.

University of California

Item 103, Budget Bill, pages 276-282, inclusive, of the Budget. While the entire Budget for spending over $22,000,000 is presented in seven pages and is far from as complete as a Budget officer desires, this year's Budget presentation of the University is a decided improvement over what the Legislature had to work with in prior years. The current 1943-45 Budget covered the University of California in four pages. It is hoped the improvement is continued and future Budgets give the Legislature more facts and breakdowns of figures and amounts to work with so as to promote a better understanding and fuller consideration of the needs of the University with as full an equity as possible.

The brief summary of Budget requests for 1945-47 prepared by the University has been very helpful in making the analysis and the confidential larger detailed Budget request which was furnished the Legislative Auditor is by far the best presentation we have had from the University.

With some further breakdowns and some more detailed information, this will furnish a very satisfactory basis for full Budget analysis.

The appropriation from the General Fund is $22,233,081, an increase of $5,282,097.18 over actual and estimated expenditures of $16,950,983.82 for 1943-45.

The usual five items of continuing appropriations, four dating from 1919 and one from 1921, amounting to $794,450 from the General Fund, go on. This brings the grand total from the General Fund to $23,027,531 with the same total increase.

The items of continuing appropriations might just as well be done away with and included in the entire Budget. Considerable bookkeeping would be saved both at Sacramento and at Berkeley. We can not see any harm following from this procedure—the money all comes from the State General Fund.

It is estimated the receipts from the Fair and Exposition Fund (Horse Racing) will reach $939,480 or an increase of $115,530. The receipts depend on the Federal ruling on holding meets so we make no comment on the possibilities of these receipts.

The University uses this money for capital outlay as the amount is not predictable. We concur in this procedure. We make no further recommendation on this item.

New Activities and Provisions

We call particular attention to the bottom of page 278 and to page 279 in the Budget entitled "new activities and provisions." The cost of these activities totaled a little less than one million dollars for 1943-45 but they go up to almost $3,000,000 ($2,902,074) for 1945-47.

These activities and their increasing costs are shown in the following tabulation for ready consideration:

Place	Activity	Actual 1943-44	Estimated 1944-45	Proposed 1945-46	Proposed 1946-47	Remarks
Statewide	Academic salary adjustments			$600,000	$600,000	Matter of policy—decision by Legislature
Berkeley	School public health	$34,976	$114,343	80,211	81,231	Chapter 1080, Statute 1943
Berkeley	Forest Products Laboratory				20,000	By Legislative Resolution
Berkeley	Physic-medical physics			3,250	3,450	University of California proposal
Los Angeles	College of Engineering		300,000	293,800	294,300	Legislature approved 1943
Los Angeles	Nursing education			5,450	5,450	University of Calif. own proposal
Los Angeles	Occupational therapy			8,245	10,965	University of Calif. own proposal
Los Angeles	Institute geophysics			50,000	50,000	University of Calif. own proposal
Santa Barbara College			354,885	396,258	399,464	Transferred by Legislature, 1943
Total of new activities		$34,976	$769,228	$1,437,214	$1,464,860
Total for biennium			$804,204	----------	$2,902,074
			Increase		$2,097,870

If these services are to be supplied, it will require approximately the amounts proposed. If the Legislature wishes these new services, then the money should be provided. Most of the items have had some sort of a Legislative "go ahead" sign or an expressed approval. This, of course, does not bind the present Legislature.

One item not at all decided is the first one for adjustment of all academic salaries in the sum of $600,000 per year or $1,200,000 out of $2,902,074. This is clearly a salary increase and a matter of policy. This $1,200,000 not only includes increases for the present faculty but includes enough money for like salaries for the increased faculty to be added for the expanded program both in research and in teaching due to contemplated added enrollment based on the University's estimates.

The University has made a salary study. This study shows that academic salaries paid by the University of California are in general lower than salaries for similar positions in those institutions considered by the University as comparable. These salaries are not lower, however, than for many other universities and colleges which in this study are not considered comparable.

We have not reviewed the proposed distribution of these funds if the amount requested for increasing salaries should be approved and we are not in a position to judge the proposed results. This is the kind of information we believe the University should present with such a request.

We wish to call the attention of the Budget Committee and the Legislature to the fact that the new services listed above are generally just being started and that they will make much larger demand in the next biennium and that practically all of them will continue to increase for several bienniums in succeeding Budgets. Some of them will require a very large expenditure in capital outlay before they can be fully made effective. This is particularly true of the new College of Engineering at Los Angeles established in response to the terms of the Kellems Bill of the 1943 Session. This is only the first request for funds and on a minimum basis. These requests will grow and grow as the services are developed. The terms of the Kellems Bill, Chapter 1021, Statutes of 1943, might well be considered to determine an idea of the ultimate outlay that will be necessary.

The new item of Santa Barbara for the University of California budget results from a transfer from the Department of Education. The amount of this item is not actually an increase in total appropriation by the State but a bookkeeping matter showing an increase in the amount for the University of California and a decrease for State Colleges. The amount of the increase required for this institution is not large.

These new items make up $2,097,870 of the increase of $5,282,097 in State appropriations. The remainder of the increase is distributed throughout the Budget in increased positions and operation costs to take care of additional research and anticipated increase in student enrollment as estimated and determined by the University.

The increase in positions is shown in the following table as is the enrollment and the per student costs.

POSITIONS FOR REGULAR CONTINUING ACTIVITIES
OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES, ENROLLMENT, STUDENT COSTS

	Fiscal years				Increase biennially 1945-47 over 1943-45
	1943-44	1944-45	1945-46	1946-47
Full time	3,654	3,727	3,894	3,913	814
Part time	3,645	3,683	3,964	4,135	771
Enrollment	18,724	21,500	24,000	28,000
Per Student Cost	$647.85	$607.73	$606.99	$534.46

The University has at no time stated how much of the added cost results from increased enrollment. The above table, however, shows that the enrollment for 1943-44 was 18,724 and the University estimated that this will increase to 28,000 for 1946-47. It is presumed that some part of the increased cost of $5,282,097 from State funds alone is due to increased enrollment. If the enrollment is not secured in approximately the numbers estimated and should it fall materially below the estimates, certainly comparable savings should result of that part of the increase that is attributed to be due to increased enrollment. To meet this unknown situation and to secure savings under such circumstances, and to treat the University in budgeting as are other departments of the State, we believe that such savings should accrue to the General Fund.

In this connection, it should be noted that the Department of Finance, which exercises budgetary control in general over State agencies and audits expenditures to determine if the money has been spent as budgeted exercises no budgetary control over appropriations made to the University of California, nor has it at any time audited the expenditures of the University. Under the Constitution and the statutes as presently interpreted, when an appropriation is made to the University the only limitations on the expenditure of this money are those limitations that are placed in the appropriation bill itself. Budgetary control can not be exercised so as to make savings if it is subsequently discovered that original estimates upon which the Budget was based turn out to be in error. In other State departments these savings can be made and controlled through functioning budgetary control by the Department of Finance.

It has been suggested in other sections of this report for other agencies that budgetary control be exercised for the several departments for the reason that this being a transition budget from war to peace, the needs of the several institutions cannot be accurately estimated due to changing conditions which will result from the ending of the war or from other economic changes over which the State has no control.

In other places in the Budget we have suggested specific reductions where it was clearly demonstrated by material in the Budget in the several sections referred to that appropriations were out of line with previous experience. The detail presented in this Budget, in the six pages therein given, is not sufficient to make such specific recommendations for the University. We have requested the University to provide us with information showing that part of their increased Budget which they attribute to increased enrollment and what amounts they can save in personnel and operating expense if they do not have approximately the enrollments estimated. We believe this material should be before the Legislature for consideration. It is not available at this time.

Hastings College of Law

Item 104 Budget Bill, pages 283 to 285, inclusive, of the Budget. Appropriates $69,403 from the General Fund an increase of $4,331 over actual and estimated expenditures but only about $1,000 over the prior appropriation. The increase is to take care of an estimated increase of 50 students in enrollment for the second year of 1946-47 to 125 students.

The increase is modest and per student costs show a corresponding decrease. Other State agencies might well follow this example.

We recommend approval of this appropriation.

Department of Employment

Analysis of the Proposed Expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium

Item 105 of the Budget Bill, pages 286 and 287 of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund of $312,380. This is a new item which does not appear in the 1943-45 Budget. The appropriation item states this is to match contributions to the State of California from the Federal Government, under the provisions of the Wagner-Peyser Act.

This item is included in the Budget solely to cover the contingency that the employment service, now operated by the Federal Government, will be returned to the status of an agency of the State. This is entirely problematical, and in our opinion it is doubtful if this will be done during the 1945-47 Biennium. It certainly will not be accomplished if the war continues.

To cover the contingency sufficient money should be available in the estimated sum of $312,380. Since the Budget was prepared and the appropriation bill introduced, the financial status of the Department of Employment has been somewhat modified by the passage and the approval of Senate Bill 286. This is now the law on this matter since it carries an urgency clause.

This bill went through the Legislature without having been referred to the respective committees supposed to consider appropriations, and has the further defect of not having a letter from the Governor, a violation of constitutional requirements. We doubt the validity of the bill. We furthermore believe that a bill of this nature involving the appropriation of approximately $1,000,000 should be given full consideration by the respective committees in the two houses considering appropriations.

Senate Bill 286 amends the Unemployment Insurance Act and sets up a special fund known as the Unemployment Fund. This fund shall consist of: (1) All contributions collected under this act; (2) Interest earned upon any moneys in the fund; (3) Any property or securities acquired through the use of moneys belonging to the fund; and (4) All earnings of such property or securities.

The act was amended to provide that there shall be maintained within the fund the three following accounts:

(1) A clearing account
(2) An Unemployment Trust Fund account
(3) A benefit account

Refunds or judgments are to be paid by the Controller on the direction of the commission. The money is continuously appropriated for this without regard to fiscal years. In other words, this is a continuous appropriation.

There is also created a Department of Employment Contingent Fund into which shall be deposited or transferred all interest on contributions, penalties, and fines collected under this act. All amounts in this fund are also continually appropriated and can be expended by the Commission under authorization of the Director of Finance, under provision of Section 661 of the Political Code, which is the section providing for the allowing of deficiencies. In other words, the Legislature has given up control over the future budgeting of this fund. We believe this is bad financial policy.

It is proper to provide for the making of refunds but in this instance the refunds may not amount to more than $30,000 or $40,000 a biennium. We estimate, however, that at least $40,000 a month will go into this Contingent Fund and it will reach from $960,000 to $1,000,000 a biennium. In the last couple of days in January, since the act has been in effect, collections have amounted to $2,411.64.

We suggest that this money should be subject to budgetary control and expenditure thereof provided by the Legislature and budgeted as for other departments of the State.

We furthermore suggest that Item 105 of the Budget Bill be amended so that this appropriation be made out of the Department of Employment Contingent Fund rather than out of the General Fund, and reduce the appropriation from the General Fund by $312,380.

The rest of the Budget for the operations of the Department of Employment is found on pages 286 to 297 inclusive. It calls for an expenditure of $8,361,645 for 1945-47 or an increase of $3,636,909 over 1943-45. This is for the reason that considerable unemployment is anticipated and the increase is to handle claim payments.

The funds come from the Federal Government for the Unemployment Administration Fund on the basis of a Budget approved by the Federal agency, and they are controlled by this agency so no attempt has been made to analyze this Budget or make recommendation for it.

Fiscal Affairs

Item 106 of the Budget Bill, page 298 of the Budget, appropriates $31,760 from the General Fund for the support of the State Board of Control.

This is an entirely new item in the Budget, never having before appeared as a separate item. Previously, expenditures for the Board of Control have been included in the support item for the Department of Finance. This is shown on page 260 of the Budget for 1943-45 and it is also shown on page 336 of the Budget for 1945-47, indicating the positions that are eliminated in the Department of Finance Budget and included in this item. The corresponding operations expense is likewise eliminated from the Department of Finance Budget, setting this up as a separate item—therefore this is equivalent to reducing necessary expenditure of the Department of Finance by this sum or $31,760.

The Budget provides for the per diem payment of the members of the board and for the salaries of a secretary and a senior stenographer, and for the necessary operating expense. There are also two special items—one, the service of accountants supplied by the Division of Budgets and Accounts of the Department of Finance in the sum of $9,280. This should be noted in making an adjustment of the Department of Finance budget. The second special item is $1,000 to pay for the services of a referee.

The only item that appears out of line is $2,000 for postage for the Biennium. This appears to be excessive and we suggest should be reduced by $1,000 leaving Item 106 in the sum of $30,760.

For Support of State Controller

Item 107 of the Budget Bill, pages 299-305 inclusive of the Budget; appropriation $1,195,376; increase of $241,053 or 25.2 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $954,323 for the 1943-1945 Biennium; and of $222,648 or 22.8 per cent over the $972,728 for the 1943-1945 Biennium appropriated by Item 26 of Assembly Bill No. 1600 of the last regular session.

Recommendation: Reduce Item 107 by $152,765 or 13 per cent to $1,042,611.

Part I. Statistical Summary

This appropriation item covers the general activities of the Controller's Office which includes administration and the divisions of county budgets and reports, accounting, inheritance and gift tax, claims auditing and disbursing, and tax collection.

The proposed increase of $241,053 or 25.2 per cent is distributed as follows among these six sectors of General Activities of the State Controller's Office:

Expenditures—support	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Change Amount	Change Per cent	Per cent of total increase
Administration	$80,361	$86,050	$5,689	7.1	2.4
County Budget and Report Division	24,752	37,790	13,037	52.6	5.4
Accounting Division	162,026	203,896	41,870	25.8	17.4
Inheritance and Gift Tax Division	315,874	426,575	110,701	35.0	45.9
Claims Auditing and Disbursing Division	259,865	313,960	54,095	20.8	22.4
Tax Collecting Division	111,444	127,105	15,661	14.0	6.4
Totals, general activities	$954,323	$1,195,376	$241,053	25.2	100.0

Significant facts revealed by the foregoing table include the following:

1. Almost half of the approximately $241,000 proposed increase is for Inheritance and Gift Tax Division.
2. Almost an additional quarter, or $54,000 of the total increase is for the Claims Auditing and Disbursing Division.
3. The largest percentage increase among the divisions is for the County Budgets and Report Division, which is slated to increase expenditures by some $13,000 or 52.6 per cent.

The following table summarizes the proposed increase of $241,053 for the 1945-1947 Biennium, by object of expenditure:

Number of positions, fiscal years					Estimated	Proposed	Change		Per cent of
43-44	44-45	45-46	46-47		1943-45	1945-47	Amount	Per cent	total change
				Salaries and wages:
171	171	170	170	Positions now authorized	$805,381	$885,240	$79,859	9.9	33.1
				Estimated salary savings	—8,500	—11,250	—2,750	32.3
				1945-47 normal salary adjustments		25,145	25,145		10.4
		12	14	Proposed new positions		61,840	61,840		25.6
171	173	182	184	Totals, salaries and wages	$796,881	$960,975	$164,094	20.6	68.0
				Operating expenses	151,654	198,631	46,977	31.0	19.5
				Equipment	5,786	35,770	29,984	518.2	12.5
				Totals	$954,322	$1,195,376	$241,053	25.2	100.0

Significant facts indicated by the foregoing analysis of the proposed increased expenditures, by object of expenditure, include the following.

1. Salaries and wages account for almost $165,000 of 68 per cent of the total proposed increase of some $241,000.
2. The budgeted salaries for the proposed new positions (12 for the first year and a cumulative total of 14 for the second) represent over one-quarter of the proposed total increase.
3. Increased proposed operating expenditures account for almost 20 per cent of the total increase.

Part II. Findings and Recommendations

1. Summary of Recommended Reductions in Appropriation Item 107

We recommend that Appropriation Item 107 be reduced by $21,660 or 2 per cent to $1,173,716. The recommended reduction of $21,660 would be divided up among the divisions of the general activities sector of the Controller's office as follows:

(a) Administration	$1,000
(b) County Budgets and Reports Division	300
(c) Accounting Division	4,360
(d) Inheritance and Gift Tax Division	12,800
(e) Claims Auditing and Disbursing Division	7,200
(f) Reduction from Item 107 of the Appropriation Bill in the sum of $127,105 as shown on page 305 of the Budget resulting from recommended transfer of the Tax Collection Division of the Controller's office to the jurisdiction of the Board of Equalization. (It is anticipated that the Board of Equalization will be able to coordinate this activity with their current tax collection activities at a saving approaching 50 per cent of the amount currently budgeted for this division	$127,105
Total reduction recommended for Item 107	$152,765

The foregoing individual recommended reductions are discussed in greater detail in recommendations 2 to 7 below:

2. Administration

Expenditures proposed for 1945-47 are up by $5,689 or 7.1 per cent. There are 11 positions under this Division of Administration. There is one vacancy. No additional positions are requested.

Much of the total increase is due to normal salary increases. Individual budgeted expenditure items are in line except traveling expense which is up to $6,000 for the Biennium as compared with approximately $4,300 for the current period. We recommend a reduction of $1,000 in traveling expense for administration.

3. County Budgets and Reports Division

This division was created in October 1943 by transfer from the Department of Finance to administer the County Budget Act, Section 3714 of the Political Code, including the gathering and publishing of local government fiscal data. It is instituting uniform Budget procedure and uniform reporting by all counties.

Expenditures proposed for 1945-47 are up by $13,037 or 52.6 per cent. Much of this expansion results from the fact that this activity in the Controller's office began well toward the middle of the current Biennium and is now approaching its peak period of operations.

An additional employee, a Senior Account Clerk, is requested which would bring the number of authorized positions up to three. This request is reasonable in view of the objectives and the predicted work load of this activity. Other items of the Budget also are in line, with the exception of a provision of $1,300 for purchase of an automobile. We believe that $1,000 will suffice for this purpose. Recommended saving: $300.

4. Accounting Division

Expenditures proposed for 1945-47 are up by $41,870 or 25.8 per cent. There are 30 authorized positions of which two are currently vacant. Two additional positions are proposed.

We recommend that one of two proposed positions not be granted. This would be the position of Intermediate Account Clerk. We believe that with the return of personnel on military leave that a rearrangement and division of work among personnel would obviate the need for this particular position of Intermediate Account Clerk. The saving this would realize would be $3,360 in salary expense itemized by the Budget.

Printing costs budgeted for this Accounting Division are up by approximately $2,000. The Controller's Office reports that most of this increase results from the anticipated increase in the cost of printing the Controller's Biennial Report caused by plans to enlarge this biennial report, which in turn is reported as necessary because of the increased complexity and volume of financial transactions recorded on the State control records. We believe that careful planning of this report will keep it down to its present size and that a reduction of $1,000 is possible and desirable here. Recommended saving: $1,000.

5. Inheritance and Gift Tax Division

Expenditure proposed for 1945-47 is up by $110,703 or 35 per cent and represents almost half of the total increase involved in Appropriation Item 107. This proposed increase is distributed as follows, by object of expenditure:

	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase
			Amount	Per cent
Positions now authorized	$256,963	$295,040	$38,077	14.8
Proposed new positions	----	36,505	36,505
Operating expenses	56,710	81,700	24,990	44.9
Property and equipment	2,199	13,330	11,131	506.1
Totals	$315,872	$426,575	$110,703	35.0

We recommend that the proposed increase in salary expense for currently authorized and for proposed new positions (of which there are six for the first year and a cumulative total of seven for the second year) be cut by $6,000. The increased positions, however, will be subject to the general salary saving provision mentioned above in our report under which the Department of Finance would pass on the wisdom and need for specific positions. The Inheritance and Gift Tax Division needs some additional personnel in view of: (1) Recent losses to the military, (2) a serious backlog of work; and (3) An expanding work load resulting from several factors, including population growth, war time expansion in the value of estates, and some changes in inheritance tax law within recent years.

We recommend that budgeted operating expenses be reduced by $6,800 with this proposed reduction being divided up among different operating expense items as follows:

Items	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed by Budget 1945-47	Recommended reduction
Printing	$6,169	$9,800	$2,800
Telegraph and telephone	6,891	8,200	1,000
Conference	3,000	6,000	3,000
			$6,800

The budgeted printing item given above includes an allowance for the printing and proposed free distribution to attorneys and others of two pamphlets on inheritance and gift tax laws. These publications should continue to be distributed through the State Superintendent of Documents on a definite self supporting basis. There is no reason for this service being rendered free of charge, particularly since gift and inheritance tax laws can be secured from a number of legal sources, especially public law libraries. We recommend a saving of $1,800 in printing. As indicated by the table above, we believe that a saving of $1,000 from the amount budgeted can be effected in telephone and telegraph expense.

The budgeted item of $6,000 for Conference is designed to cover the expenses of inheritance tax appraisers to an annual two day conference. We are convinced that the results achieved from such conferences are not commensurate wtih their cost and recommend that the deletion of $3,000 of this budgeted item be made which would result in a saving of $3,000 and allow for only one conference during the second year of the biennium. Such conventions should not be held during the war.

We recommend that appropriate steps be taken to place inheritance tax appraisers under civil service. We are convinced that such action will reduce the possibility of political favoritism in appointment, together with such other consequences of such a practice as poor supervision, low morale, inequitable distribution of work loads, and inequality of compensation.

We further recommend that the administration of the inheritance and gift taxes be made a responsibility of a proposed Central Department of Revenue Collection which would collect practically all of the State's taxes. We also recommend that the staff of the Inheritance and Gift Tax Division be transferred to this proposed Department of Revenue when and if it is established. Under such a centralized and coordinated tax collection department, the administration of the inheritance and gift taxes, as well as of the other taxes, could be accomplished with greater effectiveness and at much less expense through the use of such central staff services as legal services, auditing and research serving all sectors of the department, through better coordination of travel that is possible with central planning and control, and the shifting of staffs to meet reasonable work demands of different taxes.

Pending the establishment of a Revenue Department, we recommend a complete overhauling of this division.

6. Claims Auditing and Disbursing Division

Expenditures proposed for 1945-47 are up by almost $55,000 or 20.8 per cent.

The budgeted items for this division appear to be in line in view of the gradually increasing load of State business, with the exception of one of the two proposed new positions for Supervising Claim Auditor. We recommend that this proposed position not be granted on the grounds that reallocation of work among the staff of the Controller's Office and the return of personnel on military leave will make it unnecessary. This recommendation would effect a saving in budgeted salary expense of $7,200.

7. Tax Collection Division, pages 304-5 of Budget

The Controller collects the Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax (Gas Tax), the Motor Transportation Tax, and the Insurance Premium Tax. These are all assessed by the Board of Equalization and payments are sent in as a result.

In the case of the Insurance Tax, most of the payments are made on assessment and billing is not required. Records must be kept by both agencies and certain notices sent to the taxpayers by both. Both agencies do some auditing in respect to these taxes. Some confusion of the taxpayers results.

The Board of Equalization have a large corps of auditors and investigators covering many other taxes paid by the same taxpayers as pay the above taxes.

For these reasons it is believed that the Board of Equalization can collect these taxes with very small additions to their present staff.

The staff of the Controller for the Tax Collecting Division consists of 19 and the biennial appropriation for 1945-47 requested is $127,105 or an increase as shown on the previous table of 14 per cent. It is felt the Board of Equalization can perform this service at at least a 50 per cent saving. The Interim Senate Committee on the State Board of Equalization concluded that such a move would produce economy and lessen the taxpayers confusion.

It is, therefore, recommended that such transfer be made effective as soon as possible and funds and personnel be transferred.

Audit of Expenditures for Local Post War Public Works Plans and Sites

Budgeted expenditure of $50,000, pages 299 and 306 of the Budget.

The Appropriation Bill does not make provision for this expenditure item as it will be cared for from an appropriation made by Chapter 47, Statutes of 1944 (Fourth Extraordinary Session). The Budget (page 306) makes provision for expenditures of $50,000, including a staff of seven, and operating expenses of $13,540.

It probably will require more funds rather than less to do this work properly.

State Controller

For Support of Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax Refund Division

Item 108 Budget Bill, page 307 of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $182,863; increase of $30,478 or 20.0 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $152,385 for the 1943-1945 Biennium; and of $20,357 or 12.5 per cent over the $162,506 for the 1943-1945 Biennium appropriated by Item 27 of Assembly Bill No. 1600 of the last regular session.

This proposed expenditure of $182,863 is to cover the expenses involved in connection with refunding motor vehicle fuel taxes where fuel is used for purposes other than for highway use. This is a special fund activity. Recommendation: Reduce Item 108 of Budget Bill by $3,800 or 2.1 per cent to $179,063.

The proposed increase results from increased equipment expenditures, some upward trend in operating expenses, and increased allowance for salary expense through anticipated better success in filling existing positions. No new positions are proposed.

The budgeted items appear to be generally in line, with minor exceptions. The traveling expense item is up by approximately $2,000, and budgeted automobile operating expense is up by approximately $1,000.

We recommend a total reduction of $2,000 for these two items. Budgeted equipment expense includes $1,800 per year for expenditure for automobiles. We recommend that no expenditure for automobiles be made. The total savings resulting from acceptance of these recommendations would be $3,800, which would reduce appropriation item 108 by 2.1 per cent to $179,063.

We further recommend that when and if a centralized department of revenue is created for the State, that this Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax Refund Division be transferred to such a department. Pending creation of such an agency, we recommend that this Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax Refund Division be transferred to the Board of Equalization which can administer the motor vehicle fuel tax refund work in connection with its administration of other tax work, particularly the Motor Vehicle Transportation License Tax.

If either of these recommendations is accepted and applied, a very substantial saving can be realized, during this Biennium, and in succeeding biennial periods, through the elimination of duplicate investigations and record keeping by two agencies, and the institution of other short cuts that are possible with the amalgamation of these tax administering responsibilities in one agency.

We also recommend a more stringent investigation of claims for refunds as there is opportunity for great abuse.

For Support of State Controller: Redemption Tax Division

Item 109 Budget Bill, pages 308-309 of the Budget; Appropriation from the Redemption Tax Fund, $351,473, increase of $37,390 or 11.9 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $314,083 for 1943-45; and of $81,128 or 30.0 per cent over the $270,345 for the 1943-1945 Biennium appropriated by Item 28 of Assembly Bill No. 1600 of the last regular session.

This division sells and leases lands deeded to the State for nonpayment of taxes. It has 56 personnel positions and two more positions (map delineators) are proposed for the coming Biennium.

We recommend Legislative study of this division and its work of selling and leasing lands deeded to the State to determine the answers to the following questions:

1. Should the functions of the State Redemption Tax Division continue to be performed at the State level or should they be performed by the several counties which may be found to have certain natural administrative advantages by virtue of being nearer the lands being sold and leased.
2. In the event that it is determined that the work of the State Division of Tax Redemption should remain in the hands of the State Government, should this remain within the jurisdiction of the State Controller, or should it be transferred to the State Division of Lands within the Department of Finance which administers, sells, and leases other State lands and may, upon study, be found in a superior position to assume responsibility for tax-deeded lands as well.

Pending action on such a study, we specifically recommend that:

The appropriate laws should be changed to increase revenues from this tax redemption work so that revenues therefrom at least match expenditures—something that will not be achieved by the State during the current Biennium for which estimated expenses of the State Redemption Tax Division are estimated at $314,083 which is $21,246 in excess of estimated revenues of $292,837.

Charges of overhead should also be made to cover these costs as well as direct costs.

It is also recommended that appropriation Item 109 be reduced by $4,800 to $346,673; which reduction represents the salary expense for one of the two positions of mapping delineator proposed by the Budget. We are convinced that the resulting one delineator, with the aid of existing secretarial and clerical personnel, can carry on the work of keeping maps of State-owned lands in this division up to date. The other budgeted subitems for the Redemption Tax Division appear to be in line.

For Support of State Controller: SRA Restitutions Division

Item 110 Budget Bill, pages 310-311 of the Budget; appropriation from the State Controller's SRA Restitution Fund. This is a special fund operation. It is to be used for the auditing and collection of refunds under, and administrative expenses in connection with the "California Unemployment Relief Act of 1935," $120,840; increase of $11,204 or 10.2 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $109,636 for 1943-45.

We recommend a 50 per cent reduction in this appropriation to $60,420 which is the sum budgeted for this activity for the first year of the Biennium. We further recommend that this activity be discontinued as of the end of the 1945-1946 Fiscal Year unless collections are such at this time that it will justify support from the Emergency Fund.

We make this recommendation because the point of diminishing and economical returns in collections for money spent on administration probably will be reached by that time and the State will have more effective use of the money and the manpower involved. The staff should be reduced as effective work decrease. Estimated expenditures for this division for the 1943-45 Biennium are $109,636 as compared with estimated collections of $358,975. This gives a ratio of $3.27 in collections for every dollar of expenditure on administration. It is reasonable to assume that as time passes and as more former relief recipients move around, and there are fewer accounts remaining to be collected, less rather than more money will be collected and the ratio of collections to administrative expense will be considerably less than the $3.27 in collections to $1 in administration expense that prevails during the 1943-1945 Biennium.

We also recommend that the unbudgeted surplus as of July 1, 1945, estimated at $312,721, page 311 of the Budget, or whatever it is be transferred to the General Fund and this account be closed out. All appropriations to be made henceforth from the General Fund. This will eliminate one more fund and simplify funds and operations and accounting by this sum.

Board of Equalization

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures 1945-47

1. General Statement

Items 111-114, inclusive, of the Appropriation Bill, pages 312-333, inclusive, of the Budget. There are four appropriation items for the Board of Equalization as follows:

Item 111.	Support of Board of Equalization	$1,495,991
Item 112.	Support of Retail Sales Tax Division, State Board of Equalization	6,626,112
Item 113.	Support of Alcoholic Beverage Control Division of the State Board of Equalization	2,796,301
Item 114.	Support of Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax Division, State Board of Equalization	396,330
	Total	$11,314,734

It is pertinent to call attention to the conclusions and recommendations respecting administrative organization of the Board of Equalization of the Senate Interim Committee on the State Board of Equalization appearing in the Senate Journal of January 26, 1945 as follows:

CONCLUSIONS

Your committee has reached the conclusion that the licensing and control of liquor and the various tax functions now vested in the State Board of Equalization should not both be vested in said board or in any other board or department of government. That the two functions should be in separate departments.

That the duties of the State Controller, as same relate to the Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax Division and the Transportation Tax Division, should be transferred to the State Board of Equalization.

RECOMMENDATIONS

For the purpose of divorcing the licensing and control of liquor from the tax functions now administered by the State Board of Equalization, your committee submits to the Legislature two proposals:

1. A constitutional amendment divorcing the licensing and control of liquor from the State Board of Equalization; and

2. A bill, or bills, creating a Department of Revenue to administer the tax functions of the State Board of Equalization, leaving the licensing and control of liquor with said board.

In the matter of the Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax Division and Transportation Tax Division, the functions of the State Controller should be transferred to the State Board of Equalization or to a Department of Revenue, if one be created by the Legislature.

Your committee is having prepared for consideration of the Legislature a constitutional amendment and the necessary bills to accomplish the objectives herein outlined.

Respectfully submitted.

We commented as follows in our Budget report to the last regular session (1943) concerning the proposal for a central revenue collecting agency:

> In order to produce the most effective administration of the functions of the Board of Equalization for the best interests of the people of the State and in the most economical and efficient manner, it appears that in connection with the entire problem of tax administration it would be well, as has been mentioned before, in connection with the State Controller, to set up a department of taxation and revenue and concentrate therein the administration of all taxes of the State. These then could be coordinated both in their administration and in their application so as to reduce the costs to the minimum and at the same time produce a more coordinated scheme of taxation.
> Whether or not the Board of Equalization shall constitute this department is not now so important as the establishment of such a department. It is important, however, that somebody with the constitutional authority which is possessed by the Board of Equalization of administering and equalizing taxes, as well as acting as a Board of Tax Appeals, should be established independent of the tax department. The decisions of this body should be the reflection of the entire body and in no instance should it allow the individual view of one of the members to prevail in the particular district from which he is elected, for unless this is done, uniformity of tax system throughout the State, on a general basis, will not be accomplished and particular influences will be brought to bear.

We also repeat our recommendation of the prior report that the Board of Equalization should make the maximum desirable use of the practice of transferring employees during the course of a year from activities having slack periods to other activities having peak periods.

For Support of State Board of Equalization

Item 111 Budget Bill, pages 314-319 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the General Fund, $1,495,991; increase of $200,247 or 15.4 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $1,295,743 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Our recommendation: Reduce Item 111 by $54,800 or 3.7 per cent to $1,441,191. The other general reductions of overall salary, automobile, and printing savings would also apply.

I. Statistical Summary

The expenditure of $1,495,991 proposed by Item 111 of the Budget from the General Fund is for support of general activities of the Board of Equalization, and for certain pro rata charges against the General Fund. General activities of the Board of Equalization include the following:

General Administration
Division of Research and Statistics
Division of Assessment Standards
Valuation Division
Motor Transportation License Tax Division

The $200,247 or 15.4 per cent proposed increase for the 1945-47 Biennium over the 1943-45 period is divided up as follows among the different sectors of the general activities of the Board of Equalization:

Expenditures General Fund	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Estimated and proposed 1945-47	Increase or decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent	Per cent of total increase
Support, General Activities:
General Administration	$274,920	$312,525	+ $37,604	13.7	18.7
Division of Research and Statistics	34,196	45,340	+ 11,143	32.5	5.5
Division of Assessment Standards	140,400	169,107	+ 28,706	20.5	14.3
Valuation Division	255,046	302,569	+ 47,522	18.6	23.7
Motor Transportation License Tax Division:
Headquarters	151,843	163,412	+ 11,568	7.6	5.8
District Offices	313,569	373,861	+ 60,291	19.2	30.1
Totals, Motor Transportation License Tax Division	$465,413	$537,273	+ $71,859	15.3	35.8
Pro rata charges for services rendered by Sales Tax Division	136,069	139,857	+ 3,787	2.7	1.9
Totals, General Activities	$1,306,047	$1,506,671	+$200,623	15.7
Less credits for prorata of general administration and research and statistics chargeable to Motor Fuel Tax Division	10,304	10,680	+ 376
Net Totals, General Activities	$1,295,743	$1,495,991	+$200,247	15.4	100.0

Significant facts revealed by the foregoing table include the following:

1. The total proposed increase is up by 15.4 per cent—slightly less than the average increase for the entire Budget of 16.4 per cent.
2. The Motor Transportation License Tax Division accounts for some $71,000 or almost one-third of the total proposed increase.

The same $200,000 or 15.4 per cent proposed increase, by object of expenditure, is as follows:

	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Change Amount	Per cent	Per cent total increase
Salaries and wages:
Positions now authorized	$1,003,030	$1,146,600	$143,570	---	71.5
Estimated salary savings	—46,324	—82,245	—35,921	---	---
1945-47 normal salary adjustment	-----	21,915	21,915	---	10.9
Proposed new positions	-----	29,120	29,120	---	14.5
Totals, salaries and wages	$956,706	$1,115,390	$158,684	16.6	79.1
Operating expenses	344,373	373,753	29,381	8.5	14.6
Equipment	4,968	17,528	12,561	252.8	6.3
Totals	$1,306,047	$1,506,671	$200,624	15.4	100.0

The foregoing table shows that operating expenses are up by some $29,000 or 8 per cent while equipment expenditures are scheduled to expand by some $12,500, and salaries and wages are budgeted to increase by about $158,000 or 16.6 per cent.

Of the total increase of approximately $200,000, salaries and wages are responsible for $158,000 or 79.2 per cent. Most of this increase for salaries or $143,570, or 71.5 per cent of the total increase, is for presently authorized positions that are vacant or have been vacant.

II. Findings and Recommendations

1. Summary of Recommendations

We recomend that appropriation Item 111 be reduced by $54,800 or 3.7 per cent to $1,441,191; with the recommended reduction of $54,800 being divided as follows:

General Administration	$44,500
Division of Assessment Standards	5,800
Valuation Division	4,500
Total of Recommended Reductions	$54,800

These recommended reductions are discussed further below:

2. General Administration

Proposed expenditure for general administration are $312,525 and are up by $37,604 or 13.7 per cent, and this increase represents 18.7 per cent of the total increase for general activities.

We recommend a reduction of $44,500 for general administration to be applied as follows:

(a) Elimination of the three established positions of public relations officers for the biennium	$22,080
(b) Elimination of the position of assistant tax counsel	7,200
(c) Elimination of the position of associate tax counsel	8,640
(d) Denial of request for new position of junior typist clerk	2,680
(e) Reduction of the three succeeding operating expense items, as indicated, by	4,000

Item	Estimated 1943-45	Budget 1945-47	Reduction in Budget recommended
Traveling	$15,937	$18,000	$1,000
Printing	3,819	7,900	2,000
Automobiles	5,735	7,250	1,000
Total reduction	xx	xx	$4,000

(f) Total reduction recommended	$44,500

The records show that there were 34 positions for administration in 1943-44 and that a net increase of five, including the above positions of tax counsel established in 1944-45, make a net of 39. There were 39 positions allowed in 1941-42 and 40 budgeted for 1942-43 and 1943-45.

As indicated above, we recommend abolition of the three positions of public relations officer as this type of position is not needed for public business in a State tax collecting agency.

The above positions of tax attorney are now vacant and the elimination of two of them will still leave a consulting tax counsel and a junior assistant counsel, which we believe are sufficient in general administration to advise the board, when we consider that the executive secretary is an attorney and that the Retail Sales Tax Division has three positions of associate tax counsel, and the Alcoholic Beverage Control Division has two positions of associate tax counsel. Besides this, the Attorney General contracts to furnish legal service to the Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax Division and his office is available to the entire department.

We recommend that the new position of junior typist clerk indicated not be established for the reason that with greater transfer of workers within this agency it would not be needed.

We recommend the reductions in the operating expense items given above as they are substantially out of line with those for the previous biennium.

3. Division of Assessment Standards

This division was established to assist in the development of uniformity in assessment practices throughout the State. The board reports that the activities and work of the Division of Assessment Standards assist in equalizing assessment values within and among counties as a result of close cooperation with county assessors.

The proposed expenditure for the Division of Assessment Standards for 1945-47 is $169,107, which represents an increase of $28,706 or 20.5 per cent. We recommend a reduction of $5,800 for the Division of Assessment Standards which represents the salary of a proposed new position of junior real property appraiser and a cut of $1,000 for traveling expense. The division can operate effectively with its current staff of three land appraisers, and two assistant real estate appraisers, and one property inspector and appraiser. The recommended cut of $1,000 in traveling is needed as the Budget proposes an out-of-line increase from about $16,400 for 1943-45 to $19,600 for 1945-47. We further recommend that the proposed new position of junior petroleum valuation engineer be granted as it will permit necessary and desirable, better and more extensive service in this field of tax administration which is increasing in importance in the oil producing State of California.

4. Valuation Division

This division assesses for all tax purposes various types of public utility property and certain other holdings. It also administers the Private Car Tax Act of 1937, which imposes an ad valorem State tax on rolling stock operated over rail lines, but not owned by railroad companies.

Proposed expenditures for the Valuation Division for 1945-47 are $302,569, an increase of $47,522 or 18.6 per cent over the estimated expenditure for 1943-45. We recommend a reduction of $4,500 in the Budget for the Valuation Division with the cut being applied as follows:

Elimination of proposed new position of Intermediate Stenographer-Clerk	$3,540
Reduction of travel expense by	1,000
	$4,540

Through greater transfer of personnel among the different divisions, the proposed new position of intermediate stenographer-clerk can be safely denied. The budgeted amount of $18,000 for travel, representing an increase of almost $7,000 over expenditures for 1943-45, is excessive and warrants at least the cut of $1,000 we recommend above.

5. Motor Transportation Tax Division

This division handles the administration of the gross receipts tax imposed upon motor vehicle carriers for hire.

Proposed expenditures for 1945-47 for this division are $537,271, an increase of $71,859 or 15.4 per cent. Practically all of this increase results from normal salary adjustments and anticipated filling of positions vacant during the current biennium. No additional job spots are requested. Budget subitems are in line and we recommend no change.

We have already recommended under the section dealing with the Controller that the tax collecting functions of the Controller be transferred to the Board of Equalization. We believe this can be absorbed with very little additional help or equipment, possibly none.

For Support of Retail Sales Tax Division
State Board of Equalization

Item 112 Budget Bill, pages 320-323, inclusive, of the Budget, appropriation from the General Fund $6,626,112; increase of $1,445,562 or 27.9 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $5,180,549 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Recommendation: Reduce Item 112 by $347,450 or 5.2 per cent to $6,278,662.

1. Statistical Summary

The proposed increase of $1,445,562 or 27.9 per cent for 1945-47 over the estimated expenditure for 1943-45 is distributed, by object of expenditure, as follows:

	Estimated 1943-45	Budget 1945-47	Change 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent	Per cent of total increase
Salaries and Wages
Positions now authorized	$5,282,104	$6,010,280	$728,176	13.7	50.3
Estimated salary savings	—521,484	—522,462	—981	---	---
1945-47 normal salary adjustments	---	155,391	155,391	---	10.7
Proposed new positions	---	421,620	421,620	---	29.1
Totals, salaries and wages	$4,760,620	$6,064,829	$1,304,209	27.4	90.2
Operating expenses	398,998	506,722	107,724	26.9	7.4
Equipment	20,930	54,561	33,631	160.6	2.3
Totals	$5,180,549	$6,626,112	$1,445,563	27.9	99.9

Operating expenses, up about $107,000 or 27 per cent, account for 7 per cent of the total increase of approximately $1,445,000; while equipment expenditures account for slightly more than 2 per cent of the total increase. Over 90 per cent or about $1, 300,000 of the total increase, is for salaries and wages.

This scheduled expansion is particularly significant in view of the fact that revenue receipts are estimated to decline materially (13 per cent) for the biennium.

II. Findings and Recommendations

1. Summary of Recommendations

In addition to application of the previously mentioned general savings items of allowance for unfilled positions, and general reductions for printing, automobile, and travel expense, we recommend a specific reduction of $347,450 or 5.2 per cent in Item 112 of the Appropriation Bill, which will reduce this amount to $6,278,662. The recommendations below give further information:

2. Salaries and Wages

The budgeted amount for salaries and wages for 1945-47 is up by $1,304,209 or 27.4 per cent as follows:

	Increase amount
Positions now authorized	$728,176
Estimated salary savings	—981
1945-47 normal salary adjustments	155,394
Proposed new positions	421,620
Total increase	$1,304,209

The $728,176 item above represents the estimated amount to be expended as a result of filling authorized positions that are, or have been, vacant.

The subitem of $421,620 above for proposed new positions is divided up as follows:

	Amounts
60 new positions, first fiscal year	$126,240
114 (cumulative total) new positions, second fiscal year	270,360
Subtotal new positions, excluding reclassifications	396,600
Reclassifications	25,020
Total increase	$421,620

The proposed 114 additional positions would bring the total number of authorized personnel positions up to 1,274 as compared with 1,125 for the prewar Fiscal Year of 1937-1938. Of these 114, 74 are for the auditing department, of which 25 are for the first year and an additional 49 for the second year.

We recommend that a reduction of $297,450 be made for salaries and wages, which represents three quarters of the amount budgeted for new positions (excluding reclassifications). This reduction would still permit an increase of $1,006,759 or 21.1 per cent in the amount budgeted for salaries and wages for 1945-47 over the estimated expenditure for 1943-45. It would permit the full budgeted increases for positions currently approved, normal salary adjustments, and reclassifications, as well as one quarter of the salary expense of the proposed new positions (excluding reclassifications).

Under our recommendation, the Board of Equalization would decide which of the additional positions proposed by the Budget it would fill from the money available.

With a tightening up in administrative practices, the resulting increase for salaries and wages so permitted would be sufficient to care for the division's needs. One important element in such improved administrative practices would be to so organize the auditing work as to secure a properly regulated flow of audits for the particular types of businesses needing more careful audits and for close supervisory scrutiny of the time consumed by auditors in processing the audits assigned to them.

3. Operating Expenses

Budgeted operating expenses for 1943-47 aggregate $506,722, which represents an increase of $107,724 or 26.9 per cent over the estimated expenditure for 1943-1945.

Almost 80 per cent of this increase in operating expenses of over $107,000 occurs in the four operating expense items of tabulating equipment rental, printing, traveling, and automobile expense as follows:

	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent	Per cent of total increase for all items
Tabulating equipment rental	$16,875	$27,662	$10,737	63.6	10.0
Printing	53,695	63,095	9,400	17.5	8.7
Traveling	133,550	185,110	51,560	38.6	47.8
Automobile	55,040	63,314	8,274	15.0	7.7
Subtotal four above items	$259,160	$339,181	$79,971	30.8	74.2
Total, all operating expense items	$398,998	$506,722	$107,724	26.9	100.0

The amount budgeted for operating expenses, $506,722 is excessive with the increases for the four items of tabulating equipment rental, printing, traveling and automobile expense being particularly out of line.

We recommend a reduction of $50,000, or approximately 10 per cent, in the total budgeted amount of $506,722 for operating expenses, with the Board of Equalization being left free to apply this reduction among the different operating expense items. This reduction of $50,000 would still allow an increase of $57,724 or 14.4 per cent over the estimated expenditure for 1943-45 and will be sufficient for the board's needs.

4. Equipment

Proposed expenditure for equipment during the 1945-47 Biennium is $54,561, an increase of $33,631 or 160.7 per cent. While the increase is relatively large, we believe it justified due to the inability to replace old equipment and to purchase necessary new equipment within the past several years because of wartime conditions.

It is also recommended that the overall general savings be applied to this agency, and the recommended savings in printing and automobiles be secured. Also the salary savings plan should be followed to save from funds for salary and wages when not used. We feel sure that additional savings of large amounts will be saved through this process.

Alcoholic Beverage Control Division
State Board of Equalization

Item 113 in Budget Bill, pages 324 to 327 of the Budget. Appropriation from General Fund $2,796,301, an increase of $314,535 or 12.6 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $2,481,766 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Our recommendation: Reduce Item 113 by $265,000 or $2,531,301.

1. Statistical Summary

The proposed increase of $314,535 or 12.6 per cent for 1945-47 over the estimated expenditure for 1943-45 is as follows, by object of expenditure:

ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE CONTROL DIVISION
EXPENDITURE FOR SUPPORT BY OBJECT

Object	Estimated 1943-45 Biennium	Proposed 1945-47 Biennium	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent
Salaries and wages

Estimated salary savings	-126,720	-135,349	-8,629	7.1
1945-47 normal salary adjustments		51,670	51,670
Proposed new positions		22,895	22,895
Totals, salaries and wages	$2,011,423	$2,257,460	$246,037	12.2
Operating expense	464,475	499,957	35,482	7.6

	$2,481,766	$2,796,301	$314,535	12.6

Operating expenditures are up by $35,482 or 7.6 per cent while equipment expenditures are expanding by $33,016. Salaries and wages, up by $246,037, or 12.2 per cent, account for over 78 per cent of the increase.

II. Findings and Recommendations

Summary of Recommendations: While we can report that there has been some improvement in the administration and operation of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Division since our report of two years ago to the Legislature, there still remains considerable ground for further improvement. We believe that very substantial gains in liquor control activities could be secured from divorcing the administration of the liquor control laws from tax administration work. We again call attention to the recommendation of the Senate Interim Committee on the Board of Equalization to the effect that the State Board of Equalization should not administer both liquor control laws and tax laws. One unfortunate effect of the present arrangement is to cause the members of the Board of Equalization to spend most of their time on liquor control matters at the expense of the tax matters for which the board was originally created. In fact, the situation now has reached the point where the liquor control tail of the Board of Equalization is wagging the tax dog.

In any event, whether or not the Alcoholic Tax Division remains with the Board of Equalization, its Budget warrants reduction. This Budget calls for an increase of $314,535 or 12.6 per cent for the 1945-47 Biennium from the already inflated expenditure bast of $2,481,766.

In addition to the general overall reductions previousy mentioned for salary savings through failure to fill positions and the general reductions for printing, automobiles and traveling expenses, we recommend a reduction for Item 113 of $265,000 to $2,531,301. This amount approximately represents the sum of the listed salary expense for the vacant positions (excluding those formerly occupied by persons on military leave) plus the budgeted salary expense for the six new positions proposed by the Budget. This reduction is very moderate and is both possible and highly desirable because of past over-budgeting of positions. This recommendation would still leave a margin of expansion to meet additional demands in the event they develop through the filling of the large number of current vacancies on the staffs of the offices of the districts. In the interest of administrative flexibility, we further recommend that the Alcoholic Beverage Control Division be authorized to apply this reduction to whatever parts of its organization it deems most suitable.

Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax Division
State Board of Equalization

Item 114 of the Budget Bill, pages 330 to 333 of the Budget—a Special Fund Agency. Appropriation from Motor Vehicle Fuel Fund $396,330, an increase of $68,474 or 20.9 per cent over the estimated expenditures of $327,856 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

The proposed increase of $68,474 or 20.9 per cent for 1945-47, by object of expenditure, is as follows:

Object	Expenditures Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase Amount	Per cent
Salaries and wages
Positions now authorized	$248,926	$273,880	$24,954	10.0
Estimated salary savings	—3,000	—3,000	------	----
1945-47 normal salary adjustments	------	5,015	5,015	----
Proposed new positions	------	26,400	26,400	----
Total, salaries and wages	$245,926	$302,295	$56,369	22.9
Operating expense	81,398	88,396	6,998	8.6
Equipment	532	5,639	5,107	960.0
Total	$327,856	$396,330	$68,474	20.9

This increase is definitely out of line with prior budgets and the current and anticipated work load of this Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax Division. We believe that unless new and substantial duties are bestowed on this division, it can operate effectively without the six new positions proposed by the Budget. Accordingly, we recommend a reduction of $24,900, or to $371,430, in Item 114 to cover the salaries of these positions. This reduction can be achieved through greater use of the practice of transferring employees among divisions of the Board of Equalization.

If our previous recommendation, given in the section on the Controller's Office, to transfer the Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax Refund Division from the State Controller's Office to the Board of Equalization, is approved then Item 114 should be increased by $84,800 to $481,130, to finance the additional work involved. This increase of $84,800 represents 60 per cent of the amount currently budgeted for the Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax Division of the Controller's Office less $24,900 for the salaries of the six new positions for the Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax Division that can be dispensed with under the present form of administrative organization.

Fiscal Affairs—Department of Finance

Item 115, for support of Department of Finance, exclusive of Buildings and Grounds, pages 334-341, inclusive, of the Budget, appropriation from the General Fund, $1,487,590; increase of $309,120, or 26.23 per cent over estimated expenditure of $1,178,470 for the 1943-1945 Biennium; and of $302,847 or 25.56 per cent over the $1,184,743 appropriated by Item 85 of Assembly Bill No. 1600 of the last regular session for the 1943-45 Biennium.

This Department of Finance is the financial management and control agency of the State and the most important arm of the Chief Executive in carrying into effect his fiscal policies. In this respect the proper and effective functioning of the department particularly in budgetary control, purchasing and auditing, is of primary importance to the economy of State Government.

Its functions should not be hampered but ineffective spending should be eliminated and more efficient action substituted.

We have already pointed out in several places of our report where better budgeting can be secured and better control methods devised. We present here the following overall recommendations to review desirable procedure in improving financial control.

1. The office of State General Auditor should be established independent of the Executive to make all post audits and the Department of Finance transfer this activity over to this officer, and there should be turned over to the Department of Finance the function of a full preaudit as an integral part of its responsibility for budgetary control. The preaudit work of the Controller to determine legality of expenditures should be maintained but should be coordinated with the preaudit work of the Department of Finance so as to reduce duplication to the minimum.

2. The responsibility for establishing and maintaining a uniform accounting system should be given to the Auditor General, but should be coordinated to the preaudit needs of the Department of Finance and the Controller so as to satisfy the three offices.

3. Purchasing procedure and control should be reviewed, modernized, and coordinated with the preaudit activity so that purchases mesh with equipment and supplies in hand, budgeted amounts for supplies and equipment, and actual needs for the period to be covered. Such purchasing procedure should take into account surpluses in other Departments of the State, including surpluses being liquidated, as well as the production facilities for State use of all State institutions and agencies. Preaudit on purchases should include a positive record of what was bought and what was delivered.

4. A full and effective property record and audit should be made and kept abreast of the State's property acquisition so as to tie together accounting for property held, property purchased, property consumed or disposed of, and property on hand as well as for use in connection with post audits.

Full accountability for all property should be established and maintained. This applies to both real and personal property and to every agency of the State, including the State Guard, and includes property on loan from the Federal Government and other agencies.

While there has been large improvement in the procedure of the department, better budgeting should be secured by:

(a) Improving the Budget Document.
(b) Developing unit costs for services and functions.
(c) Determining actual need rather than primarily comparing with prior expenditures.
(d) Giving full explanation to all items that appear out of line.

(e) Tying appropriations to the Budget closer through the appropriation act.

(f) Improve the Budget and control thereof for the Department of Public Works, The University of California, the Department of Natural Resources, particularly, Fish and Game, as well as numerous socalled self supporting agencies.

(g) Better control of personnel and coordination of personnel records and procedure between the Department of Finance, Personnel Board, Controller and several departments concerned. The purpose of this would be to eliminate unnecessary records and red tape to make it easier to hire, discharge for cause, lay off, etc., and pay personnel. This requires a high degree of cooperation and leadership.

(h) Coordinate property records with Budget procedures.

6. Extraneous activities should be reduced to the minimum with time and effort being concentrated on the vital work of the Department.

7. The Division of State Lands should be an integral part of the Department of Finance, and the State Lands Commission should be abolished as unnecessary and as an added expense and time consumer of the Director of Finance.

8. Management of the Napa State Farm should be transferred to some other agency, or the agricultural part sold, or the Department of Finance should have an agricultural production specialist to coordinate agricultural production at all State agencies and see that the Napa State Farm is operated in the general plan.

Many of these recommendations can be forwarded under the proposed Budget.

This Budget shows an increase of $309,120 or 26.23 per cent, while the total Budget increase is 16.4 per cent. The increase is somewhat more than this for the costs of the Board of Control have been taken out of this Budget, but were in the current Budget.

A comparative analysis of expenditures for support by administrative activity is set forth in Table I following:

Principal Causes of Increases

The principal reasons for the increases in the Budget are for salaries, operations and equipment.

Salaries went up from $1,121,692 in 1943-45 to $1,425,975 for 1945-47, an increase of $304,283 or 27.12 per cent.

Operating expense increased $17,911 from $140,749 for the current biennium 1943-45 to $158,660 for 1945-47 or 12.72 per cent.

Equipment increased from $7,726 to $12,145 up $4,419 or 57.19 per cent.

Reimbursements for auditing decreased by $17,507 or 22.82 per cent, making the net increase that much greater.

Net totals, support		$1,193,470	$1,537,590	$344,120	+28.83

Continuing present positions through 1945-47 shows an increase in salaries of $147,000. New positions call for $122,470 and normal salary adjustments add $30,000 more.

The item of new positions is the largest amount and requires some explanation. Actual positions for 1943-44 totaled 199 and 223 for 1944-45. For 1945-46 the two board of control positions and a planner—or three positions—are transferred and one is eliminated and 19 new positions are added, making a net addition of 15. For the 1946-47 Fiscal Year, 19 new positions are continued and nine more are added.

New Positions: Of the proposed new positions, three military leave positions are provided for in the first fiscal year at a cost of $8,940. The cumulative total for military leave positions in the second fiscal year is five, at a cost of $16,440, or a total cost for the biennium of $25,380.

Number of new positions requested		Cost
19	First fiscal year	$46,370
Cumulative total 28	Second fiscal year	73,670
	Total 1945-1947	$120,040
	Less: Five military leave	— 25,380
	Net actual new positions	$94,660	or 31.10 per cent of the total salary increase goes for new positions.

One entirely new service is provided: An Agricultural Adviser. We presume he will advise in relation to the production of all State agencies and institutions. If this is done effectively it will be a good investment. Two administrative analysts positions are proposed for 1946; if they function properly they will be a good investment.

Two senior buyers are proposed with one to be added each year. We recommend that one be eliminated for 1946-47 at a saving of $3,780; also that there be eliminated the three proposed positions of three typist clerks for 1946-1947 in Purchases at a saving of $4,500, as these positions all depend on the postwar construction program. We have already recommended that this be held until the war ends.

The remainder of the new positions are for accountants and clerks and appear necessary.

We recommend only the elimination of the four positions mentioned above with an aggregate salary saving of $8,280 resulting.

Operating expense shows some items out of line and undoubtedly savings will be made. We feel sure the department will apply to itself the same rules of saving which it applies to other State departments.

The proposed equipment expenditure is not out of line. The largest item for $5,395 (page 340 of Budget for the Bureau of Purchases) is for a new automobile, 16 typewriters and furniture.

We recommend that Item 115 of the Budget be reduced by only $8,280.

The same overall savings should be applied to the Department of Finance as to other General Fund Departments of the State to produce a saving of $10,000,000. The salary savings plan for all unfilled and new positions should be applied to this department.

Department of Finance—For Support of Bureau of Buildings and Grounds, Division of Services and Supply

Item 116 Budget Bill, pages 342-350, inclusive, of the Budget, appropriation from the General Fund $1,780,733; increase of $83,779 or 4.9 per cent over estimated expenditure of $1,696,954 for the 1943-45 Biennium; and of $71,481 or 4.2 per cent over the $1,709,252 appropriated by Item 85.5 of Assembly Bill No. 1600 of the last regular session for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

A breakdown of expense by broad classification follows:

TABLE I

Expenditures for:	1943-45	1945-47	Increase or decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent
Administration	$43,602	$59,293	$15,691	35.98

	$1,696,954	$1,780,733	$83,779	4.93

SERVICE REVOLVING FUND ANALYSIS

Causes of Increase

1. Salaries—Up from $1,663,958 in the 1943 Biennium to $1,781,282 in the 1945-47 Biennium an increase of $120,525 or 7.24 per cent.

New Positions—Nine, for both years of the Biennium, at a total cost of	$48,920
Normal salary adjustments (1945-47)	32,294
	$81,214

Balance between new positions, normal salary adjustments and proposed increase in salaries is $39,310 which amount represents existing but unfilled positions in 1943-45 expected to be filled in 1945-47.

2. Capital Outlay: Note that the recapitulation of this item on page 334 of the Budget shows:

	1943-45	1945-47	Increase or decrease Amount	Per cent
Acquisition of real property	$190,000	$384,460	+ $194,460	102.34
Construction of dam and water distribution system to supply State institutions in Napa County	1,370,669	--------	— 1,370,669	—100
	$1,560,670	$384,460	—$1,176,210	— 75.36

This statement is misleading. It will be impossible to construct and complete the above proposed dam before June 31, 1945, and consequently this expenditure is properly chargeable to the ensuing Biennium.

A true statement of the facts follows:

	1943-45	1945-47	Increase or decrease Amount	Per cent
Acquisition of property	$190,000	$384,460	+ $194,460	102.34
Construction of dam and water distribution system to supply State institution at Napa	---------	1,370,670	+ 1,370,670	new
	$190,000	$1,755,130	$1,565,130	+ 8.237

Decreases

Operating Expenses—Down from $1,095,345 in 1943-45 to $1,004,327, a decrease of $91,018 or —8.3 per cent.

Equipment—Down from $4,469 in 1943-45 to $3,200 in 1945-47 a decrease of $1,269 or 28.39 per cent.

The Bureau of Buildings and Grounds of the Department of Finance, under Sections 689 and 689.5 of the Political Code, must make all expenditures from the Service Revolving Fund. This fund is made up from collections from the Special Funds and after the cost of all service is paid, the remainder is made up from the General Fund.

For these reasons the increase or decrease of Item 116 does not mean much in itself insofar as measuring the cost or effectiveness of the Bureau.

The percentage increase of 4.9 per cent looks very favorable. The total expenditure shown on page 344 of the Budget is more pertinent.

This shows an expenditure of $2,763,771 for 1943-45 and $2,788,809 for 1945-1947, or an increase of $45,038 or 1.63 per cent. The details are presented on pages 344 to 350 of the Budget Bill. This looks very favorable but it illustrates the fallacy of budgeting merely by considering the expenditures of prior years.

Reference to page 350 will show that no material increase came in the Fiscal Year 1944-45 which is $1,438,653 as compared with $1,385,602 or an increase of $53,051. Yet it may be that the base expenditures are already too high and the division overstaffed.

In this case a complete operation study will be required to make an intelligent recommendation. We, therefore, suggest merely the overall percentage saving be applied as previously explained, and the other scheduled savings for printing and automobiles, and the salary savings plan, but no specific reductions pending completion of an operations survey.

Item 117 of the Budget Bill, page 334 and page 342 of the Budget. An appropriation from the General Fund of $125,000 for alterations, repairs and equipment of the State Capitol and State Office buildings.

This is the customary appropriation made to the Department of Finance for this purpose. The actual amount expended and estimated for the current fiscal year is $76,380. The appropriation requested therefore is $48,620 increase or an increase of 63.65 per cent. We believe that this sum will be sufficient for the purpose and that there should be a remaining balance at the end of the biennium. We see no advantage of recommending a reduction of this item. During the current biennium an emergency repair item amounting to $69,932 was expended. This is not repeated for the coming biennium.

Item 118 of the Budget Bill and pages 334 and 342 of the Budget. This provides for an appropriation to the Department of Finance of $70,000 from the General Fund for the payment of automobile liability insurance premiums, expense of investigation and payments of claims. There was expended for the current biennium $66,216 for this purpose, so the increase is only $3,784. This item is not out of line and is a necessary expenditure.

Item 119 of the Budget Bill, pages 334 and 342 of the Budget. Appropriates $2,000 from the General Fund for the Department of Finance for official advertising. The expenditure for the current biennium is $1,295.11. This is an increase of $704.89. The item is necessary and is not out of line.

Item 120 of the Budget Bill, pages 334 and 342 of the Budget. Appropriates $9,000 from the General Fund for the Department of Finance for premiums on official bonds required by law for officers and employees for salaries paid from the General Fund, and also bonds required by Section 28 of the Unemployment Insurance Act.

The amount required for the current biennium is $6,732.23. This is an increase of $2,267.77. The increase may be necessary to take care of additional bonds or any fluctuation in costs. It is not out of line and the expenditure is required by law.

Item 121, of the Budget Bill, pages 334 and 342 of the Budget, appropriates $150 from the General Fund for reclamation assessments on State-owned property to be paid by the Department of Finance. There was required for this purpose for the current biennium $547.80. This is a decrease of $397.80, made possible by the sale of State-owned land subject to reclamation. This sale places this property on the local tax roll and it is hoped that the remaining State-owned land which is not needed for State Government purposes will likewise be disposed of and eliminate this necessary land assessment.

Item 122 of the Budget Bill, pages 334 and 342 of the Budget, appropriates $5,000 from the General Fund to the Department of Finance for making tax license and fee refunds paid erroneously into the General Fund and where no other provision is provided by law and requiring the approval of the State Board of Control. The sum of $1,297.96 was required for the current biennium. The request is an increase of $3,702. It is not out of line for the amount of such refunds required cannot be accurately estimated. Any balance remaining will revert to the General Fund.

Item 123 of the Budget Bill, pages 334 and 342 of the Budget—an appropriation of $1,500 from the General Fund to the Department of Finance for painting the portrait of the two former Governors whose portraits are not yet in the possession of the State. This is the customary amount appropriated for this purpose and was not made in the Biennium 1943-45.

Item 124 of the Budget Bill, page 343 of the Budget, appropriates $275,000 from the General Fund to the Department of Finance for the purchase of real property in San Francisco. This is for the purchase of the California Building, which the State has had under lease and has occupied for some time. This is the sum estimated to complete this purchase. An analysis was made of this matter by the Legislative Auditor and on the basis of appraisals and the saving in rent, it appears to be a good investment.

Item 125 of the Budget Bill, page 343 of the Budget, appropriates $109,460 to the Department of Finance for the purchase of the warehouse in Sacramento which the State has had under a rent lease purchase agreement for some time. This is the balance that is necessary to secure full title.

Rector Canyon Dam Construction

We have already called attention to the fact that there is another item of capital outlay chargeable to the Department of Finance which is set up as an expenditure for the 1943-45 Biennium and is entered as actually expended. Reference to pages 334 and 343 of the Budget will show this item set up as a charge for the Biennium 1943-45 in the sum of $1,370,669.85. This is taken as a decrease of the same amount in the proposed Budget for 1945-47 which, of course, will not occur between now and June 30, 1945. This is for the construction, improvement and equipment of a water works in Napa County to consist of the Rector Canyon Dam and a water distribution to supply State institutions in Napa County. The appropriation and authorization was made by Chapter 1208, Statutes of 1941. No reappropriation is required.

Item 126 of the Budget Bill, page 334 of the Budget, provides for the appropriation of $50,000 from the Fairs and Expositions Fund, as allocated by Section 19626 of the Business and Professions Code for the support of the Division of Audits of the Department of Finance. This is a special fund item. This appropriation is a lump sum item to pay for the auditing of local county and district fairs: $15,000 was spent during the 1943-45 Biennium for this same purpose, so this is an increase of $35,000. However, certain other adjustments and charges for auditing will be eliminated and only so much as is necessary will be spent for this purpose.

Item 127 of the Budget Bill, pages 334 and 353 of the Budget. This provides for the appropriation of $42,105 from the Fairs and Expositions Fund, as allocated by Section 19626 of the Business and Professions Code, to the Department of Finance for the support of the Division of Fairs and Expositions. This is a special fund operation. Details are found on page 353. The expenditure for this purpose for the current biennium was $26,912. This is an increase of $15,193, or 56.45 per cent. This division operated during the Fiscal Year 1943-44 with three employees. For the current fiscal year they have four employees and they expect to continue with that number through the biennium. The salaries have been increased from $24,000 to $33,000, making up the major part of the increase.

It is expected that only a few district and county fairs will be held during the Biennium 1945-47, and that no State Fair will be held during the first fiscal year of the biennium and probably not until the second fiscal year of the biennium, if at all. It is necessary, however, to carry on certain administrative work to take care of property and to keep proper accounts insofar as they are necessary. It is possible that not as much activity will occur as is contemplated. Some savings can be made but not to any great extent in this Budget.

Item 128 of the Budget Bill, page 354 of the Budget. This provides for the appropriation of $168,320 from the State Agricultural Society Contingent Fund to the Department of Finance, Division of Exhibits, for the support of the State Agricultural Society. This is a special fund activity. This is for the operation of the organization that puts on the State Fair. It is not contemplated that a State Fair will be held the first fiscal year of the biennium and it is only problematical that the fair will be held during the second year. The appropriation is an increase of $25,710 over the actual estimated expenditure for the current biennium. The principal increases are in administration, $4,921; and operations, $20,614. Salaries and wages require the largest single increase. $36,500 is for eight new positions. These positions are: One intermediate stenographer-clerk, one carpenter, one electrician, and five laborers. The other increases are due primarily to operating expense, which increases with the number of employees.

It does not appear that this budget is particularly out of line. A large plant at the State Fair Grounds has to be maintained. If it is allowed to deteriorate, it will cost more to put it in shape later. We feel that the Department of Finance will exercise control over these State Fair expenditures.

We recommend that the overall savings in the Budget previously proposed to produce a $10,000,000 saving be applied to this activity.

It is also recommended that the money for vacant positions and new positions be set aside in a special salary saving fund as has been previously recommended.

Item 129 of the Budget Bill, pages 354 and 357 of the Budget, provides for an appropriation of $150,000 to the Department of Finance from the Fairs and Expositions Fund allocated by Section 19626 of the Business and Professional Code for the purchase of real property. This is a special fund item. This is for the purchase of land at the State Fair Grounds in Sacramento for an area immediately adjacent to the present plant. While this land is desirable and will round out the property, it is not absolutely necessary for the successful operation of a State Fair. The State now has some 35 acres of land to the south of the fenced in area which is used primarily for parking purposes and is not otherwise occupied. It is desirable to have such a parking space, but this area can be used for expansion. The decision whether or not to make this appropriation is purely one of legislative policy. If eventually this land will be required and will be used, it is desirable to purchase it now. If not, it should not be purchased and taken off the local tax roll.

Item 130 of the Budget Bill, pages 358-361, inclusive, of the Budget, appropriates $86,538 from the Sixth District Agricultural Association Fund for the support of the Sixth District Agricultural Association, Division of Exhibits, Department of Finance. This is a special fund activity. The primary activity of the Sixth District Agricultural Association is the operation of the Exposition Building in Exposition Park,

Los Angeles. It also participates in the management of the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, which is located on land belonging to the district.

The appropriation of $86,538 is an increase of $41,862 over the estimated and actual expenditures for the current biennium. This increase is caused largely through an increase in salaries and wages by the addition of eight new positions in 1945-46 and one more in 1946-47, making the total number of positions 17 in the last year of the biennium. This requires $36,080. Continuation of present salaries and the increase in operating expense from $2,546 to $8,728 makes up the remaining balance.

The new positions to be added consist of the following:

1 Mechanical model maker
1 Exhibit craftsman
2 Graphic Artists
2 Intermediate clerks
1 Head janitor
1 Janitor
1 Watchman
1 Head janitor

A careful examination of the functioning of this activity and the use made of it by the public demonstrates that these additional positions are necessary if the facility is to be properly used and the valuable exhibits maintained.

We do recommend, however, that the same percentage saving be applied here as is suggested for the General Fund to produce the over-all $10,000,000 savings. We also suggest that the salary savings be set up as previously described.

The revenues for the Sixth District Agricultural Association are derived primarily from the rent of the Coliseum site, as shown on page 361 of the Budget in the sum of $60,000 a year, or $120,000 for the biennium. This is an increase of $59,445 over receipts for the present Biennium, or almost a 100 per cent increase. This, in turn, results in an estimated unbudgeted surplus June 30, 1947, of $168,190.

A further word of explanation is required. At the present time a controversy is going on between the Sixth District Agricultural Association, the city playground commission of Los Angeles city and the county supervisors over the control and management of the Coliseum and the contract which existed for ten years whereby the Sixth District Agricultural Association was paid $30,000 a year in lieu of its right to exercise the privilege of taking certain days for the use of the district. When this contract ended in 1943 it was not renewed and at the present time, pending solution of the matter, all receipts from various games and events held in the Coliseum are being impounded and it may require a lawsuit to straighten the matter out. This matter has been thoroughly investigated by the Legislative Auditor, acting for the Ways and Means Committee of the Assembly; meetings have been held by this committee and testimony taken, and as a result a bill has been introduced into the Legislature providing that the Sixth District Agricultural Association shall have the power to exercise condemnation to protect the State's interest and to secure control and management of the Coliseum. Since this is a public institution operating for the best interests of the public and on a State-wide basis, it is our recommendation that the State's interest should be protected fully by the Sixth District Agricultural Association; and that all of the revenues that can be accrued to the credit of the State through exercising the option to use the Coliseum for a certain number of selected days be exercised; and the directors of the Sixth District Agricultural Association, in our opinion, will be derelict in their duty if they do not select these days to the best financial advantage of the State. They will furthermore be negligent of their duty if they do not protect the interests of the State in the properties of the State under their control in Exposition Park, including all interests that may exist in the Coliseum in the site on which it is located and the reversion rights in their full value.

Item 131 of the Budget Bill, pages 363 to 367, inclusive, of the Budget, appropriates $301,811 for the support of the Division of State Lands, and the State Land Commission of the Department of Finance, payable from the State Lands Act Fund. This is a special fund activity. This appropriation is an increase of $89,407 or 42 per cent over the actual and estimated expenditure for 1943-45.

Item 132 is an appropriation of $35,000 to the Division of State Lands from the State Land Act Fund for the installation of a public lands record system. This is an increase of $25,001 or 250 per cent above the expenditures of the current biennium. This is divided into two principal expenditures: $20,000 for the record system, and $15,000 for a proprietary lands survey. Both of these are special items and are proposed for the purpose of increasing the efficiency and effectiveness of the division and so as to better determine the values of lands.

The principal increase in the support expenditures is from the following: To continue the five new positions created in 1944-45 through the current biennium and to add six new positions for the biennium 1945-46. These six new positions are a Junior Engineering Aid, a Senior Civil Engineer, a Senior Stenographer Clerk, an Intermediate Account Clerk, a District Petroleum Engineer and a Junior Geological Draftsman. There is also a material increase in equipment of approximately $5,000 or a 100 per cent increase. $3,900 of this is for the purchase of automobiles in the administration and the same amount in the oil land control.

If the same degree of activity continues as now exists in the sale and leasing of State land and the exploration for oil on State lands, the staff requested will probably be necessary. If this activity should decline, it is quite possible to reduce the staff. The revenues are estimated to continue at the 1944-45 rate, which indicates the Budget was made on the basis that revenues are holding up.

We recommend that the overall saving suggested from the General Fund to produce the $10,000,000 saving there be applied to this fund in the same percentage. We also recommend that the schedule of savings for automobiles be applied to this division. It is further recommended that the salary savings plan be fully applied to this division and that the moneys for vacant positions and new positions be segregated and the amounts not needed be saved.

It is also recommended that the State Lands Commission be abolished and that the State Division of Lands be returned and made an integral part of the Department of Finance as one of its regular divisions. This is primarily the operating real estate division of the State in the way of management. It is a fiscal function and belongs in the Department of Finance and under a division chief. Its administration now is not coordinated properly with the Department of Finance.. The administrative control is not meshed. Yet the Director of Finance is required to act in a dual capacity, particularly in relation to the approval of leases. He first puts on his hat as a member of the State Lands Commission, and then as Director of Finance he reviews the work of the commission and the recommendations made with regard to leases and either approves or disapproves of such leases. We see no particular advantage in the operation of the Lands Commission, and we do see an added expense. While we recognize the diligence of the present management and commend them for that diligence, it is no argument for the continuation of a separate land commission, nor is the fact that revenues have been increased a material argument, for these increases have come primarily from oil royalties which are derived from the exploitation of natural resources. The commission may have managed them well, but they did not create the values, these result from the war which has brought on an accelerated development and a high price for petroleum products.

We also recommend that the revenues from this source should go into the General Fund as general receipts of the State, as they properly are, and that the Legislature then Budget for those several items that now are allocated from the receipts from this source. The accounts showing the source of the receipts can be kept. The present procedure of fixed appropriations on a percentage basis into other special funds without regard to the needs of these funds and without full and adequate consideration biennially of these matters by the Legislature results in a dislocation in appropriations and in State activities and also results in a more costly accounting procedure than if these receipts went directly into the General Fund with expenditures also coming from the General Fund in conformance with regular established budgetry procedure and under the immediate control of the Legislature.

Napa State Farm

Item 133 of the Budget Bill, pages 368-369 of the Budget. Appropriates $51,833 from the General Fund to the Department of Finance for support of the Napa State Farm.

Previously this facility has been operated out of a revolving fund and it has not appeared in the appropriation bill. Deficits have been made up out of appropriations from the General Fund.

Income will go to the General Fund. This is estimated at $30,000 for the biennium from farm income.

This will show a deficit on this basis of $21,833. Part of this, however, is for equipment, some $14,413, a large part of which (such as a tractor) will last for a number of years.

The farm should be operated to produce a larger return on the heavy overhead.

It is now proposed to operate a dairy and to supply milk to the Veterans' Home. This should produce an income of sufficient size to justify operations. If the farm operation continues to show a loss, it should be abandoned, with only the production of water being developed as a State activity.

Occupational therapy for inmates of the Veterans' Home and Napa State Hospital should be provided when possible for the two twofold purpose of benefiting the State's charges and cutting labor costs.

Franchise Tax Commissioner

Item 134 Budget Bill, pages 371-378 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the General Fund, $2,563,824; increase of $412,348 or 19.2 per cent over estimated expenditure of $2,151,475 for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

Recommendation: Approve Item 134 in the amount of $2,563,824 without reduction.

We recommend the application of the overall Budget savings; automobile and printing savings and the salary saving fund procedure.

We also recommend strongly that this office be placed under some competent body for overall control. It is suffering in management and from lack of control from the top under present operations and an unmeasurable excess cost results.

I. Statistical Summary

The increase of $412,348 or 19.2 per cent for 1945-1947 proposed by the Budget over estimated expenditures for 1943-1945 is distributed as follows by object of expenditure:

Object:	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47 Biennium	Increase or decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent
Salaries and wages:
Positions now authorized	$1,922,729	$2,168,713	+$245,984	+ 12.8
Estimated salary savings	— 128,284	— 147,545	— 19,260	— 15.0
1945-47 Normal salary adjustment		82,105	+ 82,105
Proposed new positions		60,990	+ 60,990
Totals—Salaries and Wages	$1,794,444	$2,164,263	+$369,819	+ 20.6
Operating expenses	341,724	359,628	+ 17,904	+ 5.2
Equipment	15,307	39,933	+ 24,626	+160.9
Totals for biennium for support	$2,151,475	$2,563,824	+$412,348	+ 19.2

The relatively large increase of $245,984 for positions now authorized indicated by the table above results largely from the expectation that the large number of vacant positions will be filled during the coming biennium. As of March 30, there were 67 vacant positions. The $60,990 sum above represents the budgeted amount for 12 new positions and the reclassification of several other job spots.

II. Findings and Recommendations

As previously indicated, we are convinced that the establishment of a central tax collecting and administering agency for the State of California which would amalgamate the several separate tax collecting agencies, including the Franchise Tax Commissioner, would effect considerable improvement and economy in the administration of taxes. This improvement and economy would result from the better control that a central tax collecting department would exercise in overall planning and coordination of the work of the several tax collecting branches; from the transfer of personnel from slack period to peak period tax collecting sectors of the department; and from greater and more effective use of the central auditing, legal, and research staff services.

However, pending the establishment of such a central tax collecting agency, the work of the Franchise Tax Commissioner's Office will require the amount of $2,563,824 provided by Item 134 of the Budget Bill, and we recommend the approval of this item without reduction. Reasons for this recommendation include the following:

1. The volume of work has increased considerably during the biennium. This was because of the much larger number of tax returns and the larger amounts from such returns as a result of expanded wartime incomes.
2. The office has a very heavy backlog of work in checking returns and, in fact, runs the danger of falling afoul of the statute of limitations in connection with a number of unchecked returns.
3. An inadequate amount of money for administration of this agency would result in substantial loss of tax revenue to the State through the resulting failure to adequately audit tax returns.

We further recommend that the request of the Franchise Tax Commissioner in his letter of February 21, 1945, to the Ways and Means Committee for an addition to the Budget of $14,580 be denied. This request would cover the Commissioner's estimate of the cost of reclassifying a number of Income Tax Examiner Grade II positions to Grade III. Some of the reclassifications have already been approved by the Personnel Board and approval of others is expected.

While there may be good ground for such reclassification of a limited number of positions, we recommend that no additional allotment be granted over and above the total appearing in the Governor's Budget for the following reasons:

1. The amount requested—$14,580—represents the Franchise Tax Commissioner's estimate of the cost, based in turn on his estimate of the number of positions that will be reclassified. It is probable that the Personnel Board will approve a fewer number of such reclassifications. During the biennium it may also reduce classifications or reduce salary ranges.
2. We believe that the Franchise Commissioner's Office, through the exercise of available economy devices, can find the money from its Budget for such approved reclassifications.

Horse Racing Board

Item 135 of the Budget Bill, pages 379 to 384 inclusive of the Budget. This is a special fund agency.

Appropriates $95,176 out of the Fair and Exposition Fund for support of the California Horse Racing Board.

This is an increase of $45,124.56 over 1943-45 or 90 per cent increase. Practically all of this is proposed for the 1946-47 Fiscal Year or the last year of the biennium. It is caused primarily by adding eight new employees at an annual cost of $23,040. Likewise, operating expense is increased by $17,000.

This is due to the estimate that there will be no horse racing in 1944-45 but there will be full racing in 1946-47.

The estimates of revenues are made on this same basis, page 381 Budget.

We believe the appropriation requested will be necessary if horse racing is held as assumed.

Fiscal Affairs—State Treasurer

Item 136 in the Budget Bill, pages 336 and 337 of the Budget.

Appropriation of $192,205 from the General Fund. This is an increase of $8,397.12 or 4.5 per cent. Salary adjustment, fiscal agency fees, and equipment make up the increase. There is no increase for positions.

There is no opportunity to make appreciable savings on a definite basis. We recommend the appropriation as requested.

Department of Industrial Relations

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium

Items 137 to 144, inclusive, of the Budget Bill, and pages 388 to 404 inclusive of the Budget. Amount requested from all funds—$3,821,235. This represents an increase of $631,844 or 19.81 per cent over expenditures of $3,189,391 for the 1943-45 biennium; and an increase of $823,977 or 27.49 per cent over the 1943-45 (AB 1600) appropriation of $2,997,258.

Of the total appropriation requested, proposed General Fund expenditures amount to $3,671,281 or 96.07 per cent. Appropriation from Special Funds (Fire Marshal's Fund) amounts to $149,954 or 3.92 per cent of the total. This latter amount is for additional support of the Division of Fire Safety.

We recommend that the overall percentage savings be applied to this department as recommended to produce $10,000,000 General Fund savings. Also that automobile and printing costs be reduced as per schedule previously presented. Also that the general salary savings plan be applied to all divisions of this department.

The following table summarizes by Division total actual and estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium compared with total proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium.

To facilitate examining appropriations for this department, there is set forth in the following pages a detailed analysis of the respective division's appropriation requests as they appear in the Budget Bill, items 137 to 144 inclusive.

Administration

Item 137, page 12 of the Budget Bill, and pages 389 and 390 of the Budget. Amount requested $129,687. This represents an increase of $29,960 or 30.05 per cent over expenditures of $99,727 for the 1943-1945 Biennium; and an increase of $38,571 or 42.33 per cent over the 1943-45 appropriation (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of $91,116.

Reduction recommended—$24,067.

Increased expenditures for the 1945-1947 Biennium over the 1943-1945 Biennium is comprised largely of increased salary and wage expenses which have risen from $87,144 in the 1943-1945 Biennium to $110,071 in the 1945-1947 Biennium, an increase of 26.30 per cent.

The second largest percentage-wise increase is for equipment. This expenditure in the 1943-1945 Biennium amounted to $706. In the ensuing biennium it is proposed to encrease this item to $3,914 or a 452.40 per cent increase.

Proposed expenditures for the 1945-1947 Biennium compared with actual and estimated expenditures, 1943-1945, by object of expenditure are set forth in Table I below:

TABLE I

DEPARTMENTAL ADMINISTRATION

Expenditures (Gen. Fund) Support:	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase or decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent
Salaries and wages	$87,144	$110,071	$22,927	+ 26.30
Operating expenses	16,979	20,437	3,458	+ 20.36
Equipment	706	3,900	+ 3,194	+452.40
Total	$104,829	$134,408	$298,579	+ 28.0
Less: Reimbursements from Fire Marshal's Fund for Departmental Administration	5,103	4,721	— 391
Totals for support	$99,726	$129,687	$29,961	+ 30.05

Of the total of $22,927 for salary increases $13,720 or 59.84 per cent is for four new positions for the first year and two of them carried into the second year.

Table II below shows the proposed new positions and the budgeted salary expense resulting therefrom:

TABLE II

DEPARTMENTAL ADMINISTRATION—SCHEDULE OF PROPOSED NEW POSITIONS, 1945-47 BIENNIUM

Number of positions 1944-45 Total for year	1945-46 Cumulative total for Biennium	Classification	Total amount [1] 1945-46	1946-47
1	1	Senior Account Clerk	$2,100	$2,220
1	1	Intermediate Stenographer-Clerk	1,620	1,740
1	-	Supervisor of Apprentice Labor Agreements	3,420	----
1	-	Intermediate Stenographer-Clerk	1,620	----
		Temporary help	500	500
4	2		$9,260	$4,460
			$13,720

[1] Wartime bonus included in totals.

RECOMMENDATIONS

DEPARTMENTAL ADMINISTRATION

1. We recommend that the proposed new positions for Senior Account Clerk and Stenographer-Clerk be denied. Under the classification of War Emergency positions, there are already two Intermediate Stenographer-Clerks, one Intermediate Account Clerk and one File Clerk. These positions should be terminated when the war emergency is over and no new classifications of this type should be added during the ensuing biennium. Saving $6,680
2. The Secretariat, Citizens Advisory Committee on Social and Industrial Welfare, is a new function not heretofore presented to the Legislature for approval. We recommend that until the Legislature has an opportunity to review this proposal, that the requested appropriation, therefore, be stricken from the item in the sum of..... $16,387
3. We recommend that traveling expenses in 1945-47 be reduced from the proposed total of $4,000 to $3,000, a reduction of $1,000

Division of Apprentice Training

Item 138, page 12 of the Budget Bill and page 391 of the Budget. Amount requested $69,655. This represents an increase of $4,792, or 7.38 per cent over expenditures of $64,862 for the 1943-45 Biennium; and an increase of $15,793 or 29.32 per cent over the 1943-45 appropriation (AB 1600) of $53,862.

Analysis of expenditures for this division, by object, indicates that proposed expenditures for salaries and wages in the ensuing biennium are scheduled to increase $3,765 or 7.72 per cent; operating expenses are to be expanded from $16,040 in the 1943-45 Biennium to $16,955 in the 1945-47 Biennium, an increase of $915 or 5.70 per cent.

RECOMMENDATIONS

APPRENTICESHIP TRAINING

We recommend that the Division of Apprenticeship Training be abolished and Item 138 in the sum of $69,555 be eliminated.

(a) The peak requirements for apprenticeship training have passed.
(b) Even when the need for skilled labor was at its height, the State-sponsored program failed to attract but a small number of apprentices and only in a haphazard way, and almost entirely in union shops.
(c) With the termination of the war and the return to normal peacetime industrial production, any apprenticeship training program that is necessary can be adequately handled by organized trades and industry itself and the regular educational agencies. This is true also in connection with rehabilitation of veterans through a regular educational training program.
(d) At no time since its inception have benefits derived from the State-sponsored program matched its cost to the California taxpayers.

Division of Fire Safety

Item 139, page 12 of the Budget Bill and page 392 of the Budget. Amount requested from General Fund $60,950. This represents an increase of $18,347 or 43 per cent over expenditures of $42,603 for the 1943-45 biennium; and an increase of $32,285 or 112.62 per cent over the 1943-45 appropriation (AB No. 1600) of $28,665.

Item 140, page 12 of the Budget Bill and page 393 of the Budget. Amount requested from Fire Marshal Fund $149,954. This is a decrease of $15,052 or 9.12 per cent below expenditures of $165,006 for the 1943-45 biennium; and a decrease of $36,854 or 19.72 per cent below the 1943-45 appropriation (AB No. 1600) of $186,808.

We will treat proposed expenditures from both funds on the basis of a single lump sum appropriation (Items 139 and 140 combined, or a total appropriation request of $210,904).

Proposed expenditures for 1945-47 Biennium as compared with actual and estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 biennium by object of expenditure, and fund, follows:

TABLE I

DIVISION OF FIRE SAFETY

Expenditure object	Fund				Total estimated expenditures, both funds	Total property expenditures, both funds	Increase or decrease, 1945-47 over 1943-45
	General Fund		Fire Marshal's
	1943-45	1945-47	1943-45	1945-47	1943-45	1945-47	Amount	Per cent
Salaries	$30,120	$44,700	$107,905	$96,262	$138,025	$140,963	+$2,938	+ 2.12%
Operating expenditures	12,423	15,070	56,850	53,241	69,273	68,311	— 962	— 1.38%
Equipment	60	1,180	251	450	311	1,630	+ 1,319	+424.11%
Totals	$42,603	$60,950	$165,006	$149,954	$207,609	$210,904	+$3,295	+ 1.58%

The total expenditure proposed is an increase of $3,295 or 1.58 per cent over the 1943-45 expenditures of $207,609 and a decrease of $4,569 or 2.12 per cent below the 1943-45 combined appropriation (both General and Fire Marshal's Fund—AB No. 1600 of $215,473).

RECOMMENDATIONS

DIVISION OF FIRE SAFETY

While no new positions are requested, war emergency positions are continued in the ensuing biennium at an aggregate cost of $11,480. It is reasonable to expect curtailment of wartime activities in the ensuing biennium, but proposed operating expenses are scheduled to continue at an unabated rate.

In view of the fact that normal peacetime expenditures for this agency approximate $189,000 (using the 1939-41 Biennium as a base period) and anticipating curtailment of wartime activities in the 1945-47 Biennium, we believe that a reduction of $3,000 in the requested appropriation of $210,904 to $207,904 or approximately the amount of the actual and estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium, is ample to carry on the work of the division and still provide for whatever additional work load may have arisen as the result of increased population and wartime activities.

We recommend that the whole reduction be from the General Fund and that Item 139 be reduced $3,000 to $66,655.

Division of Immigration and Housing

Item 141, page 12 of the Budget Bill and page 394 of the Budget. Amount requested $252,674. This represents an increase of $35,331 or 16.25 per cent over expenditures of $217,343 for the 1943-45 Biennium; and an increase of $68,860 or 37.46 per cent over the 1943-45 appropriation (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of $183,814.

TABLE I

DIVISION OF IMMIGRATION AND HOUSING—ANALYSIS OF EXPENDITURES BY OBJECT

Expenditures Support	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase or decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent
Salaries and wages	$154,998	$184,875	+$29,877	+19.28
Operating expense	54,498	63,100	+ 8,602	+15.78
Equipment	7,846	4,699	— 3,147	—40.0
Net totals, support	$217,342	$252,674	+$35,332	+16.25

Of the budgeted salary increase of $29,877, only $1,620 or 5.42 per cent is for new positions (temporary help); $4,900 or 16.40 per cent of the total increase is for normal salary adjustments. The balance, $23,377 or 78.24 per cent, is the amount that is expected to be expended for positions in the 1945-47 Biennium which were existing but unfilled in the 1943-45 Biennium.

In connection with operating expense we wish to direct particular attention to the following facts:

(1) Actual traveling expense for the first fiscal year of the 1943-45 Biennium amounted to $12,391.02, a 69 per cent increase over actual expenses of $8,530 for travel for the first fiscal year of the 1941-43 Biennium.

(2) It is proposed that in the second fiscal year of the 1943-45 Biennium traveling expenses will increase to $23,200, an increase of $10,809, almost double the amount expended in the first fiscal year of the biennium. This is only a budget figure and will not be expended.

(3) During the 1945-47 Biennium the division proposes to spend for traveling expense, a total of $38,000, an increase of $2,407 over actual and estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium.

(4) The second operating expense item which contributes largely to increased operating costs is automobile expense. Actual and estimated expenditures for this item during the 1943-45 Biennium are $12,026. During the 1945-47 Biennium the division proposes to spend $16,600, an increase of $4,574 or 38.03 per cent.

RECOMMENDATIONS

DIVISION OF IMMIGRATION AND HOUSING

The peak of the work load for this Division of Immigration and Housing was reached during the 1943-44 Fiscal Year. This is particularly true in connection with housing, camp, and trailer court inspections. As a result of wartime concentration of population in urban areas, camps and temporary housing facilities expanded rapidly in the 1943-44 Fiscal Year, thus increasing the inspection service work load. This situation, however, can not be expected to prevail in the ensuing biennium, but to the contrary the work of the division should taper off materially.

We therefore recommend that traveling expense for the ensuing biennium be reduced from the proposed $38,000 to $26,000, a reduction of $12,000. Based on the actual expenditure figure of $12,391 for 1943-44, the sum of $26,000 should be more than ample to cover requirements.

We further recommend, and for the same reasons, that automobile expense be reduced from $16,600 as proposed, to $14,000—a reduction of $2,600.

The total reduction recommended for item 141 is $14,600 or to $237,874. This is still an increase of $20,531 or approximately 10 per cent over 1943-45.

Division of Industrial Accident and Safety

Item 142, page 12 of the Budget Bill and pages 395-399, inclusive, of the Budget. Amount requested $2,247,071. This represents an increase of $416,003 or 22.71 per cent over expenditures of $1,831,068 for the 1943-45 Biennium; and an increase of $510,762 or 29.41 per cent over the 1943-45 appropriation (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of $1,736,309.

Of the budgeted increased salary expense of $355,113, the sum of $113,900 or 32.07 per cent is for 17 new positions in the first fiscal year and a cumulative total of 26 new positions in the second fiscal year of the biennium. Normal salary adjustments amount to $48,620 or 13.69 per cent. The remainder, $192,593, is the amount that is expected to be expended for positions during the 1945-47 Biennium, which were not filled during the 1943-45 Biennium.

A tabulation of proposed expenditures 1945-47 compared with 1943-45 by object of expenditure is shown in Table I following.

The largest single item of operating expense is for travel. During the 1943-45 Biennium actual and estimated expenditures total $98,464. Proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium amount to $109,500, an increase of $11,036 or 11.20 per cent.

Automobile expense accounts for a substantial portion of total operating costs. In the 1943-45 Biennium expenditures were $61,805; in the ensuing Biennium it is proposed to increase these expenditures by nearly $10,000 to $71,300, or an increase of 15.36 per cent.

A tabulation of these expenses by "administrative" function is set forth in Table III below.

RECOMMENDATIONS

DIVISION OF INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENT AND SAFETY

1. The total proposed increase in salary expense is $355,-113 for the ensuing biennium; $192,593 of this, or 54.23 per cent is the amount to be expended for positions in the 1945-47 Biennial Period which were established, but unfilled, in the 1943-45 Biennium.
This sum would seem to be adequate to take care of any additional requirements which may arise in the biennium. Industrial production is tapering off and will probably continue to diminish in the two-year period ahead. This will relieve the division of many of its present wartime responsibilities.
We therefore recommend that the requested appropriation for new positions be reduced from the proposed $192,593 to $38,460. This will still enable the division to improve its statistical setup and possibly some added safety work and in the last fiscal year of the biennium to fill the seven positions required to do work in connection with revising the Permanent Disability Rating Schedule, indicated in Table II above.
This will produce a saving of $154,133
2. It is further recommended that the 85 wartime emergency positions, aggregating an expenditure of $263,-880 for the last year of the biennium, be reduced in the last year of the biennium by 50 per cent to a total of $131,990. This will produce a saving of 129,890
3. Proposed expenditures for telephone and telegraph are high. It is our recommendation that the proposed sum of $11,100 for this purpose be reduced to $9,435, a saving of 1,665
4. In line with the above suggestions it is recommended that the total budget for this division be reduced from the proposed figure of $2,247,071 to $1,961,383, a reduction of 285,688
This still represents an increase of $130,315 or 7.10 per cent over actual and estimated expenditures for the 1943-45 Biennium, which was the maximum requirement and has been falling off since January, 1944.

Division of Industrial Welfare

Item 143, page 12 of the Budget Bill and pages 400 and 401, inclusive, of the Budget. Amount requested, $273,340. This represents an increase of $80,478, or 41.72 per cent over expenditures of $192,862 for the 1943-45 Biennium; and an increase of $113,548 or 71.05 per cent over the 1943-45 appropriation (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of $159,792.

Total proposed expenditures for support for the 1945-47 Biennium are $273,340, an increase of $80,478 or 41.72 per cent over the current biennium. Proposed expenditures for salaries and wages are up 33.94 per cent and operating expenses are up 88.82 per cent. See Table I below for detail.

Thirteen war emergency positions are requested to be continued for the first fiscal year of the biennium and in the second year of the biennium the division asks that seven wartime positions be allowed.

A schedule of these positions and salary expense resulting is set forth in Table II below:

Reference to page 400 of the Budget shows that during 1944-45 under the category of "War Emergency Positions" a total of nine industrial welfare agents were employed. Under this same category for the ensuing biennium only one industrial welfare agent is to be employed. However, under "Proposed New Positions" for the ensuing biennium the division requests eight industrial welfare agents for the 1945-46 Fiscal Year, which if granted will bring the strength of this classification to the 1944-45 level. This same situation prevails in connection with intermediate stenographer-clerk. In effect, then, these are not new position requests but if granted has the effect of continuing the war emergency positions already set up.

The large increase in operating expense is principally due to increased expenditures for travel—up 71 per cent. Printing is up 41 per cent; automobile expenses are up 13 per cent; and there is a $10,725 allowance for legal advertising. Table III following gives a comparative summary of operating costs 1943-45 vs. 1945-47:

RECOMMENDATIONS

DIVISION OF INDUSTRIAL WELFARE

1. Wartime emergency positions should be curtailed in this biennium. Much of the peak load which existed in the 1943-45 Biennium is now passed. This should be particularly true in the case of the welfare agents who devote the major portion of their time to checking those firms operating under war production permits. In this group are included the eight industrial welfare positions proposed for 1945-46, and the four industrial welfare agents proposed for the 1946-47 Fiscal Year. We recommend that proposed new war emergency positions be denied for the second fiscal year of the biennium, and the strength then be placed at 29 employees.
2. Traveling expenses are excessive and should be reduced. We recommend that this item be cut from a proposed expenditure of $26,800 to $20,100. This still provides an increase of $4,476 over expenditures for this item in the 1943-45 Biennium.
3. In connection with legal advertising, we recommend that only the actual amount used for this purpose shall be allowed. Any balance remaining shall not be diverted to other purposes.

In conformance with the above suggestions, we recommend that the 1945-47 Budget request for Item 143 be reduced from $273,340 to $213,970, a decrease of $59,370. This still permits an increase of $21,884 over expenditures for 1943-45, or 11.35 per cent when needs are decreasing with the reduction of the number of women and children in employment.

Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement

Item 144, page 12 of the Budget Bill and pages 402-403 inclusive of the Budget. Amount requested $637,904. This represents an increase of $61,984, or 10.76 per cent over expenditures of $575,920 for the 1943-45 Biennium; and an increase of $81,012 or 14.54 per cent over the 1943-45 Appropriation (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of $556,892.

Total proposed expenditures for support for the 1945-47 Biennium are $637,904, an increase of $61,984 or 10.76 per cent over the 1943-45 Biennium. Of this amount, proposed expenditures for salaries and wages come to $526,188, an increase of $53,243 or 11.25 per cent over the 1943-45 expenditure of $472,945. Of the $53,243 increase for salaries and wages, $12,540 or 23.45 per cent is for normal salary adjustments. Four proposed new positions will require an expenditure of $12,960 or 24.34 per cent of the total increase for salaries and wages. The balance, $27,743, is the amount that is expected to be expended for positions during the 1945-47 Biennium which were not filled in the 1943-45 period.

In addition to the analysis of expenditures by object which is given in Table I following, Table II presents a list of the present war emergency positions, and their cost, and a list of proposed new positions for the 1945-47 Biennium and the salary expense resulting therefrom:

Operating expenses in the ensuing biennium are scheduled to increase from $91,680 to $99,800, an increase of $8,120, or approximately 9 per cent.

In connection with operating expenditure, the principal items contributing to the over-all increase are as follows:

Item:	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase or decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent

RECOMMENDATIONS

DIVISION OF LABOR STATISTICS AND LAW ENFORCEMENT

1. The cost of proposed new positions for the coming biennium as shown in Table II above, is $12,960. As previously pointed out, there is already allowed in salary and wage totals a sum of $27,743 which is expected to be expended for positions during the 1945-47 biennium which were unfilled in the 1943-45 period. This sum should be ample to take care of additional needs in the 1945-47 biennium and we, therefore, recommend that the requested amount for new positions be denied. This will allow a continuance of 96 positions in the first half of the fiscal year of the biennium, and 91 positions in the second fiscal year of the 1945-47 biennium.
2. We recommend that the 10 war emergency positions with a proposed expenditure of $42,520 be reduced by one-half in the second fiscal year of the biennium. This will effect a saving of $11,260 for salaries and wages during the biennium.

3. The requested appropriation for office equipment in the sum of $9,216 for the 1945-47 biennium is excessive. This is particularly true in view of the fact that during the 1943-45 biennium estimated and actual expenditures for this item totaled $4,777.55. In view of anticipated curtailed wartime activities we recommend the proposed expenditure of $9,216 for office equipment for the 1945-47 biennium be reduced to $5,000, a saving of $4,216.
4. With the termination of the war, telephone and telegraph requirements for this division should diminish materially. We recommend that the appropriation for this item be reduced to $9,000—a saving of $1,000.
5. In conformance with the above suggestions, we recommend that Item 144 be reduced from $637,904 to $608,468, a decrease of $29,436 or 4.6 per cent. This still permits an increase of $32,548 or 5.6 per cent over expenditures for 1943-1945.

INSTITUTIONS

Analysis of Budgeted Expenditures, State Department of Institutions for 1945-1947 Biennium

Items 145 to 171 inclusive, pages 12 to 14 of the Appropriation Bill, and pages 404 to 497, inclusive, of the Budget.

I. Summary of Appropriation Items and Budget.

These appropriations call for a total expenditure of $30,034,099 for the 1945-1947 Biennium, which represents an increase of $5,325,199 or 21.5 per cent over the estimated expenditure for 1943-1945, compared with the Budget increase of 16.4 per cent.

Table 1, page 354, comparing budgeted expenditures for 1945-1947 with those for 1943-1945 for the several institutions, reveals that proposed appropriations for support total $29,101,351, an increase of $5,250,465 or 21.5 per cent. It further shows that budgeted expenditures for capital outlay items for construction, etc., aggregate $932,748, an increase of $74,737 or 8.7 per cent over estimated expenditures for the current biennium. The capital outlay item is abnormally low for both periods on account of the war. Percentage increases for 1945-47 support items over 1943-45 range from 5.4 per cent for the transportation of inmates to 100.5 per cent for the Langley Porter Clinic. An entirely new item (No. 149) of $179,500 is being added for outpatient mental clinics.

The Langley Porter Clinic was established on a teaching and research basis as an experiment to see if new cures and treatments could not be developed. It is just now getting into full swing and this large increase in expenditures is to make its program effective. We recommend this be approved, with the reservation that results be observed and measured insofar as possible to determine if further expansion of this type of service is justified in relation to the costs. No new institutions of this sort should be set up until this one proves its worth.

As Item 149 is an entirely new service for outpatient clinics never before approved by the Legislature, determination on it is purely a matter of Legislative policy. The costs set up in the Budget are only a "come-on." The actual costs in a few years will be very much higher than is asked for now.

We recommend delaying the establishment of this new service until after the war closes.

Increased salary expense accounts for $4,182,050 or 78.5 per cent of the total scheduled increase for support and capital outlay. Approximately $2,331,000 or 43.7 per cent of the total increased expenditure is scheduled for the salaries for proposed new positions. There are 491 of these for the first year of the biennium and a cumulative total of 754 for the second year of the two-year period. These proposed new positions are summarized as follows:

In connection with this request for a large number of additional positions for the coming biennium, it is significant that on February 13, 1945, there were 502 vacant positions waiting to be filled in the department. It is now proposed to fill all these vacant positions and create 491 new positions the first year and go up 263 more the next year. Many of these require technical trained people not to be had now or probably as long as the war lasts.

Many of these are for new or enlarged services never before offered by the Department.

II. The Department of Institutions' Reasons for Increased Expenditures and Our Comments on These Reasons

Reasons for proposed increases in expenditures by State Institutions, as gleaned from materials submitted by the Department of Institutions, include the following:

> "California is now the third largest state in the Union and one of the wealthiest. It is only logical that California should takes its respective place among other states in the Union with regard to all types of service rendered to its citizens."

The Department of Institutions further stated that a review of the services and forward-looking governmental programs reveals that California is at, or near, the top expenditure status for each particular program—viz., old age assistance, aid to blind, aid to dependent children, juvenile correctional activity, and education. According to the Department of Institutions, California has not made comparable progress in caring for mental cases. The department intimates that the time is at hand for California to begin "catching up" in its program of treatment and care of the mentally ill. The population of hospitals is expected to increase during the coming biennium.

The Department of Institutions rephrases its explanation for increased proposed expenditur in general and for additional personnel positions in particular as follows:

> It must be understood that with the increasing population in the State of California there will be an increased number of patients in the State hospitals and to care for these patients increased personnel must be provided for in the respective budgets.
> In addition to this, if California is to provide services to its mental patients similar to other States, there must be included in our budgets added positions in various functions to bring California up to the average service rendered by other States, even though we are not requesting sufficient positions to place California among the first few States of the Union where it should properly be when considering the size, population, and wealth of this State."

We have the following comments to make on the above explanations:

Reason one above is a totally inadequate attempted justification. Just because California is large and wealthy compared with other States is no proper reason for greater spending as such. Nor should the amount of money spent by other States be used as the criterion for California. It is quite possible, indeed probable, that some of the other States are wasting, or ineffectively spending, substantial portions of the sums they are allocating for hospitals. Furthermore, a comparison of California expenditures with those for eastern States is not valid because of the difference in climate. The warmer California climate permits California institutions to spend less money on such expensive items as clothing, heat and light; and the California hospitals also are able to grow larger parts of their food supplies, and keep patients out-of-doors a larger part of the time than can the eastern institutions. Nor should the fact that California leads many other States in expenditures for such governmental services as old age pensions and education necessarily mean that our State should lead in expenditures for mental hospitals; for California may be spending more money than it should for such other services. An excessive expenditure in one sphere does not of itself justify increased spending in another field.

Moreover, the cases for improved and for more expensive governmental services must be balanced against the mounting burden upon the taxpayer to meet the rising cost of State, local, and federal taxes.

Finally, it must not be forgotten that the war is far from being won. In consequence, this is not the time for civilian services, including hospitals, to compete with the war effort for the people's limited supply of taxable wealth and labor.

The population increase explanation advanced above has only limited application for the Department of Institutions estimated that its population will increase by about 1,500 patients, or 4.9 per cent during the coming biennium, but the total expense item goes up 21.5 per cent in the Budget or four times as much. Most of this is for new and expended service.

III. Summary of Recommendations

More detailed findings and recommendations respecting appropriations for individual institutions are given in connection with an analysis of each appropriation item given below. For convenience, we summarize at this point our recommendations.

In addition to the over-all reductions which will apply to all departments of the State, we recommend the following:

(a) Capital Outlay

Reductions in capital outlay items for construction, improvement, repair, and equipment totaling $190,910 or 20.5 per cent of the total of items for this purpose in the appropriation bill. Details will be found for each institution under Part IV below.

(b) For Support

We recommend that the support items which total $29,101,351 be reduced by $1,581,029 or 5.4 per cent. The remaining amount, $27,520,322, still represents the substantial increase of $3,609,436 or 15 per cent over the estimated support of $23,910,886 expenditures of $23,910,886 for the 1943-45 Biennium. This percentage increase of 15.0 per cent is still substantially above the rate of population increase of 4.9 per cent.

The amount recommended for the State mental hospitals and the homes for mental defectives would permit the same per capita expenditure for the two ensuing years as prevails during the current fiscal year of 1944-45. The allowance for 1944-45, the second year of the current biennium, is liberal as it is in excess of what actually will be spent. In addition, it includes allowances for the following:

1. Additional personnel, consisting of hospital attendants and doctors to care for expected population increases.
2. An additional generous number of personnel to apply the uniform State holidays policy to the institutions.
3. A liberal allowance for normal salary increases.

4. Some extra positions that are justified on the basis of their individual merit. These include a dietician, and several doctors for medical work in the mental hospitals, and for Camarillo Hospital, 24 attendants for the first year and a cumulative total of 29 for the second year to more adequately use existing facilities. We recommend the appropriation required to hire the employees to do the job. We do not specify the exact positions.
5. An allowance for equipment representing the difference between the abnormally low expenditures for equipment for 1943-1945 and the amount recommended by the Governor's Budget for 1945-1947.

The recommended total amount for support also includes a generous expansion in the expenditure level of the Langley Porter Clinic to permit it to use its existing facilities and to demonstrate whether or not it will produce results commensurate with its cost.

The amount proposed for central administration is based on the actual expenditure for the current biennium, plus moderate amounts for a complete tuberculosis testing program, normal salary increases, population increases of institutions, one additional professional position for improved diet control, and a farming operations manager.

The specific adjustments to meet needed expansion and improved services are as follows:

The program for support recommended differs from that presented by the Department of Institutions in the following chief aspects:

1. It calls for an expenditure for Support totaling $27,520,320 instead of $29,101,351—a reduction of $1,581,029.
2. It provides for specific allowances for 281 additional positions by the second fiscal year, to balance the expected population increase and to apply the uniform State holiday policy, and to permit full use of the facilities of the Camarillo Hospital in place of the 754 new jobs specifically recommended by the Department of Institutions.
3. It recommends the deletion of the expenditure item of $179,500 for the five new outpatient mental clinics and mobile units proposed by the Department of Institutions.
4. The recommended program for support is based primarily upon the maintenance, during the 1945-47 Biennium, of 1944-45 per capita expenditures for institutional operations and for parole activities with additional allowances for normal salary increases, added personnel to apply the uniform State holidays policy, the additional salary expense of positions needed to match the expected population increase, and a few other positions which are justified on the basis of their individual merit and allowances for equipment. Anything beyond this must be considered as added services.

The following table summarizes our application of the foregoing to the appropriation items for support of the institutions. There follows, thereafter, discussion and recommendations for each appropriation item for institutions in the order listed in the appropriation bill.

IV. Analysis of Individual Appropriation Items
For Support of Department of Institutions

Item 145 of Appropriation Bill, pages 405-408, inclusive, of the Budget; appropriation of $514,009; increase of $163,256 or 46.5 per cent over the estimated expenditure for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

Recommendation: Reduce Item 145 by $78,526 or 15.0 per cent to $435,483.

Among the items covered by the increase of $163,256 requested by the Budget are the following:

1. A proposed tuberculosis testing survey among inmates of the institutions, with three new positions and total budgeted expenditure for the biennium of $34,900.
2. Eight other proposed new positions with budgeted salaries aggregating $52,380.
3. A substantial increase of $57,880 in operating expenses.

While the expenditure proposed for equipment totals $13,535 for the 1945-47 Biennium as compared with $22,413 for the 1943-45 period, it includes an item of $8,000 for automobile equipment.

As indicated in the table above, we recommend that this appropriation for departmental administration be reduced by $78,526 to $435,483. The following represent the bases for our calculations:

1. Estimated expenditures for 1943-1945	$350,753
2. Tuberculosis survey	34,900
3. Normal salary adjustments	8,650
4. Additional allowance for population increases at the institutions	17,900
5. Salaries of positions justified on basis of their individual merit—A farm coordinator, clerical assistance and travel	18,000
An additional dietitian to the staff of the food administrator	5,280
Total	$435,483

This recommended amount is in excess of the estimated expenditure for the 1943-1945 Biennium and should be sufficient for the department's work, which will be basically the same during the coming biennium.

Our calculations above include provision for the addition of a dietitian to the Office of the Food Administrator of the department. We propose this in lieu of the department's recommendation for nine dietitians stationed in the several institutions by the second year of the biennium. Our recommendation would cost about $5,280 in salary expense, plus an additional amount for traveling expenses, as against the $31,220 in salary expense involved in the department's proposal. Through visits to the several institutions the additional dietitian on the central staff can effect at least a substantial part of the benefit of the department's proposal for more of this type of service for the institutions.

We further propose that a new position be added to the administrative staff for the purpose of coordinating all the farming and food preserving activities of the institutions. Such a position, properly administered, will produce and save more food values than several times its cost. This man should be a high caliber farm manager and administrator. He would lay out production plans for each of the institutions so as to coordinate the whole and get the most out of land, climate and inmate labor consistent with their treatment needs.

He must have the cooperation of the medical staff at each institution so as to have labor available when needed, and of the business manager at each so as to coordinate production and preservation of food with the local and Statewide needs of the mental hospitals.

None of this has been done consistently in the past. There is room for much improvement.

A qualified man will merit good pay. We suggest allocation of $18,000 a biennium for this service to cover his salary, necessary clerical assistance, and travel expense.

For Transportation of Patients

Item 146 Budget Bill, pages 405-407, inclusive, of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund—$103,800 increase of $5,367 or 5.4 per cent over the estimated expenditure for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

We recommend that this sum for transportation of patients and other persons committed to the State institutions be approved without reduction, as it is in line with prior requests after allowances are made for expected population increases and the prevailing and anticipated extra traveling expenses and difficulties.

For Support of Langley Porter Clinic

Item 147 of the Appropriation Bill and pages 411 to 416 inclusive of the Budget; appropriation $838,237; increase of $420,217 or 100.5 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $418,020 for 1943-1945, and of $325,582 or 64.1 per cent over the amount appropriated by (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of the last regular session for the 1943-1945 Biennium. It is significant that revenues show an estimated increase of from $79,784 to $147,450 or up $67,665 or approximately 85 per cent.

Recommendation: Reduce Item 145 by $41,900 or approximately five per cent to $796,337. This still leaves an increase of 91 per cent.

The increase of the budgeted expenditures for 1945-1947 over the estimated expenditures for 1943-1945 is distributed as follows:

For support	Increase
	Amount	Per cent
Administration	$32,972	51.9
Support and subsistence	104,514	75.2
Care and Welfare	254,531	143.9
Maintenance and operation of plant	16,955	73.6
Extramural care	11,245	71.9
Total Increase	$420,217	100.5

The budgeted expenditure for 1945-1947 as compared with the estimated for 1943-1945, by objects of expenditure, is as follows:

	Estimated 1943-1945	Budgeted 1945-1947	Increase
			Amount	Per cent
Salaries and wages	247,593	$578,187	$330,594	133.5
Operating expenses	155,655	249,900	94,235	60.5
Equipment	14,761	10,150	— 4,611	— 31.2
Total	$418,020	$838,237	$420,217	100.5

Of the budgeted increase of $330,594 for salaries, $242,120 is to cover the expense of proposed new positions. There are 49 of these for the first year and a cumulative total of 68 for the second year. If all positions are filled, the Langley Porter Clinic would have 135 persons for the first year and 154 for the second year of the biennium.

The nature, purpose, and problems of the Langley Porter Clinic are briefly summarized by the following excerpts from an article in the "California Tax Digest" of August, 1944 by Dr. Karl M. Bowman, Medical Superintendent of the Clinic.

"The Langley Porter Clinic is a 100 bed, four-story neuropsychiatric hospital built by the Department of Institutions. It has a neurosurgical ward, a psychiatric ward for children, and four psychiatric wards for adults.

"The clinic contains the latest equipment for the diagnosis and treatment of mental disorders. Besides the well-equipped operating room for neurosurgery, there are special treatment wards for the use of insulin, electric shocks, fever therapy, and other methods of treatment. The clinic also has special diagnostic laboratories, an X-ray laboratory, and a special laboratory for electroencephalography. The electroencephalograph is a new type of machine, something like the electrocardiograph, which is able to take off electrical impulses from the brain. Under certain conditions, abnormal states of the brain can be diagnosed by this machine.

"The purpose of establishing the Langley Porter Clinic was to set up an institution where early and incipient cases of mental disease might receive thorough examination and treatment and where no legal procedures of commitment would be necessary. Hence, patients are encouraged to seek early treatment which we know is just as important in mental disease as it is in tuberculosis, cancer and other physical diseases. Many persons hesitate to seek help for a mental condition because of the feeling of stigma attached to admission or commitment to one of the State hospitals. It is hoped that The Langley Porter Clinic will do away with this feeling.

"The Langley Porter Clinic is also set up under joint control of the Department of Institutions and The Regents of the University of California as a research and teaching hospital. The University of California is given exclusive use of the clinic for research and teaching purposes although the Department of Institutions may carry out any researches it wishes or set up classes for any group in the Department of Institutions. Such an arrangement makes available all the facilities of the University of California Medical School and Hospital, and members of branches of Medicine and Surgery are available as consultants for The Langley Porter Clinic.

"The general construction of The Langley Porter Clinic and its administration is primarily that of a general hospital rather than that of a State hospital for mental diseases. Since all cases come for intensive study and treatment, the cost of administering such a hospital is that of a well run general hospital, rather than that of a large State institution where many chronic cases receive largely custodial care and where many patients have recovered to the degree that they are able to help some about the institution and, therefore, cut down the general cost.

"The Director of The Langley Porter Clinic is also Professor of Psychiatry at the University of California Medical School, which makes the relationship still closer. The clinic may, therefore, be thought of as having three relationships—one to the State Hospital System, one to the University of California, and one to the community. As a part of the State Hospital System, it will receive special patients for diagnostic studies and treatment, will carry out research studies in conjunction with work in State hospitals, and will set up courses of instruction for State hospital personnel. By its relationship to the University of California it will carry out the special researches in the field of mental disease and will serve as a teaching center for psychiatry. Already special courses have been set up for the instruction of medical students, nurses, psychologists, and psychiatric social workers, and it is contemplated that, through the extension division of the University, students in occupational therapy will receive special instruction. Doctors receive training in the specialty of psychiatry, working as internes and residents.

"The Outpatient Department has been established and already more applications for patients to be treated have been received than can possibly be accepted. A special child guidance clinic is being arranged and The Commonwealth Fund of New York has given the University of California an annual grant of $20,000 to aid in the establishment of this psychiatric work with children. Because of the shortage of personnel, it has only been possible to open three of the six wards up to the present time. It is hoped that the children's ward will be opened soon. Already special research studies have been carried out under special contract between the University of California and the United States Office of Scientific Research and Development.

"The Langley Porter Clinic should develop into a great teaching and research center of which the people of California can be justly proud. It will also serve as a place where early and incipient cases of mental disease can receive prompt and sympathetic care and treatment, so that many of these patients can be cured in the early stages of their disorders."

We recommend that all except approximately 5 per cent of the amount budgeted for support of The Langley Porter Clinic be appropriated for the following reasons:

1. The institution has been operating on a partial capacity basis. Additional money is needed to permit full use of its available facilities.
2. The institution is doing pioneer medical work in the treatment of the mentally ill. This is necessarily expensive and can yield large dividends for use by the other hospitals in treating their patients. In its pioneering stages, this activity justifies ample financial support to make a fair trial possible.

We propose a reduction of $41,900 or approximately 5 per cent in the appropriation item to encourage application of such desirable administrative economies as conservative use of automobiles, supplies, travel, etc.

We also recommend that such sums as represent vacant and new positions be set aside in a special fund only to be available on the terms previously described for controlling this item.

For Construction, etc., at The Langley Porter Clinic at San Francisco

Item 148 Budget Bill, page 415 of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund $24,500; decrease of $14,400 or 37.1 per cent from the estimated expenditure of $38,900 for the 1943-1945 Biennium; and a decrease of $9,400 or 27.7 per cent from the $33,900 for the 1943-1945 Biennium appropriated by Item 108 of (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of the last regular session.

This item covers the following proposed improvement expenditures:

Conversion of dumbwaiter shaft to storage closets	$2,000
Installation of passenger elevator in existing shaft	18,000
Installation of locking screens in windows of seclusion rooms	2,500
Miscellaneous building alterations	2,000
Total	$24,500

We recommend that this item be approved without change.

Out Patient Clinics

Item 149 of the Budget Bill, pages 417-418 of the Budget, appropriates $179,500 from the General Fund for this new service.

This new service has never appeared in the Budget nor has it received any appropriation before. It has never been acted on by the Legislature.

It should be decided as a matter of policy and on the basis of facts. It is recommended both by the Director of Institutions, and the Governor in his Biennial Message on page ten.

The request for $179,500 for the biennium does not cover the costs for the two years, but only in fact for one year and that at a very limited coverage for the State. It is proposed to spend only $30,220 the first year and $149,280 the second year. A full two years' operation would cost $298,560 plus salary increases for the second year, or in excess of $300,000.

This, however, only covers Los Angeles, San Diego, Fresno, and Sacramento—and in a limited way.

This is only the start of a cost which will pyramid. It is the camel's head in the tent.

The outpatient fees are set at $40,200 for one year—which we believe is an over-optimistic guess—for Langley Porter Clinic with its fine equipment and large staff estimates $14,400 in outpatient fees for the biennium.

In short, costs are underestimated and fees overestimated.

Moreover, experts are required to do this job or they will do more harm than good. Such experts are not available now and probably will not be until a new group graduates after the war.

We recommend for the following reasons that the item be stricken from the Budget and the matter studied during the coming biennium.

1. It is a new service expanding our institutional work, when we should improve our established services.
2. It will be a call on manpower and the particular kind of specialists needed in our military hospitals.
3. Competent experts are not available.
4. The problem has not been studied and the whole matter placed before the Legislature for action.
5. The amount asked will not do the job but is just to get a start, when a real sizeable appropriation will be requested.
6. We can get more experience in this field and act more intelligently two years hence.
7. The almost doubled expenditure scheduled for the Langley Porter Clinic will permit it to expand and to intensify its outpatients services to mentally ill, and potentially mentally ill persons. This institution itself is young and its outpatient program is necessarily still in the experimental stage. It is wiser to watch how well its outpatient program works during the coming biennium on the proposed expanded basis than to take on another experiment. If results of its activities indicate that objectives will have been met in full or in large part and are worth their costs, then the State may more properly consider whether it should provide outpatient mental clinic service in other centers of the State. Is it wise to embark on a large new mental care program until further experience has been gained with the "test pilot" outpatient program represented by that given by the Langley Porter Clinic?
8. Serious harm can be done to the mental hygiene movement itself if the State embarks upon a "galloping off in all directions at once mental care program." During the coming biennium it probably would be possible to start the proposed new clinics with only less qualified psychiatric workers than are necessary to give to patients the high quality of service needed to do more good than harm.

9. The amount of $179,500 for the establishment of five new clinics in the Budget represents a bare minimum expenditure for the contemplated program. As such, it amounts to an "entering wedge" expenditure that would be expanded very substantially in succeeding biennial periods. A rough forecast of such expanded expenditure is afforded by the fact that proposed support expenditures for the Langley Porter Clinic for the coming biennium are up 100 per cent over those for the current period. A further clue that the current suggested sum is a relatively small vanguard of larger items for succeeding budget periods is indicated by the fact that the proposed sum does not allow for any capital outlay. It does allow $30,000 for mobile units — which experience shows are costly to operate.

For Support of Agnews State Hospital

Item 150 Budget Bill, pages 419-425, inclusive of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $3,155,192; increase of $492,514 or 18.5 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $2,662,678 for the 1943-1945 Biennium; and of $620,570 or 24.4 per cent over the $2,534,622 for the 1943-1945 Biennium appropriated by (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of the last regular session.

Our recommendation: Reduce Item 150 by $136,560 or 4.3 per cent to $3,018,632, leaving an increase of $355,954 or 13.3 per cent.

The increase of $492,514 in the budgeted expenditure for 1945-1947 over the estimated expenditure for 1943-1945 is distributed as follows:

	Estimated 1943-1945	Budgeted 1945-1947	Increase Amount	Per cent
Administration	$131,520	$181,867	$50,347	49.6
Support and subsistence	849,449	861,967	12,518	1.5
Care and welfare	1,303,778	1,634,631	330,853	25.4
Maintenance and operation of plant	261,684	291,801	30,117	11.5
Farming and processing	66,171	83,587	17,416	26.3
Totals, Institution's operation	$2,612,602	$3,053,853	$441,251	16.8
Extramural Care	50,076	101,339	51,263	102.3
Totals, Support	$2,662,678	$3,155,192	$492,514	18.5

The proposed expenditure of $3,155,192 for support of the Agnews State Hospital will permit the following increases in per capita expenditures for institutional operations and parole activities:

	Fiscal year	Institution operations: Average resident population	Cost per patient: Per year	Cost per patient: Per month	Parole operations: Average parole population	Cost per year per patient
Actual	1943-44	3622	$346.10	$28.84	888	$20.34
Estimated	1944-45	3664	370.91	30.91	900	35.74
Estimated	1945-46	3735	394.05	32.83	900	51.92
Estimated	1946-47	3810	415.24	34.61	900	60.68

The increase of $492,514 in the budgeted expenditure is distributed as follows, by object of expenditure:

Salaries and wages	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase Amount	Per cent
Positions now authorized	$1,796,578	$1,935,260	$138,682	7.7
Estimated salary savings	— 96,270	— 74,133	+ 22,137	22.9
1945-47 normal salary adjustments		47,920	47,920	100.0
Proposed new positions		197,760	197,760	100.0
Totals, salaries and wages	$1,690,308	$2,106,807	$416,499	26.0
Operating expenses	1,061,033	1,111,250	50,217	4.7
Equipment	10,726	35,335	24,609	229.4
Totals	$2,762,069	$3,263,392	$501,323	18.2
Reimbursement for maintenance	— 72,862	— 84,200	— 11,338	15.6
Surplus products sales	— 26,529	— 24,000	— 2,529	9.5
Net totals	$2,662,678	$3,155,192	$492,514	18.5

Operating expenses are up by approximately $50,200 or 4.7 per cent. Equipment expenses are scheduled to advance by $24,600 or 229.4 per cent; and expenditures for salaries and wages are expected to expand by $416,499 or 26.0 per cent.

Of this latter increase of some $416,000 in salary expense, almost $200,000 is for the salaries of 40 new positions for the first year of the biennium and a cumulative number of 71 for the second year.

We recommend that appropriation item 150 be reduced by $161,560 or 4.0 per cent to $3,028,352. This still will represent an increase of $365,674 over the estimated expenditure for the 1943-45 Biennium. This increase will permit the same per capita expenditures for institutional operations and parole work as prevails for the current Fiscal Year, 1944-45, and also will allow additional amounts to cover normal salary increases, new hospital attendant positions to care for population increases, new positions to apply the uniform State holidays policy to this institution, and several other positions that are justified on an individual basis.

Statistical basis for our recommended sum of $3,028,352 follows:

1. Per Capita Institutional Cost Basis:
A. Per capita, 1944-45	$370.91
B. Predicted average population 1945-47	3,773
C. Total institutional cost—Year		$1,399,443
D. Total institutional cost—Biennium			$2,798,886
2. Extramural Cost Item:
A. Per patient on parole 1944-45	$35.57
B. Predicted average number on parole, 1944-45	900
C. Total cost, year		32,013
D. Total cost, biennium			64,026
3. Normal salary increases			47,920
4. Additional salary expense for uniform State holidays			37,980
5. Additional salary expense of positions needed to match expected population increase			41,580
6. Allowance for equipment			25,000
7. Salaries of positions justified on the basis of their individual merit			12,960
8. Total sum we recommend for support of Agnews State hospital			$3,028,352

While budgeted expenditures for farming and processing operations for the 1945-1947 Biennium show an increase of 16.2 per cent over the current period, the budgeted value of products produced for local consumption remains at the same figure of $141,000 per year and the value of surplus products sold decreases by $2,500 per year. This seems out of line as the inmate population is scheduled to increase by approximately 200 persons within the biennium.

We believe that the Coordinator of Farming Operations that was proposed for the central administrative staff and better use of inmate labor will improve this condition.

For Construction, etc. at Agnews State Hospital

Item 151 Budget Bill, page 426 of the Budget; appropriation $59,500; decrease of $127,300 or 68 per cent from the estimated expenditure of $186,800 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

We recommend that appropriation Item 151 be reduced by $12,600 to $46,900. This recommended reduction can be absorbed through careful management and greater use of the labor of patients as indicated in the table following:

	Amts. proposed by budget	Reductions we propose	Net amt. recommended
Repairs to roofs and drainage facilities	$2,500	$500	$2,000
Morgue refrigeration	3,700	700	3,000

Food elevator replacement	6,000	------	6,000
Remodeling treatment building first floor	5,600	1,000	4,600
Annex landscape units and vegetable hot houses	8,750	3,000	5,750
Resurfacing laundry floors	4,750	1,000	3,750
	$59,500	$12,600	$46,900

For Support of Camarillo State Hospital

Item 152 Budget Bill, pages 427-434, inclusive of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $3,718,436; increase of $945,821 or 34.1 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $2,772,614 for the 1943-1945 Biennium; and of $928,196 or 33.3 per cent over the $2,790,240 for the 1943-1945 Biennium appropriated by (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of the last regular session.

Our recommendation: Reduce Item 152 by $105,969 or 2.8 per cent to $3,612,467, leaving an increase of $839,853 or 30.2 per cent.

The increase of $945,821 in the budgeted expenditure for 1945-1947 over the estimated expenditure for 1943-1945 is distributed as follows:

	Estimated 1943-45	Budgeted 1945-47	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent
Administration	$ 171,244	$ 207,187	$ 35,943	20.9
Support and subsistence	846,454	1,085,102	238,648	28.2
Care and welfare	1,256,197	1,790,019	533,822	42.5
Maintenance and operation of plant	252,572	303,299	50,726	20.1
Farming and processing	169,948	224,367	54,418	32.0

Totals, support	$2,772,614	$3,718,436	$945,821	34.1

The proposed Budget expenditure of $3,718,436 for support of the Camarillo State Hospital will permit the following increases in per capita expenditures for institutional operations and parole activities:

	Fiscal year	Average resident population	Cost per patient in residence		Average parole population	Yearly parole cost per patient
			Yearly	Monthly
Actual	1943-44	3,869	$330.37	$27.53	900	$39.81
Actual and est.	1944-45	4,123	343.98	28.66	900	44.86
Estimated	1945-46	4,375	392.45	32.71	900	57.69
Estimated	1946-47	4,650	407.10	33.92	900	62.83

The increase of $945,822 in the budgeted expenditures is distributed as follows, by object expenditure:

	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase
			Amount	Per cent
Salaries and Wages:
Positions now authorized	$1,839,015	$2,036,530	$197,515	10.7
Estimated salary savings	−101,760	− 79,189	−22,571	−22.2
1945-47 normal salary adjustments		87,855	87,855	100.0
Proposed new positions		405,000	405,000	100.0
Totals, salaries and wages	$1,737,255	$2,450,186	$712,931	41.0
Operating expenses	1,160,911	1,348,720	187,809	41.0
Equipment	15,028	84,030	69,002	45.9

Reimbursements for Maint.	109,971	134,500	24,529	22.3
Surplus Products Sales	30,608	30,000	— 608	— 2.0
Net totals	$2,772,614	$3,718,436	$945,822	34.1

Operating expenses are up by approximately $187,800 or 16.2 per cent. Equipment expenses are scheduled to advance by $69,000 or 45.9 per cent; and expenditures for salaries and wages are expected to expand by $712,000 or 41 per cent.

Of this latter increase of some $713,000 in salary expense, $405,000 is for the salaries of 97 new positions for the first year of the biennium and a cumulative number of 134 for the second year.

We recommend that appropriation Item 152 be reduced by $105,969 or 2.8 per cent to $3,612,467. This still will represent an increase of $839,853 or 30.2 per cent over the estimated expenditure for the 1943-1945 Biennium. This increase will permit the same per capita expenditures for institutional operations and parole work as prevails for the current Fiscal Year (1944-1945), and also will allow additional amounts to cover normal salary increases, new hospital attendant positions to care for population increases, new positions to apply the uniform State holidays policy to this institution, several other positions that are justified on an individual basis, an allowance for necessary equipment, and additional hospital attendants to permit greater use of facilities.*

* These total 24 for the first fiscal year and a cumulative total of 29 for the second year.

The statistical basis for our recommended sum of $3,612,467 follows:

1. Per Capita Institutional Cost Basis:
A. Per capita, 1944-45	$343.98
B. Predicted ave. population 1945-47	4,513
C. Total institutional cost—year		$1,552,382
D. Total institutional cost—biennium			$3,104,764
2. Extramural Cost Item:
A. Per patient on parole, 1944-45	$44.86
B. Predicted ave. No. on parole 1945-47	900
C. Total cost—year		$40,374
D. Total cost—biennium			80,748
3. Normal salary increases			87,855
4. Additional salary expense for uniform State holidays			38,860
5. Additional salary expense of positions needed to match expected population increase			108,060
6. Allowance for equipment			69,000
7. Salaries of positions justified on the basis of their individual merit			123,180
8. Total sum we recommend for support of Camarillo State Hospital			$3,612,467

While budgeted expenditures for farming and processing operations for the 1945-1947 Biennium show an increase of 26 per cent over the current period, the budgeted value of products produced increases only nominally by 3.2 per cent, while the budgeted value of surplus products sold remains about the same. This seems out of line when inmate population is scheduled to go up by approximately 527 patients during the coming biennium.

We believe that the Coordinator of Farming Operations we propose for the central administrative staff and better use of patient labor will improve this condition. This institution has the opportunity of producing practically every farm product it requires.

Item 153 Budget Bill, page 434 of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $125,722; increase of $32,322 or 34.6 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $93,400 for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

We recommend that appropriation Item 153 be reduced by $55,040 or 44 per cent to $70,482. This recommended reduction can be absorbed as indicated in the table below through careful management and greater use of the labor of patients.

	Amounts proposed by Budget	Reductions we propose	Net amts. we recommend

For Support of Mendocino State Hospital

Item 154 Budget Bill, pages 435-442, inclusive, of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund $2,583,257; increase of $395,054 or 18.1 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $2,188,202 for the 1943-1945 Biennium; and of $530,807 or 25.9 per cent over the $2,052,450 for the 1943-45 Biennium appropriated by Assembly Bill No. 1600 of the last regular session.

Our recommendation: Reduce Item 154 by $142,002 or 5.4 per cent to $2,411,255, leaving an increase of $203,053 or 9.3 per cent.

The increase of $395,054 in the budgeted expenditure for 1945-1947 over the estimated expenditure for 1943-1945 is distributed as follows:

	Estimated 1943-45	Budgeted 1945-47	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent
Administration	$121,320	$150,775	$29,455	24.2
Support and subsistence	563,065	600,428	37,363	6.6
Care and welfare	1,009,376	1,234,305	224,929	22.3
Maintenance and operation of plant	245,393	271,607	26,214	10.7

Totals, support	$2,188,202	$2,583,257	$395,054	18.1

The proposed expenditure of $2,583,257 for support of the Mendocino State Hospital would permit the following increases in per capita expenditures for institutional operations and parole activities:

	Fiscal year	Institution operations: Average resident population	Institution operations: Cost per patient Yearly	Institution operations: Cost per patient Monthly	Extramural care: Average parole population	Extramural care: Cost per patient
Actual	1943-44	2,903	$365 41	$30 45	289	$50 33

Estimated	1946-47	3,025	423 27	35 27	250	159 86

The increase of $395,054 in the budgeted expenditure is distributed as shown in the following, by object of expenditure:

	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent
Salaries and Wages:
Positions now authorized	$1,457,146	$1,526,760	$69.614	4.8
Estimated salary savings	—75,332	58,548	16,784	22.2

Reimbursements for maintenance	48,134	53,500	5,366	11.4
Surplus products sales	29,911	12,000	—17,911	—59.8
Net totals	$2,188,202	$2,583,257	$395,054	18.1

Operating expenses are up by approximately $36,041 or 4.1 per cent; equipment expenses are scheduled to advance by $49,251 or 292.9 per cent; and expenditures for salaries and wages are expected to expand by $297,218 or 21.5 per cent.

Of this latter increase of some $297,000 in salary expense, almost $171,000 is for the salaries of 38 new positions for the first year of the biennium and a cumulative number of 58 for the second year.

We recommend that appropriation Item 154 be reduced by $142,002 or 5.4 per cent to $2,441,255. This still will represent an increase of $142,002 or 5.4 per cent over the estimated expenditure for the 1943-1945 Biennium. This increase will permit the same per capita expenditures for institutional operations and parole work as prevails for the current Fiscal Year (1944-45), and also will allow additional amounts to cover normal salary increases, new hospital attendant positions to care for population increases, new positions to apply the uniform State holidays policy to this institution, several positions that are justified on an individual basis, and an allowance for needed equipment.

The statistical basis for our recommended sum of $2,441,255 is as follows:

1. Per Capita Institutional Cost Basis:
A. Per capita, 1944-1945	$373 29
B. Predicted average population 1945-47	3,000
C. Total institutional cost—year		$1,119,870
D. Total institutional cost—biennium			$2,239,740
2. Extramural Cost Item:

7. Salaries of positions justified on the basis of their individual merit			12,960
8. Total sum we recommend for support of Mendocino State Hospital			$2,441,255

While budgeted expenditures for farming and processing operations for the 1945-1947 Biennium show an increase of 7.1 per cent over the current period, the budgeted value of products produced remains at practically the same level of $202,000 annually prevailing for the current year. The sale of surplus products decreases by $17,911 or 59.8 per cent. This seems out of line.

We believe that the Coordinator of Farming Operations we propose for the central administrative staff and better use of patient labor will improve this condition.

The business manager at this institution has planned better than some of the other institutions in producing what is needed. Here, however, as in most of the institutions, labor needs have not been fully met by classification and assignment of all patients able to work.

Item 155 Budget Bill, page 411 of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $91,800; increase of $22,633 or 32.7 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $69,167 for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

We recommend that Appropriation Item 155 be reduced by $32,500 or 35.4 per cent to $59,300. This recommended reduction can be absorbed as indicated in the table below through careful management and greater use of the labor of patients.

	Amounts proposed by Budget	Reductions we propose	Net amt. we recommend

Item 156 Budget Bill, pages 443-450 inclusive of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $3,364,273; increase of $520,229 or 18.3 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $2,844,044 for the 1943-1945 Biennium; and of $683,229 or 25.5 per cent over the $2,681,281 for the 1943-1945 Biennium appropriated by (Assembly Bill No. 1600) at the last regular session.

Our Recommendation: Reduce Item 156 by $163,605 or 4.8 per cent to $3,200,668.

The increase of $520,229 in the budgeted expenditure for 1945-1947 over the estimated expenditure for 1943-1945 is distributed as follows:

	Estimated 1943-45	Budgeted 1945-47	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent
Administration	$160,029	$193,672	$33,643	21.0
Support and subsistence	667,558	768,905	101,347	15.1
Care and Welfare	1,475,044	1,752,750	298,706	20.5
Maintenance and operation of plant	239,682	274,116	34,434	14.4
Farming and processing	279,709	286,627	6,918	2.4
Totals, institutions operations	$2,801,022	$3,276,070	$475,048	16.9
Extramural care	43,022	88,203	45,181	105.0
Totals, support	$2,844,044	$3,364,273	$520,229	18.3

The proposed expenditure of $3,364,273 for support of the Napa State Hospital will permit the following increases in per capita expenditures for institutional operations and parole activities:

		Institution operations			Extramural care
	Fiscal year	Average resident population	Cost per patient Yearly	Monthly	Average parole population	Cost per patient
Actual	1943-44	3,893	$351.50	$29.29	552	$33.17
Estimated	1944-45	3,945	363.15	30.26	600	41.19
Estimated	1945-46	4,050	393.76	32.81	600	66.18
Estimated	1946-47	4,150	405.14	33.76	600	80.83

The increase of $520,229 in the budgeted expenditure is distributed as follows, by object of expenditure:

	Estimated 1943-45	Budgeted 1945-47	Change Amount	Change Per cent
Positions now authorized	$2,002,860	$2,123,400	$120,540	6.0
Estimated salary savings	—104,240	—81,238	—23,002	—22.1
1945-1947 normal salary adjustments		47,590	47,590	100.0
Proposed new positions		224,160	224,160	100.0
Totals, salaries and wages	$1,898,620	$2,313,912	$415,292	21.9
Operating expenses	1,099,267	1,118,380	19,113	1.7
Totals	$3,017,325	$3,482,173	$464,848	15.4
Reimbursements for maintenance	90,421	101,900	11,479	12.6
Subsistence abatements from Navy	66,494		66,494	100.0
Surplus products sales	16,366	16,000	366	2.2
Net Totals	$2,844,043	$3,364,273	$520,230	18.3

Operating expenses are up by approximately $19,100 or 1.7 per cent. Equipment expenses are scheduled to advance by $30,443 or 156.6 per cent; and expenditures for salaries and wages are expected to expand by $415,292 or 21.9 per cent.

Of this latter increase of some $415,200 in salary expense, almost $225,000 is for the salaries of 47 new positions for the first year of the biennium and a cumulative number of 73 for the second year.

We recommend that Appropriation Item 156 be reduced by $163,605 or 4.8 per cent to $3,200,668. This still will represent an increase of $356,625 or 12.5 per cent over the estimated expenditure for the 1943-1945 Biennium. This increase will permit the same per capita expenditures for institutional operations and parole work as prevails for the current fiscal year (1944-1945) and also will allow additional amounts to cover normal salary increases, new hospital attendant positions to care for population increases, new positions to apply the uniform State holidays policy to this institution, several other positions that are justified on an individual basis, and an allowance for needed equipment. The statistical bases for our recommended sum of $3,200,668 is given by the following table:

1.	Per Capita Institutional Cost Basis:
	A. Per capita, 1944-45	$363.15
	B. Predicted ave. population 1945-47	4,100

Item 158 Budget Bill, pages 451-457, inclusive, of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $2,326,733; increase of $319,860 or 13.7 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $2,006,873 for the 1943-1945 Biennium; and of $170,863 or 9.3 per cent over the $1,836,010 for the 1943-1945 Biennium appropriated by (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of the regular session of 1943.

Our Recommendations: Reduce Item 158 by $110,320 or 4.7 per cent to $2,216,413.

The increase of $319,860 in the budgeted expenditure for 1945-1947 over the estimated expenditure for 1943-1945 is distributed as follows:

	Estimated 1943-45	Budgeted 1945-47	Change Amount	Change Per cent
Administration	$122,289	$150,221	$27,931	22.8
Support and subsistence	446,481	509,514	63,033	14.1
Care and welfare	1,079,844	1,223,508	143,664	13.3
Maint. and operations of plant	155,959	177,607	21,648	13.9
Farming and processing	160,095	186,335	26,240	16.4
Totals, institution operations	$1,964,669	$2,247,185	$282,516	14.4
Extramural care	42,205	79,548	37,343	88.5
Totals, support	$2,006,873	$2,326,733	$319,860	15.9

The proposed expenditure of $2,326,733 for support of the Norwalk State Hospital will permit an increase in per capita costs for institution operation from an estimated $423.55 for 1944-45 to $454.10 for 1945-46 and to $471.53 for 1946-47. It would permit the cost per patient on parole to increase from an estimated $45.97 for 1944-45 to $76.35 for 1945-46 and to $82.75 for 1946-47.

The sending of senile aged to this institution by the counties solely for custodial care for the few remaining months of their life, or even days, increases the costs beyond what they otherwise would be. This practice represents an abuse which should be stopped.

An analysis of the proposed increase in expenditure over that for the current biennium, by object of expenditure, reveals that operating expenses are up by 12 per cent; equipment expenses by 254 per cent; and salaries and wages expenses by 15 per cent.

Of this latter increase of 15 per cent or some $215,000 in salary expense, almost $130,000 is for the salaries of 27 new positions for the first year of the biennium and a cumulative number of 43 for the second year.

We recommend that appropriation Item 158 be reduced by $113,320 or 4.8 per cent to $2,213,413. This still will represent an increase of $206,541 or 10.4 per cent over the estimated expenditure for the 1943-1945 Biennium. This increase will permit the same per capita expenditures for institutional operations and parole work as prevails for the current fiscal year (1944-1945), and also will allow additional amounts to cover normal salary increases, new hospital attendant positions to care for population increases, new positions to apply the uniform State holidays policy to this institution, several other positions that are justified on an individual basis, and an allowance for necessary equipment. The statistical basis for our recommended sum of $2,213,413 is given in the table below.

1.	Per Capita Institutional Cost Basis:
	A. Per capita, 1944-45	$423.55
	B. Predicted ave. population 1945-47	2,428
	C. Total institutional cost—year		$1,028,379
	D. Total institutional cost—biennium			$2,056,758
2.	Extramural Cost Items:
	A. Cost per patient on parole 1944-45	45.97
	B. Predicted ave. no. on parole 1944-45	500
	C. Total cost—year		22,985
	D. Total cost—biennium			45,970
3.	Normal salary increases			29,145
4.	Additional salary expense for uniform State holidays			21,840
5.	Allowance for equipment			36,000
6.	Additional salary expense of positions needed to match population increase			10,740
7.	Salaries of positions justified indiv.			12,960
8.	Total sum recommended for support of Norwalk State Hospital			$2,213,413

This institution has reached its maximum size. It should now be fully planned as to physical plant and type of inmates to best fit into its limitations and serve at the minimum costs.

For example, the firehouse should be close as possible to the engine room—the work of some full-time employee who could operate the fire truck in case of a fire and get it onto the job in the shortest time.

Farm operations should be closely geared to the needs of the institution.

Item 159, Budget Bill, page 457 of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $55,206; decrease of $20,492 from the estimated expenditure of $75,698 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

We recommend that appropriation Item 159 be reduced by $10,500 or 19 per cent to $44,706. This recommended reduction can be absorbed as indicated in the table below through careful management and greater use of the labor of patients.

	Amounts proposed in Budget	Reductions we propose	Net amounts we recommend
Addition to laundry building and equipment	$37,050	$5,500	$31,550

Item 160, Budget Bill, pages 458-465, inclusive, of the Budget, appropriation from the General Fund, $3,357,270; increase of $476,302 or 16.5 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $2,880,968 for the 1943-1945 Biennium; and of $693,997 or 26.1 per cent over the $2,663,273 for the 1943-45 Biennium appropriated by Assembly Bill No. 1600 of the last Regular Session.

Our recommendation: Reduce Item 160 by $98,278 or 2.9 per cent to $3,258,992.

The increase of $476,302 in the budgeted expenditure for 1945-1947 over the estimated expenditure for 1943-1945 is distributed as follows:

	Estimated 1943-45	Budgeted 1945-47	Change Amount	Change Per cent
Administration	$155,649	$198,036	$42,387	27.2
Support and subsistence	656,023	712,922	56,899	8.7
Care and welfare	1,456,422	1,753,387	296,965	20.4
Maintenance and operation of plant	220,239	264,502	44,263	20.1
Farming and processing	312,118	330,620	18,502	5.9
Totals, institution operations	$2,800,450	$3,259,467	$459,020	16.4
Extramural care	80,518	97,803	17,285	21.4
Totals, support	$2,880,968	$3,357,270	$476,302	16.5

On the basis of current population estimates, the proposed expenditure of $3,357,220 for support of the Patton State Hospital would permit per capita expenditures for institutional operations to increase from an estimated $369.06 for the Fiscal Year 1944-45 to $398.14 for 1945-46 and to $411.36 for 1946-47. This proposed expenditure also would permit the cost per patient on parole to advance from $47.66 for 1944-45 to $52.93 for 1946-47, while the cost for 1945-46 would decline to $44.88 due to an expected increase in the number on parole.

An analysis of the proposed increase of $476,302, by object of expenditure, reveals that operating expenses are scheduled to expand by 2.4 per cent; equipment expenses by 220 per cent; and salaries and wages by 22.6 per cent.

Of this latter increase of some 22.6 per cent or some $432,000 in salary expense, almost $233,320 is for the salaries of proposed new positions totaling 50 for the first year of the biennium and a cumulative number of 78 for the second year of the two-year period.

We recommend that appropriation Item 160 be reduced by $98,278 or 2.9 per cent to $3,258,992. This still will represent an increase of $378,024 or 13.1 per cent over the estimated expenditure for the 1943-45 Biennium. This increase will permit the same per capita expenditures for institutional operations and parole work as prevails for the current fiscal year (1944-1945), and also will allow additional amounts to cover normal salary increases, new hospital attendant positions to care for population increases, new positions to apply the uniform State holidays policy to this institution, several other positions that are justified on an individual basis, and an allowance for necessary equipment. The statistical basis for our recommended sum of $3,258,992 is given in the table below:

1. Per Capita Institutional Cost Basis:
A. Per capita, 1944-45	$369.06
B. Predicted average population 1945-47	4,026
C. Total institutional cost—year		$1,485,836
D. Total institutional cost—biennium			$2,971,672
2. Extramural Cost Item:
A. Cost per patient on parole, 1944-45	$47.66
B. Predicted average number on parole, 1944-45	1,000
C. Total cost—year		47,660
D. Total cost—biennium			95,320
3. Normal salary increases			50,480
4. Allowance for equipment			30,000
5. Additional salary expense for uniform State holidays			39,580
6. Additional salary expense of positions needed to match population increase			58,980
7. Salaries of positions justified indiv.			12,960
8. Total sum recommended for support of Patton State Hospital			$3,258,992

With increase in population of the institution as estimated up from 3,850 inmates for 1944-45 to 4,088 for 1946-47 and added staff and more farm help, it is reasonable to expect farm production to be increased. The Budget shows $245,000 for each year of 1945-47.

The employment of a farm supervisor for the Department of Institutions recommended herein should certainly bring up the value of farm products produced. There should be ample inmate labor to do this.

Item 161 Budget Bill, page 465 of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $99,900; increase of $77,700 over the estimated expenditure of $22,200 for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

We recommend that appropriation Item 159 be reduced by $15,000 or 27 per cent to $84,900. This recommended reduction can be absorbed as indicated in the table below through careful management and greater use of the labor of patients.

	Amount proposed by Budget	Reductions proposed	Net amount we recommend

Item 162 Budget Bill, pages 466-473 inclusive of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $3,820,274; increase of $655,027 or 20.7 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $3,165,247 for the 1943-1945 Biennium; and of $802,156 or 26.6 per cent over the $3,018,118 for the 1943-1945 Biennium appropriated by Item 120 of Assembly Bill No. 1600 of the last regular session.

Our Recommendation: Reduce Item 162 by $265,134 or 6.9 per cent to $3,555,140.

The increase of $655,027 in the budgeted expenditure for 1945-47 over the estimated expenditure for 1943-1945 is distributed as follows:

	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent
Administration	$181,394	$210,953	$29,559	16.3
Support and subsistence	765,956	861,969	96,013	12.5
Care and welfare	1,513,037	1,917,919	404,882	26.7
Maintenance and operation of plant	284,928	309,632	24,704	8.7

Totals, support	$3,165,247	$3,820,274	$655,027	20.7

The proposed expenditure of $3,820,274 for support of the Stockton State Hospital would permit the following increases in per capita expenditures for institutional operations and parole activities:

	Institution operations				Extramural care
	Fiscal year	Average resident population	Cost per patient Yearly	Cost per patient Monthly	Average parole population	Cost per patient
Actual	1943-44	4,224	$360.43	$30.03	886	$14.22
Estimated	1944-45	4,328	371.38	30.99	900	25.42
Estimated	1945-46	4,430	408.16	34.01	900	46.12
Estimated	1946-47	4,530	423.59	35.29	900	57.50

The increase of $655,027 in the budgeted expenditure is distributed as shown on the following page, by object of expenditure:

Salaries and wages	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent
Positions now authorized	$2,191,707	$2,391,940	$200,233	9.1
Estimated salary savings	—115,709	—91,171	—24,538	—21.2
1945-47 normal salary adjustments		46,040	46,040	100.0

Totals, salaries and wages	$2,075,998	$2,602,929	$526,931	25.4
Operating expenses	1,214,376	1,281,900	67,524	6.0
Equipment	15,539	60,345	44,806	283.3
Totals	$3,305,914	$3,945,174	$639,260	19.3
Reimbursement for maintenance	—80,459	—94,900	—14,441
Surplus products sales	—60,207	—30,000	+30,207
Net totals	$3,165,247	$3,820,274	$655,027	20.7

Operating expenses are up by approximately $67,524 or 6.0 per cent. Equipment expenses are scheduled to advance by $44,806 or 283.3 per cent; and expenditures for salaries and wages are expected to expand by well over half a million dollars, or by 25 per cent.

Of this latter increase of salary expense, more than $250,000 is for the salaries of 56 proposed new positions for the first year of the biennium and a cumulative number of 90 for the second year.

We recommend that appropriation Item 162 be reduced by $265,134 or 6.9 per cent to $3,555,140. This still will represent an increase of $389,893 or 12.3 per cent over the estimated expenditure for the 1943-1945 Biennium. This increase will permit the same per capita expendi- tures for institutional operations and parole work as prevails for the current fiscal year (1944-1945), and also will allow additional amounts to cover normal salary increases, new hospital attendant positions to care for population increases, new positions to apply the uniform State holidays policy to this institution, and several other positions that are justified on an individual basis, and an allowance for necessary equipment.

The statistical basis for our recommended sum of $3,510,140 is given in the table below:

1.	Per Capita Institutional Cost Basis:
	A. Per capita, 1944-45	$371.38
	B. Predicted average population 1945-47	4,480
	C. Total institutional cost—year	$1,663,782
	D. Total institutional cost—biennium		$3,327,564
2.	Extramural Cost Item:
	A. Cost per patient on parole, 1944-45	$ 25.42
	B. Predicted average number on parole, 1944-45	900
	C. Total cost—year	22,878
	D. Total cost—biennium		45,756
3.	Normal salary increases		46,040
4.	Allowance for equipment		45,000
5.	Additional salary expense for uniform State holidays		41,040
6.	Additional salary expense of positions needed to match population increase		44,940
7.	Salaries of positions justified individually		4,800
8.	Total sum recommended for support of Stockton State Hospital		$3,555,140

The entire farming operations and use of patient labor at Stockton needs to be reviewed. Expenditure for farming and processing is increased by 11 per cent or up $42,081, but surplus sales show a drop of $30,207 and local products consumed remains the same, at $282,000 per year.

A considerable acreage of excellent gardenland is being used to grow grain. We question the economy of such a use.

Investment in farm buildings is excessive and costs in the future should be controlled.

Item 163 Budget Bill, page 473 of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $258,020; increase of $136,178 over the estimated expenditure of $121,842 for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

We recommend that appropriation Item 163 be reduced by $45,980 or 17.7 per cent to $212,040. This recommended reduction can be absorbed as indicated in the table below through careful management and greater use of the labor of patients.

	Amounts in Budget	Reductions proposed	Net amounts recommended
Purchase of modern laundry equipment	$68,840	------	$68,840
Completion of refrigeration plant and butcher shop	75,000	5,000	70,000

For Support of Pacific Colony

Item 164 Budget Bill, pages 474 to 479, inclusive, of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $1,702,966; increase of $277,209 or 19.4 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $1,425,757 for the 1943-1945 Biennium; and of $327,805 or 23.8 per cent over the $1,375,161 for the 1943-1945 Biennium appropriated by Item 122 of (Assembly Bill No. 1600) the last regular session.

Our Recommendation: Reduce Item 164 by $125,061 or 7.3 per cent to $1,577,905.

The increase of $277,209 in the budgeted expenditure for 1945-1947 over the estimated expenditure for 1943-1945 is distributed as follows:

	Estimated 1943-45	Budgeted 1945-47	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent
Administration	$108,258	$135,394	$27,136	25.1
Support and subsistence	508,580	545,877	37,297	7.3
Care and welfare	611,357	786,060	174,703	28.6
Maint. and operation of plant	170,516	197,561	27,045	15.9
Farming and processing	27,046	38,074	11,028	40.7
Totals, support	$1,425,757	$1,702,966	$277,209	19.4

The proposed expenditure of $1,702,966 for support of Pacific Colony will permit the following increases in per capita expenditures for support:

	Fiscal year	Average patient population	Cost per patient Per year	Cost per patient Per month
Actual	1943-44	1533	$441.96	$36.83
Estimated	1944-45	1600	467.65	38.97
Estimated	1945-46	1600	517.81	43.15
Estimated	1946-47	1600	546.55	45.54

The increase of $277,209 in the budgeted expenditure is distributed as follows, by object of expenditure:

Salaries and wages:	Estimated 1943-45	Budgeted 1945-47	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent
Positions now authorized	$920,661	$1,023,540	$102,879	11.1
Estimated salary savings	49,464	—39,596	9,868	19.9
1945-47 normal salary adjustments		37,825	37,825	100.0
Proposed new positions		92,700	92,700	100.0
Totals, salaries and wages	$871,197	$1,114,469	$243,272	27.9
Operating expenses	594,668	603,970	9,302	1.6
Equipment	6,813	35,427	28,614	419.9
Totals	$1,472,678	$1,753,866	$281,188	19.1
Reimbursements for maintenance	43,398	48,300	4,902	11.3
Surplus products sale	3,523	2,600	923	26.2
Net totals	$1,425,756	$1,702,966	$277,209	19.4

Operating expenses are up by approximately $9,300 or 1.6 per cent. Equipment expenses are scheduled to advance by $28,614 or 419 per cent; and expenditures for salaries and wages are expected to expand by $243,000 or 27 per cent.

Of this latter increase in salary expense, almost $93,000 is for the salaries of 22 new positions for the first year of the biennium and 30 for the second year.

We recommend that appropriation Item 164 be reduced by $125,061 or 7.3 per cent to $1,577,905. This still will represent an increase of $152,149 or 10.6 per cent over the estimated expenditure for the 1943-1945 Biennium. This increase will permit the same per capita expenditures for institutional operations as prevails for the current fiscal year (1944-1945), and also will allow additional amounts to cover normal salary increases, new hospital attendant positions to care for population increases, and new positions to apply the uniform State holidays policy to this institution, and an allowance for necessary equipment.

The statistical basis for our recommended sum of $1,577,905 is given by the table below.

1.	Per Capita Institutional Cost Basis:
	A. Per capita, 1944-45	$467.65
	B. Predicted average population, 1945-47	1,600
	C. Total institutional cost—year	$748,240
	D. Total institutional cost—biennium	$1,496,480
2.	Normal salary increases	37,825
3.	Additional salary expense—uniform State holidays	15,600
4.	Additional salary expense of positions needed to match population increase	0
5.	Allowance for equipment	28,000
6.	Salaries of positions justified individually	0
7.	Total sum recommended for support of Pacific Colony	$1,577,905

For Construction, etc., at Pacific Colony

Item 165 Budget Bill, page 480 of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $60,900; increase of $49,900 over the estimated expenditure of $11,000 for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

Expenditure items proposed by the Budget include the following:

Farm irrigation system	$6,000
Additional plumbing fixtures on male wards	1,500
Increased vegetable storage space	3,000
Fuel oil pumping equipment	2,400
Repairs and paving of streets and roads	4,000
Concrete incinerator	4,000
Installation of lawn irrigation system at cottages 1, 2, 3, 4, and 6	1,000
Additional refrigeration space	7,000
Pro rata cost sewage plant	12,500
Sewage disposal plant comminator	7,000
Annex to school	12,500
	$60,900

In view of greater difficulties in the use of labor of inmates of a home for mental defectives as compared with the mental hospitals, a lesser degree of reduction is indicated for this institution's construction expenditures. We recommend a 10 per cent cut in the foregoing, or $6,090. This brings the recommended sum for Item 164 to $54,810.

For Support of Sonoma State Home

Item 166 Budget Bill, pages 481-486, inclusive of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $2,983,275, increase of $357,824 or 13.6 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $2,625,450 for the 1943-45 Biennium; and of $595,378 or 24.9 per cent over the $2,387,897 for the 1943-45 Biennium appropriated by Item 123 of (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of the last regular session.

Our Recommendation: Reduce Item 166 by $124,541 or 4.2 per cent to $2,858,734, leaving an increase of $233,284 or 8.9 per cent over the expenditure for 1943-1945.

The increase of $357,824 in the proposed expenditure for 1945-47 over the estimated expenditure for 1943-45 is distributed as follows:

	Estimated 1943-45	Budgeted 1945-47	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent
Administration	$140,026	$169,853	$29,827	21.3
Support and subsistence	635,756	686,498	50,741	8.0
Care and welfare	1,292,148	1,522,980	230,832	17.9
Maintenance and operation of plant	272,865	297,551	24,686	9.0
Farming and processing	284,655	306,393	21,738	7.6
Totals, support	$2,625,450	$2,983,275	$357,825	13.6

The proposed expenditure of $2,983,275 for support of the Sonoma State Home would permit the following increases in per capita expenditures for support:

	Fiscal year	Average patient population	Cost per patient Per year	Cost per patient Per month
Actual	1943-44	3,249	$396.49	$33.04
Estimated	1944-45	3,350	399.19	33.26
Estimated	1945-46	3,350	433.29	36.10
Estimated	1946-47	3,350	457.24	38.10

Of the budgeted increase, operating expenses are up by some $33,000 or 3.5 per cent; equipment expenditures are up by approximately $30,600 or 216 per cent; and salaries and wages are up by $305,154 or 17.6 per cent.

We recommend that Appropriation Item 166 be reduced by $124,541 or 4.2 per cent to $2,858,734. This still will represent an increase of $233,284 or 8.9 per cent over the estimated expenditure for the 1943-45

Biennium of $2,625,450. This increase will permit the same per capita expenditure for institutional operations as prevails for the current fiscal year (1944-45), and also will allow additional amounts to cover normal salary increases, new hospital attendant positions to care for recent population increases, new positions to apply the uniform State holidays policy to this institution, and an allowance for necessary equipment.

The statistical basis for our recommended sum of $2,858,734 is given by the table below:

1. Per Capita Institutional Cost Basis
A. Per capita, 1944-45	$399.19
B. Predicted average population, 1945-47	3,350
C. Total institutional population cost—year		$1,337,287
D. Total institutional population cost—biennium			$2,674,574
2. Normal salary increase			58,100
3. Additional salary expense for uniform State holidays			36,000
4. Additional salary expense of positions needed to match population increase			60,060
5. Allowance for equipment			30,000
Total sum recommended for support of Sonoma State Home			$2,858,734

For Construction, Etc., at Sonoma State Home

Item 167 Budget Bill, page 487 of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $132,000; increase of $104,020 over the estimated expenditure of $27,980 for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

Expenditure items proposed by the Budget include the following:

Purchase of modern laundry equipment	$75,000
Incinerator	10,000
Underground power line	7,000
Occupational therapy room at Paxton Hall	40,000
	$132,000

We recommend a 10 per cent cut in the foregoing, or $13,200. This brings the recommended sum for Item 167 to $118,800.

For Support of Industrial Home for the Adult Blind

Item 168 Budget Bill, pages 489-494, inclusive, of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $332,717; increase of $32,979 or 11 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $299,737 for the 1943-45 Biennium; and of $47,915 or 16.8 per cent over the $284,802 for the 1943-45 Biennium appropriated by Item 130 of (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of the last regular session.

Our Recommendation: Reduce Item 168 by $18,473 or 5.6 per cent to $314,244, leaving an increase of $14,507 or 5 per cent over the 1943-45 expenditure.

This institution is both a residence for the blind with an average member population of about 110 persons and an industrial workshop. Its estimated per capita cost of $1,233 for 1944-45 covers both residential and industrial activities. The proposed expenditure of $332,717 for support would permit the per capita cost to advance to $1,258 for 1945-46 and to $1,265 for 1946-47. The institution employs 45 persons, which represents a ratio of 2.4 residents per employee.

We recommend that appropriation Item 168 be reduced by $18,473 or by 5.6 per cent to $314,244. This figure represents continuance during the coming biennium of expenditures for institutional operations at the 1944-45 per capita rate of $1,237.07, and the same biennial amount ($42,970) for the Field Rehabilitation Service of this institution.

The Legislature should seriously consider the advisability of closing the custodial feature of this institution and operating a workshop for all the blind in the area. Note that it costs the State over $103 per month for each person resident at this home.

It would be cheaper to pay each one $100 per month cash and sell this property and set up a proper workshop for the blind similar to those in Los Angeles or San Diego. Those who can earn would help pay for a workshop. More blind persons could be served.

There is now one employee for each 2.4 resident blind or a total of 45 as compared with seven employees at San Diego and 14 at Los Angeles.

Item 169 Budget Bill, pages 493-494 of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $22,600; decrease of $1,700 from the estimated expenditure of $24,300 for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

Expenditure items proposed by the Budget include the following:

Relocation of and repairs to roads	$2,500
Replacement of water tank and general improvements to water and drainage system	11,600
Sprinkler system for broom and garment factories	8,500
	$22,600

We recommend that Item 169 be approved without change.

For Support of Industrial Workshop for the Blind at Los Angeles

Item 170 Budget Bill, pages 495-496, inclusive, of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $81,382; increase of $7,130 or 9.6 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $74,251 for the 1943-1945 Biennium; and a decline of $565 or .5 per cent from the $81,947 for the 1943-1945 Biennium appropriated by Item 132 of (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of the last regular session.

Recommendation: Approval without change.

The moderate increase proposed over expenditures for the current biennium is due largely to budgeting for certain industrial equipment in the sum of about $5,300. This equipment is needed to make effective use of a building the State has purchased for this establishment. We recommend that no reduction be made in this item.

For Support of State Blind Shop at San Diego

Item 171 Budget Bill, page 497 of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $40,030; increase of $2,167 or 5.7 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $37,862 for the 1943-45 Biennium; and of $3,469 or 9.5 per cent over the $36,561 for the 1943-45 Biennium appropriated by Item 133 of (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of the last regular session.

We recommend appropriation Item 171 at $40,030 as set up in the Budget.

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for the Department of Insurance 1945-1947 Biennium

Item 172 Budget Bill, pages 498-502 of the Budget; appropriation from the Insurance Fund $826,918; increase of $148,797 or 21.9 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $678,121 for 1943-1945.

Proposed expenditures and estimated revenues for the 1945-1947 Biennium, compared with the 1943-45 period, are summarized as follows:

Expenditures	Estimated expenditure 1943-45	Proposed expenditure 1945-47	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent
Support
Administration	$559,059	$677,453	$118,394	21.2
Statement analysis	55,764	73,590	17,826	32.0
Examination	22,175	21,865	—310	—1.4
Workmen's compensation investigation	34,988	46,510	11,522	32.9
Liquidation	6,134	7,500	1,365	22.2
Totals, support	$678,121	$826,918	$148,797	21.9
Contributions to State Employees' Retirement fund	$21,383	$25,431	$4,048	18.9
Total expenditures	$699,504	$852,349	$152,845	21.8
Revenues
License, examination and special fees	$876,981	$908,780	$31,799	3.7

Significant facts revealed by the foregoing table:

1. While proposed expenditures are up by 21.8 per cent, revenues for the coming biennium are expected to increase by only 3.7 per cent.

2. All types of expenditure except one—that for examinations—are scheduled to increase by more than 18 per cent, with the percentage rate of increase being over 30 per cent for statement analysis work and for the Workmen's Compensation Investigation.

The proposed expenditures for 1945-47 as compared with the estimated expenditures for 1943-45, by objects of expenditure, are as follows:

	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent
Salaries and wages	$570,236	$678,163	$107,927	18.9
Operating expenses	189,347	203,984	14,637	7.7
Equipment	583	5,279	4,696	805.5
Totals	$760,166	$887,426	$127,260	16.7
Less abatements for service to insurance companies in liquidation	$82,045	$60,508	—$21,537	—26.2
Net totals	$678,121	$826,918	$148,797	21.9

Of the budgeted increased salary expense of $107,927, $73,500 is for eight proposed new positions for the first year, a cumulative total of 15 new positions for the second fiscal year, and reclassification of six positions. Fourteen of the new positions are for individuals on leave for service with the armed forces.

Proposed new positions and the budgeted salary expense resulting are as follows:

No of positions fiscal years 45-46 Cumulative total	46-47 Cumulative total		Proposed 1945-46	1946-47
1	3	Senior Insurance License Investigator (ML)	$3,420	$10,260
1	2	Senior Insurance Document Examiner (ML)	3,780	7,560
3	6	Junior Insurance License Investigator (ML)	7,740	15,480
1	1	Intermediate Typist-Clerk (ML)	1,980	1,980
		Senior Insurance License Investigator (Reclassification of six Junior Insurance License Investigators upon return from military leave)	360	1,440
1	2	Accountant-Auditor, Grade 1 (ML)	2,820	5,640
1	1	Assistant Supervisory Insurance Examiner	5,520	5,520
8	15	Totals, years	$25,620	$47,880
		Total biennium	$73,500

Much of the $14,637 budgeted increase for operating expenses is due to an allowance of $20,000 for auditing work for the liquidation activity as compared with an estimated $12,000 for the fiscal year 1944-45. An additional $2,419 of the $14,637 increased operating expenses is for traveling which is budgeted for $24,035 as compared with the $21,616 estimated for the current biennium.

Increased automobile expense is responsible for $700 more of the expended operating expense with the total for automobile expense being budgeted at $2,700 for the 1945-1947 Biennium as contrasted with the $1,999 estimated expenditure for the 1943-45 period.

Of the $4,696 scheduled increase for equipment, $2,000 is for automobile equipment during the first year of the biennium with the remainder being for office equipment.

The Department of Insurance is a self-supporting activity financed by appropriation from the Insurance Fund which is built up by the payment of fees by insurance companies and licenses of insurance agents. As of July 1, 1945, there was an unbudgeted surplus in the Insurance Fund of $698,069. The Budget estimates that this will increase to $754,500 by June 30, 1947, a net increase of approximately $56,000.

Our recommendations are as follows:

1. In line with over-all cuts that we are recommending for all agencies—we recommend that
   (a) The sum budgeted for printing be reduced from $18,000 to $15,000;
   (b) Budgeted automobile operating expense be cut by 10 per cent or $270.
2. We recommend that the amount of $2,000 for the purchase of an automobile be reduced to $1,500.
3. We recommend that the budgeted traveling expense items which total $22,355 be reduced by 10 per cent or $2,235.

We also raise a serious question as to the justification for the continuance of the workmen's compensation investigation and pay roll test audit in relation to the compensation carriers out of the insurance fund. Insofar as this study is an examination of the operations of a carrier it should be financed on an assessment basis in the same manner as other special services benefiting particular carriers are financed. If this particular study is justified to protect the public then its objective should either be to reduce compensation rates or to require proper premiums, which if the rates are increased would yield additional revenues to the general funds.

We also wish to point out that the workmen's compensation investigation started out as a one time special study. It now appears to be a permanent part of the budget. It involves a significantly large expenditure of money, totaling approximately $35,000 for 1943-45 and $46,500 for 1945-1947.

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for the Division of Banking Department of Investment—1945-1947 Biennium

Item 173 of Budget Bill, pages 503-505 of the Budget; appropriation from the Banking Fund, $345,662; increase of $79,867 or 30 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $265,795 for 1943-1945.

The Budget increase for 1945-1947 of $79,867 is distributed among classes of expenditure as follows:

Support	Estimated expenditure 1943-45	Proposed expenditure 1945-47	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent
Administration	$101,068	$111,636	$10,567	10.46
Enforcement of banking laws	147,847	213,986	66,138	44.74
Certification of bond issues	16,880	20,040	3,160	18.72
Total support	$265,795	$345,662	$79,866	30.0

The proposed expenditure for 1945-1947 as compared with the estimated expenditure for 1943-1945, by objects of expenditure, is as follows:

	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent
Salaries	$204,227	$267,326	$63,099	30.9
Operating expense	60,581	77,236	16,655	27.5
Equipment	987	1,100	113	1.15
Net Totals	$265,795	$345,662	$79,867	30.0

(See comment on proposed increased personnel and traveling.)

Of the Budget increase, salary expense of $63,099, $27,960 is for five proposed new positions, which are as follows:

No. of new positions fiscal years 1945-46	1946-47 Cumulative total		Proposed 1945-46	Proposed 1946-47
1	1	Intermediate typist-clerk	$1,620	$1,740
2	2	Semi-senior bank examiners	6,840	7,200
2	2	Junior bank examiners	5,160	5,400
		Total years	$13,620	$14,340
				13,620
		Total for biennium		$27,960

This is 44.31 per cent of the total salary increase of $63,099.

Additional personnel is requested to make independent examinations of several large banks which are now jointly examined with the Federal examiners and for examination of various financial institutions which desire to be converted into banks.

This appears very logical and the number of new examiners requested appears to be in line.

A review of operating expenses, as itemized below, will show a proposed increase of $16,655 or 27.5 per cent over the estimated expenditure for 1943-1945.

OPERATING EXPENSES

	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase	Per cent
Office	$2,830	$3,000	$170	6.0
Printing	4,242	4,600	358	8.4
Traveling	18,702	32,200	13,498	72.2
Telephone and telegraph	2,572	2,800	228	8.9
Postage	1,716	2,000	284	16.6
Automobile	2,188	3,000	812	37.1
Freight, cartage and express	85	100	15	17.6
Rent	25,224	25,224	----	--
Pro rate general fiscal administration	1,965	2,574	609	31.0
Pro rate personnel board services	1,057	1,738	681	64.4
Total biennium	$60,581	$77,236	$16,655	27.5

The increase of $13,498 or 72.2 per cent for traveling expense does not appear to be in line. The large proposed increase is in the Enforcement of Laws Department.

Following is a comparative schedule showing gradual increase in this expenditure:

Biennium	Number of examiners	Actually spent	Average biennium
1939-1941	15	$11,851	$790
1941-1943	16	14,292	894
1943-1945	13 Filled	17,115	1,320
Proposed:
1945-1947	20	30,000	1,500

We do not know of any logical reason for this large proposed increase as they have the same number of banks to examine and except for the examination of the various financial institutions that they expect to be converted into banks, their expense should be the same except for the additional proposed examiners, and with more staff the individual travel should be less.

An examination of the allowances made by this division for traveling expense shows that their schedule for meals has been $3.50 per day while the Board of Control rules allow for a higher amount. Since the price for meals has increased, the travel request appears to be in line.

We recommend that the proposed percentage reduction applied to the General Fund to produce an over-all saving of $10,000,000 in the General Fund be applied to this Budget.

An examination of the use of automobiles indicates a very conservative policy which includes garaging automobiles in San Francisco when not in use. Although this costs $12.50 per month per car, there is a reduction in mileage costs. We recommend, therefore, that the over-all reduction for automobiles be not applied to this division.

The increase in printing costs arises primarily from increased costs for the annual report.

Money for the salaries of all vacant and new positions for 1945-47 should be placed in a separate fund only to be spent if filled as previously recommended.

Expenditure for equipment really needs no comment as they are requesting only nominal office equipment and asking for the replacement of an automobile that has travelled in excess of 82,000 miles.

The Division of Banking is a self-upporting activity financed by appropriation from the Banking Fund, which is built up by payment of assessments and fees from banks.

As of July 1, 1945, there was an unbudgeted surplus of $211,494 in the Banking Fund. The Budget indicates that this will increase to $266,227 by June 30, 1947 or a net increase of $55,733.

The anticipated unbudgeted surplus as of June 30, 1947 ($266,227) is about the same as the amount estimated for support for the 1943-1945 Biennium, which was $265,795. It is not an overly large amount to carry for emergency needs.

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for the Department of Investment Division of Building and Loan—1945-47 Biennium

Item 174, page 14, Budget Bill, pages 506-9 of the Budget. Total appropriation requested from the Building and Loan Inspection Fund, $176,352, an increase of $46,775 or 36.0 per cent over the 1943-45 expenditure of $129,577 for support.

This represents an increase of $14,436 or 8.91 per cent over the appropriation for the 1943-45 Biennium (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of $161,916.

Proposed expenditures and estimated revenue for the 1945-47 Biennium compared with the 1943-45 period are summarized as follows:

Expenditures—Support	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent
Administration	47,296	$65,560	$18,264	+ 38.61
Examination	82,281	110,792	28,511	+ 34.65
Totals, support	$129,577	$176,352	$46,775	+ 36.09
Contributions to State Employees Retirement Fund	4,720	5,334	614	+ 13.
Totals, expenditures	$134,297	$181,686	$47,389	+ 35.28
Revenues:
License fees	$134,467	$184,080	$49,613	+ 36.89

Significant facts revealed by foregoing table:

1. Estimated revenue is expected to increase in the ensuing biennium by $49,613 or 36.89 per cent.
2. Proposed expenditures for support for the 1945-47 Biennium are up $46,775 or 36.09 per cent—almost exactly offsetting the increase in revenue.

THE PROPOSED EXPENDITURES FOR 1945-47 AS COMPARED WITH THE ESTIMATED EXPENDITURES FOR 1943-45, BY OBJECTS OF EXPENDITURE

	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Change Amount	Per cent
Salaries and wages:
Positions now authorized	$133,252	$136,992	$3,740	2.8
Estimated salary savings	— 7,380	— 3,340	4,040	54.7
1945-47 normal salary adjustments		2,340	2,340	new
Proposed new positions		6,240	6,240	new
Totals, salaries and wages	$125,872	$142,232	$16,360	13.0
Operating expenses	40,923	43,120	2,197	5.4
Equipment	481	1,000	519	107.9
Totals	$167,276	$186,352	$19,076	11.4
Less: Reimbursements for services rendered to associations in liquidation	37,699	10,000	27,699	73.5
Net total	$129,577	$176,352	$46,775	36.1

It will be noticed from the above that a very substantial part of the increased total expenditure for the coming biennium arises from the expected lesser amount of reimbursement for services rendered to associations in liquidation.

The Budget proposes one new position. It is for an accountant-auditor, Grade 1, for work in connection with the division's examination function. The position is set up as for a worker currently on military leave. In 1941-42, the division had a total of 21 positions—the same number as proposed for the coming biennium.

Of the $2,197 budgeted increase in operating expenses for the 1945-47 Biennium as compared with 1943-45, $1,447 is increased traveling expense which is budgeted at $23,400 as compared with an estimated $21,953 for the 1943-45 period.

Our recommendations include the following:

1. We recommend that no reduction be made in the appropriation for printing on the over-all reduction schedule previously presented, for the reason that the amount for printing as given on page 506 of the Budget should be $583 in place of $270.
2. We recommend that traveling expenses be reduced by $1,450—which will cut expenditures for this purpose to the level for the 1943-45 period.
3. We recommend that the proposed new position be granted in order to take care of the employee on military leave, but the salary for this position be set up in a salary savings fund as recommended for all vacant positions.
4. The budgeted expenditures are almost the same as anticipated revenue for the Building and Loan Inspection Fund for the ensuing biennium for the reason that annual assessments are made on the building and loan companies on the basis of their assets to support the budget which they estimate.

The estimated unbudgeted surplus as of June 30, 1947, is $32,943. This is not a large reserve but is adequate for the reason that additional assessments can be made by the Building and Loan Commissioner whenever this is required to cover a special examination.

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for the Division of Corporations Department of Investment

Item 175, Budget Bill, page 14. Budget, pages 509-511, inclusive. Appropriation requested, $589,658, an increase of $69,491 over expenditures of $520,167 for 1943-45, or plus 13.35 per cent.

Compared with the 1943-45 appropriation (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of $625,191 the 1945-47 Budget requested of $589,658 represents a decrease of $35,533 or 5.68 per cent under the amount appropriated for the preceding biennium.

The budgeted increase, $69,491 for 1945-47 over actual and estimated expenditures for 1943-45 is distributed among classes of expenditures as follows:

TABLE I

Support	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent
Administration	$147,798	$184,868	$37,070	+ 25.08
Applications, permits and orders	241,256	250,130	8,874	+ 3.67
Audits and investigation	131,113	154,660	23,547	+ 17.95

The proposed expenditures for 1945-47 as compared with actual and estimated expenditures for 1943-45 by object of expenditure is as follows:

TABLE II

Object	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent
Salaries and wages	$477,864	$532,058	$54,194	+ 11.34
Operating expenses	41,742	54,250	12,508	+ 30.00
Equipment	560	3,350	2,790	+498.00
	$520,166	$589,658	$69,492	+ 13.35

Of the proposed salary increase of $54,194 or 11+ per cent over the preceding biennium, all but $1,000 (normal salary increases) is attributable to 13 proposed new positions. All but three of the proposed new positions arise as a result of military leaves of absence. Proposed expenditures for the three strictly new positions amount to $4,320 for the Fiscal Year 1945-46, and $7,140 for the Fiscal Year 1946-47 or a total of $11,460 for the biennium or 21.5 per cent of the total proposed increase for new positions.

Proposed new positions and budgeted expense resulting therefrom are indicated in the following table:

TABLE III

SCHEDULE OF PROPOSED NEW POSITIONS

DIVISION OF CORPORATIONS, 1945-1947 BIENNIUM

Number of positions Fiscal Year 45-46	46-47 Cumulative total	Classification	Salary range	Total amount 1945-46	1946-47

4	13			$10,200	$43,080

* On military leave.

Table II preceding indicates that proposed operating expenses for the 1945-47 are budgeted at $54,250, an increase of $12,508 or 30 per cent over the 1943-45 expenditure of $41,742. Of this amount, it is proposed that allowance for traveling expense be increased from $17,776 to $23,300, up $15,524 or 31.07 per cent. The budgeted figure for printing expense is increased from $4,340 to $6,500, up $2160 or $49.76 per cent. Automobile expenditures are up $755 or 24 per cent over 1943-45; and the item for telephone and telegraph is budgeted at $7,750 vs. $6,704, an increase of $1,046 or 15.60 per cent.

A detailed breakdown of operating expenditures is given in Table IV below:

TABLE IV

OPERATING EXPENSES BY OBJECT, 1945-1947 BIENNIUM, COMPARED WITH EXPENDITURES FOR 1943-1945

Object	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent
Travel	$17,776	$23,300	$5,524	31.07
Printing	4,340	6,500	2,160	49.76
Automobile	3,045	3,800	755	24.79
Telephone and telegraph	6,704	7,750	1,046	15.60
Postage	4,257	6,300	2,043	47.99
Office	5,097	5,700	603	11.83
Freight and cartage	523	900	377	72.08
	$41,742	$54,250	$12,508

Proposed expenditures for equipment include one new item—automobile—$2,100 for the biennium. Expenditures for office equipment are budgeted at $1,250 vs. $560 expended in the 1943-45 Biennium, or an increase of 55.20 per cent.

Revenues for the General Fund are estimated to increase from $580,272 in the 1943-45 Biennium to $620,600 in the ensuing biennium, an increase of $40,328 or 6.94 per cent.

With proposed expenditures up 13 per cent to $589,658, the excess revenue over expenditures will be only $30,942. This follows the general principal established when this agency became largely a General Fund supported agency that revenues would be equal to costs. This surplus over costs does not add much to the State general surplus available when revenues go off and when costs of operating this division will undoubtedly go up.

Recommendations

1. We recommend that the over-all reduction necessary to produce the $10,000,000 savings for the General Fund be applied to this division.
2. It is also recommended that the salary saving item as previously described be applied.
3. We recommend reduction in the appropriation for printing based on the over-all schedule previously presented but no additional reduction.
4. While automobile travel costs have gone up somewhat, this division adopted an economy policy of routing employees on travel so as to cover all business that is possible on one trip. Therefore, no further reduction is recommended.
5. The item for telephone and telegraph expense shows a material increase. We believe that the division, by further organization of its work, can transact a larger part of its business by mail rather than by telephone. We do not recommend a specific reduction for the reason that the up-swing in the corporate securities business, which has occurred since the Governor's Budget was prepared, indicates that the volume of the business may be materially more than has been anticipated.

Analysis of Proposed Expenditure 1945-1947 Biennium
Division of Real Estate, Department of Investment

Item 176 Budget Bill, pages 513-516 of the Budget. Appropriation from the Real Estate Fund $428,147; increase of $69,649 or 19.4 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $358,498 for 1943-1945.

Proposed expenditures and estimated revenues for the 1945-1947 biennium compared with the 1943-1945 period, are summarized as follows:

Expenditures	Estimated expenditure 1943-1945	Proposed expenditure 1945-1947	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent
Support
Administration	$252,990	$286,127	$33,137	13.1
Inspections and Hearings	98,353	135,020	36,667	37.2
Directory	7,154	7,000	— 155	— 2.2
Totals, Support	$358,489	$428,147	$60,649	19.4
Contributions to State Employees' Retirement Fund	$9,261	$11,628	$2,367	24.5
Total Expenditures	$367,759	$439,775	$72,016	19.5
Revenues
Fees	$413,763	$470,850	$57,087	13.8

Principal classes of expenditure that are shown to be up by the above table are for administration and for inspections and hearings. The table also shows that while total proposed expenditures are up by 19.5 per cent revenues are expected to increase by only 13.8 per cent.

The proposed expenditures for 1945-1947 as compared with estimated expenditures, by object of expenditure, is as follows:

	Estimated expenditure 1943-1945	Proposed expenditure 1945-1947	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent
Salaries and Wages
Positions now authorized	$254,471	$268,240	$13,769	5.5
Estimated salary savings	— 7,500	— 7,500	---	---
1945-1947 normal salary adjust's	---	3,435	3,435	100.0
Proposed new positions	---	45,900	45,900	100.0
Totals, salaries and wages	$246,971	$310,075	$63,104	25.6
Operating expenses	$111,164	$114,242	$3,078	2.8
Equipment	363	3,830	3,467	955.1
Totals	$358,498	$428,147	$69,649	19.4

Of the total increase of $69,649 for the 1945-1947 Biennium over the 1943-45 period, $45,900 is for the salaries of nine proposed new positions for the first year of the biennium and a cumulative total of 12 for the second year of the period. This sum represents 63.7 per cent of the total scheduled increase for the coming biennium.

These proposed new positions and budgeted expense resulting therefrom are indicated in the resulting table:

No. of positions Fiscal Year 1945-46	Cumulative total 1946-47	Classification	Salary range	Total amount 1945-46	Total amount 1946-47
2	2	Intermediate Typist Clerk		$3,000	$3,000
2	2	Intermediate Stenographer-Clerk		3,240	3,240
1	1	Telephone Operator and Information Clerk		1,500	1,500
4	7	Deputy	$200(15)260	10,800	19,620
9	12	Totals, year		$18,540	$27,360
		Total Biennium		$45,900

The changes of operating expense items between 1945-47 and 1943-45 are indicated in the table following:

Items	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Change Amount	Change Per cent
Office	$8,716	$9,750	$1,034
Printing	19,822	17,540	— 2,282
Traveling	12,030	13,500	1,470
Telephone and telegraph	5,549	5,500	— 49
Postage	8,681	8,750	61
Automobile	6,920	7,000	80
Rent	38,167	42,000	3,833
Pro Rata General Fiscal Administration	2,860	3,187	327
Pro Rata Attorney General Expenditures	6,767	5,000	— 1,767
Pro Rata Personnel Board Services	1,650	2,015	365
Totals, operating expense	$111,164	$114,242	$3,078	2.8

It will be noticed from above that the proposed expenditure for printing is an exception to the general rule of an expanded amount. It is down by $2,282 or 11.5 per cent from the expenditure level for the current biennium.

Rent expense is up by over $3,800 per year. This increase appears to be unavoidable.

Recommendations:

1. It is recommended that two of the four proposed new jobs of Deputy for Inspections and Hearings for the first fiscal year and four of the seven for the second fiscal year be not granted. This will effect a biennial saving in salary expense of $13,380. We do not believe that these two oppositions in 1945-46 or the four in 1946-47 are needed. The denial of this request will still permit the division to add a total of two new Deputies during the first year and three during the second year. The division already has a total of 14 positions for the inspections and hearings activity with a budgeted salary expense aggregating $92,160.

We recommend that traveling expenses be reduced by $750; and that office operating expenses be cut by $500.

The unbudgeted balance in this fund at the end of the next biennium is estimated to be $192,894. Since this estimate was made, there has been a marked upturn in revenues so that this amount will be exceeded. Section 10455 of the Business and Professions Code provides that any surplus over $100,000 shall revert to the General Fund. We recommend that expenditures be kept down so that this surplus will be maintained. We do not believe that expenses should be incurred in an endeavor to reduce reversions to the General Fund. The over-all savings and salary savings previously recommended should be applied to this division.

The additions requested in a subsequent communication over and above the Governor's Budget for personnel should be denied until it is demonstrated that the work load of necessary correspondence and other clerical work is in line. The request for $5,000 to publish the reference book and guide previously published by the Bureau of Documents, and which will produce profit, is justified; also the $300 for the additional travel of the Advisory Board. Additional clerical help for the purpose of issuing a monthly bulletin does not seem to be essential.

If the work load increases and eventualities develop, a deficiency can be allowed under the provisions of Section 661 of the Political Code.

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for California District Securities Commission for the 1945-1947 Biennium

Item 177 of the Budget Bill, page 517 of the Budget. Appropriation $31,354 from the General Fund; an increase of $932 or of 3 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $30,421 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

There is one new item that does not appear in the current biennium 1943-45. This is $827 for each fiscal year of the 1945-47 Biennium to cover rent.

If the function of this agency is to be continued, it will be necessary to grant this appropriation request as no material reduction is possible in view of its relatively small staff and scale of expenditures.

The Legislature might well consider transferring all of these functions to the office of the Corporation Commissioner at a material saving.

Department of Justice

Items 178 to 180 of the Budget Bill, pages 518 to 525, inclusive, of the Budget. Item 178 appropriates $1,538,504 from the General Fund, an increase of $186,995 over 1943-45 or 13.8 per cent. The allocations otherwise from the General Fund brings the total expenditures up to $1,563,504 for 1945-47 or an increase of $174,655 or 12.6 per cent. The total budget increase is 16.4 per cent.

There are only two special items for 1945-47. One is a continuation of $20,000 for services rendered the Colorado River Board re Mexico Water Treaty in same amount as the current biennium. This is only a round estimate and as much should be saved as possible.

The other item is entirely new—$5,000 for fees for special counsel employed pursuant to Section 472 of the Political Code providing for employment of special counsel for the counties where it is necessary.

Two special items in the Budget for 1943-45 do not again appear in 1945-47. These are $15,915 for prosecution of Indian claims. This matter has happily been concluded. The other is emergency maintenance of $1,425.

Item 178 appropriating for support of the Department of Justice calls for $1,538,504 from the General Fund. This is an increase of $186,995 or only 13.8 per cent as compared with a 16.4 per cent increase for the entire Budget.

This comparison is not valid without some explanation.

The Department of Justice was established by an act of the Special Session of the 1943 Legislature at the time the Department of Corrections was formed and the Department of Penology abolished. The Department of Justice was formed by taking the Division of Criminal Identification and Investigation and the Division of Narcotic Enforcement formerly in the Department of Penology and adding it to the Attorney General's Office and giving it the new name of Department of Justice. This department will not be found in the 1943-45 Budget. The comparisons of the 1945-47 Budget with the current biennium are made by adding these transferred activities to the Attorney General's office which existed in 1943-45.

It is significant to note that in the Budget for 1945-47 all of the divisions which previously existed before forming the Department of Justice show a material increase. The Division of Criminal Identification and Investigation alone shows a decrease. Narcotic Enforcement and the Bureau of Investigation likewise show an increase. The amounts allocated for each division, together with the increase or decrease from the current biennium, together with the respective percentages, are shown in the following table:

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE — SUMMARY

Net totals, support	$1,351,509 06	$1,538,504 00	+$186,994 94	13.8

A large percentage of the net total increase for support of $186,995 arises from the establishment of 15 new positions for 1945-46, continuing them into 1946-47, and adding six more in that year. It is estimated that these new positions and reclassifications will cost $83,520 for the biennium. Estimated salary adjustments will require $35,905 more. Equipment calls for $9,811 additional. The remaining balance of the increase which should be calculated to include $38,221 of decrease in the expenditure for Criminal Identification is made up in other costs for operation.

The 21 new positions are as follows:

			No. of positions Fiscal Year 45-46	46-47	Proposed cost 1945-46	1946-47
		Division of General Administration
1	2	Intermediate Stenographer-Clerks	$1,620		$3,360

A careful examination and analysis of the Budget of the Department of Justice will show that unless expenditures for 1943-45 Biennium are out of line the additional request made for 1945-47 are not out of line, for on the whole the requests are in line with the added services that must be rendered and the increasing legal problems of the State. Since the actual expenditures made for the Fiscal Year 1943-44 are somewhat lower in most instances than for the estimated expenditures for the Fiscal Year 1944-45 and these are carried forward into the coming Biennium 1945-47, we believe that the over-all percentage reduction previously recommended for application to the entire Budget can be applied to this department.

The only place where a material savings can be accomplished is in the matter of salary savings for the 21 proposed new positions and positions now in existence continued into the coming biennium which may be vacant. To accomplish this saving, we recommend that the appropriation for salaries and wages to cover positions now vacant extended into the 1945-47 Biennium and the funds for all new positions be placed in the special salary savings fund for allocation back to the department on the terms therein provided.

We believe that an analysis of the Department of Justice will show that there are one or two positions that are not strictly of the nature required in the services expected to be rendered by the Department of Justice of the State of California and that moreover such services can be provided to the Attorney General by specialists already employed by the State on the same kind of basis as the Attorney General provides legal services for State departments. It is just as logical for certain of the departments to employ attorneys to render legal services as it is for the Attorney General to employ an economic consultant.

The Bureau of Criminal Identification, page 522 of the Budget, shows a material decrease in the staff from 104 in 1943-44 to 63 in each year of the 1945-47 Biennium. An examination of the tabulation of salaries on the above page cited will show that this primary decrease has been in war emergency positions in two principal classifications—fingerprint technicians and intermediate typist-clerks. The decrease is based upon the belief that the flood of fingerprint identification and filing caused by the growth of the war industries in California has passed its peak and this staff will not be required. An examination of the situation leads us to concur in this estimate. We further recommend that the Department of Justice make a comprehensive study of the matter of coordinating fingerprinting and the maintenance of fingerprint files and the classification thereof with the Federal Bureau of Criminal Identification and to include the fingerprint service required by county and local law enforcement offices.

We have no other specific recommendations concerning the budget of this department. It is pleasing to note the improvement in the budget for this department and the evidence of careful consideration in formulating requests. While it is not strictly an economy budget, it is nearer to such than many other departments provided for in the Budget for 1945-47.

Item 178.5 of the Budget Bill, page 518 of Budget—Support of the Department of Justice from the Motor Vehicle Fund—$70,000. This is for the support of the teletype system and is exactly the same amount as for the 1943-45. This is an equitable distribution of the costs, no comment re adjustments are needed.

Item 179 of the Budget Bill, pages 518 and 524 of the Budget. Appropriates $5,000 from the General Fund at rate of $2,500 for each year of the biennium pursuant to Section 472 of the Political Code.

This is a new item. It is for the purpose of hiring special prosecutors in counties where the district attorney can not act for reasons of disqualification or otherwise failing.

The money, we believe, is adequate. None of it may be used.

Item 180 of the Budget Bill, pages 518 and 524 of the Budget. Appropriates $20,000 or $10,000 each year from the General Fund to serve the Colorado River Board in litigation over Colorado River water with Mexico.

It may not be spent at all, or again it may not be enough.

Military and Veterans Affairs

Item 181 of the Budget Bill, pages 526 to 533, inclusive, of the Budget.

This item appropriates $2,224,272 from the General Fund for the support of the Adjutant General, the State Guard and rental of armories and the maintenance of the High School Cadets.

This is an increase of $783,807 or 54.25 per cent over 1943-45 expenditure.

The following schedule of expenditures by purposes shows the increases, their percentages and the several segregations:

DEPARTMENT OF MILITARY AND VETERANS' AFFAIRS—ADJUTANT GENERAL AND STATE GUARD—SUMMARY

Revenues
Miscellaneous	$11,157	$10,200	— $957	— 8.57

* Paid in 1943-1945 from appropriation for support of State Guard, Chapter 737, Statutes of 1943.

The largest single increase is caused by a new item for a training encampment at $449,871. Allowance to organizations goes up $50,000; $14,000 more is found in normal salary adjustment. The remainder is scattered throughout the Budget.

The actual number of employees is decreased from 160 positions allowed in 1943-45 to 144 in each year of the biennium. Since the property records and accounts are not up to what they should be, possibly some additional employees will be necessary to bring these up to date and keep them current. For detail on this see earlier section of our report on the Budget.

Operating expense of the State Guard, page 531 of the Budget, increased from actual of $161,223 in 1943-45 to $307,708 for 1946 and it has been predicted at approximately this figure for 1945-46 and 1946-47. It includes several new items of large amounts. One, $5,000 each year for a State Guard magazine,* reinforcing strong rooms at $3,000 for each year and other items lead us to believe that $30,000 can readily be cut from this category.

This is true of operating expense in other divisions of the department. It is therefore recommended that the percentage over-all saving be applied here and also the scheduled savings on automobiles, printing, and the salary savings plan for all departments. This will produce material savings.

We recommend Item 181 be specifically reduced by $30,000 to $2,194,272. The over-all reduction should bring down the total increase more in line with the average budget increase of 16.4 per cent.

* It was intended to reestablish the magazine published to promote the National Guard for the purpose of promoting the State Guard. This is not an ammunition magazine.

For Support of Veterans' Home of California

Item 182 Budget Bill, pages 534-541, inclusive, of the Budget, appropriation from the General Fund, $1,299,171; increase of $235,685 or 22.2 per cent over estimated expenditure of $1,063,486 for the 1943-1945 Biennium. Our recommendation: Reduce Item 182 of the Appropriation Bill by $15,603 or 1.2 per cent to $1,283,568.

The Veterans' Home of California, under the management of a board of directors, is maintained for the care of disabled veterans of all wars in which the United States has participated, who have been bona fide residents of the State for 10 years immediately preceding their applications for membership in the home.

The member-population of the home is low now—933 members. It is expected to increase from an estimated average of 1,000 for the 1944-45 Fiscal Year to an average of 1,100 for the Fiscal Year 1945-46 and to 1,200 for the 1946-1947, as a result of the entry of returning World War II veterans into the home.

The increase of $235,685 in the State's share of the budgeted expenditure for this institution is divided up as follows by class of expenditure:

	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Change Amount	Change Per cent
Expenditures:
Support:
Administration	$141,403	$149,779	+ $8,376	+ 5.9
Support and subsistence	600,214	781,961	+ 181,747	+30.3
Care and welfare	524,847	674,420	149,573	+28.5
Maintenance and operation of plant	237,751	270,442	+ 32,691	+13.8
Farming and processing	78,238	82,569	4,331	+ 5.5
Totals, support	$1,582,452	$1,959,171	+$376,719	+23.8
Less estimated amounts payable from Federal contribution	—518,966	—660,000	+ 141,034	+27.1
Net totals, support	$1,063,486	$1,299,171	+$235,685	+22.2

The Budget calls for 28 proposed new positions for civilians for the first year and a cumulative total of 32 for the second year, including several positions designed to provide more extensive medical services for members of the home.

The proposed expenditure of $1,299,171 of State funds and the expected amount of $660,000 from the Federal Government will permit the following increases in expenditures per member:

Fiscal Year	Average member population	Cost per member Per year	Cost per member Per month
Actual 1943-44	933	$800.30	$66.69
Actual and estimated 1944-45	1,000	835.77	69.64
Estimated 1945-46	1,100	860.00	71.66
Estimated 1946-47	1,200	844.31	70.35

The estimated per member yearly cost for the current biennium is $818.73.

Findings and Recommendations

1. We recommend that Item 182 of the Appropriation Bill be reduced by $15,603 or 1.2 per cent to $1,283,568. This still will represent an increase of $220,082 or 20.7 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $1,063,486 for the 1943-1945 Biennium. This increase will permit the same per capita expenditures for support of the institution as prevails for the current biennium (1943-1945), and also will allow additional amounts to cover normal salary increases new positions to apply the uniform State holidays policy to this institution, and the budgeted increase for expenditures for equipment.

The following represents the statistical basis for our recommended amount of $1,283,568:

1. Per Capita Institutional Cost Factor
A. Average cost per capita per year, 1943-45 Biennium	$818 73
B. Predicted average population, 1945-47	1,150
C. Total institutional cost—year		$941,539
D. Total institutional cost—biennium			$1,883,078
2. Normal salary increases			39,716
3. Additional salary increases for uniform State holidays			10,320
4. Additional amount budgeted for equipment for 1945-1947 over the estimated amount for 1943-1945			10,454
5. Proposed total expenditure			$1,943,568
6. Less estimated amounts payable from Federal contributions			660,000
7. State support			$1,283,568

2. We recommend that the over-all savings to produce $10,000,000 savings in the General Fund be applied to this institution; also the scheduled savings on automobiles and printing and the salary savings procedure all be applied.
3. We also recommend that in the event that general additional salary increases are granted to State employees generally, that such increases not be granted to the 90-odd member employees at the home, as most of the increased cost of living already has been cared for in the form of increased cost of the food, lodging, and medical care that the State provides at this home for the member-residents.
4. We further recommend that a study be made of the part that the State should play in the whole problem of aid to veterans; and that if such a study reveals that the Federal Government will be in a better position to extend better care, at relatively less expense, to veterans because of special facilities and experience, then efforts should be made to secure the transfer of the Veterans' Home of California to the Federal Government.

For Construction, Etc., Veterans' Home of California

Item 183 Budget Bill, page 542 of the Budget, appropriation from the Athletic Commission Fund, $107,880.

Of this proposed expenditure of $107,880, $1,880 would be for the construction of a four-strand wire fence around the reservation, and $106,000 would be for the construction and equipment of one unit of the recreation center.

We recommend that appropriation Item 183 in the amount of $107,880 be approved without reduction.

We again urge that these special fund set-ups such as this be eliminated so better control and budgeting for the whole State need be secured.

For Support of Woman's Relief Corps Home

Item 184 of the Budget Bill, page 543 of the Budget, appropriates $106,263 from the General Fund for the support of the Woman's Relief Corps Home. This home, located near San Jose, is for the care of widows and sisters of veterans of the Federal forces of the Civil War and for Civil War nurses. It has a very small population—actual for 1943-44 being 43—and it is estimated to be 50 for each of the following years of the current and succeeding bienniums. This budget shows an increase of $11,372. Most of this, or $8,114, is in support and subsistence. Care and welfare costs are increased by $2,698. There are 19 employees and the same number is continued for the coming biennium.

There is no opportunity to reduce this item of expenditure if this institution is to be continued.

For Veterans' Claims and Rights Services

Item 185 of the Budget Bill, page 549 of the Budget, an appropriation of $150,000 from the General Fund for veterans' claims and rights services, under the provisions of Chapter 1058, Statutes of 1943, to be expended under the supervision of the Veterans' Welfare Board.

This is the same amount as was previously appropriated in 1943. From this sum for the current biennium it is estimated that only $89,915 will be expended. This is for the reason that operations have covered only approximately one year of the biennium. There is only one employee and the same number is continued through the coming biennium. The largest expenditures are made to veterans' organizations on contract payments. These organizations operate in behalf of the veterans. The proposed payments for each year of the 1945-47 Biennium are as follows:

	1945-46	1946-47
American Legion	$41,413	$41,304
Disabled American Veterans	10,655	10,641
Veterans of Foreign Wars	16,587	16,530

If this service is to be continued the appropriation will be required. Since this provides for the expenditure of State money by contract with organizations not controlled by the State, it is suggested that periodic audits be made and the report filed with the Legislature, copy to the Legislative Auditor, accounting for all of the expenditures and a verification of the Department of Finance that they are satisfied that they have been made for the purposes as provided for in the statutes establishing it.

For Support of Division of Athletics

Item 186 of the Budget Bill, page 551 of the Budget, appropriates $141,260 from the Athletic Commission Fund for the support of the Division of Athletics in the Department of Military and Veterans Affairs. This is a special fund activity. This appropriation is $3,537 greater than for the current biennium. The increase is almost entirely in salaries and wages. No new employees will be added. The present staff of nine is continued.

It is expected that revenues will be increased by $6,424 or to a bienninal figure of $350,000. This organization licenses and polices the athletic events held under the Military and Veterans Code. It is not expected that their work will be decreased and, therefore, their budget should be maintained.

Memorandum: We have already in a previous part of this budget called attention to the fact that on page 548 of the Budget, Veterans Education Institute have expended $158,794, which is not carried forward into 1946-47, although there is a remaining balance in the fund. This has been eliminated by the Governor from the Budget for 1945-47.

The Veterans Dependent Education Fund found on page 550 of the Budget is a fixed charge, which sets aside $50,000 a year from the school and oil royalties under Section 898 of the Military and Veterans Code. Only $76,000 was spent for 1943-45. The Budget shows a contemplated expenditure for 1945-47 of $98,700 or an increase of $22,700.

Department of Motor Vehicles

Analysis of Assembly Bill No. 500 (Budget Bill) as It Applies to the Department of Motor Vehicles

Item 187—Budget Bill, page 15, pages 554-569 inclusive of the Budget —Appropriation $15,861,793 for support of the Department of Motor Vehicles, up $2,297,145.65 or 16.93 per cent.

Item 187.5 of the Budget Bill, pages 554-569 inclusive of the Budget, provides that the Director of Finance may authorize transfer of $2,428,658 from the Motor Vehicle Fund to Motor Vehicle Support Fund when necessary to meet claims against the appropriation made by Item 187. (Anticipated revenues as provided by law are not enough to finance Item 187, therefore transfers provided in Item 187.5 will be necessary to meet a deficit if the amount shown in Item 187 is allowed. This transfer would reduce the amount of money going to the counties for highways.)

Item 188 of the Budget Bill, pages 554-569 of the Budget—Appropriation $1,316,872, from the Motor Vehicle License Fee Fund to the License Fee Division—up $112,514.19 or 9.34 per cent.

Recommendation: That Item 187 be allowed for $14,860,660, up $91,654.84 over 1943-45, or .62 per cent; a decrease in the total Budget appropriation request of $2,318,005.

For detail see Exhibit A, Summary of Amounts shown in Printed Budget for the 1943-45 Biennium compared to Legislative Audit Estimate for the 1945-47 Biennium, and Exhibit B sheets 1 and 2, Estimate of Budget Required for the 1945-47 Biennium.

That Item 187.5 be changed to provide for a temporary loan of $120,000, to be made only when and if revenues to the Motor Vehicle Support Fund as now allocated by law are not sufficient to meet current operating expenses.

Item 188—Appropriate $1,316,872 from the Motor Vehicle License Fee Fund to be a revenue to the Motor Vehicle Support Fund and all to be budgeted from one source.

The way the Budget Bill as introduced reads, Item 188 no doubt would be handled as an abatement. By appropriating Item 188 as a revenue to the Motor Vehicle Support Fund, it will to some extent facilitate the bookkeeping of the department.

Basis of Recommendation: Estimates were prepared so as to provide ample funds to handle an estimated vehicle registration of 3,041,000 in each fiscal year of the 1945-47 Biennium.

Increases have been allowed in the estimates for salaries and wages ample to pay normal increases to all permanent employees now employed.

Additional funds have been allowed for the purchase of license plates for each fiscal year of the biennium at the rate of approximately 9½ cents per vehicle which when compared with 8.8 for 1940 plates, 9.2 cents for 1941 plates, when two plates per vehicle were purchased, and 8.48 for 1945 with only one plate per vehicle purchased, should provide ample for this expense.

The total cost of operating the Department of Motor Vehicles is definitely reflected by the number of vehicles registered each year. A study of Exhibit C, which shows the cost of operating the department for an eight-year period, brings out the importance of a unit cost analysis.

The following is a tabulation showing the increase in unit cost as shown in the printed Budget compared to actual figures for the 1943-44 Fiscal Year, the last year for which actual figures are available:

TABULATION I

	Registered vehicles	Expenditure	Unit cost	Increase in unit cost over 1943-44
Actual for 1943-44	3,041,925	$7,133,552	$2.345	----
Estimated for 1944-45	3,041,000	7,572,787	2.490	+$.155
Proposed for 1945-46	3,041,000	8,354,620	2.747	+ .402
Proposed for 1946-47	3,041,000	8,824,045	2.902	+ .557

The following is a tabulation showing Legislative Auditor's estimated increases for the Fiscal Years 1945-46 and 1946-47 compared to the actual figures for 1943-44 Fiscal Year and estimated amount for the 1944-45 Fiscal Year:

TABULATION II

	Registered vehicles	Expenditure	Unit cost	Increase in unit cost over 1943-44
Actual for 1943-44	3,041,925	$7,133,552	$2.345	----
Estimated for 1944-45	3,041,000	7,572,787	2,490	+$.155
Legislative Auditor's estimate for 1945-46	3,041,000	7,370,947	2,424	+ .079
Legislative Auditor's estimate for 1946-47	3,041,000	7,489,713	2,463	+ .118

A study of Exhibit C shows an average unit cost per vehicle registered of $2.262 for the five years 1939-44 where actual figures are available. Add to the five-year average unit cost of $2.262 an increase of $.152, the unit increase in cost of salaries made necessary by the war, makes a total unit cost of $2.414, which compares favorably with a unit cost of $2.424 as shown in Tabulation II for the year 1945-46.

Bases Used for Computing Budget Estimate for the Department of Motor Vehicles

(Estimates are computed on the basis of 3,041,000 registered vehicles in each fiscal year of the 1945-47 Biennium. Recent information indicates that no new vehicles will be available until after the end of the war.)

Salaries and Wages

The February, 1945, pay roll of permanent employees was used as the basis for computing salaries and wages. No provision was made for permanent positions that were vacant in February. To this was added amounts necessary for normal salary increases for the balance of the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1945, and for each fiscal year of the 1945-47 Biennium.

The amount requested in the Budget was allowed for temporary help, as there were no better figures available.

Added to the above are provisions for 19 radio telephone operators as requested in the printed Budget. This will release 19 patrolmen to actually work on the highways. An allowance is also made of $5,000 for a departmental accountant. This amount was included in the operating expense in making payment to the Department of Finance for Mr. Larabee's services during the last two fiscal years and including February of the current fiscal year.

For salary savings, the percentages allowed in the printed Budget were used, this being a departmental percentage of 3.94 per cent. This figure was conservative for the Budget, but inasmuch as the computations used for permanent employees is much closer than the figure appearing in the Budget, it is nearer actual experience. However, if too strict, it is possible the excess amount included for temporary employees may offset the extra amount computed for salary savings of permanent employees.

A study of the salary savings of permanent employees was made for the period beginning July 1, 1944, and ending February 28, 1945, and it was found that the difference between the total amount which might have been paid and the amount that was actually paid produced a savings of $71,181.81. This represents 2.07 per cent of the maximum possible earnings of permanent employees for this period. Inasmuch as we have a savings of 2.07 per cent on permanent employees' salaries which is caused by employees being docked, a total savings for the department of 3.94 per cent appears to be conservative.

Operating Expense

The expenditures shown in the Budget for the 1943-44 Fiscal Year were used as the basis in estimating operating expenses for each of the fiscal years of the 1945-47 Biennium. The total amount shown in the Budget is $1,330,061. To this amount has been added $190,000 which represents the difference in the cost of stickers which were used by the Division of Registration in 1944 and the cost of license plates for 1945. Also, an additional $6,000 was added to the Budget of the California Highway Patrol to bring it up to a more comparable figure as shown for past years. There was a deduction of $5,000 which was transferred to salaries and wages to cover the salary of a departmental accounting officer. The accounting officer's salary was on contract during the past fiscal year and was charged to operating expense. This leaves a grand total of $1,521,061 for operating expense—which, according to past experience, should be ample.

Equipment

Equipment expenditures for the Fiscal Year 1943-44 shown in the Budget for the department is $252,308. Inasmuch as the California Highway Patrol spent considerably more money for automotive equipment than a normal year, a deduction of $125,000 has been made to bring the estimate for equipment down to $127,308 for the department. Consideration was given to allowing an additional amount for equipment for the men who are now working in offices who should be on the road when 19 radio men are employed.

Upon inquiry, it was found that men in the field generally already have equipment which they use to go back and forth to work and additional equipment would have to be supplied only to those who are working in headquarters.

The amount of $127,308 is ample for equipment providing it is properly used.

Total Budget

After making the above adjustments, the estimates are:

For the Fiscal Year 1945-46	$7,370,947
For the Fiscal Year 1946-47	7,489,713
Total estimate for 1945-47 Biennium	$14,860,660

On the basis of present estimates for income for the Biennium 1945-47, this will leave a deficit of approximately $220,000. Therefore, in the memo on "Changes in the Budget Bill" there is included under "Recommendations" that provisions be made for $120,000 to be transferred as a loan to the Motor Vehicle Support Fund.

Additional Savings Possible

An additional savings can be made in the Division of Administration, Bureau of Accounting, Apportionment Section, by having most of the work of this apportionment section done in the field at the various certificate issuing offices.

This has been discussed quite thoroughly both with Dr. Davis, Deputy Director of the Department, and Mr. Marceron, the Traveling Auditor, besides making our own independent survey in the Sacramento office. The following conclusion has been reached:

There are at the present time approximately 23 permanent employees in the apportionment section. Also, there was a sizeable allocation for temporary help, which makes the expenditure for the section in the neighborhood of $70,000 for each fiscal year or $140,000 for the biennium. After various consultations with staff of the department, we have come to the agreement that a minimum of 12 additional permanent employees in the field and four permanent employees at headquarters (a total of 16 permanent employees altogether) should handle the work of the 23 employees mentioned above, with the addition of approximately 10 temporary employees during the renewal period. This would make a total of approximately 26 employees at the peak and possibly would involve an expenditure of $35,000 each fiscal year or $70,000 each biennium. This would produce a savings of $70,000 for the biennium if the change is made.

Another thing to consider, is that when the survey is definitely made in the field, it might be determined that several less permanent employees would be needed, thereby making an additional savings.

Employees

The records of the department show the following as being the number of permanent employees:

July 1944 pay roll	2225 paid
February 1945 pay roll	2255 paid
Budget shows	2433 positions—some vacant

The above shows there were 30 more permanent employees employed in February, 1945, than in July, 1944. The Budget shows 2,433 employees, or 178 more employees than were employed in February, and 208 more employees than were employed in July, 1944.

On the following page is a schedule of the personnel of the California Highway Patrol on the various dates shown. The following shows a

Cooperation with Sheriffs

In order to place as many traffic officers on the highways as possible, the Patrol should be required to cooperate more closely with the sheriffs' offices in receiving messages after the regular hours for the Highway Patrol office.

It has come to our attention during our survey that many of the counties maintain a swing shift in the local Highway Patrol office, and in a few instances they are open on a 24-hour basis. Some of these offices use highway patrolmen in order to keep the office open. This means that on Saturday afternoons, Sundays and holidays, able-bodied patrolmen are sitting in the Highway Patrol office awaiting messages, instead of being out on the road regulating traffic and doing the job for which they were hired. By having proper cooperation with the sheriffs' offices, it will be possible to close most of these Highway Patrol offices at 5 o'clock when the clerical help goes off duty, and for the patrolmen on patrol duty to receive their messages through the sheriffs' facilities.

This cooperative program will make it possible to place an undeterminable amount of men on the road which will be no doubt somewhere between 20 and 35 men. This will give the added service which the Chief of the Patrol thinks should be rendered.

There are many other places where better management will yield values to the public equivalent to a large increase in manpower—larger in fact than is provided in the Governor's Budget.

We recommend this internal improvement be made before more personnel is added.

Department of Natural Resources

For Support of Departmental Administration

Item 189 Budget Bill, pages 572-573, inclusive, of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund, $163,975; increase of $33,668 or 25.8 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $130,307 for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

Recommendation: Approval of Item 189 in the amount of $163,975 without reduction.

General Fund proposed expenditures for 1945-1947 are up by $33,668 or 25.8 per cent as is shown by the table below. However, $18,080 is in effect a transfer of positions from another division in the department. The net increase is only $15,588.

	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase or decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent
Support	$223,394	$268,175	+$44,781	+20.0
Less: Prorate costs of Departmental administration included in Budget of special fund divisions:
Division of Beaches and Parks	26,225	27,200	+ 975	+ 3.7
Division of Fish and Game	58,357	69,000	+ 10,642	+18.2
Division of Oil and Gas	8,505	8,000	— 505	— 5.9
Totals, special funds' pro rata cost	$93,087	$104,200	+$11,112	+11.9
Net total expenditure—General Fund	$130,306	$163,975	+$33,668	+25.8

The table below summarizes proposed expenditures for administration allocated to different divisions and charged to the General Fund, by object of expenditure:

Object	Budget page No.	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase or decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent
Salaries and wages	572	$199,550	$242,360	+$42,810	+21.5
Operating expense	572	21,038	23,100	+ 2,062	+ 9.8
Equipment	572	2,805	2,715	— 90	+ 3.2
Totals		$223,393	$268,175	+$44,782	+20.0
Less: pro rata cost to divisions	572	93,087	104,200	+ 11,112	+11.9
Net total expenditures—General Fund	572	$130,306	$163,975	+$33,668	+25.8

The foregoing table shows that operating expenses are up by 9.8 per cent and equipment expenditures are down by 3.2 per cent. Proposed salary expense is up by $42,810 or 21.5 per cent. Of this increased salary expense, $18,080 is for five positions classified as new positions but which are in effect transfers from the Division of Forestry. These transferred positions are as follows:

No. positions Fiscal Year 1945-46	Cumulative total 1946-47	Classification	Total amount 1945-46	1946-47
3	3	Intermediate typist-clerk	$5,030	$5,390
1	1	Intermediate account clerk	2,100	2,100
1	1	Clerk-typist	1,670	1,790
5	5	Total new position—Fiscal years	8,800	9,280
		Total—For biennium		$18,080

These five transferred positions would bring the number of authorized positions for Departmental Administration to 52.

The Budget subitems for departmental administration are in line and we recommend that Item 189 in the amount of $163,975 be approved without change.

For Support of Division of Beaches and Parks, Department of Natural Resources

Item 190 Budget Bill, pages 574-578, inclusive, of the Budget, appropriation from the State Park Maintenance Fund, $852,286; increase of $297,756 or 53.6 per cent over estimated expenditure of $554,530 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

This is technically a special fund item but not self-supporting. The money comes from oil royalties.

The proposed increase of $297,756 or 53.6 per cent by object and type of expenditure follows:

	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase or decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent
Salaries and Wages:
Administration	$50,973	$68,360	+ $17,387	+ 34.1

Total—Equipment	$7,365	$69,060	+ $61,695	+ 837.6
Totals	$574,566	$877,286	+$302,720	+ 52.7
Less: Reimbursement for maintenance	16,536	18,000	----------	-------
Abatement from Santa Barbara City for La Purissima mission maintenance	3,500	7,000	----------	-------
Total deductions	$20,036	$25,000	— $4,964	— 24.7
Total net expenditure	$554,530	$852,286	+$297,756	+ 53.6

It will be noticed that operating expenses are up by $85,052 or 46.9 per cent; that equipment expenses are scheduled to advance from some $7,000 for 1943-45 to almost $70,000 for 1945-47. Salaries and wages are up by $155,973, or 40.4 per cent.

Concerning the scheduled increase for Item 190 of $297,756 or 53.6 per cent, the Division of Parks and Beaches reports as follows:

"The major items in this increase are brought about by the following conditions:

(1) During the present biennium, we have acquired six new properties involving an area of 4,234 acres and valued at $824,000. These new properties must be manned, operated, and maintained.

(2) We are requesting replacement of such of our automotive equipment which has traveled more than 100,000 miles.

(3) (There is provision for) normal increase in salary adjustments predicated upon rules and regulations of the State Personnel Board.

(4) Throughout the duration, we have not been able to properly maintain the 1,500 or more structures that are located throughout the system because of shortage in materials and manpower.

(5) During this coming biennium, we will hire an erosion control engineer and a staff of four people in order to comply with a legislative mandate.

(6) The Budget reveals an increase in the operating personnel of 32 positions above the erosion control engineer and his staff; however, 19 of these positions were called war emergency positions which have now been made a part of our permanent organization in order to take care of the former services rendered this Division by such agencies as the Civilian Conservation Corps, Works Progress Administration, and State Emergency Relief Administration, from which organizations we derived a considerable volume of manpower toward maintenance of our parks from 1934 to 1942. The above-referred to agencies contributed $7,000,000 toward the development of our State Park System in that they built many of our present structures, financing even the material costs of same plus the labor. The structures erected by them vary in age from four to ten years and are now beginning to require an extensive amount of maintenance and repair, which, if not provided, will cause a very considerable loss in the way of capital investment.

(7) This division must also, in this Budget, make allowance for the fact that the moment the restrictions are removed from travel, our facilities will be taxed to the utmost. All park and recreation authorities agree that recreational activities will be greatly expanded immediately after V-Day due to two main causes:

(a) That people have been denied their normal recreational desires due to wartime restrictions, and

(b) That at the beginning of the war the normal work week was considered to be 44 hours; now, the general normal work week has been reduced to 40 hours, thus permitting people two full days per week for recreational purposes.

(8) During the past biennium, we, on several occasions, have had to ask for deficiency appropriations to take care of major emergencies in order to protect our utilities and structures from disintegrating beyond the point of usefulness.

Despite some validity that attaches to the above explanations for the very substantial increase in proposed expenditures, we believe that the amount requested is considerably above the amount needed and, in fact, substantially above the amount that will be spent. In this connection, we wish to point out that the Division of Parks and Beaches is not a self-supporting enterprise. The money from the State Park Maintenance Fund is from State oil lands royalties. These funds in our opinion should be allocated to the General Fund for general State uses and should be budgeted and appropriated where needed. There are special inducements for the exercise of less economy in connection with the acquisition and administration of State Parks and Beaches on the general assumption that this is a special fund agency.

While we recommend that this item be approved without specific reduction, we further recommend that the Legislature specifically declare its intent that the Department of Finance shall exercise particularly strict and complete application of the general over-all salary savings, and over-all recommended reductions for the operating expense items of printing, automobile, and traveling.

In the interest of desirable simplification of the State's accounting and auditing procedures and the elimination of unnecessary duplication of record-keeping, we recommend that the three special funds of the State Park Maintenance Fund, the State Park Fund, and the State Beach Fund be abolished, and that the receipts go to the General Fund and appropriations be made for these facilities on the basis of need.

Items 191 and 192 omitted in Appropriation Bill.

For Acquisition of Additional Redwood Park Areas by Division of Beaches and Parks

Item 193 Budget Bill, page 578 of the Budget, appropriation from the State Park Fund, $104,445.

Recommendation: Approval without change.

This proposed appropriation item would provide $104,445 for the acquisition of additional redwood park areas in Humboldt and Del Norte Counties by the Division of Beaches and Parks to implement Chapter 62, Statutes of 1943. Purchases would be subject to the approval of the Department of Finance. There is the further proviso that any amount withdrawn from this appropriation item must be matched by like amounts in money, property or lands from private or other sources.

As this proposed expenditure would be for a good investment in the recreational and scenic resources of the State, and is hedged in by appropriate fiscal control safeguards, we recommend approval of Item 193 of the Appropriation Bill in the amount of $104,445 without reduction.

For Construction, Etc., of State Parks, Division of Beaches and Parks, Department of Natural Resources

Item 194 Budget Bill, pages 578-581 inclusive of the Budget; appropriation from the State Park Fund, $155,950.

This appropriation item covers a number of construction, repair, and maintenance projects for the several State parks as detailed on pages 578-581 of the Budget. Practically all of these proposed projects are for the second year of the biennium. These projects appear to be in line insofar as amounts are concerned. We accordingly recommend that Item 194 of the Budget Bill in the amount of $155,950 be approved without reduction but that a new provision be inserted into Item 194 stating that in the event that the war is not over by the end of the first fiscal year of the biennium and wartime Federal controls over manpower and materials have not been lifted by that time, none of the budgeted construction, maintenance, and improvement items shall be undertaken except upon specific approval of the Department of Finance on the grounds that serious property loss to the State would occur through further postponement.

For Construction, Etc., of State Beaches, Division of Beaches and Parks, Department of Natural Resources

Item 195 Budget Bill, pages 581-582 of the Budget; appropriation from State Beach Fund, $26,500.

This appropriation item covers a number of construction, repair, and maintenance projects at State beaches as detailed on pages 581 and 582 of the Budget. Insofar as amounts proposed are concerned these projects are in line. Accordingly, we recommend that Item 195 of the Budget Bill be approved without reduction, but that a new provision be inserted into Item 195 of the Appropriation Bill to the effect that in the event that the war is not over by the end of the first fiscal year of the biennium and wartime Federal controls over manpower and materials have not been lifted by that time, none of the budgeted construction, maintenance, and improvement items shall be undertaken except upon specific approval of the Department of Finance on the grounds that serious property loss to the State would accrue through further postponement.

For Support of Division of Fish and Game, Department of Natural Resources

Item 196 Budget Bill, pages 584-595, inclusive, of the Budget, appropriation from the Fish and Game Preservation Fund, $4,728,569; increase of $1,506,644 or 46.7 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $3,221,925 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

This is a special fund entirely self-supporting agency.

The proposed increase of $1,506,643 is divided among the following nine activities covered by this appropriation item:

FISH AND GAME PRESERVATION FUND

Expenditures Support	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Estimated and proposed 1945-47	Increase or decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent
Administration	$284,981	$359,320	+ $74,338	+26.0
Patrol and law enforcement	1,068,501	1,591,479	+ 522,977	+48.9

Totals, support	$3,221,925	$4,728,569	+$1,506,643	+46.7

The proposed expenditure of $4,728,569 is almost as much as the estimated revenue for the Fish and Game Preservation Fund for the 1945-47 Biennium. This proposed expenditure for support, plus other budgeted expenditures for other items, bring the total proposed expenditures from the Fish and Game Preservation Fund to $5,798,109, which is over a million dollars in excess of estimated revenue for this fund. The following statement summarizes the predicted status of this unbudgeted surplus.

STATEMENT OF UNBUDGETED SURPLUS—FISH AND GAME PRESERVATION FUND

Estimated unbudgeted surplus, July 1, 1945		$3,868,043
Estimated revenue for Biennium 1945-1947		4,751,710
Total		$8,619,753
Less proposed expenditures for Biennium 1945-47:
Support	$4,728,569
Contributions to State Employees Retirement Fund	99,540
Other current expenses	50,000
Capital outlay	920,000
Total proposed expenditures		5,798,109
Estimated unbudgeted surplus, June 30, 1947 (a decrease of $1,046,399)		$2,821,644

The proposed increase of $1,506,644 or 46.7 per cent is summarized by object of expenditure as follows:

Object	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase or decrease 1945-47 over 1943-45 Amount	Per cent
Salary and wages:
Positions now authorized	$1,943,117	$2,231,100	+ $287,983	+14.8
Estimated salary savings	—36,305	—60,000	— 23,695	—65.2
1945-47 normal salary adjustments		24,315	+ 24,315	-----
Proposed new positions		459,020	+ 459,020	-----
Total—Salaries and wages	$1,906,812	$2,654,435	+ 747,623	+39.2
Operating expense	1,308,825	1,853,735	+ 544,910	+41.6
Equipment	27,078	271,885	+ 244,807	+904.0
Totals	$3,242,715	$4,780,055	+$1,537,340	+47.4
Less:
Reimbursement for maintenance	—20,790	—20,790	-------	---
Abatements for expenditure chargeable to Pittman-Robertson Act projects		—30,696	—30,696	---
Net totals for support	$3,221,925	$4,728,569	+$1,506,644	+46.7

Operating expenses are budgeted at an increase of over half a million dollars or 41 per cent; while the budgeted amount for equipment is up by almost a quarter of a million dollars. The total increase for salaries and wages exceeds $740,000 or 39.2 per cent. Of this increase for salaries, almost $460,000 is for the salaries of 66 new positions for the first year of the biennium and a cumulative total of 116 for the second year.

We are convinced that this Budget is out of line with even the expanded needs of a postwar period. We propose reduction of $400,000 or 8.5 per cent to $4,380,055. This proposed reduction would be divided up among objects of expenditure as follows:

Proposed new positions	$200,000
Operating expenses	150,000
Equipment	50,000

We would leave the specific allocation to the division.

We do not believe that conditions will be such that the increase asked for can be economically spent. If they are and more money is needed it can be secured through deficiency allotments or in January, 1947, at the next regular session of the Legislature for the last six months of the biennium.

In addition, there would be the over-all reductions recommended earlier in this report for salary savings, and the operating expenses of printing, automobile, and traveling. In this connection, it is recommended that the Legislature declare its intent that the Department of Finance shall exercise particularly strict and complete application of these general savings items in connection with its administration of the appropriation for the Division of Fish and Game.

For Cooperation with the Federal Government

Item 197 Budget Bill, pages 584 and 594 of the Budget, appropriation from the Fish and Game Preservation Fund, $50,000; increase of $37,252 or 292.2 per cent over estimated expenditure of $12,748 for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

Recommendation: Acceptance without reduction.

This proposed expenditure represents the State's cooperation with the Federal Government in the purchase of land for game protection, improvement of waterfowl areas and research in game management under provisions of the Pittman-Robertson Act. It represents an increase of almost three times the State's expenditure for the current biennium because more Federal Funds are available.

We recommend that this Item 197 in the sum of $50,000 be approved without reduction.

For Public Shooting Grounds

Item 198 Budget Bill, page 594 of the Budget, appropriation from the Fish and Game Preservation Fund, $674,000; increase of $667,500 over estimated expenditure of $6,500 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Recommendation: Approval of Item 198 in the sum of $674,000 without reduction.

This proposed expenditure of $674,000 is for the purchase of land for public shooting grounds, subject to the approval of the Department of Finance. Of the $674,000, $174,000 is for public shooting grounds in the San Joaquin Valley for expenditure during the first fiscal year; and the remaining $500,000 is for public shooting grounds, unallocated, divided equally between the two years of the biennium.

We recommend approval of Item 198 in the amount of $674,000 without reduction, as the expenditure will represent an investment for the State and for the use of its citizens, the money is available in the Fish and Game Preservation Fund, and all purchases must have the prior approval of the Department of Finance.

It is expected that fees from this new activity will support it. We do not concur in this in its entirety. It is true fees should go a long way toward paying expense, but we doubt if they will be sufficient.

The purchase of property for public shooting ground is a matter of policy for the Legislature to decide.

For Construction, Etc., Division of Fish and Game, Department of Natural Resources

Item 199 Budget Bill, page 594 of the Budget; appropriation from Fish and Game Preservation Fund, $246,000; increase of $133,500 over the estimated expenditure of $112,500 for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

This proposed expenditure of $246,000 is for construction, improvements, and equipment in connection with a number of projects as detailed on page 594 of the Budget. We recommend approval of appropriation Item 199 in the amount of $246,000 without reduction; with, however, a specific reservation being added to the appropriation item to the effect that none of these projects shall be undertaken until the end of the war and until Federal controls over manpower and materials are lifted except upon the written approval of the Department of Finance which shall grant such approval only on the grounds that serious property loss would accrue to the State through further postponement of given projects.

For Division of Forestry, Department of Natural Resources

There are five appropriation items relating to the Division of Forestry as follows:

Item 200.	For support of Division of Forestry	$5,958,687
Item 201.	For direct allotment to cooperating counties for prevention and suppression of forest fires on timber and watershed lands, Division of Forestry	$434,000
Item 202.	For direct allotment to the United States Department of Agriculture, for prevention and suppression of forest fires on private and State owned lands located inside the boundaries of United States Forest Reserves within this State, Division of Forestry	$500,000
Item 203.	For white pine blister rust control protection, Division of Forestry—provided that any amount withdrawn from this item must be matched by an expenditure of a like amount by the Federal Government in this State for the same purpose.
Item 204.	For emergency fire suppression, Division of Forestry, to be transferred to Item 200 upon executive order of the Director of Finance	$250,000
Item 205.	For the purchase of real property, Division of Forestry, subject to the approval of the Department of Finance	$55,200

For Support of Division of Forestry

Item 200 Budget Bill, pages 596, 604, inclusive, of the Budget, appropriation from the General Fund, $5,958,678, increase of $903,652 or 17.9 per cent over estimated expenditure of $5,055,035 for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

Our recommendation: Reduce Item 200 by $607,502 or 10.2 per cent to $5,351,176.

Also apply the over-all General Fund saving to produce an over-all $10,000,000 for General Fund and the salary saving previously described.

Also adjust expenditures so as to include the operation of the mobile pool units assigned to local agencies for the Fiscal Year 1945-46 at an estimated cost of $79,023.50.

We believe that by proper allocation of forces, use of radio, better and more equipment, and better organization, better results should be secured for less cost per acre than in the past.

I. Statistical Summary

The increase of $903,653 or 17.9 per cent in State expenditure for 1945-1947 proposed by Item 200 over the estimated expenditure for 1943-1945 is given by the table following by object of expenditure:

The Budget provides for a net increase in the number of regular year-round positions from 310 for 1944-1945 to 352 for 1945-1946 and to 355 for 1946-1947. Included in this increase is allowance for the extension of 90 wartime positions to permanent jobs. The Budget also provides that the labor reported on a seasonal basis shall increase from 10,554 man months in 1943-1944 and 11,113 in 1944-1945 to 10,656 for each year of the coming biennium.

II. Findings and Recommendations

1. The increase of $903,653 or 17.9 per cent in proposed expenditures for 1945-1947 over the 1943-1945 level is out of line as expenditures for the current Biennium (1943-1945) are high by virtue of special wartime activities and general expansion of activities. A substantial beginning should be made during the 1945-1947 Biennium to return to a more moderate peacetime expenditure program for this division.

2. To this end and to effect necessary and desirable economy, we recommend that Item 200 be reduced by $607,502 or 10.2 per cent to $5,351,176, which would still permit an increase of $296,141 or 5.9 per cent over the estimated amount for 1943-1945. We propose that this recommended reduction of $607,502 would be divided among different activities as follows:

(a) Eliminate 90 war emergency positions from the Budget for the second year of the biennium. This results in a saving of $200,250. This procedure has been followed in connection with other sectors of the Governor's Budget and is clearly needed for the Forestry Division because of mushroom expansion during the war period. The need for extra precautions against fires being set by enemy aliens will have diminished very materially by the beginning of the second year of the biennium.

(b) Reduce the Budget by $232,500 to $150,000 for the salaries of certain standby employees during the winter months. The Budget provides 10,406 man months work or salary expenditures of $382,500 for the employment of foremen, bulldozer operators, and cooks throughout the winter months for work on the maintenance of roads, trails, fire breaks, telephone lines, and other improvements. Before the war the Division of Forestry had no authorization to employ such key fire fighting personnel on a year-round basis. We believe that the Budget allows the Division of Forestry to expand in this particular sector much more than is necessary and desirable. The sum of $150,000, a reduction of $232,500, represents a more realistic and reasonable amount for such winter employment.

(c) Reduce operating expenses by about 5 per cent or $75,000. This reduction approximately reflects the decreased need for operating expenditures as a result of the recommended reductions in the budgeted allowances for full time and winter standby personnel discussed above.

(d) Reduce the budgeted amount of expenditures for equipment by $100,000 or 17.7 per cent to $463,787. The Budget provides $563,787 for equipment during the 1945-1947 Biennium, an increase of $378,061 or 203.5 per cent over the estimated amount for 1943-1945. Of this increase, $131,052 is the expanded expense for automobile and truck equipment. From information available to us we are convinced that a cut of $100,000 in automobile equipment is clearly indicated and we recommend such a reduction.

Item 201 Budget Bill, pages 596-597. Appropriates $434,000 out of the General Fund to the Division of Forestry for direct allotment to cooperating counties for prevention and suppression of fires on timber and watershed lands.

This allocation is made to five counties to reimburse them for fire protection and suppression wherein the State would otherwise carry on this work.

The State also proposes to allocate from the receipts from the Federal Government from Clarke-McNary Funds, the sum of $170,000 for 1945-47. This is shown on page 597 of the Budget but it is not shown in the Appropriation Bill. So in effect the allocation to these five counties by the State for 1945-47 will be $604,000, an increase of $416,356 or 222 per cent over 1943-45 total allocation.

While Los Angeles County in particular has not previously received adequate assistance in this matter, the pendulum now swings to the other end of the arc. Moreover the continuing of the practice of allowing the Division of Forestry to allocate money for expenditures without legislative approval should be stopped.

Likewise we have recommended that the Budget of the Division of Forestry be curtailed materially which has the effect of reducing Item 201 or what the State would spend in these five counties with a reduced Budget.

We, therefore, recommend that the amount of Item 201 be reduced and it be combined to include all Clarke-McNary Funds and be amended accordingly. The combined amount to be $523,000 or still an increase of $335,356 or 178.7 per cent to be allocated under the following conditions. Item 201 to be amended as follows:

"Which shall not be augmented by funds received from the Federal Government as grants under the Clarke-McNary Act" (June 7, 1924, Chapter 348—43 Statutes 653).

Out of this sum $353,000 shall be allocated to the several counties concerned as follows:

	Fiscal Year 1945-46	1946-47
1. Los Angeles County	$83,777	$83,777
2. Ventura County	25,214	25,214
3. Santa Barbara County	25,214	25,214
4. San Mateo County	25,214	25,214
5. Marin County	17,081	17,081
Total	$176,500	$176,500

The remaining $170,000 shall be allocated to these counties in direct proportion one-half annually as they qualify in the State qualifications for Clarke-McNary Funds, any amount not qualified for shall revert to the General Fund of the State.

The result would be to actually increase Item 201 by $89,000,000 but to eliminate the $170,000 Clarke-McNary item of appropriation made by the Division of Forestry and the cause of so much friction in past years.

This would eliminate another special fund and simplify accounting, all around and give the Legislature definite control by specific appropriation and limits on expenditures.

All Clarke-McNary receipts would go at once into the General Fund and no special account for this one item would have to be preserved as will be required under the procedure proposed on page 597 of the Budget.

Item 202 Budget Bill, page 596 of the Budget. Appropriates $500,000 to the Division of Forestry for direct allocation to the United States Department of Agriculture for prevention and suppression of forest fires on private and State owned lands located inside boundaries of United States Forest Reserves within the State.

This is an increase of $281,676.63 or 129 per cent over the appropriation of $218,323.27 for 1943-45. This sum does not yet equal the per acre expenditure of the Federal Forest Service in protecting such forest lands but it approximates the per acre expenditure of the State. Since it is proposed to reduce the appropriation request of the division it is recommended this item also be reduced accordingly to $418,000 thus allowing approximately $200,000 increase for the biennium.

Item 203 of the Budget Bill, page 596 of the Budget. Appropriates $100,000 to the Division of Forestry to be matched by expenditure of like sum by the Federal Government for the same purpose.

This expenditure is for the purpose of controlling the blister rust hosts and thus the fungi which threatens destruction to our most valuable pine species. We recommend this appropriation and if the Federal Government will spend more we should match it.

Item 204 of the Budget Bill, page 596 of the Budget. Appropriates $250,000 to the Division of Forestry for emergency fire suppression, to be transferred to item 200 upon executive order of the Director of Finance.

This can be spent only under above conditions when other funds are not available. If the regular fire prevention and suppression crews are highly effective little of this need be spent.

In 1943-45 there was spent and estimated to June 30, 1945 the sum of $221,553. This is an increase of $28,447. We recommend the full appropriation.

Item 205 of the Budget Bill, pages 596, 607 and 608 of the Budget. Appropriates $55,200 from the General Fund for purchase of Real Property for the Division of Forestry on approval of the Director of Finance.

The detail is shown on pages 607 and 608 of the Budget. There are some 21 objects and all for land where there is a considerable investment in buildings and other improvements.

Recommend appropriation be approved for $55,200 as requested.

Division of Mines

For support of the Division of Mines, Department of Natural Resources.

Item 206 Budget Bill, pages 610 to 613 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the General Fund, $304,899; increase of $122,429 or 67.1 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $182,470 for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

Recommendation:

Reduce Item 206 by $16,380 or 5.3 per cent to $288,519.

Bookkeeping transactions bring the proposed increase for support for 1945-1947 up ti $124,199, an increase of 65.1 per cent over the estimated expenditures for the 1943-1945 Biennium. Of this increase, $55,526 or 44.7 per cent is for operating expenses and $8,466 or 6.8 per cent is for equipment expenditures. Salaries and wages account for $40,207 or 32.3 per cent of the total increase. The table below presents further details of the proposed increase by objects of expenditure.

Object	Actual and estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent	Per cent of net total increase

In addition to application of the overall deductions for salary savings, and traveling automobile, and printing operating expense items, we recommend the following:

I. Operating expenses: A reduction of $13,500 or 11.1 per cent in budgeted expenditures for this purpose is recommended. We further recommend that this reduction be divided among individual operating expense items as follows:

Operating Expense Items	Estimated 1943-45	Proposed 1945-47	Reductions recommended for 1945-47	Amounts resulting for 1945-47
Office	$3,095	$3,400	$------	$3,400

Technical reports	350	2,500	------	2,500
Totals, Operating Equipment	$65,774	$121,270	$13,500	$107,770

2. Salaries and Wages: We also recommend a reduction of $2,880 which represents the first year budgeted salary expense for the proposed new position of Assistant Mining Engineer which we recommend not to be established until the second year of the biennium as the other proposed new positions will be sufficient to bring this division's staff up to the needed level under existing conditions.

3. Total Recommended Reduction: The foregoing recommendations would reduce appropriation Item 206 by $16,380 or 5.4 per cent to $288,519.

For Geological Exploration

Item 207 Budget Bill, pages 610 and 612 of the Budget, appropriation from the General Fund, $100,000.

This proposed appropriation of $100,000 for geological explorations in cooperation with the United States Geological Survey for development of additional mineral resources; to be matched by like amounts contributed or expended by the Federal Government. This proposed expenditure may be expected to yield sufficient values to the State to justify it. We recommend that Item 207 in the amount of $100,000 be approved without reduction.

Division of Oil and Gas

For Support of Division of Oil and Gas, Department of Natural Resources.

Item 208 Budget Bill, pages 614-616, inclusive, of the Budget; appropriation from the Petroleum and Gas Fund, $449,838; increase of $20,837 or 4.8 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $429,001 for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

Recommendation: Approve Item 208 without reduction.

This is an entirely self-supporting agency. The relatively small proposed increase of $20,837 results from the expectation that existing positions will be kept pretty well occupied during the coming biennium, from normal salary increases, and from minor and desirable upward adjustments in operating expenditure items. This division is closely budgeted. We recommend that Item 208 in the amount of $449,838 be approved without reduction.

Department of Professional and Vocational Standards

Items 209-227, inclusive, of the Budget Bill, pages 617-659 of the Budget amounts to $1,699,155. This is an over-all increase of $288,820 or 20.47 per cent over estimated expenditures of $1,410,695 for the 1943-45 Biennium. These are all special fund self-supporting agencies and should appropriations not be sufficient and an emergency exist, a deficiency can be allowed by the Director of Finance under the provisions of Political Code Section 661.

An item by item analysis of the respective appropriations for the Department follows.

Table I gives a comparative analysis of Expenditures and Revenues by administrative division 1943-45 compared with the 1945-47 Biennium.

For Support of Board of Accountancy

Item 209 Budget Bill, pages 619-620 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the Accountancy Fund, $28,996: increase of $2,489 or 9.38 per cent over estimated expenditures of $26,507 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Increased operating expenses contribute largely to the proposed increased expenditures. Very substantial increases are requested for both printing and travel. Revenues are expected to decline from $33,983 in the 1943-45 Biennium to $33,225 in the 1945-47 Biennium, a decrease of $758.

We recommend that travel and printing expense be reduced $500 and $200 respectively, thus effecting a saving for the biennium of $750.

For Support of Architectural Examiners

Item 210 Budget Bill, pages 621-622 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the Board of Architectural Examiners Fund, $25,958; increase of $5,147 or 25.98 per cent over estimated expenditures of $19,811 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Our examination of the proposed expenditures for this board reveals normal increased costs only. Automobile equipment accounts for $1,300 of the proposed expense; and automobile operating expense amounts to $700 for the biennium. Increased traveling expense from $4,518 in the 1943-45 Biennium to $5,400 in the ensuing biennium requires an additional $800.

We recommend acceptance of the Board of Architectural Examiners Budget as submitted.

For Support of Barber Examiners

Item 211 Budget Bill, pages 263-264 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the Barber Examiner Fund, $107,614; increase of $9,251 or 9.40 per cent over estimated expenditure of $98,363 for the 1943-45 Biennium. While proposed expenditures are up $9,251 or 9.40 per cent over the current biennium; estimated revenues in the 1945-1947 Biennium are expected to increase by $4,087 or 4.32 per cent. No new positions are requested and the bulk of the increase arises from increased miscellaneous operating expenses, none of which are unduly out of line.

We recommend the requested appropriation be granted.

For Support of Board of Registration for Civil Engineers

Item 212 Budget Bill, pages 625-626 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the Civil Engineers Fund, $66,057; increase of $2,728 or 4.3 per cent estimated expenditure of $63,329 for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

It is estimated the cost of support will increase by 4 per cent with a comparable increase in revenues. The principal increase in expenses for the 1945-47 Biennium results from the proposed purchase of a new car, plus a $700 allowance for its operation. We believe this budget is in line and recommend that expenditures be approved.

For Support of Contractors' License Board

Item 213 Budget Bill, pages 627-629 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the Contractors' License Fund, $406,954; increase of $105,504 or 34.99 per cent over estimated expenditure of $301,450 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

1. We believe that the Contractors' License Board has overestimated its requirements, particularly during the first year of the ensuing biennium.

2. We recommend that proposed new positions be reduced by 50 per cent to a total cost of $13,290 in the first fiscal year of the biennium thus effecting a saving of $13,295. We further recommend that expense for automobile equipment be reduced in the first fiscal year of the biennium from $6,300 to $3,600, making possible a saving of $2,700.

3. Travel expense should also be reduced. We recommend this item be cut from $24,300 for the biennium to $18,225, a saving of $6,075.

4. These recommended reductions will result in total savings for the biennium amounting to $22,065. The revenues are estimated to increase only 24 per cent.

For Support of Board of Cosmetology

Item 214 Budget Bill, pages 630-631 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the Board of Cosmetology Contingent Fund, $181,694; increase of $162,334 or 11.92 per cent over estimated expenditure of $162,334 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Total for support shows a 12 per cent increase while anticipated revenues are expected to decline from $182,454 in the 1943-45 Biennium to $176,100 in the 1945-1947 period, a decrease of 3.48 per cent.

Request for one new position appears to be in order.

Operating expenses show a substantial increase—$63,282 in the 1943-45 Biennium to $69,464 in the 1945-47 Biennium, an increase of $6,182.

Our analysis does not indicate unduly out-of-line proposed expenditures. We recommend the budget be accepted as submitted.

For Support of Board of Dental Examiners

Item 215 Budget Bill, pages 632-633 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the Dentistry Fund, $72,152; increase of $7,110 or 10.93 per cent over estimated expenditure of $65,042 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Expenditures for support are scheduled to increase by 10.93 per cent while anticipated revenues are estimated to decline from $62,730, $62,225, a decrease of $505 or 8.05 per cent.

The $7,110 increase in expenditures for the biennium is due to the proposed employment of an additional inspector. This position already exists but has been vacant due to a resignation and inability of the board to find another qualified employee. We recommend this budget be approved.

For Support of Detective License Bureau

Item 216 Budget Bill, pages 634-635 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the Detective Agency Contingent Fund, $15,352; decrease of $15,428 or 49.87 per cent over estimated expenditure of $30,780 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

The bureau was originally under the Board of Prison Directors in the former Department of Penology setup. When the new Department of Corrections was established the functions of the bureau were transferred to the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards and costs of administration have been reduced materially.

We recommend the Budget be approved.

For Support of Board of Funeral Directors and Embalmers

Item 217 Budget Bill, pages 636-637 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the Funeral Directors and Embalmers Fund, $41,835; increase of $3,846 or 10.12 per cent over estimated expenditure of $37,989 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Support will increase by $3,846 or 10 per cent compared with an estimated decline in revenue from $40,228 in the 1943-45 Biennium to $39,000 in the 1945-47 Biennium, a decrease of $1,228 or 3.05 per cent.

Our examination of this Budget indicates that proposed expenditures for this bureau are not excessive and we recommend the requested appropriation be approved.

For Support of Bureau of Furniture and Bedding Inspection

Item 218 Budget Bill, pages 638-640 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the Bureau of Bedding and Inspection Fund, $208,808: increase of $55,962 or 36.61 per cent over estimated expenditures of $152,846 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

In spite of the fact that estimated expenditures are to increase by 36.61 per cent and estimated revenues are to increase from $207,616 to $207,776 or 7.7 per cent, we believe this bureau's total appropriation request is justifiable. Our conclusions are based on the following information.

1. California is the second largest furniture and bedding manufacturing center in the Nation and the industry is expanding rapidly.
2. The present complement of 12 inspectors is inadequate to effectively cover California's large area.
3. Problems of the field force will increase in the ensuing biennium when an ever increasing amount of Government second-hand and surplus materials arrive on the market.
4. New and additional equipment appears necessary if the Bureau's program is to be effective. We believe the requested sum of $6,450 for the biennium is not out of line.

We recommend the requested appropriation be granted without reduction.

For Support of Board of Medical Examiners

Item 219 Budget Bill, pages 641-642 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the Medical Examiners Contingent Fund, $161,009: increase of $13,658 or 9.26 per cent over estimated expenditure of $147,351 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

While estimated expenditures are up 9.26 per cent and anticipated revenues are expected to decline from $181,033 in the 1943-45 to $156,260 a decrease of $24,773 or 13.69 per cent, we believe this Budget is not out of line and should be approved.

For Support of Board of Nurses Examiners

Item 220 Budget Bill, pages 643-644, inclusive, of the Budget, appropriation from the Board of Nurses Examiners Fund, $126,392; increase of $34,131 or 36.99 per cent over estimated expenditures of $92,261 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Revenues for this board are estimated to decline from $133,846 to $125,100 in the ensuing biennium, a reduction of $8,746 or 6.53 per cent. We believe the requested appropriation for this board is excessive. This is particularly true in view of the fact that many of the board's present wartime activities can be expected to diminish appreciably in the ensuing biennium or be curtailed entirely.

We recommend that the proposed new portion for "Educational Consultant" be eliminated, thus effecting a saving of $5,500 for the biennium. Printing and traveling expenses are out of line. We recommend a combined reduction for these two items of $10,500. We recommend that the Budget for this board be reduced from the proposed $126,392 to $110,392, a reduction of $15,000. This still permits an increase of $18,131 over the current biennium expenditure of $92,261.

For Support of Board of Optometry

Item 221 Budget Bill, pages 645-646, inclusive, of the Budget, appropriation from the Optometry Fund, $19,308; increase of $1,539 or 8.66 per cent over estimated expenditure of $17,769 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

As the board's appropriation request now stands there will be a deficiency in the unbudgeted surplus on June 30, 1947, amounting to $2,383. The deficit has arisen principally as the result of fewer examination fees and the large number of optometrists in the military service who do not pay fees while so engaged.

The board proposes to eliminate this deficit by increasing fees. This, however, will require legislative action.

We recommend the proposed Budget be approved as presented.

For Support of Board of Pharmacy

Item 222 Budget Bill, pages 647-648 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the Pharmacy Board Contingent Fund, $121,071 increase of $26,286 or 27.73 per cent over estimated expenditure of $94,785 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Revenues are estimated to increase from $107,048 to $107,500 an increase of $452, while proposed expenditures are to increase by 27.73. The estimated unbudgeted surplus, June 30, 1947 is $43,472.

The proposed increased expenditures for new positions and resultant traveling expense are reasonable requests. We recommend the budget be approved without reduction.

For Support of Structural Pest Control Board

Item 223 Budget Bill, pages 649-650 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the Structural Pest Control Fund, $28,868 increase of $8,474 or 41.55 per cent over estimated expenditure of $20,394 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

The principal items comprising the additional proposed expenditures for the ensuing biennium are: proposed new inspector positions ($4,800 for the biennium) and increased traveling and automobile expense connected therewith.

It is estimated that the unbudgeted surplus as of June 30, 1947 will be $259. We believe, however, the estimate for revenues accruing during the biennium is conservative and that the unbudgeted surplus as of June 30, 1947 will be larger than anticipated. We recommend approval of this Budget.

For Support of Board of Examiners in Veterinarian Medicine

Item 224 Budget Bill, pages 651-652, inclusive, of the Budget, appropriation from the Veterinary Medicine Examiners Contingent Fund, $13,010; increase of $1,470 or 12.73 per cent over estimated expenditure of $11,541 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

No new positions are requested. Other items of expense appear to be in line. We recommend this budget be approved.

For Support of Yacht and Ship Brokers Commission

Item 225 Budget Bill, pages 653-654, inclusive, of the Budget, appropriation from the Yacht and Ship Brokers Fund, $10,939; increase of $968 or 9.70 per cent over estimated expenditures of $9,971 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

We recommend that this commission, which serves no useful purpose, be abolished.

For Support of Board of Chiropractic Examners

Item 226 Budget Bill, pages 655-656, inclusive, of the Budget, appropriation from the Chiropractic Examiners Fund, $33,703; increase of $2,124 or 6.72 per cent over estimated expenditure of $31,579 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Revenues for this board are estimated to increase from $30,177 in the 1943-45 Biennium to $35,330 in the 1945-47 Biennium, an increase of $5,153.

Our analysis indicates that the budget request for this board is in line and should be approved.

For Support of Board of Osteopathic Examiners

Item 227 Budget Bill, pages 657-658, inclusive, of the Budget, appropriation from the Osteopathic Examiners Contingent Fund, $30,795; increase of $4,202 or 15.80 per cent over estimated expenditure of $26,593 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Proposed expenditures of $30,795 for the 1945-47 Biennium exceed estimated revenues of $23,700 for the biennium by $7,095. The estimated unbudgeted surplus, July 1, 1945 is $9,070. The estimated unbudgeted surplus June 30, 1947 is expected to be $1,411. We believe, however, estimated revenue figures are conservative and that the unbudgeted surplus at the end of the biennium will be larger.

We recommend that the appropriation request be approved.

Department of Public Health

There are four appropriation items relating to Public Health as follows:

Item 228.	For support of Department of Public Health, exclusive of the Bureau of Cannery Inspection	$2,016,186
Item 229.	For subsidies, Bureau of Tuberculosis, Department of Public Health	$1,533,917
Item 230.	For additional support of Department of Public Health, payable from the Public Health Fund	$498,417
Item 231.	For medical and physical care, hospitalization, appliances, and convalescent care for physically handicapped children, Department of Public Health	$200,000

For Support of Department of Public Health, Exclusive of Bureau of Cannery Inspection

Item 228 of the Budget Bill, pages 660-683 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the General Fund, $2,016,186; increase of $537,716 or 36.7 per cent over estimated expenditure of $1,478,470 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Our recommendation: Reduce Item 228 by $159,373 or 7.9 per cent to $1,856,813.

I. Statistical Summary

The increase of $537,716 or 36.4 per cent for the 1945-47 Biennium over the estimated expenditures for 1943-45 Biennium from the General Fund is distributed among the different administrative divisions, bureaus, and services as follows:

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH
COMPARISON OF BUDGETED EXPENDITURES FOR 1945-47 WITH ESTIMATED EXPENDITURES FOR 1943-45, GENERAL FUND

	Proposed 1945-47	Estimated 1943-45	Increase Amount	Increase Per cent
Executive	$33,137	$46,095	—$12,958	—28.1
Division of Administration:

Expenditures for support (Retirement excluded)	$2,016,186	$1,478,469	$537,716	36.4

The foregoing table reveals that proposed expenditures are up by 48.1 per cent for the Division of Administration; up by 35.8 per cent for the Division of Preventive Medical Services; up by more than 25 per cent for the Division of Laboratories; up by almost 30 per cent for the Division of Environmental Sanitation; and up by 42.1 per cent for the Division of Local Health Services.

II. Findings and Recommendations

The proposed increase of over half a million dollars and 36 per cent over the estimated expenditure for the 1943-45 Biennium provided by Item 228 is substantially out of line with the Department of Public Health's expenditure pattern for the 1943-45 period, as well as considerably above the average increase of 16.4 per cent for the Budget at large.

We recommend that Item 228 for support of the Department of Public Health be reduced by $159,373 or to $1,856,813 which would still represent an increase of $335,501 or 25.5 per cent over the estimated expenditures for the current biennium.

Our recommended total reduction of $159,373 is based on the following sub-item proposed cuts:

(a) Deny request for new position of office manager in Bureau of Business Management; saving in direct salary expense $7,920
(Reason: There already is a Business Manager)

(b) Reduce budgeted amount for public health education from State funds from $29,387 to $24,387, saving 5,000
(Reason: The proposed expenditure is up by 74.2 per cent, which is out of line with economic reality)

(c) Deny request for new position of Chief of Division of Preventive Medical Services; saving in direct salary expense 12,960
This is a policy decision for the Legislature to make. It is pertinent to point out the probability that if this position is established during the 1945-47 Biennium the next regular session of the Legislature will be added for a staff to complement the new Chief.

(d) Deny request for new position of Assistant Chief of the Division of Tuberculosis; saving in direct salary expense 9,360
(Reason: The Bureau of Tuberculosis is an old established unit of the Department administering a well formulated and established function of distributing State aid to T. B. Sanitaria. The work of this Bureau is through its pioneering stage and can continue to be handled effectively with its staff of four)

(e) Deny request for new position of Assistant Industrial Hygiene Engineer; saving 5,940
(Reason: There already is a position of Senior Hygiene Engineer)

(f) Deny request for new position of Chief of Division of Environmental Sanitation; saving in salary expense 11,760
(This is to head up a new divisional administration sector of the organization)

(g) Reduce by $20,000 the budgeted expense of $33,240 for five new positions for Sanitary Engineers with the Department of Health and Finance working out the details of the saving. Saving in salary expenses 20,000

(h) Deny request for proposed new position of Assistant Chief of the Division of Local Health Service; saving in salary expense 8,800
(Reason: There already is a Chief of this Division, which is small with four positions)

(i) Move the Department of Public Health from San Francisco to Sacramento; to rent free quarters in State buildings in Sacramento by the beginning of the second year of the biennium; saving in rent for second year of the biennium, after deducting $5,000 as the estimated cost of moving 39,843

Reasons for this recommendation:

(a) In Sacramento, the department would be near other State agencies with which it must maintain frequent contact, particularly the Governor's Office, the Controller, the Personnel Board, etc.

(b) Rent expense would be nominal or nil in Sacramento as against necessarily expensive rent in San Francisco for office quarters distributed uneconomically on several floors of a building which necessarily results in loss of the staff's time riding the elevators.

(c) The disadvantage of this move would be the prospective loss of trained employees who might quit jobs rather than move from their homes. It is believed, however, that this objection will have less weight than otherwise would be the case by delaying the proposed move until the middle of the biennium when the labor market may be expected to be considerably tighter.

(j) Eliminate for the second year of the biennium 23 war emergency positions that the Governor's budget proposes be extended to a permanent basis. This would effect a saving in salary expense of.. $37,790

These 23 positions, and the proposed salaries for the second year of the biennium, are as follows:

Vital Statistics
1	Intermediate Stenographer-Clerk	$1,860
6	Junior Clerk	8,040
2	Intermediate Clerk	3,360
1	Junior Clerk	1,320
Division of Laboratories
3	Bacteriologist	7,670
2	Laboratory Assistant	3,900
2	Laboratory Helper	2,745
1	Building Maintenance Man	1,960
Food and Drug Inspections
2	Food and Drug Inspector	5,640
3	Sanitary Inspector (part time)	1,295
23	Totals	$37,790

Item 229 of the Budget Bill, page 789 of the Budget. Appropriates to the Department of Public Health $1,533,917 for subsidies to cities and counties maintaining public hospitals and preventoria for treatment of tuberculosis at the rate of $3 per patient per week in accordance with Sections 3100 and 3300 of the Health and Safety Code.

This is a fixed charge but requires a specific appropriation.

There was actually expended $627,795.34 for the 1943-44 Fiscal Year, and it is estimated that $631,613 will be expended for 1944-45 or a total of $1,259,408.34 for the current biennium.

The request of $1,533,917 for 1945-47 is an increase of $274,508.66 or 21.8 per cent. We do not believe that such increase will materialize under the economic conditions assumed in making the Governor's Budget.

Approximately 6,000 beds are made available by county governments, on which State tuberculosis subsidy may be paid. The Budget on page 789 lists 5,784 beds as actually qualifying now. These have not been used to full capacity during the current biennium and some may not continue to qualify. No new bed capacity is in prospect. We believe that the same expenditure allowed for the current biennium will be sufficient for this purpose. If it is not, the Legislature will be in session in January, 1947, and it can appropriate any additional amount needed to finish out the biennium to June 30, 1947.

We, therefore, recommend that Item 229 be reduced to $1,260,000, a reduction of $273,919.

For Additional Support of Department of Public Health

Item 230 of the Budget Bill, pages 660-661 and 679-680 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the Public Health Fund, $498,417; increase of $40,308 or 8.8 per cent over estimated expenditure of $358,109 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Recommendation: Approve without change as this Item covers self-supporting activities, notably cannery inspection, that are well established.

Item 231 of the Budget Bill, page 682 of the Budget. Appropriates to the Department of Public Health $200,000 from the General Fund for medical and physical care, hospitalization, appliances, etc., for physically handicapped children.

This is a new Item and is in addition to expenditures, shown on pages 660 and 670 of the Budget, for this class of children. Expenditures are also made by the several counties for this purpose.

There is a carry over load not yet cared for in this group. This expenditure will help restore children who otherwise might remain permanently disabled and require support.

It appears to us as a far better expenditure than those made on delinquents where per year costs per inmate exceed $1,200 per year.

We recommend the appropriation of $200,000 as requested.

Railroad Commission

Items 232 and 233, inclusive, of the Budget Bill, and pages 684 to 695, inclusive, of the Budget.

The Railroad Commission, established by the Constitution and the Public Utilities Act, is the State body charged with the regulation of public utilities. The commission must make examinations, establish rates, conduct hearings, and promulgate regulations for public utilities such as railroads and other public carriers, gas and electric companies, telephone and telegraph companies, etc.

In addition, this commission administers the Food Warehouse Act; Act for Regulation of Water Companies; Motor Carrier Transportation Act; For-Hire Vessel Act; The Highway Carriers' Act; City Carriers' Act; Transportation Rate Fund Act; and Motor Transportation Broker Act.

The two appropriation items are as follows:

Item 232—Support of Railroad Commission of the State of California (General Fund)	$1,543,348
Item 233—Support of Transportation Rate Division, Railroad Commission, payable from the Transportation Rate Fund	$901,411

Item 232—For support of the Railroad Commission; pages 684 to 688, inclusive of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund—$1,543,348; increase of $204,765 or 15.3 per cent over estimated expenditure of $1,338,583 for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Our Recommendation: A reduction of $50,000 in this item; also the application of the over-all percentage saving to produce the over-all General Fund saving previously recommended and the savings in use of automobiles and in printing and the salary saving as previously described.

We also recommend a complete administrative reorganization to secure more effective and efficient control.

I. Statistical Summary

The proposed increase from the General Fund of $204,764 or 15.3 per cent is divided among the several types of activities as follows:

	Actual and estimated 1943-1945	Estimated and proposed 1945-1947	Increase or decrease from 1943-1945	Per cent
Administration	$309,648	$342,557	+ $32,908	10.6
Control and regulation	955,428	1,130,066	+ 174,637	18.3
Hearings and formal investigations	65,385	63,725	— 1,660	2.5
Publications and reports	8,121	7,000	— 1,121	13.8
Total expenditures	$1,338,583	$1,543,348	+ $204,764	15.3

The proposed increase of $204,764 is divided as follows by object of expenditure:

Object	Actual and estimated 1943-1945	Proposed 1945-47	Increase Amount	Per cent
Salaries and Wages:
Positions now authorized	$1,188,034	$1,283,232	$95,198	8.01
Estimated salary savings	— 23,000	— 28,500	— 5,500	23.9
1945-47 normal salary adjustments		42,516	42,516	---
Proposed new positions		56,940	56,940	---
Totals, salaries and wages	$1,165,034	$1,354,188	$189,154	16.2
Operating expense	162,216	176,480	14,264	8.8
Equipment	11,333	12,680	1,347	11.8
Totals for biennium, support	$1,338,583	$1,543,348	$204,764	15.3

II. Findings and Recommendations

1. Previous Cut in Budget

The budget for the Railroad Commission for the General Fund support item as submitted by that commission to the Department of Finance was for $1,683,875 which represented an increase of $345,292 or 25.7 per cent over the estimated expenditure for the 1943-45 biennium. This request was extremely expansive, and the Governor's Budget has cut it by $141,562 or 8.4 per cent. This reduction of $141,561 imposed by the Governor's Budget is divided as follows, by object of expenditure:

	Increase requested by Railroad Com.	Reduction made in Governor's Budget	Net increase allowed by Governor's Budget
Salaries and wages	$254,133	$64,979	$189,154
Operating expenses	58,494	44,230	14,264
Equipment	33,699	32,352	1,347
	$346,326	$141,561	$204,764

The foregoing cut of almost $65,000 for salaries and wages covers a reduction in the number of proposed new positions from the 24 requested by the Railroad Commission to 8 for the first year of the biennium, and a cumulative total of 15 for the second year.

2. New Positions

The Governor's Budget allows six new positions for the second year of the biennium for the Finance and Accounts Division of the commission; and also several other positions for the Transportation Division.

The requested positions for the Finance and Accounts Division are needed to carry on work in connection with rate structure computation activities. The proposed positions for the Transportation Department are requested to give more intensive safety inspection of stages and railroads. It, therefore, appears that these new positions proposed by the Budget (page 687) are desirable.

3. However, we are convinced that the Railroad Commission can operate satisfactorily on at least $50,000 less from the General Fund than is provided by the Governor's Budget, and that it could still add the new positions described above. We, therefore, recommend that Item 232 be reduced by $50,000 to $1,493,348.

4. Approximately $9,200 of the recommended saving of $50,000 could be secured through elimination of the established position of Public Relations Officer. Other savings in such operating expense items as travel would ensue from the elimination of this position. The work of this position could be performed by some other member or members of the administrative staff which totals 43.

5. At least the remaining amount of the recommended reduction of $50,000, as well as the recommended reduction from Item 233 from the Transportation Rate Fund which is described below in connection with our comments on Item 233, could and should be realized by application by the Railroad Commission of the following practices:

1. A general and thorough-going reorganization of the administrative and operating organization and practices of the Commission, with there being established a direct line of control from the commissioners on down through the staff. There is need for the commissioners to exercise better control and coordination over the staff than has been the case in recent years, and also to keep better apprised of the work that the staff is doing. While some of the divisions and units of the Railroad Commission work very effectively and efficiently and coordinate their work with the purposes of the Railroad Commission, others have been operating semi-independently as separate little kingdoms. A general tightening up in over-all control is needed and will effect substantial direct and indirect economies as well as improved service.
2. Consolidation of research activities now scattered throughout the organization (for both General Fund and Transportation Rate Fund activities) as well as their better coordination and direction. At present there is a separate research division that is financed from the General Fund and also a research division that is financed by money from the Transportation Rate Fund. In addition, there are research activities and parts of activities scattered throughout other sectors of the organization. Consolidation and better coordination of these dispersed activities should and could be effected with substantial direct and indirect savings with improved work.
3. Re-appraise the work being done by the staff in the light of the new conditions resulting from the transition from a war-time to a peace-time basis. This re-appraisal should include examination of functions to determine if the directions specified by law are being exceeded.
4. Perform as much as possible of this regulatory work by negotiation rather than by formal hearings, with the view of saving money and time for both the State and the parties concerned whenever this can be done in the public interest.

For Support of Railroad Commission

Item 233 Budget Bill, pages 690-693, inclusive, of the Budget, appropriation from the Transportation Rate Fund, $901,411; increase of $94,300 or 11.7 per cent over estimated expenditure of $807,111 for the 1943-1945 Biennium. Our recommendation: Reduce appropriation Item 233 by $25,000 to $876,411. We also recommend the salary savings procedure previously described be applied to this agency.

This appropriation item covers the Railroad Commission's activities chargeable to, and financed by, the Transportation Rate Fund. All moneys deposited in this fund are fees and penalties collected in accordance with the provisions of the Transportation Rate Fund Act of 1935. There are three functional operations for activities covered by this Fund, as follows:

Administration
Control and Regulation
Hearings and Formal Investigations

The proposed increase from the Transportation Rate Fund of $94,300 or 11.7 per cent, is divided among activities as follows:

Activities	Actual and estimated 1943-1945	Proposed 1945-1947 Biennium	Increase or decrease Amount	Per cent
Administration	$79,301	$83,959	+$4,657	5.8
Control and regulation	663,553	750,508	+86,954	13.1
Hearings and formal investigations	59,457	66,944	+ 7,486	12.6
Pool purchase of automobiles	2,505	---	— 2,505
Special investigation, uniform system of accounts	2,293	---	— 2,293
Totals, support	$807,111	$901,411	$94,300	11.7

This increase of $94,300 is divided as follows, by object of expenditure:

Object	Estimated 1943-1945 Biennium	Proposed 1945-1947 Biennium	Increase Amount	Per cent
Salaries and Wages:
Positions now authorized	$656,418	$701,500	$45,082	6.9

Proposed new positions	---	7,740	7,740	--
Totals—Salaries and wages	$636,418	$713,316	$76,898	12.1
Operating expense	$165,756	$175,914	$10,158	6.1
Equipment	4,937	12,181	7,244	146.7
Totals for biennium for support	$807,111	$901,411	$94,300	11.7

II. Findings and Recommendations

1. Previous Cut in Budget. The Transportation Rate Fund Budget as submitted by the Railroad Commission to the Department of Finance was for $1,242,917 which represented an increase of about $401,000 or almost 50 per cent over the estimated expenditure for 1943-1945. This request was over expansive, and the Governor's Budget has cut it by $307,249. This reduction of $307,249 is divided as follows, by object of expenditure:

	Increase for 1945-1947 over 1943-1945 requested by Railroad Commission	Reduction made by Governor's Budget	Net increase allowed by Governor's Budget
Salaries and wages	$247,817	$170,919	$76,898
Operating expenses	116,101	105,943	10,158
Equipment	37,631	30,387	7,244
Totals	$401,549	$307,249	$94,300

2. New Positions: The Governor's Budget approves three new positions for the Engineering Division for the second year of the Biennium of which the aggregate salary expense is $7,740. These positions are required to put into effect the uniform system of accounts for Grade 2 Carriers that has been prescribed by the Railroad Commission as a necessary aid in the fair and equitable establishment of rates. We, therefore, recommend that these positions be established.

3. Reduction Proposed: However, we are convinced that this activity of the Railroad Commission can operate satisfactorily on at least $25,000 less from the Transportation Rate Fund than is provided by Item 233, and that it could still add the three new positions described above. We, therefore, recommend that Item 233 be reduced by $25,000 or only 2.7 to $876,411. At least this reduction of $25,000 in expenditures from the Transportation Fund, if not more, and the $50,000 reduction from the General Fund expenditures described above in connection with or discussion of Item 232, could be effected through application by the Railroad Commission of the practices discussed above at length under Item 232 and which we repeat in briefer form as follows:

a. Tighter direction and control by the commissioners over the staff and its work.
b. Consolidation of research activities now dispersed throughout the organization.
c. Reappraisal of the objectives and work of the commission in the light of changing conditions.
d. Where possible, more regulatory work by negotiation rather than by formal hearing and investigation.

4. Abolish the Transportation Rate Fund: In addition, a significant saving of money and time would be realized by abolishing the Transportation Rate Fund and transferring balances, receipts, and activities covered by this fund to the General Fund. Certain accounting and administrative savings would result from this action. Under this arrangement, the accounting details could be worked out administratively to provide that the regulated industry would contribute neither more nor less to the General Fund than the cost of regulatory activity now covered by the Transportation Rate Fund. Thus, all the advantages with none of the disadvantages of the special fund could be realized through this arrangement. We, therefore, recommend that appropriate legislation be passed to abolish the Transportation Rate Fund and to transfer the activities and balance of revenues of this Fund to the General Fund.

A statement of the estimated unbudgeted surplus of the Transportation Rate Fund as of June 30, 1947 is as follows:

UNBUDGETED SURPLUS

Estimated unbudgeted surplus, July 1, 1945		$687,589
Estimated income for biennium 1945-1947		1,375,000

20	22	21	21	21	18	20	20	40	40

The total proposed increase is $184,893 or 82.5 per cent, principally due to increase in employees to do the work it is anticipated will be required by the postwar maintenance program.

Table II which shows proposed expenditures by agency and object of expenditure discloses the following:

Salaries and wages are to be increased by $124,095 or 66.7 per cent represented by $113,780 for proposed new positions, which will increase the personnel from 20 to 40 employees or 100 per cent. The remainer, $10,315, of the increase is for salary increases and salaries to persons not employed the full 24 months of the 1943-45 Biennium.

Operating expenses are to be increased by $33,509 or 86.4 per cent accounted for by increases in all classifications, automobile and traveling showing the largest increase.

Equipment to be increased $27,122 or 842.3 per cent accounted for principally by $22,600 for automobiles and $3,405 for office.

The printed budget shows this division operates from two budgets, a General Fund Budget and Division of Architecture Public Building Fund Budget.

The Division of Architecture being a service agency should have their accounting in such order that a very small part of their support should be required by General Fund appropriation. Time spent in designing and engineering projects should be charged as a cost of each project similar to procedure used by large architecture firms in private practice.

We recommend that the proposed percentage reduction applied to General Fund agencies to produce an overall savings of $10,000,000 in the General Fund be applied to this Budget, and the salary savings procedure previously described be applied.

For Support of Department of Public Works, Division of Architecture

Item 238 Budget Bill, pages 702-703 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the Architecture Public Building Fund, $174,894; increase of $117,909 or 206.9 per cent over estimated expenditure of $56,984 for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

A self-supporting activity.

This is the fund from which expenditures are paid for services rendered to school districts.

The Division of Architecture is required to approve plans and specifications, and supervise construction of new school buildings. A fee of one-half of 1 per cent of the estimated cost of the structure should be charged. Said funds are deposited in the Division of Architecture Public Building Fund.

The following tables show:

The amount of expenditure is controlled by the amount of schoolhouse building being done, therefore it is recommended that Item 238 be approved for $174,894 as requested.

Supervision of Outdoor Advertising

For Support of Department of Public Works

Item 239 Budget Bill, page 705 of the Budget, appropriation from the Supervision of Outdoor Advertising Fund, $70,535; increase of $12,268 or 21.1 per cent over estimated expenditure of $58,267 for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

A self-supporting activity.

The expenditures for the above are included in "Expenditures for Administration," pages 705 to 711 of the Budget, therefore no analysis can be made. The income from outdoor advertising should be revenue to the State Highway Fund.

Recommend Item 239 be approved for amount requested.

Division of Water Resources

For Support of Department of Public Works

Item 240 Budget Bill, pages 714-722 inclusive of the Budget, appropriation from the General Fund, $1,043,270; increase of $295,639 or 39.5 per cent over estimated expenditure of $747,630 for the 1943-1945 Biennium.

Analysis of this division's General Fund expenditures by administrative units, detailed in Table I following, clearly indicates that the largest increase in expense for support is allocated to "General Administration."

During the 1943-45 Biennium actual and estimated expenditures for "General Administration" amounted to $170,227. Proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium total $285,725, an increase of $115,447 or 67.8 per cent. Salaries and wages account for $78,057 of the proposed increase; operating expense is scheduled to increase by $23,291; and equipment expenditures increase by $13,849.

"Reclamation and Flood Control" expenditures, the second largest item of expense for this division, increase from $228,250 in the current biennium to $313,700 in the 1945-47 Biennium, an increase of $85,450 or 37.4 per cent. Salaries and wages increase by $32,014, up 19.9 per cent; operating expense increase by $42,351, up 65.4 per cent and equipment increases from $5,993 in the current biennium to $14,000 in the 1945-47 Biennium, up $8,007 or 133.6 per cent.

Refer to Table I below for a complete schedule of General Fund expenditures.

Since the General Fund contributes only partially to the total outlay for this division, we have listed in Table II following total expenditures from all funds by object of expenditure and administrative units. Table I and Table II follow:

Recommendations: Reference to page 716 of the Budget clearly indicates that salary expense is already over-budgeted for the year 1944-45. We, therefore, recommend that new positions in the first fiscal year of the biennium be eliminated. We recommend that $32,000 be granted for new positions in the second year of the biennium, thus effecting a saving of $74,485.

We recommend that proposed operating expense for the Ninety-seventh Fiscal Year (1945-46) be reduced from $169,518 to $143,000, a saving of $26,518. For the Ninety-eighth Fiscal Year (1946-47) operating expense should be reduced from the proposed expenditure of $163,248 to $153,000, a saving of $10,248.

No allowance is made by the Budget for salary savings. We recommend that the salary savings formula previously suggested be applied to the Budget.

The foregoing specific amount of recommended reductions total $111,251. Item 240 should, therefore, be reduced from $1,043,270 by $111,251 or 10.6 per cent to $932,019.

Item 241 of the Budget Bill, pages 715 and 726 of the Budget. Appropriates $7,000 to the Division of Water Resources to be matched from other than State sources to make a study of water resources of the Salinas Valley. This is a special item started in 1943-45 with an allotment of $6,000 from the Emergency Fund. Only $4,500 is to be expended. This was matched from local sources. It is now proposed to complete the study with $7,000 from the State and $7,000 from local sources. Appropriation recommended.

Item 242 of the Budget Bill, pages 714 to 720 of the Budget. Appropriates $30,320 from the Watermaster Service Fund to the Division of Water.

This represents an increase of $4,020 or 15.2 per cent. We recommend this appropriation.

Item 243, Budget Bill, pages 729 to 732 of the Budget, appropriates $138,296 from the General Fund to the Water Project Authority for furtherance of the Central Valley Project. This is an increase of $35,736.46 over 1943-45 expenditures of $102,559.54 or up 34.8 per cent.

There is a reduction in administration of $14,263.54. However, the addition of the sum of $50,000 for the making of a survey of all phases of the Central Valley Project results in the total increase of some $35,000.

If this is an exhaustive survey it probably will justify the expenditure of such a sum. We doubt, however, if such values will be secured.

Water Project Authority

We gravely question the necessity of a regular staff of 11 to 13 persons for this agency. In particular we do not believe the employment of an attorney at Washington on a part time basis at $6,000 per year is justified when we note the many trips of regular State Officials and employees, including the Governor, the Attorney General and assistants, the Chief of the Division of Water Resources, Members and Secretary of the Colorado River Board and others who have gone to Washington in the current biennium at State expense on these same matters. Not to mention the fact that California is entitled to two United States Senators and has an increased House Representation over what it had a few years past. We believe the necessity of this item should be reviewed.

The whole budget of the Water Resources is so cut up and man time allocated on part time basis in such a way as to lead to confusion and gives the general impression of concealing rather than revealing the actual budgetary needs.

We recommend it be overhauled in the next budget and that the annual budgets approved by the Department of Finance for this agency be placed on a definite basis subject to full budgetary control.

Since the Director of Finance is a member of this Authority, we leave the problem of expenditure control on this item to him and recommend approval of the appropriation.

Item 244 of the Budget Bill, page 733 of the Budget. Appropriates $49,262 from the General Fund for the support of the Colorado River Board.

This is a decrease of $30,762.61 from the actual and estimated expenditure of $80,024.61 for 1943-45. However, the Budget Bill of 1943-45 appropriated only $24,712 for this purpose, which was considered a normal allotment. This was supplemented by a special appropriation of $50,000 by the fourth Special Session of the 1943 Legislature because of the Mexico Treaty re the Colorado-Rio Grande Rivers. An additional $10,310 was allocated out of the Emergency Fund (page 774 of the Budget 1945-47) to supplement appropriations on account of the Mexico Treaty. The Attorney General received $20,000 of these moneys (page 518 of the Budget).

There are a number of matters concerning the Colorado River waters remaining unsettled. Therefore, the Budget item as requested is approved, but with the conclusion that this agency should be abolished at the earliest practicable date and its function of protecting the State's interest in the Colorado River should be a function of the ordinary agencies of the State.

Item 245 of the Budget Bill, pages 734 to 739 inclusive of the Budget. Appropriates $245,290 from the General Fund for the support of the State Reclamation Board.

This is an increase of $110,926.85 over the actual and estimated expenditures of State Funds of $134,363.75 for 1943-45, or an increase of 82.6 per cent.

The increase of the budget item is from $189,805.94 for 1943-45 to $245,290 for 1945-47 or up $55,484 or 29.7 per cent. The State, however, takes on the added obligation where other funds are not available.

Examination of the actual expenditure for 1943-45 and the Actual and Estimated for 1944-45 shows that the current year is materially overbudgeted. A reduction is in order here.

The largest item of increase is for new positions. This requires $62,280. The number of positions is increased from 19 in 1943-44 to 31 in 1945-46 and 30 in 1946-47. This will be by far the largest staff the Board has had for many years. This appears to be overstaffing for the work to be done. First, because the war will hold back work for at least one year and, second, when rights-of-way are once secured it is a one time job. Some of the work of this Board has been completed for all time and more should be completed with each biennium.

We recommend that Item 245 be reduced by $41,000, which will be distributed by employing smaller additional staff or for a shorter time, with consequent reductions in the amounts needed for travel and operations, less consulting service which is at least $8,000 too high, and a reduction in added equipment.

This will still leave an increase in the Budget item of $14,484 over 1943-45, which is already over-budgeted.

In addition, we recommend the application of the salary saving plan as previously described be applied to this agency.

Item 246 of the Budget Bill, page 734 and 737 of the Budget. Appropriates $750,000 to the State Reclamation Board from the General Fund for lands, rights-of-way, easements, payment to United States for incidental construction, flowage rights, etc., for purposes of forwarding construction of levees and flood control works by the United States within the Sacramento River Flood Control Project.

This appropriation is protected by the provision it can not be transferred to any other State Fund, so that if it can not be or is not expended for the purposes set forth it will remain as an unexpended balance.

The works contemplated are shown on page 737 of the Budget. We have checked with the United States Army Engineers having charge of the United States construction work and we find all of these items are in the proposed schedule. It is possible they may not all be reached within the biennium.

For these reasons, appropriation recommended for sum of $750,000 as requested.

Department of Social Welfare

For support, Item 247 of the Budget Bill, pages 740 to 756 inclusive of the Budget; appropriation from the General Fund to the Social Welfare Fund, $1,149,105; increase of $335,882 or 41.3 per cent over the estimated expenditure of $813,223 for the 1943-45 Biennium; and of $272,809 or 31.1 per cent over the $876,296 appropriated by Item 217 of (Assembly Bill No. 1600) of the last regular session for the 1943-45 Biennium.

Analysis of expenditures for support, by funds, reveals that in the 1943-45 Biennium the Federal Government's share in actual and estimated expenditures for support was $1,556,540, and the amount expended by the State from the General Fund was $813,223, making a total from both funds of $2,369,673.

It is estimated for the 1945-47 Biennium that Federal Funds will contribute $1,668,791, an increase over the 1943-45 Biennium of $112,340 or 7.2 per cent. Proposed expenditures from the General Fund, however, amount to $1,199,105 (includes $50,000 for blind aid, Item 248) an increase of $385,881 or 47.4 per cent.

Total proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium from both State and Federal Funds, for support, amount to $2,867,896, an increase over the 1943-45 Biennium of $498,221 or 21 per cent.

A comparison of expenditures by object of expenditure and source of fund is shown in Table I following. Expenditures for support by agency are summarized in Table II which follows Table I.

Thirty-nine proposed new positions and additional temporary help, accounts for $185,790 or 42.8 per cent of the total increase of $433,881 for support.

If all of the proposed new positions are granted, the Department of Social Welfare will then have 57 Social Welfare Agents, 20 Supervising Welfare Agents, Grade 1, and 7 Supervising Welfare Agents, Grade 2.

Table III lists the number of proposed new positions and the cost thereof.

Of the $35,372 budgeted increase for traveling expense, $22,780 is requested for the proposed new positions and $12,592 is an increased travel allotment for existing positions when a return to normal traveling schedules is possible.

In connection with total expenditures for social welfare in the State of California, Table VI brings to light the following important facts:

During the 1943-45 Biennium State Funds contributed $96,966,428 to the total cost; Federal Funds contributed $84,439,703 or a grand total of $181,406,131 for the biennium.

Proposed expenditures for the 1945-47 Biennium are: State Funds, $119,340,332, an increase of $22,373,904 or 23.1 per cent over the 1943-45 Biennium; Federal funds, $102,386,925, an increase of $17,947,222 or 21.2 per cent. Grand total for the Biennium 1945-1947—$221,727,257, an increase of $40,321,126 or 22.2 per cent.

A comparative statement of Federal Aid to the State of California for Social Welfare, by object of expenditure, is given in Table VII.

Recommendations

Department of Social Welfare

1. That the Budget be adjusted for positions to comply with the recent administrative reorganization made by the department. This calls for the abolition of 12 positions and represents a saving of $18,378 of General Fund money.
2. The accumulated load of adoptions and the inspection and regulation of boarding homes should be covered and Budget allowance is necessary.
3. With the termination of the war anticipated in the ensuing biennium, we may reasonably expect substantially increased social problems. This will be particularly true among thousands of presently employed marginal workers who, upon finding themselves out of employment, will look to the State for aid. This situation will become more acute in the years ahead as the result of our greatly expanded population.

   As a result of these factors the work load of the Department of Social Welfare can be expected to increase materially. In view of this we believe the proposed appropriation for the Department of Social Welfare is not unduly out of line. We recommend that Item 247 of the Appropriation Bill be approved, only subject to reductions for the General Fund reductions to produce $10,000,000 overall for the general fund. The salary saving procedure is also to be applied to this agency.

We believe the improved administration of this department made effective in recent months will make it possible to produce larger results with the reduced staff.

Item 248 Budget Bill, pages 741 and 754, appropriates $50,000 from the General Fund to the Department of Social Welfare for treatment or operation to prevent blindness or restore vision to applicants for or recipients of blind aid in accordance with Section 3051, Welfare and Institutions Code, Chap. 916, Statutes 1939.

This is a new service provided for the first time by an appropriation. It should result in holding down blind aid cases.

We recommend the appropriation in the sum requested.

Miscellaneous

Item 249 of the Budget Bill, page 757 of the Budget, appropriates $300,000 to pay compensation benefits as required by the Workmen's Compensation Act for State employees injured in line of duty whose salaries are paid from the General Fund.

This is the usual appropriation. $148,075.36 was actually expended in 1943-44, and $150,000 estimated for the current year.

The $300,000 request is recommended.

Item 250 of the Budget Bill, page 757 of the Budget, appropriates $200,000 from the General Fund for the support of General Fund agencies to be expended only on order of the Department of Finance for the purchase and operation of motor vehicles.

We recommend this appropriation be increased by $100,000, but with following amendment to the item:

"No allotment shall be made from this item of appropriation to any department or agency of the State until the Department of Finance is satisfied that no motor vehicles operated by the agency requesting is used for other than State business under rules established by the Board of Control for the use and care of State-owned automobiles.

The Department of Finance shall be empowered to supply automobile transportation service and/or the use of automobiles in lieu of allocation of funds from this item.

In order to make this effective the Department of Finance may expend $100,000 from this item for this purpose."

Postwar Construction

Items 251 to 274 inclusive, of the Budget Bill, pages 764-766 inclusive of the Budget, cover Postwar Construction. These items have been fully covered in pages 48 to 54 inclusive of this section of the report.

A specific recommendation is made there for each item.

Reserves for Contingencies

Items 275 and 276 of the Budget Bill, page 770 of the Budget.

These two items constitute the reserves for contingencies which may develop in the General Fund expenditures.

Item 275 appropriates $1,750,000 from the General Fund to be expended only on written authorization of the Department of Finance for emergencies of General Fund agencies and for loans to other agencies of temporary nature and to be repaid.

This can be used either where appropriations were not made but where authority to spend exists or where appropriations were insufficient in the opinion of the Director of Finance. This is often mistakenly called the Governor's Emergency Fund; in fact it is controlled directly and completely by the Director of Finance, who of course holds office at the pleasure of the Governor.

The appropriation of $1,750,000 for the Emergency Fund for 1945-47 is the same amount appropriated for 1943-45. $1,121,113.08 was granted to Nov. 29, 1944, leaving $628,886.92 to cover the rest of the biennium to July 1, 1945.

Although the expenditures of the State have increased, this appropriation should be sufficient.

Item 276 sets up a new kind of an emergency fund to meet the cost of an unknown amount caused by the increase in salary ranges approved by the Personnel Board during the biennium.

This appropriates $500,000 to the Department of Finance to be allocated to the several General Fund agencies. The need of the Special Fund agencies can be met by using Section 661 of the Political Code allowing deficiencies.

This sum may not be sufficient. The need exists. The Personnel Board should also reduce ranges where they are too high. In such cases we suggest that this item be amended so as to provide that any savings from this source should also go into this fund and be a saving. The following amendment is suggested.

> Item 276—"This item shall also be supplemented by any sums from all General Fund items of appropriations in this Budget Act for salaries and wages in such amounts as may be unnecessary to cover the positions at the ranges provided for in the Budget Document because of decreases in salary ranges approved by the State Personnel Board for the biennium 1945-47. The Department of Finance shall report to the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the Assembly and to the Legislative Auditor monthly the allotments and receipts into this item and the reasons therefor."

Analysis of Proposed Expenditures for the Board of State Harbor Commissioners, San Francisco

Items 277-280 of the Budget Bill and pages 813-820 of the Budget; a special fund agency. Appropriates $10,583,805 from the San Francisco Harbor Improvement Fund.

This expenditure has some unusual items for in this expenditure there is a bond interest and redemption item of $2,208,082—which is a decrease of $1,093 below 1943-45; and that capital outlay amounted to $3,227,000 —so that the actual current expense for 1945-47 is placed at $7,458,817 as compared with an expenditure in 1943-45 of $7,267,651. The increase is only $191,166 or 2.6 per cent.

The proposed expenditures are divided into four items:

> Item 277—is for support in the sum of $7,086,805. This is an increase of only $168,777. Most of this is caused through normal salary adjustments and proposed new positions. It is proposed to put on 19 employees in the first year of the biennium and nine more in the second.

Considering that the Port of San Francisco will be one of the principal ports to handle returning military personnel and material and that already the military are demanding expanding services, we do not believe that the approved Budget should be materially changed.

Item 278—of the Budget Bill appropriates $220,000 out of the Harbor Improvement Fund for the maintenance of fire boats for the biennium. This is the same amount as was appropriated for the current biennium and is to meet the agreement with the City and County of San Francisco. It provides for the cooperative use of the fire boats provided by the harbor.

Item 279—appropriates $50,000 to pay for the services of San Francisco city firemen. For 1943-45 the actual expenditure for this item was $42,056. The increase appears to be justified.

Item 280—appropriates $3,227,000 from the San Francisco Harbor Improvement Fund for the construction and improvement fund for the construction and improvement of wharves, piers, sheds, bridges, etc., as needed by the State Harbor Commissioners.

This is a material increase—in fact, a net increase of $2,804,833. Part of this is to satisfy the requirements of the Navy for additional construction, a part of the remainder is for the construction of facilities on Mission Rock and is for general harbor expansion. In light of war conditions and the problems of returning personnel and material from the Pacific, this capital outlay appears to be necessary. We recommend it be approved.

Revenues

We do call attention specifically to the fact that there is a relatively smaller increase in revenue than increase in expenditure. The total revenues which it is estimated will accrue will amount to $11,344,000, or an increase over the prior biennium of only $375,950, or 3.4 per cent. The net result will be that the unbudgeted surplus, which it is estimated July 1, 1945 will be $4,789,150, will be reduced on June 30, 1947 to $3,239,251—a reduction of $1,549,899. It is evident that such a reduction of surplus can not be continued indefinitely. However, the capital assets at the biennium should be increased as represented by new capital outlay of $2,674,833—while bonded indebtedness will be reduced in excess of a million dollars.

It is apparent that the expenditure program in excess of revenues can not be continued by San Francisco Harbor indefinitely and it appears that in the postwar period the same serious condition which threatened the financial soundness of the Harbor's operation in 1933 may again be apparent. The Harbor Commissioners should be looking forward now so as to plan their operations and their activities so that the port may be conducted in a way to attract business if it is available, so that this function of the State government may continue to support itself. There appears to be financial difficulties ahead when competition between ports develops after the war.

New Item Suggested for the Appropriation Bill

A new item, to be numbered 281, is suggested for the Appropriation Bill as explained in a previous part of this report for the purpose of making salary savings where positions remain vacant, or where new positions provided for in the Budget are not actually filled.

Alternate Method of Controlling Both Salaries and Wages and Personnel

An examination of the Budget for 1945-47 shows an increase of personnel, particularly for the second year, 1946-47, of the Biennium. However, there is some material increase for the first year, 1945-46. It must be understood that in considering personnel both for the current biennium and the budgeted Biennium, 1945-47, we are actually considering positions. Many of them may be vacant and, in fact, in the Department of Institutions they have currently 502 vacant positions. In budgeting when these positions are continued, it is expected that they will be filled. When new positions are established there is also the expectation that they will be filled. In addition, we now have a complicated situation due to the possible return of State employees on military leave. They are entitled to their old positions, and will replace other employees who are occupying these positions. There is a disposition to keep present employees as well as the returning military leave personnel.

Since it appears that the war will continue for a longer period of time than was anticipated when the Budget was drawn up, there are a number of definite uncertainties as respects personnel. The following conditions probably will prevail: There will be more vacant positions than has been estimated; it will be impossible to secure competent personnel to fill new positions; persons on military leave may not return in the numbers anticipated and it may not be necessary to fill all of the positions anticipated if there is not a return to peacetime conditions in the second year of the biennium.

These many unknowns cause us to suggest another procedure both for the control of personnel and the control of salaries and wages so as to save that which is not spent under these conditions. We believe that this can be accomplished by amending the Appropriation Bill to accomplish the following purpose.

Purpose of Amendment

The purpose of this amendment is definitely to sequester or set aside in a special fund all of the money required to continue through the Biennium 1945-47 the following three classes of personnel designated below, and to provide that none of this sequestered money may be spent until each individual position is filled. Such positions shall not be filled except with the express approval of the Department of Finance, or some other qualifying agency, for each position, and the Department of Finance or other qualifying agency, when it approves the necessity of filling such position, shall report to the members of the Legislature and to the Legislative Auditor the reasons supporting the granting of the necessary funds for paying the salary of said position.

Should any of these positions so established again become vacant, the money previously allocated therefor shall be returned to the special fund established and the same procedure followed in again refilling such vacant position. The fund set up shall be similar to the Salary Restoration Fund provided in Item 229 of (Assembly Bill No. 1600) Chapter 62, Statutes of 1943.

There should also be an expression of the Legislature establishing legislative intent to the effect that the same procedure shall be followed in respect to all special funds where budgetary control is exercised by the Department of Finance. In fact, such instructions should be given so that there will be a uniform policy throughout the State service.

The classes of employees for which salaries and wages shall be deducted to make up the above mentioned special fund are as follows:

1. Those positions that are now vacant in the several departments and agencies of the State for the 1944-45 Fiscal Year and which positions are carried forward into the 1945-47 Budget.
2. All new positions which are established for the 1945-47 Biennium and so designated in the Governor's Budget, and for which an appropriation is approved by the Legislature.
3. All positions that are to be filled by State employees now on military leave for which funds are appropriated and which positions are temporarily vacant or are being now created.

Suggested Amendment to the Budget Bill

The Budget Bill, Assembly Bill No. 500 or Senate Bill No. 294, can be amended to make the above suggestions effective. It will probably be wise to set up the entire Budget Bill designating the three categories of expenditures as mentioned in the Governor's Budget Message, and as previously provided in Assembly Bill No. 1800, Chapter 600, Statutes of 1941. These schedules are: (a) Salaries and Wages; (b) Operating Expense; (c) Equipment.

Amendment to Assembly Bill No. 500 and Senate Bill No. 294

Assembly Bill No. 500 or Senate Bill No. 294 is to be amended by adding a new item, numbered 281, as follows: Item 281—For Salary Restoration Fund for the payment of salaries and wages to be allocated on the authorization of the Department of Finance (or some other agency) [1] to each State officer, department, board, bureau and other State agency, including The Regents of the University of California, in augmentation of the respective appropriations for the support of each for the Ninety-seventh and Ninety-eighth Fiscal Years in an amount for each thereof not in excess of the amount shown in the schedule for each item of appropriation under subdivision "Salaries and Wages" and entitled "Salary Restoration Fund"—which total sum has been arrived at by calculating the cost of filling positions now vacant and the salary adjustment credited thereto for the biennial period 1945-47 and also the sum necessary for new positions and for the filling of all positions by persons now on military leave, as provided in that certain document entitled "State of California Budget for the Biennium July 1, 1945 to June 30, 1947, Ninety-seventh and Ninety-eighth Fiscal Years, submitted by Earl Warren, Governor, to the California Legislature, Fifty-sixth Session and as amended by the Budget Act of 1945—$_____."

[1] We use Department of Finance but some other allocating agency may be established.

To receive an allocation from the Salary Restoration Fund, an officer, department, board, bureau, commission or other State agency, including the Regents of the University of California, shall prove to the Department of Finance that it has personnel in number and class provided in such document sufficient to require the allocation authorized to be made by this item and it shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Department of Finance that it is necessary and desirable to fill said positions; and it shall substantiate by presentation of such information as the Department of Finance may require. The Department of Finance shall certify that this condition exists as respects any officer, department, board, bureau, commission or other State agency, and the authorization of the Department of Finance allocating funds to any department from the Salary Restoration Fund shall be sufficient evidence for the Controller to transfer said funds.

Should such position or positions become vacant and remain so for a period of ninety days, the unused portion of said funds shall revert to the Salary Restoration Fund.

The Department of Finance shall submit to each member of the Legislature and to the Legislative Auditor not later than the fifteenth day of each month a report on all authorizations given pursuant to this section during the preceding month. The report shall contain such information regarding such authorization as shall be sufficient to apprise the members of the Legislature and the Legislative Auditor as to the reasons and necessities therefor.

It is suggested that the Legislature express its intent to apply the same control to special funds and to expenditures from continuing legislation—which are not, of course, in the Budget Bill. We suggest this should be done by resolution expressing in general the following:

> WHEREAS, The Governor's Budget for the Biennium 1945-47 recognizes that this period will be one of transition from war to peace and it is, therefore, impossible to estimate the personnel that will be available for the several departments of the State or the number of State employees who may return from military leave, and
> WHEREAS, An amendment has been placed in the Budget Bill—Assembly Bill No. 500—as Item 281—setting up a Salary Restoration Fund, which applies to all appropriations for salaries and wages appropriated by this act, and
>
> WHEREAS, This only represents a fraction of the entire Budget as presented by the Governor to the Legislature for the Biennium 1945-47, and, therefore, there is a large expenditure of the State for other purposes where personnel is employed where similar conditions will prevail; be it, therefore,
> Resolved by the Assembly, That it is the legislative intent that such controls be applied by the Department of Finance to the expenditure of all such funds for salaries and wages for the Biennium 1945-47 and it is the expectation of the Legislature that identical budgetary controls be applied by the Department of Finance in the expenditure of all funds—general, special and fixed charges, for the employment of personnel in exactly the same terms as provided in said Item 281 of the Budget Bill for 1945-47.

Other Savings Resulting from Personnel Reduction

It is the intention of the Legislature that when salary savings are made effective that comparable savings which result when personnel is not employed should accrue in the other categories of the schedules as provided in the Budget Bill, i.e., operating expenses and equipment, wherever such appear in the Budget Bill and for each and every department and agency where appreciable savings have been made on the basis of personnel and in conformity with the provisions of Item 281.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES

Committee on Rules

SENATE CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April 19, 1945

MR. PRESIDENT: The Committee on Rules offers the following report as a policy report to be adopted by the Senate on the question now pending before the California Legislature on the appointment of a Poet Laureate for the State of California:

The Committee on Rules has before it numerous communications and proposed resolutions requesting that the Senate name some person Poet Laureate of the State of California. Accompanying some of these communications are endorsements approving the appeals of the aspiring poets and near poets by authoritative representatives of the intelligentsia presumably qualified to determine when an ambitious versifier emerges from mere rhyming and jingle gymnastic stages into the cultured realms of true poesy and Shakespearean evidence of lyric genius. Other aspirants choose to accompany their applications for melodic honors with excerpts from their own writings which the committee has read with great diligence but without definite appraisal of their merit, the committee being admittedly untrained in subjects of such erudite nature.

The committee in its perplexity and confusion consulted Webster's Unabridged masterpiece for a definition of the term "Poet Laureate" and herewith submits to the Senate for its edification and added knowledge, the following:

> "Laureate O Crowned or decked with laurel as a mark of honor; hence, distinguished, worthy of honor, especially for poetic excellence; to honor by crowning with a wreath of laurel."

It immediately becomes apparent that this definition of Poet Laureate adds to the perplexity of the Rules Committee in connection with its supposed duty to recommend to the Senate some person meriting poetic distinction. It is obvious that such a person must not only be designated verbally but also must be physically "crowned with laurel".

Serious impediments at once present themselves. Where will the committee or the Senate en masse, secure the necessary and authentic laurel? And if found, what is meant by "crowning"? In the common vernacular of this day "crown" would mean to smite the poet with the laurel rather than to arrange the leaves of the plant in artistic grace upon his brow.

However, the Committee on Rules recognizes that many sincere people believe it is the duty and a proper function of the Legislature to name a Poet Laureate for the State of California regardless that at the most such nomination would be but an empty honor for it would be bestowed by an unauthorized body largely ignorant of poetic values and abilities and the recipient would not acquire any additional powers of expression or increase of fame or fortune.

It is the recommendation, therefore, of the committee, without disparagement of the abilities of persons whose names have been suggested as candidates for this nonexistent office, that the Senate respectfully declines to create by inference or otherwise the office of Poet Laureate for the State of California nor to set itself up as an authority in matters dealing with poetic excellence.

SEAWELL, Chairman

Report read, and on motion of Senator Seawell adopted.

MOTION TO PRINT REPORT

Senator Mayo moved that the report of Senate Committee on Local Governmental Agencies be printed in the Journal of Friday, April 20, 1945.

Motion carried.

Amendments read and adopted.

Bill ordered printed and re-referred to Committee on Governmental Efficiency.

PRINTING OF REPORT IN THE JOURNAL

Pursuant to the motion of Senator Mayo, made on April 19, 1945, the following report of Senate Committee on Local Governmental Agencies, was ordered printed in the Journal of this date.

REPORT OF SENATE COMMITTEE ON LOCAL GOVERNMENTAL AGENCIES

MR. PRESIDENT: Your Committee on Local Governmental Agencies appointed pursuant to Senate Resolution No. 35, adopted January 23, 1945, has investigated the difficulty between the City of Los Angeles and the residents of Owens Valley in Inyo County, which has arisen from the administration of the property acquired in Owens Valley by the City of Los Angeles in order to secure a supply of domestic water for use in the City of Los Angeles.

Hearings

The committee conducted hearings at the courthouse at Independence, on February 13 and 14, 1945, and at the State Building at Los Angeles on February 16 and 17, 1945. At the hearings in Independence, witnesses were heard concerning the grievances of the residents of Owens Valley, their side of the controversy being presented by Mr. George Francis, District Attorney of Inyo County. Certain of the employees of the Department of Water and Power were also heard at Independence.

At Los Angeles the principal witnesses were the various officers and officials of the Department of Water and Power, including members of the board, administrative officials, and appraiser. Mr. C. T. Waldo, Deputy City Attorney, was present at all hearings at the invitation of the committee and represented the Department of Water and Power and the City of Los Angeles.

Acquisition of Water Rights by the City of Los Angeles

The City of Los Angeles first undertook to supplement its domestic water supply from Owens Valley prior to 1905, and in order to transport the water from Owens Valley to the City of Los Angeles, undertook the construction of the aqueduct which was completed about 1915. The aqueduct is capable of transporting 450 cubic feet of water per second, allowing for occasional brief interruptions for cleaning and repairs.

The City of Los Angeles acquired the water in Owens Valley by purchase of land with water rights and has purchased almost all agricultural land within the valley in addition to rather extensive holdings in the Mono Basin.

Towns in Owens Valley

There are four towns in the valley, being from north to south: Bishop, Big Pine, Independence, and Lone Pine, with one additional small community of Laws located in the vicinity of Bishop. Bishop is the only one of these towns which is incorporated.

In its original purchase of land in Owens Valley to secure the water rights, the City of Los Angeles did not purchase town property but as the agricultural land was purchased and the water diverted to Los Angeles there became less and less agriculture in the valley to support the towns.

Purchase of Town Property

In 1925 a law was enacted (Statutes of 1925, page 251) authorizing the purchase of city property by the City of Los Angeles. In order to prevent the destruction of the property values in the town and subsequent loss to the residents, the City of Los Angeles then proceeded to purchase the town property. The price of purchase was fixed at an actual appraised value plus an adjustment intended to cover the loss of value in the towns due to already depreciated agricultural value and agricultural production in the vicinity. This adjustment figure was 40 per cent for Bishop, 35 per cent for Big Pine, 25 per cent for Independence and nothing for Lone Pine. The Town of Bishop has an adjudicated water right and the other towns are served by water companies which have water rights of their own. As the city purchased the town property it began to destroy the less valuable buildings with the apparent purpose of diverting all of the water in the valley to Los Angeles for municipal or for domestic uses.

Repurchase of Town Property by Residents

The people of the valley undertook, about 1936, to persuade the City of Los Angeles to sell the city property back to them. After a period of negotiation this movement resulted in the passage of Resolution No. 179, of the Department of Water and Power, setting forth the policy of the city with reference to the disposition of such land and providing for the sale of land to such former owners or occupants as desired, at the appraised value fixed on such property by the City of Los Angeles. This resolution was passed on September 29, 1938, and reads as follows:

> "WHEREAS, As a necessary incident to the acquisition by the City of Los Angeles of water rights in the Owens Valley watershed for supplying said City and its inhabitants with water, there have been acquired by the City a great number of parcels of land in the communities, incorporated or unincorporated, in said Owens Valley, which lands comprise business and residence properties and unimproved lots and are under the management and control of the Department of Water and Power of the City of Los Angeles; and
> WHEREAS, Residents of said Owens Valley desire to acquire title in fee to certain of said lands, and have made sundry applications to said Department of Water and Power to purchase the same; and
> WHEREAS, It is highly desirable that the existing spirit of good will and cooperation between the City of Los Angeles, as represented by the Department of Water and Power, and said communities in said Owens Valley, be in all proper ways promoted and fostered and, particularly, by such aid and encouragement to said settlement and development as the City of Los Angeles can afford through the disposal of its lands within said respective communities, on terms that, while safeguarding the interests of said City, will assure settlers and developers of permanency in their respective tenures and investments in said communities; now, therefore, be it
> Resolved, by the Board of Water and Power Commissioners of the City of Los Angeles, That the policy of said Department of Water and Power is and shall be, to offer for sale and to sell, to such persons, firms, and corporations as may desire to purchase the same (subject to reservations in favor of said the City of Los Angeles of any and all water or water rights constituting part thereof, or in anywise appurtenant thereto), lands and improvements by said the City of Los Angeles owned within said communities, at such prices as shall constitute the reasonable market value of said properties, to be determined in each instance by this board (taking into consideration the reservations aforesaid), and upon such terms as shall be prescribed by this board; and be it further
> Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be published by one insertion each in the "Inyo Register," a newspaper published at Bishop, California, and in the "Inyo Independent," a newspaper published at Independence, California."

Change of Policy of the City of Los Angeles

After the passage of Resolution 179 until recently, relations between the residents of Owens Valley and the Department of Water and Power appeared entirely amicable. A more recent change in the policy of the Department of Water and Power, however, has resulted in relations which are becoming decidedly strained. The development concerning the rural property and the city property can best be considered separately.

Leases for Grazing Purposes

It appears to have been the policy of the Department of Water and Power from the beginning to rent rural property to Owens Valley for grazing purposes. There appears to be sufficient rainfall in the valley to provide enough natural grass and brush feed to give much of the land a value for grazing purposes. The conditions in the valley have always been such that cattle can not be grazed in the valley for the entire year, but the valley provides the winter feed and the cattle are transferred to adjacent National forest areas in the higher mountains for summer grazing. Certain of the area in the Mono Basin appears, however, to be satisfactory for summer grazing use.

Value of Grazing Leases

It has been the practice of the City of Los Angeles to lease grazing land to former owners and so far as the committee could determine all of the grazing land in the valley was leased to long-time residents of the valley, with one exception.

The value of the leaseholds have been determined by the city through their resident agent and a resident engineer, who base the rental value of the property on the number of cattle it would support. In certain areas of the valley limited amounts of property were leased for agricultural purposes and were devoted to the growing of alfalfa and grain to provide supplemental feed for cattle and for about four small dairies. No water was leased with these properties and, in fact, all leases plainly stated that no water was covered in the agreement. However, when it appeared that there might be a temporary excess of water, certain areas were leased for these agricultural purposes without any guarantee of water, but there appeared to be no complaint on the part of the lessees due to the fact that the district agent and resident engineer had been able, with reasonable accuracy, to predict the amount of water available which could be devoted to such irrigation purposes. All leases also contained a provision that the city should have the right to flood any areas of the valley with excess amounts of water over what could be carried by the aqueduct. While there have been a number of cases where fairly large areas of grazing land have been flooded, this condition appears to have been accepted by the residents of the valley and no real complaint was made before the committee.

Term of Grazing Leases

Most grazing leases were for a three-year period, with the exception of a few leases which were for a period of five years. It appears that the last lease negotiated was a five-year lease, and that it had been let out on bid to the highest bidder, this being the property in the Big Pine area which was not held by a long time resident of the area. About February, 1944, notice was served on the holders of grazing leases in this valley that renewal of leases would be withheld until a new policy had been agreed upon, the lessees holding over on a month-to-month basis. At the time the hearings were conducted by the committee there were 126 grazing leases in Owens Valley and 20 in the Mono Basin; of these, 14 had expired and 60 more would expire before April 1, 1945.

The residents of Owens Valley complained vigorously of the uncertainty of their grazing leases, it being established that it was impossible to properly conduct a cattle business based on a three year lease, and that leases should be for a longer time, and that most certainly grazing leaseholds should not be on a month-to-month basis.

Valuation of Grazing Leases

There has been a rather sharply rising valuation placed upon grazing leaseholds during the recent few years which appears to have resulted from the more favorable condition of cattle raisers due to the increasing price of beef, but no serious complaint was made by the holders of the leases as to the present rental value, although they were concerned about future leases due to the absence of a policy regarding valuation to be placed on the grazing leaseholds.

The testimony taken by the committee indicated that the method of valuing grazing leases used by the Forest Service of the Federal Department of Agriculture, which fluctuate with the price of beef, would be a system satisfactory to the holders of the grazing leases and would eliminate the serious uncertainties which were resulting from the absence of a definite policy of the Department of Water and Power concerning valuation of rental of these leaseholds.

Policy Concerning Town Leases

The conditions regarding City property was much the same as that regarding the grazing leases. Under the policy of the Department of Water and Power set forth in Resolution No. 179, considerable parcels of property in the various towns had been purchased back by their former owners. In the Town of Bishop approximately 85 per cent of the property was in private ownership, and in the other towns approximately 55 per cent was in private ownership.

New Appraisals

Two matters have arisen recently which prove very disturbing to the residents of Owens Valley. The first was that an outside appraiser had recently been sent into the valley to reappraise the town property. The actual appraisal did not vary materially from that which had previously been made by the district agent and resident engineer. However, there was added to that price a figure which was known as a market premium. The explanation of market premium made by the appraisers and appearing in the appraisement books is as follows:

> "Ordinarily the current selling price of a single family residential property is the sum of the residential lot value considered as if vacant plus the depreciated cost of the improvement. Currently, however, such properties are selling for considerably more than the amount so computed. The excess, therefore, is a premium which currently is being paid. The reason for the excess is the demand for dwellings in relation to the inadequate supply. This has forced people to pay a premium for immediate possession. This premium is not imputable to either the land or to the building. It is a separate item and must stand alone in the value segregation. This is for the reason that it is the least staple of the three elements of current selling prices, and, being evanescent by nature, will be the first to disappear. The amount of the premium was imperically developed. Studies of sales between private parties in desert towns proved that on the average such properties were selling at the depreciated cost of improvement, plus residential lot value, plus a premium whose size is controlled by (1) age, and (2) condition of the building. The older houses presently enjoy a greater premium than the new ones. The procedure adopted for the ascertainment of the premium in each case was as follows: First, the discovery of the sale price, building age, and expenses necessary to bring the structure to a 60 per cent physical condition, if any. Second, the deduction from the sale price of the depreciated cost (60 per cent maximum) of building plus land value which residue is the premium. Third, the division of the depreciated building cost plus land value into the premium and the quotient becomes the premium expressed as the precentage of the summation cost. Similarly, the premium percentage was ascertained for each sale, and when plotted on chart paper arranged according to age, there appears a uniform trend from a low percentage for young houses to a high percentage for old ones."

This new figure materially increased the value fixed for the property and on it was based the new selling price and the new rental value. Notices have recently been sent out to the residents on values of this property, indicating a sharp rise in rent. Among those having their rent raised were 16 old age pensioners.

In one instance a material increase in rent was made on property which the appraisers hired by the Department of Water and Power described as a shack unfit for human habitation. This new price, including market premium, was approved by the Department of Water and Power.

It was possible to do this because Owens Valley had not been formally determined to be a defense area, although there was increased lumber operations and an increase in strategic mining operations. The committee feels this was contrary to the spirit of the price regulations and of every effort made to combat inflation and black market prices in the aid of the war effort. While probably not a direct violation of law on the part of the Department of Water and Power, it was highly unethical and conduct of which no municipality of the State of California should be guilty.

One of such examples presented to the committee was Parcel 73 in the Town of Independence. The value of the lot was fixed at $400, and the value of the building at $381, making a total value of $781, but to this was added a "black market" premium of $469, making a sale price of $1,250. The monthly rent in this case was increased from $15 to $20.

Sale of Property to the Highest Bidder

The residents of the towns were also disturbed by the change in the policy of the Department of Water and Power concerning sale of property by bid. In one case, which occurred a short time before the investigation by this committee, a person who had purchased equipment and stock of a drug store at Independence, had filed through the regular channels a request for purchase. Before the purchase was accepted he was notified of an increase of price due to the new appraisal figure. He refiled his request for purchase at the new figure and was, some time later, informed that the "deal was off" due to there being a higher bid. Persons who had been inquiring recently concerning purchase of property were informed that sales would be to the highest bidder rather than to the occupant of the property at the accepted valuation in accordance with a previous policy as enunciated by Resolution No. 179.

The committee also found that the City of Los Angeles had been for some years dumping water originating in Owens Valley into the San Fernando Valley which, according to information, had caused the underground water table in San Fernando Valley to rise to an excessive height which endangered the property of San Fernando Valley, and the Los Angeles Board of Public Works took action March 2nd to lower the water table of San Fernando Valley when they awarded a contract to the Western Pipe and Steel Company to furnish well casing for the de-watering of San Fernando Valley. The firm's bid was $1,792.23. Work on the wells, to lower the ground water table, started two weeks ago.

The high water table is made more difficult by the tremendous flow of Owens Valley water which empties into the San Fernando area and which goes to irrigate agriculture developments in that section.

The water table recently became so high that in some cases it was standing on the surface of the ground, causing protests from organizations in San Fernando valley.

To cope with the problem, the Los Angeles board recently voted to purchase pumps to lower the water tables and pump the water into the Los Angeles River, by which it can find its way into the Pacific Ocean.

Meanwhile, requests to use the water on arid sections of Owens Valley for agriculture purposes fall on deaf ears. Inyo County agriculturists claim that the water could be used in Owens Valley and be partially recovered through pumping from the underground water storage into the Los Angeles aqueduct system.

Recommendation of Committee

1. (a) The committee recommends to the Department of Water and Power and appropriate officials of the City of Los Angeles that a definite policy be fixed relating to the lease of rural property in Owens Valley for grazing purposes.

(b) The committee believes that such policy should be similar to the policy which has been followed by the United States Forestry Department in granting grazing leases for approximately 30 years. Under such policy the grazing rights were fixed upon a seasonal basis for each animal grazed, the cost of such lease being based upon the price of cattle and fluctuating with such price.

(c) The committee further recommends that grazing leases be granted for a period of at least five years.

(d) The committee believes that present lease holders should be given the priority on such grazing leases, and that where there are no lease-holders priority be given to the person engaged in the grazing of cattle, which are abutting on or closest to the area to be leased for grazing, as is done by the Federal Forest Service. It is the opinion of the committee that the letting of grazing rights to the highest bidder is a method entirely unsuited to the leasing or grazing rights, and not productive of the best use of the property leased for grazing nor to the best interests of the lessor nor good public policy in the proper utilization of the great natural resources of grazing lands.

2. (a) The committee believes that the City of Los Angeles should return to the policy set forth in Resolution No. 179 concerning the lease and sale of all property in Owens Valley.

(b) The committee believes that the proposal to sell the town property in Owens Valley to the highest bidder, without regard to the occupant, is unfair and entirely unjustified in the circumstances. The United States Forest Service found by 30 years' experience that to change lease holders at short intervals brought about first, bad range practices, including over-grazing, and second, a lessening of the reproduction of the stock and quality of the stock due to a lack of security felt by the lessee.

(c) The committee feels that the use of the "black market" premium in setting the value on such property, based entirely upon a present scarcity of satisfactory residences is unfair and unjust and a policy which should never be adopted by a public organization.

3. The committee feels that if the existing law would not permit the Department of Water and Power to sell or lease its property in Owens Valley at a figure based upon a reasonable appraisal and not to the highest bidder, that legislation should be enacted, not only to authorize sales upon such an appraisal, but to require that the leaseholder or occupant be permitted to purchase property occupied by him upon such appraisal and not upon competitive bids.

4. The committee recommends that it further study the advisability of enacting legislation which will direct and regulate municipal activities when dealing with private persons, cities and counties in leasing, buying, and selling city and rural property, when such property is owned by such municipality.

5. The committee also recommends that investigation be made of surplus water in the Mono and Owens Basin, and if there is surplus water, determine whether or not it cannot be used to again develop the lands of such Valley without endangering the necessary water supply of the City of Los Angeles.

6. The committee further recommends that it be continued in existence pending solution of the problems outlined hereinabove in order that it may aid in finding fair and equitable solutions and putting such solutions into effect.

Respectfully submitted.

PERMISSION TO INTRODUCE BILL

The following request for permission to introduce a bill was presented:

By Senator Dorsey:

Request for Permission to Introduce a Bill

SENATE CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, April 20, 1945

MR. PRESIDENT: In accordance with the provisions of Article IV, Section 2, of the Constitution, I request permission to introduce a bill, the title of which is as follows:

An act to validate the organization, boundaries, governing officers or boards, acts, proceedings, and bonds of county high school districts.

Respectfully submitted.

SENATOR DORSEY

Recommendation of Committee on Rules

SENATE CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, April 20, 1945

The Committee on Rules recommends that permission be granted to introduce the bill as requested, and that the bill be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

SEAWELL, Chairman

The roll was called.

Call of the Senate

Pending the announcement of the vote, Senator Dorsey moved a call of the Senate.

Motion carried. Time 10.54 a.m.

The President directed the Sergeant-at-Arms to close the doors, and to bring in the absent members.

PROCEEDINGS UNDER CALL OF THE SENATE

MOTION TO TAKE BILL FROM THE INACTIVE FILE

Senator Carter moved that Senate Bill No. 698 be taken from the inactive file and placed on the second reading file.

Motion carried.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO 14, April 18, 1945

To the Honorable Members of the Senate
State of California, Sacramento, California

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith, without my signature, Senate Bill No. 82, entitled: "An act relating to the relief of gold and silver mining operators, permitting postponement of sales under certain chattel mortgages, mortgages, deeds of trust or contracts of purchase on gold and silver mines and gold and silver mining machinery and equipment, or postponement of forfeitures and terminations under gold and silver mining contracts and leases, regulating appointment of receivers in certain cases, extending the time in which the purchase price may be paid and extending the statute of limitations, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately."

Because of defects in draftsmanship I am advised this bill does not fully accomplish its purpose. To make the act effective as intended amendments to eight other sections of the law are necessary.

Senate Bill No. 167 has been amended to effectively carry out the purpose intended in this bill and accordingly, at the request of the author of the bill, I am returning it without my approval.

Respectfully submitted.

EARL WARREN, Governor

Enclosure

Message read.

Senate Bill No. 82 ordered to the unfinished business file.

14636. (a) For each year of credited service rendered prior to July 1, 1944, not to exceed 40 years, and not counting any service for which the member is entitled to receive retirement benefits from a local retirement system, the amount of annual annuity which a member shall receive upon retirement for service shall be determined by the service rendered between July 1, 1944, and the date of his retirement, in accordance with the following schedule of amounts payable upon retirement at age 63, and the amount which a member retiring at a lesser age shall receive shall be the actuarial equivalent of the value at the lesser age of the annual annuity which he would receive at age 63, deferred to age 63:

Service rendered after July 1, 1944	Annual annuity per year of credited service
Less than 6 months	$3 00
6 months or more but less than 2 years	4 00
2 years or more but less than 4 years	5 00
4 years or more but less than 6 years	6 00
6 years or more but less than 8 years	7 00
8 years or more but less than 10 years	8 00
10 years or more	9 00

(b) If the sum of the amounts payable under Section 14635 and subdivision (a) of this section to a retiring member who is credited with 30 years or more of service and who is not entitled to receive benefits under a local retirement system or who has not failed to make all annuity contributions required of him, is less than twenty per cent (20%) of the retirement salary payable to him under subdivision (a) of Section 14632 (not counting any deductions made under Section 14476), he shall receive, in lieu of the amount computed under subdivision (a) of this section, an amount which, when added to the amount payable to him under Section 14635, equals twenty per cent (20%) of the retirement salary payable to him under subdivision (a) of Section 14632 (not counting any deductions made under Section 14476)."

2792. The State convention of each political party shall meet at Sacramento at 10 o'clock of the morning of the third Thursday in September next following the date upon which the primary election preliminary to the general election is held and shall be composed of the following delegates:

(a) Each officer named in this article who was nominated and elected as a candidate of the party and whose term of office extends beyond the eighth day of January next following the primary election, or the appointee or successor to fill a vacancy in the office of any such officer. These delegates are "hold-over delegates."

(b) Each candidate of the party in whose behalf nomination papers were filed and who was nominated at the primary election by that party. These delegates are "nominee delegates."

(c) One delegate affiliated with that political party, appointed from each Senatorial district and from each Assembly district. In Senatorial districts and Assembly districts which lie wholly within one county, these delegates shall be appointed by the newly elected county central committees of such counties. In Senatorial districts and Assembly districts which lie in two or more counties these delegates shall be appointed by a majority vote of the chairman of the county central committees in the counties in which any portion of such Senatorial or Assembly districts lie. If a majority vote in any case can not be obtained then the delegate from that Senatorial or Assembly district shall be chosen and appointed in the manner hereinafter provided in this article for filling vacancies in the State convention.

(d) One delegate appointed for each of the officers herein named, not represented by a "hold-over delegate" nor by a "nominee delegate," of such party. These delegates shall be chosen and appointed in the manner provided in this article for filling vacancies in the State convention. These delegates are "appointive delegates."

SEC. 8.2. Section 2793 of said code is amended to read:

2793. Membership in the State convention shall not be granted to any party nominee for a congressional office [,] or State office [, or office of Senator or Assemblyman] who has become such by reason of his name having been written on a ballot, and who has not had his name printed on the primary ballot by having had a nomination paper filed in his behalf. Membership in the convention shall not be granted to the nominee of any party if he has not stated his affiliation with that party in his affidavit of registration used at the primary election.

SEC. 8.3. Section 2794 of said code is amended to read:

2794. Each candidate who has received the nomination of more than one party for a congressional [,] or State [, or legislative] office shall procure from the clerk of the county in which he resides, a certificate stating the party with which he was affiliated 35 days before the date of the primary election, as shown by his affidavit of registration. This certificate is his credential to membership in the convention of his party.

SEC. 8.4. Section 2796 of said code is amended to read:

2796. A vacancy exists in the membership of a State convention:

(a) When there is no "hold-over delegate" nor "nominee delegate" of the party.

(b) When any nominee is disqualified for membership under the provisions of Section 2793, or is disqualified for any other reason stated in this article.

(c) When no nomination for an elective office has been made.

(d) Where an appointment is not made under subdivision (c) of Section 2792,

(e) When a delegate dies prior to the convention.

SEC. 8.5. Section 2797 of said code is amended to read:

2797. Delegates shall be appointed to fill vacancies in the membership of party State conventions as follows:

(a) If the vacancy occurs in a Senatorial or Assembly district situated wholly within the limits of a single county, by appointment by the county central committee of the party in the county.

(b) If the vacancy occurs in a Senatorial or Assembly district comprising two or more counties, by appointment by the county central committee of the party in the county wherein the disqualified or deceased delegate resided, if the vacancy is caused by disqualification or death, or wherein the ["hold-over delegate" or "nominee] delegate ["] of the opposing party resides, if the vacancy is due to any other cause.

(c) If the vacancy occurs as to a delegate for a United States Senator from California or as to a delegate for any of the State officers named in this article, by appointment by the State central committee of the party.

(d) If the vacancy occurs as to a delegate for any representative in Congress from California, by appointment by the State central committee of the party of a voter who resides within the Congressional district to be represented.

SEC. 8.6. Section 2838 of said code is repealed.

SEC. 14. Section 2894 of said code is amended to read:

2894. Vacancies permitted to be filled may, in [the case of legislative offices, be filled by the newly elected county central committee or committees of the party in which the vacancy occurs, in the county or counties comprising the legislative district of the deceased or disqualified candidate. In] the case of [all other] partisan district or State offices requiring party nomination, [the vacancies may] be filled by the newly selected State central committee of such party."

Amendment No. 19

On page 13 of said bill, between lines 10 and 11, insert:

"SEC. 11.5. Section 3925 of said code is amended to read:

3925. In the case of a primary election for the nomination of candidates to be voted for at a presidential or general election, the order of precedence shall be as follows: In the column to the left, under the heading State, shall be printed the groups of names of candidates for State offices, except legislative, judicial, and school offices [, and for members of the State Board of Equalization.] In the second column, under the heading Congressional shall be printed the groups of names for United States Senator in Congress, if any, and for Representative in Congress. [Next, under the heading legislative shall be printed the groups of names for State Senator, if any, and for member of Assembly.] Finally under the heading county committee shall be printed the names of the candidates for election to membership in the county central committee of the party."

Amendment No. 20

On page 13, line 16, of said bill, after "nonpartisan" insert "and legislative".

Amendment No. 21

On page 14 of said bill, in the second column of the ballot, strike out the heading "Legislative" and everything in said column to the heading "County Committee", and insert the same material on page 14, in the third column above the heading "Member of State Board of Equalization", and insert the same material on page 15 in the first column above the heading "Member of State Board of Equalization".

Amendment No. 22

On page 16 of said bill, after line 14, insert

"SEC. 17. Section 8721 of said code is amended to read:

8721. In case of a tie vote for [member of the State Board of Equalization, State Senator, Assemblyman,] Representative in Congress or member of a county central committee, where the office is to be voted for wholly within one county, the election board shall forthwith summon the candidates who have received tie votes to appear before it, at a time and place to be designated by the board, and the board shall at that time and place determine the tie by lot.

SEC. 18. Section 8722 of said code is amended to read:

8722. In the case of a tie vote for an office [either than a judicial or school office] to be voted on in more than one county, the Secretary of State shall forthwith summon the candidates who have received tie votes to appear before him at his office at the State Capitol at a time to be designated by him. The Secretary of State shall at that time and place determine the tie by lot."

PROCEEDINGS UNDER CALL OF THE SENATE

CONSIDERATION OF DAILY FILE (RESUMED)

CONSIDERATION OF ASSEMBLY AMENDMENTS (RESUMED)

Senate Bill No. 167—An act relating to relief from certain obligations and extensions of time for certain acts and proceedings including provisions to extend the period of the operative effect of Chapter 207 of the Statutes of 1943 relating to gold and silver mining by amending Sections 1, 7, 8, 10, 12, 13, 17, 21 and 27 of said Chapter 207 and to repeal certain acts, relating to chattel mortgage, mortgage and trust deed moratoria.

The question being: Shall the Senate concur in the following Assembly amendments to Senate Bill No. 167?

Amendment No. 1

In line 1 of the title of the printed bill, after "act", insert "relating to relief from certain obligations and extensions of time for certain acts and proceedings including provisions to extend the period of the operative effect of Chapter 207 of the Statutes of 1943 relating to gold and silver mining by amending Sections 1, 7, 8, 10, 12, 13, 17, 21 and 27 of said Chapter 207 and to".

PRINTER'S NOTE—There being no 7-point strikeout type available, the material which should appear in strikeout type in the following amendment is indicated by being enclosed within brackets.

Amendment No. 2

On page 1 of said bill, strike out line 1, and insert

"SECTION 1. Section 1 of Chapter 207 of the Statutes of 1943 is amended to read:

Section 1. Due to the necessity of conserving labor and strategic materials in connection with the war effort, the United States War Production Board has issued an order directing the cessation of operations of gold mines throughout the United States. The issuance of this order has caused widespread distress among the gold miners of California, and the Legislature finds that as a war measure it is necessary to provide for the relief of said distress in the following manner until causes of said distress have been removed by cessation of the war.

This act, shall, therefore, be effective until six months after the termination of hostilities between the United States and all nations with which the United States is at war as determined by an act of Congress or proclamation of the President of the United States, or until October 1, [1945] 1947, whichever first occurs.

SEC. 2. Section 7 of said chapter is amended to read:

SEC. 7. Upon application of the petitioner, after service of such petition, or upon application of any other interested party after the filing of the petition, a hearing shall be had thereon within 20 days after such application, upon such notice as the court shall reasonably prescribe; provided, however, that the court if it finds equitable grounds therefor, may postpone such hearing for not to exceed 10 days.

After the filing of such petition and the recording and mailing of the notice of the pendency thereof as provided in Sections 5 and 6 of this act, no sale under the power of sale conferred by such deed of trust or such mortgage or other instrument shall be held nor shall any forfeiture be effected under any of the instruments set forth in Section 2 hereof until the court makes its order in the matter, but nothing herein contained shall prevent such sale or forfeiture at any time after October 1 [1945] 1947, or six months after termination of the war, whichever shall first occur.

SEC. 3. Section 8 of said chapter is amended to read:

SEC. 8. Upon such hearing the court may make its order, if it finds equitable grounds for relief, and finds that the security will not be unreasonably jeopardized thereby, ordering that such sale shall not be held or forfeiture declared until after such date as the court considers just and equitable, but in no event shall such date be beyond October 1, [1945] 1947, or six months after termination of the war, whichever first occurs, or may make its order dismissing such proceedings.

If the court orders the sale or forfeiture postponed it shall determine the reasonable value of the income from such property, or if the property has no income, then the reasonable rental value of such property, or if the property is unimproved, a reasonable sum to be paid by the trustor or mortgagor, or holder under other instrument set forth in Section 2 hereof, as determined by the court, and by such order shall require the trustor or mortgagor to pay all or at least a reasonable part of such income, rental value, or sum so determined by the court, in or toward the payment of taxes, insurance, interest, or principal of the indebtedness at such times and in such manner as are determined to be just and equitable under the circumstances.

SEC. 4. Section 10 of said chapter is amended to read:

SEC. 10. When any mortgage or deed of trust upon property, or upon machinery and equipment attached to or used in operating gold or silver mining property or other instrument, has been foreclosed, and the property covered thereby has been sold in whole or in part under decree of foreclosure, and the period of redemption has not yet expired, the mortgagor or trustor thereof, or holder under other instrument set forth in Section 2 hereof, having the right of redemption, may at any time not later than October 1 [1945] 1947, or six months after termination of the war, whichever first occurs, file a petition in the superior court of the county in which the property so sold or the major portion thereof is situated, praying for an order extending such period of redemption.

SEC. 5. Section 12 of said chapter is amended to read:

SEC. 12. Upon application of the petitioner after service such petition, or upon application of any other interested party, after the filing of the petition, a hearing shall be had thereon within 20 days after such application, upon such notice as the court shall reasonably prescribe; provided, however, that the court, if it finds equitable grounds therefor, may postpone such hearing for not to exceed 10 days.

Upon the filing of such petition and the recording and mailing of the notice of pendency thereof as provided in Sections 10 and 11 of said act, the period of redemption, if such period would sooner terminate, shall be extended until 10 days after the court makes its order in the matter, but in no event beyond October 1 [1945] 1947 or six months after termination of the war, whichever first occurs.

SEC. 6. Section 13 of said chapter is amended to read:

SEC. 13. Upon such hearing the court may make its order, if it finds equitable grounds for relief and finds that the security will not be unreasonably jeopardized thereby, extending such period of redemption for such additional time as the court considers just and equitable, but in no event beyond October 1, [1945] 1947, or six months after termination of the war, whichever first occurs, or may make its order dismissing such proceeding.

If the court by its order extends the period of redemption, it shall determine the reasonable value of the income from such property, or if the property has no income, then the reasonable rental value of such property, or if the property is unimproved, a reasonable sum to be paid by the operator as determined by the court.

The court shall require the operator to pay all or at least a reasonable part of such income, rental value, or sum so determined by the court, in or toward the payment of taxes upon such property, the cost of insurance and the sums to which the purchaser of such property at such foreclosure sale, or the last redemptioner, as the case may be, is entitled under the provisions of Section 707 of the Code of Civil Procedure, at such times and in such manner determined to be just and equitable under the circumstances.

SEC. 7. Section 17 of said chapter is amended to read:

Sec. 17. In any decree rendered prior to October 1, [1945] 1947, foreclosing a mortgage or deed of trust upon real property, the court may provide that the sale of the property shall not be held until on or after such date as the court considers just and equitable, but in no event later than October 1, [1945] 1947. If the court provides in such decree that the sale shall not be held until on or after such date as it shall fix, it shall determine the reasonable value of the income from such property, or if the property has no income, then the reasonable rental value of such property, or if the property is unimproved, a reasonable sum to be paid by the trustor or mortgagor or holder under other instrument set forth in Section 2 hereof, as determined by the court, and shall require the trustor or mortgagor or holder under other instrument set forth in Section 2 hereof to pay all or at least a reasonable part of such income, rental value, or sum so determined by the court, in or toward the payment of taxes, insurance, interest, or principal of the indebtedness at such times and in such manner determined to be just and equitable under the circumstances. The court may include in such order provisions requiring maintenance and repair regulating the disposition of any incomes from the property, and such other provisions as it deems just and equitable for the protection of the security.

After such hearing the court, if it shall determine that it is equitable and just so to do and that the security will not be unreasonably jeopardized thereby, may make its order postponing to a date not later than October 1, [1945] 1947, or six months after termination of the war, whichever shall first occur, the foreclosure, termination or forfeiture of the petitioners' interest under such contract of purchase on substantially the same terms and conditions as those prescribed in Sections 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 of this act, or the court may make its order dismissing such proceeding.

SEC. 8. Section 21 of said chapter is amended to read:

Sec. 21. Whenever the time within which an action may be commenced upon any obligation founded upon a written instrument secured by chattel mortgage, mortgage, deed of trust or contract of purchase, or founded upon any guarantee of such obligation or any contract of suretyship therefor or any endorsement of such instrument, would expire by virtue of Section 337 of the Code of Civil Procedure, or any other provision of law, during the period commencing with the effective date of this act and ending on the date upon which this act shall cease to be in effect, with respect to any property or chattel relating to which a petition has been filed under this act, such time is hereby extended so as not to expire until December 31, [1945] 1947, or nine months after cessation of the war, whichever shall first occur.

SEC. 9. Section 27 of said chapter is amended to read:

Sec. 27. Until October 1, [1945] 1947, or six months after termination of the war, whichever shall first occur, no receiver shall be appointed at the instance of the mortgagee of any mortgage or the trustee or beneficiary of any deed of trust, with respect to real property or chattels attached to real property subject to mortgage or deed of trust, except in a suit or action for the foreclosure of such mortgage or deed of trust or for the enforcement of the covenants, or any thereof, contained in such mortgage or deed of trust, or in a proceeding ancillary to any such suit or action, or until after recording notice of default.

CONSIDERATION OF ASSEMBLY AMENDMENTS

Senate Bill No. 639—An act to amend Sections 721, 722, 724, and to repeal Section 724.3 of the Fish and Game Code, and to add Section 724.7 to the Fish and Game Code, relating to catfish, declaring the urgency of this act, to take effect immediately.

The question being: Shall the Senate concur in the following Assembly amendments to Senate Bill No. 639?

Amendment No. 1

In line 3 of the title of the printed bill, as amended, after "catfish", insert ", declaring the urgency of this act, to take effect immediately".

Amendment No. 2

On page 1 of said bill, after line 24, insert

"SEC. 6. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore take effect immediately. The following constitutes a statement of the facts constituting such necessity:

The influx of a large number of war workers into this State, especially those from the Southern States, together with a shortage of other food stuff, has increased the demand for catfish. This act provides for and regulates the sale and importation of catfish and consequently will increase the availability of a desirable food fish and thereby augment the food supply of the people of the State."

FURTHER PROCEEDINGS UNDER CALL OF THE SENATE DISPENSED WITH

At 3.53 p.m., on motion of Senator Seawell, further proceedings under the call of the Senate were dispensed with.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT REQUESTED

Senator Hatfield asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following opinion from the Legislative Counsel, on the constitutionality of Senate Bill No. 407, relative to conscientious objectors, printed in the Journal.

Constitutionality of Senate Bill No. 407 as Amended in Assembly April 11, 1945

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

This bill makes certain conscientious objectors ineligible to any State or local office or employment.

The conscientious objectors affected are those who claimed or hereafter claim exemption from military service during World War II.

The bill applies only to those who object to all service in the armed forces of the United States, including noncombatant service.

The bill excepts those who, having claimed such exemption, nevertheless have performed military service, either combatant or noncombatant, in the armed forces of the United States.

In order to understand the operation of the bill, the provisions of the Federal Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, Title 50, United States Code, must be considered.

Subdivision (g) of Section 309, Title 50, United States Code, provides "Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to require any person to be subject to combatant training and service in the land or naval forces of the United States who, by reason of religious training and belief, is conscientiously opposed to participation in war in any form."

The subdivision then goes on to provide a procedure whereby the local board makes the initial determination, from which the claimant may appeal to an appeal board, which refers the matter to the Department of Justice. The Department of Justice investigates and holds a hearing after notice to the claimant.

After the hearing, if the claim is sustained, the Department of Justice recommends to the appeal board (1) if the objector is inducted he be assigned to noncombatant service as defined by the President, or (2) if the objector is found to be opposed to participation in such noncombatant service, he shall, in lieu of induction, be assigned to "work of national importance under civilian direction."

The appeal board is not bound to follow the recommendations of the Department of Justice, but is required to consider them and also the records of the local board.

From the foregoing it appears that the bill applies to those conscientious objectors who were found to be opposed to all service in the armed forces and were assigned to work of national importance under civilian direction.

It applies to these objectors regardless of whether they performed this civilian work or refused to do so. Refusal to report or to perform such civilian work is a violation of the Federal act and punishable by indictment in the civilian courts (United States v. Pace, 46 Fed. Supp. 316; Weightman v. United States, 142 Fed. (2d) 188).

As to those who do report and do the work assigned there is no Federal offense involved. It is the application of the bill to this class of objector which raises most of the constitutional difficulties, although it may be remarked that of the various types of violators of the Selective Training and Service Act the bill singles out those who violate the act for failure to report or perform the civilian work ordered and does not apply to those who fail to register at all, nor to those who violate the act in other respects.

However, the bill does not disqualify these conscientious objectors because of violation of the Federal law; it disqualifies them for being conscientious objectors.

Section 4 of Article I of the California Constitution provides that:

> "The free exercise and enjoyment of religious profession and worship, without discrimination or preference, shall forever be guaranteed in this State * * *"

The bill on its face discriminates against persons seeking office and appointments solely on the basis of their having claimed exemption as conscientious objectors, which by the terms of the Federal statute comprises those "who, by reason of religious training and belief, are conscientiously opposed to participating in war in any form."

It is true that conscientious objectors under the Federal act do not necessarily have to belong to a religious sect which is opposed to war (United States v. Downer, 155 Fed. (2d) 521) and a person may claim the exemption upon the basis of a personal humanitarian concept.

The protection of Section 4 of Article I of the State Constitution also extends farther than the protection of the doctrines of particular sects, and includes moral objections to participating in dancing exercises, regardless of affiliation with any religious sect (Hardwick v. Board of School Trustees, 54 Cal. App. 696 (rehearing in Supreme Court denied).

That the right to hold public office is a valuable political right is unquestionable (Carter v. Commission on Qualifications of Judicial Officers, 14 Cal. (2d) 179, citing Mechem on Public Officers, Section 67). The bill deprives a class of persons of this right solely because they have claimed a preference granted them by the United States Congress on the basis of their religious beliefs.

We have considered the cases in which naturalization was refused because of views on war similar to those of conscientious objectors and do not find in them any support for the bill.

In United States v. Macintosh, 283 U. S. 605, naturalization was refused because of the applicant's refusal to answer unequivocally the question "If necessary, are you willing to take up arms in defense of this country?"

In that case the court points out that the native born citizen is subject to military service regardless of his religious or political convictions and his exemption on religious grounds comes, if at all, from Congress. The court pertinently said:

> "The applicant * * * is unwilling to leave the question of his future military service to the wisdom of Congress, where it belongs, and where every native born and admitted citizen is obliged to leave it."

The basis of refusing naturalization was not so much the existence of the conscientious objections as to the unwillingness to swear to obey the laws of Congress in regard to military service on the same footing that native born citizens are required to do.

In the Macintosh case, and in the similar case of United States v. Schwimmer, 279 U. S. 644, where naturalization was refused on the same ground, it is made clear that the duty of bearing arms is unqualified except as Congress provides. However, Congress has, in all of the important wars, made provision for those who have religious scruples against bearing arms. (See U. S. v. Macintosh, 283 U. S. at p. 633, where the statutes are collected).

In the case of conscientious objectors in the present war there has been no refusal to bear arms as required by Congress. There has been no lack of submission to the will of Congress in the matter. There has been no failure to perform military duty as required by Congress because Congress itself has not required it.

The conscientious objector has not, like the applicants for naturalization in the Macintosh and Schwimmer cases, attempted to put himself on a different footing from other citizens in respect to leaving the question of his military service to Congress. He has left it to Congress and has availed himself of a privilege which Congress itself has provided.

Had Congress made no such provision (and it need not have done so), and had the conscientious objectors then refused to serve, the situation would have been comparable to the naturalization cases.

In view of the foregoing it is difficult to see how a court could fail to find that the bill is discriminatory as to persons on the sole basis of a religious conviction or belief and thus in contravention to Section 1 of Article IV of the State Constitution.

The bill is probably unconstitutional on the further ground that it singles out conscientious objectors of World War II and does not apply to those of World War I.

Except that conscientious objectors in World War I were required to be members of an organized religious sect and those of World War II are not so required, the provisions of the Selective Service Act of 1917 and those of the 1940 act are quite similar in language and effect.

The fundamental quality which the bill establishes as a ground for ineligibility is a state of mind—the condition of being opposed to war. If a person who is or has been of that state of mind is unfit for public office all persons are unfit who are or have ever been of that state of mind. The bill purports to go back to 1940. Is there any basis for not going back to 1917? We doubt if there can be found any basis for distinguishing between the conscientious objectors in the two wars.

This difficulty could readily be overcome by broadening the application of the bill to include both wars.

We do not perceive, however, how the bill could be changed to overcome the principal objection.

The bill discriminates against a class of persons not because of their acts but because of their beliefs. Admittedly, in the case of those who complied with the Federal law, no illegal act has been committed. The Federal law provides for the testing of the honesty of the religious convictions in question. Presumably, then, all persons found to be conscientiously opposed to all participation in war are, in fact, so opposed.

Under the Constitution of the State, any person is entitled to hold such religious convictions. Under the act of Congress he is entitled to serve his country in a civilian capacity if he so elects.

Whenever any retirement system of whose property, business and assets the commissioner has taken possession, as aforesaid, deems itself aggrieved thereby, it may at any time within thirty days after such taking possession apply to the Superior Court of the county in which the principal office of such retirement system is located, to enjoin further proceedings and said court after citing the commissioner to show cause why further proceedings should not be enjoined, and hearing the allegations and proofs of the parties and determining the facts, may upon the merits dismiss such application or enjoin the commissioner from further proceedings and direct him to surrender such business, property and assets to such retirement system. An appeal from such judgment enjoining the commissioner from further proceedings and directing him to surrender such business, property and assets to such retirement system shall not operate as a stay thereof, unless the trial court in its discretion, shall so order and no bond need be given if such appeal be taken by the commissioner; but if such judgment dismisses such application an appeal therefrom shall not operate as a stay thereof but the court rendering such judgment may, in its discretion, enjoin the commissioner, pending the appeal, from further proceedings and direct him, pending the appeal, to surrender such business, property and assets to such retirement system, provided a bond shall be given as required by Section 943 of the Code of Civil Procedure."

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication, and excerpt from the Sacramento Union, was received and read: and on motion of Senator Tenney, ordered printed in the Journal:

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE COMMITTEE ON PUBLICATION FOR NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25, 1945

The Honorable Jack B. Tenney, Chairman Joint Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities in California, State Capitol.
Sacramento, California

DEAR SIR: The report of your committee, as printed in the Senate and Assembly Daily Journals of April 16, 1945, contains testimony by witnesses in connection with your investigation of "Mankind United" or "Christ's Church of the Golden Rule" which gives an incorrect impression of Christian Science and the Christian Science Church. Accordingly, we would appreciate it if you would ask to have this letter also printed in the Legislative Journals.

Arthur L. Bell, organizer of "Mankind United," withdrew from The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, on March 21, 1940. His wife, Ruby V. Chapman, withdrew her membership on May 4, 1944. Although Mrs. Bell, also known as Ruby V. Chapman, testified that she was a Christian Science practitioner, neither she nor Mr. Bell has ever had a card as a Christian Science practitioner in The Christian Science Journal, the official organ of The Mother Church.

The enterprise with which the Bells are now associated, called "Mankind United" or "Christ's Church of the Golden Rule," is in no way connected with the Christian Science Church or its religious teachings. As we are sure you appreciate, it is misleading for them to claim that the organization with which they are now connected is similar to the Christian Science Church.

Very truly yours

GETS $25,000 ON $1 PURCHASE
(By Valley News Service)

WEIMAR—Same property that was bought here a month ago by Christ Church of the Golden Rule for $1 was sold by the church yesterday for more than $25,000.

The deeds were signed by A. L. Bell as president of the church. Bell, known as "The Voice" of Mankind United, is out on bail on sedition charges.

The property was sold to the church by John Kirby, former stationery engineer at the sanatorium here. Kirby also sold to the church for $1 a sawmill and timber stands in Forest Hill area. Kirby moved from this district about a year ago.

The acreage was sold in two parcels. Five and two-tenths acres of land, containing about 20 small cabins, was purchased by Clark Blakesly, and Budapest Inn, dine and dance resort, was sold to Alfred Dalpino, each sale amounting to $12,500.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Senator Crittenden:

Senate Resolution No. 98

WHEREAS, It has been stated before the Senate Committee on Revenue and Taxation, in substance, that any reductions in California income tax will be reflected to the extent of 60 per cent of said reduction in the increase of Federal income tax and will not be enjoyed by the people of California; and

WHEREAS, It has been stated that a very large percentage of the saving of any reduction in the sales tax will be immediately reflected in the increase of the Federal income tax of the people of the State, and will not be enjoyed by the people; and

WHEREAS, It has been stated that any so-called reduction of State taxes will be immediately reflected to a very large extent in the increase of the Federal income tax paid by the people; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Tax Department of the Board of Equalization of the State of California, and the Department of Finance of the State of California be requested at once, and are hereby requested to file a report immediately with the Secretary of the Senate of the State of California, showing the amount of any reduction in California taxes that will be immediately reflected in the increase of Federal income taxes if any.

Resolution read and on motion of Senator Crittenden adopted.

MOTION TO READ ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 43 THIRD TIME

Senator Swing moved that Assembly Bill No. 43 be given third reading out of order, for the purpose of adopting the amendments offered by himself.

Motion carried.

THIRD READING OF ASSEMBLY BILLS (OUT OF ORDER)

Assembly Bill No. 43—An act to amend Sections 736b, and 737a to 737z, inclusive, 737aa to 737zz, inclusive, and 737aaa to 737fff, inclusive, of the Political Code, relating to the salaries of judges of the superior court.

Bill read third time.

Motion to Amend

"SECTION 1. Section 1 of the act cited in the title hereof is amended to read:

SEC. 1. The extra compensation and expenses [of] to which judges and justices of the peace sitting in superior courts[,] under assignments thereto by the Chairman of the Judicial Council are entitled [under the provisions of Section 1a of article six of the constitution of this State, and, in addition, in those cases where such judges and justices are assigned to courts in a county other than that in which they regularly sit, the necessary expenses for travel, board and lodging, incurred by them in the discharge of such assignments,] shall be paid in the following manner:

(a) The State shall pay a portion of such extra compensation of a superior judge equal to the difference between the amount which the State pays toward the salary of such judge, and the amount which the State pays toward the salary of a judge of the superior court in the county to which such judge is assigned[;].

(b) The county to which a superior judge is assigned shall pay a portion of such extra compensation equal to the difference between the amount paid toward the salary of such judge by the county from which he is assigned, and the amount paid by the county toward the salary of a superior judge in the county to which he is assigned[;].

(c) [Of the extra compensation of a justice of the peace or of a judge of a municipal or other court of lower jurisdiction than the superior court, assigned to a superior court, the] The State shall pay the same proportion of the extra compensation of a justice of the peace or of a judge of a municipal or other court of lower jurisdiction than the superior court, assigned to a superior court, that it pays of the salary of a judge of [such] the superior court[,] to which the assignment is made, and the remainder of such extra compensation [to] shall be paid by the county in and for which is held the superior court to which [such justice or judge is assigned;] the assignment is made.

[(d) The expenses of each judge or justice of the peace assigned to a superior court in a county other than that in which he regularly sits shall be borne by the State and the county to which assigned, in the same proportions as the extra compensation of such judge or justice of the peace; provided, that where the regular compensation of such judge is equal to, or greater than, the compensation of a judge of the superior court of the county to which he is assigned, such expenses shall be borne by the State and by the county to which he is assigned in the same proportions as the compensation of a judge of such superior court. The expenses herein specified shall be audited and paid according to rules prescribed by the State Board of Control for the presentation, audit and payment of such expenses.

(e) The State Controller and the auditor of each county or city and county shall be and are hereby authorized to draw their warrants in accordance with such rules, for the payment of extra compensation or expenses provided in this section;

(f) The payment by the State toward such extra compensation and expenses shall be made from the moneys appropriated for the support of the Judicial Council. The payment by the county or city and county toward such extra compensation and expenses shall be made from the same fund as salaries and expenses of officers of the county or city and county are made.]

SEC. 2. Section 2 of said act is amended to read:

SEC. 2. The extra compensation of judges and justices of the peace sitting in courts of lower jurisdiction than superior courts, under [such] assignments [,] made by the Chairman of The Judicial Council, shall be paid by the city, city and county, or county which by law is charged with the payment of the compensation of the judge or judges of the court to which the assignment is made. [In those cases where a judge or justice is assigned to such a court in a county other than that in which he regularly sits, the necessary expenses for travel, board and lodging incurred in the discharge of his assignment shall also be paid by such city, city and county, or county. The payments of a city, city and county, or county under this section shall be made from the same fund as salaries and expenses of officers of the county or city and county are made.]

SEC. 3. Section 3 is added to said act to read:

SEC. 3. The expenses for travel, board and lodging of each judge or justice of the peace assigned to a superior court or court of lower jurisdiction than a superior court in a county or city and county other than that in which he regularly sits shall be borne by the county, city and county, or city chargeable with his extra compensation. The judge or justice of the peace is entitled to, and the county, city and county, or city shall pay a per diem allowance in lieu of expenses for board and lodging. The amounts payable under this section shall be the same as the amounts payable for such purposes to justices of the supreme court under the rules of the State Board of Control.

SEC. 4. Section 3 of said act is renumbered and amended to read:

SEC. [3] 4. The extra compensation and expenses for travel, board and lodging of justices and judges sitting in the supreme court and district courts of appeal, under [such] assignments made by the Chairman of The Judicial Council, [together with the necessary expenses for travel, board and lodging incurred by them in the discharge of such assignments,] shall be paid by the State.

SEC. 5. Section 5 is added to said act, to read:

SEC. 5. Upon the filing of a claim by the judge or justice of the peace the State Controller and the auditor of each county or city and county and the auditing authority of each city shall be and are hereby directed and authorized to draw their warrants for the payment of extra compensation or expenses provided in this act.

SEC. 6. Section 6 is added to said act, to read:

SEC. 6. The payments by the State toward the extra compensation and expenses provided in this act shall be made from the moneys appropriated for the support of the Judicial Council. The payments by the county, city and county, or city toward such extra compensation and expenses shall be made from the same funds as salaries and expenses of officers of the county, city and county, or city are made.

Consideration of Assembly Amendments

Senate Bill No. 206—An act to amend Sections 651.6 and 651.7 of, and to add Section 651.8 to, the Fish and Game Code, relating to salmon, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

The question being: Shall the Senate concur in the following Assembly amendments to Senate Bill No. 206?

Amendment No. 1

In line 2 of the title of the printed bill, as amended, after "salmon", insert ", declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately".

Amendment No. 2

On page 1 of the printed bill, as amended, after line 24, insert

"SEC. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The successful management of the wildlife resources of this State requires the prevention of willful and negligent destruction and a wise utilization of such resources. The use of spears, or similar appliances, destroys the potential future supplies of species of tremendous food value to State and Nation. In order to prevent the destruction of untold numbers of fish, especially salmon, which use our State waters for normal functions of reproduction during the spring and summer months it is necessary that this act take effect immediately."

SECOND READING OF SENATE BILLS (OUT OF ORDER)

Senate Bill No. 1039—An act adding Section 130 to the Government Code, relating to acquisition of land in this State by the United States, its departments, agencies, and instrumentalities.

Bill read second time.

Motion to Amend

Senator Dorsey moved the adoption of the following amendments:

Amendment No. 1

Strike out the title of the printed bill, and insert

"An act to amend Section 116 of the Government Code, relating to reservations by the State with respect to land acquired in the State by the United States, its departments, agencies, and instrumentalities, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately."

Amendment No. 2

On page 1, line 1, of said bill, strike out "Section 130 is added to the Government Code," and insert

"Section 116 of the Government Code is amended".

PRINTER'S NOTE—There being no 7-point strikeout type available, the material which should appear in strikeout type in the following amendment is indicated by being enclosed within brackets.

Amendment No. 3

On page 1 of said bill, strike out lines 3 to 7, inclusive, and insert

"116. Any law to the contrary notwithstanding, the State reserves the authority to serve and execute process, [and] the State's entire power of taxation, and its entire jurisdiction over all schools and school districts established or to be established with respect to any land over which any jurisdiction is ceded or granted by the State to the United States under any law of the State now in effect or which may hereafter be adopted. The consent of the Legislature to the acquisition by the United States of such land within the State is granted solely upon the condition that the United States shall accept these reservations as a condition precedent to consent being offered.

Sec. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and shall take effect immediately. The facts constituting such necessity are as follows:

There is contemplated at the present time the establishment of schools upon land over which the Federal Government has not yet acquired exclusive jurisdiction but which exclusive jurisdiction it intends to acquire shortly.

Within recent years, increasingly, there has been and there is every indication there will continue the acquisition of exclusive jurisdiction over lands in this State by the United States, its various agencies and instrumentalities, which have affected, do affect, and will affect seriously the financing and administration of the public schools of the State, a situation neither confronted nor anticipated when, in the early history of the State, the Legislature gave its consent to the acquisition of lands by the United States in this State under certain conditions. The provisions of this act are designed to curtail and to rectify this situation, for which reasons it is necessary that this act take effect immediately."

Amendments read and adopted.

Bill ordered printed, and re-referred to Committee on Governmental Efficiency.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered by Senator Hulse:

Senate Resolution No. 99

Requesting the State Personnel Board to study and report upon living and working conditions and compensation in certain areas in the State

WHEREAS, There exist in the State of California many areas, such as mountainous, desert and isolated sections, where employment conditions are much less favorable than in metropolitan, coastal and more populated areas; and

WHEREAS, These conditions include higher living costs, limited and inadequate housing facilities, lack of necessary educational facilities, higher public utility rates, tax rates which are above the average, limited or no physician or hospital facilities, and climatic conditions such as extreme heat or cold which are not conducive to satisfactory employment and often contribute to lack of good health; and

WHEREAS, Such conditions result in inadequate compensation for employees paid on a monthly basis in these areas as compared to the compensation received by employees in metropolitan, coastal and more populated areas; and

WHEREAS, These conditions are being recognized by the Federal Government and private industry by providing higher pay differentials for employees in these areas to compensate for these unfavorable employment conditions; and

WHEREAS, The State of California, under Section 71 of the State Civil Service Act, has adopted a policy of different compensation in different communities for employees compensated on an hourly or per diem basis; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the State Personnel Board is hereby requested to make a complete and comprehensive state-wide study of living and working conditions and compensation in mountainous, desert and isolated areas in the State, to make public such findings and conclusions at least six months prior to the convening of the Fifty-Seventh Regular Session of the Legislature, and to report its findings and conclusions to the Senate upon the commencement of said session; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to transmit to the State Personnel Board a copy of this resolution.

Resolution read and on motion of Senator Hulse adopted.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read and on motion of Senator Dorsey, ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, April 26 1945

Honorable Jesse R. Dorsey, Senate Chamber,
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

Effect of A.B. 1392 upon portion of school district outside Navy Base.
No. 4417 and No. 4550

DEAR SENATOR DORSEY: In your request of April 19, 1945, you ask the following question in connection with Assembly Bill No. 1392: Where will our people be who are in that portion of the school district not included in the Navy base?

In our opinion of April 16, 1945, addressed to you, we held that "When the United States has accepted exclusive jurisdiction over the Navy base and said area has thereby ceased to be a part of the State, the State will have no power to apply the acts of its Legislature to the area, and hence will not thereafter be entitled to continue the operation of said schools." This is the general rule with reference to land over which the United States takes exclusive jurisdiction. Since writing that opinion we have received additional facts in connection with the situation involving Assembly Bill No. 1392.

Where the United States through its properly authorized officer has requested that the State shall operate the schools in the elementary school district established in a proposed Federal area, has agreed to construct the school buildings thereon and to permit the children in the adjoining territory to attend the schools upon the Federal area, as well as to transport said children to said schools, and has so notified the Senate and Assembly of the State of California, it is our conclusion that the United States has waived or agreed to transfer to the State its exclusive jurisdiction over the area so far as any schools or school districts, established or to be established upon the area are concerned.

In the Attorney General's Opinion N. S. 5335, the question was raised as to whether or not the acceptance of the Secretary of War on April 16, 1943, of exclusive jurisdiction for the United States over all land theretofore acquired by it for military purposes would affect the right to vote as residents of the county of persons living in Federal housing projects serving the Army bases within the county.

The War Department requested the Farm Security Administration to construct, operate and maintain the civilian housing projects with Federal funds. The said Administration went upon the Benicia Arsenal, erected the housing projects and assumed jurisdiction upon the request of and with the full knowledge of the War Department. Later, the War Department gave to the National Housing Administration a revocable permit to occupy the premises on which the projects stand "for the purpose of constructing and maintaining a Civilian Housing Project. The Federal Housing Administration has in turn leased these projects to the Housing Authority of the City of Benicia, a body politic organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of California, and this Housing Authority is, and for some time has been, operating the same with the knowledge, consent and acquiescence of the War Department."

The Attorney General held that "It is our opinion that the War Department has transferred its jurisdiction over these projects to the Federal Housing Authority, as authorized by Section 1521, of Title 42, U.S.C.A., and has thus surrendered its exclusive jurisdiction. It follows, therefore, that the residents on projects * * * * 4015 and 4016 are, if otherwise qualified, entitled to be registered as voters under the authority of Johnson v. Morrill, supra."

Section 355 of the Revised Statutes of the United States (54 Stat. 19) provides:

> "Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the obtaining of exclusive jurisdiction in the United States over lands or interests therein which have been or shall hereafter be acquired by it shall not be required; but the head or other authorized officer of any department or independent establishment or agency of the Government may, in such cases and at such times as he may deem desirable, accept or secure from the State in which any lands or interests therein under his immediate jurisdiction, custody, or control are situated, consent to or cession of such jurisdiction, exclusive or partial, not theretofore obtained, over any such land or interest as he may deem desirable and indicate acceptance of such jurisdiction on behalf of the United States by filing a notice of such acceptance with the Governor of such State or in such other manner as may be prescribed by the laws of the State where such lands are situated. Unless and until the United States has accepted jurisdiction over lands hereafter to be acquired as aforesaid, it shall be conclusively presumed that no such jurisdiction has been accepted."

In the present instance the facts show that the United States intends to acquire exclusive jurisdiction over the said Navy base as provided in said Section 355, but that it intends to waive such exclusive jurisdiction so far as the operation of the schools and school districts to be formed on such land are concerned.

The State has already provided that "Any land owned by the United States and lying within the boundaries of any school district is a part of the school district and has been continuously a part of the school district from the time the land first lay within the boundaries of the school district."

The State, through Assembly Bill No. 1392, is further recognizing the said school districts as a part of its public school system.

Since the Commanding Officer of the Military Reservation is under Section 355, supra, the authorized Officer of the Navy to accept such jurisdiction exclusive or partial over the area as he may deem desirable, and since he has already indicated to the State his desire to waive such exclusive jurisdiction over the schools and school districts of said military area (which waiver it would be advisable to include in his notice of acceptance to the Governor of this State), it is our conclusion that:

1. The State may under this set of facts (i.e., with the consent of the United States) operate the schools on the military reservation after the United States acquires exclusive jurisdiction over the area for military purposes.

2. The children in that portion of the school district not included in the Navy base may attend the schools on the Navy Base as provided in Assembly Bill No. 1392.

3. The State A.D.A. money may be allocated to the school district on the Government reservation as a part of the Public School System of the State.

Moreover, if it can be said that such schools are being established by the Federal Government to meet a National or local emergency created by the war, Chapter 1 of the First Extraordinary Session of the 1941-42 Legislature permits the districts to expend their moneys to meet such emergencies created by the war, provided the same is authorized by a four-fifths vote of all the members of the governing boards acting on behalf of a particular school district, as provided in subdivision (c) of said chapter.

Answering your question concerning Section 2621 of the Education Code, it is not clear from the language of said section that it is intended as an additional reservation to the State re the cession of exclusive jurisdiction of State lands to the United States, either expressly or impliedly. The section has not been interpreted by our courts.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel
By HELEN VANGUTPEN HARRIS, Deputy

MESSAGES FROM THE ASSEMBLY

SACRAMENTO 14, CALIFORNIA, April 30, 1945

Honorable Joseph A. Beek, Secretary of the Senate
Senate Chamber, State Capitol, Sacramento 14, California

DEAR SIR: May I ask that Assembly Bill No. 1353 be returned from the Senate to the Assembly. The reason for this request being a notice to reconsider the vote whereby this bill was passed having been made.

Very truly yours,

ARTHUR A. OHNIMUS, Chief Clerk of the Assembly

MOTION TO WITHDRAW ASSEMBLY BILL

Senator Seawell moved that Assembly Bill No. 1353 be withdrawn from the Committee on Fish and Game, and returned to the Assembly pursuant to their request.

Motion carried.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read and, on motion of Senator Shelley, ordered printed in the Journal:

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO PARLOR, No. 157
NATIVE SONS OF THE GOLDEN WEST
SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, April 24, 1945

Hon. John F. Shelley, State Senator
Senate Chambers, Sacramento, California

DEAR BROTHER SHELLEY: South San Francisco Parlor, No. 157, Native Sons of the Golden West, in meeting assembled on Wednesday evening, April 18, 1945, adopted a resolution, copy enclosed, which urges the adoption of Senate Bill No. 1256, introduced by Senator Jesse M. Mayo, entitled "An act to provide for the acquisition of the townsite and buildings of the old mining town of Columbia, Tuolumne County, as part of the State Park System."

This has the approval of Grand President Raymond D. Williamson, Native Sons of the Golden West, and Joseph R. Knowland, Past Grand President, Native Sons of the Golden West, and Chairman of the State Park Commission.

We respectfully urged the adoption of Senate Bill No. 1256.

Sincerely and fraternally yours,

JOHN T. REGAN, Recording Secretary

WHEREAS, The Columbia Progressive Club of the Town of Columbia, and Tuolumne Parlor No. 144 Native Sons of the Golden West of the town of Sonora, County of Tuolumne, State of California, have and now are co-sponsoring a movement to have the early day buildings and landmarks embraced within the business district of the said Town of Columbia, and in particular the buildings situate on Main Street together with the buildings and landmarks contiguous to and for a distance of one block back on each side of said Main Street made a part of the State Park System of the State of California so that said buildings, landmarks and area may be protected and preserved for the use and enjoyment of the public now living and for future generations, and

WHEREAS, It is the consensus of opinion of South San Francisco Parlor No. 157 Native Sons of the Golden West, San Francisco, California, that said buildings, landmarks, and area in said Town of Columbia are of such historical interest that each and every part thereof should be protected and preserved for the use and enjoyment of the public by being incorporated within and made a part of the State Park System of the State of California, and

WHEREAS, There is now pending before the Legislature of the State of California Senate Bill No. 1256, introduced by Senator Jesse M. Mayo, entitled "An act to provide for the acquisition of the townsite and buildings of the old mining Town of Columbia, in Tuolumne County, as part of the State Park System, and making an appropriation therefore", and

WHEREAS, South San Francisco Parlor No. 157 Native Sons of the Golden West, San Francisco, endorses and approves of said proposed Senate Bill No. 1256, and legislation, and is desirous of having said bill become a law, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That South San Francisco Parlor No. 157 Native Sons of the Golden West of San Francisco, California, does by these presents approve and endorse the above mentioned movement and effort of the said Columbia Progressive Club to have said Town of Columbia and in particular the buildings, landmarks and area designated made a part of the State Park System of the State of California, and we further endorse and approve of the legislation proposed in Senate Bill No. 1256 and we urge that the Legislature enact it into law.

Dated this twelfth day of April, 1945.

ATTEST:

THOMAS J. JOYCE, President

JOHN S. REGAN, Secretary

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Senator Kuchel:

Senate Resolution No. 102

Relative to congratulating Grandfather McBride

WHEREAS, Our able colleague from San Buenaventura has been blessed for the second time with the joys and pleasures of grandparenthood, by reason of the arrival in this world of Miss Ann Colleen Voland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Voland, Jr.; and

WHEREAS, Ann Colleen did so time her arrival that it occurred on April 25, 1945, the opening day of the historic United Nations Security Conference, evidencing her desire and intent to be present on one of the most momentous occasions in history and presaging her keen interest in later life in matters of State and International affairs; and

WHEREAS, The broad smiles and great pride now present on the Celtic face of Jim McBride are a pleasure to behold; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That we, the members, hereby extend to our colleague, James J. McBride, our hearty congratulations on his again becoming a grandfather, and that we do so with the conviction that Miss Ann Colleen Voland will be a continuing source of pleasure and enjoyment to her grandfather.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read, and on motion of Senator Seawell, ordered printed in the Journal:

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 27, 1945

Mr. Jerrold L. Seawell, President pro tempore
State Senate, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. SEAWELL: The University of California will hold a convocation honoring the United Nations Conference, on Friday afternoon, May 4, at three-fifteen o'clock in the Greek Theatre on the Berkeley campus. All Members of the Senate are cordially invited to attend and tickets will be held for them in the President's Office, 250 Administration Building. Only one ticket, unfortunately, will be available to each Senator since the convocation is primarily for students and faculty and the demand for tickets exceeds the supply.

It will be most helpful if you will let me know the number of tickets desired as soon as possible.

Yours sincerely,

ROBERT G. SPROUL, President

CONSIDERATION OF MOTION TO RECONSIDER

UNFINISHED BUSINESS (RESUMED)

Consideration of Assembly Amendments

Senate Bill No. 407—An act to add Section 1225 to the Government Code, relating to public office and employment.

The question being: Shall the Senate concur in the following Assembly amendments to Senate Bill No. 407?

Amendment No. 1

In the title of the printed bill, as amended, strike out lines 2 and 3, and insert "to public office and employment."

Amendment No. 2

On page 1 of said bill, strike out lines 3 to 16, inclusive, and insert

"1225. The following question shall be answered by every candidate for public office, every appointee to public office, and every applicant for employment by the State or any political subdivision, municipal corporation, or public district or corporation in this State:

"If necessary, are you willing to take up arms in defense of the United States of America?"

The question and answer shall be in writing and shall be filed as follows:

(a) In case of a candidate for public office, with the official with whom his nomination papers are required to be filed.

(b) In case of an appointee to public office, with the appointing officer, board, or other appointing power.

(c) In case of an applicant for public employment with his application for employment if such application be in writing, and if no written application is required, with the appointing officer, board, or other appointing power.

If the application of this section to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the application thereof to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby."

Above bill ordered enrolled.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read and, on motion of Senator Quinn, ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, April 25, 1945

Honorable Walter J. Fourt, Assembly Chamber
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

Amendments to Senate Bill No. 407 as amended in Assembly
April 11, 1945—No. 4518

DEAR MR. FOURT: You have requested our opinion as to the constitutionality of this bill if it were amended to strike out the provisions relating to conscientious objectors and insert provisions requiring candidates for and appointees to public office and applicants for public employment to answer this question:

"If necessary, are you willing to take up arms in defense of the United States of America?"

The amendments are further to provide for the filing of the question and answer of candidates for office at the place where the declaration of candidacy is filed, and in other cases with the appointing authority.

The amendments are also to contain a severability clause so that if the above provisions are invalid as to any person or circumstance they will not be invalid as to others.

In our opinion the bill as so amended would be constitutional.

Such a bill would not violate Section 4 of Article I of the State Constitution which guarantees the free exercise and enjoyment of religious profession and worship without discrimination or preference.

There is no discrimination because the bill would operate on all persons affected regardless of their religious beliefs.

There is no preference because the election or appointment is not made contingent on what answer is given. Nothing prevents the election or appointment of a person who answers "No," or who gives a qualified answer.

Neither would such a bill violate Section 3 of Article XX of the State Constitution which provides the form of oath of office and provides that no other oath, declaration, or test shall be required as a qualification for any office or public trust.

This provision does not entirely prohibit the Legislature from requiring any other oath, declaration, or test whatever. In Socialist Party v. Uhl, 155 Cal. 776, a requirement that a candidate for nomination at a direct primary make an affidavit stating the name of his party, that he was affiliated with that party at the last preceding election, and intended to vote for a majority of its candidates was held not to violate the constitutional provision above referred to.

In Cohen v. Wright, 22 Cal. 293, it was stated that the Constitution did not prohibit the Legislature from prescribing another form of oath if the meaning, object, and intent of the constitutional provision is not violated.

The constitutional provision as to oath of office does not, therefore, completely foreclose the Legislature from asking candidates and applicants any questions at all. It leaves the Legislature free to ask any questions in any field in which there may be a public interest in knowing the answer.

That the people of the State have an interest in knowing the attitude of its prospective officers and employees on so fundamental a matter as National defense appears to us to be unquestionable.

As was pointed out in United States v. Macintosh, 283 U. S. 605, the Nation must be organized to function in war as well as in peace. The State is subject to the same necessity. All that the bill would do would be to provide information, and we can conceive of no reason why such information could not be required to be disclosed.

We are unaware of any other constitutional provision which would be applicable to the question. We refrain from discussing the question as to whether the bill will operate as to all public officers and employees, including those of chartered cities and counties. To the extent that it constitutionally can do so under the "Home Rule" provisions of the Constitution, the bill will operate on such officers and employees. Otherwise, this matter is taken care of by the separability clause which will be in the bill.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel
By JOSEPH W. PAULUCCI, Chief Deputy

CHAPTER 6. THE STATE MOTOR VEHICLE LIABILITY INSURANCE FUND

Article 1. Organization and Powers.

12025. The State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund is created in the State Treasury to be administered by the Industrial Accident Commission for the purpose of transacting motor vehicle liability insurance. This fund shall consist of:

(1) Such specific appropriations as the Legislature from time to time makes or sets aside for the use of the fund.

(2) All premiums received and paid into the fund for motor vehicle liability insurance issued by it.

(3) All property and securities acquired by and through the use of moneys belonging to the fund.

(4) All interest earned upon moneys belonging to the fund and deposited or invested as provided in this chapter.

12026. The assets of the fund shall be applicable to the payment of losses sustained on account of motor vehicle liability insurance and to the payment of the salaries and other expenses charged against it in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

12027. The fund shall, after a reasonable time during which it may establish a business, be fairly competitive with other insurers, and it is the intent of the Legislature that the fund shall ultimately become neither more nor less than self-supporting. For that purpose loss experience and expense shall be ascertained and dividends or credits may be made as provided in this article.

12028. The actual loss experience and expense of the fund shall be ascertained on or about the first of January in each year for the year preceding. If it is then shown that there exists an excess of assets over liabilities, necessary reserves, and a reasonable surplus, then a cash dividend may be declared to, or a credit allowed on the renewal premium of, each individual who has been insured with the fund.

12028.1. Such cash dividend or credit is to be an amount which the commission in its discretion considers to be the individual's proportion of divisible surplus.

12029. The fund may transact motor vehicle liability insurance required or authorized by law of this State to the same extent as any other insurer, except as limited by Section 422.1 of the Vehicle Code.

12030. The commission is vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction over the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund. It may perform all acts necessary or convenient in the exercise of any power, authority or jurisdiction over the fund, either in the administration thereof or in connection with the insurance business to be carried on by it under the provisions of this chapter, as fully and completely as the governing body of a private insurance carrier.

12031. All business and affairs of the fund shall be conducted in the name of the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund, and in that name, without any other name or title, the commission may perform the acts authorized by this chapter.

12031.1. The commission may, on behalf of the fund and in the name of the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund:

(a) Sue and be sued in all actions arising out of any act or omission in connection with the fund, or in connection with its business or affairs.

(b) Enter into any contracts or obligations relating to the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund which are authorized or permitted by law.

(c) Invest and reinvest the moneys belonging to the fund as provided by this chapter.

(d) Conduct all business and affairs and perform all acts relating to the fund, whether or not specifically designated in this chapter.

12032. In conducting the business and affairs of the fund, the manager of the fund or other officer to whom such power and authority are delegated by the commission may:

(a) Enter into contracts of motor vehicle liability insurance.

(b) Decline to insure any risk, which is beyond the safe carrying of the fund.

(c) Reinsure any risk or any part thereof.

(d) Make rules for the settlement of claims against the fund and determine to whom and through whom the payments are to be made.

12033. The manager of the State Compensation Insurance Fund shall manage and conduct the business and affairs of the Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund under the general direction and subject to the approval of the commission, and shall perform such other duties as the commission prescribes. The manager shall not be required to give any additional bond under the provisions of this chapter.

12033.1. The commission may delegate to the manager of the fund, or to any officer, under such rules and regulations and subject to such conditions as it from time to time prescribes, any power, function or duty conferred by law on the commission in connection with the fund or in connection with the administration, management and conduct of the business and affairs of the fund. The officer to whom such delegation is made may exercise such powers and functions and perform such duties with the same force and effect as the commission, but subject to its approval.

12034. The State Treasurer shall be custodian of all moneys and securities belonging to the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund, except as otherwise provided in this chapter. He shall be liable on his official bond for the safe-keeping thereof.

12034.5. All moneys which belong to the fund and are collected or received under this chapter shall be delivered to the State Treasurer or deposited to his credit in such bank or banks throughout the State as he designates.

12035. All securities belonging to the fund shall be delivered to the Treasurer and held by him until otherwise disposed of as provided in this chapter.

12035.5. Upon such delivery or deposit, such moneys and securities shall be credited by the State Treasurer to the fund. No moneys received or collected on account of the fund shall be expended or paid out without first passing into the State Treasury and being drawn therefrom as provided in this chapter.

12036. The commission may, with the approval of the State Department of Finance, withdraw from the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund in the State Treasury, without at the time presenting vouchers and itemized statements, a sum not to exceed in the aggregate _____ to be used as a cash revolving fund. Such revolving fund shall be deposited in such banks and under such conditions as the commission determines, with the approval of the State Department of Finance. The Controller shall draw his warrants in favor of the commission for the amounts so withdrawn, and the Treasurer shall pay such warrants.

12036.5. Expenditures made from the revolving fund in payments on claims arising out of policies issued by the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund are exempted from the operation of Section 669 of the Political Code. Reimbursement of the revolving fund for such expenditures shall be made upon presentation to the Controller of an abstract or statement of such expenditures. Such abstract shall be in such form as the Controller requires.

12037. Each calendar month the commission shall submit to the Department of Finance an estimate of the amount necessary to meet the current disbursements from the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund during the succeeding calendar month. When such estimate is approved by the department, the Controller shall draw his warrant on the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund in favor of the commission for the approved amount, and the Treasurer shall pay the warrant. At the end of each calendar month, the commission shall account to the department and to the State Controller for all moneys so received, furnishing proper vouchers therefor.

12037.5. During the months of January and July of each year the Department of Finance or the commission shall cause a valuation to be made of the properties and securities acquired and held for the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund, and shall report the results of the valuation to the State Controller.

12038. The State Controller shall keep a special ledger account showing all of the assets pertaining to the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund. In the State Controller's general ledger this account may appear as a cash account, like other accounts of funds in the State Treasury, and only the actual cash coming into the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund shall be entered in the account.

12039. The commission shall cause all moneys in the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund which are in excess of current requirements to be invested and reinvested, from time to time, in securities authorized by law for the investment of funds of savings banks.

12039.5. The commission shall, from time to time, submit to the Department of Finance an estimate of the amount required by it for investment. Such estimate shall be accompanied by a full description of the kind and character of the investments to be made. When such estimate is approved by the department, the Controller shall draw his warrant for the estimated amounts on the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund in favor of the commission, and the Treasurer shall pay the warrant.

12040. At the end of each calendar month the commission shall account to the Department of Finance and the State Controller for all moneys received for investment, furnishing proper vouchers therefor.

12041. All moneys in the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund, in excess of current requirements and not otherwise invested, may be deposited by the State Treasurer from time to time in banks authorized by law to receive deposits of public moneys, under the same rules and regulations that govern the deposit of other public funds. The interest accruing thereon shall be credited to the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund.

Article 2. Rates

12042. Subject to the provisions of Article 2, Chapter 3, of this part, the commission shall establish the rates to be charged by the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund for insurance issued by it. The rates to be charged for motor vehicle liability insurance shall be fixed with due regard to the type of motor vehicle insured, the loss and accident history of its owner, the character of the use which is to be made of the motor vehicle, and the loss experience of the district in which it is to be used.

12043. The rates fixed by the commission shall be such that, in the long run and on the average, they will produce a sufficient sum, when invested at 3½ per cent interest:

(a) To carry all claims to maturity. The rates shall be based upon the "reserve" and not upon the "assessment" plan.

(b) To meet the reasonable expenses of conducting the business of the fund.

(c) To produce a reasonable surplus.

12044. When the premium rates for insurance in the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund are fixed, the commission shall furnish schedules of rates and copies of the forms of policy to the Department of Motor Vehicles and to the clerk and the treasurer of every county and city in the State.

Article 3. Policies

12045. The insurance contracts or policies of the State Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance Fund shall be issued for one year, or the unexpired portion of a calendar year.

12046. Nothing in this chapter shall prevent:

(a) Any applicant for insurance from being covered temporarily until the application is finally acted upon.

(b) An insured from surrendering any policy at any time and having returned to him the difference between the premium paid and the premium at the customary short term for the shorter period which such policy has already run.

12047. The fund may at any time, after due notice, cancel any policy upon a pro rata basis of premium repayment.

Article 4. Reports and Statements

SECOND READING OF SENATE BILLS (OUT OF ORDER)

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 27—Relative to the creation of a Joint Fact-Finding Committee on Highways, Streets and Bridges and the allocation of costs for the construction, maintenance and improvement thereof.

Resolution read.

Motion to Amend

Senator Collier moved the adoption of the following amendments:

Amendment No. 1

On page 1 of the printed measure, between lines 17 and 18, insert

"WHEREAS, The planning and construction of highways, streets and bridges in California has not included a complete analysis of all the problems involved, including the fullest economic development of the State by opening up underdeveloped areas to economic opportunity and to provide proper transportation to meet changing economic and industrial conditions; and

WHEREAS, No adequate study has been made to determine whether the funds contributed for highway, street and bridge construction and maintenance have been levied equitably either on property or business in relation to its benefits or upon the users in direct proportion to their use; and".

Amendment No. 2

On page 1, lines 27 and 28, of said measure, strike out "now, therefore, be it", and insert "and,

WHEREAS, The Legislature is in need of an adequate report on the foregoing matters, including (a) the present status of the Highway System, (b) existing deficiencies therein to meet present demands, (c) a schedule of progressive improvements necessary to keep abreast of future demands, (d) a schedule of maintenance to keep the capital investment up to standard, (e) a schedule of improvements necessary to develop areas of the State that should be opened up to economic opportunity, (f) special problems relating to highways and matters incidental thereto, (g) the financing of highways and the administration of the Highway System, (h) the interrelationship between State and local governments in relation to the foregoing and the interrelationship of the State and Federal Government, and (i) the control of traffic on the highways in the interest of safety, which report should include so far as feasible both present needs and future needs for a period of at least 10 years; now, therefore, be it".

Amendment No. 3

On page 2, line 2, of said measure, strike out "That there is hereby created a Joint Fact-"; and strike out lines 3 to 9, inclusive, and insert "as follows:

1. The Joint Fact-Finding Committee on Highways, Streets and Bridges is hereby created and appointed and authorized and directed to ascertain, study and analyze all facts and matters relating or pertaining to the subjects set forth in the foregoing recitals, including but not limited to all facts relative to the cost of constructing, maintaining and improving public highways, streets and bridges in the State, the need and cost for bringing them up to acceptable standards, the cost of maintaining them in such condition, and the need and cost of expanding the Highway System of the State to meet the increasing demands for travel, the demands arising and changing economic and industrial conditions, and the opening up of undeveloped areas, the use now and hereafter to be made of such highways, streets and bridges, and the proper distribution and allocation of the cost and burden of construction and maintenance in proportion to benefits both to users and to property as demonstrated by impartial engineering studies, and also including but not limited to the operation, effect, administration, enforcement, and needed revision of any and all laws in any way bearing upon or relating to the subject of this resolution, and to report thereon to the Legislature, including in the reports its recommendations for appropriate legislation.

2. The committee shall consist of five members of the Senate appointed by the Rules Committee thereof, and five members of the Assembly appointed by the Speaker thereof. Vacancies occurring or existing in the membership of the committee shall be filled by the appointing power.

3. The committee is authorized to act during this session of the Legislature, including any recess, and after final adjournment until the commencement of the next regular session, with authority to file its final report not later than the fifteenth legislative day of the next regular session.

4. The committee and its members shall have and exercise all of the rights, duties and powers conferred upon investigating committees and their members by the provisions of the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly as they are adopted and amended from time to time, which provisions are incorporated herein and made applicable to this committee and its members.

5. The committee has the following additional powers and duties:

(a) To select a chairman and a vice-chairman from its membership.

(b) To cooperate with and secure the cooperation of county, city, city and county, and other local law enforcement agencies in investigating any matter within the scope of this resolution and to direct the sheriff of any county to serve subpenas, orders and other process issued by the committee.

(c) To report its findings and recommendations to the Legislature and to the people from time to time and at any time, not later than herein provided.

(d) To do any and all other things necessary or convenient to enable it fully and adequately to exercise its powers, perform its duties, and accomplish the objects and purposes of this resolution.

6. An Advisory Council to the committee is hereby created, to consist of eight nonlegislative members appointed by the committee, which council shall aid and advise the committee in the studies conducted by the latter in carrying out the purposes of this resolution. The Advisory Council shall have and exercise powers and duties as shall be defined from time to time by the committee within the scope of the powers and duties committed to the latter by this resolution. Members of the Advisory Council shall be entitled to the same mileage and expenses, or the allowance in lieu thereof, as members of the committee.

7. The sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby made available from the Contingent Funds of the Senate and of the Assembly for the expenses of the committee and its employees, and of the Advisory Council, and for any charges, expenses or claims it may incur under this resolution, to be paid from the said Contingent Funds equally and disbursed, after certification by the chairman of the committee, upon warrants drawn by the State Controller upon the State Treasurer."

Amendment No. 4

On page 2 of said measure, strike out lines 10 to 51, inclusive; and strike out all of pages 3 and 4.

Amendments read and adopted.

Resolution ordered printed, and re-referred to Committee on Rules.

CONSIDERATION OF DAILY FILE

SECOND READING OF SENATE BILLS

Senate Bill No. 337—An act to amend Sections 255 and 257 of, and to add Section 255a to, the Health and Safety Code, relating to physically handicapped children.

Bill read second time, ordered engrossed, and to third reading.

Senate Bill No. 830—An act to add Sections 10601.5 and 10605.5 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to birth certificates of persons whose time and place of birth are unknown.

Bill read second time, ordered engrossed, and to third reading.

Senate Bill No. 1219—An act to amend Section 2 of an act entitled "An act to aid the prosecution of the war by authorizing housing authorities to develop or administer projects to provide housing for persons engaged in war industries and to cooperate with the Federal Government in making housing available for such persons; to grant certain powers to public bodies," approved May 27, 1943, relating to war housing projects and housing authorities.

Bill read second time.

Consideration of Committee Amendments

The following amendments were proposed by the Committee on Public Health and Safety:

Amendment No. 1

In line 8 of the title of the printed bill, after "authorities", insert ", and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately".

Amendment No. 2

On page 1 of the printed bill, after line 14, insert

"SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The life of the act cited in the title is to be extended to May 15, 1945. The limitations imposed by Section 10 and the second sentence of Section 9 of the Housing Authorities Law, if they are to be applicable to operations by housing authorities under the act of May 27, 1943, would be prohibitive, and would necessitate housing construction being done by the Federal Government, with employees subject to civil service regulations. In the limited time between now and May 15, it is impracticable to do this. It is therefore imperative, in the interests of the national defense, that this act take immediate effect."

Amendment No. 3

On page 1, line 6, of the printed bill, after "ness", insert "on or before June 15, 1945".

Amendments read and adopted.

Bill ordered printed, engrossed, and to third reading.

Further Consideration of Senate Bill No. 1241

Request for Unanimous Consent

Senator Mayo asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following opinion of the Legislative Council regarding Senate Bill No. 1241 printed in the Journal.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, May 1, 1945

Honorable Jesse M. Mayo, Senate Chamber
State Capitol, Sacramento 2, California

EFFECT OF SENATE BILL NO. 1241, AS AMENDED IN THE SENATE APRIL 25, 1945
No. 4679

DEAR SENATOR MAYO: This is in response to your two questions.

Question No. 1:

Does the bill increase the power of cities as to the types of franchises they can grant on city streets?

Opinion:

No.

Question No. 2:

Does the bill take away any power that the Railroad Commission now has as to passenger stage corporations or highway common carriers?

Opinion:

No.

Analysis as to Question No. 1.

The scope of the provisions of the bill which empower cities to grant franchises is measured by Sections 1 and 13 of the bill.

SECTION 1 states: "Every city shall have power to grant franchises authorizing the exercise of any privilege in, along, across, under, through, over and upon any State highway * * *," but the power to grant is limited by the next words viz., "to the extent and in the manner that it shall have power to grant franchises authorizing the exercise of such privilege in, over and upon city streets, subject to the conditions and limitations provided in Sections 682 to 695 inclusive."

The sections last mentioned are those which the bill proposes be added to the Streets and Highways Code.

The extent mentioned in Section 13 of the bill is the same as that mentioned in Section 1 of the bill.

We think that the use of the word "extent" considered with the entire bill and with the text of the Sections of the whole chapter of the Streets and Highways Code to which it is proposed to add the new sections confines the franchises which might be granted under the bill—these being as to State highways within a city—to the type or types which may be granted as to "city streets" within the city.

Analysis as to Question No. 2.

In the consideration of your second question, it is our opinion that passenger stage corporations and highway common carriers are in the same position as each other with regard to regulation by the Railroad Commission, including the designation of routes by the Commission. (Public Utilities Act, Section 50¼ as to passenger stage corporations, and Section 50¾ as to highway common carriers).

One element in the definition of each is that such an operator is one "not operating exclusively within the limits of an incorporated city or town, or city and county." (Public Utilities Act, Section 2¼, defining the former and Section 2¾ defining the latter).

As the territorial reach of the bill does not go beyond city limits, we think that logically the bill would not touch the Railroad Commission's jurisdiction over either of these kinds of transportation companies, even with regard to such portions of their routes as are inside of cities, or as to the designation of which highways—whether they are State highways or city streets not constituted State highways—shall be the routes inside of cities.

Your request specifically directed our attention to Section 661, which is in the chapter of the Streets and Highways Code to which the bill would add new sections. Section 661 reads in part:

> "This chapter shall not limit the powers and duties vested by law in the Railroad Commission of this State, and in the event of any conflict with regard to the powers and duties given the department in this chapter, those of the Railroad Commission shall prevail."

It is our opinion that the first clause of that section will maintain the superiority of the powers, now lodged in the Railroad Commission by Sections 50¼ and 50¾ of the Public Utilities Act with the characteristic of superiority, to whatever power cities might be claimed to have now or under the bill concerning such transportation companies.

It is further our opinion that both the first and the second clauses of the section will maintain the superiority of the Railroad Commission's power to whatever power the Department of Public Works might be claimed to have now or under the bill, concerning them.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel
By HALSEY L. RIXFORD, Deputy

The question being on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 1241:

AYES—Senators Biggar, Brown, Burns, Carter, Collier, Cunningham, DeLap, Deuel, Dillinger, Donnelly, Dorsey, Fletcher, Gordon, Hatfield, Hulse, Jespersen, Judah, Keating, Kuchel, Mayo, McBride, McCormack, Parkman, Powers, Quinn, Rich, Salsman, Seawell, Slater, Sutton, Swing, Tenney, Ward, and Weybret—34.
NOES—None.

Bill ordered transmitted to the Assembly.

Senate Bill No. 1276—An act authorizing the State Lands Commission to grant, convey and sell by deed, or any other proper legal conveyance, all the right, title and interest of the State of California in and to a portion of the abandoned channel of Centerville Slough in the County of Humboldt.

Bill read third time.

The roll was called, and the bill passed by the following vote:

AYES—Senators Biggar, Brown, Carter, Cunningham, Deuel, Donnelly, Dorsey, Fletcher, Jespersen, Keating, Kuchel, McBride, McCormack, Mixter, Parkman Powers, Quinn, Rich, Seawell, Slater, Sutton, Tenney, and Weybret—23.
NOES—None.

Bill ordered transmitted to the Assembly.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read, and on motion of Senator Tenney, ordered printed in the Journal:

LOS ANGELES 14, CALIFORNIA, April 30, 1945

RE: A. B. 1087

Robert W. Kenny, Esq., Attorney General,
State Office Building, San Francisco, California.

DEAR BOB: In conformity with your suggestion during our lengthy telephone conversation of this morning, I am getting off this letter to you immediately, addressing you in your official capacity as the Attorney General of our state. I am sending it via Sacramento so that Mr. A. Beldon Gilbert, executive director of the Peace Officers' Civil Service Association of California, who is temporarily there, may formally endorse his approval upon it.

This communication is, of course, based upon your statements as to your reasons for your personal and official urging of the enactment into law of Assembly Bill 1087, you admitting to me that you knew the fact—that this measure was aimed directly, and solely in effect, at the association. Your statement was that you "were out to wreck the Association—to break it," because it was fighting Communism.

While I will strongly dispute with you that there is any sound reason for opposition by any individual or group towards the work of the Association, which stands unique in its work in the public interest by furtherance of vital civil service and similar functions for public employes. I am content for now, because of the exigencies of time, to rely upon your own statement—that you were always a vigorous champion of the Association until you learned one thing—that the Association is fighting Communism, and that you based your opposition to the Association, and your vow to break it, solely upon this premise. You have, of course, known for years of the Associations outstanding work in public employment, and have from time to time availed yourself of its services. You know, of course, of the very active part taken in the Association's affairs over many years by such outstanding men as Superior Judge Charles Fricke and scores of similar very substantial citizens, and that the directorate is comprised of chiefs of police and men of similar unimpeachable personal and civic integrity.

You somewhat jocularly waved aside my statements that its efforts against any inroads of Communism in this country formed only a small portion of the Associations activities, and was simply a task that we felt all substantial groups should undertake. You also dismissed as trivial my statement that we were indifferent concerning Communism in other countries, which is, of course, the fact. You accused the Association—but this also must have been peculiar—of being Fascist, an infant Gestapo, etc., etc., which all is, of course, the height of absurdity. The Association uses an expression that it is "against Communism, Fascism and all 'isms except Americanism."

You suggested that I select you a communication in which to clearly set forth the Peace Officers' Civil Service Association's position on Communism. The Association is against Communism in any form or degree whatsoever, and against any person or group, no matter whom, who may advocate, or by his or their conduct permit, establishment of Communism into the Government of this country. If the association is to "be wrecked" because of this, so be it. It won't change and I know I speak for every one of the thousands of individual members, as well as for the directors and officials.

I am addressing this communication to you officially because, of course, it is in your official capacity as Attorney General of this State that you are and have advocated enactment of Assembly Bill No. 1087 solely because, as you bluntly and clearly stated, "it was fighting Communism," i.e., the Peace Officers' Civil Service Association, which is a California non-profit corporation of many years standing, was fighting Communism.

Before continuing I must refer briefly to your statement about the current world conference in San Francisco and its objectives in securing some foundation for an enduring world peace, and that you were against any person or group fighting Communism because such activity endangered the success of the conference's efforts. This was said in, of course, grossly absurd, and as I so stated to you, at considerable length on the telephone. But, and I state this personally, if the price of peace is to give this country over to Communism in any form whatsoever, I say let us start right now to block it.

As is evidenced by the lengthy foregoing communication, we of the association regard the matter as of far more than moment, and far beyond any possible direct effect of Assembly Bill No. 1087 grossly unfair and unjust as its terms are. While I am informed that Thomas Whelan, the District Attorney of San Diego, and spokesman for the State Peace Officers' group, are among the proponents of this measure, we have not yet learned whether their reasons are identical with yours—that the association is fighting Communism, although otherwise entirely in the public interest.

Very truly yours,

PAUL SHEEDY

Associate Counsel, Peace Officers' Civil Service Association of California

I attest that this is an exact true and correct copy of the original.
